And plentifully declared sound knowledge!
⁴ To whom hast thou uttered words?
And whose spirit came forth from thee?

⁵ They that are deceased tremble
Beneath the waters and the inhabitants thereof.
⁶ Sheol is naked before God,
And Abaddon hath no covering.
⁷ He stretcheth out the north over empty space,
And hangeth the earth upon nothing.
⁸ He bindeth up the waters in his thick clouds;
And the cloud is not rent under them.

⁹ He encloseth the face of his throne,
And spreadeth his cloud upon it.
¹⁰ He hath described a boundary upon the face of the waters,
Unto the confines of light and darkness.
¹¹ The pillars of heaven tremble
And are astonished at his rebuke.
¹² He stirreth up the sea with his power,
And by his understanding he smiteth through Rahab.
¹³ By his Spirit the heavens are garnished;
His hand hath pierced the swift serpent.
¹⁴ Lo, these are but the outskirts of his ways:
And how small a whisper do we hear of him!
But the thunder of his power who can understand?

¹ And Job again took up his parable, and said,
² As God liveth, who hath taken away my right,
And the Almighty, who hath vexed my soul
³ (For my life is yet whole in me,
And the spirit of God is in my nostrils);
⁴ Surely my lips shall not speak unrighteousness,
Neither shall my tongue utter deceit.
⁵ Far be it from me that I should justify you:
Till I die I will not put away mine integrity from me.
⁶ My righteousness I hold fast, and will not let it go:
My heart shall not reproach me so long as I live.
⁷ Let mine enemy be as the wicked,
And let him that riseth up against me be as the unrighteous.

⁸ For what is the hope of the godless, though he get him gain,
When God taketh away his soul?
⁹ Will God hear his cry,
When trouble cometh upon him?
¹⁰ Will he delight himself in the Almighty,
And call upon God at all times?
¹¹ I will teach you concerning the hand of God;
That which is with the Almighty will I not conceal.
¹² Behold, all ye yourselves have seen it;
Why then are ye become altogether vain?

¹³ This is the portion of a wicked man with God,
And the heritage of oppressors, which they receive from the Almighty:
¹⁴ If his children be multiplied, it is for the sword;
And his offspring shall not be satisfied with bread.
¹⁵ Those that remain of him shall be buried in death,
And his widows shall make no lamentation.
¹⁶ Though he heap up silver as the dust,
And prepare raiment as the clay;
¹⁷ He may prepare it, but the just shall put it on,
And the innocent shall divide the silver.

¹⁸ He buildeth his house as the moth,
And as a booth which the keeper maketh.
¹⁹ He lieth down rich, but he shall not be gathered to his fathers;
He openeth his eyes, and he is not.
²⁰ Terrors overtake him like waters;
A tempest stealeth him away in the night.
²¹ The east wind carrieth him away, and he departeth;
And it sweepeth him out of his place.
²² For God shall hurl at him, and not spare:
He would fain flee out of his hand.
²³ Men shall clap their hands at him,
And shall hiss him out of his place.

¹ Surely there is a mine for silver,
And a place for gold which they refine.
² Iron is taken out of the earth,
And copper is molten out of the stone.
³ Man setteth an end to darkness,
And searcheth out, to the furthest bound,
The stones of obscurity and of thick darkness.
⁴ He breaketh open a shaft away from where men sojourn;
They are forgotten of the foot;
They hang afar from men, they swing to and fro.
⁵ As for the earth, out of it cometh bread;
And underneath it is turned up as it were by fire.
⁶ The stones thereof are the place of sapphires,
And it hath dust of gold.
⁷ That path no bird of prey knoweth,
Neither hath the falcon's eye seen it:
⁸ The proud beasts have not trodden it,
Nor hath the fierce lion passed thereby.
⁹ He putteth forth his hand upon the flinty rock;
He overturneth the mountains by the roots.
¹⁰ He cutteth out channels among the rocks;
And his eye seeth every precious thing.
¹¹ He bindeth the streams that they trickle not;
And the thing that is hidden bringeth he forth to light.

¹² But where shall wisdom be found?
And where is the place of understanding?
¹³ Man knoweth not the price thereof;
Neither is it found in the land of the living.
¹⁴ The deep saith, It is not in me;
And the sea saith, It is not with me.
¹⁵ It cannot be gotten for gold,
Neither shall silver be weighed for the price thereof.
¹⁶ It cannot be valued with the gold of Ophir,
With the precious onyx, or the sapphire.
¹⁷ Gold and glass cannot equal it,

Neither shall it be exchanged for jewels of fine gold.

¹⁸ No mention shall be made of coral or of crystal:

Yea, the price of wisdom is above rubies.

¹⁹ The topaz of Ethiopia shall not equal it,
Neither shall it be valued with pure gold.

²⁰ Whence then cometh wisdom?
And where is the place of understanding?

²¹ Seeing it is hidden from the eyes of all living,
And kept close from the birds of the heavens.

²² Destruction and Death say,
We have heard a rumor thereof with our ears.

²³ God understandeth the way thereof,
And he knoweth the place thereof.

²⁴ For he looketh to the ends of the earth,
And seeth under the whole heaven;

²⁵ To make a weight for the wind:
Yea, he meteth out the waters by measure.

²⁶ When he made a decree for the rain,
And a way for the lightning of the thunder;

²⁷ Then did he see it, and declare it;
He established it, yea, and searched it out.

²⁸ And unto man he said,
Behold, the fear of the Lord, that is wisdom;
And to depart from evil is understanding.

¹ And Job again took up his parable, and said,

² Oh that I were as in the months of old,
As in the days when God watched over me;

³ When his lamp shined upon my head,
And by his light I walked through darkness;

⁴ As I was in the ripeness of my days,
When the friendship of God was upon my tent;

⁵ When the Almighty was yet with me,
And my children were about me;

⁶ When my steps were washed with butter,
And the rock poured me out streams of oil!

⁷ When I went forth to the gate unto the city,
When I prepared my seat in the street,

⁸ The young men saw me and hid themselves,
And the aged rose up and stood;

⁹ The princes refrained from talking,
And laid their hand on their mouth;

¹⁰ The voice of the nobles was hushed,
And their tongue clave to the roof of their mouth.

¹¹ For when the ear heard me, then it blessed me;
And when the eye saw me, it gave witness unto me:

¹² Because I delivered the poor that cried,
The fatherless also, that had none to help him.

¹³ The blessing of him that was ready to perish came upon me;
And I caused the widow's heart to sing for joy.
¹⁴ I put on righteousness, and it clothed me:
My justice was as a robe and a diadem.
¹⁵ I was eyes to the blind,
And feet was I to the lame.
¹⁶ I was a father to the needy:
And the cause of him that I knew not I searched out.
¹⁷ And I brake the jaws of the unrighteous,
And plucked the prey out of his teeth.
¹⁸ Then I said, I shall die in my nest,
And I shall multiply my days as the sand:
¹⁹ My root is spread out to the waters,
And the dew lieth all night upon my branch:
²⁰ My glory is fresh in me,
And my bow is renewed in my hand.
²¹ Unto me men gave ear, and waited,
And kept silence for my counsel.
²² After my words they spake not again;
And my speech distilled upon them.
²³ And they waited for me as for the rain;
And they opened their mouth wide as for the latter rain.
²⁴ I smiled on them, when they had no confidence;
And the light of my countenance they cast not down.
²⁵ I chose out their way, and sat as chief,
And dwelt as a king in the army,
As one that comforteth the mourners.

¹ But now they that are younger than I have me in derision,
Whose fathers I disdained to set with the dogs of my flock.
² Yea, the strength of their hands, whereto should it profit me?
Men in whom ripe age is perished.
³ They are gaunt with want and famine;
They gnaw the dry ground, in the gloom of wasteness and desolation.
⁴ They pluck saltwort by the bushes;
And the roots of the broom are their food.
⁵ They are driven forth from the midst of men;
They cry after them as after a thief;
⁶ So that they dwell in frightful valleys,
In holes of the earth and of the rocks.
⁷ Among the bushes they bray;
Under the nettles they are gathered together.
⁸ They are children of fools, yea, children of base men;
They were scourged out of the land.

⁹ And now I am become their song,
Yea, I am a byword unto them.
¹⁰ They abhor me, they stand aloof from me,
And spare not to spit in my face.

11 For he hath loosed his cord, and afflicted me;
And they have cast off the bridle before me.
12 Upon my right hand rise the rabble;
They thrust aside my feet,
And they cast up against me their ways of destruction.
13 They mar my path,
They set forward my calamity,
Even men that have no helper.
14 As through a wide breach they come:
In the midst of the ruin they roll themselves upon me.
15 Terrors are turned upon me;
They chase mine honor as the wind;
And my welfare is passed away as a cloud.

16 And now my soul is poured out within me;
Days of affliction have taken hold upon me.
17 In the night season my bones are pierced in me,
And the pains that gnaw me take no rest.
18 By God's great force is my garment disfigured;
It bindeth me about as the collar of my coat.
19 He hath cast me into the mire,
And I am become like dust and ashes.
20 I cry unto thee, and thou dost not answer me:
I stand up, and thou gazest at me.
21 Thou art turned to be cruel to me;
With the might of thy hand thou persecutest me.
22 Thou liftest me up to the wind, thou causest me to ride upon it;
And thou dissolvest me in the storm.
23 For I know that thou wilt bring me to death,
And to the house appointed for all living.

24 Howbeit doth not one stretch out the hand in his fall?
Or in his calamity therefore cry for help?
25 Did not I weep for him that was in trouble?
Was not my soul grieved for the needy?
26 When I looked for good, then evil came;
And when I waited for light, there came darkness.
27 My heart is troubled, and resteth not;
Days of affliction are come upon me.
28 I go mourning without the sun:
I stand up in the assembly, and cry for help.
29 I am a brother to jackals,
And a companion to ostriches.
30 My skin is black, and falleth from me,
And my bones are burned with heat.
31 Therefore is my harp turned to mourning,
And my pipe into the voice of them that weep.

1 I made a covenant with mine eyes;

How then should I look upon a virgin?

² For what is the portion from God above,
And the heritage from the Almighty on high?

³ Is it not calamity to the unrighteous,
And disaster to the workers of iniquity?

⁴ Doth not he see my ways,
And number all my steps?

⁵ If I have walked with falsehood,
And my foot hath hasted to deceit

⁶ (Let me be weighed in an even balance,
That God may know mine integrity);

⁷ If my step hath turned out of the way,
And my heart walked after mine eyes,
And if any spot hath clave to my hands:

⁸ Then let me sow, and let another eat;
Yea, let the produce of my field be rooted out.

⁹ If my heart hath been enticed unto a woman,
And I have laid wait at my neighbor's door;

¹⁰ Then let my wife grind unto another,
And let others bow down upon her.

¹¹ For that were a heinous crime;
Yea, it were an iniquity to be punished by the judges:

¹² For it is a fire that consumeth unto Destruction,
And would root out all mine increase.

¹³ If I have despised the cause of my manservant or of my maidservant,
When they contended with me;

¹⁴ What then shall I do when God riseth up?
And when he visiteth, what shall I answer him?

¹⁵ Did not he that made me in the womb make him?
And did not one fashion us in the womb?

¹⁶ If I have withheld the poor from their desire,
Or have caused the eyes of the widow to fail,

¹⁷ Or have eaten my morsel alone,
And the fatherless hath not eaten thereof

¹⁸ (Nay, from my youth he grew up with me as with a father,
And her have I guided from my mother's womb);

¹⁹ If I have seen any perish for want of clothing,
Or that the needy had no covering;

²⁰ If his loins have not blessed me,
And if he hath not been warmed with the fleece of my sheep;

²¹ If I have lifted up my hand against the fatherless,
Because I saw my help in the gate:

²² Then let my shoulder fall from the shoulder blade,
And mine arm be broken from the bone.

²³ For calamity from God is a terror to me,
And by reason of his majesty I can do nothing.

²⁴ If I have made gold my hope,

And have said to the fine gold, Thou art my confidence;
²⁵ If I have rejoiced because my wealth was great,
 And because my hand had gotten much;
²⁶ If I have beheld the sun when it shined,
 Or the moon walking in brightness,
²⁷ And my heart hath been secretly enticed,
 And my mouth hath kissed my hand:
²⁸ This also were an iniquity to be punished by the judges;
 For I should have denied the God that is above.
²⁹ If I have rejoiced at the destruction of him that hated me,
 Or lifted up myself when evil found him
³⁰ (Yea, I have not suffered my mouth to sin
 By asking his life with a curse);
³¹ If the men of my tent have not said,
 Who can find one that hath not been filled with his meat?
³² (The sojourner hath not lodged in the street;
 But I have opened my doors to the traveler);
³³ If like Adam I have covered my transgressions,
 By hiding mine iniquity in my bosom,
³⁴ Because I feared the great multitude,
 And the contempt of families terrified me,
 So that I kept silence, and went not out of the door—
³⁵ Oh that I had one to hear me!
 (Lo, here is my signature, let the Almighty answer me)
 And that I had the indictment which mine adversary hath written!
³⁶ Surely I would carry it upon my shoulder;
 I would bind it unto me as a crown:
³⁷ I would declare unto him the number of my steps;
 As a prince would I go near unto him.
³⁸ If my land crieth out against me,
 And the furrows thereof weep together;
³⁹ If I have eaten the fruits thereof without money,
 Or have caused the owners thereof to lose their life:
⁴⁰ Let thistles grow instead of wheat,
 And cockle instead of barley.

The words of Job are ended.

¹ So these three men ceased to answer Job, because he was righteous in his own eyes. ² Then was kindled the wrath of Elihu the son of Barachel the Buzite, of the family of Ram: against Job was his wrath kindled, because he justified himself rather than God. ³ Also against his three friends was his wrath kindled, because they had found no answer, and yet had condemned Job. ⁴ Now Elihu had waited to speak unto Job, because they were elder than he. ⁵ And when Elihu saw that there was no answer in the mouth of these three men, his wrath was kindled.

⁶ And Elihu the son of Barachel the Buzite answered and said,
 I am young, and ye are very old;
 Wherefore I held back, and durst not show you mine opinion.

⁷ I said, Days should speak,

And multitude of years should teach wisdom.

⁸ But there is a spirit in man,
And the breath of the Almighty giveth them understanding.

⁹ It is not the great that are wise,
Nor the aged that understand justice.

¹⁰ Therefore I said, Hearken to me;
I also will show mine opinion.

¹¹ Behold, I waited for your words,
I listened for your reasonings,
While ye searched out what to say.

¹² Yea, I attended unto you,
And, behold, there was none that convinced Job,
Or that answered his words, among you.

¹³ Beware lest ye say, We have found wisdom;
God may vanquish him, not man:

¹⁴ For he hath not directed his words against me;
Neither will I answer him with your speeches.

¹⁵ They are amazed, they answer no more:
They have not a word to say.

¹⁶ And shall I wait, because they speak not,
Because they stand still, and answer no more?

¹⁷ I also will answer my part,
I also will show mine opinion.

¹⁸ For I am full of words;
The spirit within me constraineth me.

¹⁹ Behold, my breast is as wine which hath no vent;
Like new wineskins it is ready to burst.

²⁰ I will speak, that I may be refreshed;
I will open my lips and answer.

²¹ Let me not, I pray you, respect any man's person;
Neither will I give flattering titles unto any man.

²² For I know not to give flattering titles;
Else would my Maker soon take me away.

¹ Howbeit, Job, I pray thee, hear my speech,
And hearken to all my words.

² Behold now, I have opened my mouth;
My tongue hath spoken in my mouth.

³ My words shall utter the uprightness of my heart;
And that which my lips know they shall speak sincerely.

⁴ The Spirit of God hath made me,
And the breath of the Almighty giveth me life.

⁵ If thou canst, answer thou me;
Set thy words in order before me, stand forth.

⁶ Behold, I am toward God even as thou art:
I also am formed out of the clay.

⁷ Behold, my terror shall not make thee afraid,
Neither shall my pressure be heavy upon thee.

⁸ Surely thou hast spoken in my hearing,
And I have heard the voice of thy words, saying,

⁹ I am clean, without transgression;
I am innocent, neither is there iniquity in me:

¹⁰ Behold, he findeth occasions against me,
He counteth me for his enemy;

¹¹ He putteth my feet in the stocks,
He marketh all my paths.

¹² Behold, I will answer thee, in this thou art not just;
For God is greater than man.

¹³ Why dost thou strive against him,
For that he giveth not account of any of his matters?

¹⁴ For God speaketh once,
Yea twice, though man regardeth it not.

¹⁵ In a dream, in a vision of the night,
When deep sleep falleth upon men,
In slumberings upon the bed;

¹⁶ Then he openeth the ears of men,
And sealeth their instruction,

¹⁷ That he may withdraw man from his purpose,
And hide pride from man;

¹⁸ He keepeth back his soul from the pit,
And his life from perishing by the sword.

¹⁹ He is chastened also with pain upon his bed,
And with continual strife in his bones;

²⁰ So that his life abhorreth bread,
And his soul dainty food.

²¹ His flesh is consumed away, that it cannot be seen;
And his bones that were not seen stick out.

²² Yea, his soul draweth near unto the pit,
And his life to the destroyers.

²³ If there be with him an angel,
An interpreter, one among a thousand,
To show unto man what is right for him;

²⁴ Then God is gracious unto him, and saith,
Deliver him from going down to the pit,
I have found a ransom.

²⁵ His flesh shall be fresher than a child's;
He returneth to the days of his youth.

²⁶ He prayeth unto God, and he is favorable unto him,
So that he seeth his face with joy:
And he restoreth unto man his righteousness.

²⁷ He singeth before men, and saith,
I have sinned, and perverted that which was right,
And it profited me not:

²⁸ He hath redeemed my soul from going into the pit,
And my life shall behold the light.

²⁹ Lo, all these things doth God work,
Twice, yea thrice, with a man,

³⁰ To bring back his soul from the pit,
That he may be enlightened with the light of the living.

³¹ Mark well, O Job, hearken unto me:
Hold thy peace, and I will speak.

³² If thou hast anything to say, answer me:
Speak, for I desire to justify thee.

³³ If not, hearken thou unto me:
Hold thy peace, and I will teach thee wisdom.

¹ Moreover Elihu answered and said,

² Hear my words, ye wise men;
And give ear unto me, ye that have knowledge.

³ For the ear trieth words,
As the palate tasteth food.

⁴ Let us choose for us that which is right:
Let us know among ourselves what is good.

⁵ For Job hath said, I am righteous,
And God hath taken away my right:

⁶ Notwithstanding my right I am accounted a liar;
My wound is incurable, though I am without transgression.

⁷ What man is like Job,
Who drinketh up scoffing like water,

⁸ Who goeth in company with the workers of iniquity,
And walketh with wicked men?

⁹ For he hath said, It profiteth a man nothing
That he should delight himself with God.

¹⁰ Therefore hearken unto me, ye men of understanding:
Far be it from God, that he should do wickedness,
And from the Almighty, that he should commit iniquity.

¹¹ For the work of a man will he render unto him,
And cause every man to find according to his ways.

¹² Yea, of a surety, God will not do wickedly,
Neither will the Almighty pervert justice.

¹³ Who gave him a charge over the earth?
Or who hath disposed the whole world?

¹⁴ If he set his heart upon himself,
If he gather unto himself his spirit and his breath;

¹⁵ All flesh shall perish together,
And man shall turn again unto dust.

¹⁶ If now thou hast understanding, hear this:
Hearken to the voice of my words.

¹⁷ Shall even one that hateth justice govern?

And wilt thou condemn him that is righteous and mighty?—

¹⁸ Him that saith to a king, Thou art vile,
Or to nobles, Ye are wicked;

¹⁹ That respecteth not the persons of princes,
Nor regardeth the rich more than the poor;
For they all are the work of his hands.

²⁰ In a moment they die, even at midnight;
The people are shaken and pass away,
And the mighty are taken away without hand.

²¹ For his eyes are upon the ways of a man,
And he seeth all his goings.

²² There is no darkness, nor thick gloom,
Where the workers of iniquity may hide themselves.

²³ For he needeth not further to consider a man,
That he should go before God in judgment.

²⁴ He breaketh in pieces mighty men in ways past finding out,
And setteth others in their stead.

²⁵ Therefore he taketh knowledge of their works;
And he overturneth them in the night, so that they are destroyed.

²⁶ He striketh them as wicked men
In the open sight of others;

²⁷ Because they turned aside from following him,
And would not have regard in any of his ways:

²⁸ So that they caused the cry of the poor to come unto him,
And he heard the cry of the afflicted.

²⁹ When he giveth quietness, who then can condemn?
And when he hideth his face, who then can behold him?
Alike whether it be done unto a nation, or unto a man:

³⁰ That the godless man reign not,
That there be none to ensnare the people.

³¹ For hath any said unto God,
I have borne chastisement, I will not offend anymore:

³² That which I see not teach thou me:
If I have done iniquity, I will do it no more?

³³ Shall his recompense be as thou wilt, that thou refusest it?
For thou must choose, and not I:
Therefore speak what thou knowest.

³⁴ Men of understanding will say unto me,
Yea, every wise man that heareth me:

³⁵ Job speaketh without knowledge,
And his words are without wisdom.

³⁶ Would that Job were tried unto the end,
Because of his answering like wicked men.

³⁷ For he addeth rebellion unto his sin;
He clappeth his hands among us,
And multiplieth his words against God.

¹ Moreover Elihu answered and said,
² Thinkest thou this to be thy right,
Or sayest thou, My righteousness is more than God's,
³ That thou sayest, What advantage will it be unto thee?
And, What profit shall I have, more than if I had sinned?
⁴ I will answer thee,
And thy companions with thee.
⁵ Look unto the heavens, and see;
And behold the skies, which are higher than thou.
⁶ If thou hast sinned, what effectest thou against him?
And if thy transgressions be multiplied, what doest thou unto him?
⁷ If thou be righteous, what givest thou him?
Or what receiveth he of thy hand?
⁸ Thy wickedness may hurt a man as thou art;
And thy righteousness may profit a son of man.

⁹ By reason of the multitude of oppressions they cry out;
They cry for help by reason of the arm of the mighty.
¹⁰ But none saith, Where is God my Maker,
Who giveth songs in the night,
¹¹ Who teacheth us more than the beasts of the earth,
And maketh us wiser than the birds of the heavens?
¹² There they cry, but none giveth answer,
Because of the pride of evil men.
¹³ Surely God will not hear an empty cry,
Neither will the Almighty regard it.
¹⁴ How much less when thou sayest thou beholdest him not,
The cause is before him, and thou waitest for him!
¹⁵ But now, because he hath not visited in his anger,
Neither doth he greatly regard arrogance;
¹⁶ Therefore doth Job open his mouth in vanity;
He multiplieth words without knowledge.

¹ Elihu also proceeded, and said,
² Suffer me a little, and I will show thee;
For I have yet somewhat to say on God's behalf.
³ I will fetch my knowledge from afar,
And will ascribe righteousness to my Maker.
⁴ For truly my words are not false:
One that is perfect in knowledge is with thee.
⁵ Behold, God is mighty, and despiseth not any:
He is mighty in strength of understanding.
⁶ He preserveth not the life of the wicked,
But giveth to the afflicted their right.
⁷ He withdraweth not his eyes from the righteous:
But with kings upon the throne
He setteth them forever, and they are exalted.
⁸ And if they be bound in fetters,

And be taken in the cords of affliction;

⁹ Then he showeth them their work,
And their transgressions, that they have behaved themselves proudly.

¹⁰ He openeth also their ear to instruction,
And commandeth that they return from iniquity.

¹¹ If they hearken and serve him,
They shall spend their days in prosperity,
And their years in pleasures.

¹² But if they hearken not, they shall perish by the sword,
And they shall die without knowledge.

¹³ But they that are godless in heart lay up anger:
They cry not for help when he bindeth them.

¹⁴ They die in youth,
And their life perisheth among the unclean.

¹⁵ He delivereth the afflicted by their affliction,
And openeth their ear in oppression.

¹⁶ Yea, he would have allured thee out of distress
Into a broad place, where there is no straitness;
And that which is set on thy table would be full of fatness.

¹⁷ But thou art full of the judgment of the wicked:
Judgment and justice take hold on thee.

¹⁸ For let not wrath stir thee up against chastisements;
Neither let the greatness of the ransom turn thee aside.

¹⁹ Will thy cry avail, that thou be not in distress,
Or all the forces of thy strength?

²⁰ Desire not the night,
When peoples are cut off in their place.

²¹ Take heed, regard not iniquity:
For this hast thou chosen rather than affliction.

²² Behold, God doeth loftily in his power:
Who is a teacher like unto him?

²³ Who hath enjoined him his way?
Or who can say, Thou hast wrought unrighteousness?

²⁴ Remember that thou magnify his work,
Whereof men have sung.

²⁵ All men have looked thereon;
Man beholdeth it afar off.

²⁶ Behold, God is great, and we know him not;
The number of his years is unsearchable.

²⁷ For he draweth up the drops of water,
Which distill in rain from his vapor,

²⁸ Which the skies pour down
And drop upon man abundantly.

²⁹ Yea, can any understand the spreadings of the clouds,
The thunderings of his pavilion?

³⁰ Behold, he spreadeth his light around him;
And he covereth the bottom of the sea.

³¹ For by these he judgeth the peoples;
He giveth food in abundance.

³² He covereth his hands with the lightning,
And giveth it a charge that it strike the mark.
³³ The noise thereof telleth concerning him,
The cattle also concerning the storm that cometh up.

¹ Yea, at this my heart trembleth,
And is moved out of its place.
² Hear, oh, hear the noise of his voice,
And the sound that goeth out of his mouth.
³ He sendeth it forth under the whole heaven,
And his lightning unto the ends of the earth.
⁴ After it a voice roareth;
He thundereth with the voice of his majesty;
And he restraineth not the lightnings when his voice is heard.
⁵ God thundereth marvelously with his voice;
Great things doeth he, which we cannot comprehend.
⁶ For he saith to the snow, Fall thou on the earth;
Likewise to the shower of rain,
And to the showers of his mighty rain.
⁷ He sealet up the hand of every man,
That all men whom he hath made may know it.
⁸ Then the beasts go into coverts,
And remain in their dens.
⁹ Out of the chamber of the south cometh the storm,
And cold out of the north.
¹⁰ By the breath of God ice is given;
And the breadth of the waters is straitened.
¹¹ Yea, he ladeth the thick cloud with moisture;
He spreadeth abroad the cloud of his lightning:
¹² And it is turned round about by his guidance,
That they may do whatsoever he commandeth them
Upon the face of the habitable world,
¹³ Whether it be for correction, or for his land,
Or for lovingkindness, that he cause it to come.

¹⁴ Hearken unto this, O Job:
Stand still, and consider the wondrous works of God.
¹⁵ Dost thou know how God layeth his charge upon them,
And causeth the lightning of his cloud to shine?
¹⁶ Dost thou know the balancings of the clouds,
The wondrous works of him who is perfect in knowledge?
¹⁷ How thy garments are warm,
When the earth is still by reason of the south wind?
¹⁸ Canst thou with him spread out the sky,
Which is strong as a molten mirror?
¹⁹ Teach us what we shall say unto him;
For we cannot set our speech in order by reason of darkness.
²⁰ Shall it be told him that I would speak?
Or should a man wish that he were swallowed up?

²¹ And now men see not the light which is bright in the skies;
But the wind passeth, and cleareth them.
²² Out of the north cometh golden splendor:
God hath upon him terrible majesty.
²³ Touching the Almighty, we cannot find him out:
He is excellent in power;
And in justice and plenteous righteousness he will not afflict.
²⁴ Men do therefore fear him:
He regardeth not any that are wise of heart.

38

¹ Then Jehovah answered Job out of the whirlwind, and said,
² Who is this that darkeneth counsel
By words without knowledge?
³ Gird up now thy loins like a man;
For I will demand of thee, and declare thou unto me.
⁴ Where wast thou when I laid the foundations of the earth?
Declare, if thou hast understanding.
⁵ Who determined the measures thereof, if thou knowest?
Or who stretched the line upon it?
⁶ Whereupon were the foundations thereof fastened?
Or who laid the cornerstone thereof,
⁷ When the morning stars sang together,
And all the sons of God shouted for joy?

⁸ Or who shut up the sea with doors,
When it brake forth, as if it had issued out of the womb;
⁹ When I made clouds the garment thereof,
And thick darkness a swaddling band for it,
¹⁰ And marked out for it my bound,
And set bars and doors,
¹¹ And said, Hitherto shalt thou come, but no further;
And here shall thy proud waves be stayed?

¹² Hast thou commanded the morning since thy days began,
And caused the dayspring to know its place;
¹³ That it might take hold of the ends of the earth,
And the wicked be shaken out of it?
¹⁴ It is changed as clay under the seal;
And all things stand forth as a garment:
¹⁵ And from the wicked their light is withholden,
And the high arm is broken.

¹⁶ Hast thou entered into the springs of the sea?
Or hast thou walked in the recesses of the deep?
¹⁷ Have the gates of death been revealed unto thee?
Or hast thou seen the gates of the shadow of death?
¹⁸ Hast thou comprehended the earth in its breadth?
Declare, if thou knowest it all.

¹⁹ Where is the way to the dwelling of light?
And as for darkness, where is the place thereof,
²⁰ That thou shouldest take it to the bound thereof,
And that thou shouldest discern the paths to the house thereof?
²¹ Doubtless, thou knowest, for thou wast then born,
And the number of thy days is great!
²² Hast thou entered the treasures of the snow,
Or hast thou seen the treasures of the hail,
²³ Which I have reserved against the time of trouble,
Against the day of battle and war?
²⁴ By what way is the light parted,
Or the east wind scattered upon the earth?

²⁵ Who hath cleft a channel for the waterflood,
Or the way for the lightning of the thunder;
²⁶ To cause it to rain on a land where no man is;
On the wilderness, wherein there is no man;
²⁷ To satisfy the waste and desolate ground,
And to cause the tender grass to spring forth?
²⁸ Hath the rain a father?
Or who hath begotten the drops of dew?
²⁹ Out of whose womb came the ice?
And the hoary frost of heaven, who hath gendered it?
³⁰ The waters hide themselves and become like stone,
And the face of the deep is frozen.

³¹ Canst thou bind the cluster of the Pleiades,
Or loose the bands of Orion?
³² Canst thou lead forth the Mazzaroth in their season?
Or canst thou guide the Bear with her train?
³³ Knowest thou the ordinances of the heavens?
Canst thou establish the dominion thereof in the earth?

³⁴ Canst thou lift up thy voice to the clouds,
That abundance of waters may cover thee?
³⁵ Canst thou send forth lightnings, that they may go,
And say unto thee, Here we are?
³⁶ Who hath put wisdom in the inward parts?
Or who hath given understanding to the mind?
³⁷ Who can number the clouds by wisdom?
Or who can pour out the bottles of heaven,
³⁸ When the dust runneth into a mass,
And the clods cleave fast together?

³⁹ Canst thou hunt the prey for the lioness,
Or satisfy the appetite of the young lions,
⁴⁰ When they couch in their dens,
And abide in the covert to lie in wait?
⁴¹ Who provideth for the raven his prey,
When his young ones cry unto God,
And wander for lack of food?

¹ Knowest thou the time when the wild goats of the rock bring forth?

Or canst thou mark when the hinds do calve?

² Canst thou number the months that they fulfill?

Or knowest thou the time when they bring forth?

³ They bow themselves, they bring forth their young,

They cast out their pains.

⁴ Their young ones become strong, they grow up in the open field;

They go forth, and return not again.

⁵ Who hath sent out the wild ass free?

Or who hath loosed the bonds of the swift ass,

⁶ Whose home I have made the wilderness,
And the salt land his dwelling place?

⁷ He scorneth the tumult of the city,
Neither heareth he the shoutings of the driver.

⁸ The range of the mountains is his pasture,
And he searcheth after every green thing.

⁹ Will the wild ox be content to serve thee?
Or will he abide by thy crib?

¹⁰ Canst thou bind the wild ox with his band in the furrow?
Or will he harrow the valleys after thee?

¹¹ Wilt thou trust him, because his strength is great?
Or wilt thou leave to him thy labor?

¹² Wilt thou confide in him, that he will bring home thy seed,
And gather the grain of thy threshing floor?

¹³ The wings of the ostrich wave proudly;
But are they the pinions and plumage of love?

¹⁴ For she leaveth her eggs on the earth,
And warmeth them in the dust,

¹⁵ And forgetteth that the foot may crush them,
Or that the wild beast may trample them.

¹⁶ She dealeth hardly with her young ones, as if they were not hers:
Though her labor be in vain, she is without fear;

¹⁷ Because God hath deprived her of wisdom,
Neither hath he imparted to her understanding.

¹⁸ What time she lifteth up herself on high,
She scorneth the horse and his rider.

¹⁹ Hast thou given the horse his might?
Hast thou clothed his neck with the quivering mane?

²⁰ Hast thou made him to leap as a locust?
The glory of his snorting is terrible.

²¹ He paweth in the valley, and rejoiceth in his strength:
He goeth out to meet the armed men.

²² He mocketh at fear, and is not dismayed;
Neither turneth he back from the sword.

²³ The quiver rattleth against him,
The flashing spear and the javelin.

²⁴ He swalloweth the ground with fierceness and rage;

Neither believeth he that it is the voice of the trumpet.

²⁵ As oft as the trumpet soundeth he saith, Aha!
And he smelleth the battle afar off,
The thunder of the captains, and the shouting.

²⁶ Is it by thy wisdom that the hawk soareth,
And stretcheth her wings toward the south?

²⁷ Is it at thy command that the eagle mounteth up,
And maketh her nest on high?

²⁸ On the cliff she dwelleth, and maketh her home,
Upon the point of the cliff, and the stronghold.

²⁹ From thence she spieth out the prey;
Her eyes behold it afar off.

³⁰ Her young ones also suck up blood:
And where the slain are, there is she.

¹ Moreover Jehovah answered Job, and said,
² Shall he that cavileth contend with the Almighty?
He that argueth with God, let him answer it.

³ Then Job answered Jehovah, and said,
⁴ Behold, I am of small account; what shall I answer thee?
I lay my hand upon my mouth.
⁵ Once have I spoken, and I will not answer;
Yea, twice, but I will proceed no further.

⁶ Then Jehovah answered Job out of the whirlwind, and said,
⁷ Gird up thy loins now like a man:
I will demand of thee, and declare thou unto me.
⁸ Wilt thou even annul my judgment?
Wilt thou condemn me, that thou mayest be justified?
⁹ Or hast thou an arm like God?
And canst thou thunder with a voice like him?

¹⁰ Deck thyself now with excellency and dignity;
And array thyself with honor and majesty.
¹¹ Pour forth the overflowings of thine anger;
And look upon everyone that is proud, and abase him.
¹² Look on everyone that is proud, and bring him low;
And tread down the wicked where they stand.
¹³ Hide them in the dust together;
Bind their faces in the hidden place.
¹⁴ Then will I also confess of thee
That thine own right hand can save thee.

¹⁵ Behold now, behemoth, which I made as well as thee;
He eateth grass as an ox.
¹⁶ Lo now, his strength is in his loins,
And his force is in the muscles of his belly.

¹⁷ He moveth his tail like a cedar:
The sinews of his thighs are knit together.

¹⁸ His bones are as tubes of brass;
His limbs are like bars of iron.

¹⁹ He is the chief of the ways of God:
He only that made him giveth him his sword.

²⁰ Surely the mountains bring him forth food,
Where all the beasts of the field do play.

²¹ He lieth under the lotus trees,
In the covert of the reed, and the fen.

²² The lotus trees cover him with their shade;
The willows of the brook compass him about.

²³ Behold, if a river overflow, he trembleth not;
He is confident, though a Jordan swell even to his mouth.

²⁴ Shall any take him when he is on the watch,
Or pierce through his nose with a snare?

Or press down his tongue with a cord?

² Canst thou put a rope into his nose?
Or pierce his jaw through with a hook?

³ Will he make many supplications unto thee?
Or will he speak soft words unto thee?

⁴ Will he make a covenant with thee,
That thou shouldest take him for a servant forever?

⁵ Wilt thou play with him as with a bird?
Or wilt thou bind him for thy maidens?

⁶ Will the bands of fishermen make traffic of him?
Will they part him among the merchants?

⁷ Canst thou fill his skin with barbed irons,
Or his head with fish-spears?

⁸ Lay thy hand upon him;
Remember the battle, and do so no more.

⁹ Behold, the hope of him is in vain:
Will not one be cast down even at the sight of him?

¹⁰ None is so fierce that he dare stir him up;
Who then is he that can stand before me?

¹¹ Who hath first given unto me, that I should repay him?
Whatsoever is under the whole heaven is mine.

¹² I will not keep silence concerning his limbs,
Nor his mighty strength, nor his goodly frame.

¹³ Who can strip off his outer garment?
Who shall come within his jaws?

¹⁴ Who can open the doors of his face?
Round about his teeth is terror.

¹⁵ His strong scales are his pride,
Shut up together as with a close seal.

¹⁶ One is so near to another,

That no air can come between them.
¹⁷ They are joined one to another;
They stick together, so that they cannot be sundered.
¹⁸ His sneezings flash forth light,
And his eyes are like the eyelids of the morning.
¹⁹ Out of his mouth go burning torches,
And sparks of fire leap forth.
²⁰ Out of his nostrils a smoke goeth,
As of a boiling pot and burning rushes.
²¹ His breath kindleth coals,
And a flame goeth forth from his mouth.
²² In his neck abideth strength,
And terror danceth before him.
²³ The flakes of his flesh are joined together:
They are firm upon him; they cannot be moved.
²⁴ His heart is as firm as a stone;
Yea, firm as the nether millstone.
²⁵ When he raiseth himself up, the mighty are afraid:
By reason of consternation they are beside themselves.
²⁶ If one lay at him with the sword, it cannot avail;
Nor the spear, the dart, nor the pointed shaft.
²⁷ He counteth iron as straw,
And brass as rotten wood.
²⁸ The arrow cannot make him flee:
Slingstones are turned with him into stubble.
²⁹ Clubs are counted as stubble:
He laugheth at the rushing of the javelin.
³⁰ His underparts are like sharp potsherds:
He spreadeth as it were a threshing wain upon the mire.
³¹ He maketh the deep to boil like a pot:
He maketh the sea like a pot of ointment.
³² He maketh a path to shine after him;
One would think the deep to be hoary.
³³ Upon earth there is not his like,
That is made without fear.
³⁴ He beholdeth everything that is high:
He is king over all the sons of pride.

¹ Then Job answered Jehovah, and said,
² I know that thou canst do all things,
And that no purpose of thine can be restrained.
³ Who is this that hideth counsel without knowledge?
Therefore have I uttered that which I understood not,
Things too wonderful for me, which I knew not.
⁴ Hear, I beseech thee, and I will speak;
I will demand of thee, and declare thou unto me.
⁵ I had heard of thee by the hearing of the ear;
But now mine eye seeth thee:
⁶ Wherefore I abhor myself,

And repent in dust and ashes.

⁷ And it was so, that, after Jehovah had spoken these words unto Job, Jehovah said to Eliphaz the Temanite, My wrath is kindled against thee, and against thy two friends; for ye have not spoken of me the thing that is right, as my servant Job hath. ⁸ Now therefore, take unto you seven bullocks and seven rams, and go to my servant Job, and offer up for yourselves a burnt offering; and my servant Job shall pray for you; for him will I accept, that I deal not with you after your folly; for ye have not spoken of me the thing that is right, as my servant Job hath. ⁹ So Eliphaz the Temanite and Bildad the Shuhite and Zophar the Naamathite went, and did according as Jehovah commanded them: and Jehovah accepted Job.

¹⁰ And Jehovah turned the captivity of Job, when he prayed for his friends: and Jehovah gave Job twice as much as he had before. ¹¹ Then came there unto him all his brethren, and all his sisters, and all they that had been of his acquaintance before, and did eat bread with him in his house: and they bemoaned him, and comforted him concerning all the evil that Jehovah had brought upon him: every man also gave him a piece of money, and every one a ring of gold. ¹² So Jehovah blessed the latter end of Job more than his beginning: and he had fourteen thousand sheep, and six thousand camels, and a thousand yoke of oxen, and a thousand she-asses. ¹³ He had also seven sons and three daughters. ¹⁴ And he called the name of the first, Jemimah; and the name of the second, Keziah; and the name of the third, Keren-happuch. ¹⁵ And in all the land were no women found so fair as the daughters of Job: and their father gave them inheritance among their brethren. ¹⁶ And after this Job lived a hundred and forty years, and saw his sons, and his sons' sons, even four generations. ¹⁷ So Job died, being old and full of days.

THE PSALMS

BOOK I

¹ Blessed is the man that walketh not in the counsel of the wicked,
Nor standeth in the way of sinners,
Nor sitteth in the seat of scoffers:
² But his delight is in the law of Jehovah;
And on his law doth he meditate day and night.
³ And he shall be like a tree planted by the streams of water,
That bringeth forth its fruit in its season,
Whose leaf also doth not wither;
And whatsoever he doeth shall prosper.
⁴ The wicked are not so,
But are like the chaff which the wind driveth away.
⁵ Therefore the wicked shall not stand in the judgment,
Nor sinners in the congregation of the righteous.
⁶ For Jehovah knoweth the way of the righteous;
But the way of the wicked shall perish.

And the peoples meditate a vain thing?
² The kings of the earth set themselves,
And the rulers take counsel together,
Against Jehovah, and against his anointed, saying,
³ Let us break their bonds asunder,
And cast away their cords from us.
⁴ He that sitteth in the heavens will laugh:
The Lord will have them in derision.
⁵ Then will he speak unto them in his wrath,
And vex them in his sore displeasure:
⁶ Yet I have set my king
Upon my holy hill of Zion.

⁷ I will tell of the decree:
Jehovah said unto me, Thou art my son;
This day have I begotten thee.
⁸ Ask of me, and I will give thee the nations for thine inheritance,
And the uttermost parts of the earth for thy possession.
⁹ Thou shalt break them with a rod of iron;
Thou shalt dash them in pieces like a potter's vessel.

¹⁰ Now therefore be wise, O ye kings:
Be instructed, ye judges of the earth.
¹¹ Serve Jehovah with fear,
And rejoice with trembling.
¹² Kiss the son, lest he be angry, and ye perish in the way,
For his wrath will soon be kindled.

Blessed are all they that take refuge in him.

A Psalm of David, when he fled from Absalom his son.

Many are they that rise up against me.

² Many there are that say of my soul,

There is no help for him in God.

Selah

³ But thou, O Jehovah, art a shield about me;

My glory, and the lifter up of my head.

⁴ I cry unto Jehovah with my voice,

And he answereth me out of his holy hill.

Selah

⁵ I laid me down and slept;

I awoke; for Jehovah sustaineth me.

⁶ I will not be afraid of ten thousands of the people

That have set themselves against me round about.

⁷ Arise, O Jehovah; save me, O my God:

For thou hast smitten all mine enemies upon the cheek bone;

Thou hast broken the teeth of the wicked.

⁸ Salvation belongeth unto Jehovah:

Thy blessing be upon thy people.

For the Chief Musician; on stringed instruments. A Psalm of David.

¹ Answer me when I call, O God of my righteousness;

Thou hast set me at large when I was in distress:

Have mercy upon me, and hear my prayer.

² O ye sons of men, how long shall my glory be turned into dishonor?

How long will ye love vanity, and seek after falsehood?

Selah

³ But know that Jehovah hath set apart for himself him that is godly:

Jehovah will hear when I call unto him.

⁴ Stand in awe, and sin not:

Commune with your own heart upon your bed, and be still.

Selah

⁵ Offer the sacrifices of righteousness,

And put your trust in Jehovah.

⁶ Many there are that say, Who will show us any good?

Jehovah, lift thou up the light of thy countenance upon us.

⁷ Thou hast put gladness in my heart,

More than they have when their grain and their new wine are increased.

⁸ In peace will I both lay me down and sleep;

For thou, Jehovah, alone makest me dwell in safety.

For the Chief Musician; with the Nehiloth. A Psalm of David.

¹ Give ear to my words, O Jehovah,

Consider my meditation.

² Hearken unto the voice of my cry, my King, and my God;

For unto thee do I pray.

³ O Jehovah, in the morning shalt thou hear my voice;
In the morning will I order my prayer unto thee, and will keep watch.

⁴ For thou art not a God that hath pleasure in wickedness:
Evil shall not sojourn with thee.

⁵ The arrogant shall not stand in thy sight:
Thou hatest all workers of iniquity.

⁶ Thou wilt destroy them that speak lies:
Jehovah abhorreth the bloodthirsty and deceitful man.

⁷ But as for me, in the abundance of thy lovingkindness will I come into thy house:
In thy fear will I worship toward thy holy temple.

⁸ Lead me, O Jehovah, in thy righteousness because of mine enemies;
Make thy way straight before my face.

⁹ For there is no faithfulness in their mouth;
Their inward part is very wickedness;
Their throat is an open sepulcher;
They flatter with their tongue.

¹⁰ Hold them guilty, O God;
Let them fall by their own counsels;
Thrust them out in the multitude of their transgressions;
For they have rebelled against thee.

¹¹ But let all those that take refuge in thee rejoice,
Let them ever shout for joy, because thou defendest them:
Let them also that love thy name be joyful in thee.

¹² For thou wilt bless the righteous;
O Jehovah, thou wilt compass him with favor as with a shield.

For the Chief Musician; on stringed instruments, set to the Sheminith. A Psalm of David.

¹ O Jehovah, rebuke me not in thine anger,
Neither chasten me in thy hot displeasure.

² Have mercy upon me, O Jehovah; for I am withered away:
O Jehovah, heal me; for my bones are troubled.

³ My soul also is sore troubled:
And thou, O Jehovah, how long?

⁴ Return, O Jehovah, deliver my soul:
Save me for thy lovingkindness' sake.

⁵ For in death there is no remembrance of thee:
In Sheol who shall give thee thanks?

⁶ I am weary with my groaning;
Every night make I my bed to swim;
I water my couch with my tears.

⁷ Mine eye wasteth away because of grief;
It waxeth old because of all mine adversaries.

⁸ Depart from me, all ye workers of iniquity;
For Jehovah hath heard the voice of my weeping.

⁹ Jehovah hath heard my supplication;
Jehovah will receive my prayer.

¹⁰ All mine enemies shall be put to shame and sore troubled:
They shall turn back, they shall be put to shame suddenly.

Shiggaion of David, which he sang unto Jehovah, concerning the words of Cush a Benjaminite.

¹ O Jehovah my God, in thee do I take refuge:
Save me from all them that pursue me, and deliver me,
² Lest they tear my soul like a lion,
Rending it in pieces, while there is none to deliver.
³ O Jehovah my God, if I have done this;
If there be iniquity in my hands;
⁴ If I have rewarded evil unto him that was at peace with me
(Yea, I have delivered him that without cause was mine adversary);
⁵ Let the enemy pursue my soul, and overtake it;
Yea, let him tread my life down to the earth,
And lay my glory in the dust.

Selah

⁶ Arise, O Jehovah, in thine anger;
Lift up thyself against the rage of mine adversaries,
And awake for me; thou hast commanded judgment.
⁷ And let the congregation of the peoples compass thee about;
And over them return thou on high.
⁸ Jehovah ministereth judgment to the peoples:
Judge me, O Jehovah, according to my righteousness, and to mine integrity that is in me.
⁹ Oh let the wickedness of the wicked come to an end, but establish thou the righteous:
For the righteous God trieth the minds and hearts.
¹⁰ My shield is with God,
Who saveth the upright in heart.
¹¹ God is a righteous judge,
Yea, a God that hath indignation every day.
¹² If a man turn not, he will whet his sword;
He hath bent his bow, and made it ready;
¹³ He hath also prepared for him the instruments of death;
He maketh his arrows fiery shafts.
¹⁴ Behold, he travaileth with iniquity;
Yea, he hath conceived mischief, and brought forth falsehood.
¹⁵ He hath made a pit, and dug it,
And is fallen into the ditch which he made.
¹⁶ His mischief shall return upon his own head,
And his violence shall come down upon his own pate.
¹⁷ I will give thanks unto Jehovah according to his righteousness,
And will sing praise to the name of Jehovah Most High.

For the Chief Musician; set to the Gittith. A Psalm of David.

¹ O Jehovah, our Lord,
How excellent is thy name in all the earth,
Who hast set thy glory upon the heavens!
² Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings hast thou established strength,
Because of thine adversaries,
That thou mightest still the enemy and the avenger.
³ When I consider thy heavens, the work of thy fingers,

The moon and the stars, which thou hast ordained;
4 What is man, that thou art mindful of him?
And the son of man, that thou visitest him?
5 For thou hast made him but little lower than God,
And crownest him with glory and honor.
6 Thou makest him to have dominion over the works of thy hands;
Thou hast put all things under his feet:
7 All sheep and oxen,
Yea, and the beasts of the field,
8 The birds of the heavens, and the fish of the sea,
Whatsoever passeth through the paths of the seas.
9 O Jehovah, our Lord,
How excellent is thy name in all the earth!

For the Chief Musician; set to Muth-labben. A Psalm of David.

1 I will give thanks unto Jehovah with my whole heart;
I will show forth all thy marvelous works.
2 I will be glad and exult in thee;
I will sing praise to thy name, O thou Most High.
3 When mine enemies turn back,
They stumble and perish at thy presence.
4 For thou hast maintained my right and my cause;
Thou sittest in the throne judging righteously.
5 Thou hast rebuked the nations, thou hast destroyed the wicked;
Thou hast blotted out their name forever and ever.
6 The enemy are come to an end, they are desolate forever;
And the cities which thou hast overthrown,
The very remembrance of them is perished.
7 But Jehovah sitteth as king forever:
He hath prepared his throne for judgment;
8 And he will judge the world in righteousness,
He will minister judgment to the peoples in uprightness.
9 Jehovah also will be a high tower for the oppressed,
A high tower in times of trouble;
10 And they that know thy name will put their trust in thee;
For thou, Jehovah, hast not forsaken them that seek thee.
11 Sing praises to Jehovah, who dwelleth in Zion:
Declare among the people his doings.
12 For he that maketh inquisition for blood remembereth them;
He forgetteth not the cry of the poor.
13 Have mercy upon me, O Jehovah;
Behold my affliction which I suffer of them that hate me,
Thou that liftest me up from the gates of death;
14 That I may show forth all thy praise.
In the gates of the daughter of Zion
I will rejoice in thy salvation.
15 The nations are sunk down in the pit that they made:
In the net which they hid is their own foot taken.
16 Jehovah hath made himself known, he hath executed judgment:
The wicked is snared in the work of his own hands.

Higgaion. Selah

17 The wicked shall be turned back unto Sheol,
Even all the nations that forget God.
18 For the needy shall not always be forgotten,
Nor the expectation of the poor perish forever.
19 Arise, O Jehovah; let not man prevail:
Let the nations be judged in thy sight.
20 Put them in fear, O Jehovah:
Let the nations know themselves to be but men.

10

1 Why standest thou afar off, O Jehovah?
Why hidest thou thyself in times of trouble?
2 In the pride of the wicked the poor is hotly pursued;
Let them be taken in the devices that they have conceived.
3 For the wicked boasteth of his heart's desire,
And the covetous renounceth, yea, contemneth Jehovah.
4 The wicked, in the pride of his countenance, saith, He will not require it.
All his thoughts are, There is no God.
5 His ways are firm at all times;
Thy judgments are far above out of his sight:
As for all his adversaries, he puffeth at them.
6 He saith in his heart, I shall not be moved;
To all generations I shall not be in adversity.
7 His mouth is full of cursing and deceit and oppression:
Under his tongue is mischief and iniquity.
8 He sitteth in the lurking places of the villages;
In the secret places doth he murder the innocent;
His eyes are privily set against the helpless.
9 He lurketh in secret as a lion in his covert;
He lieth in wait to catch the poor:
He doth catch the poor, when he draweth him in his net.
10 He croucheth, he boweth down,
And the helpless fall by his strong ones.
11 He saith in his heart: God hath forgotten;
He hideth his face, he will never see it.
12 Arise, O Jehovah; O God, lift up thy hand:
Forget not the poor.
13 Wherefore doth the wicked condemn God,
And say in his heart, Thou wilt not require it?
14 Thou hast seen it; for thou beholdest mischief and spite, to requite it with thy hand:
The helpless committeth himself unto thee;
Thou hast been the helper of the fatherless.
15 Break thou the arm of the wicked;
And as for the evil man, seek out his wickedness till thou find none.
16 Jehovah is King forever and ever:
The nations are perished out of his land.
17 Jehovah, thou hast heard the desire of the meek:
Thou wilt prepare their heart, thou wilt cause thine ear to hear;
18 To judge the fatherless and the oppressed,

That man who is of the earth may be terrible no more.

11

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

¹ In Jehovah do I take refuge:

How say ye to my soul,

Flee as a bird to your mountain;

² For, lo, the wicked bend the bow,

They make ready their arrow upon the string,

That they may shoot in darkness at the upright in heart;

³ If the foundations be destroyed,

What can the righteous do?

⁴ Jehovah is in his holy temple;

Jehovah, his throne is in heaven;

His eyes behold, his eyelids try, the children of men.

⁵ Jehovah trieth the righteous;

But the wicked and him that loveth violence his soul hateth.

⁶ Upon the wicked he will rain snares;

Fire and brimstone and burning wind shall be the portion of their cup.

⁷ For Jehovah is righteous; he loveth righteousness:

The upright shall behold his face.

12

For the Chief Musician; set to the Sheminith. A Psalm of David.

For the faithful fail from among the children of men.

² They speak falsehood everyone with his neighbor:

With flattering lip, and with a double heart, do they speak.

³ Jehovah will cut off all flattering lips,

The tongue that speaketh great things;

⁴ Who have said, With our tongue will we prevail;

Our lips are our own: who is lord over us?

⁵ Because of the oppression of the poor, because of the sighing of the needy,

Now will I arise, saith Jehovah;

I will set him in the safety he panteth for.

⁶ The words of Jehovah are pure words;

As silver tried in a furnace on the earth,

Purified seven times.

⁷ Thou wilt keep them, O Jehovah,

Thou wilt preserve them from this generation forever.

⁸ The wicked walk on every side,

When vileness is exalted among the sons of men.

13

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

¹ How long, O Jehovah? wilt thou forget me forever?

How long wilt thou hide thy face from me?

² How long shall I take counsel in my soul,

Having sorrow in my heart all the day?

How long shall mine enemy be exalted over me?

³ Consider and answer me, O Jehovah my God:

Lighten mine eyes, lest I sleep the sleep of death;
⁴ Lest mine enemy say, I have prevailed against him;
Lest mine adversaries rejoice when I am moved.
⁵ But I have trusted in thy lovingkindness;
My heart shall rejoice in thy salvation.
⁶ I will sing unto Jehovah,
Because he hath dealt bountifully with me.

14

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

¹ The fool hath said in his heart, There is no God.
They are corrupt, they have done abominable works;
There is none that doeth good.
² Jehovah looked down from heaven upon the children of men,
To see if there were any that did understand,
That did seek after God.
³ They are all gone aside; they are together become filthy;
There is none that doeth good, no, not one.
⁴ Have all the workers of iniquity no knowledge,
Who eat up my people as they eat bread,
And call not upon Jehovah?
⁵ There were they in great fear;
For God is in the generation of the righteous.
⁶ Ye put to shame the counsel of the poor,
Because Jehovah is his refuge.
⁷ Oh that the salvation of Israel were come out of Zion!
When Jehovah bringeth back the captivity of his people,
Then shall Jacob rejoice, and Israel shall be glad.

15

A Psalm of David.

¹ Jehovah, who shall sojourn in thy tabernacle?
Who shall dwell in thy holy hill?
² He that walketh uprightly, and worketh righteousness,
And speaketh truth in his heart;
³ He that slandereth not with his tongue,
Nor doeth evil to his friend,
Nor taketh up a reproach against his neighbor;
⁴ In whose eyes a reprobate is despised,
But who honoreth them that fear Jehovah;
He that sweareth to his own hurt, and changeth not;
⁵ He that putteth not out his money to interest,
Nor taketh reward against the innocent.
He that doeth these things shall never be moved.

16

Miktam of David.

¹ Preserve me, O God; for in thee do I take refuge.
² O my soul, thou hast said unto Jehovah, Thou art my Lord:
I have no good beyond thee.
³ As for the saints that are in the earth,
They are the excellent in whom is all my delight.

⁴ Their sorrows shall be multiplied that give gifts for another god:
Their drink offerings of blood will I not offer,
Nor take their names upon my lips.
⁵ Jehovah is the portion of mine inheritance and of my cup:
Thou maintainest my lot.
⁶ The lines are fallen unto me in pleasant places;
Yea, I have a goodly heritage.
⁷ I will bless Jehovah, who hath given me counsel;
Yea, my heart instructeth me in the night seasons.
⁸ I have set Jehovah always before me:
Because he is at my right hand, I shall not be moved.
⁹ Therefore my heart is glad, and my glory rejoiceth:
My flesh also shall dwell in safety.
¹⁰ For thou wilt not leave my soul to Sheol;
Neither wilt thou suffer thy holy one to see corruption.
¹¹ Thou wilt show me the path of life:
In thy presence is fullness of joy;
In thy right hand there are pleasures forevermore.

17

A Prayer of David.

Give ear unto my prayer, that goeth not out of feigned lips.
² Let my sentence come forth from thy presence;
Let thine eyes look upon equity.
³ Thou hast proved my heart; thou hast visited me in the night;
Thou hast tried me, and findest nothing;
I am purposed that my mouth shall not transgress.
⁴ As for the works of men, by the word of thy lips
I have kept me from the ways of the violent.
⁵ My steps have held fast to thy paths,
My feet have not slipped.
⁶ I have called upon thee, for thou wilt answer me, O God:
Incline thine ear unto me, and hear my speech.
⁷ Show thy marvelous lovingkindness,
O thou that savest by thy right hand them that take refuge in thee
From those that rise up against them.
⁸ Keep me as the apple of the eye;
Hide me under the shadow of thy wings,
⁹ From the wicked that oppress me,
My deadly enemies, that compass me about.
¹⁰ They are enclosed in their own fat:
With their mouth they speak proudly.
¹¹ They have now compassed us in our steps;
They set their eyes to cast us down to the earth.
¹² He is like a lion that is greedy of his prey,
And as it were a young lion lurking in secret places.
¹³ Arise, O Jehovah,
Confront him, cast him down:
Deliver my soul from the wicked by thy sword;

¹⁴ From men by thy hand, O Jehovah,
From men of the world, whose portion is in this life,
And whose belly thou fillest with thy treasure:
They are satisfied with children,
And leave the rest of their substance to their babes.
¹⁵ As for me, I shall behold thy face in righteousness;
I shall be satisfied, when I awake, with beholding thy form.

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David the servant of Jehovah, who spake unto Jehovah the words of this song in the day that Jehovah delivered him from the hand of all his enemies, and from the hand of Saul: and he said, ¹ I love thee, O Jehovah, my strength.

² Jehovah is my rock, and my fortress, and my deliverer;
My God, my rock, in whom I will take refuge;
My shield, and the horn of my salvation, my high tower.
³ I will call upon Jehovah, who is worthy to be praised:
So shall I be saved from mine enemies.
⁴ The cords of death compassed me,
And the floods of ungodliness made me afraid.
⁵ The cords of Sheol were round about me;
The snares of death came upon me.
⁶ In my distress I called upon Jehovah,
And cried unto my God:
He heard my voice out of his temple,
And my cry before him came into his ears.
⁷ Then the earth shook and trembled;
The foundations also of the mountains quaked
And were shaken, because he was wroth.
⁸ There went up a smoke out of his nostrils,
And fire out of his mouth devoured:
Coals were kindled by it.
⁹ He bowed the heavens also, and came down;
And thick darkness was under his feet.
¹⁰ And he rode upon a cherub, and did fly;
Yea, he soared upon the wings of the wind.
¹¹ He made darkness his hiding place, his pavilion round about him,
Darkness of waters, thick clouds of the skies.
¹² At the brightness before him his thick clouds passed,
Hailstones and coals of fire.
¹³ Jehovah also thundered in the heavens,
And the Most High uttered his voice,
Hailstones and coals of fire.
¹⁴ And he sent out his arrows, and scattered them;
Yea, lightnings manifold, and discomfited them.
¹⁵ Then the channels of waters appeared,
And the foundations of the world were laid bare,
At thy rebuke, O Jehovah,
At the blast of the breath of thy nostrils.
¹⁶ He sent from on high, he took me;
He drew me out of many waters.
¹⁷ He delivered me from my strong enemy,

And from them that hated me; for they were too mighty for me.

¹⁸ They came upon me in the day of my calamity;
But Jehovah was my stay.

¹⁹ He brought me forth also into a large place;
He delivered me, because he delighted in me.

²⁰ Jehovah hath rewarded me according to my righteousness;
According to the cleanness of my hands hath he recompensed me.

²¹ For I have kept the ways of Jehovah,
And have not wickedly departed from my God.

²² For all his ordinances were before me,
And I put not away his statutes from me.

²³ I was also perfect with him,
And I kept myself from mine iniquity.

²⁴ Therefore hath Jehovah recompensed me according to my righteousness,
According to the cleanness of my hands in his eyesight.

²⁵ With the merciful thou wilt show thyself merciful;
With the perfect man thou wilt show thyself perfect;

²⁶ With the pure thou wilt show thyself pure;
And with the perverse thou wilt show thyself froward.

²⁷ For thou wilt save the afflicted people;
But the haughty eyes thou wilt bring down.

²⁸ For thou wilt light my lamp:
Jehovah my God will lighten my darkness.

²⁹ For by thee I run upon a troop;
And by my God do I leap over a wall.

³⁰ As for God, his way is perfect:
The word of Jehovah is tried;
He is a shield unto all them that take refuge in him.

³¹ For who is God, save Jehovah?
And who is a rock, besides our God,

³² The God that girdeth me with strength,
And maketh my way perfect?

³³ He maketh my feet like hinds' feet:
And setteth me upon my high places.

³⁴ He teacheth my hands to war;
So that mine arms do bend a bow of brass.

³⁵ Thou hast also given me the shield of thy salvation;
And thy right hand hath holden me up,
And thy gentleness hath made me great.

³⁶ Thou hast enlarged my steps under me,
And my feet have not slipped.

³⁷ I will pursue mine enemies, and overtake them;
Neither will I turn again till they are consumed.

³⁸ I will smite them through, so that they shall not be able to rise:
They shall fall under my feet.

³⁹ For thou hast girded me with strength unto the battle:
Thou hast subdued under me those that rose up against me.

⁴⁰ Thou hast also made mine enemies turn their backs unto me,
That I might cut off them that hate me.

⁴¹ They cried, but there was none to save;

Even unto Jehovah, but he answered them not.

⁴² Then did I beat them small as the dust before the wind;
I did cast them out as the mire of the streets.

⁴³ Thou hast delivered me from the strivings of the people;
Thou hast made me the head of the nations:
A people whom I have not known shall serve me.

⁴⁴ As soon as they hear of me they shall obey me;
The foreigners shall submit themselves unto me.

⁴⁵ The foreigners shall fade away,
And shall come trembling out of their close places.

⁴⁶ Jehovah liveth; and blessed be my rock;
And exalted be the God of my salvation,

⁴⁷ Even the God that executeth vengeance for me,
And subdueth peoples under me.

⁴⁸ He rescueth me from mine enemies;
Yea, thou liftest me up above them that rise up against me;
Thou deliverest me from the violent man.

⁴⁹ Therefore I will give thanks unto thee, O Jehovah, among the nations,
And will sing praises unto thy name.

⁵⁰ Great deliverance giveth he to his king,
And sheweth lovingkindness to his anointed,
To David and to his seed, forevermore.

19

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

¹ The heavens declare the glory of God;
And the firmament showeth his handiwork.

² Day unto day uttereth speech,
And night unto night showeth knowledge.

³ There is no speech nor language;
Their voice is not heard.

⁴ Their line is gone out through all the earth,
And their words to the end of the world.

In them hath he set a tabernacle for the sun,
⁵ Which is as a bridegroom coming out of his chamber,
And rejoiceth as a strong man to run his course.

⁶ His going forth is from the end of the heavens,
And his circuit unto the ends of it;
And there is nothing hidden from the heat thereof.

⁷ The law of Jehovah is perfect, restoring the soul:
The testimony of Jehovah is sure, making wise the simple.

⁸ The precepts of Jehovah are right, rejoicing the heart:
The commandment of Jehovah is pure, enlightening the eyes.

⁹ The fear of Jehovah is clean, enduring forever:
The ordinances of Jehovah are true, and righteous altogether.

¹⁰ More to be desired are they than gold, yea, than much fine gold;
Sweeter also than honey and the droppings of the honeycomb.

¹¹ Moreover by them is thy servant warned:
In keeping them there is great reward.

¹² Who can discern his errors?
Clear thou me from hidden faults.

¹³ Keep back thy servant also from presumptuous sins;
Let them not have dominion over me:
Then shall I be upright,
And I shall be clear from great transgression.
¹⁴ Let the words of my mouth and the meditation of my heart
Be acceptable in thy sight,
O Jehovah, my rock, and my redeemer.

20

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

¹ Jehovah answer thee in the day of trouble;
The name of the God of Jacob set thee up on high;
² Send thee help from the sanctuary,
And strengthen thee out of Zion;
³ Remember all thy offerings,
And accept thy burnt sacrifice;

⁴ Grant thee thy heart's desire,
And fulfill all thy counsel.
⁵ We will triumph in thy salvation,
And in the name of our God we will set up our banners:
Jehovah fulfill all thy petitions.
⁶ Now know I that Jehovah saveth his anointed;
He will answer him from his holy heaven
With the saving strength of his right hand.
⁷ Some trust in chariots, and some in horses;
But we will make mention of the name of Jehovah our God.
⁸ They are bowed down and fallen;
But we are risen, and stand upright.
⁹ Save, Jehovah:
Let the King answer us when we call.

21

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

And in thy salvation how greatly shall he rejoice!
² Thou hast given him his heart's desire,
And hast not withholden the request of his lips.

³ For thou meetest him with the blessings of goodness:
Thou settest a crown of fine gold on his head.
⁴ He asked life of thee, thou gavest it him,
Even length of days forever and ever.
⁵ His glory is great in thy salvation:
Honor and majesty dost thou lay upon him.
⁶ For thou makest him most blessed forever:
Thou makest him glad with joy in thy presence.
⁷ For the king trusteth in Jehovah;
And through the lovingkindness of the Most High he shall not be moved.
⁸ Thy hand will find out all thine enemies;
Thy right hand will find out those that hate thee.

Selah

⁹ Thou wilt make them as a fiery furnace in the time of thine anger:
Jehovah will swallow them up in his wrath,
And the fire shall devour them.
¹⁰ Their fruit wilt thou destroy from the earth,
And their seed from among the children of men.
¹¹ For they intended evil against thee;
They conceived a device which they are not able to perform.
¹² For thou wilt make them turn their back;
Thou wilt make ready with thy bowstrings against their face.
¹³ Be thou exalted, O Jehovah, in thy strength:
So will we sing and praise thy power.

22

For the Chief Musician; set to Aijeleth hash-Shahar. A Psalm of David.

¹ My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?
Why art thou so far from helping me, and from the words of my groaning?
² O my God, I cry in the daytime, but thou answerest not;
And in the night season, and am not silent.
³ But thou art holy,
O thou that inhabitest the praises of Israel.
⁴ Our fathers trusted in thee:
They trusted, and thou didst deliver them.
⁵ They cried unto thee, and were delivered:
They trusted in thee, and were not put to shame.
⁶ But I am a worm, and no man;
A reproach of men, and despised of the people.
⁷ All they that see me laugh me to scorn:
They shoot out the lip, they shake the head, saying,
⁸ Commit thyself unto Jehovah; let him deliver him:
Let him rescue him, seeing he delighteth in him.
⁹ But thou art he that took me out of the womb;
Thou didst make me trust when I was upon my mother's breasts.
¹⁰ I was cast upon thee from the womb;
Thou art my God since my mother bare me.
¹¹ Be not far from me; for trouble is near;
For there is none to help.
¹² Many bulls have compassed me;
Strong bulls of Bashan have beset me round.
¹³ They gape upon me with their mouth,
As a ravening and a roaring lion.
¹⁴ I am poured out like water,
And all my bones are out of joint:
My heart is like wax;
It is melted within me.
¹⁵ My strength is dried up like a potsherd;
And my tongue cleaveth to my jaws;
And thou hast brought me into the dust of death.
¹⁶ For dogs have compassed me:
A company of evildoers have enclosed me;
They pierced my hands and my feet.
¹⁷ I may count all my bones.

They look and stare upon me;

¹⁸ They part my garments among them,
And upon my vesture do they cast lots.

¹⁹ But be not thou far off, O Jehovah:
O thou my succor, haste thee to help me.

²⁰ Deliver my soul from the sword,
My darling from the power of the dog.

²¹ Save me from the lion's mouth;
Yea, from the horns of the wild oxen thou hast answered me.

²² I will declare thy name unto my brethren:
In the midst of the assembly will I praise thee.

²³ Ye that fear Jehovah, praise him;
All ye the seed of Jacob, glorify him;
And stand in awe of him, all ye the seed of Israel.

²⁴ For he hath not despised nor abhorred the affliction of the afflicted;
Neither hath he hidden his face from him;
But when he cried unto him, he heard.

²⁵ Of thee cometh my praise in the great assembly:
I will pay my vows before them that fear him.

²⁶ The meek shall eat and be satisfied;
They shall praise Jehovah that seek after him:
Let your heart live forever.

²⁷ All the ends of the earth shall remember and turn unto Jehovah;
And all the kindreds of the nations shall worship before thee.

²⁸ For the kingdom is Jehovah's;
And he is the ruler over the nations.

²⁹ All the fat ones of the earth shall eat and worship:
All they that go down to the dust shall bow before him,
Even he that cannot keep his soul alive.

³⁰ A seed shall serve him;
It shall be told of the Lord unto the next generation.

³¹ They shall come and shall declare his righteousness
Unto a people that shall be born, that he hath done it.

23

A Psalm of David.

¹ Jehovah is my shepherd; I shall not want.

² He maketh me to lie down in green pastures;
He leadeth me beside still waters.

³ He restoreth my soul:
He guideth me in the paths of righteousness for his name's sake.

⁴ Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death,
I will fear no evil; for thou art with me;
Thy rod and thy staff, they comfort me.

⁵ Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies:
Thou hast anointed my head with oil;
My cup runneth over.

⁶ Surely goodness and lovingkindness shall follow me all the days of my life;
And I shall dwell in the house of Jehovah forever.

A Psalm of David.

¹ The earth is Jehovah's, and the fullness thereof;
The world, and they that dwell therein.

² For he hath founded it upon the seas,
And established it upon the floods.

³ Who shall ascend into the hill of Jehovah?
And who shall stand in his holy place?

⁴ He that hath clean hands, and a pure heart;
Who hath not lifted up his soul unto falsehood,
And hath not sworn deceitfully.

⁵ He shall receive a blessing from Jehovah,
And righteousness from the God of his salvation.

⁶ This is the generation of them that seek after him,
That seek thy face, even Jacob.

Selah

⁷ Lift up your heads, O ye gates;
And be ye lifted up, ye everlasting doors:
And the King of glory will come in.

⁸ Who is the King of glory?
Jehovah strong and mighty,
Jehovah mighty in battle.

⁹ Lift up your heads, O ye gates;
Yea, lift them up, ye everlasting doors:
And the King of glory will come in.

¹⁰ Who is this King of glory?
Jehovah of hosts,
He is the King of glory.

Selah

25

A Psalm of David.

¹ Unto thee, O Jehovah, do I lift up my soul.

² O my God, in thee have I trusted,
Let me not be put to shame;
Let not mine enemies triumph over me.

³ Yea, none that wait for thee shall be put to shame:
They shall be put to shame that deal treacherously without cause.

⁴ Show me thy ways, O Jehovah;
Teach me thy paths.

⁵ Guide me in thy truth, and teach me;
For thou art the God of my salvation;
For thee do I wait all the day.

⁶ Remember, O Jehovah, thy tender mercies and thy lovingkindness;
For they have been ever of old.

⁷ Remember not the sins of my youth, nor my transgressions:
According to thy lovingkindness remember thou me,
For thy goodness' sake, O Jehovah.

⁸ Good and upright is Jehovah:
Therefore will he instruct sinners in the way.

⁹ The meek will he guide in justice;
And the meek will he teach his way.
¹⁰ All the paths of Jehovah are lovingkindness and truth
Unto such as keep his covenant and his testimonies.
¹¹ For thy name's sake, O Jehovah,
Pardon mine iniquity, for it is great.
¹² What man is he that feareth Jehovah?
Him shall he instruct in the way that he shall choose.
¹³ His soul shall dwell at ease;
And his seed shall inherit the land.
¹⁴ The friendship of Jehovah is with them that fear him;
And he will show them his covenant.
¹⁵ Mine eyes are ever toward Jehovah;
For he will pluck my feet out of the net.
¹⁶ Turn thee unto me, and have mercy upon me;
For I am desolate and afflicted.
¹⁷ The troubles of my heart are enlarged:
Oh bring thou me out of my distresses.
¹⁸ Consider mine affliction and my travail;
And forgive all my sins.
¹⁹ Consider mine enemies, for they are many;
And they hate me with cruel hatred.
²⁰ Oh keep my soul, and deliver me:
Let me not be put to shame, for I take refuge in thee.
²¹ Let integrity and uprightness preserve me,
For I wait for thee.
²² Redeem Israel, O God,
Out of all his troubles.

26

A Psalm of David.

¹ Judge me, O Jehovah, for I have walked in mine integrity:
I have trusted also in Jehovah without wavering.
² Examine me, O Jehovah, and prove me;
Try my heart and my mind.
³ For thy lovingkindness is before mine eyes;
And I have walked in thy truth.
⁴ I have not sat with men of falsehood;
Neither will I go in with dissemblers.
⁵ I hate the assembly of evildoers,
And will not sit with the wicked.
⁶ I will wash my hands in innocency:
So will I compass thine altar, O Jehovah;
⁷ That I may make the voice of thanksgiving to be heard,
And tell of all thy wondrous works.
⁸ Jehovah, I love the habitation of thy house,
And the place where thy glory dwelleth.
⁹ Gather not my soul with sinners,
Nor my life with men of blood;
¹⁰ In whose hands is wickedness,
And their right hand is full of bribes.
¹¹ But as for me, I will walk in mine integrity:

Redeem me, and be merciful unto me.

¹² My foot standeth in an even place:
In the congregations will I bless Jehovah.

27

A Psalm of David.

¹ Jehovah is my light and my salvation;
Whom shall I fear?

Jehovah is the strength of my life;
Of whom shall I be afraid?

² When evildoers came upon me to eat up my flesh,
Even mine adversaries and my foes, they stumbled and fell.

³ Though a host should encamp against me,
My heart shall not fear:

Though war should rise against me,
Even then will I be confident.

⁴ One thing have I asked of Jehovah, that will I seek after:
That I may dwell in the house of Jehovah all the days of my life,
To behold the beauty of Jehovah,
And to inquire in his temple.

⁵ For in the day of trouble he will keep me secretly in his pavilion:
In the covert of his tabernacle will he hide me;
He will lift me up upon a rock.

⁶ And now shall my head be lifted up above mine enemies round about me;
And I will offer in his tabernacle sacrifices of joy;
I will sing, yea, I will sing praises unto Jehovah.

⁷ Hear, O Jehovah, when I cry with my voice:
Have mercy also upon me, and answer me.

⁸ When thou saidst, Seek ye my face; my heart said unto thee,
Thy face, Jehovah, will I seek.

⁹ Hide not thy face from me;
Put not thy servant away in anger:
Thou hast been my help;
Cast me not off, neither forsake me, O God of my salvation.

¹⁰ When my father and my mother forsake me,
Then Jehovah will take me up.

¹¹ Teach me thy way, O Jehovah;
And lead me in a plain path,
Because of mine enemies.

¹² Deliver me not over unto the will of mine adversaries:
For false witnesses are risen up against me,
And such as breathe out cruelty.

¹³ I had fainted, unless I had believed to see the goodness of Jehovah
In the land of the living.

¹⁴ Wait for Jehovah:
Be strong, and let thy heart take courage;
Yea, wait thou for Jehovah.

28

A Psalm of David.

¹ Unto thee, O Jehovah, will I call:

My rock, be not thou deaf unto me;
Lest, if thou be silent unto me,
I become like them that go down into the pit.
² Hear the voice of my supplications, when I cry unto thee,
When I lift up my hands toward thy holy oracle.
³ Draw me not away with the wicked,
And with the workers of iniquity;
That speak peace with their neighbors,
But mischief is in their hearts.
⁴ Give them according to their work, and according to the wickedness of their doings:
Give them after the operation of their hands;
Render to them their desert.
⁵ Because they regard not the works of Jehovah,
Nor the operation of his hands,
He will break them down and not build them up.

⁶ Blessed be Jehovah,
Because he hath heard the voice of my supplications.
⁷ Jehovah is my strength and my shield;
My heart hath trusted in him, and I am helped:
Therefore my heart greatly rejoiceth;
And with my song will I praise him.
⁸ Jehovah is their strength,
And he is a stronghold of salvation to his anointed.
⁹ Save thy people, and bless thine inheritance:
Be their shepherd also, and bear them up forever.

29

A Psalm of David.

¹ Ascribe unto Jehovah, O ye sons of the mighty,
Ascribe unto Jehovah glory and strength.
² Ascribe unto Jehovah the glory due unto his name;
Worship Jehovah in holy array.

³ The voice of Jehovah is upon the waters:
The God of glory thundereth,
Even Jehovah upon many waters.
⁴ The voice of Jehovah is powerful;
The voice of Jehovah is full of majesty.
⁵ The voice of Jehovah breaketh the cedars;
Yea, Jehovah breaketh in pieces the cedars of Lebanon.
⁶ He maketh them also to skip like a calf;
Lebanon and Sirion like a young wild ox.
⁷ The voice of Jehovah cleaveth the flames of fire.
⁸ The voice of Jehovah shaketh the wilderness;
Jehovah shaketh the wilderness of Kadesh.
⁹ The voice of Jehovah maketh the hinds to calve,
And strippeth the forests bare:
And in his temple everything saith, Glory.

¹⁰ Jehovah sat as King at the Flood;

Yea, Jehovah sitteth as King forever.

¹¹ Jehovah will give strength unto his people;
Jehovah will bless his people with peace.

30

A Psalm; a Song at the Dedication of the House. A Psalm of David.

¹ I will extol thee, O Jehovah; for thou hast raised me up,
And hast not made my foes to rejoice over me.

² O Jehovah my God,
I cried unto thee, and thou hast healed me.

³ O Jehovah, thou hast brought up my soul from Sheol;
Thou hast kept me alive, that I should not go down to the pit.

⁴ Sing praise unto Jehovah, O ye saints of his,
And give thanks to his holy memorial name.

⁵ For his anger is but for a moment;
His favor is for a lifetime:
Weeping may tarry for the night,
But joy cometh in the morning.

⁶ As for me, I said in my prosperity,
I shall never be moved.

⁷ Thou, Jehovah, of thy favor hadst made my mountain to stand strong:
Thou didst hide thy face; I was troubled.

⁸ I cried to thee, O Jehovah;
And unto Jehovah I made supplication:

⁹ What profit is there in my blood, when I go down to the pit?
Shall the dust praise thee? shall it declare thy truth?

¹⁰ Hear, O Jehovah, and have mercy upon me:
Jehovah, be thou my helper.

¹¹ Thou hast turned for me my mourning into dancing;
Thou hast loosed my sackcloth, and girded me with gladness;

¹² To the end that my glory may sing praise to thee, and not be silent.
O Jehovah my God, I will give thanks unto thee forever.

31

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

¹ In thee, O Jehovah, do I take refuge;
Let me never be put to shame:
Deliver me in thy righteousness.

² Bow down thine ear unto me; deliver me speedily:
Be thou to me a strong rock,
A house of defense to save me.

³ For thou art my rock and my fortress;
Therefore for thy name's sake lead me and guide me.

⁴ Pluck me out of the net that they have laid privily for me;
For thou art my stronghold.

⁵ Into thy hand I commend my spirit:
Thou hast redeemed me, O Jehovah, thou God of truth.

⁶ I hate them that regard lying vanities;
But I trust in Jehovah.

⁷ I will be glad and rejoice in thy lovingkindness;
For thou hast seen my affliction:

Thou hast known my soul in adversities;
8 And thou hast not shut me up into the hand of the enemy;
Thou hast set my feet in a large place.
9 Have mercy upon me, O Jehovah, for I am in distress:
Mine eye wasteth away with grief, yea, my soul and my body.
10 For my life is spent with sorrow,
And my years with sighing:
My strength faileth because of mine iniquity,
And my bones are wasted away.
11 Because of all mine adversaries I am become a reproach,
Yea, unto my neighbors exceedingly,
And a fear to mine acquaintance:
They that did see me without fled from me.
12 I am forgotten as a dead man out of mind:
I am like a broken vessel.
13 For I have heard the defaming of many,
Terror on every side:
While they took counsel together against me,
They devised to take away my life.
14 But I trusted in thee, O Jehovah:
I said, Thou art my God.
15 My times are in thy hand:
Deliver me from the hand of mine enemies, and from them that persecute me.
16 Make thy face to shine upon thy servant:
Save me in thy lovingkindness.
17 Let me not be put to shame, O Jehovah; for I have called upon thee:
Let the wicked be put to shame, let them be silent in Sheol.
18 Let the lying lips be dumb,
Which speak against the righteous insolently,
With pride and contempt.
19 Oh how great is thy goodness,
Which thou hast laid up for them that fear thee,
Which thou hast wrought for them that take refuge in thee,
Before the sons of men!
20 In the covert of thy presence wilt thou hide them from the plottings of man:
Thou wilt keep them secretly in a pavilion from the strife of tongues.
21 Blessed be Jehovah;
For he hath shown me his marvelous lovingkindness in a strong city.
22 As for me, I said in my haste,
I am cut off from before thine eyes:
Nevertheless thou heardest the voice of my supplications,
When I cried unto thee.
23 Oh love Jehovah, all ye his saints:
Jehovah preserveth the faithful,
And plentifully rewardeth him that dealeth proudly.
24 Be strong, and let your heart take courage,
All ye that hope in Jehovah.

32

A Psalm of David. Maskil.

1 Blessed is he whose transgression is forgiven,

Whose sin is covered.

² Blessed is the man unto whom Jehovah imputeth not iniquity,
And in whose spirit there is no guile.

³ When I kept silence, my bones wasted away
Through my groaning all the day long.

⁴ For day and night thy hand was heavy upon me:
My moisture was changed as with the drought of summer.

Selah

⁵ I acknowledged my sin unto thee,
And mine iniquity did I not hide:
I said, I will confess my transgressions unto Jehovah;
And thou forgavest the iniquity of my sin.

Selah

⁶ For this let everyone that is godly pray unto thee in a time when thou mayest be found:

Surely when the great waters overflow they shall not reach unto him.

⁷ Thou art my hiding place; thou wilt preserve me from trouble;
Thou wilt compass me about with songs of deliverance.

Selah

⁸ I will instruct thee and teach thee in the way which thou shalt go:
I will counsel thee with mine eye upon thee.

⁹ Be ye not as the horse, or as the mule, which have no understanding;
Whose trappings must be bit and bridle to hold them in,
Else they will not come near unto thee.

¹⁰ Many sorrows shall be to the wicked;
But he that trusteth in Jehovah, lovingkindness shall compass him about.

¹¹ Be glad in Jehovah, and rejoice, ye righteous;
And shout for joy, all ye that are upright in heart.

¹ Rejoice in Jehovah, O ye righteous:
Praise is comely for the upright.

² Give thanks unto Jehovah with the harp:
Sing praises unto him with the psaltery of ten strings.

³ Sing unto him a new song;
Play skillfully with a loud noise.

⁴ For the word of Jehovah is right;
And all his work is done in faithfulness.

⁵ He loveth righteousness and justice:
The earth is full of the lovingkindness of Jehovah.

⁶ By the word of Jehovah were the heavens made,
And all the host of them by the breath of his mouth.

⁷ He gathereth the waters of the sea together as a heap:
He layeth up the deeps in storehouses.

⁸ Let all the earth fear Jehovah:
Let all the inhabitants of the world stand in awe of him.

⁹ For he spake, and it was done;
He commanded, and it stood fast.

¹⁰ Jehovah bringeth the counsel of the nations to nought;
He maketh the thoughts of the peoples to be of no effect.

¹¹ The counsel of Jehovah standeth fast forever,

The thoughts of his heart to all generations.
¹² Blessed is the nation whose God is Jehovah,
The people whom he hath chosen for his own inheritance.
¹³ Jehovah looketh from heaven;
He beholdeth all the sons of men;
¹⁴ From the place of his habitation he looketh forth
Upon all the inhabitants of the earth,
¹⁵ He that fashioneth the hearts of them all,
That considereth all their works.
¹⁶ There is no king saved by the multitude of a host:
A mighty man is not delivered by great strength.
¹⁷ A horse is a vain thing for safety;
Neither doth he deliver any by his great power.
¹⁸ Behold, the eye of Jehovah is upon them that fear him,
Upon them that hope in his lovingkindness;
¹⁹ To deliver their soul from death,
And to keep them alive in famine.
²⁰ Our soul hath waited for Jehovah:
He is our help and our shield.
²¹ For our heart shall rejoice in him,
Because we have trusted in his holy name.
²² Let thy lovingkindness, O Jehovah, be upon us,
According as we have hoped in thee.

34

A Psalm of David; when he changed his behavior before Abimelech, who drove him away, and he departed.

¹ I will bless Jehovah at all times:
His praise shall continually be in my mouth.
² My soul shall make her boast in Jehovah:
The meek shall hear thereof, and be glad.
³ Oh magnify Jehovah with me,
And let us exalt his name together.
⁴ I sought Jehovah, and he answered me,
And delivered me from all my fears.
⁵ They looked unto him, and were radiant;
And their faces shall never be confounded.
⁶ This poor man cried, and Jehovah heard him,
And saved him out of all his troubles.
⁷ The angel of Jehovah encampeth round about them that fear him,
And delivereth them.
⁸ Oh taste and see that Jehovah is good:
Blessed is the man that taketh refuge in him.
⁹ Oh fear Jehovah, ye his saints;
For there is no want to them that fear him.
¹⁰ The young lions do lack, and suffer hunger;
But they that seek Jehovah shall not want any good thing.
¹¹ Come, ye children, hearken unto me:
I will teach you the fear of Jehovah.
¹² What man is he that desireth life,
And loveth many days, that he may see good?

13 Keep thy tongue from evil,
And thy lips from speaking guile.
14 Depart from evil, and do good;
Seek peace, and pursue it.
15 The eyes of Jehovah are toward the righteous,
And his ears are open unto their cry.
16 The face of Jehovah is against them that do evil,
To cut off the remembrance of them from the earth.
17 The righteous cried, and Jehovah heard,
And delivered them out of all their troubles.
18 Jehovah is nigh unto them that are of a broken heart,
And saveth such as are of a contrite spirit.
19 Many are the afflictions of the righteous;
But Jehovah delivereth him out of them all.
20 He keepeth all his bones:
Not one of them is broken.
21 Evil shall slay the wicked;
And they that hate the righteous shall be condemned.
22 Jehovah redeemeth the soul of his servants;
And none of them that take refuge in him shall be condemned.

35

A Psalm of David.

1 Strive thou, O Jehovah, with them that strive with me:
Fight thou against them that fight against me.
2 Take hold of shield and buckler,
And stand up for my help.
3 Draw out also the spear, and stop the way against them that pursue me:
Say unto my soul, I am thy salvation.
4 Let them be put to shame and brought to dishonor that seek after my soul:
Let them be turned back and confounded that devise my hurt.
5 Let them be as chaff before the wind,
And the angel of Jehovah driving them on.
6 Let their way be dark and slippery,
And the angel of Jehovah pursuing them.
7 For without cause have they hidden for me their net in a pit;
Without cause have they dug a pit for my soul.
8 Let destruction come upon him unawares;
And let his net that he hath hidden catch himself:
With destruction let him fall therein.
9 And my soul shall be joyful in Jehovah:
It shall rejoice in his salvation.
10 All my bones shall say, Jehovah, who is like unto thee,
Who deliverest the poor from him that is too strong for him,
Yea, the poor and the needy from him that robbeth him?
11 Unrighteous witnesses rise up;
They ask me of things that I know not.
12 They reward me evil for good,
To the bereaving of my soul.
13 But as for me, when they were sick, my clothing was sackcloth:
I afflicted my soul with fasting;

And my prayer returned into mine own bosom.

¹⁴ I behaved myself as though it had been my friend or my brother:

I bowed down mourning, as one that bewaileth his mother.

¹⁵ But in mine adversity they rejoiced, and gathered themselves together:

The abjects gathered themselves together against me, and I knew it not;

They did tear me, and ceased not:

¹⁶ Like the profane mockers in feasts,

They gnashed upon me with their teeth.

¹⁷ Lord, how long wilt thou look on?

Rescue my soul from their destructions,

My darling from the lions.

¹⁸ I will give thee thanks in the great assembly:

I will praise thee among much people.

¹⁹ Let not them that are mine enemies wrongfully rejoice over me;

Neither let them wink with the eye that hate me without a cause.

²⁰ For they speak not peace;

But they devise deceitful words against them that are quiet in the land.

²¹ Yea, they opened their mouth wide against me;

They said, Aha, aha, our eye hath seen it.

²² Thou hast seen it, O Jehovah; keep not silence:

O Lord, be not far from me.

²³ Stir up thyself, and awake to the justice due unto me,

Even unto my cause, my God and my Lord.

²⁴ Judge me, O Jehovah my God, according to thy righteousness;

And let them not rejoice over me.

²⁵ Let them not say in their heart, Aha, so would we have it:

Let them not say, We have swallowed him up.

²⁶ Let them be put to shame and confounded together that rejoice at my hurt:

Let them be clothed with shame and dishonor that magnify themselves against me.

²⁷ Let them shout for joy, and be glad, that favor my righteous cause:

Yea, let them say continually, Jehovah be magnified,

Who hath pleasure in the prosperity of his servant.

²⁸ And my tongue shall talk of thy righteousness

And of thy praise all the day long.

36

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David the servant of Jehovah.

¹ The transgression of the wicked saith within my heart,

There is no fear of God before his eyes.

² For he flattereth himself in his own eyes,

That his iniquity will not be found out and be hated.

³ The words of his mouth are iniquity and deceit:

He hath ceased to be wise and to do good.

⁴ He deviseth iniquity upon his bed;

He setteth himself in a way that is not good;

He abhorreth not evil.

⁵ Thy lovingkindness, O Jehovah, is in the heavens;

Thy faithfulness reacheth unto the skies.

⁶ Thy righteousness is like the mountains of God;

Thy judgments are a great deep:
O Jehovah, thou preservest man and beast.
7 How precious is thy lovingkindness, O God!
And the children of men take refuge under the shadow of thy wings.
8 They shall be abundantly satisfied with the fatness of thy house;
And thou wilt make them drink of the river of thy pleasures.
9 For with thee is the fountain of life:
In thy light shall we see light.
10 Oh continue thy lovingkindness unto them that know thee,
And thy righteousness to the upright in heart.
11 Let not the foot of pride come against me,
And let not the hand of the wicked drive me away.
12 There are the workers of iniquity fallen:
They are thrust down, and shall not be able to rise.

37

A Psalm of David.

1 Fret not thyself because of evildoers,
Neither be thou envious against them that work unrighteousness.
2 For they shall soon be cut down like the grass,
And wither as the green herb.
3 Trust in Jehovah, and do good;
Dwell in the land, and feed on his faithfulness.
4 Delight thyself also in Jehovah;
And he will give thee the desires of thy heart.
5 Commit thy way unto Jehovah;
Trust also in him, and he will bring it to pass.
6 And he will make thy righteousness to go forth as the light,
And thy justice as the noonday.
7 Rest in Jehovah, and wait patiently for him:
Fret not thyself because of him who prospereth in his way,
Because of the man who bringeth wicked devices to pass.
8 Cease from anger, and forsake wrath:
Fret not thyself, it tendeth only to evildoing.
9 For evildoers shall be cut off;
But those that wait for Jehovah, they shall inherit the land.
10 For yet a little while, and the wicked shall not be:
Yea, thou shalt diligently consider his place, and he shall not be.
11 But the meek shall inherit the land,
And shall delight themselves in the abundance of peace.
12 The wicked plotteth against the just,
And gnasheth upon him with his teeth.
13 The Lord will laugh at him;
For he seeth that his day is coming.
14 The wicked have drawn out the sword, and have bent their bow,
To cast down the poor and needy,
To slay such as are upright in the way.
15 Their sword shall enter into their own heart,
And their bows shall be broken.
16 Better is a little that the righteous hath
Than the abundance of many wicked.

17 For the arms of the wicked shall be broken;
But Jehovah upholdeth the righteous.
18 Jehovah knoweth the days of the perfect;
And their inheritance shall be forever.
19 They shall not be put to shame in the time of evil;
And in the days of famine they shall be satisfied.
20 But the wicked shall perish,
And the enemies of Jehovah shall be as the fat of lambs:
They shall consume; in smoke shall they consume away.
21 The wicked borroweth, and payeth not again;
But the righteous dealeth graciously, and giveth.
22 For such as are blessed of him shall inherit the land;
And they that are cursed of him shall be cut off.
23 A man's goings are established of Jehovah;
And he delighteth in his way.
24 Though he fall, he shall not be utterly cast down;
For Jehovah upholdeth him with his hand.
25 I have been young, and now am old;
Yet have I not seen the righteous forsaken,
Nor his seed begging bread.
26 All the day long he dealeth graciously, and lendeth;
And his seed is blessed.
27 Depart from evil, and do good;
And dwell forevermore.
28 For Jehovah loveth justice,
And forsaketh not his saints;
They are preserved forever:
But the seed of the wicked shall be cut off.
29 The righteous shall inherit the land,
And dwell therein forever.
30 The mouth of the righteous talketh of wisdom,
And his tongue speaketh justice.
31 The law of his God is in his heart;
None of his steps shall slide.
32 The wicked watcheth the righteous,
And seeketh to slay him.
33 Jehovah will not leave him in his hand,
Nor condemn him when he is judged.
34 Wait for Jehovah, and keep his way,
And he will exalt thee to inherit the land:
When the wicked are cut off, thou shalt see it.
35 I have seen the wicked in great power,
And spreading himself like a green tree in its native soil.
36 But one passed by, and, lo, he was not:
Yea, I sought him, but he could not be found.
37 Mark the perfect man, and behold the upright;
For there is a happy end to the man of peace.
38 As for transgressors, they shall be destroyed together:
The end of the wicked shall be cut off.
39 But the salvation of the righteous is of Jehovah:
He is their stronghold in the time of trouble.

⁴⁰ And Jehovah helpeth them, and rescueth them:
He rescueth them from the wicked, and saveth them,
Because they have taken refuge in him.

38

A Psalm of David, to bring to remembrance.

¹ O Jehovah, rebuke me not in thy wrath;
Neither chasten me in thy hot displeasure.
² For thine arrows stick fast in me,
And thy hand presseth me sore.
³ There is no soundness in my flesh because of thine indignation;
Neither is there any health in my bones because of my sin.
⁴ For mine iniquities are gone over my head:
As a heavy burden they are too heavy for me.
⁵ My wounds are loathsome and corrupt,
Because of my foolishness.
⁶ I am pained and bowed down greatly;
I go mourning all the day long.
⁷ For my loins are filled with burning;
And there is no soundness in my flesh.
⁸ I am faint and sore bruised:
I have groaned by reason of the disquietness of my heart.
⁹ Lord, all my desire is before thee;
And my groaning is not hidden from thee.
¹⁰ My heart throbber, my strength faileth me:
As for the light of mine eyes, it also is gone from me.
¹¹ My lovers and my friends stand aloof from my plague;
And my kinsmen stand afar off.
¹² They also that seek after my life lay snares for me;
And they that seek my hurt speak mischievous things,
And meditate deceits all the day long.
¹³ But I, as a deaf man, hear not;
And I am as a dumb man that openeth not his mouth.
¹⁴ Yea, I am as a man that heareth not,
And in whose mouth are no reproofs.
¹⁵ For in thee, O Jehovah, do I hope:
Thou wilt answer, O Lord my God.
¹⁶ For I said, Lest they rejoice over me:
When my foot slippeth, they magnify themselves against me.
¹⁷ For I am ready to fall,
And my sorrow is continually before me.
¹⁸ For I will declare mine iniquity;
I will be sorry for my sin.
¹⁹ But mine enemies are lively, and are strong;
And they that hate me wrongfully are multiplied.
²⁰ They also that render evil for good
Are adversaries unto me, because I follow the thing that is good.
²¹ Forsake me not, O Jehovah:
O my God, be not far from me.
²² Make haste to help me,

O Lord, my salvation.

39

For the Chief Musician, for Jeduthun. A Psalm of David.

¹ I said, I will take heed to my ways,
That I sin not with my tongue:
I will keep my mouth with a bridle,
While the wicked is before me.
² I was dumb with silence, I held my peace, even from good;
And my sorrow was stirred.
³ My heart was hot within me;
While I was musing the fire burned;
Then spake I with my tongue:
⁴ Jehovah, make me to know mine end,
And the measure of my days, what it is;
Let me know how frail I am.
⁵ Behold, thou hast made my days as handbreadths;
And my lifetime is as nothing before thee:
Surely every man at his best estate is altogether vanity.

Selah

⁶ Surely every man walketh in a vain show;
Surely they are disquieted in vain:
He heapeth up riches, and knoweth not who shall gather them.
⁷ And now, Lord, what wait I for?
My hope is in thee.
⁸ Deliver me from all my transgressions:
Make me not the reproach of the foolish.
⁹ I was dumb, I opened not my mouth;
Because thou didst it.
¹⁰ Remove thy stroke away from me:
I am consumed by the blow of thy hand.
¹¹ When thou with rebukes dost correct man for iniquity,
Thou makest his beauty to consume away like a moth:
Surely every man is vanity.

Selah

¹² Hear my prayer, O Jehovah, and give ear unto my cry;
Hold not thy peace at my tears:
For I am a stranger with thee,
A sojourner, as all my fathers were.
¹³ Oh spare me, that I may recover strength,
Before I go hence, and be no more.

40

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

And he inclined unto me, and heard my cry.
² He brought me up also out of a horrible pit, out of the miry clay;
And he set my feet upon a rock, and established my goings.
³ And he hath put a new song in my mouth, even praise unto our God:
Many shall see it, and fear,
And shall trust in Jehovah.

⁴ Blessed is the man that maketh Jehovah his trust,
And respecteth not the proud, nor such as turn aside to lies.
⁵ Many, O Jehovah my God, are the wonderful works which thou hast done,
And thy thoughts which are to us-ward:
They cannot be set in order unto thee;
If I would declare and speak of them,
They are more than can be numbered.
⁶ Sacrifice and offering thou hast no delight in;
Mine ears hast thou opened:
Burnt offering and sin offering hast thou not required.
⁷ Then said I, Lo, I am come;
In the roll of the book it is written of me:
⁸ I delight to do thy will, O my God;
Yea, thy law is within my heart.
⁹ I have proclaimed glad tidings of righteousness in the great assembly;
Lo, I will not refrain my lips,
O Jehovah, thou knowest.
¹⁰ I have not hidden thy righteousness within my heart;
I have declared thy faithfulness and thy salvation;
I have not concealed thy lovingkindness and thy truth from the great assembly.
¹¹ Withhold not thou thy tender mercies from me, O Jehovah;
Let thy lovingkindness and thy truth continually preserve me.
¹² For innumerable evils have compassed me about;
Mine iniquities have overtaken me, so that I am not able to look up;
They are more than the hairs of my head;
And my heart hath failed me.
¹³ Be pleased, O Jehovah, to deliver me:
Make haste to help me, O Jehovah.
¹⁴ Let them be put to shame and confounded together
That seek after my soul to destroy it:
Let them be turned backward and brought to dishonor
That delight in my hurt.
¹⁵ Let them be desolate by reason of their shame
That say unto me, Aha, aha.
¹⁶ Let all those that seek thee rejoice and be glad in thee:
Let such as love thy salvation say continually,
Jehovah be magnified.
¹⁷ But I am poor and needy;
Yet the Lord thinketh upon me:
Thou art my help and my deliverer;
Make no tarrying, O my God.

41

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

¹ Blessed is he that considereth the poor:
Jehovah will deliver him in the day of evil.
² Jehovah will preserve him, and keep him alive,
And he shall be blessed upon the earth;
And deliver not thou him unto the will of his enemies.
³ Jehovah will support him upon the couch of languishing:
Thou makest all his bed in his sickness.

⁴ I said, O Jehovah, have mercy upon me:
Heal my soul; for I have sinned against thee.
⁵ Mine enemies speak evil against me, saying,
When will he die, and his name perish?
⁶ And if he come to see me, he speaketh falsehood;
His heart gathereth iniquity to itself:
When he goeth abroad, he telleth it.
⁷ All that hate me whisper together against me;
Against me do they devise my hurt.
⁸ An evil disease, say they, cleaveth fast unto him;
And now that he lieth he shall rise up no more.
⁹ Yea, mine own familiar friend, in whom I trusted,
Who did eat of my bread,
Hath lifted up his heel against me.
¹⁰ But thou, O Jehovah, have mercy upon me, and raise me up,
That I may requite them.
¹¹ By this I know that thou delightest in me,
Because mine enemy doth not triumph over me.
¹² And as for me, thou upholdest me in mine integrity,
And settest me before thy face forever.

¹³ Blessed be Jehovah, the God of Israel,
From everlasting and to everlasting.
Amen, and Amen.

BOOK II

42

For the Chief Musician. Maskil of the sons of Korah.

¹ As the hart panteth after the water brooks,
So panteth my soul after thee, O God.
² My soul thirsteth for God, for the living God:
When shall I come and appear before God?
³ My tears have been my food day and night,
While they continually say unto me, Where is thy God?
⁴ These things I remember, and pour out my soul within me,
How I went with the throng, and led them to the house of God,
With the voice of joy and praise, a multitude keeping holy day.
⁵ Why art thou cast down, O my soul?
And why art thou disquieted within me?
Hope thou in God; for I shall yet praise him
For the help of his countenance.

⁶ O my God, my soul is cast down within me:
Therefore do I remember thee from the land of the Jordan,
And the Hermons, from the hill Mizar.
⁷ Deep calleth unto deep at the noise of thy waterfalls:
All thy waves and thy billows are gone over me.
⁸ Yet Jehovah will command his lovingkindness in the daytime;
And in the night his song shall be with me,
Even a prayer unto the God of my life.
⁹ I will say unto God my rock, Why hast thou forgotten me?

Why go I mourning because of the oppression of the enemy?

¹⁰ As with a sword in my bones, mine adversaries reproach me,
While they continually say unto me, Where is thy God?

¹¹ Why art thou cast down, O my soul?

And why art thou disquieted within me?

Hope thou in God; for I shall yet praise him,

Who is the help of my countenance, and my God.

43

¹ Judge me, O God, and plead my cause against an ungodly nation:
Oh deliver me from the deceitful and unjust man.

² For thou art the God of my strength; why hast thou cast me off?
Why go I mourning because of the oppression of the enemy?

³ Oh send out thy light and thy truth; let them lead me:

Let them bring me unto thy holy hill,

And to thy tabernacles.

⁴ Then will I go unto the altar of God,

Unto God my exceeding joy;

And upon the harp will I praise thee, O God, my God.

⁵ Why art thou cast down, O my soul?

And why art thou disquieted within me?

Hope thou in God; for I shall yet praise him,

Who is the help of my countenance, and my God.

44

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of the sons of Korah. Maskil.

¹ We have heard with our ears, O God,

Our fathers have told us,

What work thou didst in their days,

In the days of old.

² Thou didst drive out the nations with thy hand;

But them thou didst plant:

Thou didst afflict the peoples;

But them thou didst spread abroad.

³ For they gat not the land in possession by their own sword,

Neither did their own arm save them;

But thy right hand, and thine arm, and the light of thy countenance,

Because thou wast favorable unto them.

⁴ Thou art my King, O God:

Command deliverance for Jacob.

⁵ Through thee will we push down our adversaries:

Through thy name will we tread them under that rise up against us.

⁶ For I will not trust in my bow,

Neither shall my sword save me.

⁷ But thou hast saved us from our adversaries,

And hast put them to shame that hate us.

⁸ In God have we made our boast all the day long,

And we will give thanks unto thy name forever.

Selah

⁹ But now thou hast cast us off, and brought us to dishonor,

And goest not forth with our hosts.

¹⁰ Thou makest us to turn back from the adversary;
And they that hate us take spoil for themselves.

¹¹ Thou hast made us like sheep appointed for food,
And hast scattered us among the nations.

¹² Thou sellest thy people for nought,
And hast not increased thy wealth by their price.

¹³ Thou makest us a reproach to our neighbors,
A scoffing and a derision to them that are round about us.

¹⁴ Thou makest us a byword among the nations,
A shaking of the head among the peoples.

¹⁵ All the day long is my dishonor before me,
And the shame of my face hath covered me,

¹⁶ For the voice of him that reproacheth and blasphemeth,
By reason of the enemy and the avenger.

¹⁷ All this is come upon us; yet have we not forgotten thee,
Neither have we dealt falsely in thy covenant.

¹⁸ Our heart is not turned back,
Neither have our steps declined from thy way,

¹⁹ That thou hast sore broken us in the place of jackals,
And covered us with the shadow of death.

²⁰ If we have forgotten the name of our God,
Or spread forth our hands to a strange god;

²¹ Will not God search this out?
For he knoweth the secrets of the heart.

²² Yea, for thy sake are we killed all the day long;
We are accounted as sheep for the slaughter.

²³ Awake, why sleepest thou, O Lord?
Arise, cast us not off forever.

²⁴ Wherefore hidest thou thy face,
And forgettest our affliction and our oppression?

²⁵ For our soul is bowed down to the dust:
Our body cleaveth unto the earth.

²⁶ Rise up for our help,
And redeem us for thy lovingkindness' sake.

45

For the Chief Musician; set to Shoshannim. A Psalm of the sons of Korah. Maskil. A Song of loves.

I speak the things which I have made touching the king:
My tongue is the pen of a ready writer.

² Thou art fairer than the children of men;
Grace is poured into thy lips:
Therefore God hath blessed thee forever.

³ Gird thy sword upon thy thigh, O mighty one,
Thy glory and thy majesty.

⁴ And in thy majesty ride on prosperously,
Because of truth and meekness and righteousness:
And thy right hand shall teach thee terrible things.

⁵ Thine arrows are sharp;

The peoples fall under thee;
They are in the heart of the king's enemies.
⁶ Thy throne, O God, is forever and ever:
 A scepter of equity is the scepter of thy kingdom.
⁷ Thou hast loved righteousness, and hated wickedness:
 Therefore God, thy God, hath anointed thee
 With the oil of gladness above thy fellows.
⁸ All thy garments smell of myrrh, and aloes, and cassia;
 Out of ivory palaces stringed instruments have made thee glad.
⁹ Kings' daughters are among thy honorable women:
 At thy right hand doth stand the queen in gold of Ophir.
¹⁰ Hearken, O daughter, and consider, and incline thine ear;
 Forget also thine own people, and thy father's house:
¹¹ So will the king desire thy beauty;
 For he is thy lord; and reverence thou him.
¹² And the daughter of Tyre shall be there with a gift;
 The rich among the people shall entreat thy favor.
¹³ The king's daughter within the palace is all glorious:
 Her clothing is inwrought with gold.
¹⁴ She shall be led unto the king in brodered work:
 The virgins her companions that follow her
 Shall be brought unto thee.
¹⁵ With gladness and rejoicing shall they be led:
 They shall enter into the king's palace.
¹⁶ Instead of thy fathers shall be thy children,
 Whom thou shalt make princes in all the earth.
¹⁷ I will make thy name to be remembered in all generations:
 Therefore shall the peoples give thee thanks forever and ever.

46

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of the sons of Korah; set to Alamo. A Song.

¹ God is our refuge and strength,
 A very present help in trouble.
² Therefore will we not fear, though the earth do change,
 And though the mountains be shaken into the heart of the seas;
³ Though the waters thereof roar and be troubled,
 Though the mountains tremble with the swelling thereof.

Selah

⁴ There is a river, the streams whereof make glad the city of God,
 The holy place of the tabernacles of the Most High.
⁵ God is in the midst of her; she shall not be moved:
 God will help her, and that right early.
⁶ The nations raged, the kingdoms were moved:
 He uttered his voice, the earth melted.
⁷ Jehovah of hosts is with us;
 The God of Jacob is our refuge.

Selah

⁸ Come, behold the works of Jehovah,
 What desolations he hath made in the earth.

⁹ He maketh wars to cease unto the end of the earth;
He breaketh the bow, and cutteth the spear in sunder;
He burneth the chariots in the fire.
¹⁰ Be still, and know that I am God:
I will be exalted among the nations, I will be exalted in the earth.
¹¹ Jehovah of hosts is with us;
The God of Jacob is our refuge.

Selah

47

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of the sons of Korah.

¹ Oh clap your hands, all ye peoples;
Shout unto God with the voice of triumph.
² For Jehovah Most High is terrible;
He is a great King over all the earth.
³ He subdueth peoples under us,
And nations under our feet.
⁴ He chooseth our inheritance for us,
The glory of Jacob whom he loved.

Selah

⁵ God is gone up with a shout,
Jehovah with the sound of a trumpet.
⁶ Sing praises to God, sing praises:
Sing praises unto our King, sing praises.
⁷ For God is the King of all the earth:
Sing ye praises with understanding.
⁸ God reigneth over the nations:
God sitteth upon his holy throne.
⁹ The princes of the peoples are gathered together
To be the people of the God of Abraham;
For the shields of the earth belong unto God:
He is greatly exalted.

48

A Song; a Psalm of the sons of Korah.

¹ Great is Jehovah, and greatly to be praised,
In the city of our God, in his holy mountain.
² Beautiful in elevation, the joy of the whole earth,
Is mount Zion, on the sides of the north,
The city of the great King.
³ God hath made himself known in her palaces for a refuge.
⁴ For, lo, the kings assembled themselves,
They passed by together.
⁵ They saw it, then were they amazed;
They were dismayed, they hasted away.
⁶ Trembling took hold of them there,
Pain, as of a woman in travail.
⁷ With the east wind
Thou breakest the ships of Tarshish.
⁸ As we have heard, so have we seen
In the city of Jehovah of hosts, in the city of our God:
God will establish it forever.

Selah

⁹ We have thought on thy lovingkindness, O God,
In the midst of thy temple.

¹⁰ As is thy name, O God,
So is thy praise unto the ends of the earth:
Thy right hand is full of righteousness.

¹¹ Let mount Zion be glad,
Let the daughters of Judah rejoice,
Because of thy judgments.

¹² Walk about Zion, and go round about her;
Number the towers thereof;

¹³ Mark ye well her bulwarks;
Consider her palaces:
That ye may tell it to the generation following.

¹⁴ For this God is our God forever and ever:
He will be our guide even unto death.

49

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of the sons of Korah.

Give ear, all ye inhabitants of the world,
² Both low and high,
Rich and poor together.
³ My mouth shall speak wisdom;
And the meditation of my heart shall be of understanding.

⁴ I will incline mine ear to a parable:
I will open my dark saying upon the harp.
⁵ Wherefore should I fear in the days of evil,
When iniquity at my heels compasseth me about?

⁶ They that trust in their wealth,
And boast themselves in the multitude of their riches;
⁷ None of them can by any means redeem his brother,
Nor give to God a ransom for him

⁸ (For the redemption of their life is costly,
And it faileth forever),

⁹ That he should still live always,
That he should not see corruption.

¹⁰ For he shall see it. Wise men die;
The fool and the brutish alike perish,
And leave their wealth to others.

¹¹ Their inward thought is, that their houses shall continue forever,
And their dwelling places to all generations;
They call their lands after their own names.

¹² But man being in honor abideth not:
He is like the beasts that perish.

¹³ This their way is their folly:
Yet after them men approve their sayings.

¹⁴ They are appointed as a flock for Sheol;
Death shall be their shepherd:

Selah

And the upright shall have dominion over them in the morning;
 And their beauty shall be for Sheol to consume,
 That there be no habitation for it.

¹⁵ But God will redeem my soul from the power of Sheol;
 For he will receive me.

Selah

¹⁶ Be not thou afraid when one is made rich,
 When the glory of his house is increased:

¹⁷ For when he dieth he shall carry nothing away;
 His glory shall not descend after him.

¹⁸ Though while he lived he blessed his soul
 (And men praise thee, when thou doest well to thyself),

¹⁹ He shall go to the generation of his fathers;
 They shall never see the light.

²⁰ Man that is in honor, and understandeth not,
 Is like the beasts that perish.

50

A Psalm of Asaph.

¹ The Mighty One, God, Jehovah, hath spoken,
 And called the earth from the rising of the sun unto the going down thereof.

² Out of Zion, the perfection of beauty,
 God hath shined forth.

³ Our God cometh, and doth not keep silence:
 A fire devoureth before him,
 And it is very tempestuous round about him.

⁴ He calleth to the heavens above,
 And to the earth, that he may judge his people:

⁵ Gather my saints together unto me,
 Those that have made a covenant with me by sacrifice.

⁶ And the heavens shall declare his righteousness;
 For God is judge himself.

Selah

⁷ Hear, O my people, and I will speak;
 O Israel, and I will testify unto thee:
 I am God, even thy God.

⁸ I will not reprove thee for thy sacrifices;
 And thy burnt offerings are continually before me.

⁹ I will take no bullock out of thy house,
 Nor he-goats out of thy folds.

¹⁰ For every beast of the forest is mine,
 And the cattle upon a thousand hills.

¹¹ I know all the birds of the mountains;
 And the wild beasts of the field are mine.

¹² If I were hungry, I would not tell thee;
 For the world is mine, and the fullness thereof.

¹³ Will I eat the flesh of bulls,
 Or drink the blood of goats?

¹⁴ Offer unto God the sacrifice of thanksgiving;
 And pay thy vows unto the Most High;

¹⁵ And call upon me in the day of trouble:
 I will deliver thee, and thou shalt glorify me.

¹⁶ But unto the wicked God saith,
What hast thou to do to declare my statutes,
And that thou hast taken my covenant in thy mouth,
¹⁷ Seeing that thou hatest instruction,
And castest my words behind thee?
¹⁸ When thou sawest a thief, thou consentedst with him,
And hast been partaker with adulterers.
¹⁹ Thou givest thy mouth to evil,
And thy tongue frameth deceit.
²⁰ Thou sittest and speakest against thy brother;
Thou slanderest thine own mother's son.
²¹ These things hast thou done, and I kept silence;
Thou thoughtest that I was altogether such a one as thyself:
But I will reprove thee, and set them in order before thine eyes.

²² Now consider this, ye that forget God,
Lest I tear you in pieces, and there be none to deliver:
²³ Whoso offereth the sacrifice of thanksgiving glorifieth me;
And to him that ordereth his way aright
Will I show the salvation of God.

51

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David; when Nathan the prophet came unto him, after he had gone in to Bath-sheba.

¹ Have mercy upon me, O God, according to thy lovingkindness:
According to the multitude of thy tender mercies blot out my transgressions.
² Wash me thoroughly from mine iniquity,
And cleanse me from my sin.
³ For I know my transgressions;
And my sin is ever before me.
⁴ Against thee, thee only, have I sinned,
And done that which is evil in thy sight;
That thou mayest be justified when thou speakest,
And be clear when thou judgest.
⁵ Behold, I was brought forth in iniquity;
And in sin did my mother conceive me.
⁶ Behold, thou desirest truth in the inward parts;
And in the hidden part thou wilt make me to know wisdom.
⁷ Purify me with hyssop, and I shall be clean:
Wash me, and I shall be whiter than snow.
⁸ Make me to hear joy and gladness,
That the bones which thou hast broken may rejoice.
⁹ Hide thy face from my sins,
And blot out all mine iniquities.
¹⁰ Create in me a clean heart, O God;
And renew a right spirit within me.
¹¹ Cast me not away from thy presence;
And take not thy holy Spirit from me.
¹² Restore unto me the joy of thy salvation;
And uphold me with a willing spirit.
¹³ Then will I teach transgressors thy ways;

And sinners shall be converted unto thee.

¹⁴ Deliver me from bloodguiltiness, O God, thou God of my salvation;
And my tongue shall sing aloud of thy righteousness.

¹⁵ O Lord, open thou my lips;
And my mouth shall show forth thy praise.

¹⁶ For thou delightest not in sacrifice; else would I give it:
Thou hast no pleasure in burnt offering.

¹⁷ The sacrifices of God are a broken spirit:
A broken and a contrite heart, O God, thou wilt not despise.

¹⁸ Do good in thy good pleasure unto Zion:
Build thou the walls of Jerusalem.

¹⁹ Then wilt thou delight in the sacrifices of righteousness,
In burnt offering and whole burnt offering:
Then will they offer bullocks upon thine altar.

52

For the Chief Musician. Maskil of David; when Doeg the Edomite came and told Saul, and said unto him, David is come to the house of Ahimelech.

The lovingkindness of God endureth continually.

² Thy tongue deviseth very wickedness,
Like a sharp razor, working deceitfully.

³ Thou lovest evil more than good,
And lying rather than to speak righteousness.

Selah

⁴ Thou lovest all devouring words,
O thou deceitful tongue.

⁵ God will likewise destroy thee forever;
He will take thee up, and pluck thee out of thy tent,
And root thee out of the land of the living.

Selah

⁶ The righteous also shall see it, and fear,
And shall laugh at him, saying,

⁷ Lo, this is the man that made not God his strength,
But trusted in the abundance of his riches,
And strengthened himself in his wickedness.

⁸ But as for me, I am like a green olive tree in the house of God:
I trust in the lovingkindness of God forever and ever.

⁹ I will give thee thanks forever, because thou hast done it;
And I will hope in thy name, for it is good, in the presence of thy saints.

53

For the Chief Musician; set to Mahalath. Maskil of David.

¹ The fool hath said in his heart, There is no God.
Corrupt are they, and have done abominable iniquity;
There is none that doeth good.

² God looked down from heaven upon the children of men,
To see if there were any that did understand,
That did seek after God.

³ Every one of them is gone back; they are together become filthy;

There is none that doeth good, no, not one.

⁴ Have the workers of iniquity no knowledge,
Who eat up my people as they eat bread,
And call not upon God?

⁵ There were they in great fear, where no fear was;
For God hath scattered the bones of him that encampeth against thee:
Thou hast put them to shame, because God hath rejected them.

⁶ Oh that the salvation of Israel were come out of Zion!
When God bringeth back the captivity of his people,
Then shall Jacob rejoice, and Israel shall be glad.

54

For the Chief Musician; on stringed instruments. Maskil of David; when the Ziphites came and said to Saul, Doth not David hide himself with us?

¹ Save me, O God, by thy name,
And judge me in thy might.

² Hear my prayer, O God;
Give ear to the words of my mouth.

³ For strangers are risen up against me,
And violent men have sought after my soul:
They have not set God before them.

Selah

⁴ Behold, God is my helper:

The Lord is of them that uphold my soul.

⁵ He will requite the evil unto mine enemies:
Destroy thou them in thy truth.

⁶ With a freewill offering will I sacrifice unto thee:
I will give thanks unto thy name, O Jehovah, for it is good.

⁷ For he hath delivered me out of all trouble;
And mine eye hath seen my desire upon mine enemies.

55

For the Chief Musician; on stringed instruments. Maskil of David.

¹ Give ear to my prayer, O God;
And hide not thyself from my supplication.

² Attend unto me, and answer me:
I am restless in my complaint, and moan,

³ Because of the voice of the enemy,
Because of the oppression of the wicked;
For they cast iniquity upon me,
And in anger they persecute me.

⁴ My heart is sore pained within me:
And the terrors of death are fallen upon me.

⁵ Fearfulness and trembling are come upon me,
And horror hath overwhelmed me.

⁶ And I said, Oh that I had wings like a dove!
Then would I fly away, and be at rest.

⁷ Lo, then would I wander far off,
I would lodge in the wilderness.

Selah

⁸ I would haste me to a shelter

From the stormy wind and tempest.

⁹ Destroy, O Lord, and divide their tongue;

For I have seen violence and strife in the city.

¹⁰ Day and night they go about it upon the walls thereof:

Iniquity also and mischief are in the midst of it.

¹¹ Wickedness is in the midst thereof:

Oppression and guile depart not from its streets.

¹² For it was not an enemy that reproached me;

Then I could have borne it:

Neither was it he that hated me that did magnify himself against me;

Then I would have hidden myself from him:

¹³ But it was thou, a man mine equal,

My companion, and my familiar friend.

¹⁴ We took sweet counsel together;

We walked in the house of God with the throng.

¹⁵ Let death come suddenly upon them,

Let them go down alive into Sheol;

For wickedness is in their dwelling, in the midst of them.

¹⁶ As for me, I will call upon God;

And Jehovah will save me.

¹⁷ Evening, and morning, and at noonday, will I complain, and moan;

And he will hear my voice.

¹⁸ He hath redeemed my soul in peace from the battle that was against me;

For they were many that strove with me.

¹⁹ God will hear, and answer them,

Even he that abideth of old,

Selah

The men who have no changes,

And who fear not God.

²⁰ He hath put forth his hands against such as were at peace with him:

He hath profaned his covenant.

²¹ His mouth was smooth as butter,

But his heart was war:

His words were softer than oil,

Yet were they drawn swords.

²² Cast thy burden upon Jehovah, and he will sustain thee:

He will never suffer the righteous to be moved.

²³ But thou, O God, wilt bring them down into the pit of destruction:

Bloodthirsty and deceitful men shall not live out half their days;

But I will trust in thee.

56

For the Chief Musician; set to Jonath elem rehokim. A Psalm of David. Miktam; when the Philistines took him in Gath.

¹ Be merciful unto me, O God; for man would swallow me up:

All the day long he fighting oppresseth me.

² Mine enemies would swallow me up all the day long;

For they are many that fight proudly against me.

³ What time I am afraid,

I will put my trust in thee.

⁴ In God (I will praise his word),

In God have I put my trust, I will not be afraid;

What can flesh do unto me?

⁵ All the day long they wrest my words:
All their thoughts are against me for evil.

⁶ They gather themselves together, they hide themselves,
They mark my steps,
Even as they have waited for my soul.

⁷ Shall they escape by iniquity?
In anger cast down the peoples, O God.

⁸ Thou numberest my wanderings:
Put thou my tears into thy bottle;
Are they not in thy book?

⁹ Then shall mine enemies turn back in the day that I call:
This I know, that God is for me.

¹⁰ In God (I will praise his word),
In Jehovah (I will praise his word),

¹¹ In God have I put my trust, I will not be afraid;
What can man do unto me?

¹² Thy vows are upon me, O God:
I will render thank offerings unto thee.

¹³ For thou hast delivered my soul from death:
Hast thou not delivered my feet from falling,
That I may walk before God
In the light of the living?

57

For the Chief Musician; set to Al-tashheth. A Psalm of David. Miktam; when he fled from Saul, in the cave.

¹ Be merciful unto me, O God, be merciful unto me;
For my soul taketh refuge in thee:
Yea, in the shadow of thy wings will I take refuge,
Until these calamities be overpast.

² I will cry unto God Most High,
Unto God that performeth all things for me.

³ He will send from heaven, and save me,
When he that would swallow me up reproacheth;

Selah

God will send forth his lovingkindness and his truth.

⁴ My soul is among lions;
I lie among them that are set on fire,
Even the sons of men, whose teeth are spears and arrows,
And their tongue a sharp sword.

⁵ Be thou exalted, O God, above the heavens;
Let thy glory be above all the earth.

⁶ They have prepared a net for my steps;
My soul is bowed down:
They have dug a pit before me;
They are fallen into the midst thereof themselves.

Selah

⁷ My heart is fixed, O God, my heart is fixed:
I will sing, yea, I will sing praises.

⁸ Awake up, my glory; awake, psaltery and harp:
I myself will awake right early.
⁹ I will give thanks unto thee, O Lord, among the peoples:
I will sing praises unto thee among the nations.
¹⁰ For thy lovingkindness is great unto the heavens,
And thy truth unto the skies.
¹¹ Be thou exalted, O God, above the heavens;
Let thy glory be above all the earth.

58

For the Chief Musician; set to Al-tashheth. A Psalm of David. Miktam.

¹ Do ye indeed in silence speak righteousness?
Do ye judge uprightly, O ye sons of men?
² Nay, in heart ye work wickedness;
Ye weigh out the violence of your hands in the earth.
³ The wicked are estranged from the womb:
They go astray as soon as they are born, speaking lies.
⁴ Their poison is like the poison of a serpent:
They are like the deaf adder that stoppeth her ear,
⁵ Which hearkeneth not to the voice of charmers,
Charming never so wisely.
⁶ Break their teeth, O God, in their mouth:
Break out the great teeth of the young lions, O Jehovah.
⁷ Let them melt away as water that runneth apace:
When he aimeth his arrows, let them be as though they were cut off.
⁸ Let them be as a snail which melteth and passeth away,
Like the untimely birth of a woman, that hath not seen the sun.
⁹ Before your pots can feel the thorns,
He will take them away with a whirlwind, the green and the burning alike.
¹⁰ The righteous shall rejoice when he seeth the vengeance:
He shall wash his feet in the blood of the wicked;
¹¹ So that men shall say, Verily there is a reward for the righteous:
Verily there is a God that judgeth in the earth.

59

For the Chief Musician; set to Al-tashheth. A Psalm of David. Miktam; when Saul sent, and they watched the house to kill him.

¹ Deliver me from mine enemies, O my God:
Set me on high from them that rise up against me.
² Deliver me from the workers of iniquity,
And save me from the bloodthirsty men.
³ For, lo, they lie in wait for my soul;
The mighty gather themselves together against me:
Not for my transgression, nor for my sin, O Jehovah.
⁴ They run and prepare themselves without my fault:
Awake thou to help me, and behold.
⁵ Even thou, O Jehovah God of hosts, the God of Israel,
Arise to visit all the nations:
Be not merciful to any wicked transgressors.

⁶ They return at evening, they howl like a dog,

Selah

And go round about the city.

⁷ Behold, they belch out with their mouth;

Swords are in their lips:

For who, say they, doth hear?

⁸ But thou, O Jehovah, wilt laugh at them;

Thou wilt have all the nations in derision.

⁹ Because of his strength I will give heed unto thee;

For God is my high tower.

¹⁰ My God with his lovingkindness will meet me:

God will let me see my desire upon mine enemies.

¹¹ Slay them not, lest my people forget:

Scatter them by thy power, and bring them down,

O Lord our shield.

¹² For the sin of their mouth, and the words of their lips,

Let them even be taken in their pride,

And for cursing and lying which they speak.

¹³ Consume them in wrath, consume them, so that they shall be no more:

And let them know that God ruleth in Jacob,

Unto the ends of the earth.

Selah

¹⁴ And at evening let them return, let them howl like a dog,

And go round about the city.

¹⁵ They shall wander up and down for food,

And tarry all night if they be not satisfied.

¹⁶ But I will sing of thy strength;

Yea, I will sing aloud of thy lovingkindness in the morning:

For thou hast been my high tower,

And a refuge in the day of my distress.

¹⁷ Unto thee, O my strength, will I sing praises:

For God is my high tower, the God of my mercy.

60

For the Chief Musician; set to Shushan Eduth. Miktam of David, to teach; when he strove with Aram-naharaim and with Aram-zobah, and Joab returned, and smote of Edom in the Valley of Salt twelve thousand.

¹ O God thou hast cast us off, thou hast broken us down;

Thou hast been angry; oh restore us again.

² Thou hast made the land to tremble; thou hast rent it:

Heal the breaches thereof; for it shaketh.

³ Thou hast shown thy people hard things:

Thou hast made us to drink the wine of staggering.

⁴ Thou hast given a banner to them that fear thee,

That it may be displayed because of the truth.

Selah

⁵ That thy beloved may be delivered,

Save with thy right hand, and answer us.

⁶ God hath spoken in his holiness: I will exult;

I will divide Shechem, and mete out the valley of Succoth.

⁷ Gilead is mine, and Manasseh is mine;

Ephraim also is the defense of my head;

Judah is my scepter.
8 Moab is my washpot;
Upon Edom will I cast my shoe:
Philistia, shout thou because of me.
9 Who will bring me into the strong city?
Who hath led me unto Edom?
10 Hast not thou, O God, cast us off?
And thou goest not forth, O God, with our hosts.
11 Give us help against the adversary;
For vain is the help of man.
12 Through God we shall do valiantly;
For he it is that will tread down our adversaries.

61

For the Chief Musician; on a stringed instrument. A Psalm of David.

1 Hear my cry, O God;
Attend unto my prayer.
2 From the end of the earth will I call unto thee, when my heart is overwhelmed:
Lead me to the rock that is higher than I.
3 For thou hast been a refuge for me,
A strong tower from the enemy.
4 I will dwell in thy tabernacle forever:
I will take refuge in the covert of thy wings.

Selah

5 For thou, O God, hast heard my vows:
Thou hast given me the heritage of those that fear thy name.
6 Thou wilt prolong the king's life;
His years shall be as many generations.
7 He shall abide before God forever:
Oh prepare lovingkindness and truth, that they may preserve him.
8 So will I sing praise unto thy name forever,
That I may daily perform my vows.

62

For the Chief Musician; after the manner of Jeduthun. A Psalm of David.

1 My soul waiteth in silence for God only:
From him cometh my salvation.
2 He only is my rock and my salvation:
He is my high tower; I shall not be greatly moved.
3 How long will ye set upon a man,
That ye may slay him, all of you,
Like a leaning wall, like a tottering fence?
4 They only consult to thrust him down from his dignity;
They delight in lies;
They bless with their mouth, but they curse inwardly.

Selah

5 My soul, wait thou in silence for God only;
For my expectation is from him.
6 He only is my rock and my salvation:
He is my high tower; I shall not be moved.
7 With God is my salvation and my glory:

The rock of my strength, and my refuge, is in God.

⁸ Trust in him at all times, ye people;
Pour out your heart before him:
God is a refuge for us.

Selah

⁹ Surely men of low degree are vanity, and men of high degree are a lie:
In the balances they will go up;
They are together lighter than vanity.

¹⁰ Trust not in oppression,
And become not vain in robbery:
If riches increase, set not your heart thereon.

¹¹ God hath spoken once,
Twice have I heard this,
That power belongeth unto God.

¹² Also unto thee, O Lord, belongeth lovingkindness;
For thou renderest to every man according to his work.

63

A Psalm of David, when he was in the wilderness of Judah.

¹ O God, thou art my God; earnestly will I seek thee:
My soul thirsteth for thee, my flesh longeth for thee,
In a dry and weary land, where no water is.

² So have I looked upon thee in the sanctuary,
To see thy power and thy glory.

³ Because thy lovingkindness is better than life,
My lips shall praise thee.

⁴ So will I bless thee while I live:
I will lift up my hands in thy name.

⁵ My soul shall be satisfied as with marrow and fatness;
And my mouth shall praise thee with joyful lips;

⁶ When I remember thee upon my bed,
And meditate on thee in the night watches.

⁷ For thou hast been my help,
And in the shadow of thy wings will I rejoice.

⁸ My soul followeth hard after thee:
Thy right hand upholdeth me.

⁹ But those that seek my soul, to destroy it,
Shall go into the lower parts of the earth.

¹⁰ They shall be given over to the power of the sword:
They shall be a portion for foxes.

¹¹ But the king shall rejoice in God:
Everyone that sweareth by him shall glory;
For the mouth of them that speak lies shall be stopped.

64

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

¹ Hear my voice, O God, in my complaint:
Preserve my life from fear of the enemy.

² Hide me from the secret counsel of evildoers,
From the tumult of the workers of iniquity;

³ Who have whet their tongue like a sword,

And have aimed their arrows, even bitter words,
⁴ That they may shoot in secret places at the perfect:
Suddenly do they shoot at him, and fear not.
⁵ They encourage themselves in an evil purpose;
They commune of laying snares privily;
They say, Who will see them?
⁶ They search out iniquities;
We have accomplished, say they, a diligent search:
And the inward thought and the heart of every one is deep.
⁷ But God will shoot at them;
With an arrow suddenly shall they be wounded.
⁸ So they shall be made to stumble, their own tongue being against them:
All that see them shall wag the head.
⁹ And all men shall fear;
And they shall declare the work of God,
And shall wisely consider of his doing.
¹⁰ The righteous shall be glad in Jehovah, and shall take refuge in him;
And all the upright in heart shall glory.

65

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm. A Song of David.

¹ Praise waiteth for thee, O God, in Zion;
And unto thee shall the vow be performed.
² O thou that hearest prayer,
Unto thee shall all flesh come.
³ Iniquities prevail against me:
As for our transgressions, thou wilt forgive them.
⁴ Blessed is the man whom thou choosest, and causest to approach unto thee,
That he may dwell in thy courts:
We shall be satisfied with the goodness of thy house,
Thy holy temple.
⁵ By terrible things thou wilt answer us in righteousness,
O God of our salvation,
Thou that art the confidence of all the ends of the earth,
And of them that are afar off upon the sea:
⁶ Who by his strength setteth fast the mountains,
Being girded about with might;
⁷ Who stilleth the roaring of the seas,
The roaring of their waves,
And the tumult of the peoples.
⁸ They also that dwell in the uttermost parts are afraid at thy tokens:
Thou makest the outgoings of the morning and evening to rejoice.
⁹ Thou visitest the earth, and waterest it,
Thou greatly enrichest it;
The river of God is full of water:
Thou providest them grain, when thou hast so prepared the earth.
¹⁰ Thou waterest its furrows abundantly;
Thou settlest the ridges thereof:
Thou makest it soft with showers;
Thou blessest the springing thereof.
¹¹ Thou crownest the year with thy goodness;

And thy paths drop fatness.

¹² They drop upon the pastures of the wilderness;
And the hills are girded with joy.

¹³ The pastures are clothed with flocks;
The valleys also are covered over with grain;
They shout for joy, they also sing.

66

For the Chief Musician. A Song, a Psalm.

¹ Make a joyful noise unto God, all the earth:

² Sing forth the glory of his name:

Make his praise glorious.

³ Say unto God, How terrible are thy works!

Through the greatness of thy power shall thine enemies submit themselves unto thee.

⁴ All the earth shall worship thee,

And shall sing unto thee;

They shall sing to thy name.

Selah

⁵ Come, and see the works of God;

He is terrible in his doing toward the children of men.

⁶ He turned the sea into dry land;

They went through the river on foot:

There did we rejoice in him.

⁷ He ruleth by his might forever;

His eyes observe the nations:

Let not the rebellious exalt themselves.

Selah

⁸ Oh bless our God, ye peoples,

And make the voice of his praise to be heard;

⁹ Who holdeth our soul in life,

And suffereth not our feet to be moved.

¹⁰ For thou, O God, hast proved us:

Thou hast tried us, as silver is tried.

¹¹ Thou broughtest us into the net;

Thou laidst a sore burden upon our loins.

¹² Thou didst cause men to ride over our heads;

We went through fire and through water;

But thou broughtest us out into a wealthy place.

¹³ I will come into thy house with burnt offerings;

I will pay thee my vows,

¹⁴ Which my lips uttered,

And my mouth spake, when I was in distress.

¹⁵ I will offer unto thee burnt offerings of fatlings,

With the incense of rams;

I will offer bullocks with goats.

Selah

¹⁶ Come, and hear, all ye that fear God,

And I will declare what he hath done for my soul.

¹⁷ I cried unto him with my mouth,

And he was extolled with my tongue.

¹⁸ If I regard iniquity in my heart,

The Lord will not hear:
¹⁹ But verily God hath heard;
He hath attended to the voice of my prayer.
²⁰ Blessed be God,
Who hath not turned away my prayer,
Nor his lovingkindness from me.

67

For the Chief Musician; on stringed instruments. A Psalm, a Song.

¹ God be merciful unto us, and bless us,
And cause his face to shine upon us;

Selah

² That thy way may be known upon earth,
Thy salvation among all nations.
³ Let the peoples praise thee, O God;
Let all the peoples praise thee.
⁴ Oh let the nations be glad and sing for joy;
For thou wilt judge the peoples with equity,
And govern the nations upon earth.

Selah

⁵ Let the peoples praise thee, O God;
Let all the peoples praise thee.
⁶ The earth hath yielded its increase:
God, even our own God, will bless us.
⁷ God will bless us;
And all the ends of the earth shall fear him.

68

For the Chief Musician; A Psalm of David, a Song.

¹ Let God arise, let his enemies be scattered;
Let them also that hate him flee before him.
² As smoke is driven away, so drive them away:
As wax melteth before the fire,
So let the wicked perish at the presence of God.
³ But let the righteous be glad; let them exult before God:
Yea, let them rejoice with gladness.
⁴ Sing unto God, sing praises to his name:
Cast up a highway for him that rideth through the deserts;
His name is Jehovah; and exult ye before him.
⁵ A father of the fatherless, and a judge of the widows,
Is God in his holy habitation.
⁶ God setteth the solitary in families:
He bringeth out the prisoners into prosperity;
But the rebellious dwell in a parched land.

⁷ O God, when thou wentest forth before thy people,
When thou didst march through the wilderness;

Selah

⁸ The earth trembled,
The heavens also dropped rain at the presence of God:
Yon Sinai trembled at the presence of God, the God of Israel.
⁹ Thou, O God, didst send a plentiful rain,

Thou didst confirm thine inheritance, when it was weary.

¹⁰ Thy congregation dwelt therein:

Thou, O God, didst prepare of thy goodness for the poor.

¹¹ The Lord giveth the word:

The women that publish the tidings are a great host.

¹² Kings of armies flee, they flee;

And she that tarrieth at home divideth the spoil.

¹³ When ye lie among the sheepfolds,

It is as the wings of a dove covered with silver,

And her pinions with yellow gold.

¹⁴ When the Almighty scattered kings therein,

It was as when it snoweth in Zalmon.

¹⁵ A mountain of God is the mountain of Bashan;

A high mountain is the mountain of Bashan.

¹⁶ Why look ye askance, ye high mountains,

At the mountain which God hath desired for his abode?

Yea, Jehovah will dwell in it forever.

¹⁷ The chariots of God are twenty thousand, even thousands upon thousands:

The Lord is among them, as in Sinai, in the sanctuary.

¹⁸ Thou hast ascended on high, thou hast led away captives;

Thou hast received gifts among men,

Yea, among the rebellious also, that Jehovah God might dwell with them.

¹⁹ Blessed be the Lord, who daily beareth our burden,

Even the God who is our salvation.

Selah

²⁰ God is unto us a God of deliverances;

And unto Jehovah the Lord belongeth escape from death.

²¹ But God will smite through the head of his enemies,

The hairy scalp of such a one as goeth on still in his guiltiness.

²² The Lord said, I will bring again from Bashan,

I will bring them again from the depths of the sea;

²³ That thou mayest crush them, dipping thy foot in blood,

That the tongue of thy dogs may have its portion from thine enemies.

²⁴ They have seen thy goings, O God,

Even the goings of my God, my King, into the sanctuary.

²⁵ The singers went before, the minstrels followed after,

In the midst of the damsels playing with timbrels.

²⁶ Bless ye God in the congregations,

Even the Lord, ye that are of the fountain of Israel.

²⁷ There is little Benjamin their ruler,

The princes of Judah and their council,

The princes of Zebulun, the princes of Naphtali.

²⁸ Thy God hath commanded thy strength:

Strengthen, O God, that which thou hast wrought for us.

²⁹ Because of thy temple at Jerusalem

Kings shall bring presents unto thee.

³⁰ Rebuke the wild beast of the reeds,

The multitude of the bulls, with the calves of the peoples,

Trampling under foot the pieces of silver:

He hath scattered the peoples that delight in war.

³¹ Princes shall come out of Egypt;
Ethiopia shall haste to stretch out her hands unto God.

³² Sing unto God, ye kingdoms of the earth;
Oh sing praises unto the Lord;

Selah

³³ To him that rideth upon the heaven of heavens, which are of old;
Lo, he uttereth his voice, a mighty voice.

³⁴ Ascribe ye strength unto God:
His excellency is over Israel,
And his strength is in the skies.

³⁵ O God, thou art terrible out of thy holy places:
The God of Israel, he giveth strength and power unto his people.
Blessed be God.

69

For the Chief Musician; set to Shoshannim. A Psalm of David.

¹ Save me, O God;
For the waters are come in unto my soul.

² I sink in deep mire, where there is no standing:
I am come into deep waters, where the floods overflow me.

³ I am weary with my crying; my throat is dried:
Mine eyes fail while I wait for my God.

⁴ They that hate me without a cause are more than the hairs of my head:
They that would cut me off, being mine enemies wrongfully, are mighty:
That which I took not away I have to restore.

⁵ O God, thou knowest my foolishness;
And my sins are not hidden from thee.

⁶ Let not them that wait for thee be put to shame through me, O Lord Jehovah of hosts:

Let not those that seek thee be brought to dishonor through me, O God of Israel.

⁷ Because for thy sake I have borne reproach;
Shame hath covered my face.

⁸ I am become a stranger unto my brethren,
And an alien unto my mother's children.

⁹ For the zeal of thy house hath eaten me up;
And the reproaches of them that reproach thee are fallen upon me.

¹⁰ When I wept, and chastened my soul with fasting,
That was to my reproach.

¹¹ When I made sackcloth my clothing,
I became a byword unto them.

¹² They that sit in the gate talk of me;
And I am the song of the drunkards.

¹³ But as for me, my prayer is unto thee, O Jehovah, in an acceptable time:
O God, in the abundance of thy lovingkindness,
Answer me in the truth of thy salvation.

¹⁴ Deliver me out of the mire, and let me not sink:
Let me be delivered from them that hate me, and out of the deep waters.

¹⁵ Let not the waterflood overwhelm me,
Neither let the deep swallow me up;
And let not the pit shut its mouth upon me.

16 Answer me, O Jehovah; for thy lovingkindness is good:
According to the multitude of thy tender mercies turn thou unto me.
17 And hide not thy face from thy servant;
For I am in distress; answer me speedily.
18 Draw nigh unto my soul, and redeem it:
Ransom me because of mine enemies.
19 Thou knowest my reproach, and my shame, and my dishonor:
Mine adversaries are all before thee.
20 Reproach hath broken my heart; and I am full of heaviness:
And I looked for some to take pity, but there was none;
And for comforters, but I found none.
21 They gave me also gall for my food;
And in my thirst they gave me vinegar to drink.
22 Let their table before them become a snare;
And when they are in peace, let it become a trap.
23 Let their eyes be darkened, so that they cannot see;
And make their loins continually to shake.
24 Pour out thine indignation upon them,
And let the fierceness of thine anger overtake them.
25 Let their habitation be desolate;
Let none dwell in their tents.
26 For they persecute him whom thou hast smitten;
And they tell of the sorrow of those whom thou hast wounded.
27 Add iniquity unto their iniquity;
And let them not come into thy righteousness.
28 Let them be blotted out of the book of life,
And not be written with the righteous.
29 But I am poor and sorrowful:
Let thy salvation, O God, set me up on high.
30 I will praise the name of God with a song,
And will magnify him with thanksgiving.
31 And it will please Jehovah better than an ox,
Or a bullock that hath horns and hoofs.
32 The meek have seen it, and are glad:
Ye that seek after God, let your heart live.
33 For Jehovah heareth the needy,
And despiseth not his prisoners.
34 Let heaven and earth praise him,
The seas, and everything that moveth therein.
35 For God will save Zion, and build the cities of Judah;
And they shall abide there, and have it in possession.
36 The seed also of his servants shall inherit it;
And they that love his name shall dwell therein.

70

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David; to bring to remembrance.

1 Make haste, O God, to deliver me;
Make haste to help me, O Jehovah.
2 Let them be put to shame and confounded
That seek after my soul:
Let them be turned backward and brought to dishonor

That delight in my hurt.

³ Let them be turned back by reason of their shame
That say, Aha, aha.

⁴ Let all those that seek thee rejoice and be glad in thee;
And let such as love thy salvation say continually,
Let God be magnified.

⁵ But I am poor and needy;
Make haste unto me, O God:
Thou art my help and my deliverer;
O Jehovah, make no tarrying.

71

¹ In thee, O Jehovah, do I take refuge:
Let me never be put to shame.

² Deliver me in thy righteousness, and rescue me:
Bow down thine ear unto me, and save me.

³ Be thou to me a rock of habitation, whereunto I may continually resort:
Thou hast given commandment to save me;
For thou art my rock and my fortress.

⁴ Rescue me, O my God, out of the hand of the wicked,
Out of the hand of the unrighteous and cruel man.

⁵ For thou art my hope, O Lord Jehovah:
Thou art my trust from my youth.

⁶ By thee have I been holden up from the womb;
Thou art he that took me out of my mother's bowels:
My praise shall be continually of thee.

⁷ I am as a wonder unto many;
But thou art my strong refuge.

⁸ My mouth shall be filled with thy praise,
And with thy honor all the day.

⁹ Cast me not off in the time of old age;
Forsake me not when my strength faileth.

¹⁰ For mine enemies speak concerning me;
And they that watch for my soul take counsel together,

¹¹ Saying, God hath forsaken him:
Pursue and take him; for there is none to deliver.

¹² O God, be not far from me;
O my God, make haste to help me.

¹³ Let them be put to shame and consumed that are adversaries to my soul;
Let them be covered with reproach and dishonor that seek my hurt.

¹⁴ But I will hope continually,
And will praise thee yet more and more.

¹⁵ My mouth shall tell of thy righteousness,
And of thy salvation all the day;
For I know not the numbers thereof.

¹⁶ I will come with the mighty acts of the Lord Jehovah:
I will make mention of thy righteousness, even of thine only.

¹⁷ O God, thou hast taught me from my youth;
And hitherto have I declared thy wondrous works.

¹⁸ Yea, even when I am old and gray-headed, O God, forsake me not,

Until I have declared thy strength unto the next generation,
Thy might to everyone that is to come.

¹⁹ Thy righteousness also, O God, is very high;
Thou who hast done great things, O God, who is like unto thee?

²⁰ Thou, who hast shown us many and sore troubles,
Wilt quicken us again,
And wilt bring us up again from the depths of the earth.

²¹ Increase thou my greatness,
And turn again and comfort me.

²² I will also praise thee with the psaltery,
Even thy truth, O my God:
Unto thee will I sing praises with the harp,
O thou Holy One of Israel.

²³ My lips shall shout for joy when I sing praises unto thee;
And my soul, which thou hast redeemed.

²⁴ My tongue also shall talk of thy righteousness all the day long;
For they are put to shame, for they are confounded, that seek my hurt.

72

A Psalm of Solomon.

¹ Give the king thy judgments, O God,
And thy righteousness unto the king's son.

² He will judge thy people with righteousness,
And thy poor with justice.

³ The mountains shall bring peace to the people,
And the hills, in righteousness.

⁴ He will judge the poor of the people,
He will save the children of the needy,
And will break in pieces the oppressor.

⁵ They shall fear thee while the sun endureth,
And so long as the moon, throughout all generations.

⁶ He will come down like rain upon the mown grass,
As showers that water the earth.

⁷ In his days shall the righteous flourish,
And abundance of peace, till the moon be no more.

⁸ He shall have dominion also from sea to sea,
And from the River unto the ends of the earth.

⁹ They that dwell in the wilderness shall bow before him;
And his enemies shall lick the dust.

¹⁰ The kings of Tarshish and of the isles shall render tribute:
The kings of Sheba and Seba shall offer gifts.

¹¹ Yea, all kings shall fall down before him;
All nations shall serve him.

¹² For he will deliver the needy when he crieth,
And the poor, that hath no helper.

¹³ He will have pity on the poor and needy,
And the souls of the needy he will save.

¹⁴ He will redeem their soul from oppression and violence;
And precious will their blood be in his sight:

¹⁵ And they shall live; and to him shall be given of the gold of Sheba:
And men shall pray for him continually;

They shall bless him all the day long.

¹⁶ There shall be abundance of grain in the earth upon the top of the mountains;
The fruit thereof shall shake like Lebanon:
And they of the city shall flourish like grass of the earth.

¹⁷ His name shall endure forever;
His name shall be continued as long as the sun:
And men shall be blessed in him;
All nations shall call him happy.

¹⁸ Blessed be Jehovah God, the God of Israel,
Who only doeth wondrous things:

¹⁹ And blessed be his glorious name forever;
And let the whole earth be filled with his glory.
Amen, and Amen.

²⁰ The prayers of David the son of Jesse are ended.

BOOK III

73

A Psalm of Asaph.

¹ Surely God is good to Israel,
Even to such as are pure in heart.
² But as for me, my feet were almost gone;
My steps had well nigh slipped.
³ For I was envious at the arrogant,
When I saw the prosperity of the wicked.
⁴ For there are no pangs in their death;
But their strength is firm.
⁵ They are not in trouble as other men;
Neither are they plagued like other men.
⁶ Therefore pride is as a chain about their neck;
Violence covereth them as a garment.
⁷ Their eyes stand out with fatness:
They have more than heart could wish.
⁸ They scoff, and in wickedness utter oppression:
They speak loftily.
⁹ They have set their mouth in the heavens,
And their tongue walketh through the earth.
¹⁰ Therefore his people return hither:
And waters of a full cup are drained by them.
¹¹ And they say, How doth God know?
And is there knowledge in the Most High?
¹² Behold, these are the wicked;
And, being always at ease, they increase in riches.
¹³ Surely in vain have I cleansed my heart,
And washed my hands in innocency;
¹⁴ For all the day long have I been plagued,
And chastened every morning.
¹⁵ If I had said, I will speak thus;
Behold, I had dealt treacherously with the generation of thy children.
¹⁶ When I thought how I might know this,

It was too painful for me;
17 Until I went into the sanctuary of God,
And considered their latter end.
18 Surely thou settest them in slippery places:
Thou castest them down to destruction.
19 How are they become a desolation in a moment!
They are utterly consumed with terrors.
20 As a dream when one awaketh,
So, O Lord, when thou awakest, thou wilt despise their image.
21 For my soul was grieved,
And I was pricked in my heart:
22 So brutish was I, and ignorant;
I was as a beast before thee.
23 Nevertheless I am continually with thee:
Thou hast holden my right hand.
24 Thou wilt guide me with thy counsel,
And afterward receive me to glory.
25 Whom have I in heaven but thee?
And there is none upon earth that I desire besides thee.
26 My flesh and my heart faileth;
But God is the strength of my heart and my portion forever.
27 For, lo, they that are far from thee shall perish:
Thou hast destroyed all them that play the harlot, departing from thee.
28 But it is good for me to draw near unto God:
I have made the Lord Jehovah my refuge,
That I may tell of all thy works.

74

Maskil of Asaph.

1 O God, why hast thou cast us off forever?
Why doth thine anger smoke against the sheep of thy pasture?
2 Remember thy congregation, which thou hast gotten of old,
Which thou hast redeemed to be the tribe of thine inheritance;
And mount Zion, wherein thou hast dwelt.
3 Lift up thy feet unto the perpetual ruins,
All the evil that the enemy hath done in the sanctuary.
4 Thine adversaries have roared in the midst of thine assembly;
They have set up their ensigns for signs.
5 They seemed as men that lifted up
Axes upon a thicket of trees.
6 And now all the carved work thereof
They break down with hatchet and hammers.
7 They have set thy sanctuary on fire;
They have profaned the dwelling place of thy name by casting it to the ground.
8 They said in their heart, Let us make havoc of them altogether:
They have burned up all the synagogues of God in the land.
9 We see not our signs:
There is no more any prophet;
Neither is there among us any that knoweth how long.
10 How long, O God, shall the adversary reproach?
Shall the enemy blaspheme thy name forever?

¹¹ Why drawest thou back thy hand, even thy right hand?
Pluck it out of thy bosom and consume them.

¹² Yet God is my King of old,
Working salvation in the midst of the earth.

¹³ Thou didst divide the sea by thy strength:
Thou brakest the heads of the sea monsters in the waters.

¹⁴ Thou brakest the heads of leviathan in pieces;
Thou gavest him to be food to the people inhabiting the wilderness.

¹⁵ Thou didst cleave fountain and flood:
Thou driedst up mighty rivers.

¹⁶ The day is thine, the night also is thine:
Thou hast prepared the light and the sun.

¹⁷ Thou hast set all the borders of the earth:
Thou hast made summer and winter.

¹⁸ Remember this, that the enemy hath reproached, O Jehovah,
And that a foolish people hath blasphemed thy name.

¹⁹ Oh deliver not the soul of thy turtledove unto the wild beast:
Forget not the life of thy poor forever.

²⁰ Have respect unto the covenant;
For the dark places of the earth are full of the habitations of violence.

²¹ Oh let not the oppressed return ashamed:
Let the poor and needy praise thy name.

²² Arise, O God, plead thine own cause:
Remember how the foolish man reproacheth thee all the day.

²³ Forget not the voice of thine adversaries:
The tumult of those that rise up against thee ascendeth continually.

75

For the Chief Musician; set to Al-tashheth. A Psalm of Asaph, a Song.

¹ We give thanks unto thee, O God;
We give thanks, for thy name is near:
Men tell of thy wondrous works.

² When I shall find the set time,
I will judge uprightly.

³ The earth and all the inhabitants thereof are dissolved:
I have set up the pillars of it.

Selah

⁴ I said unto the arrogant, Deal not arrogantly;
And to the wicked, Lift not up the horn:

⁵ Lift not up your horn on high;
Speak not with a stiff neck.

⁶ For neither from the east, nor from the west,
Nor yet from the south, cometh lifting up.

⁷ But God is the judge:
He putteth down one, and lifteth up another.

⁸ For in the hand of Jehovah there is a cup, and the wine foameth;
It is full of mixture, and he poureth out of the same:
Surely the dregs thereof, all the wicked of the earth shall drain them, and drink them.

⁹ But I will declare forever,
I will sing praises to the God of Jacob.

¹⁰ All the horns of the wicked also will I cut off;
But the horns of the righteous shall be lifted up.

76

For the Chief Musician; on stringed instruments. A Psalm of Asaph, a Song.

¹ In Judah is God known:

His name is great in Israel.

² In Salem also is his tabernacle,
And his dwelling place in Zion.

³ There he brake the arrows of the bow;
The shield, and the sword, and the battle.

Selah

⁴ Glorious art thou and excellent,
From the mountains of prey.

⁵ The stouthearted are made a spoil,
They have slept their sleep;
And none of the men of might have found their hands.

⁶ At thy rebuke, O God of Jacob,
Both chariot and horse are cast into a dead sleep.

⁷ Thou, even thou, art to be feared;
And who may stand in thy sight when once thou art angry?

⁸ Thou didst cause sentence to be heard from heaven;
The earth feared, and was still,

⁹ When God arose to judgment,
To save all the meek of the earth.

Selah

¹⁰ Surely the wrath of man shall praise thee:
The residue of wrath shalt thou gird upon thee.

¹¹ Vow, and pay unto Jehovah your God:
Let all that are round about him bring presents unto him that ought to be feared.

¹² He will cut off the spirit of princes:
He is terrible to the kings of the earth.

77

For the Chief Musician; after the manner of Jeduthun. A Psalm of Asaph.

¹ I will cry unto God with my voice,
Even unto God with my voice; and he will give ear unto me.

² In the day of my trouble I sought the Lord:
My hand was stretched out in the night, and slacked not;
My soul refused to be comforted.

³ I remember God, and am disquieted:
I complain, and my spirit is overwhelmed.

Selah

⁴ Thou holdest mine eyes watching:
I am so troubled that I cannot speak.

⁵ I have considered the days of old,
The years of ancient times.

⁶ I call to remembrance my song in the night:
I commune with mine own heart;
And my spirit maketh diligent search.

⁷ Will the Lord cast off forever?
And will he be favorable no more?

⁸ Is his lovingkindness clean gone forever?
 Doth his promise fail forevermore?
⁹ Hath God forgotten to be gracious?
 Hath he in anger shut up his tender mercies?

Selah

¹⁰ And I said, This is my infirmity;
But I will remember the years of the right hand of the Most High.

¹¹ I will make mention of the deeds of Jehovah;
 For I will remember thy wonders of old.

¹² I will meditate also upon all thy work,
 And muse on thy doings.

¹³ Thy way, O God, is in the sanctuary:
 Who is a great god like unto God?

¹⁴ Thou art the God that doest wonders:
 Thou hast made known thy strength among the peoples.

¹⁵ Thou hast with thine arm redeemed thy people,
 The sons of Jacob and Joseph.

Selah

¹⁶ The waters saw thee, O God;
 The waters saw thee, they were afraid:
 The depths also trembled.

¹⁷ The clouds poured out water;
 The skies sent out a sound:
 Thine arrows also went abroad.

¹⁸ The voice of thy thunder was in the whirlwind;
 The lightnings lightened the world:
 The earth trembled and shook.

¹⁹ Thy way was in the sea,
 And thy paths in the great waters,
 And thy footsteps were not known.

²⁰ Thou leddest thy people like a flock,
 By the hand of Moses and Aaron.

78

Maskil of Asaph.

¹ Give ear, O my people, to my law:
 Incline your ears to the words of my mouth.

² I will open my mouth in a parable;
 I will utter dark sayings of old,

³ Which we have heard and known,
 And our fathers have told us.

⁴ We will not hide them from their children,
 Telling to the generation to come the praises of Jehovah,
 And his strength, and his wondrous works that he hath done.

⁵ For he established a testimony in Jacob,
 And appointed a law in Israel,
 Which he commanded our fathers,

That they should make them known to their children;

⁶ That the generation to come might know them, even the children that should be born;

Who should arise and tell them to their children,

⁷ That they might set their hope in God,

And not forget the works of God,
But keep his commandments,
8 And might not be as their fathers,
A stubborn and rebellious generation,
A generation that set not their heart aright,
And whose spirit was not steadfast with God.
9 The children of Ephraim, being armed and carrying bows,
Turned back in the day of battle.
10 They kept not the covenant of God,
And refused to walk in his law;
11 And they forgot his doings,
And his wondrous works that he had shown them.
12 Marvelous things did he in the sight of their fathers,
In the land of Egypt, in the field of Zoan.
13 He clave the sea, and caused them to pass through;
And he made the waters to stand as a heap.
14 In the daytime also he led them with a cloud,
And all the night with a light of fire.
15 He clave rocks in the wilderness,
And gave them drink abundantly as out of the depths.
16 He brought streams also out of the rock,
And caused waters to run down like rivers.
17 Yet went they on still to sin against him,
To rebel against the Most High in the desert.
18 And they tempted God in their heart
By asking food according to their desire.
19 Yea, they spake against God;
They said, Can God prepare a table in the wilderness?
20 Behold, he smote the rock, so that waters gushed out,
And streams overflowed;
Can he give bread also?
Will he provide flesh for his people?
21 Therefore Jehovah heard, and was wroth;
And a fire was kindled against Jacob,
And anger also went up against Israel;
22 Because they believed not in God,
And trusted not in his salvation.
23 Yet he commanded the skies above,
And opened the doors of heaven;
24 And he rained down manna upon them to eat,
And gave them food from heaven.
25 Man did eat the bread of the mighty:
He sent them food to the full.
26 He caused the east wind to blow in the heavens;
And by his power he guided the south wind.
27 He rained flesh also upon them as the dust,
And winged birds as the sand of the seas:
28 And he let it fall in the midst of their camp,
Round about their habitations.
29 So they did eat, and were well filled;
And he gave them their own desire.

30 They were not estranged from that which they desired,
Their food was yet in their mouths,
31 When the anger of God went up against them,
And slew of the fattest of them,
And smote down the young men of Israel.
32 For all this they sinned still,
And believed not in his wondrous works.
33 Therefore their days did he consume in vanity,
And their years in terror.
34 When he slew them, then they inquired after him;
And they returned and sought God earnestly.
35 And they remembered that God was their rock,
And the Most High God their redeemer.
36 But they flattered him with their mouth,
And lied unto him with their tongue.
37 For their heart was not right with him,
Neither were they faithful in his covenant.
38 But he, being merciful, forgave their iniquity, and destroyed them not:
Yea, many a time turned he his anger away,
And did not stir up all his wrath.
39 And he remembered that they were but flesh,
A wind that passeth away, and cometh not again.
40 How oft did they rebel against him in the wilderness,
And grieve him in the desert!
41 And they turned again and tempted God,
And provoked the Holy One of Israel.
42 They remembered not his hand,
Nor the day when he redeemed them from the adversary;
43 How he set his signs in Egypt,
And his wonders in the field of Zoan,
44 And turned their rivers into blood,
And their streams, so that they could not drink.
45 He sent among them swarms of flies, which devoured them;
And frogs, which destroyed them.
46 He gave also their increase unto the caterpillar,
And their labor unto the locust.
47 He destroyed their vines with hail,
And their sycamore trees with frost.
48 He gave over their cattle also to the hail,
And their flocks to hot thunderbolts.
49 He cast upon them the fierceness of his anger,
Wrath, and indignation, and trouble,
A band of angels of evil.
50 He made a path for his anger;
He spared not their soul from death,
But gave their life over to the pestilence,
51 And smote all the firstborn in Egypt,
The chief of their strength in the tents of Ham.
52 But he led forth his own people like sheep,
And guided them in the wilderness like a flock.
53 And he led them safely, so that they feared not;

But the sea overwhelmed their enemies.
54 And he brought them to the border of his sanctuary,
To this mountain, which his right hand had gotten.
55 He drove out the nations also before them,
And allotted them for an inheritance by line,
And made the tribes of Israel to dwell in their tents.
56 Yet they tempted and rebelled against the Most High God,
And kept not his testimonies;
57 But turned back, and dealt treacherously like their fathers:
They were turned aside like a deceitful bow.
58 For they provoked him to anger with their high places,
And moved him to jealousy with their graven images.
59 When God heard this, he was wroth,
And greatly abhorred Israel;
60 So that he forsook the tabernacle of Shiloh,
The tent which he placed among men;
61 And delivered his strength into captivity,
And his glory into the adversary's hand.
62 He gave his people over also unto the sword,
And was wroth with his inheritance.
63 Fire devoured their young men;
And their virgins had no marriage song.
64 Their priests fell by the sword;
And their widows made no lamentation.
65 Then the Lord awoke as one out of sleep,
Like a mighty man that shouteth by reason of wine.
66 And he smote his adversaries backward:
He put them to a perpetual reproach.
67 Moreover he refused the tent of Joseph,
And chose not the tribe of Ephraim,
68 But chose the tribe of Judah,
The mount Zion which he loved.
69 And he built his sanctuary like the heights,
Like the earth which he hath established forever.
70 He chose David also his servant,
And took him from the sheepfolds:
71 From following the ewes that have their young he brought him,
To be the shepherd of Jacob his people, and Israel his inheritance.
72 So he was their shepherd according to the integrity of his heart,
And guided them by the skillfulness of his hands.

79

A Psalm of Asaph.

1 O God, the nations are come into thine inheritance;
Thy holy temple have they defiled;
They have laid Jerusalem in heaps.
2 The dead bodies of thy servants have they given to be food unto the birds of the heavens,
The flesh of thy saints unto the beasts of the earth.
3 Their blood have they shed like water round about Jerusalem;
And there was none to bury them.
4 We are become a reproach to our neighbors,

A scoffing and derision to them that are round about us.

⁵ How long, O Jehovah? wilt thou be angry forever?

Shall thy jealousy burn like fire?

⁶ Pour out thy wrath upon the nations that know thee not,
And upon the kingdoms that call not upon thy name.

⁷ For they have devoured Jacob,
And laid waste his habitation.

⁸ Remember not against us the iniquities of our forefathers:
Let thy tender mercies speedily meet us;
For we are brought very low.

⁹ Help us, O God of our salvation, for the glory of thy name;
And deliver us, and forgive our sins, for thy name's sake.

¹⁰ Wherefore should the nations say, Where is their God?
Let the avenging of the blood of thy servants which is shed
Be known among the nations in our sight.

¹¹ Let the sighing of the prisoner come before thee:
According to the greatness of thy power preserve thou those that are appointed to death;

¹² And render unto our neighbors sevenfold into their bosom
Their reproach, wherewith they have reproached thee, O Lord.

¹³ So we thy people and sheep of thy pasture
Will give thee thanks forever:
We will show forth thy praise to all generations.

80

For the Chief Musician; set to Shoshannim Eduth. A Psalm of Asaph.

¹ Give ear, O Shepherd of Israel,
Thou that leadest Joseph like a flock;
Thou that sittest above the cherubim, shine forth.

² Before Ephraim and Benjamin and Manasseh, stir up thy might,
And come to save us.

³ Turn us again, O God;
And cause thy face to shine, and we shall be saved.

⁴ O Jehovah God of hosts,
How long wilt thou be angry against the prayer of thy people?

⁵ Thou hast fed them with the bread of tears,
And given them tears to drink in large measure.

⁶ Thou makest us a strife unto our neighbors;
And our enemies laugh among themselves.

⁷ Turn us again, O God of hosts;
And cause thy face to shine, and we shall be saved.

⁸ Thou broughtest a vine out of Egypt:
Thou didst drive out the nations, and plantedst it.

⁹ Thou preparedst room before it,
And it took deep root, and filled the land.

¹⁰ The mountains were covered with the shadow of it,
And the boughs thereof were like cedars of God.

¹¹ It sent out its branches unto the sea,
And its shoots unto the River.

¹² Why hast thou broken down its walls,
So that all they that pass by the way do pluck it?
¹³ The boar out of the wood doth ravage it,
And the wild beasts of the field feed on it.
¹⁴ Turn again, we beseech thee, O God of hosts:
Look down from heaven, and behold, and visit this vine,
¹⁵ And the stock which thy right hand planted,
And the branch that thou madest strong for thyself.
¹⁶ It is burned with fire, it is cut down:
They perish at the rebuke of thy countenance.
¹⁷ Let thy hand be upon the man of thy right hand,
Upon the son of man whom thou madest strong for thyself.
¹⁸ So shall we not go back from thee:
Quicken thou us, and we will call upon thy name.
¹⁹ Turn us again, O Jehovah God of hosts;
Cause thy face to shine, and we shall be saved.

81

For the Chief Musician; set to the Gittith. A Psalm of Asaph.

¹ Sing aloud unto God our strength:
Make a joyful noise unto the God of Jacob.
² Raise a song, and bring hither the timbrel,
The pleasant harp with the psaltery.
³ Blow the trumpet at the new moon,
At the full moon, on our feast day.
⁴ For it is a statute for Israel,
An ordinance of the God of Jacob.
⁵ He appointed it in Joseph for a testimony,
When he went out over the land of Egypt,
Where I heard a language that I knew not.
⁶ I removed his shoulder from the burden:
His hands were freed from the basket.
⁷ Thou calledst in trouble, and I delivered thee;
I answered thee in the secret place of thunder;
I proved thee at the waters of Meribah.

Selah

⁸ Hear, O my people, and I will testify unto thee:
O Israel, if thou wouldest hearken unto me!
⁹ There shall no strange god be in thee;
Neither shalt thou worship any foreign god.
¹⁰ I am Jehovah thy God,
Who brought thee up out of the land of Egypt:
Open thy mouth wide, and I will fill it.
¹¹ But my people hearkened not to my voice;
And Israel would none of me.
¹² So I let them go after the stubbornness of their heart,
That they might walk in their own counsels.
¹³ Oh that my people would hearken unto me,
That Israel would walk in my ways!
¹⁴ I would soon subdue their enemies,
And turn my hand against their adversaries.

¹⁵ The haters of Jehovah should submit themselves unto him:
 But their time should endure forever.
¹⁶ He would feed them also with the finest of the wheat;
 And with honey out of the rock would I satisfy thee.

82

A Psalm of Asaph.

¹ God standeth in the congregation of God;
 He judgeth among the gods.

² How long will ye judge unjustly,
 And respect the persons of the wicked?

Selah

³ Judge the poor and fatherless:
 Do justice to the afflicted and destitute.

⁴ Rescue the poor and needy:
 Deliver them out of the hand of the wicked.

⁵ They know not, neither do they understand;
 They walk to and fro in darkness:

All the foundations of the earth are shaken.

⁶ I said, Ye are gods,
 And all of you sons of the Most High.

⁷ Nevertheless ye shall die like men,
 And fall like one of the princes.

⁸ Arise, O God, judge the earth;
 For thou shalt inherit all the nations.

83

A Song, a Psalm of Asaph.

¹ O God, keep not thou silence:
 Hold not thy peace, and be not still, O God.

² For, lo, thine enemies make a tumult;
 And they that hate thee have lifted up the head.

³ They take crafty counsel against thy people,
 And consult together against thy hidden ones.

⁴ They have said, Come, and let us cut them off from being a nation;
 That the name of Israel may be no more in remembrance.

⁵ For they have consulted together with one consent;
 Against thee do they make a covenant:

⁶ The tents of Edom and the Ishmaelites;
 Moab, and the Hagrites;

⁷ Gebal, and Ammon, and Amalek;
 Philistia with the inhabitants of Tyre:

⁸ Assyria also is joined with them;
 They have helped the children of Lot.

Selah

⁹ Do thou unto them as unto Midian,
 As to Sisera, as to Jabin, at the river Kishon;

¹⁰ Who perished at Endor,
 Who became as dung for the earth.

¹¹ Make their nobles like Oreb and Zeeb;
 Yea, all their princes like Zebah and Zalmunna;

¹² Who said, Let us take to ourselves in possession

The habitations of God.

¹³ O my God, make them like the whirling dust;

As stubble before the wind.

¹⁴ As the fire that burneth the forest,

And as the flame that setteth the mountains on fire,

¹⁵ So pursue them with thy tempest,

And terrify them with thy storm.

¹⁶ Fill their faces with confusion,

That they may seek thy name, O Jehovah.

¹⁷ Let them be put to shame and dismayed forever;

Yea, let them be confounded and perish;

¹⁸ That they may know that thou alone, whose name is Jehovah,

Art the Most High over all the earth.

84

For the Chief Musician; set to the Gittith. A Psalm of the sons of Korah.

¹ How amiable are thy tabernacles,

O Jehovah of hosts!

² My soul longeth, yea, even fainteth for the courts of Jehovah;

My heart and my flesh cry out unto the living God.

³ Yea, the sparrow hath found her a house,

And the swallow a nest for herself, where she may lay her young,

Even thine altars, O Jehovah of hosts,

My King, and my God.

⁴ Blessed are they that dwell in thy house:

They will be still praising thee.

Selah

⁵ Blessed is the man whose strength is in thee;

In whose heart are the highways to Zion.

⁶ Passing through the valley of Weeping they make it a place of springs;

Yea, the early rain covereth it with blessings.

⁷ They go from strength to strength;

Every one of them appeareth before God in Zion.

⁸ O Jehovah God of hosts, hear my prayer;

Give ear, O God of Jacob.

Selah

⁹ Behold, O God our shield,

And look upon the face of thine anointed.

¹⁰ For a day in thy courts is better than a thousand.

I had rather be a doorkeeper in the house of my God,

Than to dwell in the tents of wickedness.

¹¹ For Jehovah God is a sun and a shield:

Jehovah will give grace and glory;

No good thing will he withhold from them that walk uprightly.

¹² O Jehovah of hosts,

Blessed is the man that trusteth in thee.

85

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of the sons of Korah.

¹ Jehovah, thou hast been favorable unto thy land;

Thou hast brought back the captivity of Jacob.

² Thou hast forgiven the iniquity of thy people;

Thou hast covered all their sin.

Selah

³ Thou hast taken away all thy wrath;
Thou hast turned thyself from the fierceness of thine anger.
⁴ Turn us, O God of our salvation,
And cause thine indignation toward us to cease.
⁵ Wilt thou be angry with us forever?
Wilt thou draw out thine anger to all generations?
⁶ Wilt thou not quicken us again,
That thy people may rejoice in thee?
⁷ Show us thy lovingkindness, O Jehovah,
And grant us thy salvation.
⁸ I will hear what God Jehovah will speak;
For he will speak peace unto his people, and to his saints:
But let them not turn again to folly.
⁹ Surely his salvation is nigh them that fear him,
That glory may dwell in our land.
¹⁰ Mercy and truth are met together;
Righteousness and peace have kissed each other.
¹¹ Truth springeth out of the earth;
And righteousness hath looked down from heaven.
¹² Yea, Jehovah will give that which is good;
And our land shall yield its increase.
¹³ Righteousness shall go before him,
And shall make his footsteps a way to walk in.

86

A Prayer of David.

¹ Bow down thine ear, O Jehovah, and answer me;
For I am poor and needy.
² Preserve my soul; for I am godly:
O thou my God, save thy servant that trusteth in thee.
³ Be merciful unto me, O Lord;
For unto thee do I cry all the day long.
⁴ Rejoice the soul of thy servant;
For unto thee, O Lord, do I lift up my soul.
⁵ For thou, Lord, art good, and ready to forgive,
And abundant in lovingkindness unto all them that call upon thee.
⁶ Give ear, O Jehovah, unto my prayer;
And hearken unto the voice of my supplications.
⁷ In the day of my trouble I will call upon thee;
For thou wilt answer me.
⁸ There is none like unto thee among the gods, O Lord;
Neither are there any works like unto thy works.
⁹ All nations whom thou hast made shall come and worship before thee, O Lord;
And they shall glorify thy name.
¹⁰ For thou art great, and doest wondrous things:
Thou art God alone.
¹¹ Teach me thy way, O Jehovah; I will walk in thy truth:
Unite my heart to fear thy name.
¹² I will praise thee, O Lord my God, with my whole heart;

And I will glorify thy name forevermore.

¹³ For great is thy lovingkindness toward me;
And thou hast delivered my soul from the lowest Sheol.

¹⁴ O God, the proud are risen up against me,
And a company of violent men have sought after my soul,
And have not set thee before them.

¹⁵ But thou, O Lord, art a God merciful and gracious,
Slow to anger, and abundant in lovingkindness and truth.

¹⁶ Oh turn unto me, and have mercy upon me;
Give thy strength unto thy servant,
And save the son of thy handmaid.

¹⁷ Show me a token for good,
That they who hate me may see it, and be put to shame,
Because thou, Jehovah, hast helped me, and comforted me.

87

A Psalm of the sons of Korah; a Song.

² Jehovah loveth the gates of Zion
More than all the dwellings of Jacob.

³ Glorious things are spoken of thee,
O city of God.

Selah

⁴ I will make mention of Rahab and Babylon as among them that know me:
Behold, Philistia, and Tyre, with Ethiopia:
This one was born there.

⁵ Yea, of Zion it shall be said, This one and that one was born in her;
And the Most High himself will establish her.

⁶ Jehovah will count, when he writeth up the peoples,
This one was born there.

Selah

⁷ They that sing as well as they that dance shall say,
All my fountains are in thee.

88

A Song, a Psalm of the sons of Korah; for the Chief Musician; set to Mahalath Leannoth.
Maskil of Heman the Ezrahite.

¹ O Jehovah, the God of my salvation,
I have cried day and night before thee.

² Let my prayer enter into thy presence;
Incline thine ear unto my cry.

³ For my soul is full of troubles,
And my life draweth nigh unto Sheol.

⁴ I am reckoned with them that go down into the pit;
I am as a man that hath no help,

⁵ Cast off among the dead,
Like the slain that lie in the grave,
Whom thou rememberest no more,
And they are cut off from thy hand.

⁶ Thou hast laid me in the lowest pit,
In dark places, in the deeps.

⁷ Thy wrath lieth hard upon me,
And thou hast afflicted me with all thy waves.

Selah

⁸ Thou hast put mine acquaintance far from me;
Thou hast made me an abomination unto them:
I am shut up, and I cannot come forth.

⁹ Mine eye wasteth away by reason of affliction:
I have called daily upon thee, O Jehovah;
I have spread forth my hands unto thee.

¹⁰ Wilt thou show wonders to the dead?
Shall they that are deceased arise and praise thee?

Selah

¹¹ Shall thy lovingkindness be declared in the grave?
Or thy faithfulness in Destruction?

¹² Shall thy wonders be known in the dark?
And thy righteousness in the land of forgetfulness?

¹³ But unto thee, O Jehovah, have I cried;
And in the morning shall my prayer come before thee.

¹⁴ Jehovah, why castest thou off my soul?
Why hidest thou thy face from me?

¹⁵ I am afflicted and ready to die from my youth up:
While I suffer thy terrors I am distracted.

¹⁶ Thy fierce wrath is gone over me;
Thy terrors have cut me off.

¹⁷ They came round about me like water all the day long;
They compassed me about together.

¹⁸ Lover and friend hast thou put far from me,
And mine acquaintance into darkness.

89

Maskil of Ethan the Ezrahite.

¹ I will sing of the lovingkindness of Jehovah forever:
With my mouth will I make known thy faithfulness to all generations.

² For I have said, Mercy shall be built up forever;
Thy faithfulness wilt thou establish in the very heavens.

³ I have made a covenant with my chosen,
I have sworn unto David my servant:

⁴ Thy seed will I establish forever,
And build up thy throne to all generations.

Selah

⁵ And the heavens shall praise thy wonders, O Jehovah;
Thy faithfulness also in the assembly of the holy ones.

⁶ For who in the skies can be compared unto Jehovah?
Who among the sons of the mighty is like unto Jehovah,

⁷ A God very terrible in the council of the holy ones,
And to be feared above all them that are round about him?

⁸ O Jehovah God of hosts,
Who is a mighty one, like unto thee, O Jehovah?
And thy faithfulness is round about thee.

⁹ Thou rulest the pride of the sea:
When the waves thereof arise, thou stillest them.
¹⁰ Thou hast broken Rahab in pieces, as one that is slain;
Thou hast scattered thine enemies with the arm of thy strength.
¹¹ The heavens are thine, the earth also is thine:
The world and the fullness thereof, thou hast founded them.
¹² The north and the south, thou hast created them:
Tabor and Hermon rejoice in thy name.
¹³ Thou hast a mighty arm;
Strong is thy hand, and high is thy right hand.
¹⁴ Righteousness and justice are the foundation of thy throne:
Lovingkindness and truth go before thy face.
¹⁵ Blessed is the people that know the joyful sound:
They walk, O Jehovah, in the light of thy countenance.
¹⁶ In thy name do they rejoice all the day;
And in thy righteousness are they exalted.
¹⁷ For thou art the glory of their strength;
And in thy favor our horn shall be exalted.
¹⁸ For our shield belongeth unto Jehovah;
And our king to the Holy One of Israel.

¹⁹ Then thou spakest in vision to thy saints,
And saidst, I have laid help upon one that is mighty;
I have exalted one chosen out of the people.
²⁰ I have found David my servant;
With my holy oil have I anointed him:
²¹ With whom my hand shall be established;
Mine arm also shall strengthen him.
²² The enemy shall not exact from him,
Nor the son of wickedness afflict him.
²³ And I will beat down his adversaries before him,
And smite them that hate him.
²⁴ But my faithfulness and my lovingkindness shall be with him;
And in my name shall his horn be exalted.
²⁵ I will set his hand also on the sea,
And his right hand on the rivers.
²⁶ He shall cry unto me, Thou art my Father,
My God, and the rock of my salvation.
²⁷ I also will make him my firstborn,
The highest of the kings of the earth.
²⁸ My lovingkindness will I keep for him forevermore;
And my covenant shall stand fast with him.
²⁹ His seed also will I make to endure forever,
And his throne as the days of heaven.
³⁰ If his children forsake my law,
And walk not in mine ordinances;
³¹ If they break my statutes,
And keep not my commandments;
³² Then will I visit their transgression with the rod,
And their iniquity with stripes.
³³ But my lovingkindness will I not utterly take from him,

Nor suffer my faithfulness to fail.
³⁴ My covenant will I not break,
Nor alter the thing that is gone out of my lips.
³⁵ Once have I sworn by my holiness:
I will not lie unto David:
³⁶ His seed shall endure forever,
And his throne as the sun before me.
³⁷ It shall be established forever as the moon,
And as the faithful witness in the sky.

Selah

³⁸ But thou hast cast off and rejected,
Thou hast been wroth with thine anointed.
³⁹ Thou hast abhorred the covenant of thy servant:
Thou hast profaned his crown by casting it to the ground.
⁴⁰ Thou hast broken down all his hedges;
Thou hast brought his strongholds to ruin.
⁴¹ All that pass by the way rob him:
He is become a reproach to his neighbors.
⁴² Thou hast exalted the right hand of his adversaries;
Thou hast made all his enemies to rejoice.
⁴³ Yea, thou turnest back the edge of his sword,
And hast not made him to stand in the battle.
⁴⁴ Thou hast made his brightness to cease,
And cast his throne down to the ground.
⁴⁵ The days of his youth hast thou shortened:
Thou hast covered him with shame.

Selah

⁴⁶ How long, O Jehovah? wilt thou hide thyself forever?
How long shall thy wrath burn like fire?
⁴⁷ Oh remember how short my time is:
For what vanity hast thou created all the children of men!
⁴⁸ What man is he that shall live and not see death,
That shall deliver his soul from the power of Sheol?

Selah

⁴⁹ Lord, where are thy former lovingkindnesses,
Which thou swarest unto David in thy faithfulness?
⁵⁰ Remember, Lord, the reproach of thy servants;
How I do bear in my bosom the reproach of all the mighty peoples,
⁵¹ Wherewith thine enemies have reproached, O Jehovah,
Wherewith they have reproached the footsteps of thine anointed.

⁵² Blessed be Jehovah forevermore.
Amen, and Amen.

BOOK IV

90

A Prayer of Moses the man of God.
¹ Lord, thou hast been our dwelling place
In all generations.
² Before the mountains were brought forth,
Or ever thou hadst formed the earth and the world,

Even from everlasting to everlasting, thou art God.
3 Thou turnest man to destruction,
And sayest, Return, ye children of men.
4 For a thousand years in thy sight
Are but as yesterday when it is past,
And as a watch in the night.
5 Thou carriest them away as with a flood; they are as a sleep:
In the morning they are like grass which groweth up.
6 In the morning it flourisheth, and groweth up;
In the evening it is cut down, and withereth.
7 For we are consumed in thine anger,
And in thy wrath are we troubled.
8 Thou hast set our iniquities before thee,
Our secret sins in the light of thy countenance.
9 For all our days are passed away in thy wrath:
We bring our years to an end as a sigh.
10 The days of our years are threescore years and ten,
Or even by reason of strength fourscore years;
Yet is their pride but labor and sorrow;
For it is soon gone, and we fly away.
11 Who knoweth the power of thine anger,
And thy wrath according to the fear that is due unto thee?
12 So teach us to number our days,
That we may get us a heart of wisdom.
13 Return, O Jehovah; how long?
And let it repent thee concerning thy servants.
14 Oh satisfy us in the morning with thy lovingkindness,
That we may rejoice and be glad all our days.
15 Make us glad according to the days wherein thou hast afflicted us,
And the years wherein we have seen evil.
16 Let thy work appear unto thy servants,
And thy glory upon their children.
17 And let the favor of the Lord our God be upon us;
And establish thou the work of our hands upon us;
Yea, the work of our hands establish thou it.

91

1 He that dwelleth in the secret place of the Most High
Shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty.
2 I will say of Jehovah, He is my refuge and my fortress;
My God, in whom I trust.
3 For he will deliver thee from the snare of the fowler,
And from the deadly pestilence.
4 He will cover thee with his pinions,
And under his wings shalt thou take refuge:
His truth is a shield and a buckler.
5 Thou shalt not be afraid for the terror by night,
Nor for the arrow that flieth by day;
6 For the pestilence that walketh in darkness,
Nor for the destruction that wasteth at noonday.

⁷ A thousand shall fall at thy side,
And ten thousand at thy right hand;
But it shall not come nigh thee.
⁸ Only with thine eyes shalt thou behold,
And see the reward of the wicked.
⁹ For thou, O Jehovah, art my refuge!
Thou hast made the Most High thy habitation;
¹⁰ There shall no evil befall thee,
Neither shall any plague come nigh thy tent.
¹¹ For he will give his angels charge over thee,
To keep thee in all thy ways.
¹² They shall bear thee up in their hands,
Lest thou dash thy foot against a stone.
¹³ Thou shalt tread upon the lion and adder:
The young lion and the serpent shalt thou trample under foot.
¹⁴ Because he hath set his love upon me, therefore will I deliver him:
I will set him on high, because he hath known my name.
¹⁵ He shall call upon me, and I will answer him;
I will be with him in trouble:
I will deliver him, and honor him.
¹⁶ With long life will I satisfy him,
And show him my salvation.

92

A Psalm, a Song for the sabbath day.

¹ It is a good thing to give thanks unto Jehovah,
And to sing praises unto thy name, O Most High;
² To show forth thy lovingkindness in the morning,
And thy faithfulness every night,
³ With an instrument of ten strings, and with the psaltery;
With a solemn sound upon the harp.
⁴ For thou, Jehovah, hast made me glad through thy work:
I will triumph in the works of thy hands.
⁵ How great are thy works, O Jehovah!
Thy thoughts are very deep.
⁶ A brutish man knoweth not;
Neither doth a fool understand this:
⁷ When the wicked spring as the grass,
And when all the workers of iniquity do flourish;
It is that they shall be destroyed forever.
⁸ But thou, O Jehovah, art on high forevermore.
⁹ For, lo, thine enemies, O Jehovah,
For, lo, thine enemies shall perish;
All the workers of iniquity shall be scattered.
¹⁰ But my horn hast thou exalted like the horn of the wild ox:
I am anointed with fresh oil.
¹¹ Mine eye also hath seen my desire on mine enemies,
Mine ears have heard my desire of the evildoers that rise up against me.
¹² The righteous shall flourish like the palm tree:
He shall grow like a cedar in Lebanon.
¹³ They are planted in the house of Jehovah;

They shall flourish in the courts of our God.

¹⁴ They shall still bring forth fruit in old age;

They shall be full of sap and green:

¹⁵ To show that Jehovah is upright;

He is my rock, and there is no unrighteousness in him.

93

¹ Jehovah reigneth; he is clothed with majesty;

Jehovah is clothed with strength; he hath girded himself therewith:

The world also is established, that it cannot be moved.

² Thy throne is established of old:

Thou art from everlasting.

³ The floods have lifted up, O Jehovah,

The floods have lifted up their voice;

The floods lift up their waves.

⁴ Above the voices of many waters,

The mighty breakers of the sea,

Jehovah on high is mighty.

⁵ Thy testimonies are very sure:

Holiness becometh thy house,

O Jehovah, forevermore.

94

¹ O Jehovah, thou God to whom vengeance belongeth,
Thou God to whom vengeance belongeth, shine forth.

² Lift up thyself, thou judge of the earth:

Render to the proud their desert.

³ Jehovah, how long shall the wicked,

How long shall the wicked triumph?

⁴ They prate, they speak arrogantly:

All the workers of iniquity boast themselves.

⁵ They break in pieces thy people, O Jehovah,

And afflict thy heritage.

⁶ They slay the widow and the sojourner,

And murder the fatherless.

⁷ And they say, Jehovah will not see,
Neither will the God of Jacob consider.

⁸ Consider, ye brutish among the people;

And ye fools, when will ye be wise?

⁹ He that planted the ear, shall he not hear?

He that formed the eye, shall he not see?

¹⁰ He that chastiseth the nations, shall not he correct,
Even he that teacheth man knowledge?

¹¹ Jehovah knoweth the thoughts of man,

That they are vanity.

¹² Blessed is the man whom thou chastenest, O Jehovah,
And teachest out of thy law;

¹³ That thou mayest give him rest from the days of adversity,
Until the pit be dug for the wicked.

¹⁴ For Jehovah will not cast off his people,

Neither will he forsake his inheritance.

¹⁵ For judgment shall return unto righteousness;
And all the upright in heart shall follow it.

¹⁶ Who will rise up for me against the evildoers?
Who will stand up for me against the workers of iniquity?

¹⁷ Unless Jehovah had been my help,
My soul had soon dwelt in silence.

¹⁸ When I said, My foot slippeth;
Thy lovingkindness, O Jehovah, held me up.

¹⁹ In the multitude of my thoughts within me
Thy comforts delight my soul.

²⁰ Shall the throne of wickedness have fellowship with thee,
Which frameth mischief by statute?

²¹ They gather themselves together against the soul of the righteous,
And condemn the innocent blood.

²² But Jehovah hath been my high tower,
And my God the rock of my refuge.

²³ And he hath brought upon them their own iniquity,
And will cut them off in their own wickedness;
Jehovah our God will cut them off.

¹ Oh come, let us sing unto Jehovah;
Let us make a joyful noise to the rock of our salvation.

² Let us come before his presence with thanksgiving;
Let us make a joyful noise unto him with psalms.

³ For Jehovah is a great God,
And a great King above all gods.

⁴ In his hand are the deep places of the earth;
The heights of the mountains are his also.

⁵ The sea is his, and he made it;
And his hands formed the dry land.

⁶ Oh come, let us worship and bow down;
Let us kneel before Jehovah our Maker:

⁷ For he is our God,
And we are the people of his pasture, and the sheep of his hand.
Today, oh that ye would hear his voice!

⁸ Harden not your heart, as at Meribah,
As in the day of Massah in the wilderness;

⁹ When your fathers tempted me,
Proved me, and saw my work.

¹⁰ Forty years long was I grieved with that generation,
And said, It is a people that do err in their heart,
And they have not known my ways:

¹¹ Wherefore I sware in my wrath,
That they should not enter into my rest.

Sing unto Jehovah, all the earth.

² Sing unto Jehovah, bless his name;

Show forth his salvation from day to day.
3 Declare his glory among the nations,
His marvelous works among all the peoples.
4 For great is Jehovah, and greatly to be praised:
He is to be feared above all gods.
5 For all the gods of the peoples are idols;
But Jehovah made the heavens.
6 Honor and majesty are before him:
Strength and beauty are in his sanctuary.
7 Ascribe unto Jehovah, ye kindreds of the peoples,
Ascribe unto Jehovah glory and strength.
8 Ascribe unto Jehovah the glory due unto his name:
Bring an offering, and come into his courts.
9 Oh worship Jehovah in holy array:
Tremble before him, all the earth.
10 Say among the nations, Jehovah reigneth:
The world also is established that it cannot be moved:
He will judge the peoples with equity.
11 Let the heavens be glad, and let the earth rejoice;
Let the sea roar, and the fullness thereof;
12 Let the field exult, and all that is therein;
Then shall all the trees of the wood sing for joy
13 Before Jehovah; for he cometh,
For he cometh to judge the earth:
He will judge the world with righteousness,
And the peoples with his truth.

97

1 Jehovah reigneth; let the earth rejoice;
Let the multitude of isles be glad.
2 Clouds and darkness are round about him:
Righteousness and justice are the foundation of his throne.
3 A fire goeth before him,
And burneth up his adversaries round about.
4 His lightnings lightened the world:
The earth saw, and trembled.
5 The mountains melted like wax at the presence of Jehovah,
At the presence of the Lord of the whole earth.
6 The heavens declare his righteousness,
And all the peoples have seen his glory.
7 Let all them be put to shame that serve graven images,
That boast themselves of idols:
Worship him, all ye gods.
8 Zion heard and was glad,
And the daughters of Judah rejoiced,
Because of thy judgments, O Jehovah.
9 For thou, Jehovah, art most high above all the earth:
Thou art exalted far above all gods.
10 O ye that love Jehovah, hate evil:
He preserveth the souls of his saints;
He delivereth them out of the hand of the wicked.

¹¹ Light is sown for the righteous,
And gladness for the upright in heart.
¹² Be glad in Jehovah, ye righteous;
And give thanks to his holy memorial name.

98

A Psalm.

For he hath done marvelous things:
His right hand, and his holy arm, hath wrought salvation for him.
² Jehovah hath made known his salvation:
His righteousness hath he openly shown in the sight of the nations.
³ He hath remembered his lovingkindness and his faithfulness toward the house of Israel:
All the ends of the earth have seen the salvation of our God.
⁴ Make a joyful noise unto Jehovah, all the earth:
Break forth and sing for joy, yea, sing praises.
⁵ Sing praises unto Jehovah with the harp;
With the harp and the voice of melody.
⁶ With trumpets and sound of cornet
Make a joyful noise before the King, Jehovah.
⁷ Let the sea roar, and the fullness thereof;
The world, and they that dwell therein;
⁸ Let the floods clap their hands;
Let the hills sing for joy together
⁹ Before Jehovah; for he cometh to judge the earth:
He will judge the world with righteousness,
And the peoples with equity.

He sitteth above the cherubim; let the earth be moved.
² Jehovah is great in Zion;
And he is high above all the peoples.
³ Let them praise thy great and terrible name:
Holy is he.

⁴ The king's strength also loveth justice;
Thou dost establish equity;
Thou executest justice and righteousness in Jacob.
⁵ Exalt ye Jehovah our God,
And worship at his footstool:
Holy is he.

⁶ Moses and Aaron among his priests,
And Samuel among them that call upon his name;
They called upon Jehovah, and he answered them.
⁷ He spake unto them in the pillar of cloud:
They kept his testimonies,
And the statute that he gave them.
⁸ Thou answeredst them, O Jehovah our God:

Thou wast a God that forgavest them,
Though thou tookest vengeance of their doings.
⁹ Exalt ye Jehovah our God,
And worship at his holy hill;
For Jehovah our God is holy.

100

A Psalm of thanksgiving.

¹ Make a joyful noise unto Jehovah, all ye lands.
² Serve Jehovah with gladness:
Come before his presence with singing.
³ Know ye that Jehovah, he is God:
It is he that hath made us, and we are his;
We are his people, and the sheep of his pasture.
⁴ Enter into his gates with thanksgiving,
And into his courts with praise:
Give thanks unto him, and bless his name.
⁵ For Jehovah is good; his lovingkindness endureth forever,
And his faithfulness unto all generations.

101

A Psalm of David.

¹ I will sing of lovingkindness and justice:
Unto thee, O Jehovah, will I sing praises.
² I will behave myself wisely in a perfect way:
Oh when wilt thou come unto me?
I will walk within my house with a perfect heart.
³ I will set no base thing before mine eyes:
I hate the work of them that turn aside;
It shall not cleave unto me.
⁴ A perverse heart shall depart from me:
I will know no evil thing.
⁵ Whoso privily slandereth his neighbor, him will I destroy:
Him that hath a high look and a proud heart will I not suffer.
⁶ Mine eyes shall be upon the faithful of the land, that they may dwell with me:
He that walketh in a perfect way, he shall minister unto me.
⁷ He that worketh deceit shall not dwell within my house:
He that speaketh falsehood shall not be established before mine eyes.
⁸ Morning by morning will I destroy all the wicked of the land;
To cut off all the workers of iniquity from the city of Jehovah.

102

A Prayer of the afflicted, when he is overwhelmed, and poureth out his complaint before Jehovah.

¹ Hear my prayer, O Jehovah,
And let my cry come unto thee.
² Hide not thy face from me in the day of my distress:
Incline thine ear unto me;
In the day when I call answer me speedily.
³ For my days consume away like smoke,
And my bones are burned as a firebrand.

⁴ My heart is smitten like grass, and withered;
For I forget to eat my bread.

⁵ By reason of the voice of my groaning
My bones cleave to my flesh.

⁶ I am like a pelican of the wilderness;
I am become as an owl of the waste places.

⁷ I watch, and am become like a sparrow
That is alone upon the housetop.

⁸ Mine enemies reproach me all the day;
They that are mad against me do curse by me.

⁹ For I have eaten ashes like bread,
And mingled my drink with weeping,

¹⁰ Because of thine indignation and thy wrath:
For thou hast taken me up, and cast me away.

¹¹ My days are like a shadow that declineth;
And I am withered like grass.

¹² But thou, O Jehovah, wilt abide forever;
And thy memorial name unto all generations.

¹³ Thou wilt arise, and have mercy upon Zion;
For it is time to have pity upon her,
Yea, the set time is come.

¹⁴ For thy servants take pleasure in her stones,
And have pity upon her dust.

¹⁵ So the nations shall fear the name of Jehovah,
And all the kings of the earth thy glory.

¹⁶ For Jehovah hath built up Zion;
He hath appeared in his glory.

¹⁷ He hath regarded the prayer of the destitute,
And hath not despised their prayer.

¹⁸ This shall be written for the generation to come;
And a people which shall be created shall praise Jehovah.

¹⁹ For he hath looked down from the height of his sanctuary;
From heaven did Jehovah behold the earth;

²⁰ To hear the sighing of the prisoner;
To loose those that are appointed to death;

²¹ That men may declare the name of Jehovah in Zion,
And his praise in Jerusalem;

²² When the peoples are gathered together,
And the kingdoms, to serve Jehovah.

²³ He weakened my strength in the way;
He shortened my days.

²⁴ I said, O my God, take me not away in the midst of my days:
Thy years are throughout all generations.

²⁵ Of old didst thou lay the foundation of the earth;
And the heavens are the work of thy hands.

²⁶ They shall perish, but thou shalt endure;
Yea, all of them shall wax old like a garment;
As a vesture shalt thou change them, and they shall be changed:

²⁷ But thou art the same,
And thy years shall have no end.
²⁸ The children of thy servants shall continue,
And their seed shall be established before thee.

103

A Psalm of David.

¹ Bless Jehovah, O my soul;
And all that is within me, bless his holy name.
² Bless Jehovah, O my soul,
And forget not all his benefits:
³ Who forgiveth all thine iniquities;
Who healeth all thy diseases;
⁴ Who redeemeth thy life from destruction;
Who crowneth thee with lovingkindness and tender mercies;
⁵ Who satisfieth thy desire with good things,
So that thy youth is renewed like the eagle.
⁶ Jehovah executeth righteous acts,
And judgments for all that are oppressed.
⁷ He made known his ways unto Moses,
His doings unto the children of Israel.
⁸ Jehovah is merciful and gracious,
Slow to anger, and abundant in lovingkindness.
⁹ He will not always chide;
Neither will he keep his anger forever.
¹⁰ He hath not dealt with us after our sins,
Nor rewarded us after our iniquities.
¹¹ For as the heavens are high above the earth,
So great is his lovingkindness toward them that fear him.
¹² As far as the east is from the west,
So far hath he removed our transgressions from us.
¹³ Like as a father pitieth his children,
So Jehovah pitieth them that fear him.
¹⁴ For he knoweth our frame;
He remembereth that we are dust.
¹⁵ As for man, his days are as grass;
As a flower of the field, so he flourisheth.
¹⁶ For the wind passeth over it, and it is gone;
And the place thereof shall know it no more.
¹⁷ But the lovingkindness of Jehovah is from everlasting to everlasting upon them that fear him,
And his righteousness unto children's children;
¹⁸ To such as keep his covenant,
And to those that remember his precepts to do them.
¹⁹ Jehovah hath established his throne in the heavens;
And his kingdom ruleth over all.
²⁰ Bless Jehovah, ye his angels,
That are mighty in strength, that fulfill his word,
Harkening unto the voice of his word.
²¹ Bless Jehovah, all ye his hosts,
Ye ministers of his, that do his pleasure.

²² Bless Jehovah, all ye his works,
In all places of his dominion:
Bless Jehovah, O my soul.

104

¹ Bless Jehovah, O my soul.
O Jehovah my God, thou art very great;
Thou art clothed with honor and majesty:
² Who coverest thyself with light as with a garment;
Who stretchest out the heavens like a curtain;
³ Who layeth the beams of his chambers in the waters;
Who maketh the clouds his chariot;
Who walketh upon the wings of the wind;
⁴ Who maketh winds his messengers;
Flames of fire his ministers;
⁵ Who laid the foundations of the earth,
That it should not be moved forever.
⁶ Thou coveredst it with the deep as with a vesture;
The waters stood above the mountains.
⁷ At thy rebuke they fled;
At the voice of thy thunder they hasted away
⁸ (The mountains rose, the valleys sank down)
Unto the place which thou hadst founded for them.
⁹ Thou hast set a bound that they may not pass over;
That they turn not again to cover the earth.
¹⁰ He sendeth forth springs into the valleys;
They run among the mountains;
¹¹ They give drink to every beast of the field;
The wild asses quench their thirst.
¹² By them the birds of the heavens have their habitation;
They sing among the branches.
¹³ He watereth the mountains from his chambers:
The earth is filled with the fruit of thy works.
¹⁴ He causeth the grass to grow for the cattle,
And herb for the service of man;
That he may bring forth food out of the earth,
¹⁵ And wine that maketh glad the heart of man,
And oil to make his face to shine,
And bread that strengtheneth man's heart.
¹⁶ The trees of Jehovah are filled with moisture,
The cedars of Lebanon, which he hath planted;
¹⁷ Where the birds make their nests:
As for the stork, the fir trees are her house.
¹⁸ The high mountains are for the wild goats;
The rocks are a refuge for the conies.
¹⁹ He appointed the moon for seasons:
The sun knoweth his going down.
²⁰ Thou makest darkness, and it is night,
Wherein all the beasts of the forest creep forth.
²¹ The young lions roar after their prey,
And seek their food from God.

22 The sun ariseth, they get them away,
And lay them down in their dens.
23 Man goeth forth unto his work
And to his labor until the evening.
24 O Jehovah, how manifold are thy works!
In wisdom hast thou made them all:
The earth is full of thy riches.
25 Yonder is the sea, great and wide,
Wherein are things creeping innumerable,
Both small and great beasts.
26 There go the ships;
There is leviathan, whom thou hast formed to play therein.
27 These wait all for thee,
That thou mayest give them their food in due season.
28 Thou givest unto them, they gather;
Thou openest thy hand, they are satisfied with good.
29 Thou hidest thy face, they are troubled;
Thou takest away their breath, they die,
And return to their dust.
30 Thou sendest forth thy Spirit, they are created;
And thou renewest the face of the ground.
31 Let the glory of Jehovah endure forever;
Let Jehovah rejoice in his works:
32 Who looketh on the earth, and it trembleth;
He toucheth the mountains, and they smoke.
33 I will sing unto Jehovah as long as I live:
I will sing praise to my God while I have any being.
34 Let my meditation be sweet unto him:
I will rejoice in Jehovah.
35 Let sinners be consumed out of the earth.
And let the wicked be no more.
Bless Jehovah, O my soul.
Praise ye Jehovah.

105

1 Oh give thanks unto Jehovah, call upon his name;
Make known among the peoples his doings.
2 Sing unto him, sing praises unto him;
Talk ye of all his marvelous works.
3 Glory ye in his holy name:
Let the heart of them rejoice that seek Jehovah.
4 Seek ye Jehovah and his strength;
Seek his face evermore.
5 Remember his marvelous works that he hath done,
His wonders, and the judgments of his mouth,
6 O ye seed of Abraham his servant,
Ye children of Jacob, his chosen ones.
7 He is Jehovah our God:
His judgments are in all the earth.
8 He hath remembered his covenant forever,
The word which he commanded to a thousand generations,

⁹ The covenant which he made with Abraham,
And his oath unto Isaac,
¹⁰ And confirmed the same unto Jacob for a statute,
To Israel for an everlasting covenant,
¹¹ Saying, Unto thee will I give the land of Canaan,
The lot of your inheritance;
¹² When they were but a few men in number,
Yea, very few, and sojourners in it.
¹³ And they went about from nation to nation,
From one kingdom to another people.
¹⁴ He suffered no man to do them wrong;
Yea, he reprov'd kings for their sakes,
¹⁵ Saying, Touch not mine anointed ones,
And do my prophets no harm.
¹⁶ And he called for a famine upon the land;
He brake the whole staff of bread.
¹⁷ He sent a man before them;
Joseph was sold for a servant:
¹⁸ His feet they hurt with fetters:
He was laid in chains of iron,
¹⁹ Until the time that his word came to pass,
The word of Jehovah tried him.
²⁰ The king sent and loosed him;
Even the ruler of peoples, and let him go free.
²¹ He made him lord of his house,
And ruler of all his substance;
²² To bind his princes at his pleasure,
And teach his elders wisdom.
²³ Israel also came into Egypt;
And Jacob sojourned in the land of Ham.
²⁴ And he increased his people greatly,
And made them stronger than their adversaries.
²⁵ He turned their heart to hate his people,
To deal subtly with his servants.
²⁶ He sent Moses his servant,
And Aaron whom he had chosen.
²⁷ They set among them his signs,
And wonders in the land of Ham.
²⁸ He sent darkness, and made it dark;
And they rebelled not against his words.
²⁹ He turned their waters into blood,
And slew their fish.
³⁰ Their land swarmed with frogs
In the chambers of their kings.
³¹ He spake, and there came swarms of flies,
And lice in all their borders.
³² He gave them hail for rain,
And flaming fire in their land.
³³ He smote their vines also and their fig trees,
And brake the trees of their borders.
³⁴ He spake, and the locust came,
And the grasshopper, and that without number,

³⁵ And did eat up every herb in their land,
And did eat up the fruit of their ground.
³⁶ He smote also all the firstborn in their land,
The chief of all their strength.
³⁷ And he brought them forth with silver and gold;
And there was not one feeble person among his tribes.
³⁸ Egypt was glad when they departed;
For the fear of them had fallen upon them.
³⁹ He spread a cloud for a covering,
And fire to give light in the night.
⁴⁰ They asked, and he brought quails,
And satisfied them with the bread of heaven.
⁴¹ He opened the rock, and waters gushed out;
They ran in the dry places like a river.
⁴² For he remembered his holy word,
And Abraham his servant.
⁴³ And he brought forth his people with joy,
And his chosen with singing.
⁴⁴ And he gave them the lands of the nations;
And they took the labor of the peoples in possession:
⁴⁵ That they might keep his statutes,
And observe his laws.
Praise ye Jehovah.

106

Oh give thanks unto Jehovah; for he is good;
For his lovingkindness endureth forever.
² Who can utter the mighty acts of Jehovah,
Or show forth all his praise?
³ Blessed are they that keep justice,
And he that doeth righteousness at all times.
⁴ Remember me, O Jehovah, with the favor that thou bearest unto thy people;
Oh visit me with thy salvation,
⁵ That I may see the prosperity of thy chosen,
That I may rejoice in the gladness of thy nation,
That I may glory with thine inheritance.

⁶ We have sinned with our fathers,
We have committed iniquity, we have done wickedly.
⁷ Our fathers understood not thy wonders in Egypt;
They remembered not the multitude of thy lovingkindnesses,
But were rebellious at the sea, even at the Red Sea.
⁸ Nevertheless he saved them for his name's sake,
That he might make his mighty power to be known.
⁹ He rebuked the Red Sea also, and it was dried up:
So he led them through the depths, as through a wilderness.
¹⁰ And he saved them from the hand of him that hated them,
And redeemed them from the hand of the enemy.
¹¹ And the waters covered their adversaries;
There was not one of them left.

12 Then believed they his words;
They sang his praise.
13 They soon forgot his works;
They waited not for his counsel,
14 But lusted exceedingly in the wilderness,
And tempted God in the desert.
15 And he gave them their request,
But sent leanness into their soul.
16 They envied Moses also in the camp,
And Aaron the saint of Jehovah.
17 The earth opened and swallowed up Dathan,
And covered the company of Abiram.
18 And a fire was kindled in their company;
The flame burned up the wicked.
19 They made a calf in Horeb,
And worshiped a molten image.
20 Thus they changed their glory
For the likeness of an ox that eateth grass.
21 They forgot God their Savior,
Who had done great things in Egypt,
22 Wondrous works in the land of Ham,
And terrible things by the Red Sea.
23 Therefore he said that he would destroy them,
Had not Moses his chosen stood before him in the breach,
To turn away his wrath, lest he should destroy them.
24 Yea, they despised the pleasant land,
They believed not his word,
25 But murmured in their tents,
And hearkened not unto the voice of Jehovah.
26 Therefore he swore unto them,
That he would overthrow them in the wilderness,
27 And that he would overthrow their seed among the nations,
And scatter them in the lands.
28 They joined themselves also unto Baal-peor,
And ate the sacrifices of the dead.
29 Thus they provoked him to anger with their doings;
And the plague brake in upon them.
30 Then stood up Phinehas, and executed judgment;
And so the plague was stayed.
31 And that was reckoned unto him for righteousness,
Unto all generations forevermore.
32 They angered him also at the waters of Meribah,
So that it went ill with Moses for their sakes;
33 Because they were rebellious against his spirit,
And he spake unadvisedly with his lips.
34 They did not destroy the peoples,
As Jehovah commanded them,
35 But mingled themselves with the nations,
And learned their works,
36 And served their idols,
Which became a snare unto them.

³⁷ Yea, they sacrificed their sons and their daughters unto demons,
³⁸ And shed innocent blood,
Even the blood of their sons and of their daughters,
Whom they sacrificed unto the idols of Canaan;
And the land was polluted with blood.
³⁹ Thus were they defiled with their works,
And played the harlot in their doings.
⁴⁰ Therefore was the wrath of Jehovah kindled against his people,
And he abhorred his inheritance.
⁴¹ And he gave them into the hand of the nations;
And they that hated them ruled over them.
⁴² Their enemies also oppressed them,
And they were brought into subjection under their hand.
⁴³ Many times did he deliver them;
But they were rebellious in their counsel,
And were brought low in their iniquity.
⁴⁴ Nevertheless he regarded their distress,
When he heard their cry:
⁴⁵ And he remembered for them his covenant,
And repented according to the multitude of his lovingkindnesses.
⁴⁶ He made them also to be pitied
Of all those that carried them captive.

⁴⁷ Save us, O Jehovah our God,
And gather us from among the nations,
To give thanks unto thy holy name,
And to triumph in thy praise.

⁴⁸ Blessed be Jehovah, the God of Israel,
From everlasting even to everlasting.
And let all the people say, Amen.
Praise ye Jehovah.

BOOK V

107

¹ O give thanks unto Jehovah; for he is good;
For his lovingkindness endureth forever.
² Let the redeemed of Jehovah say so,
Whom he hath redeemed from the hand of the adversary,
³ And gathered out of the lands,
From the east and from the west,
From the north and from the south.
⁴ They wandered in the wilderness in a desert way;
They found no city of habitation.
⁵ Hungry and thirsty,
Their soul fainted in them.
⁶ Then they cried unto Jehovah in their trouble,
And he delivered them out of their distresses,
⁷ He led them also by a straight way,
That they might go to a city of habitation.

⁸ Oh that men would praise Jehovah for his lovingkindness,
And for his wonderful works to the children of men!
⁹ For he satisfieth the longing soul,
And the hungry soul he filleth with good.

¹⁰ Such as sat in darkness and in the shadow of death,
Being bound in affliction and iron,
¹¹ Because they rebelled against the words of God,
And contemned the counsel of the Most High:
¹² Therefore he brought down their heart with labor;
They fell down, and there was none to help.
¹³ Then they cried unto Jehovah in their trouble,
And he saved them out of their distresses.
¹⁴ He brought them out of darkness and the shadow of death,
And brake their bonds in sunder.
¹⁵ Oh that men would praise Jehovah for his lovingkindness,
And for his wonderful works to the children of men!
¹⁶ For he hath broken the gates of brass,
And cut the bars of iron in sunder.

¹⁷ Fools because of their transgression,
And because of their iniquities, are afflicted.
¹⁸ Their soul abhorreth all manner of food;
And they draw near unto the gates of death.
¹⁹ Then they cry unto Jehovah in their trouble,
And he saveth them out of their distresses.
²⁰ He sendeth his word, and healeth them,
And delivereth them from their destructions.
²¹ Oh that men would praise Jehovah for his lovingkindness,
And for his wonderful works to the children of men!
²² And let them offer the sacrifices of thanksgiving,
And declare his works with singing.

²³ They that go down to the sea in ships,
That do business in great waters;
²⁴ These see the works of Jehovah,
And his wonders in the deep.
²⁵ For he commandeth, and raiseth the stormy wind,
Which lifteth up the waves thereof.
²⁶ They mount up to the heavens, they go down again to the depths:
Their soul melteth away because of trouble.
²⁷ They reel to and fro, and stagger like a drunken man,
And are at their wits' end.
²⁸ Then they cry unto Jehovah in their trouble,
And he bringeth them out of their distresses.
²⁹ He maketh the storm a calm,
So that the waves thereof are still.
³⁰ Then are they glad because they are quiet;
So he bringeth them unto their desired haven.
³¹ Oh that men would praise Jehovah for his lovingkindness,
And for his wonderful works to the children of men!
³² Let them exalt him also in the assembly of the people,

And praise him in the seat of the elders.

³³ He turneth rivers into a wilderness,
And watersprings into a thirsty ground;
³⁴ A fruitful land into a salt desert,
For the wickedness of them that dwell therein.
³⁵ He turneth a wilderness into a pool of water,
And a dry land into watersprings.
³⁶ And there he maketh the hungry to dwell,
That they may prepare a city of habitation,
³⁷ And sow fields, and plant vineyards,
And get them fruits of increase.
³⁸ He blesseth them also, so that they are multiplied greatly;
And he suffereth not their cattle to decrease.
³⁹ Again, they are diminished and bowed down
Through oppression, trouble, and sorrow.
⁴⁰ He poureth contempt upon princes,
And causeth them to wander in the waste, where there is no way.
⁴¹ Yet setteth he the needy on high from affliction,
And maketh him families like a flock.
⁴² The upright shall see it, and be glad;
And all iniquity shall stop her mouth.
⁴³ Whoso is wise will give heed to these things;
And they will consider the lovingkindnesses of Jehovah.

A Song, a Psalm of David.

¹ My heart is fixed, O God;
I will sing, yea, I will sing praises, even with my glory.
² Awake, psaltery and harp:
I myself will awake right early.
³ I will give thanks unto thee, O Jehovah, among the peoples;
And I will sing praises unto thee among the nations.
⁴ For thy lovingkindness is great above the heavens;
And thy truth reacheth unto the skies.
⁵ Be thou exalted, O God, above the heavens,
And thy glory above all the earth.
⁶ That thy beloved may be delivered,
Save with thy right hand, and answer us.
⁷ God hath spoken in his holiness: I will exult;
I will divide Shechem, and mete out the valley of Succoth.
⁸ Gilead is mine; Manasseh is mine;
Ephraim also is the defense of my head;
Judah is my scepter.
⁹ Moab is my washpot;
Upon Edom will I cast my shoe;
Over Philistia will I shout.
¹⁰ Who will bring me into the fortified city?
Who hath led me unto Edom?
¹¹ Hast not thou cast us off, O God?
And thou goest not forth, O God, with our hosts.

¹² Give us help against the adversary;
For vain is the help of man.
¹³ Through God we shall do valiantly:
For he it is that will tread down our adversaries.

109

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

¹ Hold not thy peace, O God of my praise;
² For the mouth of the wicked and the mouth of deceit have they opened against me:
They have spoken unto me with a lying tongue.
³ They have compassed me about also with words of hatred,
And fought against me without a cause.
⁴ For my love they are my adversaries:
But I give myself unto prayer.
⁵ And they have rewarded me evil for good,
And hatred for my love.
⁶ Set thou a wicked man over him;
And let an adversary stand at his right hand.
⁷ When he is judged, let him come forth guilty;
And let his prayer be turned into sin.
⁸ Let his days be few;
And let another take his office.
⁹ Let his children be fatherless,
And his wife a widow.
¹⁰ Let his children be vagabonds, and beg;
And let them seek their bread out of their desolate places.
¹¹ Let the extortioner catch all that he hath;
And let strangers make spoil of his labor.
¹² Let there be none to extend kindness unto him;
Neither let there be any to have pity on his fatherless children.
¹³ Let his posterity be cut off;
In the generation following let their name be blotted out.
¹⁴ Let the iniquity of his fathers be remembered with Jehovah;
And let not the sin of his mother be blotted out.
¹⁵ Let them be before Jehovah continually,
That he may cut off the memory of them from the earth;
¹⁶ Because he remembered not to show kindness,
But persecuted the poor and needy man,
And the broken in heart, to slay them.
¹⁷ Yea, he loved cursing, and it came unto him;
And he delighted not in blessing, and it was far from him.
¹⁸ He clothed himself also with cursing as with his garment,
And it came into his inward parts like water,
And like oil into his bones.
¹⁹ Let it be unto him as the raiment wherewith he covereth himself,
And for the girdle wherewith he is girded continually.
²⁰ This is the reward of mine adversaries from Jehovah,
And of them that speak evil against my soul.
²¹ But deal thou with me, O Jehovah the Lord, for thy name's sake:
Because thy lovingkindness is good, deliver thou me;
²² For I am poor and needy,
And my heart is wounded within me.

²³ I am gone like the shadow when it declineth:
I am tossed up and down as the locust.
²⁴ My knees are weak through fasting;
And my flesh faileth of fatness.
²⁵ I am become also a reproach unto them:
When they see me, they shake their head.
²⁶ Help me, O Jehovah my God;
Oh save me according to thy lovingkindness:
²⁷ That they may know that this is thy hand;
That thou, Jehovah, hast done it.
²⁸ Let them curse, but bless thou:
When they arise, they shall be put to shame,
But thy servant shall rejoice.
²⁹ Let mine adversaries be clothed with dishonor,
And let them cover themselves with their own shame as with a robe.
³⁰ I will give great thanks unto Jehovah with my mouth;
Yea, I will praise him among the multitude.
³¹ For he will stand at the right hand of the needy,
To save him from them that judge his soul.

110

A Psalm of David.

¹ Jehovah saith unto my Lord, Sit thou at my right hand,
Until I make thine enemies thy footstool.
² Jehovah will send forth the rod of thy strength out of Zion:
Rule thou in the midst of thine enemies.
³ Thy people offer themselves willingly
In the day of thy power, in holy array:
Out of the womb of the morning
Thou hast the dew of thy youth.
⁴ Jehovah hath sworn, and will not repent:
Thou art a priest forever
After the order of Melchizedek.
⁵ The Lord at thy right hand
Will strike through kings in the day of his wrath.
⁶ He will judge among the nations,
He will fill the places with dead bodies;
He will strike through the head in many countries.
⁷ He will drink of the brook in the way:
Therefore will he lift up the head.

I will give thanks unto Jehovah with my whole heart,
In the council of the upright, and in the congregation.
² The works of Jehovah are great,
Sought out of all them that have pleasure therein.
³ His work is honor and majesty;
And his righteousness endureth forever.
⁴ He hath made his wonderful works to be remembered:
Jehovah is gracious and merciful.

⁵ He hath given food unto them that fear him:
He will ever be mindful of his covenant.
⁶ He hath shown his people the power of his works,
In giving them the heritage of the nations.
⁷ The works of his hands are truth and justice;
All his precepts are sure.
⁸ They are established forever and ever;
They are done in truth and uprightness.
⁹ He hath sent redemption unto his people;
He hath commanded his covenant forever:
Holy and reverend is his name.
¹⁰ The fear of Jehovah is the beginning of wisdom;
A good understanding have all they that do his commandments:
His praise endureth forever.

Blessed is the man that feareth Jehovah,
That delighteth greatly in his commandments.
² His seed shall be mighty upon earth:
The generation of the upright shall be blessed.
³ Wealth and riches are in his house;
And his righteousness endureth forever.
⁴ Unto the upright there ariseth light in the darkness:
He is gracious, and merciful, and righteous.
⁵ Well is it with the man that dealeth graciously and lendeth;
He shall maintain his cause in judgment.
⁶ For he shall never be moved;
The righteous shall be had in everlasting remembrance.
⁷ He shall not be afraid of evil tidings:
His heart is fixed, trusting in Jehovah.
⁸ His heart is established, he shall not be afraid,
Until he see his desire upon his adversaries.
⁹ He hath dispersed, he hath given to the needy;
His righteousness endureth forever:
His horn shall be exalted with honor.
¹⁰ The wicked shall see it, and be grieved;
He shall gnash with his teeth, and melt away:
The desire of the wicked shall perish.

113

Praise, O ye servants of Jehovah,
Praise the name of Jehovah.
² Blessed be the name of Jehovah
From this time forth and forevermore.
³ From the rising of the sun unto the going down of the same
Jehovah's name is to be praised.
⁴ Jehovah is high above all nations,
And his glory above the heavens.
⁵ Who is like unto Jehovah our God,

That hath his seat on high,
⁶ That humbleth himself to behold
The things that are in heaven and in the earth?
⁷ He raiseth up the poor out of the dust,
And lifteth up the needy from the dunghill;
⁸ That he may set him with princes,
Even with the princes of his people.
⁹ He maketh the barren woman to keep house,
And to be a joyful mother of children.
Praise ye Jehovah.

114

¹ When Israel went forth out of Egypt,
The house of Jacob from a people of strange language;
² Judah became his sanctuary,
Israel his dominion.
³ The sea saw it, and fled;
The Jordan was driven back.
⁴ The mountains skipped like rams,
The little hills like lambs.
⁵ What aileth thee, O thou sea, that thou fleest?
Thou Jordan, that thou turnest back?
⁶ Ye mountains, that ye skip like rams;
Ye little hills, like lambs?
⁷ Tremble, thou earth, at the presence of the Lord,
At the presence of the God of Jacob,
⁸ Who turned the rock into a pool of water,
The flint into a fountain of waters.

115

¹ Not unto us, O Jehovah, not unto us,
But unto thy name give glory,
For thy lovingkindness, and for thy truth's sake.
² Wherefore should the nations say,
Where is now their God?
³ But our God is in the heavens:
He hath done whatsoever he pleased.
⁴ Their idols are silver and gold,
The work of men's hands.
⁵ They have mouths, but they speak not;
Eyes have they, but they see not;
⁶ They have ears, but they hear not;
Noses have they, but they smell not;
⁷ They have hands, but they handle not;
Feet have they, but they walk not;
Neither speak they through their throat.
⁸ They that make them shall be like unto them;
Yea, everyone that trusteth in them.
⁹ O Israel, trust thou in Jehovah:
He is their help and their shield.
¹⁰ O house of Aaron, trust ye in Jehovah:
He is their help and their shield.

¹¹ Ye that fear Jehovah, trust in Jehovah:
He is their help and their shield.
¹² Jehovah hath been mindful of us; he will bless us:
He will bless the house of Israel;
He will bless the house of Aaron.
¹³ He will bless them that fear Jehovah,
Both small and great.
¹⁴ Jehovah increase you more and more,
You and your children.
¹⁵ Blessed are ye of Jehovah,
Who made heaven and earth.
¹⁶ The heavens are the heavens of Jehovah;
But the earth hath he given to the children of men.
¹⁷ The dead praise not Jehovah,
Neither any that go down into silence;
¹⁸ But we will bless Jehovah
From this time forth and forevermore.
Praise ye Jehovah.

116

¹ I love Jehovah, because he heareth
My voice and my supplications.
² Because he hath inclined his ear unto me,
Therefore will I call upon him as long as I live.
³ The cords of death compassed me,
And the pains of Sheol gat hold upon me:
I found trouble and sorrow.
⁴ Then called I upon the name of Jehovah:
O Jehovah, I beseech thee, deliver my soul.
⁵ Gracious is Jehovah, and righteous;
Yea, our God is merciful.
⁶ Jehovah preserveth the simple:
I was brought low, and he saved me.
⁷ Return unto thy rest, O my soul;
For Jehovah hath dealt bountifully with thee.
⁸ For thou hast delivered my soul from death,
Mine eyes from tears,
And my feet from falling.
⁹ I will walk before Jehovah
In the land of the living.
¹⁰ I believe, for I will speak:
I was greatly afflicted:
¹¹ I said in my haste,
All men are liars.
¹² What shall I render unto Jehovah
For all his benefits toward me?
¹³ I will take the cup of salvation,
And call upon the name of Jehovah.
¹⁴ I will pay my vows unto Jehovah,
Yea, in the presence of all his people.
¹⁵ Precious in the sight of Jehovah

Is the death of his saints.

¹⁶ O Jehovah, truly I am thy servant:

I am thy servant, the son of thy handmaid;

Thou hast loosed my bonds.

¹⁷ I will offer to thee the sacrifice of thanksgiving,

And will call upon the name of Jehovah.

¹⁸ I will pay my vows unto Jehovah,

Yea, in the presence of all his people,

¹⁹ In the courts of Jehovah's house,

In the midst of thee, O Jerusalem.

Praise ye Jehovah.

117

Laud him, all ye peoples.

² For his lovingkindness is great toward us;

And the truth of Jehovah endureth forever.

Praise ye Jehovah.

118

¹ Oh give thanks unto Jehovah; for he is good;

For his lovingkindness endureth forever.

² Let Israel now say,

That his lovingkindness endureth forever.

³ Let the house of Aaron now say,

That his lovingkindness endureth forever.

⁴ Let them now that fear Jehovah say,

That his lovingkindness endureth forever.

⁵ Out of my distress I called upon Jehovah:

Jehovah answered me and set me in a large place.

⁶ Jehovah is on my side; I will not fear:

What can man do unto me?

⁷ Jehovah is on my side among them that help me:

Therefore shall I see my desire upon them that hate me.

⁸ It is better to take refuge in Jehovah

Than to put confidence in man.

⁹ It is better to take refuge in Jehovah

Than to put confidence in princes.

¹⁰ All nations compassed me about:

In the name of Jehovah I will cut them off.

¹¹ They compassed me about; yea, they compassed me about:

In the name of Jehovah I will cut them off.

¹² They compassed me about like bees; they are quenched as the fire of thorns:

In the name of Jehovah I will cut them off.

¹³ Thou didst thrust sore at me that I might fall;

But Jehovah helped me.

¹⁴ Jehovah is my strength and song;

And he is become my salvation.

¹⁵ The voice of rejoicing and salvation is in the tents of the righteous:

The right hand of Jehovah doeth valiantly.

16 The right hand of Jehovah is exalted:
 The right hand of Jehovah doeth valiantly.
 17 I shall not die, but live,
 And declare the works of Jehovah.
 18 Jehovah hath chastened me sore;
 But he hath not given me over unto death.
 19 Open to me the gates of righteousness:
 I will enter into them, I will give thanks unto Jehovah.
 20 This is the gate of Jehovah;
 The righteous shall enter into it.
 21 I will give thanks unto thee; for thou hast answered me,
 And art become my salvation.
 22 The stone which the builders rejected
 Is become the head of the corner.
 23 This is Jehovah's doing;
 It is marvelous in our eyes.
 24 This is the day which Jehovah hath made;
 We will rejoice and be glad in it.
 25 Save now, we beseech thee, O Jehovah:
 O Jehovah, we beseech thee, send now prosperity.
 26 Blessed be he that cometh in the name of Jehovah:
 We have blessed you out of the house of Jehovah.
 27 Jehovah is God, and he hath given us light:
 Bind the sacrifice with cords, even unto the horns of the altar.
 28 Thou art my God, and I will give thanks unto thee:
 Thou art my God, I will exalt thee.
 29 Oh give thanks unto Jehovah; for he is good;
 For his lovingkindness endureth forever.

119

⌘ ALEPH.

1 Blessed are they that are perfect in the way,
 Who walk in the law of Jehovah.
 2 Blessed are they that keep his testimonies,
 That seek him with the whole heart.
 3 Yea, they do no unrighteousness;
 They walk in his ways.
 4 Thou hast commanded us thy precepts,
 That we should observe them diligently.
 5 Oh that my ways were established
 To observe thy statutes!
 6 Then shall I not be put to shame,
 When I have respect unto all thy commandments.
 7 I will give thanks unto thee with uprightness of heart,
 When I learn thy righteous judgments.
 8 I will observe thy statutes:
 Oh forsake me not utterly.

⌘ BETH.

9 Wherewith shall a young man cleanse his way?
 By taking heed thereto according to thy word.
 10 With my whole heart have I sought thee:

Oh let me not wander from thy commandments.

¹¹ Thy word have I laid up in my heart,
That I might not sin against thee.

¹² Blessed art thou, O Jehovah:
Teach me thy statutes.

¹³ With my lips have I declared
All the ordinances of thy mouth.

¹⁴ I have rejoiced in the way of thy testimonies,
As much as in all riches.

¹⁵ I will meditate on thy precepts,
And have respect unto thy ways.

¹⁶ I will delight myself in thy statutes:
I will not forget thy word.

י GIMEL.

¹⁷ Deal bountifully with thy servant, that I may live;
So will I observe thy word.

¹⁸ Open thou mine eyes, that I may behold
Wondrous things out of thy law.

¹⁹ I am a sojourner in the earth:
Hide not thy commandments from me.

²⁰ My soul breaketh for the longing
That it hath unto thine ordinances at all times.

²¹ Thou hast rebuked the proud that are cursed,
That do wander from thy commandments.

²² Take away from me reproach and contempt;
For I have kept thy testimonies.

²³ Princes also sat and talked against me;
But thy servant did meditate on thy statutes.

²⁴ Thy testimonies also are my delight
And my counselors.

ד DALETH.

²⁵ My soul cleaveth unto the dust:
Quicken thou me according to thy word.

²⁶ I declared my ways, and thou answeredst me:
Teach me thy statutes.

²⁷ Make me to understand the way of thy precepts:
So shall I meditate on thy wondrous works.

²⁸ My soul melteth for heaviness:
Strengthen thou me according unto thy word.

²⁹ Remove from me the way of falsehood;
And grant me thy law graciously.

³⁰ I have chosen the way of faithfulness:
Thine ordinances have I set before me.

³¹ I cleave unto thy testimonies:
O Jehovah, put me not to shame.

³² I will run the way of thy commandments,
When thou shalt enlarge my heart.

ה HE.

³³ Teach me, O Jehovah, the way of thy statutes;
And I shall keep it unto the end.

³⁴ Give me understanding, and I shall keep thy law;

Yea, I shall observe it with my whole heart.

³⁵ Make me to go in the path of thy commandments;
For therein do I delight.

³⁶ Incline my heart unto thy testimonies,
And not to covetousness.

³⁷ Turn away mine eyes from beholding vanity,
And quicken me in thy ways.

³⁸ Confirm unto thy servant thy word,
Which is in order unto the fear of thee.

³⁹ Turn away my reproach whereof I am afraid;
For thine ordinances are good.

⁴⁰ Behold, I have longed after thy precepts:
Quicken me in thy righteousness.

י VAV.

⁴¹ Let thy lovingkindnesses also come unto me, O Jehovah,
Even thy salvation, according to thy word.

⁴² So shall I have an answer for him that reproacheth me;
For I trust in thy word.

⁴³ And take not the word of truth utterly out of my mouth;
For I have hoped in thine ordinances.

⁴⁴ So shall I observe thy law continually
Forever and ever.

⁴⁵ And I shall walk at liberty;
For I have sought thy precepts.

⁴⁶ I will also speak of thy testimonies before kings,
And shall not be put to shame.

⁴⁷ And I will delight myself in thy commandments,
Which I have loved.

⁴⁸ I will lift up my hands also unto thy commandments, which I have loved;
And I will meditate on thy statutes.

י ZAYIN.

⁴⁹ Remember the word unto thy servant,
Because thou hast made me to hope.

⁵⁰ This is my comfort in my affliction;
For thy word hath quickened me.

⁵¹ The proud have had me greatly in derision:
Yet have I not swerved from thy law.

⁵² I have remembered thine ordinances of old, O Jehovah,
And have comforted myself.

⁵³ Hot indignation hath taken hold upon me,
Because of the wicked that forsake thy law.

⁵⁴ Thy statutes have been my songs
In the house of my pilgrimage.

⁵⁵ I have remembered thy name, O Jehovah, in the night,
And have observed thy law.

⁵⁶ This I have had,
Because I have kept thy precepts.

ה HETH.

⁵⁷ Jehovah is my portion:
I have said that I would observe thy words.

⁵⁸ I entreated thy favor with my whole heart:

Be merciful unto me according to thy word.

⁵⁹ I thought on my ways,
And turned my feet unto thy testimonies.

⁶⁰ I made haste, and delayed not,
To observe thy commandments.

⁶¹ The cords of the wicked have wrapped me round;
But I have not forgotten thy law.

⁶² At midnight I will rise to give thanks unto thee
Because of thy righteous ordinances.

⁶³ I am a companion of all them that fear thee,
And of them that observe thy precepts.

⁶⁴ The earth, O Jehovah, is full of thy lovingkindness:
Teach me thy statutes.

‏ TETH.

⁶⁵ Thou hast dealt well with thy servant,
O Jehovah, according unto thy word.

⁶⁶ Teach me good judgment and knowledge;
For I have believed in thy commandments.

⁶⁷ Before I was afflicted I went astray;
But now I observe thy word.

⁶⁸ Thou art good, and doest good;
Teach me thy statutes.

⁶⁹ The proud have forged a lie against me:
With my whole heart will I keep thy precepts.

⁷⁰ Their heart is as fat as grease;
But I delight in thy law.

⁷¹ It is good for me that I have been afflicted;
That I may learn thy statutes.

⁷² The law of thy mouth is better unto me
Than thousands of gold and silver.

‏ YODH.

⁷³ Thy hands have made me and fashioned me:
Give me understanding, that I may learn thy commandments.

⁷⁴ They that fear thee shall see me and be glad,
Because I have hoped in thy word.

⁷⁵ I know, O Jehovah, that thy judgments are righteous,
And that in faithfulness thou hast afflicted me.

⁷⁶ Let, I pray thee, thy lovingkindness be for my comfort,
According to thy word unto thy servant.

⁷⁷ Let thy tender mercies come unto me, that I may live;
For thy law is my delight.

⁷⁸ Let the proud be put to shame; for they have overthrown me wrongfully:
But I will meditate on thy precepts.

⁷⁹ Let those that fear thee turn unto me;
And they shall know thy testimonies.

⁸⁰ Let my heart be perfect in thy statutes,
That I be not put to shame.

‏ KAPH.

⁸¹ My soul fainteth for thy salvation;
But I hope in thy word.

⁸² Mine eyes fail for thy word,

While I say, When wilt thou comfort me?

⁸³ For I am become like a wineskin in the smoke;
Yet do I not forget thy statutes.

⁸⁴ How many are the days of thy servant?
When wilt thou execute judgment on them that persecute me?

⁸⁵ The proud have dug pits for me,
Who are not according to thy law.

⁸⁶ All thy commandments are faithful:
They persecute me wrongfully; help thou me.

⁸⁷ They had almost consumed me upon earth;
But I forsook not thy precepts.

⁸⁸ Quicken me after thy lovingkindness;
So shall I observe the testimony of thy mouth.

↳ LAMEDH.

⁸⁹ Forever, O Jehovah,
Thy word is settled in heaven.

⁹⁰ Thy faithfulness is unto all generations:
Thou hast established the earth, and it abideth.

⁹¹ They abide this day according to thine ordinances;
For all things are thy servants.

⁹² Unless thy law had been my delight,
I should then have perished in mine affliction.

⁹³ I will never forget thy precepts;
For with them thou hast quickened me.

⁹⁴ I am thine, save me;
For I have sought thy precepts.

⁹⁵ The wicked have waited for me, to destroy me;
But I will consider thy testimonies.

⁹⁶ I have seen an end of all perfection;
But thy commandment is exceeding broad.

↪ MEM.

⁹⁷ Oh how love I thy law!
It is my meditation all the day.

⁹⁸ Thy commandments make me wiser than mine enemies;
For they are ever with me.

⁹⁹ I have more understanding than all my teachers;
For thy testimonies are my meditation.

¹⁰⁰ I understand more than the aged,
Because I have kept thy precepts.

¹⁰¹ I have refrained my feet from every evil way,
That I might observe thy word.

¹⁰² I have not turned aside from thine ordinances;
For thou hast taught me.

¹⁰³ How sweet are thy words unto my taste!
Yea, sweeter than honey to my mouth!

¹⁰⁴ Through thy precepts I get understanding:
Therefore I hate every false way.

↪ NUN.

¹⁰⁵ Thy word is a lamp unto my feet,
And light unto my path.

106 I have sworn, and have confirmed it,
That I will observe thy righteous ordinances.

107 I am afflicted very much:

Quicken me, O Jehovah, according unto thy word.

108 Accept, I beseech thee, the freewill offerings of my mouth, O Jehovah,
And teach me thine ordinances.

109 My soul is continually in my hand;
Yet do I not forget thy law.

110 The wicked have laid a snare for me;
Yet have I not gone astray from thy precepts.

111 Thy testimonies have I taken as a heritage forever;
For they are the rejoicing of my heart.

112 I have inclined my heart to perform thy statutes
Forever, even unto the end.

☞ SAMEKH.

113 I hate them that are of a double mind;
But thy law do I love.

114 Thou art my hiding place and my shield:
I hope in thy word.

115 Depart from me, ye evildoers,
That I may keep the commandments of my God.

116 Uphold me according unto thy word, that I may live;
And let me not be ashamed of my hope.

117 Hold thou me up, and I shall be safe,
And shall have respect unto thy statutes continually.

118 Thou hast set at nought all them that err from thy statutes;
For their deceit is falsehood.

119 Thou puttest away all the wicked of the earth like dross:
Therefore I love thy testimonies.

120 My flesh trembleth for fear of thee;
And I am afraid of thy judgments.

☞ AYIN.

121 I have done justice and righteousness:
Leave me not to mine oppressors.

122 Be surety for thy servant for good:
Let not the proud oppress me.

123 Mine eyes fail for thy salvation,
And for thy righteous word.

124 Deal with thy servant according unto thy lovingkindness,
And teach me thy statutes.

125 I am thy servant; give me understanding,
That I may know thy testimonies.

126 It is time for Jehovah to work;
For they have made void thy law.

127 Therefore I love thy commandments
Above gold, yea, above fine gold.

128 Therefore I esteem all thy precepts concerning all things to be right;
And I hate every false way.

☞ PE.

129 Thy testimonies are wonderful;
Therefore doth my soul keep them.

130 The opening of thy words giveth light;
It giveth understanding unto the simple.

131 I opened wide my mouth, and panted;
For I longed for thy commandments.

132 Turn thee unto me, and have mercy upon me,
As thou usest to do unto those that love thy name.

133 Establish my footsteps in thy word;
And let not any iniquity have dominion over me.

134 Redeem me from the oppression of man:
So will I observe thy precepts.

135 Make thy face to shine upon thy servant;
And teach me thy statutes.

136 Streams of water run down mine eyes,
Because they observe not thy law.

‏ TSADHE.

137 Righteous art thou, O Jehovah,
And upright are thy judgments.

138 Thou hast commanded thy testimonies in righteousness
And very faithfulness.

139 My zeal hath consumed me,
Because mine adversaries have forgotten thy words.

140 Thy word is very pure;
Therefore thy servant loveth it.

141 I am small and despised;
Yet do I not forget thy precepts.

142 Thy righteousness is an everlasting righteousness,
And thy law is truth.

143 Trouble and anguish have taken hold on me;
Yet thy commandments are my delight.

144 Thy testimonies are righteous forever:
Give me understanding, and I shall live.

‏ QOPH.

145 I have called with my whole heart; answer me, O Jehovah:
I will keep thy statutes.

146 I have called unto thee; save me,
And I shall observe thy testimonies.

147 I anticipated the dawning of the morning, and cried:
I hoped in thy words.

148 Mine eyes anticipated the night watches,
That I might meditate on thy word.

149 Hear my voice according unto thy lovingkindness:
Quicken me, O Jehovah, according to thine ordinances.

150 They draw nigh that follow after wickedness;
They are far from thy law.

151 Thou art nigh, O Jehovah;
And all thy commandments are truth.

152 Of old have I known from thy testimonies,
That thou hast founded them forever.

‏ RESH.

153 Consider mine affliction, and deliver me;

For I do not forget thy law.

¹⁵⁴ Plead thou my cause, and redeem me:

Quicken me according to thy word.

¹⁵⁵ Salvation is far from the wicked;

For they seek not thy statutes.

¹⁵⁶ Great are thy tender mercies, O Jehovah:

Quicken me according to thine ordinances.

¹⁵⁷ Many are my persecutors and mine adversaries;

Yet have I not swerved from thy testimonies.

¹⁵⁸ I beheld the treacherous, and was grieved,

Because they observe not thy word.

¹⁵⁹ Consider how I love thy precepts:

Quicken me, O Jehovah, according to thy lovingkindness.

¹⁶⁰ The sum of thy word is truth;

And every one of thy righteous ordinances endureth forever.

Ⲱ SHIN.

¹⁶¹ Princes have persecuted me without a cause;

But my heart standeth in awe of thy words.

¹⁶² I rejoice at thy word,

As one that findeth great spoil.

¹⁶³ I hate and abhor falsehood;

But thy law do I love.

¹⁶⁴ Seven times a day do I praise thee,

Because of thy righteous ordinances.

¹⁶⁵ Great peace have they that love thy law;

And they have no occasion of stumbling.

¹⁶⁶ I have hoped for thy salvation, O Jehovah,

And have done thy commandments.

¹⁶⁷ My soul hath observed thy testimonies;

And I love them exceedingly.

¹⁶⁸ I have observed thy precepts and thy testimonies;

For all my ways are before thee.

Ⲛ TAV.

¹⁶⁹ Let my cry come near before thee, O Jehovah:

Give me understanding according to thy word.

¹⁷⁰ Let my supplication come before thee:

Deliver me according to thy word.

¹⁷¹ Let my lips utter praise;

For thou teachest me thy statutes.

¹⁷² Let my tongue sing of thy word;

For all thy commandments are righteousness.

¹⁷³ Let thy hand be ready to help me;

For I have chosen thy precepts.

¹⁷⁴ I have longed for thy salvation, O Jehovah;

And thy law is my delight.

¹⁷⁵ Let my soul live, and it shall praise thee;

And let thine ordinances help me.

¹⁷⁶ I have gone astray like a lost sheep; seek thy servant;

For I do not forget thy commandments.

120

A Song of Ascents.

¹ In my distress I cried unto Jehovah,
And he answered me.

² Deliver my soul, O Jehovah, from lying lips,
And from a deceitful tongue.

³ What shall be given unto thee, and what shall be done more unto thee,
Thou deceitful tongue?

⁴ Sharp arrows of the mighty,
With coals of juniper.

⁵ Woe is me, that I sojourn in Meshech,
That I dwell among the tents of Kedar!

⁶ My soul hath long had her dwelling
With him that hateth peace.

⁷ I am for peace:
But when I speak, they are for war.

121

A Song of Ascents.

¹ I will lift up mine eyes unto the mountains:
From whence shall my help come?

² My help cometh from Jehovah,
Who made heaven and earth.

³ He will not suffer thy foot to be moved:
He that keepeth thee will not slumber.

⁴ Behold, he that keepeth Israel
Will neither slumber nor sleep.

⁵ Jehovah is thy keeper:
Jehovah is thy shade upon thy right hand.

⁶ The sun shall not smite thee by day,
Nor the moon by night.

⁷ Jehovah will keep thee from all evil;
He will keep thy soul.

⁸ Jehovah will keep thy going out and thy coming in
From this time forth and forevermore.

122

A Song of Ascents; of David.

¹ I was glad when they said unto me,
Let us go unto the house of Jehovah.

² Our feet are standing
Within thy gates, O Jerusalem,

³ Jerusalem, that art built
As a city that is compact together;

⁴ Whither the tribes go up, even the tribes of Jehovah,
For an ordinance for Israel,
To give thanks unto the name of Jehovah.

⁵ For there are set thrones for judgment,
The thrones of the house of David.

⁶ Pray for the peace of Jerusalem:

They shall prosper that love thee.
7 Peace be within thy walls,
And prosperity within thy palaces.
8 For my brethren and companions' sakes,
I will now say, Peace be within thee.
9 For the sake of the house of Jehovah our God
I will seek thy good.

123

A Song of Ascents.

1 Unto thee do I lift up mine eyes,
O thou that sittest in the heavens.
2 Behold, as the eyes of servants look unto the hand of their master,
As the eyes of a maid unto the hand of her mistress;
So our eyes look unto Jehovah our God,
Until he have mercy upon us.
3 Have mercy upon us, O Jehovah, have mercy upon us;
For we are exceedingly filled with contempt.
4 Our soul is exceedingly filled
With the scoffing of those that are at ease,
And with the contempt of the proud.

124

A Song of Ascents; of David.

1 If it had not been Jehovah who was on our side,
Let Israel now say,
2 If it had not been Jehovah who was on our side,
When men rose up against us;
3 Then they had swallowed us up alive,
When their wrath was kindled against us:
4 Then the waters had overwhelmed us,
The stream had gone over our soul;
5 Then the proud waters had gone over our soul.
6 Blessed be Jehovah,
Who hath not given us as a prey to their teeth.
7 Our soul is escaped as a bird out of the snare of the fowlers:
The snare is broken, and we are escaped.
8 Our help is in the name of Jehovah,
Who made heaven and earth.

125

A Song of Ascents.

1 They that trust in Jehovah
Are as mount Zion, which cannot be moved, but abideth forever.
2 As the mountains are round about Jerusalem,
So Jehovah is round about his people
From this time forth and forevermore.
3 For the scepter of wickedness shall not rest upon the lot of the righteous;
That the righteous put not forth their hands unto iniquity.
4 Do good, O Jehovah, unto those that are good,
And to them that are upright in their hearts.

⁵ But as for such as turn aside unto their crooked ways,
Jehovah will lead them forth with the workers of iniquity.
Peace be upon Israel.

126

A Song of Ascents.

¹ When Jehovah brought back those that returned to Zion,
We were like unto them that dream.
² Then was our mouth filled with laughter,
And our tongue with singing:
Then said they among the nations,
Jehovah hath done great things for them.
³ Jehovah hath done great things for us,
Whereof we are glad.
⁴ Turn again our captivity, O Jehovah,
As the streams in the South.
⁵ They that sow in tears shall reap in joy.
⁶ He that goeth forth and weepeth, bearing seed for sowing,
Shall doubtless come again with joy, bringing his sheaves with him.

127

A Song of Ascents; of Solomon.

¹ Except Jehovah build the house,
They labor in vain that build it:
Except Jehovah keep the city,
The watchman waketh but in vain.
² It is vain for you to rise up early,
To take rest late,
To eat the bread of toil;
For so he giveth unto his beloved sleep.
³ Lo, children are a heritage of Jehovah;
And the fruit of the womb is his reward.
⁴ As arrows in the hand of a mighty man,
So are the children of youth.
⁵ Happy is the man that hath his quiver full of them:
They shall not be put to shame,
When they speak with their enemies in the gate.

128

A Song of Ascents.

¹ Blessed is everyone that feareth Jehovah,
That walketh in his ways.
² For thou shalt eat the labor of thy hands:
Happy shalt thou be, and it shall be well with thee.
³ Thy wife shall be as a fruitful vine,
In the innermost parts of thy house;
Thy children like olive plants,
Round about thy table.
⁴ Behold, thus shall the man be blessed
That feareth Jehovah.
⁵ Jehovah bless thee out of Zion:

And see thou the good of Jerusalem all the days of thy life.
6 Yea, see thou thy children's children.
Peace be upon Israel.

129

A Song of Ascents.

1 Many a time have they afflicted me from my youth up,
Let Israel now say,
2 Many a time have they afflicted me from my youth up:
Yet they have not prevailed against me.
3 The plowers plowed upon my back;
They made long their furrows.
4 Jehovah is righteous:
He hath cut asunder the cords of the wicked.
5 Let them be put to shame and turned backward,
All they that hate Zion.
6 Let them be as the grass upon the housetops,
Which withereth before it groweth up;
7 Wherewith the reaper filleth not his hand,
Nor he that bindeth sheaves, his bosom:
8 Neither do they that go by say,
The blessing of Jehovah be upon you;
We bless you in the name of Jehovah.

130

A Song of Ascents.

1 Out of the depths have I cried unto thee, O Jehovah.
2 Lord, hear my voice:
Let thine ears be attentive
To the voice of my supplications.
3 If thou, Jehovah, shouldest mark iniquities,
O Lord, who could stand?
4 But there is forgiveness with thee,
That thou mayest be feared.
5 I wait for Jehovah, my soul doth wait,
And in his word do I hope.
6 My soul waiteth for the Lord
More than watchmen wait for the morning;
Yea, more than watchmen for the morning.
7 O Israel, hope in Jehovah;
For with Jehovah there is lovingkindness,
And with him is plenteous redemption.
8 And he will redeem Israel
From all his iniquities.

131

A Song of Ascents; of David.

1 Jehovah, my heart is not haughty, nor mine eyes lofty;
Neither do I exercise myself in great matters,
Or in things too wonderful for me.
2 Surely I have stilled and quieted my soul;

Like a weaned child with his mother,
Like a weaned child is my soul within me.
³ O Israel, hope in Jehovah
From this time forth and forevermore.

132

A Song of Ascents.

¹ Jehovah, remember for David
All his affliction;
² How he swore unto Jehovah,
And vowed unto the Mighty One of Jacob:
³ Surely I will not come into the tabernacle of my house,
Nor go up into my bed;
⁴ I will not give sleep to mine eyes,
Or slumber to mine eyelids;
⁵ Until I find out a place for Jehovah,
A tabernacle for the Mighty One of Jacob.
⁶ Lo, we heard of it in Ephrathah:
We found it in the field of the wood.
⁷ We will go into his tabernacles;
We will worship at his footstool.
⁸ Arise, O Jehovah, into thy resting place;
Thou, and the ark of thy strength.
⁹ Let thy priests be clothed with righteousness;
And let thy saints shout for joy.
¹⁰ For thy servant David's sake
Turn not away the face of thine anointed.
¹¹ Jehovah hath sworn unto David in truth;
He will not turn from it:
Of the fruit of thy body will I set upon thy throne.
¹² If thy children will keep my covenant
And my testimony that I shall teach them,
Their children also shall sit upon thy throne forevermore.
¹³ For Jehovah hath chosen Zion;
He hath desired it for his habitation.
¹⁴ This is my resting place forever:
Here will I dwell; for I have desired it.
¹⁵ I will abundantly bless her provision:
I will satisfy her poor with bread.
¹⁶ Her priests also will I clothe with salvation;
And her saints shall shout aloud for joy.
¹⁷ There will I make the horn of David to bud:
I have ordained a lamp for mine anointed.
¹⁸ His enemies will I clothe with shame;
But upon himself shall his crown flourish.

133

A Song of Ascents; of David.

¹ Behold, how good and how pleasant it is
For brethren to dwell together in unity!
² It is like the precious oil upon the head,

That ran down upon the beard,
Even Aaron's beard;
That came down upon the skirt of his garments;
³ Like the dew of Hermon,
That cometh down upon the mountains of Zion:
For there Jehovah commanded the blessing,
Even life forevermore.

134

A Song of Ascents.

¹ Behold, bless ye Jehovah, all ye servants of Jehovah,
That by night stand in the house of Jehovah.
² Lift up your hands to the sanctuary,
And bless ye Jehovah.
³ Jehovah bless thee out of Zion;
Even he that made heaven and earth.

Praise ye the name of Jehovah;
Praise him, O ye servants of Jehovah,
² Ye that stand in the house of Jehovah,
In the courts of the house of our God.
³ Praise ye Jehovah; for Jehovah is good:
Sing praises unto his name; for it is pleasant.
⁴ For Jehovah hath chosen Jacob unto himself,
And Israel for his own possession.
⁵ For I know that Jehovah is great,
And that our Lord is above all gods.
⁶ Whatsoever Jehovah pleased, that hath he done,
In heaven and in earth, in the seas and in all deeps;
⁷ Who causeth the vapors to ascend from the ends of the earth;
Who maketh lightnings for the rain;
Who bringeth forth the wind out of his treasures;
⁸ Who smote the firstborn of Egypt,
Both of man and beast;
⁹ Who sent signs and wonders into the midst of thee, O Egypt,
Upon Pharaoh, and upon all his servants;
¹⁰ Who smote many nations,
And slew mighty kings,
¹¹ Sihon king of the Amorites,
And Og king of Bashan,
And all the kingdoms of Canaan,
¹² And gave their land for a heritage,
A heritage unto Israel his people.
¹³ Thy name, O Jehovah, endureth forever;
Thy memorial name, O Jehovah, throughout all generations.
¹⁴ For Jehovah will judge his people,
And repent himself concerning his servants.
¹⁵ The idols of the nations are silver and gold,

The work of men's hands.

¹⁶ They have mouths, but they speak not;

Eyes have they, but they see not;

¹⁷ They have ears, but they hear not;

Neither is there any breath in their mouths.

¹⁸ They that make them shall be like unto them;

Yea, everyone that trusteth in them.

¹⁹ O house of Israel, bless ye Jehovah:

O house of Aaron, bless ye Jehovah:

²⁰ O house of Levi, bless ye Jehovah:

Ye that fear Jehovah, bless ye Jehovah.

²¹ Blessed be Jehovah out of Zion,

Who dwelleth at Jerusalem.

Praise ye Jehovah.

136

¹ Oh give thanks unto Jehovah; for he is good;

For his lovingkindness endureth forever.

² Oh give thanks unto the God of gods;

For his lovingkindness endureth forever.

³ Oh give thanks unto the Lord of lords;

For his lovingkindness endureth forever:

⁴ To him who alone doeth great wonders;

For his lovingkindness endureth forever:

⁵ To him that by understanding made the heavens;

For his lovingkindness endureth forever:

⁶ To him that spread forth the earth above the waters;

For his lovingkindness endureth forever:

⁷ To him that made great lights;

For his lovingkindness endureth forever:

⁸ The sun to rule by day;

For his lovingkindness endureth forever;

⁹ The moon and stars to rule by night;

For his lovingkindness endureth forever:

¹⁰ To him that smote Egypt in their firstborn;

For his lovingkindness endureth forever;

¹¹ And brought out Israel from among them;

For his lovingkindness endureth forever;

¹² With a strong hand, and with an outstretched arm;

For his lovingkindness endureth forever:

¹³ To him that divided the Red Sea in sunder;

For his lovingkindness endureth forever;

¹⁴ And made Israel to pass through the midst of it;

For his lovingkindness endureth forever;

¹⁵ But overthrew Pharaoh and his host in the Red Sea;

For his lovingkindness endureth forever:

¹⁶ To him that led his people through the wilderness;

For his lovingkindness endureth forever:

¹⁷ To him that smote great kings;

For his lovingkindness endureth forever;

¹⁸ And slew famous kings;
 For his lovingkindness endureth forever:
¹⁹ Sihon king of the Amorites;
 For his lovingkindness endureth forever;
²⁰ And Og king of Bashan;
 For his lovingkindness endureth forever;
²¹ And gave their land for a heritage;
 For his lovingkindness endureth forever;
²² Even a heritage unto Israel his servant;
 For his lovingkindness endureth forever:
²³ Who remembered us in our low estate;
 For his lovingkindness endureth forever;
²⁴ And hath delivered us from our adversaries;
 For his lovingkindness endureth forever:
²⁵ Who giveth food to all flesh;
 For his lovingkindness endureth forever.
²⁶ Oh give thanks unto the God of heaven;
 For his lovingkindness endureth forever.

137

¹ By the rivers of Babylon,
 There we sat down, yea, we wept,
 When we remembered Zion.
² Upon the willows in the midst thereof
 We hung up our harps.
³ For there they that led us captive required of us songs,
 And they that wasted us required of us mirth, saying,
 Sing us one of the songs of Zion.
⁴ How shall we sing Jehovah's song
 In a foreign land?
⁵ If I forget thee, O Jerusalem,
 Let my right hand forget her skill.
⁶ Let my tongue cleave to the roof of my mouth,
 If I remember thee not;
 If I prefer not Jerusalem
 Above my chief joy.
⁷ Remember, O Jehovah, against the children of Edom
 The day of Jerusalem;
 Who said, Raze it, raze it,
 Even to the foundation thereof.
⁸ O daughter of Babylon, that art to be destroyed,
 Happy shall he be, that rewardeth thee
 As thou hast served us.
⁹ Happy shall he be, that taketh and dasheth thy little ones
 Against the rock.

138

A Psalm of David.

¹ I will give thee thanks with my whole heart:
 Before the gods will I sing praises unto thee.
² I will worship toward thy holy temple,

And give thanks unto thy name for thy lovingkindness and for thy truth:
For thou hast magnified thy word above all thy name.

³ In the day that I called thou answeredst me,
Thou didst encourage me with strength in my soul.

⁴ All the kings of the earth shall give thee thanks, O Jehovah,
For they have heard the words of thy mouth.

⁵ Yea, they shall sing of the ways of Jehovah;
For great is the glory of Jehovah.

⁶ For though Jehovah is high, yet hath he respect unto the lowly;
But the haughty he knoweth from afar.

⁷ Though I walk in the midst of trouble, thou wilt revive me;
Thou wilt stretch forth thy hand against the wrath of mine enemies,
And thy right hand will save me.

⁸ Jehovah will perfect that which concerneth me:
Thy lovingkindness, O Jehovah, endureth forever;
Forsake not the works of thine own hands.

139

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

¹ O Jehovah, thou hast searched me, and known me.

² Thou knowest my downsitting and mine uprising;
Thou understandest my thought afar off.

³ Thou searchest out my path and my lying down,
And art acquainted with all my ways.

⁴ For there is not a word in my tongue,
But, lo, O Jehovah, thou knowest it altogether.

⁵ Thou hast beset me behind and before,
And laid thy hand upon me.

⁶ Such knowledge is too wonderful for me;
It is high, I cannot attain unto it.

⁷ Whither shall I go from thy Spirit?
Or whither shall I flee from thy presence?

⁸ If I ascend up into heaven, thou art there:
If I make my bed in Sheol, behold, thou art there.

⁹ If I take the wings of the morning,
And dwell in the uttermost parts of the sea;

¹⁰ Even there shall thy hand lead me,
And thy right hand shall hold me.

¹¹ If I say, Surely the darkness shall overwhelm me,
And the light about me shall be night;

¹² Even the darkness hideth not from thee,
But the night shineth as the day:
The darkness and the light are both alike to thee.

¹³ For thou didst form my inward parts:
Thou didst cover me in my mother's womb.

¹⁴ I will give thanks unto thee; for I am fearfully and wonderfully made:
Wonderful are thy works;
And that my soul knoweth right well.

¹⁵ My frame was not hidden from thee,
When I was made in secret,
And curiously wrought in the lowest parts of the earth.

¹⁶ Thine eyes did see mine unformed substance;
 And in thy book they were all written,
Even the days that were ordained for me,
 When as yet there was none of them.
¹⁷ How precious also are thy thoughts unto me, O God!
 How great is the sum of them!
¹⁸ If I should count them, they are more in number than the sand:
 When I awake, I am still with thee.
¹⁹ Surely thou wilt slay the wicked, O God:
 Depart from me therefore, ye bloodthirsty men.
²⁰ For they speak against thee wickedly,
 And thine enemies take thy name in vain.
²¹ Do not I hate them, O Jehovah, that hate thee?
 And am not I grieved with those that rise up against thee?
²² I hate them with perfect hatred:
 They are become mine enemies.
²³ Search me, O God, and know my heart:
 Try me, and know my thoughts;
²⁴ And see if there be any wicked way in me,
 And lead me in the way everlasting.

140

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

¹ Deliver me, O Jehovah, from the evil man;
 Preserve me from the violent man:
² Who devise mischiefs in their heart;
 Continually do they gather themselves together for war.
³ They have sharpened their tongue like a serpent;
 Adders' poison is under their lips.

Selah

⁴ Keep me, O Jehovah, from the hands of the wicked;
 Preserve me from the violent man:
 Who have purposed to thrust aside my steps.
⁵ The proud have hidden a snare for me, and cords;
 They have spread a net by the wayside;
 They have set gins for me.

Selah

⁶ I said unto Jehovah, Thou art my God:
 Give ear unto the voice of my supplications, O Jehovah.
⁷ O Jehovah the Lord, the strength of my salvation,
 Thou hast covered my head in the day of battle.
⁸ Grant not, O Jehovah, the desires of the wicked;
 Further not his evil device, lest they exalt themselves.

Selah

⁹ As for the head of those that compass me about,
 Let the mischief of their own lips cover them.
¹⁰ Let burning coals fall upon them:
 Let them be cast into the fire,
 Into deep pits, whence they shall not rise.
¹¹ An evil speaker shall not be established in the earth:

Evil shall hunt the violent man to overthrow him.
¹² I know that Jehovah will maintain the cause of the afflicted,
And justice for the needy.
¹³ Surely the righteous shall give thanks unto thy name:
The upright shall dwell in thy presence.

141

A Psalm of David.

¹ Jehovah, I have called upon thee; make haste unto me:
Give ear unto my voice, when I call unto thee.
² Let my prayer be set forth as incense before thee;
The lifting up of my hands as the evening sacrifice.
³ Set a watch, O Jehovah, before my mouth;
Keep the door of my lips.
⁴ Incline not my heart to any evil thing,
To practice deeds of wickedness
With men that work iniquity:
And let me not eat of their dainties.
⁵ Let the righteous smite me, it shall be a kindness;
And let him reprove me, it shall be as oil upon the head;
Let not my head refuse it:
For even in their wickedness shall my prayer continue.
⁶ Their judges are thrown down by the sides of the rock;
And they shall hear my words; for they are sweet.
⁷ As when one ploweth and cleaveth the earth,
Our bones are scattered at the mouth of Sheol.
⁸ For mine eyes are unto thee, O Jehovah the Lord:
In thee do I take refuge; leave not my soul destitute.
⁹ Keep me from the snare which they have laid for me,
And from the gins of the workers of iniquity.
¹⁰ Let the wicked fall into their own nets,
While that I withal escape.

142

Maskil of David, when he was in the cave; a Prayer.

With my voice unto Jehovah do I make supplication.
² I pour out my complaint before him;
I show before him my trouble.
³ When my spirit was overwhelmed within me,
Thou knewest my path.
In the way wherein I walk
Have they hidden a snare for me.
⁴ Look on my right hand, and see;
For there is no man that knoweth me:
Refuge hath failed me;
No man careth for my soul.
⁵ I cried unto thee, O Jehovah;
I said, Thou art my refuge,
My portion in the land of the living.
⁶ Attend unto my cry;

For I am brought very low:
 Deliver me from my persecutors;
 For they are stronger than I.
⁷ Bring my soul out of prison,
 That I may give thanks unto thy name:
 The righteous shall compass me about;
 For thou wilt deal bountifully with me.

143

A Psalm of David.

¹ Hear my prayer, O Jehovah; give ear to my supplications:
 In thy faithfulness answer me, and in thy righteousness.
² And enter not into judgment with thy servant;
 For in thy sight no man living is righteous.
³ For the enemy hath persecuted my soul;
 He hath smitten my life down to the ground:
 He hath made me to dwell in dark places, as those that have been long dead.
⁴ Therefore is my spirit overwhelmed within me;
 My heart within me is desolate.
⁵ I remember the days of old;
 I meditate on all thy doings;
 I muse on the work of thy hands.
⁶ I spread forth my hands unto thee:
 My soul thirsteth after thee, as a weary land.

Selah

⁷ Make haste to answer me, O Jehovah; my spirit faileth:
 Hide not thy face from me,
 Lest I become like them that go down into the pit.
⁸ Cause me to hear thy lovingkindness in the morning;
 For in thee do I trust:
 Cause me to know the way wherein I should walk;
 For I lift up my soul unto thee.
⁹ Deliver me, O Jehovah, from mine enemies:
 I flee unto thee to hide me.
¹⁰ Teach me to do thy will;
 For thou art my God:
 Thy Spirit is good;
 Lead me in the land of uprightness.
¹¹ Quicken me, O Jehovah, for thy name's sake:
 In thy righteousness bring my soul out of trouble.
¹² And in thy lovingkindness cut off mine enemies,
 And destroy all them that afflict my soul;
 For I am thy servant.

144

A Psalm of David.

¹ Blessed be Jehovah my rock,
 Who teacheth my hands to war,
 And my fingers to fight:
² My lovingkindness, and my fortress,
 My high tower, and my deliverer;

My shield, and he in whom I take refuge;
Who subdueth my people under me.
³ Jehovah, what is man, that thou takest knowledge of him?
Or the son of man, that thou makest account of him?
⁴ Man is like to vanity:
His days are as a shadow that passeth away.
⁵ Bow thy heavens, O Jehovah, and come down:
Touch the mountains, and they shall smoke.
⁶ Cast forth lightning, and scatter them;
Send out thine arrows, and discomfit them.
⁷ Stretch forth thy hand from above;
Rescue me, and deliver me out of great waters,
Out of the hand of aliens;
⁸ Whose mouth speaketh deceit,
And whose right hand is a right hand of falsehood.
⁹ I will sing a new song unto thee, O God:
Upon a psaltery of ten strings will I sing praises unto thee.
¹⁰ Thou art he that giveth salvation unto kings;
Who rescueth David his servant from the hurtful sword.
¹¹ Rescue me, and deliver me out of the hand of aliens,
Whose mouth speaketh deceit,
And whose right hand is a right hand of falsehood.

¹² When our sons shall be as plants grown up in their youth,
And our daughters as cornerstones hewn after the fashion of a palace;
¹³ When our garners are full, affording all manner of store,
And our sheep bring forth thousands and ten thousands in our fields;
¹⁴ When our oxen are well laden;
When there is no breaking in, and no going forth,
And no outcry in our streets:
¹⁵ Happy is the people that is in such a case;
Yea, happy is the people whose God is Jehovah.

145

A Psalm of praise; of David.

¹ I will extol thee, my God, O King;
And I will bless thy name forever and ever.
² Every day will I bless thee;
And I will praise thy name forever and ever.
³ Great is Jehovah, and greatly to be praised;
And his greatness is unsearchable.
⁴ One generation shall laud thy works to another,
And shall declare thy mighty acts.
⁵ Of the glorious majesty of thine honor,
And of thy wondrous works, will I meditate.
⁶ And men shall speak of the might of thy terrible acts;
And I will declare thy greatness.
⁷ They shall utter the memory of thy great goodness,
And shall sing of thy righteousness.
⁸ Jehovah is gracious, and merciful;
Slow to anger, and of great lovingkindness.

⁹ Jehovah is good to all;
And his tender mercies are over all his works.
¹⁰ All thy works shall give thanks unto thee, O Jehovah;
And thy saints shall bless thee.
¹¹ They shall speak of the glory of thy kingdom,
And talk of thy power;
¹² To make known to the sons of men his mighty acts,
And the glory of the majesty of his kingdom.
¹³ Thy kingdom is an everlasting kingdom,
And thy dominion endureth throughout all generations.
¹⁴ Jehovah upholdeth all that fall,
And raiseth up all those that are bowed down.
¹⁵ The eyes of all wait for thee;
And thou givest them their food in due season.
¹⁶ Thou openest thy hand,
And satisfiest the desire of every living thing.
¹⁷ Jehovah is righteous in all his ways,
And gracious in all his works.
¹⁸ Jehovah is nigh unto all them that call upon him,
To all that call upon him in truth.
¹⁹ He will fulfill the desire of them that fear him;
He also will hear their cry and will save them.
²⁰ Jehovah preserveth all them that love him;
But all the wicked will he destroy.
²¹ My mouth shall speak the praise of Jehovah;
And let all flesh bless his holy name forever and ever.

Praise Jehovah, O my soul.
² While I live will I praise Jehovah:
I will sing praises unto my God while I have any being.
³ Put not your trust in princes,
Nor in the son of man, in whom there is no help.
⁴ His breath goeth forth, he returneth to his earth;
In that very day his thoughts perish.
⁵ Happy is he that hath the God of Jacob for his help,
Whose hope is in Jehovah his God:
⁶ Who made heaven and earth,
The sea, and all that in them is;
Who keepeth truth forever;
⁷ Who executeth justice for the oppressed;
Who giveth food to the hungry.
Jehovah looseth the prisoners;
⁸ Jehovah openeth the eyes of the blind;
Jehovah raiseth up them that are bowed down;
Jehovah loveth the righteous;
⁹ Jehovah preserveth the sojourners;
He upholdeth the fatherless and widow;
But the way of the wicked he turneth upside down.

¹⁰ Jehovah will reign forever,
Thy God, O Zion, unto all generations.
Praise ye Jehovah.

For it is good to sing praises unto our God;
For it is pleasant, and praise is comely.
² Jehovah doth build up Jerusalem;
He gathereth together the outcasts of Israel.
³ He healeth the broken in heart,
And bindeth up their wounds.
⁴ He counteth the number of the stars;
He calleth them all by their names.
⁵ Great is our Lord, and mighty in power;
His understanding is infinite.
⁶ Jehovah upholdeth the meek:
He bringeth the wicked down to the ground.
⁷ Sing unto Jehovah with thanksgiving;
Sing praises upon the harp unto our God,
⁸ Who covereth the heavens with clouds,
Who prepareth rain for the earth,
Who maketh grass to grow upon the mountains.
⁹ He giveth to the beast his food,
And to the young ravens which cry.
¹⁰ He delighteth not in the strength of the horse:
He taketh no pleasure in the legs of a man.
¹¹ Jehovah taketh pleasure in them that fear him,
In those that hope in his lovingkindness.
¹² Praise Jehovah, O Jerusalem;
Praise thy God, O Zion.
¹³ For he hath strengthened the bars of thy gates;
He hath blessed thy children within thee.
¹⁴ He maketh peace in thy borders;
He filleth thee with the finest of the wheat.
¹⁵ He sendeth out his commandment upon earth;
His word runneth very swiftly.
¹⁶ He giveth snow like wool;
He scattereth the hoarfrost like ashes.
¹⁷ He casteth forth his ice like morsels:
Who can stand before his cold?
¹⁸ He sendeth out his word, and melteth them:
He causeth his wind to blow, and the waters flow.
¹⁹ He showeth his word unto Jacob,
His statutes and his ordinances unto Israel.
²⁰ He hath not dealt so with any nation;
And as for his ordinances, they have not known them.
Praise ye Jehovah.

Praise ye Jehovah from the heavens:

Praise him in the heights.

² Praise ye him, all his angels:

Praise ye him, all his host.

³ Praise ye him, sun and moon:

Praise him, all ye stars of light.

⁴ Praise him, ye heavens of heavens,

And ye waters that are above the heavens.

⁵ Let them praise the name of Jehovah;

For he commanded, and they were created.

⁶ He hath also established them forever and ever:

He hath made a decree which shall not pass away.

⁷ Praise Jehovah from the earth,

Ye sea monsters, and all deeps;

⁸ Fire and hail, snow and vapor;

Stormy wind, fulfilling his word;

⁹ Mountains and all hills;

Fruitful trees and all cedars;

¹⁰ Beasts and all cattle;

Creeping things and flying birds;

¹¹ Kings of the earth and all peoples;

Princes and all judges of the earth;

¹² Both young men and virgins;

Old men and children:

¹³ Let them praise the name of Jehovah;

For his name alone is exalted;

His glory is above the earth and the heavens.

¹⁴ And he hath lifted up the horn of his people,

The praise of all his saints;

Even of the children of Israel, a people near unto him.

Praise ye Jehovah.

Sing unto Jehovah a new song,

And his praise in the assembly of the saints.

² Let Israel rejoice in him that made him:

Let the children of Zion be joyful in their King.

³ Let them praise his name in the dance:

Let them sing praises unto him with timbrel and harp.

⁴ For Jehovah taketh pleasure in his people:

He will beautify the meek with salvation.

⁵ Let the saints exult in glory:

Let them sing for joy upon their beds.

⁶ Let the high praises of God be in their mouth,

And a two-edged sword in their hand;

⁷ To execute vengeance upon the nations,

And punishments upon the peoples;

⁸ To bind their kings with chains,

And their nobles with fetters of iron;

⁹ To execute upon them the judgment written:

This honor have all his saints.

Praise ye Jehovah.

Praise God in his sanctuary:

Praise him in the firmament of his power.

² Praise him for his mighty acts:

Praise him according to his excellent greatness.

³ Praise him with trumpet sound:

Praise him with psaltery and harp.

⁴ Praise him with timbrel and dance:

Praise him with stringed instruments and pipe.

⁵ Praise him with loud cymbals:

Praise him with high sounding cymbals.

⁶ Let everything that hath breath praise Jehovah.

Praise ye Jehovah.

THE PROVERBS

- ¹ The proverbs of Solomon the son of David, king of Israel:
² To know wisdom and instruction;
To discern the words of understanding;
³ To receive instruction in wise dealing,
In righteousness and justice and equity;
⁴ To give prudence to the simple,
To the young man knowledge and discretion:
⁵ That the wise man may hear, and increase in learning;
And that the man of understanding may attain unto sound counsels:
⁶ To understand a proverb, and a figure,
The words of the wise, and their dark sayings.
- ⁷ The fear of Jehovah is the beginning of knowledge;
But the foolish despise wisdom and instruction.
⁸ My son, hear the instruction of thy father,
And forsake not the law of thy mother:
⁹ For they shall be a chaplet of grace unto thy head,
And chains about thy neck.
¹⁰ My son, if sinners entice thee,
Consent thou not.
¹¹ If they say, Come with us,
Let us lay wait for blood;
Let us lurk privily for the innocent without cause;
¹² Let us swallow them up alive as Sheol,
And whole, as those that go down into the pit;
¹³ We shall find all precious substance;
We shall fill our houses with spoil;
¹⁴ Thou shalt cast thy lot among us;
We will all have one purse:
¹⁵ My son, walk not thou in the way with them;
Refrain thy foot from their path:
¹⁶ For their feet run to evil,
And they make haste to shed blood.
¹⁷ For in vain is the net spread
In the sight of any bird:
¹⁸ And these lay wait for their own blood;
They lurk privily for their own lives.
¹⁹ So are the ways of everyone that is greedy of gain;
It taketh away the life of the owners thereof.
- ²⁰ Wisdom crieth aloud in the street;
She uttereth her voice in the broad places;
²¹ She crieth in the chief place of concourse;
At the entrance of the gates,
In the city, she uttereth her words:
²² How long, ye simple ones, will ye love simplicity?
And scoffers delight them in scoffing,

And fools hate knowledge?

²³ Turn you at my reproof:

Behold, I will pour out my spirit upon you;
I will make known my words unto you.

²⁴ Because I have called, and ye have refused;
I have stretched out my hand, and no man hath regarded;

²⁵ But ye have set at nought all my counsel,
And would none of my reproof:

²⁶ I also will laugh in the day of your calamity;
I will mock when your fear cometh;

²⁷ When your fear cometh as a storm,
And your calamity cometh on as a whirlwind;
When distress and anguish come upon you.

²⁸ Then will they call upon me, but I will not answer;
They will seek me diligently, but they shall not find me:

²⁹ For that they hated knowledge,
And did not choose the fear of Jehovah,

³⁰ They would none of my counsel,
They despised all my reproof.

³¹ Therefore shall they eat of the fruit of their own way,
And be filled with their own devices.

³² For the backsliding of the simple shall slay them,
And the careless ease of fools shall destroy them.

³³ But whoso hearkeneth unto me shall dwell securely,
And shall be quiet without fear of evil.

¹ My son, if thou wilt receive my words,
And lay up my commandments with thee;

² So as to incline thine ear unto wisdom,
And apply thy heart to understanding;

³ Yea, if thou cry after discernment,
And lift up thy voice for understanding;

⁴ If thou seek her as silver,
And search for her as for hidden treasures:

⁵ Then shalt thou understand the fear of Jehovah,
And find the knowledge of God.

⁶ For Jehovah giveth wisdom;
Out of his mouth cometh knowledge and understanding:

⁷ He layeth up sound wisdom for the upright;
He is a shield to them that walk in integrity;

⁸ That he may guard the paths of justice,
And preserve the way of his saints.

⁹ Then shalt thou understand righteousness and justice,
And equity, yea, every good path.

¹⁰ For wisdom shall enter into thy heart,
And knowledge shall be pleasant unto thy soul;

¹¹ Discretion shall watch over thee;
Understanding shall keep thee:

¹² To deliver thee from the way of evil,

From the men that speak perverse things;
13 Who forsake the paths of uprightness,
To walk in the ways of darkness;
14 Who rejoice to do evil,
And delight in the perverseness of evil;
15 Who are crooked in their ways,
And wayward in their paths:
16 To deliver thee from the strange woman,
Even from the foreigner that flattereth with her words;
17 That forsaketh the friend of her youth,
And forgetteth the covenant of her God:
18 For her house inclineth unto death,
And her paths unto the dead;
19 None that go unto her return again,
Neither do they attain unto the paths of life:
20 That thou mayest walk in the way of good men,
And keep the paths of the righteous.
21 For the upright shall dwell in the land,
And the perfect shall remain in it.
22 But the wicked shall be cut off from the land,
And the treacherous shall be rooted out of it.

1 My son, forget not my law;
But let thy heart keep my commandments:
2 For length of days, and years of life,
And peace, will they add to thee.
3 Let not kindness and truth forsake thee:
Bind them about thy neck;
Write them upon the tablet of thy heart:
4 So shalt thou find favor and good understanding
In the sight of God and man.
5 Trust in Jehovah with all thy heart,
And lean not upon thine own understanding:
6 In all thy ways acknowledge him,
And he will direct thy paths.
7 Be not wise in thine own eyes;
Fear Jehovah, and depart from evil:
8 It will be health to thy navel,
And marrow to thy bones.
9 Honor Jehovah with thy substance,
And with the firstfruits of all thine increase:
10 So shall thy barns be filled with plenty,
And thy vats shall overflow with new wine.
11 My son, despise not the chastening of Jehovah;
Neither be weary of his reproof:
12 For whom Jehovah loveth he reproveth,
Even as a father the son in whom he delighteth.
13 Happy is the man that findeth wisdom,

And the man that getteth understanding.

¹⁴ For the gaining of it is better than the gaining of silver,
And the profit thereof than fine gold.

¹⁵ She is more precious than rubies:

And none of the things thou canst desire are to be compared unto her.

¹⁶ Length of days is in her right hand;

In her left hand are riches and honor.

¹⁷ Her ways are ways of pleasantness,

And all her paths are peace.

¹⁸ She is a tree of life to them that lay hold upon her:

And happy is everyone that retaineth her.

¹⁹ Jehovah by wisdom founded the earth;

By understanding he established the heavens.

²⁰ By his knowledge the depths were broken up,

And the skies drop down the dew.

²¹ My son, let them not depart from thine eyes;

Keep sound wisdom and discretion:

²² So shall they be life unto thy soul,

And grace to thy neck.

²³ Then shalt thou walk in thy way securely,

And thy foot shall not stumble.

²⁴ When thou liest down, thou shalt not be afraid:

Yea, thou shalt lie down, and thy sleep shall be sweet.

²⁵ Be not afraid of sudden fear,

Neither of the desolation of the wicked, when it cometh:

²⁶ For Jehovah will be thy confidence,

And will keep thy foot from being taken.

²⁷ Withhold not good from them to whom it is due,

When it is in the power of thy hand to do it.

²⁸ Say not unto thy neighbor, Go, and come again,

And tomorrow I will give;

When thou hast it by thee.

²⁹ Devise not evil against thy neighbor,

Seeing he dwelleth securely by thee.

³⁰ Strive not with a man without cause,

If he have done thee no harm.

³¹ Envy thou not the man of violence,

And choose none of his ways.

³² For the perverse is an abomination to Jehovah;

But his friendship is with the upright.

³³ The curse of Jehovah is in the house of the wicked;

But he blesseth the habitation of the righteous.

³⁴ Surely he scoffeth at the scoffers;

But he giveth grace unto the lowly.

³⁵ The wise shall inherit glory;

But shame shall be the promotion of fools.

¹ Hear, my sons, the instruction of a father,

And attend to know understanding:

² For I give you good doctrine;

Forsake ye not my law.

³ For I was a son unto my father,

Tender and only beloved in the sight of my mother.

⁴ And he taught me, and said unto me:

Let thy heart retain my words;

Keep my commandments, and live;

⁵ Get wisdom, get understanding;

Forget not, neither decline from the words of my mouth;

⁶ Forsake her not, and she will preserve thee;

Love her, and she will keep thee.

⁷ Wisdom is the principal thing; therefore get wisdom;

Yea, with all thy getting get understanding.

⁸ Exalt her, and she will promote thee;

She will bring thee to honor, when thou dost embrace her.

⁹ She will give to thy head a chaplet of grace;

A crown of beauty will she deliver to thee.

¹⁰ Hear, O my son, and receive my sayings;

And the years of thy life shall be many.

¹¹ I have taught thee in the way of wisdom;

I have led thee in paths of uprightness.

¹² When thou goest, thy steps shall not be straitened;

And if thou runnest, thou shalt not stumble.

¹³ Take fast hold of instruction; let her not go:

Keep her; for she is thy life.

¹⁴ Enter not into the path of the wicked,

And walk not in the way of evil men.

¹⁵ Avoid it, pass not by it;

Turn from it, and pass on.

¹⁶ For they sleep not, except they do evil;

And their sleep is taken away, unless they cause some to fall.

¹⁷ For they eat the bread of wickedness,

And drink the wine of violence.

¹⁸ But the path of the righteous is as the dawning light,

That shineth more and more unto the perfect day.

¹⁹ The way of the wicked is as darkness:

They know not at what they stumble.

²⁰ My son, attend to my words;

Incline thine ear unto my sayings.

²¹ Let them not depart from thine eyes;

Keep them in the midst of thy heart.

²² For they are life unto those that find them,

And health to all their flesh.

²³ Keep thy heart with all diligence;

For out of it are the issues of life.

²⁴ Put away from thee a wayward mouth,

And perverse lips put far from thee.

²⁵ Let thine eyes look right on,
And let thine eyelids look straight before thee.
²⁶ Make level the path of thy feet,
And let all thy ways be established.
²⁷ Turn not to the right hand nor to the left:
Remove thy foot from evil.

¹ My son, attend unto my wisdom;
Incline thine ear to my understanding:
² That thou mayest preserve discretion,
And that thy lips may keep knowledge.
³ For the lips of a strange woman drop honey,
And her mouth is smoother than oil:
⁴ But in the end she is bitter as wormwood,
Sharp as a two-edged sword.
⁵ Her feet go down to death;
Her steps take hold on Sheol;
⁶ So that she findeth not the level path of life:
Her ways are unstable, and she knoweth it not.

⁷ Now therefore, my sons, hearken unto me,
And depart not from the words of my mouth.
⁸ Remove thy way far from her,
And come not nigh the door of her house;
⁹ Lest thou give thine honor unto others,
And thy years unto the cruel;
¹⁰ Lest strangers be filled with thy strength,
And thy labors be in the house of an alien,
¹¹ And thou mourn at thy latter end,
When thy flesh and thy body are consumed,
¹² And say, How have I hated instruction,
And my heart despised reproof;
¹³ Neither have I obeyed the voice of my teachers,
Nor inclined mine ear to them that instructed me!
¹⁴ I was well-nigh in all evil
In the midst of the assembly and congregation.

¹⁵ Drink waters out of thine own cistern,
And running waters out of thine own well.
¹⁶ Should thy springs be dispersed abroad,
And streams of water in the streets?
¹⁷ Let them be for thyself alone,
And not for strangers with thee.
¹⁸ Let thy fountain be blessed;
And rejoice in the wife of thy youth.
¹⁹ As a loving hind and a pleasant doe,
Let her breasts satisfy thee at all times;
And be thou ravished always with her love.
²⁰ For why shouldest thou, my son, be ravished with a strange woman,

And embrace the bosom of a foreigner?

²¹ For the ways of man are before the eyes of Jehovah;
And he maketh level all his paths.

²² His own iniquities shall take the wicked,
And he shall be holden with the cords of his sin.

²³ He shall die for lack of instruction;
And in the greatness of his folly he shall go astray.

¹ My son, if thou art become surety for thy neighbor,
If thou hast stricken thy hands for a stranger;

² Thou art snared with the words of thy mouth,
Thou art taken with the words of thy mouth.

³ Do this now, my son, and deliver thyself,
Seeing thou art come into the hand of thy neighbor:
Go, humble thyself, and importune thy neighbor;

⁴ Give not sleep to thine eyes,
Nor slumber to thine eyelids;

⁵ Deliver thyself as a roe from the hand of the hunter,
And as a bird from the hand of the fowler.

⁶ Go to the ant, thou sluggard;
Consider her ways, and be wise:

⁷ Which having no chief,
Overseer, or ruler,

⁸ Provideth her bread in the summer,
And gathereth her food in the harvest.

⁹ How long wilt thou sleep, O sluggard?
When wilt thou arise out of thy sleep?

¹⁰ Yet a little sleep, a little slumber,
A little folding of the hands to sleep:

¹¹ So shall thy poverty come as a robber,
And thy want as an armed man.

¹² A worthless person, a man of iniquity,
Is he that walketh with a perverse mouth;

¹³ That winketh with his eyes, that speaketh with his feet,
That maketh signs with his fingers;

¹⁴ In whose heart is perverseness,
Who deviseth evil continually,

Who soweth discord.

¹⁵ Therefore shall his calamity come suddenly;
On a sudden shall he be broken, and that without remedy.

¹⁶ There are six things which Jehovah hateth;
Yea, seven which are an abomination unto him:

¹⁷ Haughty eyes, a lying tongue,
And hands that shed innocent blood;

¹⁸ A heart that deviseth wicked purposes,
Feet that are swift in running to mischief,

¹⁹ A false witness that uttereth lies,
And he that soweth discord among brethren.

²⁰ My son, keep the commandment of thy father,
And forsake not the law of thy mother:
²¹ Bind them continually upon thy heart;
Tie them about thy neck.
²² When thou walkest, it shall lead thee;
When thou sleepest, it shall watch over thee;
And when thou awakest, it shall talk with thee.
²³ For the commandment is a lamp; and the law is light;
And reproofs of instruction are the way of life:
²⁴ To keep thee from the evil woman,
From the flattery of the foreigner's tongue.
²⁵ Lust not after her beauty in thy heart;
Neither let her take thee with her eyelids.
²⁶ For on account of a harlot a man is brought to a piece of bread;
And the adulteress hunteth for the precious life.
²⁷ Can a man take fire in his bosom,
And his clothes not be burned?
²⁸ Or can one walk upon hot coals,
And his feet not be scorched?
²⁹ So he that goeth in to his neighbor's wife;
Whosoever toucheth her shall not be unpunished.
³⁰ Men do not despise a thief, if he steal
To satisfy himself when he is hungry:
³¹ But if he be found, he shall restore sevenfold;
He shall give all the substance of his house.
³² He that committeth adultery with a woman is void of understanding:
He doeth it who would destroy his own soul.
³³ Wounds and dishonor shall he get;
And his reproach shall not be wiped away.
³⁴ For jealousy is the rage of a man;
And he will not spare in the day of vengeance.
³⁵ He will not regard any ransom;
Neither will he rest content, though thou givest many gifts.

¹ My son, keep my words,
And lay up my commandments with thee.
² Keep my commandments and live;
And my law as the apple of thine eye.
³ Bind them upon thy fingers;
Write them upon the tablet of thy heart.
⁴ Say unto wisdom, Thou art my sister;
And call understanding thy kinswoman:
⁵ That they may keep thee from the strange woman,
From the foreigner that flattereth with her words.
⁶ For at the window of my house
I looked forth through my lattice;
⁷ And I beheld among the simple ones,
I discerned among the youths,
A young man void of understanding,

⁸ Passing through the street near her corner;
And he went the way to her house,
⁹ In the twilight, in the evening of the day,
In the middle of the night and in the darkness.
¹⁰ And, behold, there met him a woman
With the attire of a harlot, and wily of heart.
¹¹ (She is clamorous and willful;
Her feet abide not in her house:
¹² Now she is in the streets, now in the broad places,
And lieth in wait at every corner.)
¹³ So she caught him, and kissed him,
And with an impudent face she said unto him:
¹⁴ Sacrifices of peace offerings are with me;
This day have I paid my vows.
¹⁵ Therefore came I forth to meet thee,
Diligently to seek thy face, and I have found thee.
¹⁶ I have spread my couch with carpets of tapestry,
With striped cloths of the yarn of Egypt.
¹⁷ I have perfumed my bed
With myrrh, aloes, and cinnamon.
¹⁸ Come, let us take our fill of love until the morning;
Let us solace ourselves with loves.
¹⁹ For the man is not at home;
He is gone a long journey:
²⁰ He hath taken a bag of money with him;
He will come home at the full moon.
²¹ With her much fair speech she causeth him to yield;
With the flattering of her lips she forceth him along.
²² He goeth after her straightaway,
As an ox goeth to the slaughter,
Or as one in fetters to the correction of the fool;
²³ Till an arrow strike through his liver;
As a bird hasteth to the snare,
And knoweth not that it is for his life.

²⁴ Now therefore, my sons, hearken unto me,
And attend to the words of my mouth.
²⁵ Let not thy heart decline to her ways;
Go not astray in her paths.
²⁶ For she hath cast down many wounded:
Yea, all her slain are a mighty host.
²⁷ Her house is the way to Sheol,
Going down to the chambers of death.

And understanding put forth her voice?
² On the top of high places by the way,
Where the paths meet, she standeth;
³ Beside the gates, at the entry of the city,

At the coming in at the doors, she crieth aloud:

⁴ Unto you, O men, I call;

And my voice is to the sons of men.

⁵ O ye simple, understand prudence;

And, ye fools, be of an understanding heart.

⁶ Hear, for I will speak excellent things;

And the opening of my lips shall be right things.

⁷ For my mouth shall utter truth;

And wickedness is an abomination to my lips.

⁸ All the words of my mouth are in righteousness;

There is nothing crooked or perverse in them.

⁹ They are all plain to him that understandeth,

And right to them that find knowledge.

¹⁰ Receive my instruction, and not silver;

And knowledge rather than choice gold.

¹¹ For wisdom is better than rubies;

And all the things that may be desired are not to be compared unto it.

¹² I wisdom have made prudence my dwelling,

And find out knowledge and discretion.

¹³ The fear of Jehovah is to hate evil:

Pride, and arrogancy, and the evil way,

And the perverse mouth, do I hate.

¹⁴ Counsel is mine, and sound knowledge:

I am understanding; I have might.

¹⁵ By me kings reign,

And princes decree justice.

¹⁶ By me princes rule,

And nobles, even all the judges of the earth.

¹⁷ I love them that love me;

And those that seek me diligently shall find me.

¹⁸ Riches and honor are with me;

Yea, durable wealth and righteousness.

¹⁹ My fruit is better than gold, yea, than fine gold;

And my revenue than choice silver.

²⁰ I walk in the way of righteousness,

In the midst of the paths of justice;

²¹ That I may cause those that love me to inherit substance,

And that I may fill their treasuries.

²² Jehovah possessed me in the beginning of his way,

Before his works of old.

²³ I was set up from everlasting, from the beginning,

Before the earth was.

²⁴ When there were no depths, I was brought forth,

When there were no fountains abounding with water.

²⁵ Before the mountains were settled,

Before the hills was I brought forth;

²⁶ While as yet he had not made the earth, nor the fields,

Nor the beginning of the dust of the world.

27 When he established the heavens, I was there:
When he set a circle upon the face of the deep,
28 When he made firm the skies above,
When the fountains of the deep became strong,
29 When he gave to the sea its bound,
That the waters should not transgress his commandment,
When he marked out the foundations of the earth;
30 Then I was by him, as a master workman;
And I was daily his delight,
Rejoicing always before him,
31 Rejoicing in his habitable earth;
And my delight was with the sons of men.

32 Now therefore, my sons, hearken unto me;
For blessed are they that keep my ways.
33 Hear instruction, and be wise,
And refuse it not.
34 Blessed is the man that heareth me,
Watching daily at my gates,
Waiting at the posts of my doors.
35 For whoso findeth me findeth life,
And shall obtain favor of Jehovah.
36 But he that sinneth against me wrongeth his own soul:
All they that hate me love death.

1 Wisdom hath built her house;
She hath hewn out her seven pillars:
2 She hath killed her beasts; she hath mingled her wine;
She hath also furnished her table:
3 She hath sent forth her maidens;
She crieth upon the highest places of the city:
4 Whoso is simple, let him turn in hither:
As for him that is void of understanding, she saith to him,
5 Come, eat ye of my bread,
And drink of the wine which I have mingled.
6 Leave off, ye simple ones, and live;
And walk in the way of understanding.
7 He that correcteth a scoffer getteth to himself reviling;
And he that reproveth a wicked man getteth himself a blot.
8 Reprove not a scoffer, lest he hate thee:
Reprove a wise man, and he will love thee.
9 Give instruction to a wise man, and he will be yet wiser:
Teach a righteous man, and he will increase in learning.
10 The fear of Jehovah is the beginning of wisdom;
And the knowledge of the Holy One is understanding.
11 For by me thy days shall be multiplied,
And the years of thy life shall be increased.
12 If thou art wise, thou art wise for thyself;

And if thou scoffest, thou alone shalt bear it.

¹³ The foolish woman is clamorous;
She is simple, and knoweth nothing.

¹⁴ And she sitteth at the door of her house,
On a seat in the high places of the city,

¹⁵ To call to them that pass by,
Who go right on their ways:

¹⁶ Whoso is simple, let him turn in hither;
And as for him that is void of understanding, she saith to him,

¹⁷ Stolen waters are sweet,
And bread eaten in secret is pleasant.

¹⁸ But he knoweth not that the dead are there;
That her guests are in the depths of Sheol.

A wise son maketh a glad father;
But a foolish son is the heaviness of his mother.

² Treasures of wickedness profit nothing;
But righteousness delivereth from death.

³ Jehovah will not suffer the soul of the righteous to famish;
But he thrusteth away the desire of the wicked.

⁴ He becometh poor that worketh with a slack hand;
But the hand of the diligent maketh rich.

⁵ He that gathereth in summer is a wise son;
But he that sleepeth in harvest is a son that causeth shame.

⁶ Blessings are upon the head of the righteous;
But violence covereth the mouth of the wicked.

⁷ The memory of the righteous is blessed;
But the name of the wicked shall rot.

⁸ The wise in heart will receive commandments;
But a prating fool shall fall.

⁹ He that walketh uprightly walketh surely;
But he that perverteth his ways shall be known.

¹⁰ He that winketh with the eye causeth sorrow;
But a prating fool shall fall.

¹¹ The mouth of the righteous is a fountain of life;
But violence covereth the mouth of the wicked.

¹² Hatred stirreth up strifes;
But love covereth all transgressions.

¹³ In the lips of him that hath discernment wisdom is found;
But a rod is for the back of him that is void of understanding.

¹⁴ Wise men lay up knowledge;
But the mouth of the foolish is a present destruction.

¹⁵ The rich man's wealth is his strong city:
The destruction of the poor is their poverty.

¹⁶ The labor of the righteous tendeth to life;
The increase of the wicked, to sin.

17 He is in the way of life that heedeth correction;
But he that forsaketh reproof erreth.
18 He that hideth hatred is of lying lips;
And he that uttereth a slander is a fool.
19 In the multitude of words there wanteth not transgression;
But he that refraineth his lips doeth wisely.
20 The tongue of the righteous is as choice silver:
The heart of the wicked is little worth.
21 The lips of the righteous feed many;
But the foolish die for lack of understanding.
22 The blessing of Jehovah, it maketh rich;
And he addeth no sorrow therewith.
23 It is as sport to a fool to do wickedness;
And so is wisdom to a man of understanding.
24 The fear of the wicked, it shall come upon him;
And the desire of the righteous shall be granted.
25 When the whirlwind passeth, the wicked is no more;
But the righteous is an everlasting foundation.
26 As vinegar to the teeth, and as smoke to the eyes,
So is the sluggard to them that send him.
27 The fear of Jehovah prolongeth days;
But the years of the wicked shall be shortened.
28 The hope of the righteous shall be gladness;
But the expectation of the wicked shall perish.
29 The way of Jehovah is a stronghold to the upright;
But it is a destruction to the workers of iniquity.
30 The righteous shall never be removed;
But the wicked shall not dwell in the land.
31 The mouth of the righteous bringeth forth wisdom;
But the perverse tongue shall be cut off.
32 The lips of the righteous know what is acceptable;
But the mouth of the wicked speaketh perverseness.

11

1 A false balance is an abomination to Jehovah;
But a just weight is his delight.
2 When pride cometh, then cometh shame;
But with the lowly is wisdom.
3 The integrity of the upright shall guide them;
But the perverseness of the treacherous shall destroy them.
4 Riches profit not in the day of wrath;
But righteousness delivereth from death.
5 The righteousness of the perfect shall direct his way;
But the wicked shall fall by his own wickedness.
6 The righteousness of the upright shall deliver them;
But the treacherous shall be taken in their own iniquity.
7 When a wicked man dieth, his expectation shall perish;
And the hope of iniquity perisheth.
8 The righteous is delivered out of trouble;
And the wicked cometh in his stead.
9 With his mouth the godless man destroyeth his neighbor;

But through knowledge shall the righteous be delivered.

¹⁰ When it goeth well with the righteous, the city rejoiceth;
And when the wicked perish, there is shouting.

¹¹ By the blessing of the upright the city is exalted;
But it is overthrown by the mouth of the wicked.

¹² He that despiseth his neighbor is void of wisdom;
But a man of understanding holdeth his peace.

¹³ He that goeth about as a talebearer revealeth secrets;
But he that is of a faithful spirit concealeth a matter.

¹⁴ Where no wise guidance is, the people falleth;
But in the multitude of counselors there is safety.

¹⁵ He that is surety for a stranger shall smart for it;
But he that hateth suretyship is secure.

¹⁶ A gracious woman obtaineth honor;
And violent men obtain riches.

¹⁷ The merciful man doeth good to his own soul;
But he that is cruel troubleth his own flesh.

¹⁸ The wicked earneth deceitful wages;
But he that soweth righteousness hath a sure reward.

¹⁹ He that is steadfast in righteousness shall attain unto life;
And he that pursueth evil doeth it to his own death.

²⁰ They that are perverse in heart are an abomination to Jehovah;
But such as are perfect in their way are his delight.

²¹ Though hand join in hand, the evil man shall not be unpunished;
But the seed of the righteous shall be delivered.

²² As a ring of gold in a swine's snout,
So is a fair woman that is without discretion.

²³ The desire of the righteous is only good;
But the expectation of the wicked is wrath.

²⁴ There is that scattereth, and increaseth yet more;
And there is that withholdeth more than is meet, but it tendeth only to want.

²⁵ The liberal soul shall be made fat;
And he that watereth shall be watered also himself.

²⁶ He that withholdeth grain, the people shall curse him;
But blessing shall be upon the head of him that selleth it.

²⁷ He that diligently seeketh good seeketh favor;
But he that searcheth after evil, it shall come unto him.

²⁸ He that trusteth in his riches shall fall;
But the righteous shall flourish as the green leaf.

²⁹ He that troubleth his own house shall inherit the wind;
And the foolish shall be servant to the wise of heart.

³⁰ The fruit of the righteous is a tree of life;
And he that is wise winneth souls.

³¹ Behold, the righteous shall be recompensed in the earth;
How much more the wicked and the sinner!

But he that hateth reproof is brutish.

² A good man shall obtain favor of Jehovah;
But a man of wicked devices will he condemn.

³ A man shall not be established by wickedness;

But the root of the righteous shall not be moved.
4 A worthy woman is the crown of her husband;
But she that maketh ashamed is as rottenness in his bones.
5 The thoughts of the righteous are just;
But the counsels of the wicked are deceit.
6 The words of the wicked are of lying in wait for blood;
But the mouth of the upright shall deliver them.
7 The wicked are overthrown, and are not;
But the house of the righteous shall stand.
8 A man shall be commended according to his wisdom;
But he that is of a perverse heart shall be despised.
9 Better is he that is lightly esteemed, and hath a servant,
Than he that honoreth himself, and lacketh bread.
10 A righteous man regardeth the life of his beast;
But the tender mercies of the wicked are cruel.
11 He that tilleth his land shall have plenty of bread;
But he that followeth after vain persons is void of understanding.
12 The wicked desireth the net of evil men;
But the root of the righteous yieldeth fruit.
13 In the transgression of the lips is a snare to the evil man;
But the righteous shall come out of trouble.
14 A man shall be satisfied with good by the fruit of his mouth;
And the doings of a man's hands shall be rendered unto him.
15 The way of a fool is right in his own eyes;
But he that is wise hearkeneth unto counsel.
16 A fool's vexation is presently known;
But a prudent man concealeth shame.
17 He that uttereth truth showeth forth righteousness;
But a false witness, deceit.
18 There is that speaketh rashly like the piercings of a sword;
But the tongue of the wise is health.
19 The lip of truth shall be established forever;
But a lying tongue is but for a moment.
20 Deceit is in the heart of them that devise evil;
But to the counselors of peace is joy.
21 There shall no mischief happen to the righteous;
But the wicked shall be filled with evil.
22 Lying lips are an abomination to Jehovah;
But they that deal truly are his delight.
23 A prudent man concealeth knowledge;
But the heart of fools proclaimeth foolishness.
24 The hand of the diligent shall bear rule;
But the slothful shall be put under taskwork.
25 Heaviness in the heart of a man maketh it stoop;
But a good word maketh it glad.
26 The righteous is a guide to his neighbor;
But the way of the wicked causeth them to err.
27 The slothful man roasteth not that which he took in hunting;
But the precious substance of men is to the diligent.
28 In the way of righteousness is life;
And in the pathway thereof there is no death.

- ¹ A wise son heareth his father's instruction;
But a scoffer heareth not rebuke.
- ² A man shall eat good by the fruit of his mouth;
But the soul of the treacherous shall eat violence.
- ³ He that guardeth his mouth keepeth his life;
But he that openeth wide his lips shall have destruction.
- ⁴ The soul of the sluggard desireth, and hath nothing;
But the soul of the diligent shall be made fat.
- ⁵ A righteous man hateth lying;
But a wicked man is loathsome, and cometh to shame.
- ⁶ Righteousness guardeth him that is upright in the way;
But wickedness overthroweth the sinner.
- ⁷ There is that maketh himself rich, yet hath nothing;
There is that maketh himself poor, yet hath great wealth.
- ⁸ The ransom of a man's life is his riches;
But the poor heareth no threatening.
- ⁹ The light of the righteous rejoiceth;
But the lamp of the wicked shall be put out.
- ¹⁰ By pride cometh only contention;
But with the well-advised is wisdom.
- ¹¹ Wealth gotten by vanity shall be diminished;
But he that gathereth by labor shall have increase.
- ¹² Hope deferred maketh the heart sick;
But when the desire cometh, it is a tree of life.
- ¹³ Whoso despiseth the word bringeth destruction on himself;
But he that feareth the commandment shall be rewarded.
- ¹⁴ The law of the wise is a fountain of life,
That one may depart from the snares of death.
- ¹⁵ Good understanding giveth favor;
But the way of the transgressor is hard.
- ¹⁶ Every prudent man worketh with knowledge;
But a fool flaunteth his folly.
- ¹⁷ A wicked messenger falleth into evil;
But a faithful ambassador is health.
- ¹⁸ Poverty and shame shall be to him that refuseth correction;
But he that regardeth reproof shall be honored.
- ¹⁹ The desire accomplished is sweet to the soul;
But it is an abomination to fools to depart from evil.
- ²⁰ Walk with wise men, and thou shalt be wise;
But the companion of fools shall smart for it.
- ²¹ Evil pursueth sinners;
But the righteous shall be recompensed with good.
- ²² A good man leaveth an inheritance to his children's children;
And the wealth of the sinner is laid up for the righteous.
- ²³ Much food is in the tillage of the poor;
But there is that is destroyed by reason of injustice.
- ²⁴ He that spareth his rod hateth his son;
But he that loveth him chasteneth him betimes.
- ²⁵ The righteous eateth to the satisfying of his soul;
But the belly of the wicked shall want.

- ¹ Every wise woman buildeth her house;
But the foolish plucketh it down with her own hands.
- ² He that walketh in his uprightness feareth Jehovah;
But he that is perverse in his ways despiseth him.
- ³ In the mouth of the foolish is a rod for his pride;
But the lips of the wise shall preserve them.
- ⁴ Where no oxen are, the crib is clean;
But much increase is by the strength of the ox.
- ⁵ A faithful witness will not lie;
But a false witness uttereth lies.
- ⁶ A scoffer seeketh wisdom, and findeth it not;
But knowledge is easy unto him that hath understanding.
- ⁷ Go into the presence of a foolish man,
And thou shalt not perceive in him the lips of knowledge.
- ⁸ The wisdom of the prudent is to understand his way;
But the folly of fools is deceit.
- ⁹ A trespass offering mocketh fools;
But among the upright there is good will.
- ¹⁰ The heart knoweth its own bitterness;
And a stranger doth not intermeddle with its joy.
- ¹¹ The house of the wicked shall be overthrown;
But the tent of the upright shall flourish.
- ¹² There is a way which seemeth right unto a man;
But the end thereof are the ways of death.
- ¹³ Even in laughter the heart is sorrowful;
And the end of mirth is heaviness.
- ¹⁴ The backslider in heart shall be filled with his own ways;
And a good man shall be satisfied from himself.
- ¹⁵ The simple believeth every word;
But the prudent man looketh well to his going.
- ¹⁶ A wise man feareth, and departeth from evil;
But the fool beareth himself insolently, and is confident.
- ¹⁷ He that is soon angry will deal foolishly;
And a man of wicked devices is hated.
- ¹⁸ The simple inherit folly;
But the prudent are crowned with knowledge.
- ¹⁹ The evil bow down before the good;
And the wicked, at the gates of the righteous.
- ²⁰ The poor is hated even of his own neighbor;
But the rich hath many friends.
- ²¹ He that despiseth his neighbor sinneth;
But he that hath pity on the poor, happy is he.
- ²² Do they not err that devise evil?
But mercy and truth shall be to them that devise good.
- ²³ In all labor there is profit;
But the talk of the lips tendeth only to penury.
- ²⁴ The crown of the wise is their riches;
But the folly of fools is only folly.
- ²⁵ A true witness delivereth souls;
But he that uttereth lies causeth deceit.

²⁶ In the fear of Jehovah is strong confidence;
And his children shall have a place of refuge.
²⁷ The fear of Jehovah is a fountain of life,
That one may depart from the snares of death.
²⁸ In the multitude of people is the king's glory;
But in the want of people is the destruction of the prince.
²⁹ He that is slow to anger is of great understanding;
But he that is hasty of spirit exalteth folly.
³⁰ A tranquil heart is the life of the flesh;
But envy is the rottenness of the bones.
³¹ He that oppresseth the poor reproacheth his Maker;
But he that hath mercy on the needy honoreth him.
³² The wicked is thrust down in his evildoing;
But the righteous hath a refuge in his death.
³³ Wisdom resteth in the heart of him that hath understanding;
But that which is in the inward part of fools is made known.
³⁴ Righteousness exalteth a nation;
But sin is a reproach to any people.
³⁵ The king's favor is toward a servant that dealeth wisely;
But his wrath will be against him that causeth shame.

But a grievous word stirreth up anger.
² The tongue of the wise uttereth knowledge aright;
But the mouth of fools poureth out folly.
³ The eyes of Jehovah are in every place,
Keeping watch upon the evil and the good.
⁴ A gentle tongue is a tree of life;
But perverseness therein is a breaking of the spirit.
⁵ A fool despiseth his father's correction;
But he that regardeth reproof getteth prudence.
⁶ In the house of the righteous is much treasure;
But in the revenues of the wicked is trouble.
⁷ The lips of the wise disperse knowledge;
But the heart of the foolish doeth not so.
⁸ The sacrifice of the wicked is an abomination to Jehovah;
But the prayer of the upright is his delight.
⁹ The way of the wicked is an abomination to Jehovah;
But he loveth him that followeth after righteousness.
¹⁰ There is grievous correction for him that forsaketh the way;
And he that hateth reproof shall die.
¹¹ Sheol and Abaddon are before Jehovah;
How much more then the hearts of the children of men!
¹² A scoffer loveth not to be reproved;
He will not go unto the wise.
¹³ A glad heart maketh a cheerful countenance;
But by sorrow of heart the spirit is broken.
¹⁴ The heart of him that hath understanding seeketh knowledge;
But the mouth of fools feedeth on folly.

15 All the days of the afflicted are evil;
But he that is of a cheerful heart hath a continual feast.
16 Better is little, with the fear of Jehovah,
Than great treasure and trouble therewith.
17 Better is a dinner of herbs, where love is,
Than a stalled ox and hatred therewith.
18 A wrathful man stirreth up contention;
But he that is slow to anger appeaseth strife.
19 The way of the sluggard is as a hedge of thorns;
But the path of the upright is made a highway.
20 A wise son maketh a glad father;
But a foolish man despiseth his mother.
21 Folly is joy to him that is void of wisdom;
But a man of understanding maketh straight his going.
22 Where there is no counsel, purposes are disappointed;
But in the multitude of counselors they are established.
23 A man hath joy in the answer of his mouth;
And a word in due season, how good is it!
24 To the wise the way of life goeth upward,
That he may depart from Sheol beneath.
25 Jehovah will root up the house of the proud;
But he will establish the border of the widow.
26 Evil devices are an abomination to Jehovah;
But pleasant words are pure.
27 He that is greedy of gain troubleth his own house;
But he that hateth bribes shall live.
28 The heart of the righteous studieth to answer;
But the mouth of the wicked poureth out evil things.
29 Jehovah is far from the wicked;
But he heareth the prayer of the righteous.
30 The light of the eyes rejoiceth the heart;
And good tidings make the bones fat.
31 The ear that hearkeneth to the reproof of life
Shall abide among the wise.
32 He that refuseth correction despiseth his own soul;
But he that hearkeneth to reproof getteth understanding.
33 The fear of Jehovah is the instruction of wisdom;
And before honor goeth humility.

16

1 The plans of the heart belong to man;
But the answer of the tongue is from Jehovah.
2 All the ways of a man are clean in his own eyes;
But Jehovah weigheth the spirits.
3 Commit thy works unto Jehovah,
And thy purposes shall be established.
4 Jehovah hath made everything for its own end;
Yea, even the wicked for the day of evil.
5 Everyone that is proud in heart is an abomination to Jehovah:
Though hand join in hand, he shall not be unpunished.

⁶ By mercy and truth iniquity is atoned for;
And by the fear of Jehovah men depart from evil.
⁷ When a man's ways please Jehovah,
He maketh even his enemies to be at peace with him.
⁸ Better is a little, with righteousness,
Than great revenues with injustice.
⁹ A man's heart deviseth his way;
But Jehovah directeth his steps.
¹⁰ A divine sentence is in the lips of the king;
His mouth shall not transgress in judgment.
¹¹ A just balance and scales are Jehovah's;
All the weights of the bag are his work.
¹² It is an abomination to kings to commit wickedness;
For the throne is established by righteousness.
¹³ Righteous lips are the delight of kings;
And they love him that speaketh right.
¹⁴ The wrath of a king is as messengers of death;
But a wise man will pacify it.
¹⁵ In the light of the king's countenance is life;
And his favor is as a cloud of the latter rain.
¹⁶ How much better is it to get wisdom than gold!
Yea, to get understanding is rather to be chosen than silver.
¹⁷ The highway of the upright is to depart from evil:
He that keepeth his way preserveth his soul.
¹⁸ Pride goeth before destruction,
And a haughty spirit before a fall.
¹⁹ Better it is to be of a lowly spirit with the poor,
Than to divide the spoil with the proud.
²⁰ He that giveth heed unto the word shall find good;
And whoso trusteth in Jehovah, happy is he.
²¹ The wise in heart shall be called prudent;
And the sweetness of the lips increaseth learning.
²² Understanding is a wellspring of life unto him that hath it;
But the correction of fools is their folly.
²³ The heart of the wise instructeth his mouth,
And addeth learning to his lips.
²⁴ Pleasant words are as a honeycomb,
Sweet to the soul, and health to the bones.
²⁵ There is a way which seemeth right unto a man,
But the end thereof are the ways of death.
²⁶ The appetite of the laboring man laboreth for him;
For his mouth urgeth him thereto.
²⁷ A worthless man deviseth mischief;
And in his lips there is as a scorching fire.
²⁸ A perverse man scattereth abroad strife;
And a whisperer separateth chief friends.
²⁹ A man of violence enticeth his neighbor,
And leadeth him in a way that is not good.
³⁰ He that shutteth his eyes, it is to devise perverse things:
He that compresseth his lips bringeth evil to pass.

³¹ The hoary head is a crown of glory;
It shall be found in the way of righteousness.
³² He that is slow to anger is better than the mighty;
And he that ruleth his spirit, than he that taketh a city.
³³ The lot is cast into the lap;
But the whole disposing thereof is of Jehovah.

17

¹ Better is a dry morsel, and quietness therewith,
Than a house full of feasting with strife.
² A servant that dealeth wisely shall have rule over a son that causeth shame,
And shall have part in the inheritance among the brethren.
³ The refining pot is for silver, and the furnace for gold;
But Jehovah trieth the hearts.
⁴ An evildoer giveth heed to wicked lips;
And a liar giveth ear to a mischievous tongue.
⁵ Whoso mocketh the poor reproacheth his Maker;
And he that is glad at calamity shall not be unpunished.
⁶ Children's children are the crown of old men;
And the glory of children are their fathers.
⁷ Excellent speech becometh not a fool;
Much less do lying lips a prince.
⁸ A bribe is as a precious stone in the eyes of him that hath it;
Whithersoever it turneth, it prospereth.
⁹ He that covereth a transgression seeketh love;
But he that harpeth on a matter separateth chief friends.
¹⁰ A rebuke entereth deeper into one that hath understanding
Than a hundred stripes into a fool.
¹¹ An evil man seeketh only rebellion;
Therefore a cruel messenger shall be sent against him.
¹² Let a bear robbed of her whelps meet a man,
Rather than a fool in his folly.
¹³ Whoso rewardeth evil for good,
Evil shall not depart from his house.
¹⁴ The beginning of strife is as when one letteth out water:
Therefore leave off contention, before there is quarreling.
¹⁵ He that justifieth the wicked, and he that condemneth the righteous,
Both of them alike are an abomination to Jehovah.
¹⁶ Wherefore is there a price in the hand of a fool to buy wisdom,
Seeing he hath no understanding?
¹⁷ A friend loveth at all times;
And a brother is born for adversity.
¹⁸ A man void of understanding striketh hands,
And becometh surety in the presence of his neighbor.
¹⁹ He loveth transgression that loveth strife:
He that raiseth high his gate seeketh destruction.
²⁰ He that hath a wayward heart findeth no good;
And he that hath a perverse tongue falleth into mischief.
²¹ He that begetteth a fool doeth it to his sorrow;
And the father of a fool hath no joy.

²² A cheerful heart is a good medicine;
But a broken spirit drieth up the bones.
²³ A wicked man receiveth a bribe out of the bosom,
To pervert the ways of justice.
²⁴ Wisdom is before the face of him that hath understanding;
But the eyes of a fool are in the ends of the earth.
²⁵ A foolish son is a grief to his father,
And bitterness to her that bare him.
²⁶ Also to punish the righteous is not good,
Nor to smite the noble for their uprightness.
²⁷ He that spareth his words hath knowledge;
And he that is of a cool spirit is a man of understanding.
²⁸ Even a fool, when he holdeth his peace, is counted wise;
When he shutteth his lips, he is esteemed as prudent.

¹ He that separateth himself seeketh his own desire,
And rageth against all sound wisdom.
² A fool hath no delight in understanding,
But only that his heart may reveal itself.
³ When the wicked cometh, there cometh also contempt,
And with ignominy cometh reproach.
⁴ The words of a man's mouth are as deep waters;
The wellspring of wisdom is as a flowing brook.
⁵ To respect the person of the wicked is not good,
Nor to turn aside the righteous in judgment.
⁶ A fool's lips enter into contention,
And his mouth calleth for stripes.
⁷ A fool's mouth is his destruction,
And his lips are the snare of his soul.
⁸ The words of a whisperer are as dainty morsels,
And they go down into the innermost parts.
⁹ He also that is slack in his work
Is brother to him that is a destroyer.
¹⁰ The name of Jehovah is a strong tower;
The righteous runneth into it, and is safe.
¹¹ The rich man's wealth is his strong city,
And as a high wall in his own imagination.
¹² Before destruction the heart of man is haughty;
And before honor goeth humility.
¹³ He that giveth answer before he heareth,
It is folly and shame unto him.
¹⁴ The spirit of a man will sustain his infirmity;
But a broken spirit who can bear?
¹⁵ The heart of the prudent getteth knowledge;
And the ear of the wise seeketh knowledge.
¹⁶ A man's gift maketh room for him,
And bringeth him before great men.
¹⁷ He that pleadeth his cause first seemeth just;
But his neighbor cometh and searcheth him out.

¹⁸ The lot causeth contentions to cease,
And parteth between the mighty.
¹⁹ A brother offended is harder to be won than a strong city;
And such contentions are like the bars of a castle.
²⁰ A man's belly shall be filled with the fruit of his mouth;
With the increase of his lips shall he be satisfied.
²¹ Death and life are in the power of the tongue;
And they that love it shall eat the fruit thereof.
²² Whoso findeth a wife findeth a good thing,
And obtaineth favor of Jehovah.
²³ The poor useth entreaties;
But the rich answereth roughly.
²⁴ He that maketh many friends doeth it to his own destruction;
But there is a friend that sticketh closer than a brother.

¹ Better is the poor that walketh in his integrity
Than he that is perverse in his lips and is a fool.
² Also, that the soul be without knowledge is not good;
And he that hasteth with his feet sinneth.
³ The foolishness of man subverteth his way;
And his heart fretteth against Jehovah.
⁴ Wealth addeth many friends;
But the poor is separated from his friend.
⁵ A false witness shall not be unpunished;
And he that uttereth lies shall not escape.
⁶ Many will entreat the favor of the liberal man;
And every man is a friend to him that giveth gifts.
⁷ All the brethren of the poor do hate him:
How much more do his friends go far from him!
He pursueth them with words, but they are gone.
⁸ He that getteth wisdom loveth his own soul:
He that keepeth understanding shall find good.
⁹ A false witness shall not be unpunished;
And he that uttereth lies shall perish.
¹⁰ Delicate living is not seemly for a fool;
Much less for a servant to have rule over princes.
¹¹ The discretion of a man maketh him slow to anger;
And it is his glory to pass over a transgression.
¹² The king's wrath is as the roaring of a lion;
But his favor is as dew upon the grass.
¹³ A foolish son is the calamity of his father;
And the contentions of a wife are a continual dropping.
¹⁴ House and riches are an inheritance from fathers;
But a prudent wife is from Jehovah.
¹⁵ Slothfulness casteth into a deep sleep;
And the idle soul shall suffer hunger.
¹⁶ He that keepeth the commandment keepeth his soul;
But he that is careless of his ways shall die.
¹⁷ He that hath pity upon the poor lendeth unto Jehovah,
And his good deed will he pay him again.

18 Chasten thy son, seeing there is hope;
And set not thy heart on his destruction.
19 A man of great wrath shall bear the penalty;
For if thou deliver him, thou must do it yet again.
20 Hear counsel, and receive instruction,
That thou mayest be wise in thy latter end.
21 There are many devices in a man's heart;
But the counsel of Jehovah, that shall stand.
22 That which maketh a man to be desired is his kindness;
And a poor man is better than a liar.
23 The fear of Jehovah tendeth to life;
And he that hath it shall abide satisfied;
He shall not be visited with evil.
24 The sluggard burieth his hand in the dish,
And will not so much as bring it to his mouth again.
25 Smite a scoffer, and the simple will learn prudence;
And reprove one that hath understanding, and he will understand knowledge.
26 He that doeth violence to his father, and chaseth away his mother,
Is a son that causeth shame and bringeth reproach.
27 Cease, my son, to hear instruction
Only to err from the words of knowledge.
28 A worthless witness mocketh at justice;
And the mouth of the wicked swalloweth iniquity.
29 Judgments are prepared for scoffers,
And stripes for the back of fools.

20

1 Wine is a mocker, strong drink a brawler;
And whosoever erreth thereby is not wise.
2 The terror of a king is as the roaring of a lion:
He that provoketh him to anger sinneth against his own life.
3 It is an honor for a man to keep aloof from strife;
But every fool will be quarreling.
4 The sluggard will not plow by reason of the winter;
Therefore he shall beg in harvest, and have nothing.
5 Counsel in the heart of man is like deep water;
But a man of understanding will draw it out.
6 Most men will proclaim every one his own kindness;
But a faithful man who can find?
7 A righteous man that walketh in his integrity,
Blessed are his children after him.
8 A king that sitteth on the throne of judgment
Scattereth away all evil with his eyes.
9 Who can say, I have made my heart clean,
I am pure from my sin?
10 Diverse weights, and diverse measures,
Both of them alike are an abomination to Jehovah.
11 Even a child maketh himself known by his doings,
Whether his work be pure, and whether it be right.
12 The hearing ear, and the seeing eye,
Jehovah hath made even both of them.

13 Love not sleep, lest thou come to poverty;
Open thine eyes, and thou shalt be satisfied with bread.
14 It is bad, it is bad, saith the buyer;
But when he is gone his way, then he boasteth.
15 There is gold, and abundance of rubies;
But the lips of knowledge are a precious jewel.
16 Take his garment that is surety for a stranger;
And hold him in pledge that is surety for foreigners.
17 Bread of falsehood is sweet to a man;
But afterward his mouth shall be filled with gravel.
18 Every purpose is established by counsel;
And by wise guidance make thou war.
19 He that goeth about as a talebearer revealeth secrets;
Therefore company not with him that openeth wide his lips.
20 Whoso curseth his father or his mother,
His lamp shall be put out in blackness of darkness.
21 An inheritance may be gotten hastily at the beginning;
But the end thereof shall not be blessed.
22 Say not thou, I will recompense evil:
Wait for Jehovah, and he will save thee.
23 Diverse weights are an abomination to Jehovah;
And a false balance is not good.
24 A man's goings are of Jehovah;
How then can man understand his way?
25 It is a snare to a man rashly to say, It is holy,
And after vows to make inquiry.
26 A wise king winnoweth the wicked,
And bringeth the threshing wheel over them.
27 The spirit of man is the lamp of Jehovah,
Searching all his innermost parts.
28 Kindness and truth preserve the king;
And his throne is upholden by kindness.
29 The glory of young men is their strength;
And the beauty of old men is the hoary head.
30 Stripes that wound cleanse away evil;
And strokes reach the innermost parts.

21

1 The king's heart is in the hand of Jehovah as the watercourses:
He turneth it whithersoever he will.
2 Every way of a man is right in his own eyes;
But Jehovah weigheth the hearts.
3 To do righteousness and justice
Is more acceptable to Jehovah than sacrifice.
4 A high look, and a proud heart,
Even the lamp of the wicked, is sin.
5 The thoughts of the diligent tend only to plenteousness;
But everyone that is hasty hasteth only to want.
6 The getting of treasures by a lying tongue
Is a vapor driven to and fro by them that seek death.

- ⁷ The violence of the wicked shall sweep them away,
Because they refuse to do justice.
- ⁸ The way of him that is laden with guilt is exceeding crooked;
But as for the pure, his work is right.
- ⁹ It is better to dwell in the corner of the housetop,
Than with a contentious woman in a wide house.
- ¹⁰ The soul of the wicked desireth evil:
His neighbor findeth no favor in his eyes.
- ¹¹ When the scoffer is punished, the simple is made wise;
And when the wise is instructed, he receiveth knowledge.
- ¹² The righteous man considereth the house of the wicked,
How the wicked are overthrown to their ruin.
- ¹³ Whoso stoppeth his ears at the cry of the poor,
He also shall cry, but shall not be heard.
- ¹⁴ A gift in secret pacifieth anger;
And a present in the bosom, strong wrath.
- ¹⁵ It is joy to the righteous to do justice;
But it is a destruction to the workers of iniquity.
- ¹⁶ The man that wandereth out of the way of understanding Shall rest in the assembly of the dead.
- ¹⁷ He that loveth pleasure shall be a poor man:
He that loveth wine and oil shall not be rich.
- ¹⁸ The wicked is a ransom for the righteous;
And the treacherous cometh in the stead of the upright.
- ¹⁹ It is better to dwell in a desert land,
Than with a contentious and fretful woman.
- ²⁰ There is precious treasure and oil in the dwelling of the wise;
But a foolish man swalloweth it up.
- ²¹ He that followeth after righteousness and kindness
Findeth life, righteousness, and honor.
- ²² A wise man scaleth the city of the mighty,
And bringeth down the strength of the confidence thereof.
- ²³ Whoso keepeth his mouth and his tongue
Keepeth his soul from troubles.
- ²⁴ The proud and haughty man, scoffer is his name;
He worketh in the arrogance of pride.
- ²⁵ The desire of the sluggard killeth him;
For his hands refuse to labor.
- ²⁶ There is that coveteth greedily all the day long;
But the righteous giveth and withholdeth not.
- ²⁷ The sacrifice of the wicked is an abomination;
How much more, when he bringeth it with a wicked mind!
- ²⁸ A false witness shall perish;
But the man that heareth shall speak so as to endure.
- ²⁹ A wicked man hardeneth his face;
But as for the upright, he establisheth his ways.
- ³⁰ There is no wisdom nor understanding
Nor counsel against Jehovah.
- ³¹ The horse is prepared against the day of battle;
But victory is of Jehovah.

22

¹ A good name is rather to be chosen than great riches,
And loving favor rather than silver and gold.

² The rich and the poor meet together:
Jehovah is the maker of them all.

³ A prudent man seeth the evil, and hideth himself;
But the simple pass on, and suffer for it.

⁴ The reward of humility and the fear of Jehovah
Is riches, and honor, and life.

⁵ Thorns and snares are in the way of the perverse:
He that keepeth his soul shall be far from them.

⁶ Train up a child in the way he should go,
And even when he is old he will not depart from it.

⁷ The rich ruleth over the poor;
And the borrower is servant to the lender.

⁸ He that soweth iniquity shall reap calamity;
And the rod of his wrath shall fail.

⁹ He that hath a bountiful eye shall be blessed;
For he giveth of his bread to the poor.

¹⁰ Cast out the scoffer, and contention will go out;
Yea, strife and ignominy will cease.

¹¹ He that loveth pureness of heart,
For the grace of his lips the king will be his friend.

¹² The eyes of Jehovah preserve him that hath knowledge;
But he overthroweth the words of the treacherous man.

¹³ The sluggard saith, There is a lion without;
I shall be slain in the streets.

¹⁴ The mouth of strange women is a deep pit;
He that is abhorred of Jehovah shall fall therein.

¹⁵ Foolishness is bound up in the heart of a child;
But the rod of correction shall drive it far from him.

¹⁶ He that oppresseth the poor to increase his gain,
And he that giveth to the rich, shall come only to want.

¹⁷ Incline thine ear, and hear the words of the wise,
And apply thy heart unto my knowledge.

¹⁸ For it is a pleasant thing if thou keep them within thee,
If they be established together upon thy lips.

¹⁹ That thy trust may be in Jehovah,
I have made them known to thee this day, even to thee.

²⁰ Have not I written unto thee excellent things
Of counsels and knowledge,

²¹ To make thee know the certainty of the words of truth,
That thou mayest carry back words of truth to them that send thee?

²² Rob not the poor, because he is poor;
Neither oppress the afflicted in the gate:

²³ For Jehovah will plead their cause,
And despoil of life those that despoil them.

²⁴ Make no friendship with a man that is given to anger;
And with a wrathful man thou shalt not go:

²⁵ Lest thou learn his ways,
And get a snare to thy soul.
²⁶ Be thou not one of them that strike hands,
Or of them that are sureties for debts.
²⁷ If thou hast not wherewith to pay,
Why should he take away thy bed from under thee?
²⁸ Remove not the ancient landmark,
Which thy fathers have set.
²⁹ Seest thou a man diligent in his business? he shall stand before kings;
He shall not stand before mean men.

23

Consider diligently him that is before thee;
² And put a knife to thy throat,
If thou be a man given to appetite.
³ Be not desirous of his dainties;
Seeing they are deceitful food.
⁴ Weary not thyself to be rich;
Cease from thine own wisdom.
⁵ Wilt thou set thine eyes upon that which is not?
For riches certainly make themselves wings,
Like an eagle that flieth toward heaven.
⁶ Eat thou not the bread of him that hath an evil eye,
Neither desire thou his dainties:
⁷ For as he thinketh within himself, so is he:
Eat and drink, saith he to thee;
But his heart is not with thee.
⁸ The morsel which thou hast eaten shalt thou vomit up,
And lose thy sweet words.
⁹ Speak not in the hearing of a fool;
For he will despise the wisdom of thy words.
¹⁰ Remove not the ancient landmark;
And enter not into the fields of the fatherless:
¹¹ For their Redeemer is strong;
He will plead their cause against thee.
¹² Apply thy heart unto instruction,
And thine ears to the words of knowledge.
¹³ Withhold not correction from the child;
For if thou beat him with the rod, he will not die.
¹⁴ Thou shalt beat him with the rod,
And shalt deliver his soul from Sheol.
¹⁵ My son, if thy heart be wise,
My heart will be glad, even mine:
¹⁶ Yea, my heart will rejoice,
When thy lips speak right things.
¹⁷ Let not thy heart envy sinners;
But be thou in the fear of Jehovah all the day long:
¹⁸ For surely there is a reward;
And thy hope shall not be cut off.
¹⁹ Hear thou, my son, and be wise,
And guide thy heart in the way.

²⁰ Be not among winebibbers,
Among gluttonous eaters of flesh:
²¹ For the drunkard and the glutton shall come to poverty;
And drowsiness will clothe a man with rags.
²² Hearken unto thy father that begat thee,
And despise not thy mother when she is old.
²³ Buy the truth, and sell it not;
Yea, wisdom, and instruction, and understanding.
²⁴ The father of the righteous will greatly rejoice;
And he that begetteth a wise child will have joy of him.
²⁵ Let thy father and thy mother be glad,
And let her that bare thee rejoice.
²⁶ My son, give me thy heart;
And let thine eyes delight in my ways.
²⁷ For a harlot is a deep ditch;
And a foreign woman is a narrow pit.
²⁸ Yea, she lieth in wait as a robber,
And increaseth the treacherous among men.
²⁹ Who hath woe? who hath sorrow? who hath contentions?
Who hath complaining? who hath wounds without cause?
Who hath redness of eyes?
³⁰ They that tarry long at the wine;
They that go to seek out mixed wine.
³¹ Look not thou upon the wine when it is red,
When it sparkleth in the cup,
When it goeth down smoothly:
³² At the last it biteth like a serpent,
And stingeth like an adder.
³³ Thine eyes shall behold strange things,
And thy heart shall utter perverse things.
³⁴ Yea, thou shalt be as he that lieth down in the midst of the sea,
Or as he that lieth upon the top of a mast.
³⁵ They have stricken me, shalt thou say, and I was not hurt;
They have beaten me, and I felt it not:
When shall I awake? I will seek it yet again.

24

¹ Be not thou envious against evil men;
Neither desire to be with them:
² For their heart studieth oppression,
And their lips talk of mischief.
³ Through wisdom is a house built;
And by understanding it is established;
⁴ And by knowledge are the chambers filled
With all precious and pleasant riches.
⁵ A wise man is strong;
Yea, a man of knowledge increaseth might.
⁶ For by wise guidance thou shalt make thy war;
And in the multitude of counselors there is safety.
⁷ Wisdom is too high for a fool:
He openeth not his mouth in the gate.

⁸ He that deviseth to do evil,
Men shall call him a mischief-maker.
⁹ The thought of foolishness is sin;
And the scoffer is an abomination to men.
¹⁰ If thou faint in the day of adversity,
Thy strength is small.
¹¹ Deliver them that are carried away unto death,
And those that are ready to be slain see that thou hold back.
¹² If thou sayest, Behold, we knew not this;
Doth not he that weigheth the hearts consider it?
And he that keepeth thy soul, doth not he know it?
And shall not he render to every man according to his work?
¹³ My son, eat thou honey, for it is good;
And the droppings of the honeycomb, which are sweet to thy taste:
¹⁴ So shalt thou know wisdom to be unto thy soul;
If thou hast found it, then shall there be a reward,
And thy hope shall not be cut off.
¹⁵ Lay not wait, O wicked man, against the habitation of the righteous;
Destroy not his resting place:
¹⁶ For a righteous man falleth seven times, and riseth up again;
But the wicked are overthrown by calamity.
¹⁷ Rejoice not when thine enemy falleth,
And let not thy heart be glad when he is overthrown;
¹⁸ Lest Jehovah see it, and it displease him,
And he turn away his wrath from him.
¹⁹ Fret not thyself because of evildoers;
Neither be thou envious at the wicked:
²⁰ For there shall be no reward to the evil man;
The lamp of the wicked shall be put out.
²¹ My son, fear thou Jehovah and the king;
And company not with them that are given to change:
²² For their calamity shall rise suddenly;
And the destruction from them both, who knoweth it?

²³ These also are sayings of the wise.

To have respect of persons in judgment is not good.
²⁴ He that saith unto the wicked, Thou art righteous,
Peoples shall curse him, nations shall abhor him;
²⁵ But to them that rebuke him shall be delight,
And a good blessing shall come upon them.
²⁶ He kisseth the lips
Who giveth a right answer.
²⁷ Prepare thy work without,
And make it ready for thee in the field;
And afterward build thy house.
²⁸ Be not a witness against thy neighbor without cause;
And deceive not with thy lips.
²⁹ Say not, I will do so to him as he hath done to me;
I will render to the man according to his work.
³⁰ I went by the field of the sluggard,

And by the vineyard of the man void of understanding;

³¹ And, lo, it was all grown over with thorns,
The face thereof was covered with nettles,
And the stone wall thereof was broken down.

³² Then I beheld, and considered well;
I saw, and received instruction:

³³ Yet a little sleep, a little slumber,
A little folding of the hands to sleep;

³⁴ So shall thy poverty come as a robber,
And thy want as an armed man.

25

¹ These also are proverbs of Solomon, which the men of Hezekiah king of Judah copied out.

² It is the glory of God to conceal a thing;
But the glory of kings is to search out a matter.

³ As the heavens for height, and the earth for depth,
So the heart of kings is unsearchable.

⁴ Take away the dross from the silver,
And there cometh forth a vessel for the refiner:

⁵ Take away the wicked from before the king,
And his throne shall be established in righteousness.

⁶ Put not thyself forward in the presence of the king,
And stand not in the place of great men:

⁷ For better is it that it be said unto thee, Come up hither,
Than that thou shouldest be put lower in the presence of the prince,
Whom thine eyes have seen.

⁸ Go not forth hastily to strive,
Lest thou know not what to do in the end thereof,
When thy neighbor hath put thee to shame.

⁹ Debate thy cause with thy neighbor himself,
And disclose not the secret of another;

¹⁰ Lest he that heareth it revile thee,
And thine infamy turn not away.

¹¹ A word fitly spoken
Is like apples of gold in network of silver.

¹² As an earring of gold, and an ornament of fine gold,
So is a wise reprover upon an obedient ear.

¹³ As the cold of snow in the time of harvest,
So is a faithful messenger to them that send him;
For he refresheth the soul of his masters.

¹⁴ As clouds and wind without rain,
So is he that boasteth himself of his gifts falsely.

¹⁵ By long forbearing is a ruler persuaded,
And a soft tongue breaketh the bone.

¹⁶ Hast thou found honey? eat so much as is sufficient for thee,
Lest thou be filled therewith, and vomit it.

¹⁷ Let thy foot be seldom in thy neighbor's house,
Lest he be weary of thee, and hate thee.

¹⁸ A man that beareth false witness against his neighbor
Is a maul, and a sword, and a sharp arrow.
¹⁹ Confidence in an unfaithful man in time of trouble
Is like a broken tooth, and a foot out of joint.
²⁰ As one that taketh off a garment in cold weather, and as vinegar upon soda,
So is he that singeth songs to a heavy heart.
²¹ If thine enemy be hungry, give him bread to eat;
And if he be thirsty, give him water to drink:
²² For thou wilt heap coals of fire upon his head,
And Jehovah will reward thee.
²³ The north wind bringeth forth rain;
So doth a backbiting tongue an angry countenance.
²⁴ It is better to dwell in the corner of the housetop,
Than with a contentious woman in a wide house.
²⁵ As cold waters to a thirsty soul,
So is good news from a far country.
²⁶ As a troubled fountain, and a corrupted spring,
So is a righteous man that giveth way before the wicked.
²⁷ It is not good to eat much honey;
So for men to search out their own glory is grievous.
²⁸ He whose spirit is without restraint
Is like a city that is broken down and without walls.

26

¹ As snow in summer, and as rain in harvest,
So honor is not seemly for a fool.
² As the sparrow in her wandering, as the swallow in her flying,
So the curse that is causeless alighteth not.
³ A whip for the horse, a bridle for the ass,
And a rod for the back of fools.
⁴ Answer not a fool according to his folly,
Lest thou also be like unto him.
⁵ Answer a fool according to his folly,
Lest he be wise in his own conceit.
⁶ He that sendeth a message by the hand of a fool
Cutteth off his own feet, and drinketh in damage.
⁷ The legs of the lame hang loose;
So is a parable in the mouth of fools.
⁸ As one that bindeth a stone in a sling,
So is he that giveth honor to a fool.
⁹ As a thorn that goeth up into the hand of a drunkard,
So is a parable in the mouth of fools.
¹⁰ As an archer that woundeth all,
So is he that hireth a fool and he that hireth them that pass by.
¹¹ As a dog that returneth to his vomit,
So is a fool that repeateth his folly.
¹² Seest thou a man wise in his own conceit?
There is more hope of a fool than of him.
¹³ The sluggard saith, There is a lion in the way;
A lion is in the streets.
¹⁴ As the door turneth upon its hinges,

So doth the sluggard upon his bed.

¹⁵ The sluggard burieth his hand in the dish;
It wearieth him to bring it again to his mouth.

¹⁶ The sluggard is wiser in his own conceit
Than seven men that can render a reason.

¹⁷ He that passeth by, and vexeth himself with strife belonging not to him,
Is like one that taketh a dog by the ears.

¹⁸ As a madman who casteth firebrands,
Arrows, and death,

¹⁹ So is the man that deceiveth his neighbor,
And saith, Am not I in sport?

²⁰ For lack of wood the fire goeth out;
And where there is no whisperer, contention ceaseth.

²¹ As coals are to hot embers, and wood to fire,
So is a contentious man to inflame strife.

²² The words of a whisperer are as dainty morsels,
And they go down into the innermost parts.

²³ Fervent lips and a wicked heart
Are like an earthen vessel overlaid with silver dross.

²⁴ He that hateth dissembleth with his lips;
But he layeth up deceit within him:

²⁵ When he speaketh fair, believe him not;
For there are seven abominations in his heart:

²⁶ Though his hatred cover itself with guile,
His wickedness shall be openly shown before the assembly.

²⁷ Whoso diggeth a pit shall fall therein;
And he that rolleth a stone, it shall return upon him.

²⁸ A lying tongue hateth those whom it hath wounded;
And a flattering mouth worketh ruin.

For thou knowest not what a day may bring forth.

² Let another man praise thee, and not thine own mouth;
A stranger, and not thine own lips.

³ A stone is heavy, and the sand weighty;
But a fool's vexation is heavier than they both.

⁴ Wrath is cruel, and anger is overwhelming;
But who is able to stand before jealousy?

⁵ Better is open rebuke
Than love that is hidden.

⁶ Faithful are the wounds of a friend;
But the kisses of an enemy are profuse.

⁷ The full soul loatheth a honeycomb;
But to the hungry soul every bitter thing is sweet.

⁸ As a bird that wandereth from her nest,
So is a man that wandereth from his place.

⁹ Oil and perfume rejoice the heart;
So doth the sweetness of a man's friend that cometh of hearty counsel.

¹⁰ Thine own friend, and thy father's friend, forsake not;
And go not to thy brother's house in the day of thy calamity:

Better is a neighbor that is near than a brother far off.

¹¹ My son, be wise, and make my heart glad,
That I may answer him that reproacheth me.

¹² A prudent man seeth the evil, and hideth himself;
But the simple pass on, and suffer for it.

¹³ Take his garment that is surety for a stranger;
And hold him in pledge that is surety for a foreign woman.

¹⁴ He that blesseth his friend with a loud voice, rising early in the morning,
It shall be counted a curse to him.

¹⁵ A continual dropping in a very rainy day
And a contentious woman are alike;

¹⁶ He that would restrain her restraineth the wind;
And his right hand encountereth oil.

¹⁷ Iron sharpeneth iron;
So a man sharpeneth the countenance of his friend.

¹⁸ Whoso keepeth the fig tree shall eat the fruit thereof;
And he that regardeth his master shall be honored.

¹⁹ As in water face answereth to face,
So the heart of man to man.

²⁰ Sheol and Abaddon are never satisfied;
And the eyes of man are never satisfied.

²¹ The refining pot is for silver, and the furnace for gold;
And a man is tried by his praise.

²² Though thou shouldest bray a fool in a mortar with a pestle along with bruised grain,
Yet will not his foolishness depart from him.

²³ Be thou diligent to know the state of thy flocks,
And look well to thy herds:

²⁴ For riches are not forever;
And doth the crown endure unto all generations?

²⁵ The hay is carried, and the tender grass showeth itself,
And the herbs of the mountains are gathered in.

²⁶ The lambs are for thy clothing,
And the goats are the price of the field;

²⁷ And there will be goats' milk enough for thy food, for the food of thy household,
And maintenance for thy maidens.

But the righteous are bold as a lion.

² For the transgression of a land many are the princes thereof;
But by men of understanding and knowledge the state thereof shall be prolonged.

³ A needy man that oppresseth the poor
Is like a sweeping rain which leaveth no food.

⁴ They that forsake the law praise the wicked;
But such as keep the law contend with them.

⁵ Evil men understand not justice;
But they that seek Jehovah understand all things.

⁶ Better is the poor that walketh in his integrity,

Than he that is perverse in his ways, though he be rich.

⁷ Whoso keepeth the law is a wise son;

But he that is a companion of gluttons shameth his father.

⁸ He that augmenteth his substance by interest and increase,
Gathereth it for him that hath pity on the poor.

⁹ He that turneth away his ear from hearing the law,
Even his prayer is an abomination.

¹⁰ Whoso causeth the upright to go astray in an evil way,
He shall fall himself into his own pit;
But the perfect shall inherit good.

¹¹ The rich man is wise in his own conceit;
But the poor that hath understanding searcheth him out.

¹² When the righteous triumph, there is great glory;
But when the wicked rise, men hide themselves.

¹³ He that covereth his transgressions shall not prosper;
But whoso confesseth and forsaketh them shall obtain mercy.

¹⁴ Happy is the man that feareth always;
But he that hardeneth his heart shall fall into mischief.

¹⁵ As a roaring lion, and a ranging bear,
So is a wicked ruler over a poor people.

¹⁶ The prince that lacketh understanding is also a great oppressor;
But he that hateth covetousness shall prolong his days.

¹⁷ A man that is laden with the blood of any person
Shall flee unto the pit; let no man stay him.

¹⁸ Whoso walketh uprightly shall be delivered;
But he that is perverse in his ways shall fall at once.

¹⁹ He that tilleth his land shall have plenty of bread;
But he that followeth after vain persons shall have poverty enough.

²⁰ A faithful man shall abound with blessings;
But he that maketh haste to be rich shall not be unpunished.

²¹ To have respect of persons is not good;
Neither that a man should transgress for a piece of bread.

²² He that hath an evil eye hasteth after riches,
And knoweth not that want shall come upon him.

²³ He that rebuketh a man shall afterward find more favor
Than he that flattereth with the tongue.

²⁴ Whoso robbeth his father or his mother, and saith, It is no transgression,
The same is the companion of a destroyer.

²⁵ He that is of a greedy spirit stirreth up strife;
But he that putteth his trust in Jehovah shall be made fat.

²⁶ He that trusteth in his own heart is a fool;
But whoso walketh wisely, he shall be delivered.

²⁷ He that giveth unto the poor shall not lack;
But he that hideth his eyes shall have many a curse.

²⁸ When the wicked rise, men hide themselves;
But when they perish, the righteous increase.

29

¹ He that being often reproveth hardeneth his neck
Shall suddenly be destroyed, and that without remedy.

² When the righteous are increased, the people rejoice;

But when a wicked man beareth rule, the people sigh.
3 Whoso loveth wisdom rejoiceth his father;
But he that keepeth company with harlots wasteth his substance.
4 The king by justice establisheth the land;
But he that exacteth gifts overthroweth it.
5 A man that flattereth his neighbor
Spreadeth a net for his steps.
6 In the transgression of an evil man there is a snare;
But the righteous doth sing and rejoice.
7 The righteous taketh knowledge of the cause of the poor;
The wicked hath not understanding to know it.
8 Scoffers set a city in a flame;
But wise men turn away wrath.
9 If a wise man hath a controversy with a foolish man,
Whether he be angry or laugh, there will be no rest.
10 The bloodthirsty hate him that is perfect;
And as for the upright, they seek his life.
11 A fool uttereth all his anger;
But a wise man keepeth it back and stilleth it.
12 If a ruler hearkeneth to falsehood,
All his servants are wicked.
13 The poor man and the oppressor meet together;
Jehovah lighteneth the eyes of them both.
14 The king that faithfully judgeth the poor,
His throne shall be established forever.
15 The rod and reproof give wisdom;
But a child left to himself causeth shame to his mother.
16 When the wicked are increased, transgression increaseth;
But the righteous shall look upon their fall.
17 Correct thy son, and he will give thee rest;
Yea, he will give delight unto thy soul.
18 Where there is no vision, the people cast off restraint;
But he that keepeth the law, happy is he.
19 A servant will not be corrected by words;
For though he understand, he will not give heed.
20 Seest thou a man that is hasty in his words?
There is more hope of a fool than of him.
21 He that delicately bringeth up his servant from a child
Shall have him become a son at the last.
22 An angry man stirreth up strife,
And a wrathful man aboundeth in transgression.
23 A man's pride shall bring him low;
But he that is of a lowly spirit shall obtain honor.
24 Whoso is partner with a thief hateth his own soul;
He heareth the adjuration and uttereth nothing.
25 The fear of man bringeth a snare;
But whoso putteth his trust in Jehovah shall be safe.
26 Many seek the ruler's favor;
But a man's judgment cometh from Jehovah.
27 An unjust man is an abomination to the righteous;
And he that is upright in the way is an abomination to the wicked.

¹ The words of Agur the son of Jakeh; the oracle.

The man saith unto Ithiel, unto Ithiel and Ukal:

² Surely I am more brutish than any man,
And have not the understanding of a man;

³ And I have not learned wisdom,
Neither have I the knowledge of the Holy One.

⁴ Who hath ascended up into heaven, and descended?
Who hath gathered the wind in his fists?
Who hath bound the waters in his garment?
Who hath established all the ends of the earth?
What is his name, and what is his son's name, if thou knowest?

⁵ Every word of God is tried:
He is a shield unto them that take refuge in him.

⁶ Add thou not unto his words,
Lest he reprove thee, and thou be found a liar.

⁷ Two things have I asked of thee;
Deny me them not before I die:

⁸ Remove far from me falsehood and lies;
Give me neither poverty nor riches;
Feed me with the food that is needful for me:
⁹ Lest I be full, and deny thee, and say, Who is Jehovah?
Or lest I be poor, and steal,
And use profanely the name of my God.

¹⁰ Slander not a servant unto his master,
Lest he curse thee, and thou be held guilty.

¹¹ There is a generation that curse their father,
And bless not their mother.

¹² There is a generation that are pure in their own eyes,
And yet are not washed from their filthiness.

¹³ There is a generation, oh how lofty are their eyes!
And their eyelids are lifted up.

¹⁴ There is a generation whose teeth are as swords, and their jaw teeth as knives,
To devour the poor from off the earth, and the needy from among men.

¹⁵ The horseleech hath two daughters, crying, Give, give.
There are three things that are never satisfied,
Yea, four that say not, Enough:

¹⁶ Sheol; and the barren womb;
The earth that is not satisfied with water;
And the fire that saith not, Enough.

¹⁷ The eye that mocketh at his father,
And despiseth to obey his mother,
The ravens of the valley shall pick it out,
And the young eagles shall eat it.

¹⁸ There are three things which are too wonderful for me,
Yea, four which I know not:

¹⁹ The way of an eagle in the air;
The way of a serpent upon a rock;
The way of a ship in the midst of the sea;
And the way of a man with a maiden.

²⁰ So is the way of an adulterous woman;
She eateth, and wipeth her mouth,
And saith, I have done no wickedness.

²¹ For three things the earth doth tremble,
And for four, which it cannot bear:

²² For a servant when he is king;
And a fool when he is filled with food;
²³ For an odious woman when she is married;
And a handmaid that is heir to her mistress.

²⁴ There are four things which are little upon the earth,
But they are exceeding wise:

²⁵ The ants are a people not strong,
Yet they provide their food in the summer;

²⁶ The conies are but a feeble folk,
Yet make they their houses in the rocks;

²⁷ The locusts have no king,
Yet go they forth all of them by bands;

²⁸ The lizard taketh hold with her hands,
Yet is she in kings' palaces.

²⁹ There are three things which are stately in their march,
Yea, four which are stately in going:

³⁰ The lion, which is mightiest among beasts,
And turneth not away for any;

³¹ The greyhound; the he-goat also;
And the king against whom there is no rising up.

³² If thou hast done foolishly in lifting up thyself,
Or if thou hast thought evil,
Lay thy hand upon thy mouth.

³³ For the churning of milk bringeth forth butter,
And the wringing of the nose bringeth forth blood;
So the forcing of wrath bringeth forth strife.

¹ The words of king Lemuel; the oracle which his mother taught him.

² What, my son? and what, O son of my womb?
And what, O son of my vows?

³ Give not thy strength unto women,
Nor thy ways to that which destroyeth kings.

⁴ It is not for kings, O Lemuel, it is not for kings to drink wine;

Nor for princes to say, Where is strong drink?

⁵ Lest they drink, and forget the law,
And pervert the justice due to any that is afflicted.

⁶ Give strong drink unto him that is ready to perish,
And wine unto the bitter in soul:

⁷ Let him drink, and forget his poverty,
And remember his misery no more.

⁸ Open thy mouth for the dumb,
In the cause of all such as are left desolate.

⁹ Open thy mouth, judge righteously,
And minister justice to the poor and needy.

¹⁰ A worthy woman who can find?
For her price is far above rubies.

¹¹ The heart of her husband trusteth in her,
And he shall have no lack of gain.

¹² She doeth him good and not evil
All the days of her life.

¹³ She seeketh wool and flax,
And worketh willingly with her hands.

¹⁴ She is like the merchant ships;
She bringeth her bread from afar.

¹⁵ She riseth also while it is yet night,
And giveth food to her household,
And their task to her maidens.

¹⁶ She considereth a field, and buyeth it;
With the fruit of her hands she planteth a vineyard.

¹⁷ She girdeth her loins with strength,
And maketh strong her arms.

¹⁸ She perceiveth that her merchandise is profitable;
Her lamp goeth not out by night.

¹⁹ She layeth her hands to the distaff,
And her hands hold the spindle.

²⁰ She stretcheth out her hand to the poor;
Yea, she reacheth forth her hands to the needy.

²¹ She is not afraid of the snow for her household;
For all her household are clothed with scarlet.

²² She maketh for herself carpets of tapestry;
Her clothing is fine linen and purple.

²³ Her husband is known in the gates,
When he sitteth among the elders of the land.

²⁴ She maketh linen garments and selleth them,
And delivereth girdles unto the merchant.

²⁵ Strength and dignity are her clothing;
And she laugheth at the time to come.

²⁶ She openeth her mouth with wisdom;
And the law of kindness is on her tongue.

²⁷ She looketh well to the ways of her household,
And eateth not the bread of idleness.

²⁸ Her children rise up, and call her blessed;
Her husband also, and he praiseth her, saying:

²⁹ Many daughters have done worthily,
But thou excellest them all.

³⁰ Grace is deceitful, and beauty is vain;
But a woman that feareth Jehovah, she shall be praised.

³¹ Give her of the fruit of her hands;
And let her works praise her in the gates.

ECCLESIASTES OR, THE PREACHER

¹ The words of the Preacher, the son of David, king in Jerusalem.

¹² I the Preacher was king over Israel in Jerusalem. ¹³ And I applied my heart to seek and to search out by wisdom concerning all that is done under heaven: it is a sore travail that God hath given to the sons of men to be exercised therewith. ¹⁴ I have seen all the works that are done under the sun; and, behold, all is vanity and a striving after wind. ¹⁵ That which is crooked cannot be made straight; and that which is wanting cannot be numbered. ¹⁶ I communed with mine own heart, saying, Lo, I have gotten me great wisdom above all that were before me in Jerusalem; yea, my heart hath had great experience of wisdom and knowledge. ¹⁷ And I applied my heart to know wisdom, and to know madness and folly: I perceived that this also was a striving after wind. ¹⁸ For in much wisdom is much grief; and he that increaseth knowledge increaseth sorrow.

¹ I said in my heart, Come now, I will prove thee with mirth; therefore enjoy pleasure: and, behold, this also was vanity. ² I said of laughter, It is mad; and of mirth, What doeth it? ³ I searched in my heart how to cheer my flesh with wine, my heart yet guiding me with wisdom, and how to lay hold on folly, till I might see what it was good for the sons of men that they should do under heaven all the days of their life. ⁴ I made me great works; I built me houses; I planted me vineyards; ⁵ I made me gardens and parks, and I planted trees in them of all kinds of fruit; ⁶ I made me pools of water, to water therefrom the forest where trees were reared; ⁷ I bought menservants and maidservants, and had servants born in my house; also I had great possessions of herds and flocks, above all that were before me in Jerusalem; ⁸ I gathered me also silver and gold, and the treasure of kings and of the provinces; I gat me men-singers and women-singers, and the delights of the sons of men, musical instruments, and that of all sorts. ⁹ So I was great, and increased more than all that were before me in Jerusalem: also my wisdom remained with me. ¹⁰ And whatsoever mine eyes desired I kept not from them; I withheld not my heart from any joy; for my heart rejoiced because of all my labor; and this was my portion from all my labor. ¹¹ Then I looked on all the works that my hands had wrought, and on the labor that

I had labored to do; and, behold, all was vanity and a striving after wind, and there was no profit under the sun.

¹² And I turned myself to behold wisdom, and madness, and folly: for what can the man do that cometh after the king? even that which hath been done long ago. ¹³ Then I saw that wisdom excelleth folly, as far as light excelleth darkness. ¹⁴ The wise man's eyes are in his head, and the fool walketh in darkness: and yet I perceived that one event happeneth to them all. ¹⁵ Then said I in my heart, As it happeneth to the fool, so will it happen even to me; and why was I then more wise? Then said I in my heart, that this also is vanity. ¹⁶ For of the wise man, even as of the fool, there is no remembrance forever; seeing that in the days to come all will have been long forgotten. And how doth the wise man die even as the fool! ¹⁷ So I hated life, because the work that is wrought under the sun was grievous unto me; for all is vanity and a striving after wind.

¹⁸ And I hated all my labor wherein I labored under the sun, seeing that I must leave it unto the man that shall be after me. ¹⁹ And who knoweth whether he will be a wise man or a fool? yet will he have rule over all my labor wherein I have labored, and wherein I have shown myself wise under the sun. This also is vanity. ²⁰ Therefore I turned about to cause my heart to despair concerning all the labor wherein I had labored under the sun. ²¹ For there is a man whose labor is with wisdom, and with knowledge, and with skillfulness; yet to a man that hath not labored therein shall he leave it for his portion. This also is vanity and a great evil. ²² For what hath a man of all his labor, and of the striving of his heart, wherein he laboreth under the sun? ²³ For all his days are but sorrows, and his travail is grief; yea, even in the night his heart taketh no rest. This also is vanity.

²⁴ There is nothing better for a man than that he should eat and drink, and make his soul enjoy good in his labor. This also I saw, that it is from the hand of God. ²⁵ For who can eat, or who can have enjoyment, more than I? ²⁶ For to the man that pleaseth him God giveth wisdom, and knowledge, and joy; but to the sinner he giveth travail, to gather and to heap up, that he may give to him that pleaseth God. This also is vanity and a striving after wind.

¹ For everything there is a season, and a time for every purpose under heaven: ² a time to be born, and a time to die; a time to plant, and a time to pluck up that which is planted; ³ a time to kill, and a time to heal; a time to break down, and a time to build up; ⁴ a time to weep, and a time to laugh; a time to mourn, and a time to dance; ⁵ a time to cast away stones, and a time to gather stones together; a time to embrace, and a time to refrain from embracing; ⁶ a time to seek, and a time to lose; a time to keep, and a time to cast away; ⁷ a time to rend, and a time to sew; a time to keep silence, and a time to speak; ⁸ a time to love, and a time to hate; a time for war, and a time for peace. ⁹ What profit hath he that worketh in that wherein he laboreth? ¹⁰ I have seen the travail which God hath given to the sons of men to be exercised therewith. ¹¹ He hath made everything beautiful in its time: also he hath set eternity in their heart, yet so that man cannot find out the work that God hath done from the beginning even to the end. ¹² I know that there is nothing better for them, than to rejoice, and to do good so long as they live. ¹³ And also that every man should eat and drink, and enjoy good in all his labor, is the gift of God. ¹⁴ I know that, whatsoever God doeth, it shall be forever: nothing can be put to it, nor anything taken from it; and God hath done it, that men should fear before him. ¹⁵ That which is hath been long ago; and that which is to be hath long ago been: and God seeketh again that which is passed away.

¹⁶ And moreover I saw under the sun, in the place of justice, that wickedness was there; and in the place of righteousness, that wickedness was there. ¹⁷ I said in my heart, God will judge the righteous and the wicked; for there is a time there for every purpose and for every work. ¹⁸ I said in my heart, It is because of the sons of men, that God may prove them, and that they may see that they themselves are but as beasts. ¹⁹ For that which befalleth the sons of men befalleth beasts; even one thing befalleth them: as the one dieth, so dieth the other; yea, they have all one breath; and man hath no preeminence above the beasts: for all is vanity. ²⁰ All go unto one place; all are of the dust, and all turn to dust again. ²¹ Who knoweth the spirit of man, whether it goeth upward, and the spirit of the beast, whether it goeth downward to the earth? ²² Wherefore I saw that there is nothing better, than that a man should rejoice in his works; for that is his portion: for who shall bring him back to see what shall be after him?

¹ Then I returned and saw all the oppressions that are done under the sun: and, behold, the tears of such as were oppressed, and they had no comforter; and on the side of their oppressors there was power; but they had no comforter. ² Wherefore I praised the dead that have been long dead more than the living that are yet alive; ³ yea, better than them both did I esteem him that hath not yet been, who hath not seen the evil work that is done under the sun.

⁷ Then I returned and saw vanity under the sun. ⁸ There is one that is alone, and he hath not a second; yea, he hath neither son nor brother; yet is there no end of all his labor, neither are his eyes satisfied with riches. For whom then, saith he, do I labor, and deprive my soul of good? This also is vanity, yea, it is a sore travail. ⁹ Two are better than one, because they have a good reward for their labor. ¹⁰ For if they fall, the one will lift up his fellow; but woe to him that is alone when he falleth, and hath not another to lift him up. ¹¹ Again, if two lie together, then they have warmth; but how can one be warm alone? ¹² And if a man prevail against him that is alone, two shall withstand him; and a threefold cord is not quickly broken.

¹³ Better is a poor and wise youth than an old and foolish king, who knoweth not how to receive admonition anymore. ¹⁴ For out of prison he came forth to be king; yea, even in his kingdom he was born poor. ¹⁵ I saw all the living that walk under the sun, that they were with the youth, the second, that stood up in his stead. ¹⁶ There was no end of all the people, even of all them over whom he was: yet they that come after shall not rejoice in him. Surely this also is vanity and a striving after wind.

¹ Keep thy foot when thou goest to the house of God; for to draw nigh to hear is better than to give the sacrifice of fools: for they know not that they do evil. ² Be not rash with thy mouth, and let not thy heart be hasty to utter anything before God; for God is in heaven, and thou upon earth: therefore let thy words be few. ³ For a dream cometh with a multitude of business, and a fool's voice with a multitude of words. ⁴ When thou vowest a vow unto God, defer not to pay it; for he hath no pleasure in fools: pay that which thou vowest. ⁵ Better is it that thou shouldest not vow, than that thou shouldest vow and not pay. ⁶ Suffer not thy mouth to cause thy flesh to sin; neither say thou before the angel, that it was an error: wherefore should God be angry at thy voice, and destroy the work of thy hands? ⁷ For in the multitude of dreams there are vanities, and in many words: but fear thou God.

¹⁸ Behold, that which I have seen to be good and to be comely is for one to eat and to drink, and to enjoy good in all his labor, wherein he laboreth under the sun, all the days of his life which God hath given him: for this is his portion. ¹⁹ Every man also to whom God hath given riches and wealth, and hath given him power to eat thereof, and to take his portion, and to rejoice in his labor—this is the gift of God. ²⁰ For he shall not much remember the days of his life; because God answereth him in the joy of his heart.

¹ There is an evil which I have seen under the sun, and it is heavy upon men: ² a man to whom God giveth riches, wealth, and honor, so that he lacketh nothing for his soul of all that he desireth, yet God giveth him not power to eat thereof, but an alien eateth it; this is vanity, and it is an evil disease. ³ If a man beget a hundred children, and live many years, so that the days of his years are many, but his soul be not filled with good, and moreover he have no burial; I say, that an untimely birth is better than he: ⁴ for it cometh in vanity, and departeth in darkness, and the name thereof is covered with darkness; ⁵ moreover it hath not seen the sun nor known it; this hath rest rather than the other: ⁶ yea, though he live a thousand years twice told, and yet enjoy no good, do not all go to one place?

¹⁰ Whatsoever hath been, the name thereof was given long ago; and it is known what man is; neither can he contend with him that is mightier than he. ¹¹ Seeing there are many things that increase vanity, what is man the better? ¹² For who knoweth what is good for man in his life, all the days of his vain life which he spendeth as a shadow? for who can tell a man what shall be after him under the sun?

⁸ Better is the end of a thing than the beginning thereof; and the patient in spirit is better than the proud in spirit. ⁹ Be not hasty in thy spirit to be angry; for anger resteth in the bosom of fools. ¹⁰ Say not thou, What is the cause that the former days were better than these? for thou dost not inquire wisely concerning this.

¹¹ Wisdom is as good as an inheritance; yea, more excellent is it for them that see the sun. ¹² For wisdom is a defense, even as money is a defense; but the excellency of knowledge is, that wisdom preserveth the life of him that hath it. ¹³ Consider the work of God: for who can make that straight, which he hath made crooked? ¹⁴ In the day of prosperity be joyful, and in the day of adversity consider; yea, God hath made the one side by side with the other, to the end that man should not find out anything that shall be after him.

¹⁹ Wisdom is a strength to the wise man more than ten rulers that are in a city. ²⁰ Surely there is not a righteous man upon earth, that doeth good, and sinneth not. ²¹ Also take not heed unto all words that are spoken, lest thou hear thy servant curse thee; ²² for oftentimes also thine own heart knoweth that thou thyself likewise hast cursed others.

²³ All this have I proved in wisdom: I said, I will be wise; but it was far from me. ²⁴ That which is, is far off and exceeding deep; who can find it out? ²⁵ I turned about, and my heart was set to know and to search out, and to seek wisdom and the reason of things, and to know that wickedness is folly, and that foolishness is madness. ²⁶ And I find more bitter than death the woman whose heart is snares and nets, and whose hands are bands: whoso pleaseth God shall escape from her; but the sinner shall be taken by her. ²⁷ Behold, this have I found, saith the Preacher, laying one thing to another, to find out the account; ²⁸ which my soul still seeketh, but I have not found: one man among a thousand have I found; but a woman among all those have I not found. ²⁹ Behold, this only have I found: that God made man upright; but they have sought out many inventions.

him. ⁴ For the king's word hath power; and who may say unto him, What doest thou? ⁵ Whoso keepeth the commandment shall know no evil thing; and a wise man's heart discerneth time and judgment: ⁶ for to every purpose there is a time and judgment; because the misery of man is great upon him: ⁷ for he knoweth not that which shall be; for who can tell him how it shall be? ⁸ There is no man that hath power over the spirit to retain the spirit; neither hath he power over the day of death; and there is no discharge in war: neither shall wickedness deliver him that is given to it.

⁹ All this have I seen, and applied my heart unto every work that is done under the sun: there is a time wherein one man hath power over another to his hurt. ¹⁰ So I saw the wicked buried, and they came to the grave; and they that had done right went away from the holy place, and were forgotten in the city: this also is vanity. ¹¹ Because sentence against an evil work is not executed speedily, therefore the heart of the sons of men is fully set in them to do evil. ¹² Though a sinner do evil a hundred times, and prolong his days, yet surely I know that it shall be well with them that fear God, that fear before him: ¹³ but it shall not be well with the wicked, neither shall he prolong his days, which are as a shadow; because he feareth not before God.

¹⁶ When I applied my heart to know wisdom, and to see the business that is done upon the earth (for also there is that neither day nor night seeth sleep with his eyes), ¹⁷ then I beheld all the work of God, that man cannot find out the work that is done under the sun: because however much a man labor to seek it out, yet he shall not find it; yea moreover, though a wise man think to know it, yet shall he not be able to find it.

² All things come alike to all: there is one event to the righteous and to the wicked; to the good and to the clean and to the unclean; to him that sacrificeth and to him that sacrificeth not; as is the good, so is the sinner; and he that sweareth, as he that feareth an oath. ³ This is an evil in all that is done under the sun, that there is one event unto all: yea also, the heart of the sons of men is full of evil, and madness is in their heart while they live, and after that they go to the dead. ⁴ For to him that is joined with all the living there is hope; for a living dog is better than a dead lion. ⁵ For the living know that they shall die: but the dead know not anything, neither have they anymore a reward; for the memory of them is forgotten. ⁶ As well their love, as their hatred and their envy, is perished long ago; neither have they anymore a portion forever in anything that is done under the sun.

⁷ Go thy way, eat thy bread with joy, and drink thy wine with a merry heart; for God hath already accepted thy works. ⁸ Let thy garments be always white; and let not thy head lack oil. ⁹ Live joyfully with the wife whom thou lovest all the days of thy life of vanity, which he hath given thee under the sun, all thy days of vanity: for that is thy portion in life, and in thy labor wherein thou laborest under the sun. ¹⁰ Whatsoever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might; for there is no work, nor device, nor knowledge, nor wisdom, in Sheol, whither thou goest.

¹¹ I returned, and saw under the sun, that the race is not to the swift, nor the battle to the strong, neither yet bread to the wise, nor yet riches to men of understanding, nor yet favor to men of skill; but time and chance happeneth to them all. ¹² For man also knoweth not his time: as the fish that are taken in an evil net, and as the birds that are caught in the snare, even so are the sons of men snared in an evil time, when it falleth suddenly upon them.

¹³ I have also seen wisdom under the sun on this wise, and it seemed great unto me: ¹⁴ There was a little city, and few men within it; and there came a great king against it, and besieged it, and built great bulwarks against it. ¹⁵ Now there was found in it a poor wise man, and he by his wisdom delivered the city; yet no man remembered that same poor man. ¹⁶ Then said I, Wisdom is better than strength: nevertheless the poor man's wisdom is despised, and his words are not heard. ¹⁷ The words of the wise heard in quiet are better than the cry of him that ruleth among fools. ¹⁸ Wisdom is better than weapons of war; but one sinner destroyeth much good.

¹² The words of a wise man's mouth are gracious; but the lips of a fool will swallow up himself. ¹³ The beginning of the words of his mouth is foolishness; and the end of his talk is mischievous madness. ¹⁴ A fool also multiplieth words: yet man knoweth not what shall be; and that which shall be after him, who can tell him? ¹⁵ The labor of fools wearieth every one of them; for he knoweth not how to go to the city.

¹⁶ Woe to thee, O land, when thy king is a child, and thy princes eat in the morning! ¹⁷ Happy art thou, O land, when thy king is the son of nobles, and thy princes eat in due season, for strength, and not for drunkenness! ¹⁸ By slothfulness the roof sinketh in; and through idleness of the hands the house leaketh. ¹⁹ A feast is made for laughter, and wine maketh glad the life; and money answereth all things. ²⁰ Revile not the king, no, not in thy thought; and revile not the rich in thy bedchamber: for a bird of the heavens shall carry the voice, and that which hath wings shall tell the matter.

falleth, there shall it be. ⁴ He that observeth the wind shall not sow; and he that regardeth the clouds shall not reap. ⁵ As thou knowest not what is the way of the wind, nor how the bones do grow in the womb of her that is with child; even so thou knowest not the work of God who doeth all. ⁶ In the morning sow thy seed, and in the evening withhold not thy hand; for thou knowest not which shall prosper, whether this or that, or whether they both shall be alike good. ⁷ Truly the light is sweet, and a pleasant thing it is for the eyes to behold the sun. ⁸ Yea, if a man live many years, let him rejoice in them all; but let him remember the days of darkness, for they shall be many. All that cometh is vanity.

⁹ Rejoice, O young man, in thy youth, and let thy heart cheer thee in the days of thy youth, and walk in the ways of thy heart, and in the sight of thine eyes; but know thou, that for all these things God will bring thee into judgment. ¹⁰ Therefore remove sorrow from thy heart, and put away evil from thy flesh; for youth and the dawn of life are vanity.

¹ Remember also thy Creator in the days of thy youth, before the evil days come, and the years draw nigh, when thou shalt say, I have no pleasure in them; ² before the sun, and the light, and the moon, and the stars, are darkened, and the clouds return after the rain; ³ in the day when the keepers of the house shall tremble, and the strong men shall bow themselves, and the grinders cease because they are few, and those that look out of the windows shall be darkened, ⁴ and the doors shall be shut in the street; when the sound of the grinding is low, and one shall rise up at the voice of a bird, and all the daughters of music shall be brought low; ⁵ yea, they shall be afraid of that which is high, and terrors shall be in the way; and the almond tree shall blossom, and the grasshopper shall be a burden, and desire shall fail; because man goeth to his everlasting home, and the mourners go about the streets: ⁶ before the silver cord is loosed, or the golden bowl is broken, or the pitcher is broken at the fountain, or the wheel broken at the cistern, ⁷ and the dust returneth to the earth as it was, and the spirit returneth unto God who gave it. ⁸ Vanity of vanities, saith the Preacher; all is vanity.

⁹ And further, because the Preacher was wise, he still taught the people knowledge; yea, he pondered, and sought out, and set in order many proverbs. ¹⁰ The Preacher sought to find out acceptable words, and that which was written uprightly, even words of truth.

¹¹ The words of the wise are as goads; and as nails well fastened are the words of the masters of assemblies, which are given from one shepherd. ¹² And furthermore, my son, be admonished: of making many books there is no end; and much study is a weariness of the flesh.

¹³ This is the end of the matter; all hath been heard: Fear God, and keep his commandments; for this is the whole duty of man. ¹⁴ For God will bring every work into judgment, with every hidden thing, whether it be good, or whether it be evil.

THE SONG OF SOLOMON

² Let him kiss me with the kisses of his mouth;
For thy love is better than wine.

³ Thine oils have a goodly fragrance;
Thy name is as oil poured forth;
Therefore do the virgins love thee.

⁴ Draw me; we will run after thee:
The king hath brought me into his chambers;
We will be glad and rejoice in thee;
We will make mention of thy love more than of wine:
Rightly do they love thee.

⁵ I am black, but comely,
Oh ye daughters of Jerusalem,
As the tents of Kedar,
As the curtains of Solomon.

⁶ Look not upon me, because I am swarthy,
Because the sun hath scorched me.
My mother's sons were incensed against me;
They made me keeper of the vineyards;
But mine own vineyard have I not kept.

⁷ Tell me, O thou whom my soul loveth,
Where thou feedest thy flock,
Where thou makest it to rest at noon:
For why should I be as one that is veiled
Beside the flocks of thy companions?

⁸ If thou know not, O thou fairest among women,
Go thy way forth by the footsteps of the flock,
And feed thy kids beside the shepherds' tents.

⁹ I have compared thee, O my love,
To a steed in Pharaoh's chariots.

¹⁰ Thy cheeks are comely with plaits of hair,
Thy neck with strings of jewels.

¹¹ We will make thee plaits of gold
With studs of silver.

¹² While the king sat at his table,
My spikenard sent forth its fragrance.

¹³ My beloved is unto me as a bundle of myrrh,
That lieth betwixt my breasts.

¹⁴ My beloved is unto me as a cluster of henna flowers
In the vineyards of En-gedi.

¹⁵ Behold, thou art fair, my love;
Behold thou art fair;

Thine eyes are as doves.

¹⁶ Behold, thou art fair, my beloved, yea, pleasant:
Also our couch is green.

¹⁷ The beams of our house are cedars,
And our rafters are firs.

¹ I am a rose of Sharon,
A lily of the valleys.

² As a lily among thorns,
So is my love among the daughters.

³ As the apple tree among the trees of the wood,
So is my beloved among the sons.
I sat down under his shadow with great delight,
And his fruit was sweet to my taste.

⁴ He brought me to the banqueting house,
And his banner over me was love.

⁵ Stay ye me with raisins, refresh me with apples;
For I am sick from love.

⁶ His left hand is under my head,
And his right hand doth embrace me.

⁷ I adjure you, O daughters of Jerusalem,
By the roes, or by the hinds of the field,
That ye stir not up, nor awake my love,
Until he please.

⁸ The voice of my beloved! behold, he cometh,
Leaping upon the mountains,
Skipping upon the hills.

⁹ My beloved is like a roe or a young hart:
Behold, he standeth behind our wall;
He looketh in at the windows;
He glanceth through the lattice.

¹⁰ My beloved spake, and said unto me,
Rise up, my love, my fair one, and come away.

¹¹ For, lo, the winter is past;
The rain is over and gone;

¹² The flowers appear on the earth;
The time of the singing of birds is come,
And the voice of the turtledove is heard in our land;

¹³ The fig tree ripeneth her green figs,
And the vines are in blossom;
They give forth their fragrance.
Arise, my love, my fair one, and come away.

¹⁴ O my dove, that art in the clefts of the rock,
In the covert of the steep place,

Let me see thy countenance,
Let me hear thy voice;
For sweet is thy voice, and thy countenance is comely.

¹⁵ Take us the foxes, the little foxes,
That spoil the vineyards;
For our vineyards are in blossom.

¹⁶ My beloved is mine, and I am his:
He feedeth his flock among the lilies.

¹⁷ Until the day be cool, and the shadows flee away,
Turn, my beloved, and be thou like a roe or a young hart
Upon the mountains of Bether.

¹ By night on my bed
I sought him whom my soul loveth:
I sought him, but I found him not.

² I said, I will rise now, and go about the city;
In the streets and in the broad ways
I will seek him whom my soul loveth:
I sought him, but I found him not.

³ The watchmen that go about the city found me;
To whom I said, Saw ye him whom my soul loveth?

⁴ It was but a little that I passed from them,
When I found him whom my soul loveth:
I held him, and would not let him go,
Until I had brought him into my mother's house,
And into the chamber of her that conceived me.

⁵ I adjure you, O daughters of Jerusalem,
By the roes, or by the hinds of the field,
That ye stir not up, nor awake my love,
Until he please.

⁶ Who is this that cometh up from the wilderness
Like pillars of smoke,
Perfumed with myrrh and frankincense,
With all powders of the merchant?

⁷ Behold, it is the litter of Solomon;
Threescore mighty men are about it,
Of the mighty men of Israel.

⁸ They all handle the sword, and are expert in war:
Every man hath his sword upon his thigh,
Because of fear in the night.

⁹ King Solomon made himself a palanquin
Of the wood of Lebanon.

¹⁰ He made the pillars thereof of silver,
The bottom thereof of gold, the seat of it of purple,
The midst thereof being paved with love,

From the daughters of Jerusalem.

¹¹ Go forth, O ye daughters of Zion, and behold king Solomon,
With the crown wherewith his mother hath crowned him
In the day of his espousals,
And in the day of the gladness of his heart.

Thine eyes are as doves behind thy veil.
Thy hair is as a flock of goats,
That lie along the side of mount Gilead.

² Thy teeth are like a flock of ewes that are newly shorn,
Which are come up from the washing,
Whereof every one hath twins,
And none is bereaved among them.

³ Thy lips are like a thread of scarlet,
And thy mouth is comely.
Thy temples are like a piece of a pomegranate
Behind thy veil.

⁴ Thy neck is like the tower of David
Built for an armory,
Whereon there hang a thousand bucklers,
All the shields of the mighty men.

⁵ Thy two breasts are like two fawns
That are twins of a roe,
Which feed among the lilies.

⁶ Until the day be cool, and the shadows flee away,
I will get me to the mountain of myrrh,
And to the hill of frankincense.

⁷ Thou art all fair, my love;
And there is no spot in thee.

⁸ Come with me from Lebanon, my bride,
With me from Lebanon:
Look from the top of Amana,
From the top of Senir and Hermon,
From the lions' dens,
From the mountains of the leopards.

⁹ Thou hast ravished my heart, my sister, my bride;
Thou hast ravished my heart with one of thine eyes,
With one chain of thy neck.

¹⁰ How fair is thy love, my sister, my bride!
How much better is thy love than wine!
And the fragrance of thine oils than all manner of spices!

¹¹ Thy lips, O my bride, drop as the honeycomb:
Honey and milk are under thy tongue;
And the smell of thy garments is like the smell of Lebanon.

¹² A garden shut up is my sister, my bride;
A spring shut up, a fountain sealed.

¹³ Thy shoots are an orchard of pomegranates, with precious fruits;
Henna with spikenard plants,

¹⁴ Spikenard and saffron,
Calamus and cinnamon, with all trees of frankincense;
Myrrh and aloes, with all the chief spices.

¹⁵ Thou art a fountain of gardens,
A well of living waters,
And flowing streams from Lebanon.

¹⁶ Awake, O north wind; and come, thou south;
Blow upon my garden, that the spices thereof may flow out.
Let my beloved come into his garden,
And eat his precious fruits.

¹ I am come into my garden, my sister, my bride:
I have gathered my myrrh with my spice;
I have eaten my honeycomb with my honey;
I have drunk my wine with my milk.
Eat, O friends;
Drink, yea, drink abundantly, O beloved.

² I was asleep, but my heart waked:
It is the voice of my beloved that knocketh, saying,
Open to me, my sister, my love, my dove, my undefiled;
For my head is filled with dew,
My locks with the drops of the night.

³ I have put off my garment; how shall I put it on?
I have washed my feet; how shall I defile them?

⁴ My beloved put in his hand by the hole of the door,
And my heart was moved for him.

⁵ I rose up to open to my beloved;
And my hands dropped with myrrh,
And my fingers with liquid myrrh,
Upon the handles of the bolt.

⁶ I opened to my beloved;
But my beloved had withdrawn himself, and was gone.
My soul had failed me when he spake:
I sought him, but I could not find him;
I called him, but he gave me no answer.

⁷ The watchmen that go about the city found me,
They smote me, they wounded me;
The keepers of the walls took away my mantle from me.

⁸ I adjure you, O daughters of Jerusalem,
If ye find my beloved,
That ye tell him, that I am sick from love.

⁹ What is thy beloved more than another beloved,
O thou fairest among women?
What is thy beloved more than another beloved,

That thou dost so adjure us?

¹⁰ My beloved is white and ruddy,
The chiefest among ten thousand.

¹¹ His head is as the most fine gold;
His locks are bushy, and black as a raven.

¹² His eyes are like doves beside the water-brooks,
Washed with milk, and fitly set.

¹³ His cheeks are as a bed of spices,
As banks of sweet herbs:
His lips are as lilies, dropping liquid myrrh.

¹⁴ His hands are as rings of gold set with beryl:
His body is as ivory work overlaid with sapphires.

¹⁵ His legs are as pillars of marble, set upon sockets of fine gold:
His aspect is like Lebanon, excellent as the cedars.

¹⁶ His mouth is most sweet;
Yea, he is altogether lovely.
This is my beloved, and this is my friend,
O daughters of Jerusalem.

O thou fairest among women?
Whither hath thy beloved turned him,
That we may seek him with thee?

² My beloved is gone down to his garden,
To the beds of spices,
To feed in the gardens, and to gather lilies.
³ I am my beloved's, and my beloved is mine:
He feedeth his flock among the lilies.

⁴ Thou art fair, O my love, as Tirzah,
Comely as Jerusalem,
Terrible as an army with banners.

⁵ Turn away thine eyes from me,
For they have overcome me.
Thy hair is as a flock of goats,
That lie along the side of Gilead.
⁶ Thy teeth are like a flock of ewes,
Which are come up from the washing;
Whereof every one hath twins,
And none is bereaved among them.

⁷ Thy temples are like a piece of a pomegranate
Behind thy veil.

⁸ There are threescore queens, and fourscore concubines,
And virgins without number.

⁹ My dove, my undefiled, is but one;
She is the only one of her mother;
She is the choice one of her that bare her.

The daughters saw her, and called her blessed;
Yea, the queens and the concubines, and they praised her.

¹⁰ Who is she that looketh forth as the morning,
Fair as the moon,
Clear as the sun,
Terrible as an army with banners?

¹¹ I went down into the garden of nuts,
To see the green plants of the valley,
To see whether the vine budded,
And the pomegranates were in flower.

¹² Before I was aware, my soul set me
Among the chariots of my princely people.

¹³ Return, return, O Shulammite;
Return, return, that we may look upon thee.

Why will ye look upon the Shulammite,
As upon the dance of Mahanaim?

¹ How beautiful are thy feet in sandals, O prince's daughter!
Thy rounded thighs are like jewels,
The work of the hands of a skillful workman.

² Thy body is like a round goblet,
Wherein no mingled wine is wanting:
Thy waist is like a heap of wheat
Set about with lilies.

³ Thy two breasts are like two fawns
That are twins of a roe.

⁴ Thy neck is like the tower of ivory;
Thine eyes as the pools in Heshbon,
By the gate of Bath-rabbim;
Thy nose is like the tower of Lebanon
Which looketh toward Damascus.

⁵ Thy head upon thee is like Carmel,
And the hair of thy head like purple;
The king is held captive in the tresses thereof.

⁶ How fair and how pleasant art thou,
O love, for delights!

⁷ This thy stature is like to a palm tree,
And thy breasts to its clusters.

⁸ I said, I will climb up into the palm tree,
I will take hold of the branches thereof:
Let thy breasts be as clusters of the vine,
And the smell of thy breath like apples,

⁹ And thy mouth like the best wine,
That goeth down smoothly for my beloved,
Gliding through the lips of those that are asleep.

¹⁰ I am my beloved's;
And his desire is toward me.
¹¹ Come, my beloved, let us go forth into the field;
Let us lodge in the villages.
¹² Let us get up early to the vineyards;
Let us see whether the vine hath budded,
And its blossom is open,
And the pomegranates are in flower:
There will I give thee my love.
¹³ The mandrakes give forth fragrance;
And at our doors are all manner of precious fruits, new and old,
Which I have laid up for thee, O my beloved.

¹ Oh that thou wert as my brother,
That sucked the breasts of my mother!
When I should find thee without, I would kiss thee;
Yea, and none would despise me.
² I would lead thee, and bring thee into my mother's house,
Who would instruct me;
I would cause thee to drink of spiced wine,
Of the juice of my pomegranate.
³ His left hand should be under my head,
And his right hand should embrace me.

⁴ I adjure you, O daughters of Jerusalem,
That ye stir not up, nor awake my love,
Until he please.

⁵ Who is this that cometh up from the wilderness,
Leaning upon her beloved?

Under the apple tree I awakened thee:
There thy mother was in travail with thee,
There was she in travail that brought thee forth.

⁶ Set me as a seal upon thy heart,
As a seal upon thine arm:
For love is strong as death;
Jealousy is cruel as Sheol;
The flashes thereof are flashes of fire,
A very flame of Jehovah.
⁷ Many waters cannot quench love,
Neither can floods drown it:
If a man would give all the substance of his house for love,
He would utterly be condemned.

⁸ We have a little sister,
And she hath no breasts:
What shall we do for our sister
In the day when she shall be spoken for?

⁹ If she be a wall,
We will build upon her a turret of silver:
And if she be a door,
We will enclose her with boards of cedar.

¹⁰ I am a wall, and my breasts like the towers thereof
Then was I in his eyes as one that found peace.

¹¹ Solomon had a vineyard at Baal-hamon;
He let out the vineyard unto keepers;
Every one for the fruit thereof was to bring a thousand pieces of silver.

¹² My vineyard, which is mine, is before me:
Thou, O Solomon, shalt have the thousand,
And those that keep the fruit thereof two hundred.

¹³ Thou that dwellest in the gardens,
The companions hearken for thy voice:
Cause me to hear it.

¹⁴ Make haste, my beloved,
And be thou like to a roe or to a young hart
Upon the mountains of spices.

THE BOOK OF ISAIAH

¹ The vision of Isaiah the son of Amoz, which he saw concerning Judah and Jerusalem, in the days of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of Judah.

² Hear, O heavens, and give ear, O earth; for Jehovah hath spoken: I have nourished and brought up children, and they have rebelled against me. ³ The ox knoweth his owner, and the ass his master's crib; but Israel doth not know, my people doth not consider. ⁴ Ah sinful nation, a people laden with iniquity, a seed of evildoers, children that deal corruptly! they have forsaken Jehovah, they have despised the Holy One of Israel, they are estranged and gone backward. ⁵ Why will ye be still stricken, that ye revolt more and more? the whole head is sick, and the whole heart faint. ⁶ From the sole of the foot even unto the head there is no soundness in it; but wounds, and bruises, and fresh stripes: they have not been closed, neither bound up, neither mollified with oil. ⁷ Your country is desolate; your cities are burned with fire; your land, strangers devour it in your presence, and it is desolate, as overthrown by strangers. ⁸ And the daughter of Zion is left as a booth in a vineyard, as a lodge in a garden of cucumbers, as a besieged city. ⁹ Except Jehovah of hosts had left unto us a very small remnant, we should have been as Sodom, we should have been like unto Gomorrah.

¹⁰ Hear the word of Jehovah, ye rulers of Sodom; give ear unto the law of our God, ye people of Gomorrah. ¹¹ What unto me is the multitude of your sacrifices? saith Jehovah: I have had enough of the burnt offerings of rams, and the fat of fed beasts; and I delight not in the blood of bullocks, or of lambs, or of he-goats. ¹² When ye come to appear before me, who hath required this at your hand, to trample my courts? ¹³ Bring no more vain oblations; incense is an abomination unto me; new moon and sabbath, the calling of assemblies—I cannot away with iniquity and the solemn meeting. ¹⁴ Your new moons and your appointed feasts my soul hateth; they are a trouble unto me; I am weary of bearing them. ¹⁵ And when ye spread forth your hands, I will hide mine eyes from you; yea, when ye make many prayers, I will not hear: your hands are full of blood. ¹⁶ Wash you, make you clean; put away the evil of your doings from before mine eyes; cease to do evil; ¹⁷ learn to do well; seek justice, relieve the oppressed, judge the fatherless, plead for the widow.

²⁴ Therefore saith the Lord, Jehovah of hosts, the Mighty One of Israel, Ah, I will ease me of mine adversaries, and avenge me of mine enemies; ²⁵ and I will turn my hand upon thee, and thoroughly purge away thy dross, and will take away all thy tin; ²⁶ and I will restore thy judges as at the first, and thy counselors as at the beginning: afterward thou shalt be called The city of righteousness, a faithful town. ²⁷ Zion shall be redeemed with justice, and her converts with righteousness. ²⁸ But the destruction of transgressors and sinners shall be together, and they that forsake Jehovah shall be consumed. ²⁹ For they shall be ashamed of the oaks which ye have desired, and ye shall be confounded for the gardens that ye have chosen. ³⁰ For ye shall be as an oak whose leaf fadeth, and as a garden that hath no water. ³¹ And the strong shall be as tow, and his work as a spark; and they shall both burn together, and none shall quench them.

¹² For there shall be a day of Jehovah of hosts upon all that is proud and haughty, and upon all that is lifted up; and it shall be brought low; ¹³ and upon all the cedars of Lebanon, that are high and lifted up, and upon all the oaks of Bashan, ¹⁴ and upon all the high mountains, and upon all the hills that are lifted up, ¹⁵ and upon every lofty tower, and upon every fortified wall, ¹⁶ and upon all the ships of Tarshish, and upon all pleasant imagery. ¹⁷ And the loftiness of man shall be bowed down, and the haughtiness of men shall be brought low; and Jehovah alone shall be exalted in that day. ¹⁸ And the idols shall utterly pass away. ¹⁹ And men shall go into the caves of the rocks, and into the holes of the earth, from before the terror of Jehovah, and from the glory of his majesty, when he ariseth to shake mightily the earth. ²⁰ In that day men shall cast away their idols of silver, and their idols of gold, which have been made for them to worship, to the moles and to the bats; ²¹ to go into the caverns of the rocks, and into the clefts of the ragged rocks, from before the terror of Jehovah, and from the glory of his majesty, when he ariseth to shake mightily the earth. ²² Cease ye from man, whose breath is in his nostrils; for wherein is he to be accounted of?

mighty man, and the man of war; the judge, and the prophet, and the diviner, and the elder; ³ the captain of fifty, and the honorable man, and the counselor, and the expert artificer, and the skillful enchanter. ⁴ And I will give children to be their princes, and babes shall rule over them. ⁵ And the people shall be oppressed, every one by another, and every one by his neighbor: the child shall behave himself proudly against the old man, and the base against the honorable. ⁶ When a man shall take hold of his brother in the house of his father, saying, Thou hast clothing, be thou our ruler, and let this ruin be under thy hand; ⁷ in that day shall he lift up his voice, saying, I will not be a healer; for in my house is neither bread nor clothing: ye shall not make me ruler of the people. ⁸ For Jerusalem is ruined, and Judah is fallen; because their tongue and their doings are against Jehovah, to provoke the eyes of his glory. ⁹ The show of their countenance doth witness against them; and they declare their sin as Sodom, they hide it not. Woe unto their soul! for they have done evil unto themselves. ¹⁰ Say ye of the righteous, that it shall be well with him; for they shall eat the fruit of their doings. ¹¹ Woe unto the wicked! it shall be ill with him; for what his hands have done shall be done unto him. ¹² As for my people, children are their oppressors, and women rule over them. O my people, they that lead thee cause thee to err, and destroy the way of thy paths.

¹³ Jehovah standeth up to contend, and standeth to judge the peoples. ¹⁴ Jehovah will enter into judgment with the elders of his people, and the princes thereof: It is ye that have eaten up the vineyard; the spoil of the poor is in your houses: ¹⁵ what mean ye that ye crush my people, and grind the face of the poor? saith the Lord, Jehovah of hosts.

¹⁶ Moreover Jehovah said, Because the daughters of Zion are haughty, and walk with outstretched necks and wanton eyes, walking and mincing as they go, and making a tinkling with their feet; ¹⁷ therefore the Lord will smite with a scab the crown of the head of the daughters of Zion, and Jehovah will lay bare their secret parts. ¹⁸ In that day the Lord will take away the beauty of their anklets, and the cauls, and the crescents; ¹⁹ the pendants, and the bracelets, and the mufflers; ²⁰ the headtires, and the ankle chains, and the sashes, and the perfume boxes, and the amulets; ²¹ the rings, and the nose jewels; ²² the festival robes, and the mantles, and the shawls, and the satchels; ²³ the hand mirrors, and the fine linen, and the turbans, and the veils. ²⁴ And it shall come to pass, that instead of sweet spices there shall be rottenness; and instead of a girdle, a rope; and instead of well set hair, baldness; and instead of a robe, a girding of sackcloth; branding instead of beauty. ²⁵ Thy men shall fall by the sword, and thy mighty in the war. ²⁶ And her gates shall lament and mourn; and she shall be desolate and sit upon the ground.

² In that day shall the branch of Jehovah be beautiful and glorious, and the fruit of the land shall be excellent and comely for them that are escaped of Israel. ³ And it shall come to pass, that he that is left in Zion, and he that remaineth in Jerusalem, shall be called holy, even everyone that is written among the living in Jerusalem; ⁴ when the Lord shall have washed away the filth of the daughters of Zion, and shall have purged the blood of Jerusalem from the midst thereof, by the spirit of justice, and by the spirit of burning. ⁵ And Jehovah will create over the whole habitation of mount Zion, and over her assemblies, a cloud and smoke by day, and the shining of a flaming fire by night; for over all the glory shall be spread a covering. ⁶ And there shall be a pavilion for a shade in the daytime from the heat, and for a refuge and for a covert from storm and from rain.

³ And now, O inhabitants of Jerusalem and men of Judah, judge, I pray you, betwixt me and my vineyard. ⁴ What could have been done more to my vineyard, that I have not done in it? wherefore, when I looked that it should bring forth grapes, brought it forth wild grapes? ⁵ And now I will tell you what I will do to my vineyard: I will take away the hedge thereof, and it shall be eaten up; I will break down the wall thereof, and it shall be trodden down: ⁶ and I will lay it waste; it shall not be pruned nor hoed; but there shall come up briers and thorns: I will also command the clouds that they rain no rain upon it. ⁷ For the vineyard of Jehovah of hosts is the house of Israel, and the men of Judah his pleasant plant: and he looked for justice, but, behold, oppression; for righteousness, but, behold, a cry.

⁸ Woe unto them that join house to house, that lay field to field, till there be no room, and ye be made to dwell alone in the midst of the land! ⁹ In mine ears saith Jehovah of hosts, Of a truth many houses shall be desolate, even great and fair, without inhabitant. ¹⁰ For ten acres of vineyard shall yield one bath, and a homer of seed shall yield but an ephah. ¹¹ Woe unto them that rise up early in the morning, that they may follow strong drink; that tarry late into the night, till wine inflame them! ¹² And the harp and the lute, the tabret and the pipe, and wine, are in their feasts; but they regard not the work of Jehovah, neither have they considered the operation of his hands.

¹⁸ Woe unto them that draw iniquity with cords of falsehood, and sin as it were with a cart rope; ¹⁹ that say, Let him make speed, let him hasten his work, that we may see it; and let the counsel of the Holy One of Israel draw nigh and come, that we may know it! ²⁰ Woe unto them that call evil good, and good evil; that put darkness for light, and light for darkness; that put bitter for sweet, and sweet for bitter! ²¹ Woe unto them that are wise in their own eyes, and prudent in their own sight! ²² Woe unto them that are mighty to drink wine, and men of strength to mingle strong drink; ²³ that justify the wicked for a bribe, and take away the righteousness of the righteous from him!

²⁴ Therefore as the tongue of fire devoureth the stubble, and as the dry grass sinketh down in the flame, so their root shall be as rottenness, and their blossom shall go up as dust; because they have rejected the law of Jehovah of hosts, and despised the word of the Holy One of Israel. ²⁵ Therefore is the anger of Jehovah kindled against his people, and he hath stretched forth his hand against them, and hath smitten them; and the mountains tremble, and their dead bodies are as refuse in the midst of the streets. For all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

⁶ Then flew one of the seraphim unto me, having a live coal in his hand, which he had taken with the tongs from off the altar: ⁷ and he touched my mouth with it, and said, Lo, this hath touched thy lips; and thine iniquity is taken away, and thy sin forgiven. ⁸ And I heard the voice of the Lord, saying, Whom shall I send, and who will go for us? Then I said, Here am I; send me. ⁹ And he said, Go, and tell this people, Hear ye indeed, but understand not; and see ye indeed, but perceive not. ¹⁰ Make the heart of this people fat, and make their ears heavy, and shut their eyes; lest they see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and understand with their heart, and turn again, and be healed. ¹¹ Then said I, Lord, how long? And he answered, Until cities be waste without inhabitant, and houses without man, and the land become utterly waste, ¹² and Jehovah have removed men far away, and the forsaken places be many in the midst of the land. ¹³ And if there be yet a tenth in it, it also shall in turn be eaten up: as a terebinth, and as an oak, whose stock remaineth, when they are felled; so the holy seed is the stock thereof.

¹ And it came to pass in the days of Ahaz the son of Jotham, the son of Uzziah, king of Judah, that Rezin the king of Syria, and Pekah the son of Remaliah, king of Israel, went up to Jerusalem to war against it, but could not prevail against it. ² And it was told the house of David, saying, Syria is confederate with Ephraim. And his heart trembled, and the heart of his people, as the trees of the forest tremble with the wind.

⁴ and say unto him, Take heed, and be quiet; fear not, neither let thy heart be faint, because of these two tails of smoking firebrands, for the fierce anger of Rezin and Syria, and of the son of Remaliah. ⁵ Because Syria, Ephraim, and the son of Remaliah, have purposed evil against thee, saying, ⁶ Let us go up against Judah, and vex it, and let us make a breach therein for us, and set up a king in the midst of it, even the son of Tabeel; ⁷ thus saith the Lord Jehovah, It shall not stand, neither shall it come to pass. ⁸ For the head of Syria is Damascus, and the head of Damascus is Rezin; and within threescore and five years shall Ephraim be broken in pieces, so that it shall not be a people: ⁹ and the head of Ephraim is Samaria, and the head of Samaria is Remaliah's son. If ye will not believe, surely ye shall not be established.

¹⁰ And Jehovah spake again unto Ahaz, saying, ¹¹ Ask thee a sign of Jehovah thy God; ask it either in the depth, or in the height above. ¹² But Ahaz said, I will not ask, neither will I tempt Jehovah. ¹³ And he said, Hear ye now, O house of David: Is it a small thing for you to weary men, that ye will weary my God also? ¹⁴ Therefore the Lord himself will give you a sign: behold, a virgin shall conceive, and bear a son, and shall call his name Immanuel. ¹⁵ Butter and honey shall he eat, when he knoweth to refuse the evil, and choose the good. ¹⁶ For before the child shall know to refuse the evil, and choose the good, the land whose two kings thou abhorrest shall be forsaken. ¹⁷ Jehovah will bring upon thee, and upon thy people, and upon thy father's house, days that have not come, from the day that Ephraim departed from Judah—even the king of Assyria.

¹⁸ And it shall come to pass in that day, that Jehovah will hiss for the fly that is in the uttermost part of the rivers of Egypt, and for the bee that is in the land of Assyria. ¹⁹ And they shall come, and shall rest all of them in the desolate valleys, and in the clefts of the rocks, and upon all thorn hedges, and upon all pastures.

²⁰ In that day will the Lord shave with a razor that is hired in the parts beyond the River, even with the king of Assyria, the head and the hair of the feet; and it shall also consume the beard.

²¹ And it shall come to pass in that day, that a man shall keep alive a young cow, and two sheep; ²² and it shall come to pass, that because of the abundance of milk which they shall give he shall eat butter: for butter and honey shall everyone eat that is left in the midst of the land.

²³ And it shall come to pass in that day, that every place, where there were a thousand vines at a thousand silverlings, shall be for briers and thorns. ²⁴ With arrows and with bow shall one come thither, because all the land shall be briers and thorns. ²⁵ And all the hills that were dug with the mattock, thou shalt not come thither for fear of briers and thorns; but it shall be for the sending forth of oxen, and for the treading of sheep.

¹ And Jehovah said unto me, Take thee a great tablet, and write upon it with the pen of a man, For Maher-shalal-hash-baz; ² and I will take unto me faithful witnesses to record, Uriah the priest, and Zechariah the son of Jeberechiah. ³ And I went unto the prophetess; and she conceived, and bare a son. Then said Jehovah unto me, Call his name Maher-shalal-hash-baz. ⁴ For before the child shall have knowledge to cry, My father, and, My mother, the riches of Damascus and the spoil of Samaria shall be carried away before the king of Assyria.

⁷ now therefore, behold, the Lord bringeth up upon them the waters of the River, strong and many, even the king of Assyria and all his glory: and it shall come up over all its channels, and go over all its banks; ⁸ and it shall sweep onward into Judah; it shall overflow and pass through; it shall reach even to the neck; and the stretching out of its wings shall fill the breadth of thy land, O Immanuel.

¹⁹ And when they shall say unto you, Seek unto them that have familiar spirits and unto the wizards, that chirp and that mutter: should not a people seek unto their God? on behalf of the living should they seek unto the dead? ²⁰ To the law and to the testimony! if they speak not according to this word, surely there is no morning for them. ²¹ And they shall pass through it, sore distressed and hungry; and it shall come to pass that, when they shall be hungry, they shall fret themselves, and curse by their king and by their God, and turn their faces upward: ²² and they shall look unto the earth, and, behold, distress and darkness, the gloom of anguish; and into thick darkness they shall be driven away.

¹ But there shall be no gloom to her that was in anguish. In the former time he brought into contempt the land of Zebulun and the land of Naphtali; but in the latter time hath he made it glorious, by the way of the sea, beyond the Jordan, Galilee of the nations. ² The people that walked in darkness have seen a great light: they that dwelt in the land of the shadow of death, upon them hath the light shined. ³ Thou hast multiplied the nation, thou hast increased their joy: they joy before thee according to the joy in harvest, as men rejoice when they divide the spoil. ⁴ For the yoke of his burden, and the staff of his shoulder, the rod of his oppressor, thou hast broken as in the day of Midian. ⁵ For all the armor of the armed man in the tumult, and the garments rolled in blood, shall be for burning, for fuel of fire. ⁶ For unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given; and the government shall be upon his shoulder: and his name shall be called Wonderful, Counselor, Mighty God, Everlasting Father, Prince of Peace. ⁷ Of the increase of his government and of peace there shall be no end, upon the throne of David, and upon his kingdom, to establish it, and to uphold it with justice and with righteousness from henceforth even forever. The zeal of Jehovah of hosts will perform this.

⁸ The Lord sent a word into Jacob, and it hath lighted upon Israel. ⁹ And all the people shall know, even Ephraim and the inhabitant of Samaria, that say in pride and in stoutness of heart, ¹⁰ The bricks are fallen, but we will build with hewn stone; the sycamores are cut down, but we will put cedars in their place. ¹¹ Therefore Jehovah will set up on high against him the adversaries of Rezin, and will stir up his enemies, ¹² the Syrians before, and the Philistines behind; and they shall devour Israel with open mouth. For all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

¹³ Yet the people have not turned unto him that smote them, neither have they sought Jehovah of hosts. ¹⁴ Therefore Jehovah will cut off from Israel head and tail, palm branch and rush, in one day. ¹⁵ The elder and the honorable man, he is the head; and the prophet that teacheth lies, he is the tail. ¹⁶ For they that lead this people cause them to err; and they that are led of them are destroyed. ¹⁷ Therefore the Lord will not rejoice over their young men, neither will he have compassion on their fatherless and widows; for everyone is profane and an evildoer, and every mouth speaketh folly. For all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

⁵ Ho Assyrian, the rod of mine anger, the staff in whose hand is mine indignation! ⁶ I will send him against a profane nation, and against the people of my wrath will I give him a charge, to take the spoil, and to take the prey, and to tread them down like the mire of the streets. ⁷ Howbeit he meaneth not so, neither doth his heart think so; but it is in his heart to destroy, and to cut off nations not a few. ⁸ For he saith, Are not my princes all of them kings? ⁹ Is not Calno as Carchemish? is not Hamath as Arpad? is not Samaria as Damascus? ¹⁰ As my hand hath found the kingdoms of the idols, whose graven images did excel them of Jerusalem and of Samaria; ¹¹ shall I not, as I have done unto Samaria and her idols, so do to Jerusalem and her idols?

²⁰ And it shall come to pass in that day, that the remnant of Israel, and they that are escaped of the house of Jacob, shall no more again lean upon him that smote them, but shall lean upon Jehovah, the Holy One of Israel, in truth. ²¹ A remnant shall return, even the remnant of Jacob, unto the mighty God. ²² For though thy people, Israel, be as the sand of the sea, only a remnant of them shall return: a destruction is determined, overflowing with righteousness. ²³ For a full end, and that determined, will the Lord, Jehovah of hosts, make in the midst of all the earth.

³³ Behold, the Lord, Jehovah of hosts, will lop the boughs with terror: and the high of stature shall be hewn down, and the lofty shall be brought low. ³⁴ And he will cut down the thickets of the forest with iron, and Lebanon shall fall by a mighty one.

¹ And there shall come forth a shoot out of the stock of Jesse, and a branch out of his roots shall bear fruit. ² And the Spirit of Jehovah shall rest upon him, the spirit of wisdom and understanding, the spirit of counsel and might, the spirit of knowledge and of the fear of Jehovah. ³ And his delight shall be in the fear of Jehovah; and he shall not judge after the sight of his eyes, neither decide after the hearing of his ears; ⁴ but with righteousness shall he judge the poor, and decide with equity for the meek of the earth; and he shall smite the earth with the rod of his mouth; and with the breath of his lips shall he slay the wicked. ⁵ And righteousness shall be the girdle of his waist, and faithfulness the girdle of his loins.

⁹ They shall not hurt nor destroy in all my holy mountain; for the earth shall be full of the knowledge of Jehovah, as the waters cover the sea.

¹¹ And it shall come to pass in that day, that the Lord will set his hand again the second time to recover the remnant of his people, that shall remain, from Assyria, and from Egypt, and from Pathros, and from Cush, and from Elam, and from Shinar, and from Hamath, and from the islands of the sea. ¹² And he will set up an ensign for the nations, and will assemble the outcasts of Israel, and gather together the dispersed of Judah from the four corners of the earth. ¹³ The envy also of Ephraim shall depart, and they that vex Judah shall be cut off: Ephraim shall not envy Judah, and Judah shall not vex Ephraim. ¹⁴ And they shall fly down upon the shoulder of the Philistines on the west; together shall they despoil the children of the east: they shall put forth their hand upon Edom and Moab; and the children of Ammon shall obey them. ¹⁵ And Jehovah will utterly destroy the tongue of the Egyptian sea; and with his scorching wind will he wave his hand over the River, and will smite it into seven streams, and cause men to march over dryshod. ¹⁶ And there shall be a highway for the remnant of his people, that shall remain, from Assyria; like as there was for Israel in the day that he came up out of the land of Egypt.

¹ And in that day thou shalt say, I will give thanks unto thee, O Jehovah; for though thou wast angry with me, thine anger is turned away and thou comfortest me. ² Behold, God is my salvation; I will trust, and will not be afraid: for Jehovah, even Jehovah, is my strength and song; and he is become my salvation. ³ Therefore with joy shall ye draw water out of the wells of salvation. ⁴ And in that day shall ye say, Give thanks unto Jehovah, call upon his name, declare his doings among the peoples, make mention that his name is exalted. ⁵ Sing unto Jehovah; for he hath done excellent things: let this be known in all the earth. ⁶ Cry aloud and shout, thou inhabitant of Zion; for great in the midst of thee is the Holy One of Israel.

13

light; the sun shall be darkened in its going forth, and the moon shall not cause its light to shine. ¹¹ And I will punish the world for their evil, and the wicked for their iniquity: and I will cause the arrogancy of the proud to cease, and will lay low the haughtiness of the terrible. ¹² I will make a man more rare than fine gold, even a man than the pure gold of Ophir. ¹³ Therefore I will make the heavens to tremble, and the earth shall be shaken out of its place, in the wrath of Jehovah of hosts, and in the day of his fierce anger. ¹⁴ And it shall come to pass, that as the chased roe, and as sheep that no man gathereth, they shall turn every man to his own people, and shall flee every man to his own land. ¹⁵ Everyone that is found shall be thrust through; and everyone that is taken shall fall by the sword. ¹⁶ Their infants also shall be dashed in pieces before their eyes; their houses shall be rifled, and their wives ravished.

¹⁷ Behold, I will stir up the Medes against them, who shall not regard silver, and as for gold, they shall not delight in it. ¹⁸ And their bows shall dash the young men in pieces; and they shall have no pity on the fruit of the womb; their eye shall not spare children. ¹⁹ And Babylon, the glory of kingdoms, the beauty of the Chaldeans' pride, shall be as when God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah. ²⁰ It shall never be inhabited, neither shall it be dwelt in from generation to generation: neither shall the Arabian pitch tent there; neither shall shepherds make their flocks to lie down there. ²¹ But wild beasts of the desert shall lie there; and their houses shall be full of doleful creatures; and ostriches shall dwell there, and wild goats shall dance there. ²² And wolves shall cry in their castles, and jackals in the pleasant palaces: and her time is near to come, and her days shall not be prolonged.

¹ For Jehovah will have compassion on Jacob, and will yet choose Israel, and set them in their own land: and the sojourner shall join himself with them, and they shall cleave to the house of Jacob. ² And the peoples shall take them, and bring them to their place; and the house of Israel shall possess them in the land of Jehovah for servants and for handmaids: and they shall take them captive whose captives they were; and they shall rule over their oppressors.

¹² How art thou fallen from heaven, O daystar, son of the morning! how art thou cut down to the ground, that didst lay low the nations! ¹³ And thou saidst in thy heart, I will ascend into heaven, I will exalt my throne above the stars of God; and I will sit upon the mount of congregation, in the uttermost parts of the north; ¹⁴ I will ascend above the heights of the clouds; I will make myself like the Most High. ¹⁵ Yet thou shalt be brought down to Sheol, to the uttermost parts of the pit. ¹⁶ They that see thee shall gaze at thee, they shall consider thee, saying, Is this the man that made the earth to tremble, that did shake kingdoms; ¹⁷ that made the world as a wilderness, and overthrew the cities thereof; that let not loose his prisoners to their home? ¹⁸ All the kings of the nations, all of them, sleep in glory, every one in his own house. ¹⁹ But thou art cast forth away from thy sepulcher like an abominable branch, clothed with the slain, that are thrust through with the sword, that go down to the stones of the pit; as a dead body trodden under foot. ²⁰ Thou shalt not be joined with them in burial, because thou hast destroyed thy land, thou hast slain thy people; the seed of evildoers shall not be named forever.

²⁴ Jehovah of hosts hath sworn, saying, Surely, as I have thought, so shall it come to pass; and as I have purposed, so shall it stand: ²⁵ that I will break the Assyrian in my land, and upon my mountains tread him under foot: then shall his yoke depart from off them, and his burden depart from off their shoulder. ²⁶ This is the purpose that is purposed upon the whole earth; and this is the hand that is stretched out upon all the nations. ²⁷ For Jehovah of hosts hath purposed, and who shall annul it? and his hand is stretched out, and who shall turn it back?

²⁸ In the year that king Ahaz died was this burden.

³² What then shall one answer the messengers of the nation? That Jehovah hath founded Zion, and in her shall the afflicted of his people take refuge.

For in a night Ar of Moab is laid waste, and brought to nought; for in a night Kir of Moab is laid waste, and brought to nought. ² They are gone up to Bayith, and to Dibon, to the high places, to weep: Moab walleth over Nebo, and over Medeba; on all their heads is baldness, every beard is cut off. ³ In their streets they gird themselves with sackcloth; on their housetops, and in their broad places, everyone walleth, weeping abundantly. ⁴ And Heshbon crieth out, and Elealeh; their voice is heard even unto Jahaz: therefore the armed men of Moab cry aloud; his soul trembleth within him. ⁵ My heart crieth out for Moab; her nobles flee unto Zoar, to Eglath-shelishiyah: for by the ascent of Luhith with weeping they go up; for in the way of Horonaim they raise up a cry of destruction. ⁶ For the waters of Nimrim shall be desolate; for the grass is withered away, the tender grass faileth, there is no green thing. ⁷ Therefore the abundance they have gotten, and that which they have laid up, shall they carry away over the brook of the willows. ⁸ For the cry is gone round about the borders of Moab; the wailing thereof unto Eglaim, and the wailing thereof unto Beer-elim. ⁹ For the waters of Dimon are full of blood; for I will bring yet more upon Dimon, a lion upon them of Moab that escape, and upon the remnant of the land.

⁶ We have heard of the pride of Moab, that he is very proud; even of his arrogancy, and his pride, and his wrath; his boastings are nought. ⁷ Therefore shall Moab wail for Moab, everyone shall wail: for the raisin cakes of Kir-hareseth shall ye mourn, utterly stricken. ⁸ For the fields of Heshbon languish, and the vine of Sibmah; the lords of the nations have broken down the choice branches thereof, which reached even unto Jazer, which wandered into the wilderness; its shoots were spread abroad, they passed over the sea. ⁹ Therefore I will weep with the weeping of Jazer for the vine of Sibmah; I will water thee with my tears, O Heshbon, and Elealeh: for upon thy summer fruits and upon thy harvest the battle shout is fallen. ¹⁰ And gladness is taken away, and joy out of the fruitful field; and in the vineyards there shall be no singing, neither joyful noise: no treader shall tread out wine in the presses; I have made the vintage shout to cease. ¹¹ Wherefore my heart soundeth like a harp for Moab, and mine inward parts for Kir-heres. ¹² And it shall come to pass, when Moab presenteth himself, when he wearieth himself upon the high place, and shall come to his sanctuary to pray, that he shall not prevail.

¹³ This is the word that Jehovah spake concerning Moab in time past. ¹⁴ But now Jehovah hath spoken, saying, Within three years, as the years of a hireling, the glory of Moab shall be brought into contempt, with all his great multitude; and the remnant shall be very small and of no account.

Behold, Damascus is taken away from being a city, and it shall be a ruinous heap. ² The cities of Aroer are forsaken; they shall be for flocks, which shall lie down, and none shall make them afraid. ³ And the fortress shall cease from Ephraim, and the kingdom from Damascus, and the remnant of Syria; they shall be as the glory of the children of Israel, saith Jehovah of hosts.

⁴ And it shall come to pass in that day, that the glory of Jacob shall be made thin, and the fatness of his flesh shall wax lean. ⁵ And it shall be as when the harvestman gathereth the standing grain, and his arm reapeth the ears; yea, it shall be as when one gleaneth ears in the valley of Rephaim. ⁶ Yet there shall be left therein gleanings, as the shaking of an olive tree, two or three berries in the top of the uppermost bough, four or five in the outmost branches of a fruitful tree, saith Jehovah, the God of Israel. ⁷ In that day shall men look unto their Maker, and their eyes shall have respect to the Holy One of Israel. ⁸ And they shall not look to the altars, the work of their hands; neither shall they have respect to that which their fingers have made, either the Asherim, or the sun images. ⁹ In that day shall their strong cities be as the forsaken places in the wood and on the mountain top, which were forsaken from before the children of Israel; and it shall be a desolation. ¹⁰ For thou hast forgotten the God of thy salvation, and hast not been mindful of the rock of thy strength; therefore thou plantest pleasant plants, and settest it with strange slips. ¹¹ In the day of thy planting thou hedgest it in, and in the morning thou makest thy seed to blossom; but the harvest fleeth away in the day of grief and of desperate sorrow.

¹² Ah, the uproar of many peoples, that roar like the roaring of the seas; and the rushing of nations, that rush like the rushing of mighty waters! ¹³ The nations shall rush like the rushing of many waters: but he shall rebuke them, and they shall flee far off, and shall be chased as the chaff of the mountains before the wind, and like the whirling dust before the storm. ¹⁴ At eventide, behold, terror; and before the morning they are not. This is the portion of them that despoil us, and the lot of them that rob us.

⁴ For thus hath Jehovah said unto me, I will be still, and I will behold in my dwelling place, like clear heat in sunshine, like a cloud of dew in the heat of harvest. ⁵ For before the harvest, when the blossom is over, and the flower becometh a ripening grape, he will cut off the sprigs with pruning hooks, and the spreading branches will he take away and cut down. ⁶ They shall be left together unto the ravenous birds of the mountains, and to the beasts of the earth; and the ravenous birds shall summer upon them, and all the beasts of the earth shall winter upon them. ⁷ In that time shall a present be brought unto Jehovah of hosts from a people tall and smooth, even from a people terrible from their beginning onward, a nation that meteth out and treadeth down, whose land the rivers divide, to the place of the name of Jehovah of hosts, the mount Zion.

Behold, Jehovah rideth upon a swift cloud, and cometh unto Egypt: and the idols of Egypt shall tremble at his presence; and the heart of Egypt shall melt in the midst of it. ² And I will stir up the Egyptians against the Egyptians: and they shall fight every one against his brother, and every one against his neighbor; city against city, and kingdom against kingdom. ³ And the spirit of Egypt shall fail in the midst of it; and I will destroy the counsel thereof: and they shall seek unto the idols, and to the charmers, and to them that have familiar spirits, and to the wizards. ⁴ And I will give over the Egyptians into the hand of a cruel lord; and a fierce king shall rule over them, saith the Lord, Jehovah of hosts.

⁹ Moreover they that work in combed flax, and they that weave white cloth, shall be confounded. ¹⁰ And the pillars of Egypt shall be broken in pieces; all they that work for hire shall be grieved in soul.

¹⁶ In that day shall the Egyptians be like unto women; and they shall tremble and fear because of the shaking of the hand of Jehovah of hosts, which he shaketh over them. ¹⁷ And the land of Judah shall become a terror unto Egypt; everyone to whom mention is made thereof shall be afraid, because of the purpose of Jehovah of hosts, which he purposeth against it.

¹⁸ In that day there shall be five cities in the land of Egypt that speak the language of Canaan, and swear to Jehovah of hosts; one shall be called The city of destruction.

²³ In that day shall there be a highway out of Egypt to Assyria, and the Assyrian shall come into Egypt, and the Egyptian into Assyria; and the Egyptians shall worship with the Assyrians.

²⁴ In that day shall Israel be the third with Egypt and with Assyria, a blessing in the midst of the earth; ²⁵ for that Jehovah of hosts hath blessed them, saying, Blessed be Egypt my people, and Assyria the work of my hands, and Israel mine inheritance.

¹ In the year that Tartan came unto Ashdod, when Sargon the king of Assyria sent him, and he fought against Ashdod and took it; ² at that time Jehovah spake by Isaiah the son of Amoz, saying, Go, and loose the sackcloth from off thy loins, and put thy shoe from off thy foot. And he did so, walking naked and barefoot. ³ And Jehovah said, Like as my servant Isaiah hath walked naked and barefoot three years for a sign and a wonder concerning Egypt and concerning Ethiopia; ⁴ so shall the king of Assyria lead away the captives of Egypt, and the exiles of Ethiopia, young and old, naked and barefoot, and with buttocks uncovered, to the shame of Egypt. ⁵ And they shall be dismayed and confounded, because of Ethiopia their expectation, and of Egypt their glory. ⁶ And the inhabitant of this coastland shall say in that day, Behold, such is our expectation, whither we fled for help to be delivered from the king of Assyria: and we, how shall we escape?

As whirlwinds in the South sweep through, it cometh from the wilderness, from a terrible land. ² A grievous vision is declared unto me; the treacherous man dealeth treacherously, and the destroyer destroyeth. Go up, O Elam; besiege, O Media; all the sighing thereof have I made to cease. ³ Therefore are my loins filled with anguish; pangs have taken hold upon me, as the pangs of a woman in travail: I am pained so that I cannot hear; I am dismayed so that I cannot see. ⁴ My heart fluttereth, horror hath affrighted me; the twilight that I desired hath been turned into trembling unto me. ⁵ They prepare the table, they set the watch, they eat, they drink: rise up, ye princes, anoint the shield. ⁶ For thus hath the Lord said unto me, Go, set a watchman; let him declare what he seeth: ⁷ and when he seeth a troop, horsemen in pairs, a troop of asses, a troop of camels, he shall hearken diligently with much heed. ⁸ And he cried as a lion: O Lord, I stand continually upon the watchtower in the daytime, and am set in my ward whole nights; ⁹ and, behold, here cometh a troop of men, horsemen in pairs. And he answered and said, Fallen, fallen is Babylon; and all the graven images of her gods are broken unto the ground.

¹⁰ O thou my threshing, and the grain of my floor! that which I have heard from Jehovah of hosts, the God of Israel, have I declared unto you.

¹¹ The burden of Dumah.

One calleth unto me out of Seir, Watchman, what of the night? Watchman, what of the night? ¹² The watchman said, The morning cometh, and also the night: if ye will inquire, inquire ye: turn ye, come.

¹³ The burden upon Arabia.

In the forest in Arabia shall ye lodge, O ye caravans of Dedanites. ¹⁴ Unto him that was thirsty they brought water; the inhabitants of the land of Tema did meet the fugitives with their bread. ¹⁵ For they fled away from the swords, from the drawn sword, and from the bent bow, and from the grievousness of war. ¹⁶ For thus hath the Lord said unto me, Within a year, according to the years of a hireling, all the glory of Kedar shall fail; ¹⁷ and the residue of the number of the archers, the mighty men of the children of Kedar, shall be few; for Jehovah, the God of Israel, hath spoken it.

¹ The burden of the valley of vision.

What aileth thee now, that thou art wholly gone up to the housetops? ² O thou that art full of shoutings, a tumultuous city, a joyous town; thy slain are not slain with the sword, neither are they dead in battle. ³ All thy rulers fled away together, they were bound by the archers; all that were found of thee were bound together; they fled afar off. ⁴ Therefore said I, Look away from me, I will weep bitterly; labor not to comfort me for the destruction of the daughter of my people.

⁵ For it is a day of discomfiture, and of treading down, and of perplexity, from the Lord, Jehovah of hosts, in the valley of vision; a breaking down of the walls, and a crying to the mountains. ⁶ And Elam bare the quiver, with chariots of men and horsemen; and Kir uncovered the shield. ⁷ And it came to pass, that thy choicest valleys were full of chariots, and the horsemen set themselves in array at the gate. ⁸ And he took away the covering of Judah; and thou didst look in that day to the armor in the house of the forest. ⁹ And ye saw the breaches of the city of David, that they were many; and ye gathered together the waters of the lower pool; ¹⁰ and ye numbered the houses of Jerusalem, and ye brake down the houses to fortify the wall; ¹¹ ye made also a reservoir between the two walls for the water of the old pool. But ye looked not unto him that had done this, neither had ye respect unto him that purposed it long ago.

¹² And in that day did the Lord, Jehovah of hosts, call to weeping, and to mourning, and to baldness, and to girding with sackcloth: ¹³ and, behold, joy and gladness, slaying oxen and killing sheep, eating flesh and drinking wine: Let us eat and drink, for tomorrow we shall die. ¹⁴ And Jehovah of hosts revealed himself in mine ears, Surely this iniquity shall not be forgiven you till ye die, saith the Lord, Jehovah of hosts.

¹⁵ Thus saith the Lord, Jehovah of hosts, Go, get thee unto this treasurer, even unto Shebna, who is over the house, and say, ¹⁶ What doest thou here? and whom hast thou here, that thou hast hewed thee out here a sepulcher? hewing him out a sepulcher on high, graving a habitation for himself in the rock! ¹⁷ Behold, Jehovah, like a strong man, will hurl thee away violently; yea, he will wrap thee up closely. ¹⁸ He will surely wind thee round and round, and toss thee like a ball into a large country; there shalt thou die, and there shall be the chariots of thy glory, thou shame of thy lord's house. ¹⁹ And I will thrust thee from thine office; and from thy station shalt thou be pulled down. ²⁰ And it shall come to pass in that day, that I will call my servant Eliakim the son of Hilkiah: ²¹ and I will clothe him with thy robe, and strengthen him with thy girdle, and I will commit thy government into his hand; and he shall be a father to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and to the house of Judah. ²² And the key of the house of David will I lay upon his shoulder; and he shall open, and none shall shut; and he shall shut, and none shall open. ²³ And I will fasten him as a nail in a sure place; and he shall be for a throne of glory to his father's house. ²⁴ And they shall hang upon him all the glory of his father's house, the offspring and the issue, every small vessel, from the cups even to all the flagons. ²⁵ In that day, saith Jehovah of hosts, shall the nail that was fastened in a sure place give way; and it shall be hewn down, and fall; and the burden that was upon it shall be cut off; for Jehovah hath spoken it.

Howl, ye ships of Tarshish; for it is laid waste, so that there is no house, no entering in: from the land of Kittim it is revealed to them. ² Be still, ye inhabitants of the coast, thou whom the merchants of Sidon, that pass over the sea, have replenished. ³ And on great waters the seed of the Shihor, the harvest of the Nile, was her revenue; and she was the mart of nations. ⁴ Be thou ashamed, O Sidon; for the sea hath spoken, the stronghold of the sea, saying, I have not travailed, nor brought forth, neither have I nourished young men, nor brought up virgins. ⁵ When the report cometh to Egypt, they shall be sorely pained at the report of Tyre. ⁶ Pass ye over to Tarshish; wail, ye inhabitants of the coast. ⁷ Is this your joyous city, whose antiquity is of ancient days, whose feet carried her afar off to sojourn?

⁸ Who hath purposed this against Tyre, the bestower of crowns, whose merchants are princes, whose traffickers are the honorable of the earth? ⁹ Jehovah of hosts hath purposed it, to stain the pride of all glory, to bring into contempt all the honorable of the earth. ¹⁰ Pass through thy land as the Nile, O daughter of Tarshish; there is no restraint anymore. ¹¹ He hath stretched out his hand over the sea, he hath shaken the kingdoms: Jehovah hath given commandment concerning Canaan, to destroy the strongholds thereof. ¹² And he said, Thou shalt no more rejoice, O thou oppressed virgin daughter of Sidon: arise, pass over to Kittim; even there shalt thou have no rest.

¹³ Behold, the land of the Chaldeans: this people was not; the Assyrian founded it for them that dwell in the wilderness; they set up their towers; they overthrew the palaces thereof; they made it a ruin. ¹⁴ Howl, ye ships of Tarshish; for your stronghold is laid waste. ¹⁵ And it shall come to pass in that day, that Tyre shall be forgotten seventy years, according to the days of one king: after the end of seventy years it shall be unto Tyre as in the song of the harlot. ¹⁶ Take a harp, go about the city, thou harlot that hast been forgotten; make sweet melody, sing many songs, that thou mayest be remembered. ¹⁷ And it shall come to pass after the end of seventy years, that Jehovah will visit Tyre, and she shall return to her hire, and shall play the harlot with all the kingdoms of the world upon the face of the earth. ¹⁸ And her merchandise and her hire shall be holiness to Jehovah: it shall not be treasured nor laid up; for her merchandise shall be for them that dwell before Jehovah, to eat sufficiently, and for durable clothing.

¹ Behold, Jehovah maketh the earth empty, and maketh it waste, and turneth it upside down, and scattereth abroad the inhabitants thereof. ² And it shall be, as with the people, so with the priest; as with the servant, so with his master; as with the maid, so with her mistress; as with the buyer, so with the seller; as with the creditor, so with the debtor; as with the taker of interest, so with the giver of interest to him. ³ The earth shall be utterly emptied, and utterly laid waste; for Jehovah hath spoken this word. ⁴ The earth mourneth and fadeth away, the world languisheth and fadeth away, the lofty people of the earth do languish. ⁵ The earth also is polluted under the inhabitants thereof; because they have transgressed the laws, violated the statutes, broken the everlasting covenant. ⁶ Therefore hath the curse devoured the earth, and they that dwell therein are found guilty: therefore the inhabitants of the earth are burned, and few men left. ⁷ The new wine mourneth, the vine languisheth, all the merry-hearted do sigh. ⁸ The mirth of tabrets ceaseth, the noise of them that rejoice endeth, the joy of the harp ceaseth. ⁹ They shall not drink wine with a song; strong drink shall be bitter to them that drink it. ¹⁰ The waste city is broken down; every house is shut up, that no man may come in. ¹¹ There is a crying in the streets because of the wine; all joy is darkened, the mirth of the land is gone. ¹² In the city is left desolation, and the gate is smitten with destruction. ¹³ For thus shall it be in the midst of the earth among the peoples, as the shaking of an olive tree, as the gleanings when the vintage is done.

But I said, I pine away, I pine away, woe is me! the treacherous have dealt treacherously; yea, the treacherous have dealt very treacherously. ¹⁷ Fear, and the pit, and the snare, are upon thee, O inhabitant of the earth. ¹⁸ And it shall come to pass, that he who fleeth from the noise of the fear shall fall into the pit; and he that cometh up out of the midst of the pit shall be taken in the snare: for the windows on high are opened, and the foundations of the earth tremble. ¹⁹ The earth is utterly broken, the earth is rent asunder, the earth is shaken violently. ²⁰ The earth shall stagger like a drunken man, and shall sway to and fro like a hammock; and the transgression thereof shall be heavy upon it, and it shall fall, and not rise again.

²¹ And it shall come to pass in that day, that Jehovah will punish the host of the high ones on high, and the kings of the earth upon the earth. ²² And they shall be gathered together, as prisoners are gathered in the pit, and shall be shut up in the prison; and after many days shall they be visited. ²³ Then the moon shall be confounded, and the sun ashamed; for Jehovah of hosts will reign in mount Zion, and in Jerusalem; and before his elders shall be glory.

⁹ And it shall be said in that day, Lo, this is our God; we have waited for him, and he will save us: this is Jehovah; we have waited for him, we will be glad and rejoice in his salvation. ¹⁰ For in this mountain will the hand of Jehovah rest; and Moab shall be trodden down in his place, even as straw is trodden down in the water of the dunghill. ¹¹ And he shall spread forth his hands in the midst thereof, as he that swimmeth spreadeth forth his hands to swim; but Jehovah will lay low his pride together with the craft of his hands. ¹² And the high fortress of thy walls hath he brought down, laid low, and brought to the ground, even to the dust.

⁸ Yea, in the way of thy judgments, O Jehovah, have we waited for thee; to thy name, even to thy memorial name, is the desire of our soul. ⁹ With my soul have I desired thee in the night; yea, with my spirit within me will I seek thee earnestly: for when thy judgments are in the earth, the inhabitants of the world learn righteousness.

¹¹ Jehovah, thy hand is lifted up, yet they see not: but they shall see thy zeal for the people, and be put to shame; yea, fire shall devour thine adversaries. ¹² Jehovah, thou wilt ordain peace for us; for thou hast also wrought all our works for us. ¹³ O Jehovah our God, other lords besides thee have had dominion over us; but by thee only will we make mention of thy name. ¹⁴ They are dead, they shall not live; they are deceased, they shall not rise: therefore hast thou visited and destroyed them, and made all remembrance of them to perish. ¹⁵ Thou hast increased the nation, O Jehovah, thou hast increased the nation; thou art glorified; thou hast enlarged all the borders of the land.

¹⁶ Jehovah, in trouble have they visited thee; they poured out a prayer when thy chastening was upon them. ¹⁷ Like as a woman with child, that draweth near the time of her delivery, is in pain and crieth out in her pangs; so we have been before thee, O Jehovah. ¹⁸ We have been with child, we have been in pain, we have as it were brought forth wind; we have not wrought any deliverance in the earth; neither have the inhabitants of the world fallen. ¹⁹ Thy dead shall live; my dead bodies shall arise. Awake and sing, ye that dwell in the dust; for thy dew is as the dew of herbs, and the earth shall cast forth the dead.

² In that day: A vineyard of wine, sing ye unto it. ³ I Jehovah am its keeper; I will water it every moment: lest any hurt it, I will keep it night and day. ⁴ Wrath is not in me: would that the briers and thorns were against me in battle! I would march upon them, I would burn them together. ⁵ Or else let him take hold of my strength, that he may make peace with me; yea, let him make peace with me. ⁶ In days to come shall Jacob take root; Israel shall blossom and bud; and they shall fill the face of the world with fruit.

⁷ Hath he smitten them as he smote those that smote them? or are they slain according to the slaughter of them that were slain by them? ⁸ In measure, when thou sendest them away, thou dost contend with them; he hath removed them with his rough blast in the day of the east wind. ⁹ Therefore by this shall the iniquity of Jacob be forgiven, and this is all the fruit of taking away his sin: that he maketh all the stones of the altar as chalkstones that are beaten in sunder, so that the Asherim and the sun images shall rise no more. ¹⁰ For the fortified city is solitary, a habitation deserted and forsaken, like the wilderness: there shall the calf feed, and there shall he lie down, and consume the branches thereof. ¹¹ When the boughs thereof are withered, they shall be broken off; the women shall come, and set them on fire; for it is a people of no understanding: therefore he that made them will not have compassion upon them, and he that formed them will show them no favor.

¹³ And it shall come to pass in that day, that a great trumpet shall be blown; and they shall come that were ready to perish in the land of Assyria, and they that were outcasts in the land of Egypt; and they shall worship Jehovah in the holy mountain at Jerusalem.

¹ Woe to the crown of pride of the drunkards of Ephraim, and to the fading flower of his glorious beauty, which is on the head of the fat valley of them that are overcome with wine! ² Behold, the Lord hath a mighty and strong one; as a tempest of hail, a destroying storm, as a tempest of mighty waters overflowing, will he cast down to the earth with the hand. ³ The crown of pride of the drunkards of Ephraim shall be trodden under foot: ⁴ and the fading flower of his glorious beauty, which is on the head of the fat valley, shall be as the first-ripe fig before the summer; which when he that looketh upon it seeth, while it is yet in his hand he eateth it up. ⁵ In that day will Jehovah of hosts become a crown of glory, and a diadem of beauty, unto the residue of his people; ⁶ and a spirit of justice to him that sitteth in judgment, and strength to them that turn back the battle at the gate.

¹¹ Nay, but by men of strange lips and with another tongue will he speak to this people; ¹² to whom he said, This is the rest, give ye rest to him that is weary; and this is the refreshing: yet they would not hear. ¹³ Therefore shall the word of Jehovah be unto them precept upon precept, precept upon precept; line upon line, line upon line; here a little, there a little; that they may go, and fall backward, and be broken, and snared, and taken.

¹⁴ Wherefore hear the word of Jehovah, ye scoffers, that rule this people that is in Jerusalem: ¹⁵ Because ye have said, We have made a covenant with death, and with Sheol are we at agreement; when the overflowing scourge shall pass through, it shall not come unto us; for we have made lies our refuge, and under falsehood have we hidden ourselves: ¹⁶ therefore thus saith the Lord Jehovah, Behold, I lay in Zion for a foundation a stone, a tried stone, a precious cornerstone of sure foundation: he that believeth shall not be in haste. ¹⁷ And I will make justice the line, and righteousness the plummet; and the hail shall sweep away the refuge of lies, and the waters shall overflow the hiding place. ¹⁸ And your covenant with death shall be annulled, and your agreement with Sheol shall not stand; when the overflowing scourge shall pass through, then ye shall be trodden down by it. ¹⁹ As often as it passeth through, it shall take you; for morning by morning shall it pass through, by day and by night: and it shall be nought but terror to understand the message. ²⁰ For the bed is shorter than that a man can stretch himself on it; and the covering narrower than that he can wrap himself in it. ²¹ For Jehovah will rise up as in mount Perazim, he will be wroth as in the valley of Gibeon; that he may do his work, his strange work, and bring to pass his act, his strange act. ²² Now therefore be ye not scoffers, lest your bonds be made strong; for a decree of destruction have I heard from the Lord, Jehovah of hosts, upon the whole earth.

²³ Give ye ear, and hear my voice; hearken, and hear my speech. ²⁴ Doth he that ploweth to sow plow continually? doth he continually open and harrow his ground? ²⁵ When he hath leveled the face thereof, doth he not cast abroad the fitches, and scatter the cumin, and put in the wheat in rows, and the barley in the appointed place, and the spelt in the border thereof? ²⁶ For his God doth instruct him aright, and doth teach him. ²⁷ For the fitches are not threshed with a sharp threshing instrument, neither is a cart wheel turned about upon the cumin; but the fitches are beaten out with a staff, and the cumin with a rod. ²⁸ Bread grain is ground; for he will not be always threshing it: and though the wheel of his cart and his horses scatter it, he doth not grind it. ²⁹ This also cometh forth from Jehovah of hosts, who is wonderful in counsel, and excellent in wisdom.

⁹ Tarry ye and wonder; take your pleasure and be blind: they are drunken, but not with wine; they stagger, but not with strong drink. ¹⁰ For Jehovah hath poured out upon you the spirit of deep sleep, and hath closed your eyes, the prophets; and your heads, the seers, hath he covered. ¹¹ And all vision is become unto you as the words of a book that is sealed, which men deliver to one that is learned, saying, Read this, I pray thee; and he saith, I cannot, for it is sealed: ¹² and the book is delivered to him that is not learned, saying, Read this, I pray thee; and he saith, I am not learned.

¹⁵ Woe unto them that hide deep their counsel from Jehovah, and whose works are in the dark, and that say, Who seeth us? and who knoweth us? ¹⁶ Ye turn things upside down! Shall the potter be esteemed as clay; that the thing made should say of him that made it, He made me not; or the thing formed say of him that formed it, He hath no understanding?

¹⁷ Is it not yet a very little while, and Lebanon shall be turned into a fruitful field, and the fruitful field shall be esteemed as a forest? ¹⁸ And in that day shall the deaf hear the words of the book, and the eyes of the blind shall see out of obscurity and out of darkness. ¹⁹ The meek also shall increase their joy in Jehovah, and the poor among men shall rejoice in the Holy One of Israel. ²⁰ For the terrible one is brought to nought, and the scoffer ceaseth, and all they that watch for iniquity are cut off; ²¹ that make a man an offender in his cause, and lay a snare for him that reproveth in the gate, and turn aside the just with a thing of nought.

¹ Woe to the rebellious children, saith Jehovah, that take counsel, but not of me; and that make a league, but not of my Spirit, that they may add sin to sin, ² that set out to go down into Egypt, and have not asked at my mouth; to strengthen themselves in the strength of Pharaoh, and to take refuge in the shadow of Egypt! ³ Therefore shall the strength of Pharaoh be your shame, and the refuge in the shadow of Egypt your confusion. ⁴ For their princes are at Zoan, and their ambassadors are come to Hanes. ⁵ They shall all be ashamed because of a people that cannot profit them, that are not a help nor profit, but a shame, and also a reproach.

⁶ The burden of the beasts of the South.

Through the land of trouble and anguish, from whence come the lioness and the lion, the viper and fiery flying serpent, they carry their riches upon the shoulders of young asses, and their treasures upon the humps of camels, to a people that shall not profit them. ⁷ For Egypt helpeth in vain, and to no purpose: therefore have I called her Rahab that sitteth still.

⁸ Now go, write it before them on a tablet, and inscribe it in a book, that it may be for the time to come forever and ever. ⁹ For it is a rebellious people, lying children, children that will not hear the law of Jehovah; ¹⁰ that say to the seers, See not; and to the prophets, Prophesy not unto us right things, speak unto us smooth things, prophesy deceits, ¹¹ get you out of the way, turn aside out of the path, cause the Holy One of Israel to cease from before us. ¹² Wherefore thus saith the Holy One of Israel, Because ye despise this word, and trust in oppression and perverseness, and rely thereon; ¹³ therefore this iniquity shall be to you as a breach ready to fall, swelling out in a high wall, whose breaking cometh suddenly in an instant. ¹⁴ And he shall break it as a potter's vessel is broken, breaking it in pieces without sparing; so that there shall not be found among the pieces thereof a sherd wherewith to take fire from the hearth, or to dip up water out of the cistern.

¹⁸ And therefore will Jehovah wait, that he may be gracious unto you; and therefore will he be exalted, that he may have mercy upon you: for Jehovah is a God of justice; blessed are all they that wait for him. ¹⁹ For the people shall dwell in Zion at Jerusalem; thou shalt weep no more; he will surely be gracious unto thee at the voice of thy cry; when he shall hear, he will answer thee. ²⁰ And though the Lord give you the bread of adversity and the water of affliction, yet shall not thy teachers be hidden anymore, but thine eyes shall see thy teachers; ²¹ and thine ears shall hear a word behind thee, saying, This is the way, walk ye in it; when ye turn to the right hand, and when ye turn to the left. ²² And ye shall defile the overlaying of thy graven images of silver, and the plating of thy molten images of gold: thou shalt cast them away as an unclean thing; thou shalt say unto it, Get thee hence.

²³ And he will give the rain for thy seed, wherewith thou shalt sow the ground; and bread of the increase of the ground, and it shall be fat and plenteous. In that day shall thy cattle feed in large pastures; ²⁴ the oxen likewise and the young asses that till the ground shall eat savory provender, which hath been winnowed with the shovel and with the fork. ²⁵ And there shall be upon every lofty mountain, and upon every high hill, brooks and streams of waters, in the day of the great slaughter, when the towers fall. ²⁶ Moreover the light of the moon shall be as the light of the sun, and the light of the sun shall be sevenfold, as the light of seven days, in the day that Jehovah bindeth up the hurt of his people, and healeth the stroke of their wound.

²⁷ Behold, the name of Jehovah cometh from far, burning with his anger, and in thick rising smoke: his lips are full of indignation, and his tongue is as a devouring fire; ²⁸ and his breath is as an overflowing stream, that reacheth even unto the neck, to sift the nations with the sieve of destruction: and a bridle that causeth to err shall be in the jaws of the peoples. ²⁹ Ye shall have a song as in the night when a holy feast is kept; and gladness of heart, as when one goeth with a pipe to come unto the mountain of Jehovah, to the Rock of Israel. ³⁰ And Jehovah will cause his glorious voice to be heard, and will show the lighting down of his arm, with the indignation of his anger, and the flame of a devouring fire, with a blast, and tempest, and hailstones. ³¹ For through the voice of Jehovah shall the Assyrian be dismayed; with his rod will he smite him. ³² And every stroke of the appointed staff, which Jehovah shall lay upon him, shall be with the sound of tabrets and harps; and in battles with the brandishing of his arm will he fight with them. ³³ For a Topheth is prepared of old; yea, for the king it is made ready; he hath made it deep and large; the pile thereof is fire and much wood; the breath of Jehovah, like a stream of brimstone, doth kindle it.

¹ Woe to them that go down to Egypt for help, and rely on horses, and trust in chariots because they are many, and in horsemen because they are very strong, but they look not unto the Holy One of Israel, neither seek Jehovah! ² Yet he also is wise, and will bring evil, and will not call back his words, but will arise against the house of the evildoers, and against the help of them that work iniquity. ³ Now the Egyptians are men, and not God; and their horses flesh, and not spirit: and when Jehovah shall stretch out his hand, both he that helpeth shall stumble, and he that is helped shall fall, and they all shall be consumed together.

Jehovah of hosts protect Jerusalem; he will protect and deliver it, he will pass over and preserve it. ⁶ Turn ye unto him from whom ye have deeply revolted, O children of Israel. ⁷ For in that day they shall cast away every man his idols of silver, and his idols of gold, which your own hands have made unto you for a sin. ⁸ And the Assyrian shall fall by the sword, not of man; and the sword, not of men, shall devour him; and he shall flee from the sword, and his young men shall become subject to taskwork. ⁹ And his rock shall pass away by reason of terror, and his princes shall be dismayed at the ensign, saith Jehovah, whose fire is in Zion, and his furnace in Jerusalem.

¹⁶ Then justice shall dwell in the wilderness; and righteousness shall abide in the fruitful field. ¹⁷ And the work of righteousness shall be peace; and the effect of righteousness, quietness and confidence forever. ¹⁸ And my people shall abide in a peaceable habitation, and in safe dwellings, and in quiet resting places. ¹⁹ But it shall hail in the downfall of the forest; and the city shall be utterly laid low. ²⁰ Blessed are ye that sow beside all waters, that send forth the feet of the ox and the ass.

¹ Woe to thee that destroyest, and thou wast not destroyed; and dealest treacherously, and they dealt not treacherously with thee! When thou hast ceased to destroy, thou shalt be destroyed; and when thou hast made an end of dealing treacherously, they shall deal treacherously with thee. ² O Jehovah, be gracious unto us; we have waited for thee: be thou our arm every morning, our salvation also in the time of trouble. ³ At the noise of the tumult the peoples are fled; at the lifting up of thyself the nations are scattered. ⁴ And your spoil shall be gathered as the caterpillar gathereth: as locusts leap shall men leap upon it. ⁵ Jehovah is exalted; for he dwelleth on high: he hath filled Zion with justice and righteousness. ⁶ And there shall be stability in thy times, abundance of salvation, wisdom, and knowledge: the fear of Jehovah is thy treasure.

¹⁷ Thine eyes shall see the king in his beauty: they shall behold a land that reacheth afar. ¹⁸ Thy heart shall muse on the terror: Where is he that counted, where is he that weighed the tribute? where is he that counted the towers? ¹⁹ Thou shalt not see the fierce people, a people of a deep speech that thou canst not comprehend, of a strange tongue that thou canst not understand. ²⁰ Look upon Zion, the city of our solemnities: thine eyes shall see Jerusalem a quiet habitation, a tent that shall not be removed, the stakes whereof shall never be plucked up, neither shall any of the cords thereof be broken. ²¹ But there Jehovah will be with us in majesty, a place of broad rivers and streams, wherein shall go no galley with oars, neither shall gallant ship pass thereby. ²² For Jehovah is our judge, Jehovah is our lawgiver, Jehovah is our king; he will save us. ²³ Thy tacklings are loosed; they could not strengthen the foot of their mast, they could not spread the sail: then was the prey of a great spoil divided; the lame took the prey. ²⁴ And the inhabitant shall not say, I am sick: the people that dwell therein shall be forgiven their iniquity.

¹ Come near, ye nations, to hear; and hearken, ye peoples: let the earth hear, and the fullness thereof; the world, and all things that come forth from it. ² For Jehovah hath indignation against all the nations, and wrath against all their host: he hath utterly destroyed them, he hath delivered them to the slaughter. ³ Their slain also shall be cast out, and the stench of their dead bodies shall come up; and the mountains shall be melted with their blood. ⁴ And all the host of heaven shall be dissolved, and the heavens shall be rolled together as a scroll; and all their host shall fade away, as the leaf fadeth from off the vine, and as a fading leaf from the fig tree. ⁵ For my sword hath drunk its fill in heaven: behold, it shall come down upon Edom, and upon the people of my curse, to judgment. ⁶ The sword of Jehovah is filled with blood, it is made fat with fatness, with the blood of lambs and goats, with the fat of the kidneys of rams; for Jehovah hath a sacrifice in Bozrah, and a great slaughter in the land of Edom. ⁷ And the wild oxen shall come down with them, and the bullocks with the bulls: and their land shall be drunken with blood, and their dust made fat with fatness.

⁸ For Jehovah hath a day of vengeance, a year of recompense for the cause of Zion. ⁹ And the streams of Edom shall be turned into pitch, and the dust thereof into brimstone, and the land thereof shall become burning pitch. ¹⁰ It shall not be quenched night nor day; the smoke thereof shall go up forever; from generation to generation it shall lie waste; none shall pass through it forever and ever. ¹¹ But the pelican and the porcupine shall possess it; and the owl and the raven shall dwell therein: and he will stretch over it the line of confusion, and the plummet of emptiness. ¹² They shall call the nobles thereof to the kingdom, but none shall be there; and all its princes shall be nothing. ¹³ And thorns shall come up in its palaces, nettles and thistles in the fortresses thereof; and it shall be a habitation of jackals, a court for ostriches. ¹⁴ And the wild beasts of the desert shall meet with the wolves, and the wild goat shall cry to his fellow; yea, the night monster shall settle there, and shall find her a place of rest. ¹⁵ There shall the dart-snake make her nest, and lay, and hatch, and gather under her shade; yea, there shall the kites be gathered, every one with her mate.

³ Strengthen ye the weak hands, and confirm the feeble knees. ⁴ Say to them that are of a fearful heart, Be strong, fear not: behold, your God will come with vengeance, with the recompense of God; he will come and save you.

⁵ Then the eyes of the blind shall be opened, and the ears of the deaf shall be unstopped. ⁶ Then shall the lame man leap as a hart, and the tongue of the dumb shall sing; for in the wilderness shall waters break out, and streams in the desert. ⁷ And the glowing sand shall become a pool, and the thirsty ground springs of water: in the habitation of jackals, where they lay, shall be grass with reeds and rushes. ⁸ And a highway shall be there, and a way, and it shall be called The way of holiness; the unclean shall not pass over it; but it shall be for the redeemed: the wayfaring men, yea fools, shall not err therein. ⁹ No lion shall be there, nor shall any ravenous beast go up thereon; they shall not be found there; but the redeemed shall walk there: ¹⁰ and the ransomed of Jehovah shall return, and come with singing unto Zion; and everlasting joy shall be upon their heads: they shall obtain gladness and joy, and sorrow and sighing shall flee away.

with a great army. And he stood by the conduit of the upper pool in the highway of the fuller's field. ³ Then came forth unto him Eliakim the son of Hilkiah, who was over the household, and Shebna the scribe, and Joah, the son of Asaph, the recorder.

⁴ And Rabshakeh said unto them, Say ye now to Hezekiah, Thus saith the great king, the king of Assyria, What confidence is this wherein thou trustest? ⁵ I say, thy counsel and strength for the war are but vain words: now on whom dost thou trust, that thou hast rebelled against me? ⁶ Behold, thou trustest upon the staff of this bruised reed, even upon Egypt, whereon if a man lean, it will go into his hand, and pierce it: so is Pharaoh king of Egypt to all that trust on him. ⁷ But if thou say unto me, We trust in Jehovah our God: is not that he, whose high places and whose altars Hezekiah hath taken away, and hath said to Judah and to Jerusalem, Ye shall worship before this altar? ⁸ Now therefore, I pray thee, give pledges to my master the king of Assyria, and I will give thee two thousand horses, if thou be able on thy part to set riders upon them. ⁹ How then canst thou turn away the face of one captain of the least of my master's servants, and put thy trust on Egypt for chariots and for horsemen? ¹⁰ And am I now come up without Jehovah against this land to destroy it? Jehovah said unto me, Go up against this land, and destroy it.

¹¹ Then said Eliakim and Shebna and Joah unto Rabshakeh, Speak, I pray thee, unto thy servants in the Syrian language; for we understand it: and speak not to us in the Jews' language, in the ears of the people that are on the wall. ¹² But Rabshakeh said, Hath my master sent me to thy master, and to thee, to speak these words? hath he not sent me to the men that sit upon the wall, to eat their own dung, and to drink their own water with you?

¹³ Then Rabshakeh stood, and cried with a loud voice in the Jews' language, and said, Hear ye the words of the great king, the king of Assyria. ¹⁴ Thus saith the king, Let not Hezekiah deceive you; for he will not be able to deliver you: ¹⁵ neither let Hezekiah make you trust in Jehovah, saying, Jehovah will surely deliver us; this city shall not be given into the hand of the king of Assyria. ¹⁶ Hearken not to Hezekiah: for thus saith the king of Assyria, Make your peace with me, and come out to me; and eat ye every one of his vine, and every one of his fig tree, and drink ye every one the waters of his own cistern; ¹⁷ until I come and take you away to a land like your own land, a land of grain and new wine, a land of bread and vineyards. ¹⁸ Beware lest Hezekiah persuade you, saying, Jehovah will deliver us. Hath any of the gods of the nations delivered his land out of the hand of the king of Assyria? ¹⁹ Where are the gods of Hamath and Arpad? where are the gods of Sepharvaim? and have they delivered Samaria out of my hand? ²⁰ Who are they among all the gods of these countries, that have delivered their country out of my hand, that Jehovah should deliver Jerusalem out of my hand?

²¹ But they held their peace, and answered him not a word; for the king's commandment was, saying, Answer him not. ²² Then came Eliakim the son of Hilkiah, that was over the household, and Shebna the scribe, and Joah, the son of Asaph, the recorder, to Hezekiah with their clothes rent, and told him the words of Rabshakeh.

¹ And it came to pass, when king Hezekiah heard it, that he rent his clothes, and covered himself with sackcloth, and went into the house of Jehovah. ² And he sent Eliakim, who was over the household, and Shebna the scribe, and the elders of the priests, covered with sackcloth, unto Isaiah the prophet the son of Amoz. ³ And they said unto him, Thus saith Hezekiah, This day is a day of trouble, and of rebuke, and of contumely; for the children are come to the birth, and there is not strength to bring forth. ⁴ It may be Jehovah thy God will hear the words of Rabshakeh, whom the king of Assyria his master hath sent to defy the living God, and will rebuke the words which Jehovah thy God hath heard: wherefore lift up thy prayer for the remnant that is left.

⁵ So the servants of king Hezekiah came to Isaiah. ⁶ And Isaiah said unto them, Thus shall ye say to your master, Thus saith Jehovah, Be not afraid of the words that thou hast heard, wherewith the servants of the king of Assyria have blasphemed me. ⁷ Behold, I will put a spirit in him, and he shall hear tidings, and shall return unto his own land; and I will cause him to fall by the sword in his own land.

⁸ So Rabshakeh returned, and found the king of Assyria warring against Libnah; for he had heard that he was departed from Lachish. ⁹ And he heard say concerning Tirhakah king of Ethiopia, He is come out to fight against thee. And when he heard it, he sent messengers to Hezekiah, saying, ¹⁰ Thus shall ye speak to Hezekiah king of Judah, saying, Let not thy God in whom thou trustest deceive thee, saying, Jerusalem shall not be given into the hand of the king of Assyria. ¹¹ Behold, thou hast heard what the kings of Assyria have done to all lands, by destroying them utterly: and shalt thou be delivered? ¹² Have the gods of the nations delivered them, which my fathers have destroyed, Gozan, and Haran, and Rezeph, and the children of Eden that were in Telassar? ¹³ Where is the king of Hamath, and the king of Arpad, and the king of the city of Sepharvaim, of Hena, and Ivvah?

¹⁴ And Hezekiah received the letter from the hand of the messengers, and read it; and Hezekiah went up unto the house of Jehovah, and spread it before Jehovah. ¹⁵ And Hezekiah prayed unto Jehovah, saying, ¹⁶ O Jehovah of hosts, the God of Israel, that sittest above the cherubim, thou art the God, even thou alone, of all the kingdoms of the earth; thou hast made heaven and earth. ¹⁷ Incline thine ear, O Jehovah, and hear; open thine eyes, O Jehovah, and see; and hear all the words of Sennacherib, who hath sent to defy the living God. ¹⁸ Of a truth, Jehovah, the kings of Assyria have laid waste all the countries, and their land, ¹⁹ and have cast their gods into the fire: for they were no gods, but the work of men's hands, wood and stone; therefore they have destroyed them. ²⁰ Now therefore, O Jehovah our God, save us from his hand, that all the kingdoms of the earth may know that thou art Jehovah, even thou only.

²⁶ Hast thou not heard how I have done it long ago, and formed it of ancient times? now have I brought it to pass, that it should be thine to lay waste fortified cities into ruinous heaps. ²⁷ Therefore their inhabitants were of small power, they were dismayed and confounded; they were as the grass of the field, and as the green herb, as the grass on the housetops, and as a field of grain before it is grown up. ²⁸ But I know thy sitting down, and thy going out, and thy coming in, and thy raging against me. ²⁹ Because of thy raging against me, and because thine arrogancy is come up into mine ears, therefore will I put my hook in thy nose, and my bridle in thy lips, and I will turn thee back by the way by which thou camest.

³⁰ And this shall be the sign unto thee: ye shall eat this year that which groweth of itself, and in the second year that which springeth of the same; and in the third year sow ye, and reap, and plant vineyards, and eat the fruit thereof. ³¹ And the remnant that is escaped of the house of Judah shall again take root downward, and bear fruit upward. ³² For out of Jerusalem shall go forth a remnant, and out of mount Zion they that shall escape. The zeal of Jehovah of hosts will perform this.

³⁶ And the angel of Jehovah went forth, and smote in the camp of the Assyrians a hundred and fourscore and five thousand; and when men arose early in the morning, behold, these were all dead bodies. ³⁷ So Sennacherib king of Assyria departed, and went and returned, and dwelt at Nineveh. ³⁸ And it came to pass, as he was worshiping in the house of Nisroch his god, that Adrammelech and Sharezer his sons smote him with the sword; and they escaped into the land of Ararat. And Esar-haddon his son reigned in his stead.

¹ In those days was Hezekiah sick unto death. And Isaiah the prophet the son of Amoz came to him, and said unto him, Thus saith Jehovah, Set thy house in order; for thou shalt die, and not live. ² Then Hezekiah turned his face to the wall, and prayed unto Jehovah, ³ and said, Remember now, O Jehovah, I beseech thee, how I have walked before thee in truth and with a perfect heart, and have done that which is good in thy sight. And Hezekiah wept sore. ⁴ Then came the word of Jehovah to Isaiah, saying, ⁵ Go, and say to Hezekiah, Thus saith Jehovah, the God of David thy father, I have heard thy prayer, I have seen thy tears: behold, I will add unto thy days fifteen years. ⁶ And I will deliver thee and this city out of the hand of the king of Assyria; and I will defend this city. ⁷ And this shall be the sign unto thee from Jehovah, that Jehovah will do this thing that he hath spoken: ⁸ behold, I will cause the shadow on the steps, which is gone down on the dial of Ahaz with the sun, to return backward ten steps. So the sun returned ten steps on the dial whereon it was gone down.

⁹ The writing of Hezekiah king of Judah, when he had been sick, and was recovered of his sickness.

¹⁰ I said, In the noontide of my days I shall go into the gates of Sheol: I am deprived of the residue of my years.

¹¹ I said, I shall not see Jehovah, even Jehovah in the land of the living: I shall behold man no more with the inhabitants of the world.

¹² My dwelling is removed, and is carried away from me as a shepherd's tent: I have rolled up, like a weaver, my life; he will cut me off from the loom: From day even to night wilt thou make an end of me.

¹³ I quieted myself until morning; as a lion, so he breaketh all my bones: From day even to night wilt thou make an end of me.

¹⁴ Like a swallow or a crane, so did I chatter; I did moan as a dove; mine eyes fail with looking upward: O Lord, I am oppressed, be thou my surety.

¹⁵ What shall I say? he hath both spoken unto me, and himself hath done it:
I shall go softly all my years because of the bitterness of my soul.

¹⁶ O Lord, by these things men live;

And wholly therein is the life of my spirit:

Wherefore recover thou me, and make me to live.

¹⁷ Behold, it was for my peace that I had great bitterness:

But thou hast in love to my soul delivered it from the pit of corruption;

For thou hast cast all my sins behind thy back.

¹⁸ For Sheol cannot praise thee, death cannot celebrate thee:

They that go down into the pit cannot hope for thy truth.

¹⁹ The living, the living, he shall praise thee, as I do this day:

The father to the children shall make known thy truth.

²⁰ Jehovah is ready to save me:

Therefore we will sing my songs with stringed instruments

All the days of our life in the house of Jehovah.

²¹ Now Isaiah had said, Let them take a cake of figs, and lay it for a plaster upon the boil, and he shall recover. ²² Hezekiah also had said, What is the sign that I shall go up to the house of Jehovah?

¹ At that time Merodach-baladan the son of Baladan, king of Babylon, sent letters and a present to Hezekiah; for he heard that he had been sick, and was recovered.

² And Hezekiah was glad of them, and showed them the house of his precious things, the silver, and the gold, and the spices, and the precious oil, and all the house of his armor, and all that was found in his treasures: there was nothing in his house, nor in all his dominion, that Hezekiah showed them not. ³ Then came Isaiah the prophet unto king Hezekiah, and said unto him, What said these men? and from whence came they unto thee? And Hezekiah said, They are come from a far country unto me, even from Babylon. ⁴ Then said he, What have they seen in thy house? And Hezekiah answered, All that is in my house have they seen: there is nothing among my treasures that I have not shown them. ⁵ Then said Isaiah to Hezekiah, Hear the word of Jehovah of hosts: ⁶ Behold, the days are coming, when all that is in thy house, and that which thy fathers have laid up in store until this day, shall be carried to Babylon: nothing shall be left, saith Jehovah. ⁷ And of thy sons that shall issue from thee, whom thou shalt beget, shall they take away; and they shall be eunuchs in the palace of the king of Babylon. ⁸ Then said Hezekiah unto Isaiah, Good is the word of Jehovah which thou hast spoken. He said moreover, For there shall be peace and truth in my days.

³ The voice of one that crieth, Prepare ye in the wilderness the way of Jehovah; make level in the desert a highway for our God. ⁴ Every valley shall be exalted, and every mountain and hill shall be made low; and the uneven shall be made level, and the rough places a plain: ⁵ and the glory of Jehovah shall be revealed, and all flesh shall see it together; for the mouth of Jehovah hath spoken it.

¹⁸ To whom then will ye liken God? or what likeness will ye compare unto him? ¹⁹ The image, a workman hath cast it, and the goldsmith overlayeth it with gold, and casteth for it silver chains. ²⁰ He that is too impoverished for such an oblation chooseth a tree that will not rot; he seeketh unto him a skillful workman to set up a graven image, that shall not be moved. ²¹ Have ye not known? have ye not heard? hath it not been told you from the beginning? have ye not understood from the foundations of the earth? ²² It is he that sitteth above the circle of the earth, and the inhabitants thereof are as grasshoppers; that stretcheth out the heavens as a curtain, and spreadeth them out as a tent to dwell in; ²³ that bringeth princes to nothing; that maketh the judges of the earth as vanity. ²⁴ Yea, they have not been planted; yea, they have not been sown; yea, their stock hath not taken root in the earth: moreover he bloweth upon them, and they wither, and the whirlwind taketh them away as stubble. ²⁵ To whom then will ye liken me, that I should be equal to him? saith the Holy One. ²⁶ Lift up your eyes on high, and see who hath created these, that bringeth out their host by number; he calleth them all by name; by the greatness of his might, and for that he is strong in power, not one is lacking.

²⁷ Why sayest thou, O Jacob, and speakest, O Israel, My way is hidden from Jehovah, and the justice due to me is passed away from my God? ²⁸ Hast thou not known? hast thou not heard? The everlasting God, Jehovah, the Creator of the ends of the earth, fainteth not, neither is weary; there is no searching of his understanding. ²⁹ He giveth power to the faint; and to him that hath no might he increaseth strength. ³⁰ Even the youths shall faint and be weary, and the young men shall utterly fall: ³¹ but they that wait for Jehovah shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings as eagles; they shall run, and not be weary; they shall walk, and not faint.

¹ Keep silence before me, O islands; and let the peoples renew their strength: let them come near; then let them speak; let us come near together to judgment. ² Who hath raised up one from the east, whom he calleth in righteousness to his foot? he giveth nations before him, and maketh him rule over kings; he giveth them as the dust to his sword, as the driven stubble to his bow. ³ He pursueth them, and passeth on safely, even by a way that he had not gone with his feet. ⁴ Who hath wrought and done it, calling the generations from the beginning? I, Jehovah, the first, and with the last, I am he. ⁵ The isles have seen, and fear; the ends of the earth tremble; they draw near, and come. ⁶ They help every one his neighbor; and every one saith to his brother, Be of good courage. ⁷ So the carpenter encourageth the goldsmith, and he that smootheth with the hammer him that smiteth the anvil, saying of the soldering, It is good; and he fasteneth it with nails, that it should not be moved.

⁸ But thou, Israel, my servant, Jacob whom I have chosen, the seed of Abraham my friend, ⁹ thou whom I have taken hold of from the ends of the earth, and called from the corners thereof, and said unto thee, Thou art my servant, I have chosen thee and not cast thee away; ¹⁰ fear thou not, for I am with thee; be not dismayed, for I am thy God; I will strengthen thee; yea, I will help thee; yea, I will uphold thee with the right hand of my righteousness. ¹¹ Behold, all they that are incensed against thee shall be put to shame and confounded: they that strive with thee shall be as nothing, and shall perish. ¹² Thou shalt seek them, and shalt not find them, even them that contend with thee: they that war against thee shall be as nothing, and as a thing of nought. ¹³ For I, Jehovah thy God, will hold thy right hand, saying unto thee, Fear not; I will help thee. ¹⁴ Fear not, thou worm Jacob, and ye men of Israel; I will help thee, saith Jehovah, and thy Redeemer is the Holy One of Israel. ¹⁵ Behold, I have made thee to be a new sharp threshing instrument having teeth; thou shalt thresh the mountains, and beat them small, and shalt make the hills as chaff. ¹⁶ Thou shalt winnow them, and the wind shall carry them away, and the whirlwind shall scatter them; and thou shalt rejoice in Jehovah, thou shalt glory in the Holy One of Israel.

²⁵ I have raised up one from the north, and he is come; from the rising of the sun one that calleth upon my name: and he shall come upon rulers as upon mortar, and as the potter treadeth clay. ²⁶ Who hath declared it from the beginning, that we may know? and beforetime, that we may say, He is right? yea, there is none that declareth, yea, there is none that showeth, yea, there is none that heareth your words. ²⁷ I am the first that saith unto Zion, Behold, behold them; and I will give to Jerusalem one that bringeth good tidings. ²⁸ And when I look, there is no man: even among them there is no counselor; that, when I ask of them, can answer a word. ²⁹ Behold, all of them, their works are vanity and nought; their molten images are wind and confusion.

⁵ Thus saith God Jehovah, he that created the heavens, and stretched them forth; he that spread abroad the earth and that which cometh out of it; he that giveth breath unto the people upon it, and spirit to them that walk therein: ⁶ I, Jehovah, have called thee in righteousness, and will hold thy hand, and will keep thee, and give thee for a covenant of the people, for a light of the Gentiles; ⁷ to open the blind eyes, to bring out the prisoners from the dungeon, and them that sit in darkness out of the prison house. ⁸ I am Jehovah, that is my name; and my glory will I not give to another, neither my praise unto graven images. ⁹ Behold, the former things are come to pass, and new things do I declare; before they spring forth I tell you of them.

¹⁴ I have long time holden my peace; I have been still, and refrained myself: now will I cry out like a travailing woman; I will gasp and pant together. ¹⁵ I will lay waste mountains and hills, and dry up all their herbs; and I will make the rivers islands, and will dry up the pools. ¹⁶ And I will bring the blind by a way that they know not; in paths that they know not will I lead them; I will make darkness light before them, and crooked places straight. These things will I do, and I will not forsake them. ¹⁷ They shall be turned back, they shall be utterly put to shame, that trust in graven images, that say unto molten images, Ye are our gods.

¹⁸ Hear, ye deaf; and look, ye blind, that ye may see. ¹⁹ Who is blind, but my servant? or deaf, as my messenger that I send? who is blind as he that is at peace with me, and blind as Jehovah's servant? ²⁰ Thou seest many things, but thou observest not; his ears are open, but he heareth not. ²¹ It pleased Jehovah, for his righteousness' sake, to magnify the law, and make it honorable. ²² But this is a people robbed and plundered; they are all of them snared in holes, and they are hidden in prison houses: they are for a prey, and none delivereth; for a spoil, and none saith, Restore.

²³ Who is there among you that will give ear to this? that will hearken and hear for the time to come? ²⁴ Who gave Jacob for a spoil, and Israel to the robbers? did not Jehovah? he against whom we have sinned, and in whose ways they would not walk, neither were they obedient unto his law. ²⁵ Therefore he poured upon him the fierceness of his anger, and the strength of battle; and it set him on fire round about, yet he knew not; and it burned him, yet he laid it not to heart.

¹ But now thus saith Jehovah that created thee, O Jacob, and he that formed thee, O Israel: Fear not, for I have redeemed thee; I have called thee by thy name, thou art mine. ² When thou passest through the waters, I will be with thee; and through the rivers, they shall not overflow thee: when thou walkest through the fire, thou shalt not be burned, neither shall the flame kindle upon thee. ³ For I am Jehovah thy God, the Holy One of Israel, thy Savior; I have given Egypt as thy ransom, Ethiopia and Seba in thy stead. ⁴ Since thou hast been precious in my sight, and honorable, and I have loved thee; therefore will I give men in thy stead, and peoples instead of thy life. ⁵ Fear not; for I am with thee: I will bring thy seed from the east, and gather thee from the west; ⁶ I will say to the north, Give up; and to the south, Keep not back; bring my sons from far, and my daughters from the end of the earth; ⁷ everyone that is called by my name, and whom I have created for my glory, whom I have formed, yea, whom I have made.

⁸ Bring forth the blind people that have eyes, and the deaf that have ears. ⁹ Let all the nations be gathered together, and let the peoples be assembled: who among them can declare this, and show us former things? let them bring their witnesses, that they may be justified; or let them hear, and say, It is truth. ¹⁰ Ye are my witnesses, saith Jehovah, and my servant whom I have chosen; that ye may know and believe me, and understand that I am he: before me there was no God formed, neither shall there be after me. ¹¹ I, even I, am Jehovah; and besides me there is no savior. ¹² I have declared, and I have saved, and I have shown; and there was no strange god among you: therefore ye are my witnesses, saith Jehovah, and I am God. ¹³ Yea, since the day was I am he; and there is none that can deliver out of my hand: I will work, and who can hinder it?

¹⁴ Thus saith Jehovah, your Redeemer, the Holy One of Israel: For your sake I have sent to Babylon, and I will bring down all of them as fugitives, even the Chaldeans, in the ships of their rejoicing. ¹⁵ I am Jehovah, your Holy One, the Creator of Israel, your King. ¹⁶ Thus saith Jehovah, who maketh a way in the sea, and a path in the mighty waters; ¹⁷ who bringeth forth the chariot and horse, the army and the mighty man (they lie down together, they shall not rise; they are extinct, they are quenched as a wick): ¹⁸ Remember ye not the former things, neither consider the things of old. ¹⁹ Behold, I will do a new thing; now shall it spring forth; shall ye not know it? I will even make a way in the wilderness, and rivers in the desert. ²⁰ The beasts of the field shall honor me, the jackals and the ostriches; because I give waters in the wilderness, and rivers in the desert, to give drink to my people, my chosen, ²¹ the people which I formed for myself, that they might set forth my praise.

²⁵ I, even I, am he that blotteth out thy transgressions for mine own sake; and I will not remember thy sins. ²⁶ Put me in remembrance; let us plead together: set thou forth thy cause, that thou mayest be justified. ²⁷ Thy first father sinned, and thy teachers have transgressed against me. ²⁸ Therefore I will profane the princes of the sanctuary; and I will make Jacob a curse, and Israel a reviling.

¹ Yet now hear, O Jacob my servant, and Israel, who I have chosen: ² Thus saith Jehovah that made thee, and formed thee from the womb, who will help thee: Fear not, O Jacob my servant; and thou, Jeshurun, whom I have chosen. ³ For I will pour water upon him that is thirsty, and streams upon the dry ground; I will pour my Spirit upon thy seed, and my blessing upon thine offspring: ⁴ and they shall spring up among the grass, as willows by the watercourses. ⁵ One shall say, I am Jehovah's; and another shall call himself by the name of Jacob; and another shall subscribe with his hand unto Jehovah, and surname himself by the name of Israel.

⁶ Thus saith Jehovah, the King of Israel, and his Redeemer, Jehovah of hosts: I am the first, and I am the last; and besides me there is no God. ⁷ And who, as I, shall call, and shall declare it, and set it in order for me, since I established the ancient people? and the things that are coming, and that shall come to pass, let them declare. ⁸ Fear ye not, neither be afraid: have I not declared unto thee of old, and shown it? and ye are my witnesses. Is there a God besides me? yea, there is no Rock; I know not any.

¹⁸ They know not, neither do they consider: for he hath shut their eyes, that they cannot see; and their hearts, that they cannot understand. ¹⁹ And none calleth to mind, neither is there knowledge nor understanding to say, I have burned part of it in the fire; yea, also I have baked bread upon the coals thereof; I have roasted flesh and eaten it: and shall I make the residue thereof an abomination? shall I fall down to the stock of a tree? ²⁰ He feedeth on ashes; a deceived heart hath turned him aside; and he cannot deliver his soul, nor say, Is there not a lie in my right hand?

²¹ Remember these things, O Jacob, and Israel; for thou art my servant: I have formed thee; thou art my servant: O Israel, thou shalt not be forgotten of me. ²² I have blotted out, as a thick cloud, thy transgressions, and, as a cloud, thy sins: return unto me; for I have redeemed thee. ²³ Sing, O ye heavens, for Jehovah hath done it; shout, ye lower parts of the earth; break forth into singing, ye mountains, O forest, and every tree therein: for Jehovah hath redeemed Jacob, and will glorify himself in Israel.

²⁴ Thus saith Jehovah, thy Redeemer, and he that formed thee from the womb: I am Jehovah, that maketh all things; that stretcheth forth the heavens alone; that spreadeth abroad the earth (who is with me?); ²⁵ that frustrateth the signs of the liars, and maketh diviners mad; that turneth wise men backward, and maketh their knowledge foolish; ²⁶ that confirmeth the word of his servant, and performeth the counsel of his messengers; that saith of Jerusalem, She shall be inhabited; and of the cities of Judah, They shall be built, and I will raise up the waste places thereof; ²⁷ that saith to the deep, Be dry, and I will dry up thy rivers; ²⁸ That saith of Cyrus, He is my shepherd, and shall perform all my pleasure, even saying of Jerusalem, She shall be built; and of the temple, Thy foundation shall be laid.

¹¹ Thus saith Jehovah, the Holy One of Israel, and his Maker: Ask me of the things that are to come; concerning my sons, and concerning the work of my hands, command ye me. ¹² I have made the earth, and created man upon it: I, even my hands, have stretched out the heavens; and all their host have I commanded. ¹³ I have raised him up in righteousness, and I will make straight all his ways: he shall build my city, and he shall let my exiles go free, not for price nor reward, saith Jehovah of hosts.

¹⁴ Thus saith Jehovah, The labor of Egypt, and the merchandise of Ethiopia, and the Sabeans, men of stature, shall come over unto thee, and they shall be thine: they shall go after thee, in chains they shall come over; and they shall fall down unto thee, they shall make supplication unto thee, saying, Surely God is in thee; and there is none else, there is no God. ¹⁵ Verily thou art a God that hidest thyself, O God of Israel, the Savior. ¹⁶ They shall be put to shame, yea, confounded, all of them; they shall go into confusion together that are makers of idols. ¹⁷ But Israel shall be saved by Jehovah with an everlasting salvation: ye shall not be put to shame nor confounded world without end.

¹⁸ For thus saith Jehovah that created the heavens, the God that formed the earth and made it, that established it and created it not a waste, that formed it to be inhabited: I am Jehovah; and there is none else. ¹⁹ I have not spoken in secret, in a place of the land of darkness; I said not unto the seed of Jacob, Seek ye me in vain: I, Jehovah, speak righteousness, I declare things that are right.

old? have not I, Jehovah? and there is no God else besides me, a just God and a Savior; there is none besides me. ²² Look unto me, and be ye saved, all the ends of the earth; for I am God, and there is none else. ²³ By myself have I sworn, the word is gone forth from my mouth in righteousness, and shall not return, that unto me every knee shall bow, every tongue shall swear. ²⁴ Only in Jehovah, it is said of me, is righteousness and strength; even to him shall men come; and all they that were incensed against him shall be put to shame. ²⁵ In Jehovah shall all the seed of Israel be justified, and shall glory.

³ Hearken unto me, O house of Jacob, and all the remnant of the house of Israel, that have been borne by me from their birth, that have been carried from the womb; ⁴ and even to old age I am he, and even to hoar hairs will I carry you; I have made, and I will bear; yea, I will carry, and will deliver. ⁵ To whom will ye liken me, and make me equal, and compare me, that we may be like? ⁶ Such as lavish gold out of the bag, and weigh silver in the balance, they hire a goldsmith, and he maketh it a god; they fall down, yea, they worship. ⁷ They bear it upon the shoulder, they carry it, and set it in its place, and it standeth, from its place shall it not remove: yea, one may cry unto it, yet can it not answer, nor save him out of his trouble.

⁸ Remember this, and show yourselves men; bring it again to mind, O ye transgressors. ⁹ Remember the former things of old: for I am God, and there is none else; I am God, and there is none like me; ¹⁰ declaring the end from the beginning, and from ancient times things that are not yet done; saying, My counsel shall stand, and I will do all my pleasure; ¹¹ calling a ravenous bird from the east, the man of my counsel from a far country; yea, I have spoken, I will also bring it to pass; I have purposed, I will also do it.

¹² Hearken unto me, ye stouthearted, that are far from righteousness: ¹³ I bring near my righteousness, it shall not be far off, and my salvation shall not tarry; and I will place salvation in Zion for Israel my glory.

⁸ Now therefore hear this, thou that art given to pleasures, that sittest securely, that sayest in thy heart, I am, and there is none else besides me; I shall not sit as a widow, neither shall I know the loss of children: ⁹ but these two things shall come to thee in a moment in one day, the loss of children, and widowhood; in their full measure shall they come upon thee, in the multitude of thy sorceries, and the great abundance of thine enchantments. ¹⁰ For thou hast trusted in thy wickedness; thou hast said, None seeth me; thy wisdom and thy knowledge, it hath perverted thee, and thou hast said in thy heart, I am, and there is none else besides me. ¹¹ Therefore shall evil come upon thee; thou shalt not know the dawning thereof: and mischief shall fall upon thee; thou shalt not be able to put it away: and desolation shall come upon thee suddenly, which thou knowest not.

¹ Hear ye this, O house of Jacob, who are called by the name of Israel, and are come forth out of the waters of Judah; who swear by the name of Jehovah, and make mention of the God of Israel, but not in truth, nor in righteousness ² (for they call themselves of the holy city, and stay themselves upon the God of Israel; Jehovah of hosts is his name): ³ I have declared the former things from of old; yea, they went forth out of my mouth, and I showed them: suddenly I did them, and they came to pass. ⁴ Because I knew that thou art obstinate, and thy neck is an iron sinew, and thy brow brass; ⁵ therefore I have declared it to thee from of old; before it came to pass I showed it thee; lest thou shouldest say, Mine idol hath done them, and my graven image, and my molten image, hath commanded them. ⁶ Thou hast heard it; behold all this; and ye, will ye not declare it? I have shown thee new things from this time, even hidden things, which thou hast not known. ⁷ They are created now, and not from of old; and before this day thou heardest them not; lest thou shouldest say, Behold, I knew them. ⁸ Yea, thou heardest not; yea, thou knewest not; yea, from of old thine ear was not opened: for I knew that thou didst deal very treacherously, and wast called a transgressor from the womb. ⁹ For my name's sake will I defer mine anger, and for my praise will I refrain for thee, that I cut thee not off. ¹⁰ Behold, I have refined thee, but not as silver; I have chosen thee in the furnace of affliction. ¹¹ For mine own sake, for mine own sake, will I do it; for how should my name be profaned? and my glory will I not give to another.

¹² Harken unto me, O Jacob, and Israel my called: I am he; I am the first, I also am the last. ¹³ Yea, my hand hath laid the foundation of the earth, and my right hand hath spread out the heavens: when I call unto them, they stand up together. ¹⁴ Assemble yourselves, all ye, and hear; who among them hath declared these things? He whom Jehovah loveth shall perform his pleasure on Babylon, and his arm shall be on the Chaldeans. ¹⁵ I, even I, have spoken; yea, I have called him; I have brought him, and he shall make his way prosperous. ¹⁶ Come ye near unto me, hear ye this; from the beginning I have not spoken in secret; from the time that it was, there am I: and now the Lord Jehovah hath sent me, and his Spirit.

¹⁷ Thus saith Jehovah, thy Redeemer, the Holy One of Israel: I am Jehovah thy God, who teacheth thee to profit, who leadeth thee by the way that thou shouldest go. ¹⁸ Oh that thou hadst hearkened to my commandments! then had thy peace been as a river, and thy righteousness as the waves of the sea: ¹⁹ thy seed also had been as the sand, and the offspring of thy bowels like the grains thereof: his name would not be cut off nor destroyed from before me.

²⁰ Go ye forth from Babylon, flee ye from the Chaldeans; with a voice of singing declare ye, tell this, utter it even to the end of the earth: say ye, Jehovah hath redeemed his servant Jacob. ²¹ And they thirsted not when he led them through the deserts; he caused the waters to flow out of the rock for them; he clave the rock also, and the waters gushed out. ²² There is no peace, saith Jehovah, to the wicked.

⁵ And now saith Jehovah that formed me from the womb to be his servant, to bring Jacob again to him, and that Israel be gathered unto him (for I am honorable in the eyes of Jehovah, and my God is become my strength); ⁶ yea, he saith, It is too light a thing that thou shouldest be my servant to raise up the tribes of Jacob, and to restore the preserved of Israel: I will also give thee for a light to the Gentiles, that thou mayest be my salvation unto the end of the earth. ⁷ Thus saith Jehovah, the Redeemer of Israel, and his Holy One, to him whom man despiseth, to him whom the nation abhorreth, to a servant of rulers: Kings shall see and arise; princes, and they shall worship; because of Jehovah that is faithful, even the Holy One of Israel, who hath chosen thee.

⁸ Thus saith Jehovah, In an acceptable time have I answered thee, and in a day of salvation have I helped thee; and I will preserve thee, and give thee for a covenant of the people, to raise up the land, to make them inherit the desolate heritages; ⁹ saying to them that are bound, Go forth; to them that are in darkness, Show yourselves. They shall feed in the ways, and on all bare heights shall be their pasture. ¹⁰ They shall not hunger nor thirst; neither shall the heat nor sun smite them: for he that hath mercy on them will lead them, even by springs of water will he guide them. ¹¹ And I will make all my mountains a way, and my highways shall be exalted. ¹² Lo, these shall come from far; and, lo, these from the north and from the west; and these from the land of Sinim. ¹³ Sing, O heavens; and be joyful, O earth; and break forth into singing, O mountains: for Jehovah hath comforted his people, and will have compassion upon his afflicted.

far away. ²⁰ The children of thy bereavement shall yet say in thine ears, The place is too strait for me; give place to me that I may dwell. ²¹ Then shalt thou say in thy heart, Who hath begotten me these, seeing I have been bereaved of my children, and am solitary, an exile, and wandering to and fro? and who hath brought up these? Behold, I was left alone; these, where were they?

²² Thus saith the Lord Jehovah, Behold, I will lift up my hand to the nations, and set up my ensign to the peoples; and they shall bring thy sons in their bosom, and thy daughters shall be carried upon their shoulders. ²³ And kings shall be thy nursing fathers, and their queens thy nursing mothers: they shall bow down to thee with their faces to the earth, and lick the dust of thy feet; and thou shalt know that I am Jehovah; and they that wait for me shall not be put to shame.

²⁴ Shall the prey be taken from the mighty, or the lawful captives be delivered? ²⁵ But thus saith Jehovah, Even the captives of the mighty shall be taken away, and the prey of the terrible shall be delivered; for I will contend with him that contendeth with thee, and I will save thy children. ²⁶ And I will feed them that oppress thee with their own flesh; and they shall be drunken with their own blood, as with sweet wine: and all flesh shall know that I, Jehovah, am thy Savior, and thy Redeemer, the Mighty One of Jacob.

¹ Thus saith Jehovah, Where is the bill of your mother's divorcement, wherewith I have put her away? or which of my creditors is it to whom I have sold you? Behold, for your iniquities were ye sold, and for your transgressions was your mother put away. ² Wherefore, when I came, was there no man? when I called, was there none to answer? Is my hand shortened at all, that it cannot redeem? or have I no power to deliver? Behold, at my rebuke I dry up the sea, I make the rivers a wilderness: their fish stink, because there is no water, and die for thirst. ³ I clothe the heavens with blackness, and I make sackcloth their covering.

⁴ The Lord Jehovah hath given me the tongue of them that are taught, that I may know how to sustain with words him that is weary: he wakeneth morning by morning, he wakeneth mine ear to hear as they that are taught. ⁵ The Lord Jehovah hath opened mine ear, and I was not rebellious, neither turned away backward. ⁶ I gave my back to the smiters, and my cheeks to them that plucked off the hair; I hid not my face from shame and spitting. ⁷ For the Lord Jehovah will help me; therefore have I not been confounded: therefore have I set my face like a flint, and I know that I shall not be put to shame. ⁸ He is near that justifieth me; who will contend with me? let us stand up together: who is mine adversary? let him come near to me. ⁹ Behold, the Lord Jehovah will help me; who is he that shall condemn me? behold, they all shall wax old as a garment; the moth shall eat them up.

¹⁰ Who is among you that feareth Jehovah, that obeyeth the voice of his servant? he that walketh in darkness, and hath no light, let him trust in the name of Jehovah, and rely upon his God. ¹¹ Behold, all ye that kindle a fire, that gird yourselves about with firebrands; walk ye in the flame of your fire, and among the brands that ye have kindled. This shall ye have of my hand; ye shall lie down in sorrow.

¹ Hearken to me, ye that follow after righteousness, ye that seek Jehovah: look unto the rock whence ye were hewn, and to the hole of the pit whence ye were dug. ² Look unto Abraham your father, and unto Sarah that bare you; for when he was but one I called him, and I blessed him, and made him many. ³ For Jehovah hath comforted

Zion; he hath comforted all her waste places, and hath made her wilderness like Eden, and her desert like the garden of Jehovah; joy and gladness shall be found therein, thanksgiving, and the voice of melody.

⁴ Attend unto me, O my people; and give ear unto me, O my nation: for a law shall go forth from me, and I will establish my justice for a light of the peoples.

¹² I, even I, am he that comforteth you: who art thou, that thou art afraid of man that shall die, and of the son of man that shall be made as grass; ¹³ and hast forgotten Jehovah thy Maker, that stretched forth the heavens, and laid the foundations of the earth; and fearest continually all the day because of the fury of the oppressor, when he maketh ready to destroy? and where is the fury of the oppressor? ¹⁴ The captive exile shall speedily be loosed; and he shall not die and go down into the pit, neither shall his bread fail. ¹⁵ For I am Jehovah thy God, who stirreth up the sea, so that the waves thereof roar: Jehovah of hosts is his name. ¹⁶ And I have put my words in thy mouth, and have covered thee in the shadow of my hand, that I may plant the heavens, and lay the foundations of the earth, and say unto Zion, Thou art my people.

¹⁸ There is none to guide her among all the sons whom she hath brought forth; neither is there any that taketh her by the hand among all the sons that she hath brought up. ¹⁹ These two things are befallen thee, who shall bemoan thee? desolation and destruction, and the famine and the sword; how shall I comfort thee? ²⁰ Thy sons have fainted, they lie at the head of all the streets, as an antelope in a net; they are full of the wrath of Jehovah, the rebuke of thy God.

²¹ Therefore hear now this, thou afflicted, and drunken, but not with wine: ²² Thus saith thy Lord Jehovah, and thy God that pleadeth the cause of his people, Behold, I have taken out of thy hand the cup of staggering, even the bowl of the cup of my wrath; thou shalt no more drink it again: ²³ and I will put it into the hand of them that afflict thee, that have said to thy soul, Bow down, that we may go over; and thou hast laid thy back as the ground, and as the street, to them that go over.

¹ Awake, awake, put on thy strength, O Zion; put on thy beautiful garments, O Jerusalem, the holy city: for henceforth there shall no more come into thee the uncircumcised and the unclean. ² Shake thyself from the dust; arise, sit on thy throne, O Jerusalem: loose thyself from the bonds of thy neck, O captive daughter of Zion.

¹³ Behold, my servant shall deal wisely, he shall be exalted and lifted up, and shall be very high. ¹⁴ Like as many were astonished at thee (his visage was so marred more than any man, and his form more than the sons of men), ¹⁵ so shall he sprinkle many nations; kings shall shut their mouths at him: for that which had not been told them shall they see; and that which they had not heard shall they understand.

¹ Who hath believed our message? and to whom hath the arm of Jehovah been revealed? ² For he grew up before him as a tender plant, and as a root out of a dry ground: he hath no form nor comeliness; and when we see him, there is no beauty that we should desire him. ³ He was despised, and rejected of men; a man of sorrows, and acquainted with grief: and as one from whom men hide their face he was despised; and we esteemed him not.

⁷ He was oppressed, yet when he was afflicted he opened not his mouth; as a lamb that is led to the slaughter, and as a sheep that before its shearers is dumb, so he opened not his mouth. ⁸ By oppression and judgment he was taken away; and as for his generation, who among them considered that he was cut off out of the land of the living for the transgression of my people to whom the stroke was due? ⁹ And they made his grave with the wicked, and with a rich man in his death; although he had done no violence, neither was any deceit in his mouth.

¹⁰ Yet it pleased Jehovah to bruise him; he hath put him to grief: when thou shalt make his soul an offering for sin, he shall see his seed, he shall prolong his days, and the pleasure of Jehovah shall prosper in his hand. ¹¹ He shall see of the travail of his soul, and shall be satisfied: by the knowledge of himself shall my righteous servant justify many; and he shall bear their iniquities. ¹² Therefore will I divide him a portion with the great, and he shall divide the spoil with the strong; because he poured out his soul unto death, and was numbered with the transgressors: yet he bare the sin of many, and made intercession for the transgressors.

⁹ For this is as the waters of Noah unto me; for as I have sworn that the waters of Noah shall no more go over the earth, so have I sworn that I will not be wroth with thee, nor rebuke thee. ¹⁰ For the mountains may depart, and the hills be removed; but my lovingkindness shall not depart from thee, neither shall my covenant of peace be removed, saith Jehovah that hath mercy on thee.

¹¹ O thou afflicted, tossed with tempest, and not comforted, behold, I will set thy stones in fair colors, and lay thy foundations with sapphires. ¹² And I will make thy pinnacles of rubies, and thy gates of carbuncles, and all thy border of precious stones. ¹³ And all thy children shall be taught of Jehovah; and great shall be the peace of thy children. ¹⁴ In righteousness shalt thou be established: thou shalt be far from oppression, for thou shalt not fear; and from terror, for it shall not come near thee. ¹⁵ Behold, they may gather together, but not by me: whosoever shall gather together against thee shall fall because of thee. ¹⁶ Behold, I have created the smith that bloweth the fire of coals, and bringeth forth a weapon for his work; and I have created the waster to destroy. ¹⁷ No weapon that is formed against thee shall prosper; and every tongue that shall rise against thee in judgment thou shalt condemn. This is the heritage of the servants of Jehovah, and their righteousness which is of me, saith Jehovah.

¹ Ho, everyone that thirsteth, come ye to the waters, and he that hath no money; come ye, buy, and eat; yea, come, buy wine and milk without money and without price. ² Wherefore do ye spend money for that which is not bread? and your labor for that which satisfieth not? hearken diligently unto me, and eat ye that which is good, and let your soul delight itself in fatness. ³ Incline your ear, and come unto me; hear, and your soul shall live: and I will make an everlasting covenant with you, even the sure mercies of David. ⁴ Behold, I have given him for a witness to the peoples, a leader and commander to the peoples. ⁵ Behold, thou shalt call a nation that thou knowest not; and a nation that knew not thee shall run unto thee, because of Jehovah thy God, and for the Holy One of Israel; for he hath glorified thee.

⁶ Seek ye Jehovah while he may be found; call ye upon him while he is near: ⁷ let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts; and let him return unto Jehovah, and he will have mercy upon him; and to our God, for he will abundantly pardon. ⁸ For my thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways, saith Jehovah. ⁹ For as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are my ways higher than your ways, and my thoughts than your thoughts. ¹⁰ For as the rain cometh down and the snow from heaven, and returneth not thither, but watereth the earth, and maketh it bring forth and bud, and giveth seed to the sower and bread to the eater; ¹¹ so shall my word be that goeth forth out of my mouth: it shall not return unto me void, but it shall accomplish that which I please, and it shall prosper in the thing whereto I sent it. ¹² For ye shall go out with joy, and be led forth with peace: the mountains and the hills shall break forth before you into singing; and all the trees of the fields shall clap their hands. ¹³ Instead of the thorn shall come up the fir tree; and instead of the brier shall come up the myrtle tree: and it shall be to Jehovah for a name, for an everlasting sign that shall not be cut off.

⁶ Also the foreigners that join themselves to Jehovah, to minister unto him, and to love the name of Jehovah, to be his servants, everyone that keepeth the sabbath from profaning it, and holdeth fast my covenant; ⁷ even them will I bring to my holy mountain, and make them joyful in my house of prayer: their burnt offerings and their sacrifices shall be accepted upon mine altar; for my house shall be called a house of prayer for all peoples. ⁸ The Lord Jehovah, who gathereth the outcasts of Israel, saith, Yet will I gather others to him, besides his own that are gathered.

⁹ All ye beasts of the field, come to devour, yea, all ye beasts in the forest. ¹⁰ His watchmen are blind, they are all without knowledge; they are all dumb dogs, they cannot bark; dreaming, lying down, loving to slumber. ¹¹ Yea, the dogs are greedy, they can never have enough; and these are shepherds that cannot understand: they have all turned to their own way, each one to his gain, from every quarter. ¹² Come ye, say they, I will fetch wine, and we will fill ourselves with strong drink; and tomorrow shall be as this day, a day great beyond measure.

³ But draw near hither, ye sons of the sorceress, the seed of the adulterer and the harlot. ⁴ Against whom do ye sport yourselves? against whom make ye a wide mouth, and put out the tongue? are ye not children of transgression, a seed of falsehood, ⁵ ye that inflame yourselves among the oaks, under every green tree; that slay the children in the valleys, under the clefts of the rocks? ⁶ Among the smooth stones of the valley is thy portion; they, they are thy lot; even to them hast thou poured a drink offering, thou hast offered an oblation. Shall I be appeased for these things? ⁷ Upon a high and lofty mountain hast thou set thy bed; thither also wentest thou up to offer sacrifice. ⁸ And behind the doors and the posts hast thou set up thy memorial: for thou hast uncovered thyself to another than me, and art gone up; thou hast enlarged thy bed, and made thee a covenant with them: thou lovedst their bed where thou sawest it. ⁹ And thou wentest to the king with oil, and didst increase thy perfumes, and didst send thine ambassadors far off, and didst debase thyself even unto Sheol. ¹⁰ Thou wast wearied with the length of thy way; yet saidst thou not, It is in vain: thou didst find a quickening of thy strength; therefore thou wast not faint.

¹¹ And of whom hast thou been afraid and in fear, that thou liest, and hast not remembered me, nor laid it to thy heart? have not I held my peace even of long time, and thou fearest me not? ¹² I will declare thy righteousness; and as for thy works, they shall not profit thee. ¹³ When thou criest, let them that thou hast gathered deliver thee; but the wind shall take them, a breath shall carry them all away: but he that taketh refuge in me shall possess the land, and shall inherit my holy mountain.

¹⁴ And he will say, Cast ye up, cast ye up, prepare the way, take up the stumbling block out of the way of my people. ¹⁵ For thus saith the high and lofty One that inhabiteth eternity, whose name is Holy: I dwell in the high and holy place, with him also that is of a contrite and humble spirit, to revive the spirit of the humble, and to revive the heart of the contrite. ¹⁶ For I will not contend forever, neither will I be always wroth; for the spirit would faint before me, and the souls that I have made. ¹⁷ For the iniquity of his covetousness was I wroth, and smote him; I hid my face and was wroth; and he went on backsliding in the way of his heart. ¹⁸ I have seen his ways, and will heal him: I will lead him also, and restore comforts unto him and to his mourners. ¹⁹ I create the fruit of the lips: Peace, peace, to him that is far off and to him that is near, saith Jehovah; and I will heal him. ²⁰ But the wicked are like the troubled sea; for it cannot rest, and its waters cast up mire and dirt. ²¹ There is no peace, saith my God, to the wicked.

¹ Cry aloud, spare not, lift up thy voice like a trumpet, and declare unto my people their transgression, and to the house of Jacob their sins. ² Yet they seek me daily, and delight to know my ways: as a nation that did righteousness, and forsook not the ordinance of their God, they ask of me righteous judgments; they delight to draw near unto God. ³ Wherefore have we fasted, say they, and thou seest not? wherefore have we afflicted our soul, and thou takest no knowledge? Behold, in the day of your fast ye find your own pleasure, and exact all your labors. ⁴ Behold, ye fast for strife and contention, and to smite with the fist of wickedness: ye fast not this day so as to make your voice to be heard on high. ⁵ Is such the fast that I have chosen? the day for a man to afflict his soul? Is it to bow down his head as a rush, and to spread sackcloth and ashes under him? wilt thou call this a fast, and an acceptable day to Jehovah? ⁶ Is not this the fast that I have chosen: to loose the bonds of wickedness, to undo the bands of the yoke, and to let the oppressed go free, and that ye break every yoke? ⁷ Is it not to deal thy bread to the hungry, and that thou bring the poor that are cast out to thy house? when thou seest the naked, that thou cover him; and that thou hide not thyself from thine own flesh? ⁸ Then shall thy light break forth as the morning, and thy healing shall spring forth speedily; and thy righteousness shall go before thee; the glory of Jehovah shall be thy rearward. ⁹ Then shalt thou call, and Jehovah will answer; thou shalt cry, and he will say, Here I am.

If thou take away from the midst of thee the yoke, the putting forth of the finger, and speaking wickedly; ¹⁰ and if thou draw out thy soul to the hungry, and satisfy the afflicted soul: then shall thy light rise in darkness, and thine obscurity be as the noonday; ¹¹ and Jehovah will guide thee continually, and satisfy thy soul in dry places, and make strong thy bones; and thou shalt be like a watered garden, and like a spring of water, whose waters fail not. ¹² And they that shall be of thee shall build the old waste places; thou shalt raise up the foundations of many generations; and thou shalt be called The repairer of the breach, The restorer of paths to dwell in.

¹³ If thou turn away thy foot from the sabbath, from doing thy pleasure on my holy day; and call the sabbath a delight, and the holy of Jehovah honorable; and shalt honor it, not doing thine own ways, nor finding thine own pleasure, nor speaking thine own words: ¹⁴ then shalt thou delight thyself in Jehovah; and I will make thee to ride upon the high places of the earth; and I will feed thee with the heritage of Jacob thy father: for the mouth of Jehovah hath spoken it.

⁹ Therefore is justice far from us, neither doth righteousness overtake us: we look for light, but, behold, darkness; for brightness, but we walk in obscurity. ¹⁰ We grope for the wall like the blind; yea, we grope as they that have no eyes: we stumble at noonday as in the twilight; among them that are lusty we are as dead men. ¹¹ We roar all like bears, and moan sore like doves: we look for justice, but there is none; for salvation, but it is far off from us. ¹² For our transgressions are multiplied before thee, and our sins testify against us; for our transgressions are with us, and as for our iniquities, we know them: ¹³ transgressing and denying Jehovah, and turning away from following our God, speaking oppression and revolt, conceiving and uttering from the heart words of falsehood. ¹⁴ And justice is turned away backward, and righteousness standeth afar off; for truth is fallen in the street, and uprightness cannot enter. ¹⁵ Yea, truth is lacking; and he that departeth from evil maketh himself a prey.

And Jehovah saw it, and it displeased him that there was no justice. ¹⁶ And he saw that there was no man, and wondered that there was no intercessor: therefore his own arm brought salvation unto him; and his righteousness, it upheld him. ¹⁷ And he put on righteousness as a breastplate, and a helmet of salvation upon his head; and he put on garments of vengeance for clothing, and was clad with zeal as a mantle.

¹⁸ According to their deeds, accordingly he will repay, wrath to his adversaries, recompense to his enemies; to the islands he will repay recompense. ¹⁹ So shall they fear the name of Jehovah from the west, and his glory from the rising of the sun; for he will come as a rushing stream, which the breath of Jehovah driveth. ²⁰ And a Redeemer will come to Zion, and unto them that turn from transgression in Jacob, saith Jehovah. ²¹ And as for me, this is my covenant with them, saith Jehovah: my Spirit that is upon thee, and my words which I have put in thy mouth, shall not depart out of thy mouth, nor out of the mouth of thy seed, nor out of the mouth of thy seed's seed, saith Jehovah, from henceforth and forever.

¹⁰ And foreigners shall build up thy walls, and their kings shall minister unto thee: for in my wrath I smote thee, but in my favor have I had mercy on thee. ¹¹ Thy gates also shall be open continually; they shall not be shut day nor night; that men may bring unto thee the wealth of the nations, and their kings led captive. ¹² For that nation and kingdom that will not serve thee shall perish; yea, those nations shall be utterly wasted. ¹³ The glory of Lebanon shall come unto thee, the fir tree, the pine, and the box tree together, to beautify the place of my sanctuary; and I will make the place of my feet glorious. ¹⁴ And the sons of them that afflicted thee shall come bending unto thee; and all they that despised thee shall bow themselves down at the soles of thy feet; and they shall call thee The city of Jehovah, The Zion of the Holy One of Israel.

¹⁵ Whereas thou hast been forsaken and hated, so that no man passed through thee, I will make thee an eternal excellency, a joy of many generations. ¹⁶ Thou shalt also suck the milk of the nations, and shalt suck the breast of kings; and thou shalt know that I, Jehovah, am thy Savior, and thy Redeemer, the Mighty One of Jacob. ¹⁷ For brass I will bring gold, and for iron I will bring silver, and for wood brass, and for stones iron. I will also make thy officers peace, and thine exactors righteousness. ¹⁸ Violence shall no more be heard in thy land, desolation nor destruction within thy borders; but thou shalt call thy walls Salvation, and thy gates Praise. ¹⁹ The sun shall be no more thy light by day; neither for brightness shall the moon give light unto thee: but Jehovah will be unto thee an everlasting light, and thy God thy glory. ²⁰ Thy sun shall no more go down, neither shall thy moon withdraw itself; for Jehovah will be thine everlasting light, and the days of thy mourning shall be ended. ²¹ Thy people also shall be all righteous; they shall inherit the land forever, the branch of my planting, the work of my hands, that I may be glorified. ²² The little one shall become a thousand, and the small one a strong nation; I, Jehovah, will hasten it in its time.

¹⁰ I will greatly rejoice in Jehovah, my soul shall be joyful in my God; for he hath clothed me with the garments of salvation, he hath covered me with the robe of righteousness, as a bridegroom decketh himself with a garland, and as a bride adorneth herself with her jewels. ¹¹ For as the earth bringeth forth its bud, and as the garden causeth the things that are sown in it to spring forth; so the Lord Jehovah will cause righteousness and praise to spring forth before all the nations.

¹ For Zion's sake will I not hold my peace, and for Jerusalem's sake I will not rest, until her righteousness go forth as brightness, and her salvation as a lamp that burneth. ² And the nations shall see thy righteousness, and all kings thy glory, and thou shalt be called by a new name, which the mouth of Jehovah shall name. ³ Thou shalt also be a crown of beauty in the hand of Jehovah, and a royal diadem in the hand of thy God. ⁴ Thou shalt no more be termed Forsaken; neither shall thy land anymore be termed Desolate: but thou shalt be called Hephzi-bah, and thy land Beulah; for Jehovah delighteth in thee, and thy land shall be married. ⁵ For as a young man marrieth a virgin, so shall thy sons marry thee; and as the bridegroom rejoiceth over the bride, so shall thy God rejoice over thee.

⁶ I have set watchmen upon thy walls, O Jerusalem; they shall never hold their peace day nor night: ye that are Jehovah's remembrancers, take ye no rest, ⁷ and give him no rest, till he establish, and till he make Jerusalem a praise in the earth. ⁸ Jehovah hath sworn by his right hand, and by the arm of his strength, Surely I will no more give thy grain to be food for thine enemies; and foreigners shall not drink thy new wine, for which thou hast labored: ⁹ but they that have garnered it shall eat it, and praise Jehovah; and they that have gathered it shall drink it in the courts of my sanctuary.

¹⁰ Go through, go through the gates; prepare ye the way of the people; cast up, cast up the highway; gather out the stones; lift up an ensign for the peoples. ¹¹ Behold, Jehovah hath proclaimed unto the end of the earth, Say ye to the daughter of Zion, Behold, thy salvation cometh; behold, his reward is with him, and his recompense before him. ¹² And they shall call them The holy people, The redeemed of Jehovah: and thou shalt be called Sought out, A city not forsaken.

¹⁰ But they rebelled, and grieved his holy Spirit: therefore he was turned to be their enemy, and himself fought against them. ¹¹ Then he remembered the days of old, Moses and his people, saying, Where is he that brought them up out of the sea with the shepherds of his flock? where is he that put his holy Spirit in the midst of them? ¹² that caused his glorious arm to go at the right hand of Moses? that divided the waters before them, to make himself an everlasting name? ¹³ that led them through the depths, as a horse in the wilderness, so that they stumbled not? ¹⁴ As the cattle that go down into the valley, the Spirit of Jehovah caused them to rest: so didst thou lead thy people, to make thyself a glorious name.

¹⁵ Look down from heaven, and behold from the habitation of thy holiness and of thy glory: where are thy zeal and thy mighty acts? the yearning of thy heart and thy compassions are restrained toward me. ¹⁶ For thou art our Father, though Abraham knoweth us not, and Israel doth not acknowledge us: thou, O Jehovah, art our Father; our Redeemer from everlasting is thy name. ¹⁷ O Jehovah, why dost thou make us to err from thy ways, and hardenest our heart from thy fear? Return for thy servants' sake, the tribes of thine inheritance. ¹⁸ Thy holy people possessed it but a little while: our adversaries have trodden down thy sanctuary. ¹⁹ We are become as they over whom thou never barest rule, as they that were not called by thy name.

¹ Oh that thou wouldest rend the heavens, that thou wouldest come down, that the mountains might quake at thy presence, ² as when fire kindleth the brushwood, and

the fire causeth the waters to boil; to make thy name known to thine adversaries, that the nations may tremble at thy presence! ³ When thou didst terrible things which we looked not for, thou camest down, the mountains quaked at thy presence. ⁴ For from of old men have not heard, nor perceived by the ear, neither hath the eye seen a God besides thee, who worketh for him that waiteth for him. ⁵ Thou meetest him that rejoiceth and worketh righteousness, those that remember thee in thy ways: behold, thou wast wroth, and we sinned: in them have we been of long time; and shall we be saved? ⁶ For we are all become as one that is unclean, and all our righteousnesses are as a polluted garment: and we all do fade as a leaf; and our iniquities, like the wind, take us away. ⁷ And there is none that calleth upon thy name, that stirreth up himself to take hold of thee; for thou hast hidden thy face from us, and hast consumed us by means of our iniquities.

⁸ But now, O Jehovah, thou art our Father; we are the clay, and thou our potter; and we all are the work of thy hand. ⁹ Be not wroth very sore, O Jehovah, neither remember iniquity forever: behold, look, we beseech thee, we are all thy people. ¹⁰ Thy holy cities are become a wilderness, Zion is become a wilderness, Jerusalem a desolation. ¹¹ Our holy and our beautiful house, where our fathers praised thee, is burned with fire; and all our pleasant places are laid waste. ¹² Wilt thou refrain thyself for these things, O Jehovah? wilt thou hold thy peace, and afflict us very sore?

¹ I am inquired of by them that asked not for me; I am found of them that sought me not: I said, Behold me, behold me, unto a nation that was not called by my name. ² I have spread out my hands all the day unto a rebellious people, that walk in a way that is not good, after their own thoughts; ³ a people that provoke me to my face continually, sacrificing in gardens, and burning incense upon bricks; ⁴ that sit among the graves, and lodge in the secret places; that eat swine's flesh, and broth of abominable things is in their vessels; ⁵ that say, Stand by thyself, come not near to me, for I am holier than thou. These are a smoke in my nose, a fire that burneth all the day. ⁶ Behold, it is written before me: I will not keep silence, but will recompense, yea, I will recompense into their bosom, ⁷ your own iniquities, and the iniquities of your fathers together, saith Jehovah, that have burned incense upon the mountains, and blasphemed me upon the hills: therefore will I first measure their work into their bosom.

⁸ Thus saith Jehovah, As the new wine is found in the cluster, and one saith, Destroy it not, for a blessing is in it: so will I do for my servants' sake, that I may not destroy them all. ⁹ And I will bring forth a seed out of Jacob, and out of Judah an inheritor of my mountains; and my chosen shall inherit it, and my servants shall dwell there. ¹⁰ And Sharon shall be a fold of flocks, and the valley of Achor a place for herds to lie down in, for my people that have sought me. ¹¹ But ye that forsake Jehovah, that forget my holy mountain, that prepare a table for Fortune, and that fill up mingled wine unto Destiny; ¹² I will destine you to the sword, and ye shall all bow down to the slaughter; because when I called, ye did not answer; when I spake, ye did not hear; but ye did that which was evil in mine eyes, and chose that wherein I delighted not.

¹³ Therefore thus saith the Lord Jehovah, Behold, my servants shall eat, but ye shall be hungry; behold, my servants shall drink, but ye shall be thirsty; behold, my servants shall rejoice, but ye shall be put to shame; ¹⁴ behold, my servants shall sing for joy of heart, but ye shall cry for sorrow of heart, and shall wail for vexation of spirit. ¹⁵ And ye shall leave your name for a curse unto my chosen; and the Lord Jehovah will slay thee; and he will call his servants by another name: ¹⁶ so that he who blesseth himself in the earth shall bless himself in the God of truth; and he that sweareth in the earth shall swear by the God of truth; because the former troubles are forgotten, and because they are hidden from mine eyes.

¹⁷ For, behold, I create new heavens and a new earth; and the former things shall not be remembered, nor come into mind. ¹⁸ But be ye glad and rejoice forever in that which I create; for, behold, I create Jerusalem a rejoicing, and her people a joy. ¹⁹ And I will rejoice in Jerusalem, and joy in my people; and there shall be heard in her no more the voice of weeping and the voice of crying. ²⁰ There shall be no more thence an infant of days, nor an old man that hath not filled his days; for the child shall die a hundred years old, and the sinner being a hundred years old shall be accursed. ²¹ And they shall build houses, and inhabit them; and they shall plant vineyards, and eat the fruit of them. ²² They shall not build, and another inhabit; they shall not plant, and another eat: for as the days of a tree shall be the days of my people, and my chosen shall long enjoy the work of their hands. ²³ They shall not labor in vain, nor bring forth for calamity; for they are the seed of the blessed of Jehovah, and their offspring with them. ²⁴ And it shall come to pass that, before they call, I will answer; and while they are yet speaking, I will hear. ²⁵ The wolf and the lamb shall feed together, and the lion shall eat straw like the ox; and dust shall be the serpent's food. They shall not hurt nor destroy in all my holy mountain, saith Jehovah.

¹ Thus saith Jehovah, Heaven is my throne, and the earth is my footstool: what manner of house will ye build unto me? and what place shall be my rest? ² For all these things hath my hand made, and so all these things came to be, saith Jehovah: but to this man will I look, even to him that is poor and of a contrite spirit, and that trembleth at my word. ³ He that killeth an ox is as he that slayeth a man; he that sacrificeth a lamb, as he that breaketh a dog's neck; he that offereth an oblation, as he that offereth swine's blood; he that burneth frankincense, as he that blesseth an idol. Yea, they have chosen their own ways, and their soul delighteth in their abominations: ⁴ I also will choose their delusions, and will bring their fears upon them; because when I called, none did answer; when I spake, they did not hear: but they did that which was evil in mine eyes, and chose that wherein I delighted not.

⁵ Hear the word of Jehovah, ye that tremble at his word: Your brethren that hate you, that cast you out for my name's sake, have said, Let Jehovah be glorified, that we may see your joy; but it is they that shall be put to shame. ⁶ A voice of tumult from the city, a voice from the temple, a voice of Jehovah that rendereth recompense to his enemies.

¹⁰ Rejoice ye with Jerusalem, and be glad for her, all ye that love her: rejoice for joy with her, all ye that mourn over her; ¹¹ that ye may suck and be satisfied with the breasts of her consolations; that ye may milk out, and be delighted with the abundance of her glory. ¹² For thus saith Jehovah, Behold, I will extend peace to her like a river, and the glory of the nations like an overflowing stream: and ye shall suck thereof; ye shall be borne upon the side, and shall be dandled upon the knees. ¹³ As one whom his mother comforteth, so will I comfort you; and ye shall be comforted in Jerusalem. ¹⁴ And ye shall see it, and your heart shall rejoice, and your bones shall flourish like the tender grass: and the hand of Jehovah shall be known toward his servants; and he will have indignation against his enemies.

¹⁸ For I know their works and their thoughts: the time cometh, that I will gather all nations and tongues; and they shall come, and shall see my glory. ¹⁹ And I will set a sign among them, and I will send such as escape of them unto the nations, to Tarshish, Pul, and Lud, that draw the bow, to Tubal and Javan, to the isles afar off, that have not heard my fame, neither have seen my glory; and they shall declare my glory among the nations. ²⁰ And they shall bring all your brethren out of all the nations for an oblation unto Jehovah, upon horses, and in chariots, and in litters, and upon mules, and upon dromedaries, to my holy mountain Jerusalem, saith Jehovah, as the children of Israel bring their oblation in a clean vessel into the house of Jehovah.

²² For as the new heavens and the new earth, which I will make, shall remain before me, saith Jehovah, so shall your seed and your name remain. ²³ And it shall come to pass, that from one new moon to another, and from one sabbath to another, shall all flesh come to worship before me, saith Jehovah. ²⁴ And they shall go forth, and look upon the dead bodies of the men that have transgressed against me: for their worm shall not die, neither shall their fire be quenched; and they shall be an abhorring unto all flesh.

THE BOOK OF JEREMIAH

¹ The words of Jeremiah the son of Hilkiah, of the priests that were in Anathoth in the land of Benjamin: ² to whom the word of Jehovah came in the days of Josiah the son of Amon, king of Judah, in the thirteenth year of his reign. ³ It came also in the days of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, unto the end of the eleventh year of Zedekiah, the son of Josiah, king of Judah, unto the carrying away of Jerusalem captive in the fifth month.

⁴ Now the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying, ⁵ Before I formed thee in the belly I knew thee, and before thou camest forth out of the womb I sanctified thee; I have appointed thee a prophet unto the nations. ⁶ Then said I, Ah, Lord Jehovah! behold, I know not how to speak; for I am a child. ⁷ But Jehovah said unto me, Say not, I am a child; for to whomsoever I shall send thee thou shalt go, and whatsoever I shall command thee thou shalt speak. ⁸ Be not afraid because of them; for I am with thee to deliver thee, saith Jehovah. ⁹ Then Jehovah put forth his hand, and touched my mouth; and Jehovah said unto me, Behold, I have put my words in thy mouth: ¹⁰ see, I have this day set thee over the nations and over the kingdoms, to pluck up and to break down and to destroy and to overthrow, to build and to plant.

¹³ And the word of Jehovah came unto me the second time, saying, What seest thou? And I said, I see a boiling caldron; and the face thereof is from the north. ¹⁴ Then Jehovah said unto me, Out of the north evil shall break forth upon all the inhabitants of the land. ¹⁵ For, lo, I will call all the families of the kingdoms of the north, saith Jehovah; and they shall come, and they shall set every one his throne at the entrance of the gates of Jerusalem, and against all the walls thereof round about, and against all the cities of Judah. ¹⁶ And I will utter my judgments against them touching all their wickedness, in that they have forsaken me, and have burned incense unto other gods, and worshiped the works of their own hands. ¹⁷ Thou therefore gird up thy loins, and arise, and speak unto them all that I command thee: be not dismayed at them, lest I dismay thee before them. ¹⁸ For, behold, I have made thee this day a fortified city, and an iron pillar, and brazen walls, against the whole land, against the kings of Judah, against the princes thereof, against the priests thereof, and against the people of the land. ¹⁹ And they shall fight against thee; but they shall not prevail against thee: for I am with thee, saith Jehovah, to deliver thee.

⁴ Hear ye the word of Jehovah, O house of Jacob, and all the families of the house of Israel: ⁵ Thus saith Jehovah, What unrighteousness have your fathers found in me, that they are gone far from me, and have walked after vanity, and are become vain?

⁶ Neither said they, Where is Jehovah that brought us up out of the land of Egypt, that led us through the wilderness, through a land of deserts and of pits, through a land of drought and of the shadow of death, through a land that none passed through, and where no man dwelt? ⁷ And I brought you into a plentiful land, to eat the fruit thereof and the goodness thereof; but when ye entered, ye defiled my land, and made my heritage an abomination. ⁸ The priests said not, Where is Jehovah? and they that handle the law knew me not: the rulers also transgressed against me, and the prophets prophesied by Baal, and walked after things that do not profit.

⁹ Wherefore I will yet contend with you, saith Jehovah, and with your children's children will I contend. ¹⁰ For pass over to the isles of Kittim, and see; and send unto Kedar, and consider diligently; and see if there hath been such a thing. ¹¹ Hath a nation changed its gods, which yet are no gods? but my people have changed their glory for that which doth not profit. ¹² Be astonished, O ye heavens, at this, and be horribly afraid, be ye very desolate, saith Jehovah. ¹³ For my people have committed two evils: they have forsaken me, the fountain of living waters, and hewed them out cisterns, broken cisterns, that can hold no water.

²⁹ Wherefore will ye contend with me? ye all have transgressed against me, saith Jehovah. ³⁰ In vain have I smitten your children; they received no correction: your own sword hath devoured your prophets, like a destroying lion. ³¹ O generation, see ye the word of Jehovah. Have I been a wilderness unto Israel? or a land of thick darkness? wherefore say my people, We are broken loose; we will come no more unto thee? ³² Can a virgin forget her ornaments, or a bride her attire? yet my people have forgotten me days without number. ³³ How trimmest thou thy way to seek love! therefore even the wicked women hast thou taught thy ways. ³⁴ Also in thy skirts is found the blood of the souls of the innocent poor: thou didst not find them breaking in; but it is because of all these things. ³⁵ Yet thou saidst, I am innocent; surely his anger is turned away from me. Behold, I will enter into judgment with thee, because thou sayest, I have not sinned. ³⁶ Why gaddest thou about so much to change thy way? thou shalt be ashamed of Egypt also, as thou wast ashamed of Assyria. ³⁷ From thence also shalt thou go forth, with thy hands upon thy head: for Jehovah hath rejected those in whom thou trustest, and thou shalt not prosper with them.

⁶ Moreover Jehovah said unto me in the days of Josiah the king, Hast thou seen that which backsliding Israel hath done? she is gone up upon every high mountain and under every green tree, and there hath played the harlot. ⁷ And I said after she had done all these things, She will return unto me; but she returned not: and her treacherous sister Judah saw it. ⁸ And I saw, when, for this very cause that backsliding Israel had committed adultery, I had put her away and given her a bill of divorcement, yet treacherous Judah her sister feared not; but she also went and played the harlot. ⁹ And it came to pass through the lightness of her whoredom, that the land was polluted, and she committed adultery with stones and with stocks. ¹⁰ And yet for all this her treacherous sister Judah hath not returned unto me with her whole heart, but feignedly, saith Jehovah.

¹¹ And Jehovah said unto me, Backsliding Israel hath shown herself more righteous than treacherous Judah. ¹² Go, and proclaim these words toward the north, and say, Return, thou backsliding Israel, saith Jehovah; I will not look in anger upon you; for I am merciful, saith Jehovah, I will not keep anger forever. ¹³ Only acknowledge thine iniquity, that thou hast transgressed against Jehovah thy God, and hast scattered thy ways to the strangers under every green tree, and ye have not obeyed my voice, saith Jehovah. ¹⁴ Return, O backsliding children, saith Jehovah; for I am a husband unto you: and I will take you one of a city, and two of a family, and I will bring you to Zion. ¹⁵ And I will give you shepherds according to my heart, who shall feed you with knowledge and understanding. ¹⁶ And it shall come to pass, when ye are multiplied and increased in the land, in those days, saith Jehovah, they shall say no more, The ark of the covenant of Jehovah; neither shall it come to mind; neither shall they remember it; neither shall they miss it; neither shall it be made anymore. ¹⁷ At that time they shall call Jerusalem the throne of Jehovah; and all the nations shall be gathered unto it, to the name of Jehovah, to Jerusalem: neither shall they walk anymore after the stubbornness of their evil heart. ¹⁸ In those days the house of Judah shall walk with the house of Israel, and they shall come together out of the land of the north to the land that I gave for an inheritance unto your fathers.

¹⁹ But I said, How I will put thee among the children, and give thee a pleasant land, a goodly heritage of the hosts of the nations! and I said, Ye shall call me My Father, and shall not turn away from following me. ²⁰ Surely as a wife treacherously departeth from her husband, so have ye dealt treacherously with me, O house of Israel, saith Jehovah. ²¹ A voice is heard upon the bare heights, the weeping and the supplications of the children of Israel; because they have perverted their way, they have forgotten Jehovah their God. ²² Return, ye backsliding children, I will heal your backslidings.

Behold, we are come unto thee; for thou art Jehovah our God. ²³ Truly in vain is the help that is looked for from the hills, the tumult on the mountains: truly in Jehovah our God is the salvation of Israel. ²⁴ But the shameful thing hath devoured the labor of our fathers from our youth, their flocks and their herds, their sons and their daughters. ²⁵ Let us lie down in our shame, and let our confusion cover us; for we have sinned against Jehovah our God, we and our fathers, from our youth even unto this day; and we have not obeyed the voice of Jehovah our God.

³ For thus saith Jehovah to the men of Judah and to Jerusalem, Break up your fallow ground, and sow not among thorns. ⁴ Circumcise yourselves to Jehovah, and take away the foreskins of your heart, ye men of Judah and inhabitants of Jerusalem; lest my wrath go forth like fire, and burn so that none can quench it, because of the evil of your doings.

¹¹ At that time shall it be said to this people and to Jerusalem, A hot wind from the bare heights in the wilderness toward the daughter of my people, not to winnow, nor to cleanse; ¹² a full wind from these shall come for me: now will I also utter judgments against them. ¹³ Behold, he shall come up as clouds, and his chariots shall be as the whirlwind: his horses are swifter than eagles. Woe unto us! for we are ruined. ¹⁴ O Jerusalem, wash thy heart from wickedness, that thou mayest be saved. How long shall thine evil thoughts lodge within thee? ¹⁵ For a voice declareth from Dan, and publisheth evil from the hills of Ephraim. ¹⁶ Make ye mention to the nations; behold, publish against Jerusalem, that watchers come from a far country, and give out their voice against the cities of Judah. ¹⁷ As keepers of a field are they against her round about, because she hath been rebellious against me, saith Jehovah. ¹⁸ Thy way and thy doings have procured these things unto thee; this is thy wickedness; for it is bitter, for it reacheth unto thy heart.

¹⁹ My anguish, my anguish! I am pained at my very heart; my heart is disquieted in me; I cannot hold my peace; because thou hast heard, O my soul, the sound of the trumpet, the alarm of war. ²⁰ Destruction upon destruction is cried; for the whole land is laid waste: suddenly are my tents destroyed, and my curtains in a moment. ²¹ How long shall I see the standard, and hear the sound of the trumpet? ²² For my people are foolish, they know me not; they are sottish children, and they have no understanding; they are wise to do evil, but to do good they have no knowledge.

²⁷ For thus saith Jehovah, The whole land shall be a desolation; yet will I not make a full end. ²⁸ For this shall the earth mourn, and the heavens above be black; because I have spoken it, I have purposed it, and I have not repented, neither will I turn back from it. ²⁹ Every city fleeth for the noise of the horsemen and bowmen; they go into the thickets, and climb up upon the rocks: every city is forsaken, and not a man dwelleth therein. ³⁰ And thou, when thou art made desolate, what wilt thou do? Though thou clothest thyself with scarlet, though thou deckest thee with ornaments of gold, though thou enlargest thine eyes with paint, in vain dost thou make thyself fair; thy lovers despise thee, they seek thy life. ³¹ For I have heard a voice as of a woman in travail, the anguish as of her that bringeth forth her first child, the voice of the daughter of Zion, that gaspeth for breath, that spreadeth her hands, saying, Woe is me now! for my soul fainteth before the murderers.

⁴ Then I said, Surely these are poor; they are foolish; for they know not the way of Jehovah, nor the law of their God: ⁵ I will get me unto the great men, and will speak unto them; for they know the way of Jehovah, and the law of their God. But these with one accord have broken the yoke, and burst the bonds. ⁶ Wherefore a lion out of the forest shall slay them, a wolf of the evenings shall destroy them, a leopard shall watch against their cities; everyone that goeth out thence shall be torn in pieces; because their transgressions are many, and their backslidings are increased.

⁷ How can I pardon thee? thy children have forsaken me, and sworn by them that are no gods. When I had fed them to the full, they committed adultery, and assembled themselves in troops at the harlots' houses; ⁸ they were as fed horses roaming at large; every one neighed after his neighbor's wife. ⁹ Shall I not visit for these things? saith Jehovah; and shall not my soul be avenged on such a nation as this?

¹⁰ Go ye up upon her walls, and destroy; but make not a full end: take away her branches; for they are not Jehovah's. ¹¹ For the house of Israel and the house of Judah have dealt very treacherously against me, saith Jehovah. ¹² They have denied

Jehovah, and said, It is not he; neither shall evil come upon us; neither shall we see sword nor famine: ¹³ and the prophets shall become wind, and the word is not in them: thus shall it be done unto them.

¹⁴ Wherefore thus saith Jehovah, the God of hosts, Because ye speak this word, behold, I will make my words in thy mouth fire, and this people wood, and it shall devour them. ¹⁵ Lo, I will bring a nation upon you from far, O house of Israel, saith Jehovah: it is a mighty nation, it is an ancient nation, a nation whose language thou knowest not, neither understandest what they say. ¹⁶ Their quiver is an open sepulcher, they are all mighty men. ¹⁷ And they shall eat up thy harvest, and thy bread, which thy sons and thy daughters should eat; they shall eat up thy flocks and thy herds; they shall eat up thy vines and thy fig trees; they shall beat down thy fortified cities, wherein thou trustest, with the sword. ¹⁸ But even in those days, saith Jehovah, I will not make a full end with you.

¹⁹ And it shall come to pass, when ye shall say, Wherefore hath Jehovah our God done all these things unto us? then shalt thou say unto them, Like as ye have forsaken me, and served foreign gods in your land, so shall ye serve strangers in a land that is not yours.

²⁰ Declare ye this in the house of Jacob, and publish it in Judah, saying, ²¹ Hear now this, O foolish people, and without understanding; that have eyes, and see not; that have ears, and hear not: ²² Fear ye not me? saith Jehovah: will ye not tremble at my presence, who have placed the sand for the bound of the sea, by a perpetual decree, that it cannot pass it? and though the waves thereof toss themselves, yet can they not prevail; though they roar, yet can they not pass over it. ²³ But this people hath a revolting and a rebellious heart; they are revolted and gone. ²⁴ Neither say they in their heart, Let us now fear Jehovah our God, that giveth rain, both the former and the latter, in its season; that preserveth unto us the appointed weeks of the harvest. ²⁵ Your iniquities have turned away these things, and your sins have withholden good from you. ²⁶ For among my people are found wicked men: they watch, as fowlers lie in wait; they set a trap, they catch men. ²⁷ As a cage is full of birds, so are their houses full of deceit: therefore they are become great, and waxed rich. ²⁸ They are waxed fat, they shine: yea, they overpass in deeds of wickedness; they plead not the cause, the cause of the fatherless, that they may prosper; and the right of the needy do they not judge. ²⁹ Shall I not visit for these things? saith Jehovah; shall not my soul be avenged on such a nation as this?

³⁰ A wonderful and horrible thing is come to pass in the land: ³¹ the prophets prophesy falsely, and the priests bear rule by their means; and my people love to have it so: and what will ye do in the end thereof?

continually is sickness and wounds. ⁸ Be thou instructed, O Jerusalem, lest my soul be alienated from thee; lest I make thee a desolation, a land not inhabited.

⁹ Thus saith Jehovah of hosts, They shall thoroughly glean the remnant of Israel as a vine: turn again thy hand as a grape-gatherer into the baskets. ¹⁰ To whom shall I speak and testify, that they may hear? behold, their ear is uncircumcised, and they cannot hearken: behold, the word of Jehovah is become unto them a reproach; they have no delight in it. ¹¹ Therefore I am full of the wrath of Jehovah; I am weary with holding in: pour it out upon the children in the street, and upon the assembly of young men together; for even the husband with the wife shall be taken, the aged with him that is full of days. ¹² And their houses shall be turned unto others, their fields and their wives together; for I will stretch out my hand upon the inhabitants of the land, saith Jehovah. ¹³ For from the least of them even unto the greatest of them everyone is given to covetousness; and from the prophet even unto the priest everyone dealeth falsely. ¹⁴ They have healed also the hurt of my people slightly, saying, Peace, peace; when there is no peace. ¹⁵ Were they ashamed when they had committed abomination? nay, they were not at all ashamed, neither could they blush: therefore they shall fall among them that fall; at the time that I visit them they shall be cast down, saith Jehovah.

¹⁶ Thus saith Jehovah, Stand ye in the ways and see, and ask for the old paths, where is the good way; and walk therein, and ye shall find rest for your souls: but they said, We will not walk therein. ¹⁷ And I set watchmen over you, saying, Harken to the sound of the trumpet; but they said, We will not hearken. ¹⁸ Therefore hear, ye nations, and know, O congregation, what is among them. ¹⁹ Hear, O earth: behold, I will bring evil upon this people, even the fruit of their thoughts, because they have not hearkened unto my words; and as for my law, they have rejected it. ²⁰ To what purpose cometh there to me frankincense from Sheba, and the sweet cane from a far country? your burnt offerings are not acceptable, nor your sacrifices pleasing unto me. ²¹ Therefore thus saith Jehovah, Behold, I will lay stumbling blocks before this people; and the fathers and the sons together shall stumble against them; the neighbor and his friend shall perish.

²⁷ I have made thee a trier and a fortress among my people; that thou mayest know and try their way. ²⁸ They are all grievous revolters, going about with slanders; they are brass and iron: they all of them deal corruptly. ²⁹ The bellows blow fiercely; the lead is consumed of the fire: in vain do they go on refining; for the wicked are not plucked away. ³⁰ Refuse silver shall men call them, because Jehovah hath rejected them.

Jehovah's house, and proclaim there this word, and say, Hear the word of Jehovah, all ye of Judah, that enter in at these gates to worship Jehovah. ³ Thus saith Jehovah of hosts, the God of Israel, Amend your ways and your doings, and I will cause you to dwell in this place. ⁴ Trust ye not in lying words, saying, The temple of Jehovah, the temple of Jehovah, the temple of Jehovah, are these. ⁵ For if ye thoroughly amend your ways and your doings; if ye thoroughly execute justice between a man and his neighbor; ⁶ if ye oppress not the sojourner, the fatherless, and the widow, and shed not innocent blood in this place, neither walk after other gods to your own hurt: ⁷ then will I cause you to dwell in this place, in the land that I gave to your fathers, from of old even forevermore.

⁸ Behold, ye trust in lying words, that cannot profit. ⁹ Will ye steal, murder, and commit adultery, and swear falsely, and burn incense unto Baal, and walk after other gods that ye have not known, ¹⁰ and come and stand before me in this house, which is called by my name, and say, We are delivered; that ye may do all these abominations? ¹¹ Is this house, which is called by my name, become a den of robbers in your eyes? Behold, I, even I, have seen it, saith Jehovah.

¹² But go ye now unto my place which was in Shiloh, where I caused my name to dwell at the first, and see what I did to it for the wickedness of my people Israel. ¹³ And now, because ye have done all these works, saith Jehovah, and I spake unto you, rising up early and speaking, but ye heard not; and I called you, but ye answered not: ¹⁴ therefore will I do unto the house which is called by my name, wherein ye trust, and unto the place which I gave to you and to your fathers, as I did to Shiloh. ¹⁵ And I will cast you out of my sight, as I have cast out all your brethren, even the whole seed of Ephraim.

²⁷ And thou shalt speak all these words unto them; but they will not hearken to thee: thou shalt also call unto them; but they will not answer thee. ²⁸ And thou shalt say unto them, This is the nation that hath not hearkened to the voice of Jehovah their God, nor received instruction: truth is perished, and is cut off from their mouth.

²⁹ Cut off thy hair, O Jerusalem, and cast it away, and take up a lamentation on the bare heights; for Jehovah hath rejected and forsaken the generation of his wrath. ³⁰ For the children of Judah have done that which is evil in my sight, saith Jehovah: they have set their abominations in the house which is called by my name, to defile it. ³¹ And they have built the high places of Topheth, which is in the valley of the son of Hinnom, to burn their sons and their daughters in the fire; which I commanded not, neither came it into my mind. ³² Therefore, behold, the days come, saith Jehovah, that it shall no more be called Topheth, nor The valley of the son of Hinnom, but The valley of Slaughter: for they shall bury in Topheth, till there be no place to bury. ³³ And the dead bodies of this people shall be food for the birds of the heavens, and for the beasts of the earth; and none shall frighten them away. ³⁴ Then will I cause to cease from the cities of Judah, and from the streets of Jerusalem, the voice of mirth and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom and the voice of the bride; for the land shall become a waste.

¹⁴ Why do we sit still? assemble yourselves, and let us enter into the fortified cities, and let us be silent there; for Jehovah our God hath put us to silence, and given us water of gall to drink, because we have sinned against Jehovah. ¹⁵ We looked for peace, but no good came; and for a time of healing, and, behold, dismay! ¹⁶ The snorting of his horses is heard from Dan: at the sound of the neighing of his strong ones the whole land trembleth; for they are come, and have devoured the land and all that is in it; the city and those that dwell therein. ¹⁷ For, behold, I will send serpents, adders, among you, which will not be charmed; and they shall bite you, saith Jehovah.

¹⁸ Oh that I could comfort myself against sorrow! my heart is faint within me. ¹⁹ Behold, the voice of the cry of the daughter of my people from a land that is very far off: is not Jehovah in Zion? is not her King in her? Why have they provoked me to anger with their graven images, and with foreign vanities? ²⁰ The harvest is past, the summer is ended, and we are not saved. ²¹ For the hurt of the daughter of my people am I hurt: I mourn; dismay hath taken hold on me. ²² Is there no balm in Gilead? is there no physician there? why then is not the health of the daughter of my people recovered?

¹ Oh that my head were waters, and mine eyes a fountain of tears, that I might weep day and night for the slain of the daughter of my people! ² Oh that I had in the wilderness a lodging place of wayfaring men; that I might leave my people, and go from them! for they are all adulterers, an assembly of treacherous men. ³ And they bend their tongue, as it were their bow, for falsehood; and they are grown strong in the land, but not for truth: for they proceed from evil to evil, and they know not me, saith Jehovah. ⁴ Take ye heed everyone of his neighbor, and trust ye not in any brother; for every brother will utterly supplant, and every neighbor will go about with slanders. ⁵ And they will deceive every one his neighbor, and will not speak the truth: they have taught their tongue to speak lies; they weary themselves to commit iniquity. ⁶ Thy habitation is in the midst of deceit; through deceit they refuse to know me, saith Jehovah.

¹⁰ For the mountains will I take up a weeping and wailing, and for the pastures of the wilderness a lamentation, because they are burned up, so that none passeth through; neither can men hear the voice of the cattle; both the birds of the heavens and the beasts are fled, they are gone. ¹¹ And I will make Jerusalem heaps, a dwelling place of jackals; and I will make the cities of Judah a desolation, without inhabitant.

¹² Who is the wise man, that may understand this? and who is he to whom the mouth of Jehovah hath spoken, that he may declare it? wherefore is the land perished and burned up like a wilderness, so that none passeth through? ¹³ And Jehovah saith, Because they have forsaken my law which I set before them, and have not obeyed my voice, neither walked therein, ¹⁴ but have walked after the stubbornness of their own heart, and after the Baalim, which their fathers taught them; ¹⁵ therefore thus saith Jehovah of hosts, the God of Israel, Behold, I will feed them, even this people, with wormwood, and give them water of gall to drink. ¹⁶ I will scatter them also among the nations, whom neither they nor their fathers have known; and I will send the sword after them, till I have consumed them.

¹⁷ Thus saith Jehovah of hosts, Consider ye, and call for the mourning women, that they may come; and send for the skillful women, that they may come: ¹⁸ and let them make haste, and take up a wailing for us, that our eyes may run down with tears, and our eyelids gush out with waters. ¹⁹ For a voice of wailing is heard out of Zion,

How are we ruined! we are greatly confounded, because we have forsaken the land, because they have cast down our dwellings. ²⁰ Yet hear the word of Jehovah, O ye women, and let your ear receive the word of his mouth; and teach your daughters wailing, and every one her neighbor lamentation. ²¹ For death is come up into our windows, it is entered into our palaces; to cut off the children from without, and the young men from the streets. ²² Speak, Thus saith Jehovah, The dead bodies of men shall fall as dung upon the open field, and as the handful after the harvestman; and none shall gather them.

²³ Thus saith Jehovah, Let not the wise man glory in his wisdom, neither let the mighty man glory in his might, let not the rich man glory in his riches; ²⁴ but let him that glorieth glory in this, that he hath understanding, and knoweth me, that I am Jehovah who exerciseth lovingkindness, justice, and righteousness, in the earth: for in these things I delight, saith Jehovah.

²⁵ Behold, the days come, saith Jehovah, that I will punish all them that are circumcised in their uncircumcision: ²⁶ Egypt, and Judah, and Edom, and the children of Ammon, and Moab, and all that have the corners of their hair cut off, that dwell in the wilderness; for all the nations are uncircumcised, and all the house of Israel are uncircumcised in heart.

¹⁹ Woe is me because of my hurt! my wound is grievous: but I said, Truly this is my grief, and I must bear it. ²⁰ My tent is destroyed, and all my cords are broken: my children are gone forth from me, and they are not: there is none to spread my tent anymore, and to set up my curtains. ²¹ For the shepherds are become brutish, and have not inquired of Jehovah: therefore they have not prospered, and all their flocks are scattered. ²² The voice of tidings, behold, it cometh, and a great commotion out of the north country, to make the cities of Judah a desolation, a dwelling place of jackals.

²³ O Jehovah, I know that the way of man is not in himself; it is not in man that walketh to direct his steps. ²⁴ O Jehovah, correct me, but in measure; not in thine anger, lest thou bring me to nothing. ²⁵ Pour out thy wrath upon the nations that know thee not, and upon the families that call not on thy name; for they have devoured Jacob, yea, they have devoured him and consumed him, and have laid waste his habitation.

⁹ And Jehovah said unto me, A conspiracy is found among the men of Judah, and among the inhabitants of Jerusalem. ¹⁰ They are turned back to the iniquities of their forefathers, who refused to hear my words; and they are gone after other gods to serve them: the house of Israel and the house of Judah have broken my covenant which I made with their fathers. ¹¹ Therefore thus saith Jehovah, Behold, I will bring evil upon them, which they shall not be able to escape; and they shall cry unto me, but I will not hearken unto them. ¹² Then shall the cities of Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem go and cry unto the gods unto which they offer incense: but they will not save them at all in the time of their trouble. ¹³ For according to the number of thy cities are thy gods, O Judah; and according to the number of the streets of Jerusalem have ye set up altars to the shameful thing, even altars to burn incense unto Baal.

¹⁴ Therefore pray not thou for this people, neither lift up cry nor prayer for them; for I will not hear them in the time that they cry unto me because of their trouble. ¹⁵ What hath my beloved to do in my house, seeing she hath wrought lewdness with many, and the holy flesh is passed from thee? when thou doest evil, then thou rejoicest. ¹⁶ Jehovah called thy name, A green olive tree, fair with goodly fruit: with the noise of a great tumult he hath kindled fire upon it, and the branches of it are broken. ¹⁷ For Jehovah of hosts, who planted thee, hath pronounced evil against thee, because of the evil of the house of Israel and of the house of Judah, which they have wrought for themselves in provoking me to anger by offering incense unto Baal.

¹⁸ And Jehovah gave me knowledge of it, and I knew it: then thou showedst me their doings. ¹⁹ But I was like a gentle lamb that is led to the slaughter; and I knew not that they had devised devices against me, saying, Let us destroy the tree with the fruit thereof, and let us cut him off from the land of the living, that his name may be no more remembered. ²⁰ But, O Jehovah of hosts, who judgest righteously, who triest the heart and the mind, I shall see thy vengeance on them; for unto thee have I revealed my cause. ²¹ Therefore thus saith Jehovah concerning the men of Anathoth, that seek thy life, saying, Thou shalt not prophesy in the name of Jehovah, that thou die not by our hand; ²² therefore thus saith Jehovah of hosts, Behold, I will punish them: the young men shall die by the sword; their sons and their daughters shall die by famine; ²³ and there shall be no remnant unto them: for I will bring evil upon the men of Anathoth, even the year of their visitation.

⁵ If thou hast run with the footmen, and they have wearied thee, then how canst thou contend with horses? and though in a land of peace thou art secure, yet how wilt thou do in the pride of the Jordan? ⁶ For even thy brethren, and the house of thy father, even they have dealt treacherously with thee; even they have cried aloud after thee: believe them not, though they speak fair words unto thee.

⁷ I have forsaken my house, I have cast off my heritage; I have given the dearly beloved of my soul into the hand of her enemies. ⁸ My heritage is become unto me as a lion in the forest: she hath uttered her voice against me; therefore I have hated her. ⁹ Is my heritage unto me as a speckled bird of prey? are the birds of prey against her round about? go ye, assemble all the beasts of the field, bring them to devour. ¹⁰ Many shepherds have destroyed my vineyard, they have trodden my portion under foot, they have made my pleasant portion a desolate wilderness. ¹¹ They have made it a desolation; it mourneth unto me, being desolate; the whole land is made desolate, because no man layeth it to heart. ¹² Destroyers are come upon all the bare heights in the wilderness; for the sword of Jehovah devoureth from the one end of the land even to the other end of the land: no flesh hath peace. ¹³ They have sown wheat, and have reaped thorns; they have put themselves to pain, and profit nothing: and ye shall be ashamed of your fruits, because of the fierce anger of Jehovah.

come to pass, after that I have plucked them up, I will return and have compassion on them; and I will bring them again, every man to his heritage, and every man to his land. ¹⁶ And it shall come to pass, if they will diligently learn the ways of my people, to swear by my name, As Jehovah liveth; even as they taught my people to swear by Baal; then shall they be built up in the midst of my people. ¹⁷ But if they will not hear, then will I pluck up that nation, plucking up and destroying it, saith Jehovah.

¹ Thus saith Jehovah unto me, Go, and buy thee a linen girdle, and put it upon thy loins, and put it not in water. ² So I bought a girdle according to the word of Jehovah, and put it upon my loins. ³ And the word of Jehovah came unto me the second time, saying, ⁴ Take the girdle that thou hast bought, which is upon thy loins, and arise, go to the Euphrates, and hide it there in a cleft of the rock. ⁵ So I went, and hid it by the Euphrates, as Jehovah commanded me. ⁶ And it came to pass after many days, that Jehovah said unto me, Arise, go to the Euphrates, and take the girdle from thence, which I commanded thee to hide there. ⁷ Then I went to the Euphrates, and dug, and took the girdle from the place where I had hidden it; and, behold, the girdle was marred, it was profitable for nothing.

⁸ Then the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying, ⁹ Thus saith Jehovah, After this manner will I mar the pride of Judah, and the great pride of Jerusalem. ¹⁰ This evil people, that refuse to hear my words, that walk in the stubbornness of their heart, and are gone after other gods to serve them, and to worship them, shall even be as this girdle, which is profitable for nothing. ¹¹ For as the girdle cleaveth to the loins of a man, so have I caused to cleave unto me the whole house of Israel and the whole house of Judah, saith Jehovah; that they may be unto me for a people, and for a name, and for a praise, and for a glory: but they would not hear.

¹⁸ Say thou unto the king and to the queen mother, Humble yourselves, sit down; for your headtires are come down, even the crown of your glory. ¹⁹ The cities of the South are shut up, and there is none to open them: Judah is carried away captive, all of it; it is wholly carried away captive.

²⁰ Lift up your eyes, and behold them that come from the north: where is the flock that was given thee, thy beautiful flock? ²¹ What wilt thou say, when he shall set over thee as head those whom thou hast thyself taught to be friends to thee? shall not sorrows take hold of thee, as of a woman in travail? ²² And if thou say in thy heart, Wherefore are these things come upon me? for the greatness of thine iniquity are thy skirts uncovered, and thy heels suffer violence. ²³ Can the Ethiopian change his skin, or the leopard his spots? then may ye also do good, that are accustomed to do evil. ²⁴ Therefore will I scatter them, as the stubble that passeth away, by the wind of the wilderness. ²⁵ This is thy lot, the portion measured unto thee from me, saith Jehovah; because thou hast forgotten me, and trusted in falsehood. ²⁶ Therefore will I also uncover thy skirts upon thy face, and thy shame shall appear. ²⁷ I have seen thine abominations, even thine adulteries, and thy neighings, the lewdness of thy whoredom, on the hills in the field. Woe unto thee, O Jerusalem! thou wilt not be made clean; how long shall it yet be?

² Judah mourneth, and the gates thereof languish, they sit in black upon the ground; and the cry of Jerusalem is gone up. ³ And their nobles send their little ones to the waters: they come to the cisterns, and find no water; they return with their vessels empty; they are put to shame and confounded, and cover their heads. ⁴ Because of the ground which is cracked, for that no rain hath been in the land, the plowmen are put to shame, they cover their heads. ⁵ Yea, the hind also in the field calveth, and forsaketh her young, because there is no grass. ⁶ And the wild asses stand on the bare heights, they pant for air like jackals; their eyes fail, because there is no herbage.

¹⁰ Thus saith Jehovah unto this people, Even so have they loved to wander; they have not refrained their feet: therefore Jehovah doth not accept them; now will he remember their iniquity, and visit their sins. ¹¹ And Jehovah said unto me, Pray not for this people for their good. ¹² When they fast, I will not hear their cry; and when they offer burnt offering and meal offering, I will not accept them; but I will consume them by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence.

¹³ Then said I, Ah, Lord Jehovah! behold, the prophets say unto them, Ye shall not see the sword, neither shall ye have famine; but I will give you assured peace in this place. ¹⁴ Then Jehovah said unto me, The prophets prophesy lies in my name; I sent them not, neither have I commanded them, neither spake I unto them: they prophesy unto you a lying vision, and divination, and a thing of nought, and the deceit of their own heart. ¹⁵ Therefore thus saith Jehovah concerning the prophets that prophesy in my name, and I sent them not, yet they say, Sword and famine shall not be in this land: By sword and famine shall those prophets be consumed. ¹⁶ And the people to whom they prophesy shall be cast out in the streets of Jerusalem because of the famine and the sword; and they shall have none to bury them—they, their wives, nor their sons, nor their daughters: for I will pour their wickedness upon them. ¹⁷ And thou shalt say this word unto them, Let mine eyes run down with tears night and day, and let them not cease; for the virgin daughter of my people is broken with a great breach, with a very grievous wound. ¹⁸ If I go forth into the field, then, behold, the slain with the sword! and if I enter into the city, then, behold, they that are sick with famine! for both the prophet and the priest go about in the land, and have no knowledge.

¹⁹ Hast thou utterly rejected Judah? hath thy soul loathed Zion? why hast thou smitten us, and there is no healing for us? We looked for peace, but no good came; and for a time of healing, and, behold, dismay! ²⁰ We acknowledge, O Jehovah, our wickedness, and the iniquity of our fathers; for we have sinned against thee. ²¹ Do not abhor us, for thy name's sake; do not disgrace the throne of thy glory: remember, break not thy covenant with us. ²² Are there any among the vanities of the nations that can cause rain? or can the heavens give showers? art not thou he, O Jehovah our God? therefore we will wait for thee; for thou hast made all these things.

¹ Then said Jehovah unto me, Though Moses and Samuel stood before me, yet my mind would not be toward this people: cast them out of my sight, and let them go forth. ² And it shall come to pass, when they say unto thee, Whither shall we go forth? then thou shalt tell them, Thus saith Jehovah: Such as are for death, to death; and such as are for the sword, to the sword; and such as are for the famine, to the famine; and such as are for captivity, to captivity. ³ And I will appoint over them four kinds, saith Jehovah: the sword to slay, and the dogs to tear, and the birds of the heavens, and the beasts of the earth, to devour and to destroy. ⁴ And I will cause them to be tossed to and fro among all the kingdoms of the earth, because of Manasseh, the son of Hezekiah, king of Judah, for that which he did in Jerusalem.

⁵ For who will have pity upon thee, O Jerusalem? or who will bemoan thee? or who will turn aside to ask of thy welfare? ⁶ Thou hast rejected me, saith Jehovah, thou art gone backward: therefore have I stretched out my hand against thee, and destroyed thee; I am weary with repenting. ⁷ And I have winnowed them with a fan in the gates of the land; I have bereaved them of children, I have destroyed my people; they returned not from their ways. ⁸ Their widows are increased to me above the sand of the seas; I have brought upon them against the mother of the young men a destroyer at noonday: I have caused anguish and terrors to fall upon her suddenly. ⁹ She that hath borne seven languisheth; she hath given up the ghost; her sun is gone down while it was yet day; she hath been put to shame and confounded: and the residue of them will I deliver to the sword before their enemies, saith Jehovah.

¹⁰ Woe is me, my mother, that thou hast borne me a man of strife and a man of contention to the whole earth! I have not lent, neither have men lent to me; yet every one of them doth curse me.

¹¹ Jehovah said, Verily I will strengthen thee for good; verily I will cause the enemy to make supplication unto thee in the time of evil and in the time of affliction. ¹² Can one break iron, even iron from the north, and brass? ¹³ Thy substance and thy treasures will I give for a spoil without price, and that for all thy sins, even in all thy borders. ¹⁴ And I will make them to pass with thine enemies into a land which thou knowest not; for a fire is kindled in mine anger, which shall burn upon you.

¹⁵ O Jehovah, thou knowest; remember me, and visit me, and avenge me of my persecutors; take me not away in thy long-suffering: know that for thy sake I have suffered reproach. ¹⁶ Thy words were found, and I did eat them; and thy words were unto me a joy and the rejoicing of my heart: for I am called by thy name, O Jehovah, God of hosts. ¹⁷ I sat not in the assembly of them that make merry, nor rejoiced; I sat alone because of thy hand; for thou hast filled me with indignation. ¹⁸ Why is my pain perpetual, and my wound incurable, which refuseth to be healed? wilt thou indeed be unto me as a deceitful brook, as waters that fail?

shalt be as my mouth: they shall return unto thee, but thou shalt not return unto them. ²⁰ And I will make thee unto this people a fortified brazen wall; and they shall fight against thee, but they shall not prevail against thee; for I am with thee to save thee and to deliver thee, saith Jehovah. ²¹ And I will deliver thee out of the hand of the wicked, and I will redeem thee out of the hand of the terrible.

¹⁶ Behold, I will send for many fishers, saith Jehovah, and they shall fish them up; and afterward I will send for many hunters, and they shall hunt them from every mountain, and from every hill, and out of the clefts of the rocks. ¹⁷ For mine eyes are upon all their ways; they are not hidden from my face, neither is their iniquity concealed from mine eyes. ¹⁸ And first I will recompense their iniquity and their sin double, because they have polluted my land with the carcasses of their detestable things, and have filled mine inheritance with their abominations.

¹⁹ O Jehovah, my strength, and my stronghold, and my refuge in the day of affliction, unto thee shall the nations come from the ends of the earth, and shall say, Our fathers have inherited nought but lies, even vanity and things wherein there is no profit. ²⁰ Shall a man make unto himself gods, which yet are no gods?

²¹ Therefore, behold, I will cause them to know, this once will I cause them to know my hand and my might; and they shall know that my name is Jehovah.

¹² A glorious throne, set on high from the beginning, is the place of our sanctuary. ¹³ O Jehovah, the hope of Israel, all that forsake thee shall be put to shame. They that depart from me shall be written in the earth, because they have forsaken Jehovah, the fountain of living waters. ¹⁴ Heal me, O Jehovah, and I shall be healed; save me, and I shall be saved: for thou art my praise. ¹⁵ Behold, they say unto me, Where is the word of Jehovah? let it come now. ¹⁶ As for me, I have not hastened from being a shepherd after thee; neither have I desired the woeful day; thou knowest: that which came out of my lips was before thy face. ¹⁷ Be not a terror unto me: thou art my refuge in the day of evil. ¹⁸ Let them be put to shame that persecute me, but let not me be put to shame; let them be dismayed, but let not me be dismayed; bring upon them the day of evil, and destroy them with double destruction.

²⁴ And it shall come to pass, if ye diligently hearken unto me, saith Jehovah, to bring in no burden through the gates of this city on the sabbath day, but to hallow the sabbath day, to do no work therein; ²⁵ then shall there enter in by the gates of this city kings and princes sitting upon the throne of David, riding in chariots and on horses, they, and their princes, the men of Judah, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem; and this city shall remain forever. ²⁶ And they shall come from the cities of Judah, and from the places round about Jerusalem, and from the land of Benjamin, and from the lowland, and from the hill country, and from the South, bringing burnt offerings, and sacrifices, and meal offerings, and frankincense, and bringing sacrifices of thanksgiving, unto the house of Jehovah. ²⁷ But if ye will not hearken unto me to hallow the sabbath day, and not to bear a burden and enter in at the gates of Jerusalem on the sabbath day; then will I kindle a fire in the gates thereof, and it shall devour the palaces of Jerusalem, and it shall not be quenched.

¹ The word which came to Jeremiah from Jehovah, saying, ² Arise, and go down to the potter's house, and there I will cause thee to hear my words. ³ Then I went down to the potter's house, and, behold, he was making a work on the wheels. ⁴ And when the vessel that he made of the clay was marred in the hand of the potter, he made it again another vessel, as seemed good to the potter to make it.

⁵ Then the word of Jehovah came to me, saying, ⁶ O house of Israel, cannot I do with you as this potter? saith Jehovah. Behold, as the clay in the potter's hand, so are ye in my hand, O house of Israel. ⁷ At what instant I shall speak concerning a nation, and concerning a kingdom, to pluck up and to break down and to destroy it; ⁸ if that nation, concerning which I have spoken, turn from their evil, I will repent of the evil that I thought to do unto them. ⁹ And at what instant I shall speak concerning a nation, and concerning a kingdom, to build and to plant it; ¹⁰ if they do that which is evil in my sight, that they obey not my voice, then I will repent of the good, wherewith I said I would benefit them. ¹¹ Now therefore, speak to the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, saying, Thus saith Jehovah: Behold, I frame evil against you, and devise a device against you: return ye now every one from his evil way, and amend your ways and your doings. ¹² But they say, It is in vain; for we will walk after our own devices, and we will do every one after the stubbornness of his evil heart.

¹³ Therefore thus saith Jehovah: Ask ye now among the nations, who hath heard such things; the virgin of Israel hath done a very horrible thing. ¹⁴ Shall the snow of Lebanon fail from the rock of the field? or shall the cold waters that flow down from afar be dried up? ¹⁵ For my people have forgotten me, they have burned incense to false gods; and they have been made to stumble in their ways, in the ancient paths, to walk in bypaths, in a way not cast up; ¹⁶ to make their land an astonishment, and a perpetual hissing; everyone that passeth thereby shall be astonished, and shake his head. ¹⁷ I will scatter them as with an east wind before the enemy; I will show them the back, and not the face, in the day of their calamity.

¹⁸ Then said they, Come, and let us devise devices against Jeremiah; for the law shall not perish from the priest, nor counsel from the wise, nor the word from the prophet. Come, and let us smite him with the tongue, and let us not give heed to any of his words.

¹⁹ Give heed to me, O Jehovah, and hearken to the voice of them that contend with me. ²⁰ Shall evil be recompensed for good? for they have dug a pit for my soul. Remember how I stood before thee to speak good for them, to turn away thy wrath from them. ²¹ Therefore deliver up their children to the famine, and give them over to the power of the sword; and let their wives become childless, and widows; and let their men be slain of death, and their young men smitten of the sword in battle. ²² Let a cry be heard from their houses, when thou shalt bring a troop suddenly upon them; for they have dug a pit to take me, and hidden snares for my feet. ²³ Yet, Jehovah, thou knowest all their counsel against me to slay me; forgive not their iniquity, neither blot out their sin from thy sight; but let them be overthrown before thee; deal thou with them in the time of thine anger.

¹⁰ Then shalt thou break the bottle in the sight of the men that go with thee, ¹¹ and shalt say unto them, Thus saith Jehovah of hosts: Even so will I break this people and this city, as one breaketh a potter's vessel, that cannot be made whole again; and they shall bury in Topheth, till there be no place to bury. ¹² Thus will I do unto this place, saith Jehovah, and to the inhabitants thereof, even making this city as Topheth: ¹³ and the houses of Jerusalem, and the houses of the kings of Judah, which are defiled, shall be as the place of Topheth, even all the houses upon whose roofs they have burned incense unto all the host of heaven, and have poured out drink offerings unto other gods.

¹⁴ Then came Jeremiah from Topheth, whither Jehovah had sent him to prophesy; and he stood in the court of Jehovah's house, and said to all the people: ¹⁵ Thus saith Jehovah of hosts, the God of Israel, Behold, I will bring upon this city and upon all its towns all the evil that I have pronounced against it; because they have made their neck stiff, that they may not hear my words.

the prophet, and put him in the stocks that were in the upper gate of Benjamin, which was in the house of Jehovah. ³ And it came to pass on the morrow, that Pashhur brought forth Jeremiah out of the stocks. Then said Jeremiah unto him, Jehovah hath not called thy name Pashhur, but Magor-missabib. ⁴ For thus saith Jehovah, Behold, I will make thee a terror to thyself, and to all thy friends; and they shall fall by the sword of their enemies, and thine eyes shall behold it; and I will give all Judah into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall carry them captive to Babylon, and shall slay them with the sword. ⁵ Moreover I will give all the riches of this city, and all the gains thereof, and all the precious things thereof, yea, all the treasures of the kings of Judah will I give into the hand of their enemies; and they shall make them a prey, and take them, and carry them to Babylon. ⁶ And thou, Pashhur, and all that dwell in thy house shall go into captivity; and thou shalt come to Babylon, and there thou shalt die, and there shalt thou be buried, thou, and all thy friends, to whom thou hast prophesied falsely.

⁷ O Jehovah, thou hast persuaded me, and I was persuaded; thou art stronger than I, and hast prevailed: I am become a laughingstock all the day, everyone mocketh me. ⁸ For as often as I speak, I cry out; I cry, Violence and destruction! because the word of Jehovah is made a reproach unto me, and a derision, all the day. ⁹ And if I say, I will not make mention of him, nor speak anymore in his name, then there is in my heart as it were a burning fire shut up in my bones, and I am weary with forbearing, and I cannot contain. ¹⁰ For I have heard the defaming of many, terror on every side. Denounce, and we will denounce him, say all my familiar friends, they that watch for my fall; peradventure he will be persuaded, and we shall prevail against him, and we shall take our revenge on him. ¹¹ But Jehovah is with me as a mighty one and a terrible: therefore my persecutors shall stumble, and they shall not prevail; they shall be utterly put to shame, because they have not dealt wisely, even with an everlasting dishonor which shall never be forgotten. ¹² But, O Jehovah of hosts, that triest the righteous, that seest the heart and the mind, let me see thy vengeance on them; for unto thee have I revealed my cause. ¹³ Sing unto Jehovah, praise ye Jehovah; for he hath delivered the soul of the needy from the hand of evildoers.

¹⁴ Cursed be the day wherein I was born: let not the day wherein my mother bare me be blessed. ¹⁵ Cursed be the man who brought tidings to my father, saying, A man-child is born unto thee; making him very glad. ¹⁶ And let that man be as the cities which Jehovah overthrew, and repented not: and let him hear a cry in the morning, and shouting at noontime; ¹⁷ because he slew me not from the womb; and so my mother would have been my grave, and her womb always great. ¹⁸ Wherefore came I forth out of the womb to see labor and sorrow, that my days should be consumed with shame?

³ Then said Jeremiah unto them, Thus shall ye say to Zedekiah: ⁴ Thus saith Jehovah, the God of Israel, Behold, I will turn back the weapons of war that are in your hands, wherewith ye fight against the king of Babylon, and against the Chaldeans that besiege you, without the walls; and I will gather them into the midst of this city. ⁵ And I myself will fight against you with an outstretched hand and with a strong arm, even in anger, and in wrath, and in great indignation. ⁶ And I will smite the inhabitants of this city, both man and beast: they shall die of a great pestilence. ⁷ And afterward, saith Jehovah, I will deliver Zedekiah king of Judah, and his servants, and the people, even such as are left in this city from the pestilence, from the sword, and from the famine, into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of those that seek their life: and he shall smite them with the edge of the sword; he shall not spare them, neither have pity, nor have mercy.

⁸ And unto this people thou shalt say, Thus saith Jehovah: Behold, I set before you the way of life and the way of death. ⁹ He that abideth in this city shall die by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence; but he that goeth out, and passeth over to the Chaldeans that besiege you, he shall live, and his life shall be unto him for a prey. ¹⁰ For I have set my face upon this city for evil, and not for good, saith Jehovah: it shall be given into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall burn it with fire.

¹¹ And touching the house of the king of Judah, hear ye the word of Jehovah: ¹² O house of David, thus saith Jehovah, Execute justice in the morning, and deliver him that is robbed out of the hand of the oppressor, lest my wrath go forth like fire, and burn so that none can quench it, because of the evil of your doings. ¹³ Behold, I am against thee, O inhabitant of the valley, and of the rock of the plain, saith Jehovah; you that say, Who shall come down against us? or who shall enter into our habitations? ¹⁴ And I will punish you according to the fruit of your doings, saith Jehovah; and I will kindle a fire in her forest, and it shall devour all that is round about her.

¹ Thus said Jehovah: Go down to the house of the king of Judah, and speak there this word, ² and say, Hear the word of Jehovah, O king of Judah, that sittest upon the throne of David, thou, and thy servants, and thy people that enter in by these gates. ³ Thus saith Jehovah: Execute ye justice and righteousness, and deliver him that is robbed out of the hand of the oppressor: and do no wrong, do no violence, to the sojourner, the fatherless, nor the widow; neither shed innocent blood in this place. ⁴ For if ye do this thing indeed, then shall there enter in by the gates of this house kings sitting upon the throne of David, riding in chariots and on horses, he, and his servants, and his people. ⁵ But if ye will not hear these words, I swear by myself, saith Jehovah, that this house shall become a desolation. ⁶ For thus saith Jehovah concerning the house of the king of Judah: Thou art Gilead unto me, and the head of Lebanon; yet surely I will make thee a wilderness, and cities which are not inhabited. ⁷ And I will prepare destroyers against thee, every one with his weapons; and they shall cut down thy choice cedars, and cast them into the fire. ⁸ And many nations shall pass by this city, and they shall say every man to his neighbor, Wherefore hath Jehovah done thus unto this great city? ⁹ Then they shall answer, Because they forsook the covenant of Jehovah their God, and worshiped other gods, and served them.

²⁴ As I live, saith Jehovah, though Coniah the son of Jehoiakim king of Judah were the signet upon my right hand, yet would I pluck thee thence; ²⁵ and I will give thee into the hand of them that seek thy life, and into the hand of them of whom thou art afraid, even into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and into the hand of the Chaldeans. ²⁶ And I will cast thee out, and thy mother that bare thee, into another country, where ye were not born; and there shall ye die. ²⁷ But to the land whereunto their soul longeth to return, thither shall they not return. ²⁸ Is this man Coniah a despised broken vessel? is he a vessel wherein none delighteth? wherefore are they cast out, he and his seed, and are cast into the land which they know not? ²⁹ O earth, earth, earth, hear the word of Jehovah. ³⁰ Thus saith Jehovah, Write ye this man childless, a man that shall not prosper in his days; for no more shall a man of his seed prosper, sitting upon the throne of David, and ruling in Judah.

⁵ Behold, the days come, saith Jehovah, that I will raise unto David a righteous Branch, and he shall reign as king and deal wisely, and shall execute justice and righteousness in the land. ⁶ In his days Judah shall be saved, and Israel shall dwell safely; and this is his name whereby he shall be called: Jehovah our righteousness. ⁷ Therefore, behold, the days come, saith Jehovah, that they shall no more say, As Jehovah liveth, who brought up the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt; ⁸ but, As Jehovah liveth, who brought up and who led the seed of the house of Israel out of the north country, and from all the countries whither I had driven them. And they shall dwell in their own land.

⁹ Concerning the prophets. My heart within me is broken, all my bones shake; I am like a drunken man, and like a man whom wine hath overcome, because of Jehovah, and because of his holy words. ¹⁰ For the land is full of adulterers; for because of swearing the land mourneth; the pastures of the wilderness are dried up. And their course is evil, and their might is not right; ¹¹ for both prophet and priest are profane; yea, in my house have I found their wickedness, saith Jehovah. ¹² Wherefore their way shall be unto them as slippery places in the darkness: they shall be driven on, and fall therein; for I will bring evil upon them, even the year of their visitation, saith Jehovah.

¹⁶ Thus saith Jehovah of hosts, Hearken not unto the words of the prophets that prophesy unto you: they teach you vanity; they speak a vision of their own heart, and not out of the mouth of Jehovah. ¹⁷ They say continually unto them that despise me, Jehovah hath said, Ye shall have peace; and unto everyone that walketh in the stubbornness of his own heart they say, No evil shall come upon you. ¹⁸ For who hath stood in the council of Jehovah, that he should perceive and hear his word? who hath marked my word, and heard it? ¹⁹ Behold, the tempest of Jehovah, even his wrath, is gone forth, yea, a whirling tempest: it shall burst upon the head of the wicked. ²⁰ The anger of Jehovah shall not return, until he have executed, and till he have performed the intents of his heart: in the latter days ye shall understand it perfectly. ²¹ I sent not these prophets, yet they ran: I spake not unto them, yet they prophesied. ²² But if they had stood in my council, then had they caused my people to hear my words, and had turned them from their evil way, and from the evil of their doings.

²³ Am I a God at hand, saith Jehovah, and not a God afar off? ²⁴ Can any hide himself in secret places so that I shall not see him? saith Jehovah. Do not I fill heaven and earth? saith Jehovah. ²⁵ I have heard what the prophets have said, that prophesy lies in my name, saying, I have dreamed, I have dreamed. ²⁶ How long shall this be in the heart of the prophets that prophesy lies, even the prophets of the deceit of their own heart? ²⁷ that think to cause my people to forget my name by their dreams which they tell every man to his neighbor, as their fathers forgat my name for Baal. ²⁸ The prophet that hath a dream, let him tell a dream; and he that hath my word, let him speak my word faithfully. What is the straw to the wheat? saith Jehovah. ²⁹ Is not my word like fire? saith Jehovah; and like a hammer that breaketh the rock in pieces? ³⁰ Therefore, behold, I am against the prophets, saith Jehovah, that steal my words every one from his neighbor. ³¹ Behold, I am against the prophets, saith Jehovah, that use their tongues, and say, He saith. ³² Behold, I am against them that prophesy lying dreams, saith Jehovah, and do tell them, and cause my people to err by their lies, and by their vain boasting: yet I sent them not, nor commanded them; neither do they profit this people at all, saith Jehovah.

³³ And when this people, or the prophet, or a priest, shall ask thee, saying, What is the burden of Jehovah? then shalt thou say unto them, What burden! I will cast you off, saith Jehovah. ³⁴ And as for the prophet, and the priest, and the people, that shall say, The burden of Jehovah, I will even punish that man and his house. ³⁵ Thus shall ye say every one to his neighbor, and every one to his brother, What hath Jehovah answered? and, What hath Jehovah spoken? ³⁶ And the burden of Jehovah shall ye mention no more: for every man's own word shall be his burden; for ye have perverted the words of the living God, of Jehovah of hosts our God. ³⁷ Thus shalt thou say to the prophet, What hath Jehovah answered thee? and, What hath Jehovah spoken? ³⁸ But if ye say, The burden of Jehovah; therefore thus saith Jehovah: Because ye say this word, The burden of Jehovah, and I have sent unto you, saying, Ye shall not say, The burden of Jehovah; ³⁹ therefore, behold, I will utterly forget you, and I will cast you off, and the city that I gave unto you and to your fathers, away from my presence: ⁴⁰ and I will bring an everlasting reproach upon you, and a perpetual shame, which shall not be forgotten.

⁸ And as the bad figs, which cannot be eaten, they are so bad, surely thus saith Jehovah, So will I give up Zedekiah the king of Judah, and his princes, and the residue of Jerusalem, that remain in this land, and them that dwell in the land of Egypt, ⁹ I will even give them up to be tossed to and fro among all the kingdoms of the earth for evil; to be a reproach and a proverb, a taunt and a curse, in all places whither I shall drive them. ¹⁰ And I will send the sword, the famine, and the pestilence, among them, till they be consumed from off the land that I gave unto them and to their fathers.

his evil way, and from the evil of your doings, and dwell in the land that Jehovah hath given unto you and to your fathers, from of old and even forevermore; ⁶ and go not after other gods to serve them, and to worship them, and provoke me not to anger with the work of your hands; and I will do you no hurt. ⁷ Yet ye have not hearkened unto me, saith Jehovah; that ye may provoke me to anger with the work of your hands to your own hurt. ⁸ Therefore thus saith Jehovah of hosts: Because ye have not heard my words, ⁹ behold, I will send and take all the families of the north, saith Jehovah, and I will send unto Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon, my servant, and will bring them against this land, and against the inhabitants thereof, and against all these nations round about; and I will utterly destroy them, and make them an astonishment, and a hissing, and perpetual desolations. ¹⁰ Moreover I will take from them the voice of mirth and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom and the voice of the bride, the sound of the millstones, and the light of the lamp. ¹¹ And this whole land shall be a desolation, and an astonishment; and these nations shall serve the king of Babylon seventy years.

¹² And it shall come to pass, when seventy years are accomplished, that I will punish the king of Babylon, and that nation, saith Jehovah, for their iniquity, and the land of the Chaldeans; and I will make it desolate forever. ¹³ And I will bring upon that land all my words which I have pronounced against it, even all that is written in this book, which Jeremiah hath prophesied against all the nations. ¹⁴ For many nations and great kings shall make bondmen of them, even of them; and I will recompense them according to their deeds, and according to the work of their hands.

¹⁵ For thus saith Jehovah, the God of Israel, unto me: Take this cup of the wine of wrath at my hand, and cause all the nations, to whom I send thee, to drink it. ¹⁶ And they shall drink, and reel to and fro, and be mad, because of the sword that I will send among them. ¹⁷ Then took I the cup at Jehovah's hand, and made all the nations to drink, unto whom Jehovah had sent me: ¹⁸ to wit, Jerusalem, and the cities of Judah, and the kings thereof, and the princes thereof, to make them a desolation, an astonishment, a hissing, and a curse, as it is this day; ¹⁹ Pharaoh king of Egypt, and his servants, and his princes, and all his people; ²⁰ and all the mingled people, and all the kings of the land of Uz, and all the kings of the Philistines, and Ashkelon, and Gaza, and Ekron, and the remnant of Ashdod; ²¹ Edom, and Moab, and the children of Ammon; ²² and all the kings of Tyre, and all the kings of Sidon, and the kings of the isle which is beyond the sea; ²³ Dedan, and Tema, and Buz, and all that have the corners of their hair cut off; ²⁴ and all the kings of Arabia, and all the kings of the mingled people that dwell in the wilderness; ²⁵ and all the kings of Zimri, and all the kings of Elam, and all the kings of the Medes; ²⁶ and all the kings of the north, far and near, one with another; and all the kingdoms of the world, which are upon the face of the earth: and the king of Sheshach shall drink after them.

²⁷ And thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith Jehovah of hosts, the God of Israel: Drink ye, and be drunken, and spew, and fall, and rise no more, because of the sword which I will send among you. ²⁸ And it shall be, if they refuse to take the cup at thy hand to drink, then shalt thou say unto them, Thus saith Jehovah of hosts: Ye shall surely drink. ²⁹ For, lo, I begin to work evil at the city which is called by my name; and should ye be utterly unpunished? Ye shall not be unpunished; for I will call for a sword upon all the inhabitants of the earth, saith Jehovah of hosts.

³⁰ Therefore prophesy thou against them all these words, and say unto them, Jehovah will roar from on high, and utter his voice from his holy habitation; he will mightily roar against his fold; he will give a shout, as they that tread the grapes, against all the inhabitants of the earth. ³¹ A noise shall come even to the end of the earth; for Jehovah hath a controversy with the nations; he will enter into judgment with all flesh: as for the wicked, he will give them to the sword, saith Jehovah.

³² Thus saith Jehovah of hosts, Behold, evil shall go forth from nation to nation, and a great tempest shall be raised up from the uttermost parts of the earth. ³³ And the slain of Jehovah shall be at that day from one end of the earth even unto the other end of the earth: they shall not be lamented, neither gathered, nor buried; they shall be dung upon the face of the ground. ³⁴ Wail, ye shepherds, and cry; and wallow in ashes, ye principal of the flock; for the days of your slaughter and of your dispersions are fully come, and ye shall fall like a goodly vessel. ³⁵ And the shepherds shall have no way to flee, nor the principal of the flock to escape. ³⁶ A voice of the cry of the shepherds, and the wailing of the principal of the flock! for Jehovah layeth waste their pasture. ³⁷ And the peaceable folds are brought to silence because of the fierce anger of Jehovah. ³⁸ He hath left his covert, as the lion; for their land is become an astonishment because of the fierceness of the oppressing sword, and because of his fierce anger.

¹⁰ And when the princes of Judah heard these things, they came up from the king's house unto the house of Jehovah; and they sat in the entry of the new gate of Jehovah's house. ¹¹ Then spake the priests and the prophets unto the princes and to all the people, saying, This man is worthy of death; for he hath prophesied against this city, as ye have heard with your ears. ¹² Then spake Jeremiah unto all the princes and to all the people, saying, Jehovah sent me to prophesy against this house and against this city all the words that ye have heard. ¹³ Now therefore amend your ways and your doings, and obey the voice of Jehovah your God; and Jehovah will repent him of the evil that he hath pronounced against you. ¹⁴ But as for me, behold, I am in your hand: do with me as is good and right in your eyes. ¹⁵ Only know ye for certain that, if ye put me to death, ye will bring innocent blood upon yourselves, and upon this city, and upon the inhabitants thereof; for of a truth Jehovah hath sent me unto you to speak all these words in your ears.

¹⁶ Then said the princes and all the people unto the priests and to the prophets: This man is not worthy of death; for he hath spoken to us in the name of Jehovah our God. ¹⁷ Then rose up certain of the elders of the land, and spake to all the assembly of the people, saying, ¹⁸ Micah the Morashtite prophesied in the days of Hezekiah king of Judah; and he spake to all the people of Judah, saying, Thus saith Jehovah of hosts: Zion shall be plowed as a field, and Jerusalem shall become heaps, and the mountain of the house as the high places of a forest. ¹⁹ Did Hezekiah king of Judah and all Judah put him to death? did he not fear Jehovah, and entreat the favor of Jehovah, and Jehovah repented him of the evil which he had pronounced against them? Thus should we commit great evil against our own souls.

²⁰ And there was also a man that prophesied in the name of Jehovah, Uriah the son of Shemaiah of Kiriath-jearim; and he prophesied against this city and against this land according to all the words of Jeremiah. ²¹ And when Jehoiakim the king, with all his mighty men, and all the princes, heard his words, the king sought to put him to death; but when Uriah heard it, he was afraid, and fled, and went into Egypt. ²² And Jehoiakim the king sent men into Egypt, namely, Elnathan the son of Achbor, and certain men with him, into Egypt; ²³ and they fetched forth Uriah out of Egypt, and brought him unto Jehoiakim the king, who slew him with the sword, and cast his dead body into the graves of the common people. ²⁴ But the hand of Ahikam the son of Shaphan was with Jeremiah, that they should not give him into the hand of the people to put him to death.

¹ In the beginning of the reign of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, came this word unto Jeremiah from Jehovah, saying, ² Thus saith Jehovah to me: Make thee bonds and bars, and put them upon thy neck; ³ and send them to the king of Edom, and to the king of Moab, and to the king of the children of Ammon, and to the king of Tyre, and to the king of Sidon, by the hand of the messengers that come to Jerusalem unto Zedekiah king of Judah: ⁴ and give them a charge unto their masters, saying, Thus saith Jehovah of hosts, the God of Israel, Thus shall ye say unto your masters: ⁵ I have made the earth, the men and the beasts that are upon the face of the earth, by my great power and by my outstretched arm; and I give it unto whom it seemeth right unto me. ⁶ And now have I given all these lands into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon, my servant; and the beasts of the field also have I given him to serve him. ⁷ And all the nations shall serve him, and his son, and his son's son, until the time of his own land come: and then many nations and great kings shall make him their bondman. ⁸ And it shall come to pass, that the nation and the kingdom which will not serve the same Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and that will not put their neck under the yoke of the king of Babylon, that nation will I punish, saith Jehovah, with the sword, and with the famine, and with the pestilence, until I have consumed them by his hand. ⁹ But as for you, hearken ye not to your prophets, nor to your diviners, nor to your dreams, nor to your soothsayers, nor to your sorcerers, that speak unto you, saying, Ye shall not serve the king of Babylon: ¹⁰ for they prophesy a lie unto you, to remove you far from your land, and that I should drive you out, and ye should perish. ¹¹ But the nation that shall bring their neck under the yoke of the king of Babylon, and serve him, that nation will I let remain in their own land, saith Jehovah; and they shall till it, and dwell therein.

¹² And I spake to Zedekiah king of Judah according to all these words, saying, Bring your necks under the yoke of the king of Babylon, and serve him and his people, and live. ¹³ Why will ye die, thou and thy people, by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence, as Jehovah hath spoken concerning the nation that will not serve the king of Babylon? ¹⁴ And hearken not unto the words of the prophets that speak unto you, saying, Ye shall not serve the king of Babylon; for they prophesy a lie unto you. ¹⁵ For I have not sent them, saith Jehovah, but they prophesy falsely in my name; that I may drive you out, and that ye may perish, ye, and the prophets that prophesy unto you.

¹⁶ Also I spake to the priests and to all this people, saying, Thus saith Jehovah: Hearken not to the words of your prophets that prophesy unto you, saying, Behold, the vessels of Jehovah's house shall now shortly be brought again from Babylon; for they prophesy a lie unto you. ¹⁷ Hearken not unto them; serve the king of Babylon, and live: wherefore should this city become a desolation? ¹⁸ But if they be prophets, and if the word of Jehovah be with them, let them now make intercession to Jehovah of hosts, that the vessels which are left in the house of Jehovah, and in the house of the king of Judah, and at Jerusalem, go not to Babylon. ¹⁹ For thus saith Jehovah of hosts concerning the pillars, and concerning the sea, and concerning the bases, and concerning the residue of the vessels that are left in this city, ²⁰ which Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon took not, when he carried away captive Jeconiah the son of Jehoiakim, king of Judah, from Jerusalem to Babylon, and all the nobles of Judah and Jerusalem; ²¹ yea, thus saith Jehovah of hosts, the God of Israel, concerning the vessels that are left in the house of Jehovah, and in the house of the king of Judah, and at Jerusalem: ²² They shall be carried to Babylon, and there shall they be, until the day that I visit them, saith Jehovah; then will I bring them up, and restore them to this place.

⁵ Then the prophet Jeremiah said unto the prophet Hananiah in the presence of the priests, and in the presence of all the people that stood in the house of Jehovah, ⁶ even the prophet Jeremiah said, Amen: Jehovah do so; Jehovah perform thy words which thou hast prophesied, to bring again the vessels of Jehovah's house, and all them of the captivity, from Babylon unto this place. ⁷ Nevertheless hear thou now this word that I speak in thine ears, and in the ears of all the people: ⁸ The prophets that have been before me and before thee of old prophesied against many countries, and against great kingdoms, of war, and of evil, and of pestilence. ⁹ The prophet that prophesieth of peace, when the word of the prophet shall come to pass, then shall the prophet be known, that Jehovah hath truly sent him. ¹⁰ Then Hananiah the prophet took the bar from off the prophet Jeremiah's neck, and brake it. ¹¹ And Hananiah spake in the presence of all the people, saying, Thus saith Jehovah: Even so will I break the yoke of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon within two full years from off the neck of all the nations. And the prophet Jeremiah went his way.

¹² Then the word of Jehovah came unto Jeremiah, after that Hananiah the prophet had broken the bar from off the neck of the prophet Jeremiah, saying, ¹³ Go, and tell Hananiah, saying, Thus saith Jehovah: Thou hast broken the bars of wood; but thou hast made in their stead bars of iron. ¹⁴ For thus saith Jehovah of hosts, the God of Israel: I have put a yoke of iron upon the neck of all these nations, that they may serve Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon; and they shall serve him: and I have given him the beasts of the field also. ¹⁵ Then said the prophet Jeremiah unto Hananiah the prophet, Hear now, Hananiah: Jehovah hath not sent thee; but thou makest this people to trust in a lie. ¹⁶ Therefore thus saith Jehovah, Behold, I will send thee away from off the face of the earth: this year thou shalt die, because thou hast spoken rebellion against Jehovah. ¹⁷ So Hananiah the prophet died the same year in the seventh month.

¹ Now these are the words of the letter that Jeremiah the prophet sent from Jerusalem unto the residue of the elders of the captivity, and to the priests, and to the prophets, and to all the people, whom Nebuchadnezzar had carried away captive from Jerusalem to Babylon, ² (after that Jeconiah the king, and the queen mother, and the eunuchs, and the princes of Judah and Jerusalem, and the craftsmen, and the smiths, were departed from Jerusalem), ³ by the hand of Elasah the son of Shaphan, and Gemariah the son of Hilkiah, (whom Zedekiah king of Judah sent unto Babylon to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon), saying, ⁴ Thus saith Jehovah of hosts, the God of Israel, unto all the captivity, whom I have caused to be carried away captive from Jerusalem unto Babylon: ⁵ Build ye houses, and dwell in them; and plant gardens, and eat the fruit of them. ⁶ Take ye wives, and beget sons and daughters; and take wives for your sons, and give your daughters to husbands, that they may bear sons and daughters: and multiply ye there, and be not diminished. ⁷ And seek the peace of the city whither I have caused you to be carried away captive, and pray unto Jehovah for it; for in the peace thereof shall ye have peace. ⁸ For thus saith Jehovah of hosts, the God of Israel: Let not your prophets that are in the midst of you, and your diviners, deceive you; neither hearken ye to your dreams which ye cause to be dreamed. ⁹ For they prophesy falsely unto you in my name: I have not sent them, saith Jehovah. ¹⁰ For thus saith Jehovah, After seventy years are accomplished for Babylon, I will visit you, and perform my good word toward you, in causing you to return to this place. ¹¹ For I know the thoughts that I think toward you, saith Jehovah, thoughts of peace, and not of evil, to give you hope in your latter end. ¹² And ye shall call upon me, and ye shall go and pray unto me, and I will hearken unto you. ¹³ And ye shall seek me, and find me, when ye shall search for me with all your heart. ¹⁴ And I will be found of you, saith Jehovah, and I will turn again your captivity, and I will gather you from all the nations, and from all the places whither I have driven you, saith Jehovah; and I will bring you again unto the place whence I caused you to be carried away captive.

a reproach, among all the nations whither I have driven them; ¹⁹ because they have not hearkened to my words, saith Jehovah, wherewith I sent unto them my servants the prophets, rising up early and sending them; but ye would not hear, saith Jehovah. ²⁰ Hear ye therefore the word of Jehovah, all ye of the captivity, whom I have sent away from Jerusalem to Babylon.

²¹ Thus saith Jehovah of hosts, the God of Israel, concerning Ahab the son of Kolaiah, and concerning Zedekiah the son of Maaseiah, who prophesy a lie unto you in my name: Behold, I will deliver them into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon; and he shall slay them before your eyes; ²² and of them shall be taken up a curse by all the captives of Judah that are in Babylon, saying, Jehovah make thee like Zedekiah and like Ahab, whom the king of Babylon roasted in the fire; ²³ because they have wrought folly in Israel, and have committed adultery with their neighbors' wives, and have spoken words in my name falsely, which I commanded them not; and I am he that knoweth, and am witness, saith Jehovah.

²⁴ And concerning Shemaiah the Nehelamite thou shalt speak, saying, ²⁵ Thus speaketh Jehovah of hosts, the God of Israel, saying, Because thou hast sent letters in thine own name unto all the people that are at Jerusalem, and to Zephaniah the son of Maaseiah, the priest, and to all the priests, saying, ²⁶ Jehovah hath made thee priest in the stead of Jehoiada the priest, that there may be officers in the house of Jehovah, for every man that is mad, and maketh himself a prophet, that thou shouldst put him in the stocks and in shackles. ²⁷ Now therefore, why hast thou not rebuked Jeremiah of Anathoth, who maketh himself a prophet to you, ²⁸ forasmuch as he hath sent unto us in Babylon, saying, The captivity is long: build ye houses, and dwell in them; and plant gardens, and eat the fruit of them? ²⁹ And Zephaniah the priest read this letter in the ears of Jeremiah the prophet. ³⁰ Then came the word of Jehovah unto Jeremiah, saying, ³¹ Send to all them of the captivity, saying, Thus saith Jehovah concerning Shemaiah the Nehelamite: Because that Shemaiah hath prophesied unto you, and I sent him not, and he hath caused you to trust in a lie; ³² therefore thus saith Jehovah, Behold, I will punish Shemaiah the Nehelamite, and his seed; he shall not have a man to dwell among this people, neither shall he behold the good that I will do unto my people, saith Jehovah, because he hath spoken rebellion against Jehovah.

¹ The word that came to Jeremiah from Jehovah, saying, ² Thus speaketh Jehovah, the God of Israel, saying, Write thee all the words that I have spoken unto thee in a book. ³ For, lo, the days come, saith Jehovah, that I will turn again the captivity of my people Israel and Judah, saith Jehovah; and I will cause them to return to the land that I gave to their fathers, and they shall possess it.

dismayed, O Israel: for, lo, I will save thee from afar, and thy seed from the land of their captivity; and Jacob shall return, and shall be quiet and at ease, and none shall make him afraid. ¹¹ For I am with thee, saith Jehovah, to save thee: for I will make a full end of all the nations whither I have scattered thee, but I will not make a full end of thee; but I will correct thee in measure, and will in no wise leave thee unpunished.

¹² For thus saith Jehovah, Thy hurt is incurable, and thy wound grievous. ¹³ There is none to plead thy cause, that thou mayest be bound up: thou hast no healing medicines. ¹⁴ All thy lovers have forgotten thee; they seek thee not: for I have wounded thee with the wound of an enemy, with the chastisement of a cruel one, for the greatness of thine iniquity, because thy sins were increased. ¹⁵ Why criest thou for thy hurt? thy pain is incurable: for the greatness of thine iniquity, because thy sins were increased, I have done these things unto thee. ¹⁶ Therefore all they that devour thee shall be devoured; and all thine adversaries, every one of them, shall go into captivity; and they that despoil thee shall be a spoil, and all that prey upon thee will I give for a prey. ¹⁷ For I will restore health unto thee, and I will heal thee of thy wounds, saith Jehovah; because they have called thee an outcast, saying, It is Zion, whom no man seeketh after.

¹⁸ Thus saith Jehovah: Behold, I will turn again the captivity of Jacob's tents, and have compassion on his dwelling places; and the city shall be built upon its own hill, and the palace shall be inhabited after its own manner. ¹⁹ And out of them shall proceed thanksgiving and the voice of them that make merry: and I will multiply them, and they shall not be few; I will also glorify them, and they shall not be small. ²⁰ Their children also shall be as aforetime, and their congregation shall be established before me; and I will punish all that oppress them. ²¹ And their prince shall be of themselves, and their ruler shall proceed from the midst of them; and I will cause him to draw near, and he shall approach unto me: for who is he that hath had boldness to approach unto me? saith Jehovah. ²² And ye shall be my people, and I will be your God.

¹ At that time, saith Jehovah, will I be the God of all the families of Israel, and they shall be my people. ² Thus saith Jehovah, The people that were left of the sword found favor in the wilderness; even Israel, when I went to cause him to rest. ³ Jehovah appeared of old unto me, saying, Yea, I have loved thee with an everlasting love: therefore with lovingkindness have I drawn thee. ⁴ Again will I build thee, and thou shalt be built, O virgin of Israel: again shalt thou be adorned with thy tabrets, and shalt go forth in the dances of them that make merry. ⁵ Again shalt thou plant vineyards upon the mountains of Samaria; the planters shall plant, and shall enjoy the fruit thereof. ⁶ For there shall be a day, that the watchmen upon the hills of Ephraim shall cry, Arise ye, and let us go up to Zion unto Jehovah our God.

⁷ For thus saith Jehovah, Sing with gladness for Jacob, and shout for the chief of the nations: publish ye, praise ye, and say, O Jehovah, save thy people, the remnant of Israel. ⁸ Behold, I will bring them from the north country, and gather them from the uttermost parts of the earth, and with them the blind and the lame, the woman with child and her that travaileth with child together: a great company shall they return hither. ⁹ They shall come with weeping; and with supplications will I lead them: I will cause them to walk by rivers of waters, in a straight way wherein they shall not stumble; for I am a father to Israel, and Ephraim is my firstborn.

¹⁰ Hear the word of Jehovah, O ye nations, and declare it in the isles afar off; and say, He that scattered Israel will gather him, and keep him, as a shepherd doth his flock. ¹¹ For Jehovah hath ransomed Jacob, and redeemed him from the hand of him that was stronger than he. ¹² And they shall come and sing in the height of Zion, and shall flow unto the goodness of Jehovah, to the grain, and to the new wine, and to the oil, and to the young of the flock and of the herd: and their soul shall be as a watered garden; and they shall not sorrow anymore at all. ¹³ Then shall the virgin rejoice in the dance, and the young men and the old together; for I will turn their mourning into joy, and will comfort them, and make them rejoice from their sorrow. ¹⁴ And I will satiate the soul of the priests with fatness, and my people shall be satisfied with my goodness, saith Jehovah.

¹⁵ Thus saith Jehovah: A voice is heard in Ramah, lamentation, and bitter weeping, Rachel weeping for her children; she refuseth to be comforted for her children, because they are not. ¹⁶ Thus saith Jehovah: Refrain thy voice from weeping, and thine eyes from tears; for thy work shall be rewarded, saith Jehovah; and they shall come again from the land of the enemy. ¹⁷ And there is hope for thy latter end, saith Jehovah; and thy children shall come again to their own border. ¹⁸ I have surely heard Ephraim bemoaning himself thus, Thou hast chastised me, and I was chastised, as a calf unaccustomed to the yoke: turn thou me, and I shall be turned; for thou art Jehovah my God. ¹⁹ Surely after that I was turned, I repented; and after that I was instructed, I smote upon my thigh: I was ashamed, yea, even confounded, because I did bear the reproach of my youth. ²⁰ Is Ephraim my dear son? is he a darling child? for as often as I speak against him, I do earnestly remember him still: therefore my heart yearneth for him; I will surely have mercy upon him, saith Jehovah.

²³ Thus saith Jehovah of hosts, the God of Israel, Yet again shall they use this speech in the land of Judah and in the cities thereof, when I shall bring again their captivity: Jehovah bless thee, O habitation of righteousness, O mountain of holiness. ²⁴ And Judah and all the cities thereof shall dwell therein together, the husbandmen, and they that go about with flocks. ²⁵ For I have satiated the weary soul, and every sorrowful soul have I replenished. ²⁶ Upon this I awoke, and beheld; and my sleep was sweet unto me.

²⁷ Behold, the days come, saith Jehovah, that I will sow the house of Israel and the house of Judah with the seed of man, and with the seed of beast. ²⁸ And it shall come to pass that, like as I have watched over them to pluck up and to break down and to overthrow and to destroy and to afflict, so will I watch over them to build and to plant, saith Jehovah. ²⁹ In those days they shall say no more, The fathers have eaten sour grapes, and the children's teeth are set on edge. ³⁰ But everyone shall die for his own iniquity: every man that eateth the sour grapes, his teeth shall be set on edge.

³¹ Behold, the days come, saith Jehovah, that I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel, and with the house of Judah: ³² not according to the covenant that I made with their fathers in the day that I took them by the hand to bring them out of the land of Egypt; which my covenant they brake, although I was a husband unto them, saith Jehovah. ³³ But this is the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel after those days, saith Jehovah: I will put my law in their inward parts, and in their heart will I write it; and I will be their God, and they shall be my people. ³⁴ And they shall teach no more every man his neighbor, and every man his brother, saying, Know Jehovah; for they shall all know me, from the least of them unto the greatest of them, saith Jehovah: for I will forgive their iniquity, and their sin will I remember no more.

³⁵ Thus saith Jehovah, who giveth the sun for a light by day, and the ordinances of the moon and of the stars for a light by night, who stirreth up the sea, so that the waves thereof roar; Jehovah of hosts is his name: ³⁶ If these ordinances depart from before me, saith Jehovah, then the seed of Israel also shall cease from being a nation before me forever. ³⁷ Thus saith Jehovah: If heaven above can be measured, and the foundations of the earth searched out beneath, then will I also cast off all the seed of Israel for all that they have done, saith Jehovah.

¹ The word that came to Jeremiah from Jehovah in the tenth year of Zedekiah king of Judah, which was the eighteenth year of Nebuchadnezzar. ² Now at that time the king of Babylon's army was besieging Jerusalem; and Jeremiah the prophet was shut up in the court of the guard, which was in the king of Judah's house. ³ For Zedekiah king of Judah had shut him up, saying, Wherefore dost thou prophesy, and say, Thus saith Jehovah, Behold, I will give this city into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall take it; ⁴ and Zedekiah king of Judah shall not escape out of the hand of the Chaldeans, but shall surely be delivered into the hand of the king of Babylon, and shall speak with him mouth to mouth, and his eyes shall behold his eyes; ⁵ and he shall bring Zedekiah to Babylon, and there shall he be until I visit him, saith Jehovah: though ye fight with the Chaldeans, ye shall not prosper?

⁶ And Jeremiah said, The word of Jehovah came unto me, saying, ⁷ Behold, Hanamel the son of Shallum thine uncle shall come unto thee, saying, Buy thee my field that is in Anathoth; for the right of redemption is thine to buy it. ⁸ So Hanamel mine uncle's son came to me in the court of the guard according to the word of Jehovah, and said unto me, Buy my field, I pray thee, that is in Anathoth, which is in the land of Benjamin; for the right of inheritance is thine, and the redemption is thine; buy it for thyself. Then I knew that this was the word of Jehovah. ⁹ And I bought the field that was in Anathoth of Hanamel mine uncle's son, and weighed him the money, even seventeen shekels of silver. ¹⁰ And I subscribed the deed, and sealed it, and called witnesses, and weighed him the money in the balances. ¹¹ So I took the deed of the purchase, both that which was sealed, according to the law and custom, and that which was open: ¹² and I delivered the deed of the purchase unto Baruch the son of Neriah, the son of Mahseiah, in the presence of Hanamel mine uncle's son, and in the presence of the witnesses that subscribed the deed of the purchase, before all the Jews that sat in the court of the guard. ¹³ And I charged Baruch before them, saying, ¹⁴ Thus saith Jehovah of hosts, the God of Israel: Take these deeds, this deed of the purchase which is sealed, and this deed which is open, and put them in an earthen vessel; that they may continue many days. ¹⁵ For thus saith Jehovah of hosts, the God of Israel: Houses and fields and vineyards shall yet again be bought in this land.

¹⁶ Now after I had delivered the deed of the purchase unto Baruch the son of Neriah, I prayed unto Jehovah, saying, ¹⁷ Ah Lord Jehovah! behold, thou hast made the heavens and the earth by thy great power and by thine outstretched arm; there is nothing too hard for thee, ¹⁸ who showest lovingkindness unto thousands, and recompensest the iniquity of the fathers into the bosom of their children after them; the great, the mighty God, Jehovah of hosts is his name; ¹⁹ great in counsel, and mighty in work; whose eyes are open upon all the ways of the sons of men, to give every one according to his ways, and according to the fruit of his doings; ²⁰ who didst set signs and wonders in the land of Egypt, even unto this day, both in Israel and among other men; and madest thee a name, as at this day; ²¹ and didst bring forth thy people Israel out of the land of Egypt with signs, and with wonders, and with a strong hand, and with an outstretched arm, and with great terror; ²² and gavest them this land, which thou didst swear to their fathers to give them, a land flowing with milk and honey; ²³ and they came in, and possessed it; but they obeyed not thy voice, neither walked in thy law; they have done nothing of all that thou commandedst them to do: therefore thou hast caused all this evil to come upon them. ²⁴ Behold, the mounds, they are come unto the city to take it; and the city is given into the hand of the Chaldeans that fight against it, because of the sword, and of the famine, and of the pestilence; and what thou hast spoken is come to pass; and, behold, thou seest it. ²⁵ And thou hast said unto me, O Lord Jehovah, Buy thee the field for money, and call witnesses; whereas the city is given into the hand of the Chaldeans.

²⁶ Then came the word of Jehovah unto Jeremiah, saying, ²⁷ Behold, I am Jehovah, the God of all flesh: is there anything too hard for me? ²⁸ Therefore thus saith Jehovah: Behold, I will give this city into the hand of the Chaldeans, and into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and he shall take it: ²⁹ and the Chaldeans, that fight against this city, shall come and set this city on fire, and burn it, with the houses, upon whose roofs they have offered incense unto Baal, and poured out drink offerings unto other gods, to provoke me to anger. ³⁰ For the children of Israel and the children of Judah have done only that which was evil in my sight from their youth; for the children of Israel have only provoked me to anger with the work of their hands, saith Jehovah. ³¹ For this city hath been to me a provocation of mine anger and of my wrath from the day that they built it even unto this day; that I should remove it from before my face, ³² because of all the evil of the children of Israel and of the children of Judah, which they have done to provoke me to anger, they, their kings, their princes, their priests, and their prophets, and the men of Judah, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem. ³³ And they have turned unto me the back, and not the face: and though I taught them, rising up early and teaching them, yet they have not hearkened to receive instruction. ³⁴ But they set their abominations in the house which is called by my name, to defile it. ³⁵ And they built the high places of Baal, which are in the valley of the son of Hinnom, to cause their sons and their daughters to pass through the fire unto Molech; which I commanded them not, neither came it into my mind, that they should do this abomination, to cause Judah to sin.

one heart and one way, that they may fear me forever, for the good of them, and of their children after them: ⁴⁰ and I will make an everlasting covenant with them, that I will not turn away from following them, to do them good; and I will put my fear in their hearts, that they may not depart from me. ⁴¹ Yea, I will rejoice over them to do them good, and I will plant them in this land assuredly with my whole heart and with my whole soul. ⁴² For thus saith Jehovah: Like as I have brought all this great evil upon this people, so will I bring upon them all the good that I have promised them. ⁴³ And fields shall be bought in this land, whereof ye say, It is desolate, without man or beast; it is given into the hand of the Chaldeans. ⁴⁴ Men shall buy fields for money, and subscribe the deeds, and seal them, and call witnesses, in the land of Benjamin, and in the places about Jerusalem, and in the cities of Judah, and in the cities of the hill country, and in the cities of the lowland, and in the cities of the South: for I will cause their captivity to return, saith Jehovah.

¹ Moreover the word of Jehovah came unto Jeremiah the second time, while he was yet shut up in the court of the guard, saying, ² Thus saith Jehovah that doeth it, Jehovah that formeth it to establish it; Jehovah is his name: ³ Call unto me, and I will answer thee, and will show thee great things, and difficult, which thou knowest not. ⁴ For thus saith Jehovah, the God of Israel, concerning the houses of this city, and concerning the houses of the kings of Judah, which are broken down to make a defense against the mounds and against the sword; ⁵ while men come to fight with the Chaldeans, and to fill them with the dead bodies of men, whom I have slain in mine anger and in my wrath, and for all whose wickedness I have hidden my face from this city: ⁶ Behold, I will bring it health and cure, and I will cure them; and I will reveal unto them abundance of peace and truth. ⁷ And I will cause the captivity of Judah and the captivity of Israel to return, and will build them, as at the first. ⁸ And I will cleanse them from all their iniquity, whereby they have sinned against me; and I will pardon all their iniquities, whereby they have sinned against me, and whereby they have transgressed against me. ⁹ And this city shall be to me for a name of joy, for a praise and for a glory, before all the nations of the earth, which shall hear all the good that I do unto them, and shall fear and tremble for all the good and for all the peace that I procure unto it.

¹² Thus saith Jehovah of hosts: Yet again shall there be in this place, which is waste, without man and without beast, and in all the cities thereof, a habitation of shepherds causing their flocks to lie down. ¹³ In the cities of the hill country, in the cities of the lowland, and in the cities of the South, and in the land of Benjamin, and in the places about Jerusalem, and in the cities of Judah, shall the flocks again pass under the hands of him that numbereth them, saith Jehovah.

¹⁴ Behold, the days come, saith Jehovah, that I will perform that good word which I have spoken concerning the house of Israel and concerning the house of Judah. ¹⁵ In those days, and at that time, will I cause a Branch of righteousness to grow up unto

David; and he shall execute justice and righteousness in the land. ¹⁶ In those days shall Judah be saved, and Jerusalem shall dwell safely; and this is the name whereby she shall be called: Jehovah our righteousness. ¹⁷ For thus saith Jehovah: David shall never want a man to sit upon the throne of the house of Israel; ¹⁸ neither shall the priests the Levites want a man before me to offer burnt offerings, and to burn meal offerings, and to do sacrifice continually.

¹⁹ And the word of Jehovah came unto Jeremiah, saying, ²⁰ Thus saith Jehovah: If ye can break my covenant of the day, and my covenant of the night, so that there shall not be day and night in their season; ²¹ then may also my covenant be broken with David my servant, that he shall not have a son to reign upon his throne; and with the Levites the priests, my ministers. ²² As the host of heaven cannot be numbered, neither the sand of the sea measured; so will I multiply the seed of David my servant, and the Levites that minister unto me.

²³ And the word of Jehovah came to Jeremiah, saying, ²⁴ Considerest thou not what this people have spoken, saying, The two families which Jehovah did choose, he hath cast them off? thus do they despise my people, that they should be no more a nation before them. ²⁵ Thus saith Jehovah: If my covenant of day and night stand not, if I have not appointed the ordinances of heaven and earth; ²⁶ then will I also cast away the seed of Jacob, and of David my servant, so that I will not take of his seed to be rulers over the seed of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob: for I will cause their captivity to return, and will have mercy on them.

¹ The word which came unto Jeremiah from Jehovah, when Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and all his army, and all the kingdoms of the earth that were under his dominion, and all the peoples, were fighting against Jerusalem, and against all the cities thereof, saying: ² Thus saith Jehovah, the God of Israel, Go, and speak to Zedekiah king of Judah, and tell him, Thus saith Jehovah, Behold, I will give this city into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall burn it with fire: ³ and thou shalt not escape out of his hand, but shalt surely be taken, and delivered into his hand; and thine eyes shall behold the eyes of the king of Babylon, and he shall speak with thee mouth to mouth, and thou shalt go to Babylon. ⁴ Yet hear the word of Jehovah, O Zedekiah king of Judah: thus saith Jehovah concerning thee, Thou shalt not die by the sword; ⁵ thou shalt die in peace; and with the burnings of thy fathers, the former kings that were before thee, so shall they make a burning for thee; and they shall lament thee, saying, Ah Lord! for I have spoken the word, saith Jehovah.

⁸ The word that came unto Jeremiah from Jehovah, after that the king Zedekiah had made a covenant with all the people that were at Jerusalem, to proclaim liberty unto them; ⁹ that every man should let his manservant, and every man his maidservant, that is a Hebrew or a Hebrewess, go free; that none should make bondmen of them, to wit, of a Jew his brother. ¹⁰ And all the princes and all the people obeyed, that had entered into the covenant, that every one should let his manservant, and ever one his maidservant, go free, that none should make bondmen of them anymore; they obeyed, and let them go: ¹¹ but afterward they turned, and caused the servants and the handmaids, whom they had let go free, to return, and brought them into subjection for servants and for handmaids.

¹² Therefore the word of Jehovah came to Jeremiah from Jehovah, saying, ¹³ Thus saith Jehovah, the God of Israel: I made a covenant with your fathers in the day that I brought them forth out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage, saying, ¹⁴ At the end of seven years ye shall let go every man his brother that is a Hebrew, that hath been sold unto thee, and hath served thee six years, thou shalt let him go free from thee: but your fathers hearkened not unto me, neither inclined their ear. ¹⁵ And ye were now turned, and had done that which is right in mine eyes, in proclaiming liberty every man to his neighbor; and ye had made a covenant before me in the house which is called by my name: ¹⁶ but ye turned and profaned my name, and caused every man his servant, and every man his handmaid, whom ye had let go free at their pleasure, to return; and ye brought them into subjection, to be unto you for servants and for handmaids.

¹⁷ Therefore thus saith Jehovah: Ye have not hearkened unto me, to proclaim liberty, every man to his brother, and every man to his neighbor: behold, I proclaim unto you a liberty, saith Jehovah, to the sword, to the pestilence, and to the famine; and I will make you to be tossed to and fro among all the kingdoms of the earth. ¹⁸ And I will give the men that have transgressed my covenant, that have not performed the words of the covenant which they made before me, when they cut the calf in twain and passed between the parts thereof; ¹⁹ the princes of Judah, and the princes of Jerusalem, the eunuchs, and the priests, and all the people of the land, that passed between the parts of the calf; ²⁰ I will even give them into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of them that seek their life; and their dead bodies shall be for food unto the birds of the heavens, and to the beasts of the earth. ²¹ And Zedekiah king of Judah and his princes will I give into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of them that seek their life, and into the hand of the king of Babylon's army, that are gone away from you. ²² Behold, I will command, saith Jehovah, and cause them to return to this city; and they shall fight against it, and take it, and burn it with fire: and I will make the cities of Judah a desolation, without inhabitant.

¹ The word which came unto Jeremiah from Jehovah in the days of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, saying, ² Go unto the house of the Rechabites, and speak unto them, and bring them into the house of Jehovah, into one of the chambers, and give them wine to drink. ³ Then I took Jaazaniah the son of Jeremiah, the son of Habazziniah, and his brethren, and all his sons, and the whole house of the Rechabites; ⁴ and I brought them into the house of Jehovah, into the chamber of the sons of Hanan the son of Igdaliah, the man of God, which was by the chamber of the princes, which was above the chamber of Maaseiah the son of Shallum, the keeper of the threshold. ⁵ And I set before the sons of the house of the Rechabites bowls full of wine, and cups; and I said unto them, Drink ye wine. ⁶ But they said, We will drink no wine; for Jonadab the son of Rechab, our father, commanded us, saying, Ye shall drink no wine, neither ye, nor your sons, forever: ⁷ neither shall ye build house, nor sow seed, nor plant vineyard, nor have any; but all your days ye shall dwell in tents; that ye may live many days in the land wherein ye sojourn. ⁸ And we have obeyed the voice of Jonadab the son of Rechab, our father, in all that he charged us, to drink no wine all our days, we, our wives, our sons, or our daughters; ⁹ nor to build houses for us to dwell in; neither have we vineyard, nor field, nor seed: ¹⁰ but we have dwelt in tents, and have obeyed, and done according to all that Jonadab our father commanded us. ¹¹ But it came to pass, when Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon came up into the land, that we said, Come, and let us go to Jerusalem for fear of the army of the Chaldeans, and for fear of the army of the Syrians; so we dwell at Jerusalem.

¹² Then came the word of Jehovah unto Jeremiah, saying, ¹³ Thus saith Jehovah of hosts, the God of Israel: Go, and say to the men of Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem, Will ye not receive instruction to hearken to my words? saith Jehovah.

¹⁴ The words of Jonadab the son of Rechab, that he commanded his sons, not to drink wine, are performed; and unto this day they drink none, for they obey their father's commandment. But I have spoken unto you, rising up early and speaking; and ye have not hearkened unto me. ¹⁵ I have sent also unto you all my servants the prophets, rising up early and sending them, saying, Return ye now every man from his evil way, and amend your doings, and go not after other gods to serve them, and ye shall dwell in the land which I have given to you and to your fathers: but ye have not inclined your ear, nor hearkened unto me. ¹⁶ Forasmuch as the sons of Jonadab the son of Rechab have performed the commandment of their father which he commanded them, but this people hath not hearkened unto me; ¹⁷ therefore thus saith Jehovah, the God of hosts, the God of Israel: Behold, I will bring upon Judah and upon all the inhabitants of Jerusalem all the evil that I have pronounced against them; because I have spoken unto them, but they have not heard; and I have called unto them, but they have not answered.

¹⁸ And Jeremiah said unto the house of the Rechabites, Thus saith Jehovah of hosts, the God of Israel: Because ye have obeyed the commandment of Jonadab your father, and kept all his precepts, and done according unto all that he commanded you; ¹⁹ therefore thus saith Jehovah of hosts, the God of Israel: Jonadab the son of Rechab shall not want a man to stand before me forever.

⁴ Then Jeremiah called Baruch the son of Neriah; and Baruch wrote from the mouth of Jeremiah all the words of Jehovah, which he had spoken unto him, upon a roll of a book. ⁵ And Jeremiah commanded Baruch, saying, I am shut up; I cannot go into the house of Jehovah: ⁶ therefore go thou, and read in the roll, which thou hast written from my mouth, the words of Jehovah in the ears of the people in Jehovah's house upon the fast day; and also thou shalt read them in the ears of all Judah that come out of their cities. ⁷ It may be they will present their supplication before Jehovah, and will return every one from his evil way; for great is the anger and the wrath that Jehovah hath pronounced against this people. ⁸ And Baruch the son of Neriah did according to all that Jeremiah the prophet commanded him, reading in the book the words of Jehovah in Jehovah's house.

⁹ Now it came to pass in the fifth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, in the ninth month, that all the people in Jerusalem, and all the people that came from the cities of Judah unto Jerusalem, proclaimed a fast before Jehovah. ¹⁰ Then read Baruch in the book the words of Jeremiah in the house of Jehovah, in the chamber of Gemariah the son of Shaphan the scribe, in the upper court, at the entry of the new gate of Jehovah's house, in the ears of all the people.

¹¹ And when Micaiah the son of Gemariah, the son of Shaphan, had heard out of the book all the words of Jehovah, ¹² he went down into the king's house, into the scribe's chamber: and, lo, all the princes were sitting there, to wit, Elishama the scribe, and Delaiah the son of Shemaiah, and Elnathan the son of Achbor, and Gemariah the son of Shaphan, and Zedekiah the son of Hananiah, and all the princes. ¹³ Then Micaiah declared unto them all the words that he had heard, when Baruch read the book in the ears of the people. ¹⁴ Therefore all the princes sent Jehudi the son of Nethaniah, the son of Shelemiah, the son of Cushi, unto Baruch, saying, Take in thy hand the roll wherein thou hast read in the ears of the people, and come. So Baruch the son of Neriah took the roll in his hand, and came unto them. ¹⁵ And they said unto him, Sit down now, and read it in our ears. So Baruch read it in their ears. ¹⁶ Now it came to pass, when they had heard all the words, they turned in fear one toward another, and said unto Baruch, We will surely tell the king of all these words. ¹⁷ And they asked Baruch, saying, Tell us now, How didst thou write all these words at his mouth? ¹⁸ Then Baruch answered them, He pronounced all these words unto me with his mouth, and I wrote them with ink in the book. ¹⁹ Then said the princes unto Baruch, Go, hide thee, thou and Jeremiah; and let no man know where ye are.

²⁰ And they went in to the king into the court; but they had laid up the roll in the chamber of Elishama the scribe; and they told all the words in the ears of the king. ²¹ So the king sent Jehudi to fetch the roll; and he took it out of the chamber of Elishama the scribe. And Jehudi read it in the ears of the king, and in the ears of all the princes that stood beside the king. ²² Now the king was sitting in the winter house in the ninth month: and there was a fire in the brazier burning before him. ²³ And it came to pass, when Jehudi had read three or four leaves, that the king cut it with the penknife, and cast it into the fire that was in the brazier, until all the roll was consumed in the fire that was in the brazier. ²⁴ And they were not afraid, nor rent their garments, neither the king, nor any of his servants that heard all these words. ²⁵ Moreover Elnathan and Delaiah and Gemariah had made intercession to the king that he would not burn the roll; but he would not hear them. ²⁶ And the king commanded Jerahmeel the king's son, and Seraiah the son of Azriel, and Shelemiah the son of Abdeel, to take Baruch the scribe and Jeremiah the prophet; but Jehovah hid them.

²⁷ Then the word of Jehovah came to Jeremiah, after that the king had burned the roll, and the words which Baruch wrote at the mouth of Jeremiah, saying, ²⁸ Take thee again another roll, and write in it all the former words that were in the first roll, which Jehoiakim the king of Judah hath burned. ²⁹ And concerning Jehoiakim king of Judah thou shalt say, Thus saith Jehovah: Thou hast burned this roll, saying, Why hast thou written therein, saying, The king of Babylon shall certainly come and destroy this land, and shall cause to cease from thence man and beast? ³⁰ Therefore thus saith Jehovah concerning Jehoiakim king of Judah: He shall have none to sit upon the throne of David; and his dead body shall be cast out in the day to the heat, and in the night to the frost. ³¹ And I will punish him and his seed and his servants for their iniquity; and I will bring upon them, and upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and upon the men of Judah, all the evil that I have pronounced against them, but they hearkened not. ³² Then took Jeremiah another roll, and gave it to Baruch the scribe, the son of Neriah, who wrote therein from the mouth of Jeremiah all the words of the book which Jehoiakim king of Judah had burned in the fire; and there were added besides unto them many like words.

¹ And Zedekiah the son of Josiah reigned as king, instead of Coniah the son of Jehoiakim, whom Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon made king in the land of Judah.

² But neither he, nor his servants, nor the people of the land, did hearken unto the words of Jehovah, which he spake by the prophet Jeremiah.

³ And Zedekiah the king sent Jehucal the son of Shelemiah, and Zephaniah the son of Maaseiah, the priest, to the prophet Jeremiah, saying, Pray now unto Jehovah our God for us. ⁴ Now Jeremiah came in and went out among the people; for they had not put him into prison. ⁵ And Pharaoh's army was come forth out of Egypt; and when the Chaldeans that were besieging Jerusalem heard tidings of them, they brake up from Jerusalem.

⁶ Then came the word of Jehovah unto the prophet Jeremiah, saying, ⁷ Thus saith Jehovah, the God of Israel, Thus shall ye say to the king of Judah, that sent you unto me to inquire of me: Behold, Pharaoh's army, which is come forth to help you, shall return to Egypt into their own land. ⁸ And the Chaldeans shall come again, and fight against this city; and they shall take it, and burn it with fire. ⁹ Thus saith Jehovah, Deceive not yourselves, saying, The Chaldeans shall surely depart from us; for they shall not depart. ¹⁰ For though ye had smitten the whole army of the Chaldeans that fight against you, and there remained but wounded men among them, yet would they rise up every man in his tent, and burn this city with fire.

¹⁶ When Jeremiah was come into the dungeon house, and into the cells, and Jeremiah had remained there many days; ¹⁷ then Zedekiah the king sent, and fetched him: and the king asked him secretly in his house, and said, Is there any word from Jehovah? And Jeremiah said, There is. He said also, Thou shalt be delivered into the hand of the king of Babylon. ¹⁸ Moreover Jeremiah said unto king Zedekiah, Wherein have I sinned against thee, or against thy servants, or against this people, that ye have put me in prison? ¹⁹ Where now are your prophets that prophesied unto you, saying, The king of Babylon shall not come against you, nor against this land? ²⁰ And now hear, I pray thee, O my lord the king: let my supplication, I pray thee, be presented before thee, that thou cause me not to return to the house of Jonathan the scribe, lest I die there. ²¹ Then Zedekiah the king commanded, and they committed Jeremiah into the court of the guard; and they gave him daily a loaf of bread out of the bakers' street, until all the bread in the city was spent. Thus Jeremiah remained in the court of the guard.

to the Chaldeans shall live, and his life shall be unto him for a prey, and he shall live. ³ Thus saith Jehovah, This city shall surely be given into the hand of the army of the king of Babylon, and he shall take it. ⁴ Then the princes said unto the king, Let this man, we pray thee, be put to death; forasmuch as he weakeneth the hands of the men of war that remain in this city, and the hands of all the people, in speaking such words unto them: for this man seeketh not the welfare of this people, but the hurt. ⁵ And Zedekiah the king said, Behold, he is in your hand; for the king is not he that can do anything against you. ⁶ Then took they Jeremiah, and cast him into the dungeon of Malchijah the king's son, that was in the court of the guard: and they let down Jeremiah with cords. And in the dungeon there was no water, but mire; and Jeremiah sank in the mire.

⁷ Now when Ebed-melech the Ethiopian, a eunuch, who was in the king's house, heard that they had put Jeremiah in the dungeon (the king then sitting in the gate of Benjamin), ⁸ Ebed-melech went forth out of the king's house, and spake to the king, saying, ⁹ My lord the king, these men have done evil in all that they have done to Jeremiah the prophet, whom they have cast into the dungeon; and he is like to die in the place where he is, because of the famine; for there is no more bread in the city. ¹⁰ Then the king commanded Ebed-melech the Ethiopian, saying, Take from hence thirty men with thee, and take up Jeremiah the prophet out of the dungeon, before he die. ¹¹ So Ebed-melech took the men with him, and went into the house of the king under the treasury, and took thence rags and worn-out garments, and let them down by cords into the dungeon to Jeremiah. ¹² And Ebed-melech the Ethiopian said unto Jeremiah, Put now these rags and worn-out garments under thine armholes under the cords. And Jeremiah did so. ¹³ So they drew up Jeremiah with the cords, and took him up out of the dungeon: and Jeremiah remained in the court of the guard.

¹⁴ Then Zedekiah the king sent, and took Jeremiah the prophet unto him into the third entry that is in the house of Jehovah: and the king said unto Jeremiah, I will ask thee a thing; hide nothing from me. ¹⁵ Then Jeremiah said unto Zedekiah, If I declare it unto thee, wilt thou not surely put me to death? and if I give thee counsel, thou wilt not hearken unto me. ¹⁶ So Zedekiah the king sware secretly unto Jeremiah, saying, As Jehovah liveth, that made us this soul, I will not put thee to death, neither will I give thee into the hand of these men that seek thy life.

¹⁷ Then said Jeremiah unto Zedekiah, Thus saith Jehovah, the God of hosts, the God of Israel: If thou wilt go forth unto the king of Babylon's princes, then thy soul shall live, and this city shall not be burned with fire; and thou shalt live, and thy house. ¹⁸ But if thou wilt not go forth to the king of Babylon's princes, then shall this city be given into the hand of the Chaldeans, and they shall burn it with fire, and thou shalt not escape out of their hand. ¹⁹ And Zedekiah the king said unto Jeremiah, I am afraid of the Jews that are fallen away to the Chaldeans, lest they deliver me into their hand, and they mock me. ²⁰ But Jeremiah said, They shall not deliver thee. Obey, I beseech thee, the voice of Jehovah, in that which I speak unto thee: so it shall be well with thee, and thy soul shall live. ²¹ But if thou refuse to go forth, this is the word that Jehovah hath shown me: ²² Behold, all the women that are left in the king of Judah's house shall be brought forth to the king of Babylon's princes, and those women shall say, Thy familiar friends have set thee on, and have prevailed over thee: now that thy feet are sunk in the mire, they are turned away back. ²³ And they shall bring out all thy wives and thy children to the Chaldeans; and thou shalt not escape out of their hand, but shalt be taken by the hand of the king of Babylon: and thou shalt cause this city to be burned with fire.

²⁴ Then said Zedekiah unto Jeremiah, Let no man know of these words, and thou shalt not die. ²⁵ But if the princes hear that I have talked with thee, and they come unto thee, and say unto thee, Declare unto us now what thou hast said unto the king; hide it not from us, and we will not put thee to death; also what the king said unto thee: ²⁶ then thou shalt say unto them, I presented my supplication before the king, that he would not cause me to return to Jonathan's house, to die there. ²⁷ Then came all the princes unto Jeremiah, and asked him; and he told them according to all these words that the king had commanded. So they left off speaking with him; for the matter was not perceived. ²⁸ So Jeremiah abode in the court of the guard until the day that Jerusalem was taken.

And it came to pass when Jerusalem was taken

⁴ And it came to pass that, when Zedekiah the king of Judah and all the men of war saw them, then they fled, and went forth out of the city by night, by the way of the king's garden, through the gate betwixt the two walls; and he went out toward the Arabah. ⁵ But the army of the Chaldeans pursued after them, and overtook Zedekiah in the plains of Jericho: and when they had taken him, they brought him up to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon to Riblah in the land of Hamath; and he gave judgment upon him. ⁶ Then the king of Babylon slew the sons of Zedekiah in Riblah before his eyes: also the king of Babylon slew all the nobles of Judah. ⁷ Moreover he put out Zedekiah's eyes, and bound him in fetters, to carry him to Babylon. ⁸ And the Chaldeans burned the king's house, and the houses of the people, with fire, and brake down the walls of Jerusalem. ⁹ Then Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard carried away captive into Babylon the residue of the people that remained in the city, the deserters also that fell away to him, and the residue of the people that remained. ¹⁰ But Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard left of the poor of the people, that had nothing, in the land of Judah, and gave them vineyards and fields at the same time.

¹⁵ Now the word of Jehovah came unto Jeremiah, while he was shut up in the court of the guard, saying, ¹⁶ Go, and speak to Ebed-melech the Ethiopian, saying, Thus saith Jehovah of hosts, the God of Israel: Behold, I will bring my words upon this city for evil, and not for good; and they shall be accomplished before thee in that day. ¹⁷ But I will deliver thee in that day, saith Jehovah; and thou shalt not be given into the hand of the men of whom thou art afraid. ¹⁸ For I will surely save thee, and thou shalt not fall by the sword, but thy life shall be for a prey unto thee; because thou hast put thy trust in me, saith Jehovah.

¹ The word which came to Jeremiah from Jehovah, after that Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard had let him go from Ramah, when he had taken him being bound in chains among all the captives of Jerusalem and Judah, that were carried away captive unto Babylon. ² And the captain of the guard took Jeremiah, and said unto him, Jehovah thy God pronounced this evil upon this place; ³ and Jehovah hath brought it, and done according as he spake: because ye have sinned against Jehovah, and have not obeyed his voice, therefore this thing is come upon you. ⁴ And now, behold, I loose thee this day from the chains which are upon thy hand. If it seem good unto thee to come with me into Babylon, come, and I will look well unto thee; but if it seem ill unto thee to come with me into Babylon, forbear: behold, all the land is before thee; whither it seemeth good and right unto thee to go, thither go. ⁵ Now while he was not yet gone back, Go back then, said he, to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, whom the king of Babylon hath made governor over the cities of Judah, and dwell with him among the people; or go wheresoever it seemeth right unto thee to go. So the captain of the guard gave him victuals and a present, and let him go. ⁶ Then went Jeremiah unto Gedaliah the son of Ahikam to Mizpah, and dwelt with him among the people that were left in the land.

⁷ Now when all the captains of the forces that were in the fields, even they and their men, heard that the king of Babylon had made Gedaliah the son of Ahikam governor in the land, and had committed unto him men, and women, and children, and of the poorest of the land, of them that were not carried away captive to Babylon; ⁸ then they came to Gedaliah to Mizpah, to wit, Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and Johanan and Jonathan the sons of Kareah, and Seraiah the son of Tanhumeth, and the sons of Ephai the Netophathite, and Jezaniah the son of the Maacathite, they and their men. ⁹ And Gedaliah the son of Ahikam the son of Shaphan sware unto them and to their men, saying, Fear not to serve the Chaldeans: dwell in the land, and serve the king of Babylon, and it shall be well with you. ¹⁰ As for me, behold, I will dwell at Mizpah, to stand before the Chaldeans that shall come unto us: but ye, gather ye wine and summer fruits and oil, and put them in your vessels, and dwell in your cities that ye have taken. ¹¹ Likewise when all the Jews that were in Moab, and among the children of Ammon, and in Edom, and that were in all the countries, heard that the king of Babylon had left a remnant of Judah, and that he had set over them Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan; ¹² then all the Jews returned out of all places whither they were driven, and came to the land of Judah, to Gedaliah, unto Mizpah, and gathered wine and summer fruits very much.

¹³ Moreover Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces that were in the fields, came to Gedaliah to Mizpah, ¹⁴ and said unto him, Dost thou know that Baalis the king of the children of Ammon hath sent Ishmael the son of Nethaniah to take thy life? But Gedaliah the son of Ahikam believed them not. ¹⁵ Then Johanan the son of Kareah spake to Gedaliah in Mizpah secretly, saying, Let me go, I pray thee, and I will slay Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and no man shall know it: wherefore should he take thy life, that all the Jews that are gathered unto thee should be scattered, and the remnant of Judah perish? ¹⁶ But Gedaliah the son of Ahikam said unto Johanan the son of Kareah, Thou shalt not do this thing; for thou speakest falsely of Ishmael.

eat bread together in Mizpah. ² Then arose Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and the ten men that were with him, and smote Gedaliah the son of Ahikam the son of Shaphan with the sword, and slew him, whom the king of Babylon had made governor over the land. ³ Ishmael also slew all the Jews that were with him, to wit, with Gedaliah, at Mizpah, and the Chaldeans that were found there, the men of war.

⁴ And it came to pass the second day after he had slain Gedaliah, and no man knew it, ⁵ that there came men from Shechem, from Shiloh, and from Samaria, even fourscore men, having their beards shaven and their clothes rent, and having cut themselves, with meal offerings and frankincense in their hand, to bring them to the house of Jehovah. ⁶ And Ishmael the son of Nethaniah went forth from Mizpah to meet them, weeping all along as he went: and it came to pass, as he met them, he said unto them, Come to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam. ⁷ And it was so, when they came into the midst of the city, that Ishmael the son of Nethaniah slew them, and cast them into the midst of the pit, he, and the men that were with him. ⁸ But ten men were found among them that said unto Ishmael, Slay us not; for we have stores hidden in the field, of wheat, and of barley, and of oil, and of honey. So he forbore, and slew them not among their brethren. ⁹ Now the pit wherein Ishmael cast all the dead bodies of the men whom he had slain, by the side of Gedaliah (the same was that which Asa the king had made for fear of Baasha king of Israel), Ishmael the son of Nethaniah filled it with them that were slain. ¹⁰ Then Ishmael carried away captive all the residue of the people that were in Mizpah, even the king's daughters, and all the people that remained in Mizpah, whom Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard had committed to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam; Ishmael the son of Nethaniah carried them away captive, and departed to go over to the children of Ammon.

¹¹ But when Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces that were with him, heard of all the evil that Ishmael the son of Nethaniah had done, ¹² then they took all the men, and went to fight with Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and found him by the great waters that are in Gibeon. ¹³ Now it came to pass that, when all the people that were with Ishmael saw Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces that were with him, then they were glad. ¹⁴ So all the people that Ishmael had carried away captive from Mizpah turned about and came back, and went unto Johanan the son of Kareah. ¹⁵ But Ishmael the son of Nethaniah escaped from Johanan with eight men, and went to the children of Ammon. ¹⁶ Then took Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces that were with him, all the remnant of the people whom he had recovered from Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, from Mizpah, after that he had slain Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, to wit, the men of war, and the women, and the children, and the eunuchs, whom he had brought back from Gibeon. ¹⁷ And they departed, and dwelt in Geruth Chimham, which is by Beth-lehem, to go to enter into Egypt, ¹⁸ because of the Chaldeans; for they were afraid of them, because Ishmael the son of Nethaniah had slain Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, whom the king of Babylon made governor over the land.

¹ Then all the captains of the forces, and Johanan the son of Kareah, and Jezaniah the son of Hoshaiah, and all the people from the least even unto the greatest, came near, ² and said unto Jeremiah the prophet, Let, we pray thee, our supplication be presented before thee, and pray for us unto Jehovah thy God, even for all this remnant (for we are left but a few of many, as thine eyes do behold us), ³ that Jehovah thy God may show us the way wherein we should walk, and the thing that we should do. ⁴ Then Jeremiah the prophet said unto them, I have heard you; behold, I will pray unto Jehovah your God according to your words; and it shall come to pass that whatsoever thing Jehovah shall answer you, I will declare it unto you; I will keep nothing back from you. ⁵ Then they said to Jeremiah, Jehovah be a true and faithful witness among us, if we do not according to all the word wherewith Jehovah thy God shall send thee to us. ⁶ Whether it be good, or whether it be evil, we will obey the voice of Jehovah our God, to whom we send thee; that it may be well with us, when we obey the voice of Jehovah our God.

⁷ And it came to pass after ten days, that the word of Jehovah came unto Jeremiah. ⁸ Then called he Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces that were with him, and all the people from the least even to the greatest, ⁹ and said unto them, Thus saith Jehovah, the God of Israel, unto whom ye sent me to present your supplication before him: ¹⁰ If ye will still abide in this land, then will I build you, and not pull you down, and I will plant you, and not pluck you up; for I repent me of the evil that I have done unto you. ¹¹ Be not afraid of the king of Babylon, of whom ye are afraid; be not afraid of him, saith Jehovah: for I am with you to save you, and to deliver you from his hand. ¹² And I will grant you mercy, that he may have mercy upon you, and cause you to return to your own land. ¹³ But if ye say, We will not dwell in this land; so that ye obey not the voice of Jehovah your God, ¹⁴ saying, No; but we will go into the land of Egypt, where we shall see no war, nor hear the sound of the trumpet, nor have hunger of bread; and there will we dwell: ¹⁵ now therefore hear ye the word of Jehovah, O remnant of Judah: Thus saith Jehovah of hosts, the God of Israel, If ye indeed set your faces to enter into Egypt, and go to sojourn there; ¹⁶ then it shall come to pass, that the sword, which ye fear, shall overtake you there in the land of Egypt; and the famine, whereof ye are afraid, shall follow hard after you there in Egypt; and there ye shall die. ¹⁷ So shall it be with all the men that set their faces to go into Egypt to sojourn there: they shall die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence; and none of them shall remain or escape from the evil that I will bring upon them.

¹⁸ For thus saith Jehovah of hosts, the God of Israel: As mine anger and my wrath hath been poured forth upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, so shall my wrath be poured forth upon you, when ye shall enter into Egypt; and ye shall be an execration, and an astonishment, and a curse, and a reproach; and ye shall see this place no more. ¹⁹ Jehovah hath spoken concerning you, O remnant of Judah, Go ye not into Egypt: know certainly that I have testified unto you this day. ²⁰ For ye have dealt deceitfully against your own souls; for ye sent me unto Jehovah your God, saying, Pray for us unto Jehovah our God; and according unto all that Jehovah our God shall say, so declare unto us, and we will do it. ²¹ And I have this day declared it to you; but ye have not obeyed the voice of Jehovah your God in anything for which he hath sent me unto you. ²² Now therefore know certainly that ye shall die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence, in the place whither ye desire to go to sojourn there.

¹ And it came to pass that, when Jeremiah had made an end of speaking unto all the people all the words of Jehovah their God, wherewith Jehovah their God had sent him to them, even all these words, ² then spake Azariah the son of Hoshai, and Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the proud men, saying unto Jeremiah, Thou speakest falsely: Jehovah our God hath not sent thee to say, Ye shall not go into Egypt to sojourn there; ³ but Baruch the son of Neriah setteth thee on against us, to deliver us into the hand of the Chaldeans, that they may put us to death, and carry us away captive to Babylon. ⁴ So Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces, and all the people, obeyed not the voice of Jehovah, to dwell in the land of Judah. ⁵ But Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces, took all the remnant of Judah, that were returned from all the nations whither they had been driven, to sojourn in the land of Judah; ⁶ the men, and the women, and the children, and the king's daughters, and every person that Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard had left with Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan; and Jeremiah the prophet, and Baruch the son of Neriah. ⁷ And they came into the land of Egypt; for they obeyed not the voice of Jehovah: and they came unto Tahpanhes.

¹ The word that came to Jeremiah concerning all the Jews that dwelt in the land of Egypt, that dwelt at Migdol, and at Tahpanhes, and at Memphis, and in the country of Pathros, saying, ² Thus saith Jehovah of hosts, the God of Israel: Ye have seen all the evil that I have brought upon Jerusalem, and upon all the cities of Judah; and, behold, this day they are a desolation, and no man dwelleth therein, ³ because of their wickedness which they have committed to provoke me to anger, in that they went to burn incense, and to serve other gods, that they knew not, neither they, nor ye, nor your fathers. ⁴ Howbeit I sent unto you all my servants the prophets, rising up early and sending them, saying, Oh, do not this abominable thing that I hate. ⁵ But they hearkened not, nor inclined their ear to turn from their wickedness, to burn no incense unto other gods. ⁶ Wherefore my wrath and mine anger was poured forth, and was kindled in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem; and they are wasted and desolate, as it is this day. ⁷ Therefore now thus saith Jehovah, the God of hosts, the God of Israel: Wherefore commit ye this great evil against your own souls, to cut off from you man and woman, infant and suckling, out of the midst of Judah, to leave you none remaining; ⁸ in that ye provoke me unto anger with the works of your hands, burning incense unto other gods in the land of Egypt, whither ye are gone to sojourn; that ye may be cut off, and that ye may be a curse and a reproach among all the nations of the earth? ⁹ Have ye forgotten the wickedness of your fathers, and the wickedness of the kings of Judah, and the wickedness of their wives, and your own wickedness, and the wickedness of your wives, which they committed in the land of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem? ¹⁰ They are not humbled even unto this day, neither have they feared, nor walked in my law, nor in my statutes, that I set before you and before your fathers.

¹¹ Therefore thus saith Jehovah of hosts, the God of Israel: Behold, I will set my face against you for evil, even to cut off all Judah. ¹² And I will take the remnant of Judah, that have set their faces to go into the land of Egypt to sojourn there, and they shall all be consumed; in the land of Egypt shall they fall; they shall be consumed by the sword and by the famine; they shall die, from the least even unto the greatest, by the sword and by the famine; and they shall be an execration, and an astonishment, and a curse, and a reproach. ¹³ For I will punish them that dwell in the land of Egypt, as I have punished Jerusalem, by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence; ¹⁴ so that none of the remnant of Judah, that are gone into the land of Egypt to sojourn there, shall escape or be left, to return into the land of Judah, to which they have a desire to return to dwell there: for none shall return save such as shall escape.

¹⁵ Then all the men who knew that their wives burned incense unto other gods, and all the women that stood by, a great assembly, even all the people that dwelt in the land of Egypt, in Pathros, answered Jeremiah, saying, ¹⁶ As for the word that thou hast spoken unto us in the name of Jehovah, we will not hearken unto thee. ¹⁷ But we will certainly perform every word that is gone forth out of our mouth, to burn incense unto the queen of heaven, and to pour out drink offerings unto her, as we have done, we and our fathers, our kings and our princes, in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem; for then had we plenty of victuals, and were well, and saw no evil. ¹⁸ But since we left off burning incense to the queen of heaven, and pouring out drink offerings unto her, we have wanted all things, and have been consumed by the sword and by the famine. ¹⁹ And when we burned incense to the queen of heaven, and poured out drink offerings unto her, did we make her cakes to worship her, and pour out drink offerings unto her, without our husbands?

²⁰ Then Jeremiah said unto all the people, to the men, and to the women, even to all the people that had given him that answer, saying, ²¹ The incense that ye burned in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem, ye and your fathers, your kings and your princes, and the people of the land, did not Jehovah remember them, and came it not into his mind? ²² so that Jehovah could not longer bear, because of the evil of your doings, and because of the abominations which ye have committed; therefore is your land become a desolation, and an astonishment, and a curse, without inhabitant, as it is this day. ²³ Because ye have burned incense, and because ye have sinned against Jehovah, and have not obeyed the voice of Jehovah, nor walked in his law, nor in his statutes, nor in his testimonies; therefore this evil is happened unto you, as it is this day.

²⁴ Moreover Jeremiah said unto all the people, and to all the women, Hear the word of Jehovah, all Judah that are in the land of Egypt: ²⁵ Thus saith Jehovah of hosts, the God of Israel, saying, Ye and your wives have both spoken with your mouths, and with your hands have fulfilled it, saying, We will surely perform our vows that we have vowed, to burn incense to the queen of heaven, and to pour out drink offerings unto her: establish then your vows, and perform your vows. ²⁶ Therefore hear ye the word of Jehovah, all Judah that dwell in the land of Egypt: Behold, I have sworn by my great name, saith Jehovah, that my name shall no more be named in the mouth of any man of Judah in all the land of Egypt, saying, As the Lord Jehovah liveth. ²⁷ Behold, I watch over them for evil, and not for good; and all the men of Judah that are in the land of Egypt shall be consumed by the sword and by the famine, until there be an end of them. ²⁸ And they that escape the sword shall return out of the land of Egypt into the land of Judah, few in number; and all the remnant of Judah, that are gone into the land of Egypt to sojourn there, shall know whose word shall stand, mine, or theirs. ²⁹ And this shall be the sign unto you, saith Jehovah, that I will punish you in this place, that ye may know that my words shall surely stand against you for evil: ³⁰ Thus saith Jehovah, Behold, I will give Pharaoh Hophra king of Egypt into the hand of his enemies, and into the hand of them that seek his life; as I gave Zedekiah king of Judah into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, who was his enemy, and sought his life.

¹ The word that Jeremiah the prophet spake unto Baruch the son of Neriah, when he wrote these words in a book at the mouth of Jeremiah, in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, saying, ² Thus saith Jehovah, the God of Israel, unto thee, O Baruch: ³ Thou didst say, Woe is me now! for Jehovah hath added sorrow to my pain; I am weary with my groaning, and I find no rest. ⁴ Thus shalt thou say unto him, Thus saith Jehovah: Behold, that which I have built will I break down, and that which I have planted I will pluck up; and this in the whole land. ⁵ And seekest thou great things for thyself? seek them not; for, behold, I will bring evil upon all flesh, saith Jehovah; but thy life will I give unto thee for a prey in all places whither thou goest.

46

they said, Arise, and let us go again to our own people, and to the land of our nativity, from the oppressing sword. ¹⁷ They cried there, Pharaoh king of Egypt is but a noise; he hath let the appointed time pass by. ¹⁸ As I live, saith the King, whose name is Jehovah of hosts, surely like Tabor among the mountains, and like Carmel by the sea, so shall he come. ¹⁹ O thou daughter that dwellest in Egypt, furnish thyself to go into captivity; for Memphis shall become a desolation, and shall be burnt up, without inhabitant. ²⁰ Egypt is a very fair heifer; but destruction out of the north is come, it is come. ²¹ Also her hired men in the midst of her are like calves of the stall; for they also are turned back, they are fled away together; they did not stand: for the day of their calamity is come upon them, the time of their visitation. ²² The sound thereof shall go like the serpent; for they shall march with an army, and come against her with axes, as hewers of wood. ²³ They shall cut down her forest, saith Jehovah, though it cannot be searched; because they are more than the locusts, and are innumerable. ²⁴ The daughter of Egypt shall be put to shame; she shall be delivered into the hand of the people of the north. ²⁵ Jehovah of hosts, the God of Israel, saith: Behold, I will punish Amon of No, and Pharaoh, and Egypt, with her gods, and her kings; even Pharaoh, and them that trust in him: ²⁶ and I will deliver them into the hand of those that seek their lives, and into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and into the hand of his servants; and afterward it shall be inhabited, as in the days of old, saith Jehovah.

²⁷ But fear not thou, O Jacob my servant, neither be dismayed, O Israel: for, lo, I will save thee from afar, and thy seed from the land of their captivity; and Jacob shall return, and shall be quiet and at ease, and none shall make him afraid. ²⁸ Fear not thou, O Jacob my servant, saith Jehovah; for I am with thee: for I will make a full end of all the nations whither I have driven thee; but I will not make a full end of thee, but I will correct thee in measure, and will in no wise leave thee unpunished.

¹ The word of Jehovah that came to Jeremiah the prophet concerning the Philistines, before that Pharaoh smote Gaza.

² Thus saith Jehovah: Behold, waters rise up out of the north, and shall become an overflowing stream, and shall overflow the land and all that is therein, the city and them that dwell therein; and the men shall cry, and all the inhabitants of the land shall wail. ³ At the noise of the stamping of the hoofs of his strong ones, at the rushing of his chariots, at the rumbling of his wheels, the fathers look not back to their children for feebleness of hands; ⁴ because of the day that cometh to destroy all the Philistines, to cut off from Tyre and Sidon every helper that remaineth: for Jehovah will destroy the Philistines, the remnant of the isle of Caphtor. ⁵ Baldness is come upon Gaza; Ashkelon is brought to nought, the remnant of their valley: how long wilt thou cut thyself? ⁶ O thou sword of Jehovah, how long will it be ere thou be quiet? put up thyself into thy scabbard; rest, and be still. ⁷ How canst thou be quiet, seeing Jehovah hath given thee a charge? Against Ashkelon, and against the seashore, there hath he appointed it.

48

brought to silence; the sword shall pursue thee. ³ The sound of a cry from Horonaim, desolation and great destruction! ⁴ Moab is destroyed; her little ones have caused a cry to be heard. ⁵ For by the ascent of Luhith with continual weeping shall they go up; for at the descent of Horonaim they have heard the distress of the cry of destruction. ⁶ Flee, save your lives, and be like the heath in the wilderness. ⁷ For, because thou hast trusted in thy works and in thy treasures, thou also shalt be taken: and Chemosh shall go forth into captivity, his priests and his princes together. ⁸ And the destroyer shall come upon every city, and no city shall escape; the valley also shall perish, and the plain shall be destroyed; as Jehovah hath spoken. ⁹ Give wings unto Moab, that she may fly and get her away: and her cities shall become a desolation, without any to dwell therein. ¹⁰ Cursed be he that doeth the work of Jehovah negligently; and cursed be he that keepeth back his sword from blood.

¹¹ Moab hath been at ease from his youth, and he hath settled on his lees, and hath not been emptied from vessel to vessel, neither hath he gone into captivity: therefore his taste remaineth in him, and his scent is not changed. ¹² Therefore, behold, the days come, saith Jehovah, that I will send unto him them that pour off, and they shall pour him off; and they shall empty his vessels, and break their bottles in pieces. ¹³ And Moab shall be ashamed of Chemosh, as the house of Israel was ashamed of Beth-el their confidence. ¹⁴ How say ye, We are mighty men, and valiant men for the war? ¹⁵ Moab is laid waste, and they are gone up into his cities, and his chosen young men are gone down to the slaughter, saith the King, whose name is Jehovah of hosts. ¹⁶ The calamity of Moab is near to come, and his affliction hasteth fast. ¹⁷ All ye that are round about him, bemoan him, and all ye that know his name; say, How is the strong staff broken, the beautiful rod! ¹⁸ O thou daughter that dwellest in Dibon, come down from thy glory, and sit in thirst; for the destroyer of Moab is come up against thee, he hath destroyed thy strongholds. ¹⁹ O inhabitant of Aroer, stand by the way, and watch: ask him that fleeth, and her that escapeth; say, What hath been done? ²⁰ Moab is put to shame; for it is broken down: wail and cry; tell ye it by the Arnon, that Moab is laid waste. ²¹ And judgment is come upon the plain country, upon Holon, and upon Jahzah, and upon Mephaath, ²² and upon Dibon, and upon Nebo, and upon Beth-diblathaim, ²³ and upon Kiriathaim, and upon Beth-gamul, and upon Beth-meon, ²⁴ and upon Kerioth, and upon Bozrah, and upon all the cities of the land of Moab, far or near. ²⁵ The horn of Moab is cut off, and his arm is broken, saith Jehovah.

²⁶ Make ye him drunken; for he magnified himself against Jehovah: and Moab shall wallow in his vomit, and he also shall be in derision. ²⁷ For was not Israel a derision unto thee? was he found among thieves? for as often as thou speakest of him, thou waggest the head. ²⁸ O ye inhabitants of Moab, leave the cities, and dwell in the rock; and be like the dove that maketh her nest over the mouth of the abyss. ²⁹ We have heard of the pride of Moab, that he is very proud; his loftiness, and his pride, and his arrogancy, and the haughtiness of his heart. ³⁰ I know his wrath, saith Jehovah, that it is nought; his boastings have wrought nothing. ³¹ Therefore will I wail for Moab; yea, I will cry out for all Moab: for the men of Kir-heres shall they mourn. ³² With more than the weeping of Jazer will I weep for thee, O vine of Sibmah: thy branches passed over the sea, they reached even to the sea of Jazer: upon thy summer fruits and upon thy vintage the destroyer is fallen. ³³ And gladness and joy is taken away from the fruitful field and from the land of Moab; and I have caused wine to cease from the winepresses: none shall tread with shouting; the shouting shall be no shouting. ³⁴ From the cry of Heshbon even unto Elealeh, even unto Jahaz have they uttered their voice, from Zoar even unto Horonaim, to Eglath-shelishiyah: for the waters of Nimrim also shall become desolate. ³⁵ Moreover I will cause to cease in Moab, saith Jehovah, him that offereth in the high place, and him that burneth incense to his gods.

³⁶ Therefore my heart soundeth for Moab like pipes, and my heart soundeth like pipes for the men of Kir-heres: therefore the abundance that he hath gotten is perished. ³⁷ For every head is bald, and every beard clipped: upon all the hands are cuttings, and upon the loins sackcloth. ³⁸ On all the housetops of Moab and in the streets thereof there is lamentation everywhere; for I have broken Moab like a vessel wherein none delighteth, saith Jehovah. ³⁹ How is it broken down! how do they wail! how hath Moab turned the back with shame! so shall Moab become a derision and a terror to all that are round about him. ⁴⁰ For thus saith Jehovah: Behold, he shall fly as an eagle, and shall spread out his wings against Moab. ⁴¹ Kerioth is taken, and the strongholds are seized, and the heart of the mighty men of Moab at that day shall be as the heart of a woman in her pangs. ⁴² And Moab shall be destroyed from being a people, because he hath magnified himself against Jehovah. ⁴³ Fear, and the pit, and the snare, are upon thee, O inhabitant of Moab, saith Jehovah. ⁴⁴ He that fleeth from the fear shall fall into the pit; and he that getteth up out of the pit shall be taken in the snare: for I will bring upon him, even upon Moab, the year of their visitation, saith Jehovah.

¹ Of the children of Ammon. Thus saith Jehovah: Hath Israel no sons? hath he no heir? why then doth Malcam possess Gad, and his people dwell in the cities thereof? ² Therefore, behold, the days come, saith Jehovah, that I will cause an alarm of war to be heard against Rabbah of the children of Ammon; and it shall become a desolate heap, and her daughters shall be burned with fire: then shall Israel possess them that did possess him, saith Jehovah. ³ Wail, O Heshbon, for Ai is laid waste; cry, ye daughters of Rabbah, gird you with sackcloth: lament, and run to and fro among the fences; for Malcam shall go into captivity, his priests and his princes together. ⁴ Wherefore gloriest thou in the valleys, thy flowing valley, O backsliding daughter? that trusted in her treasures, saying, Who shall come unto me? ⁵ Behold, I will bring a fear upon thee, saith the Lord, Jehovah of hosts, from all that are round about thee; and ye shall be driven out every man right forth, and there shall be none to gather together the fugitives. ⁶ But afterward I will bring back the captivity of the children of Ammon, saith Jehovah.

⁷ Of Edom. Thus saith Jehovah of hosts: Is wisdom no more in Teman? is counsel perished from the prudent? is their wisdom vanished? ⁸ Flee ye, turn back, dwell in the depths, O inhabitants of Dedan; for I will bring the calamity of Esau upon him, the time that I shall visit him. ⁹ If grape-gatherers came to thee, would they not leave some gleaning grapes? if thieves by night, would they not destroy till they had enough? ¹⁰ But I have made Esau bare, I have uncovered his secret places, and he shall not be able to hide himself: his seed is destroyed, and his brethren, and his neighbors; and he is not. ¹¹ Leave thy fatherless children, I will preserve them alive; and let thy widows trust in me. ¹² For thus saith Jehovah: Behold, they to whom it pertained not to drink of the cup shall assuredly drink; and art thou he that shall altogether go unpunished? thou shalt not go unpunished, but thou shalt surely drink. ¹³ For I have sworn by myself, saith Jehovah, that Bozrah shall become an astonishment, a reproach, a waste, and a curse; and all the cities thereof shall be perpetual wastes.

¹⁴ I have heard tidings from Jehovah, and an ambassador is sent among the nations, saying, Gather yourselves together, and come against her, and rise up to the battle. ¹⁵ For, behold, I have made thee small among the nations, and despised among men. ¹⁶ As for thy terribleness, the pride of thy heart hath deceived thee, O thou that dwellest in the clefts of the rock, that holdest the height of the hill: though thou shouldest make thy nest as high as the eagle, I will bring thee down from thence, saith Jehovah. ¹⁷ And Edom shall become an astonishment: everyone that passeth by it shall be astonished, and shall hiss at all the plagues thereof. ¹⁸ As in the overthrow of Sodom and Gomorrah and the neighbor cities thereof, saith Jehovah, no man shall dwell there, neither shall any son of man sojourn therein. ¹⁹ Behold, he shall come up like a lion from the pride of the Jordan against the strong habitation: for I will suddenly make them run away from it; and whoso is chosen, him will I appoint over it: for who is like me? and who will appoint me a time? and who is the shepherd that will stand before me?

²³ Of Damascus. Hamath is confounded, and Arpad; for they have heard evil tidings, they are melted away: there is sorrow on the sea; it cannot be quiet. ²⁴ Damascus is waxed feeble, she turneth herself to flee, and trembling hath seized on her: anguish and sorrows have taken hold of her, as of a woman in travail. ²⁵ How is the city of praise not forsaken, the city of my joy? ²⁶ Therefore her young men shall fall in her streets, and all the men of war shall be brought to silence in that day, saith Jehovah of hosts. ²⁷ And I will kindle a fire in the wall of Damascus, and it shall devour the palaces of Ben-hadad.

²⁸ Of Kedar, and of the kingdoms of Hazor, which Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon smote.

Thus saith Jehovah: Arise ye, go up to Kedar, and destroy the children of the east. ²⁹ Their tents and their flocks shall they take; they shall carry away for themselves their curtains, and all their vessels, and their camels; and they shall cry unto them, Terror on every side! ³⁰ Flee ye, wander far off, dwell in the depths, O ye inhabitants of Hazor, saith Jehovah; for Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon hath taken counsel against you, and hath conceived a purpose against you. ³¹ Arise, get you up unto a nation that is at ease, that dwelleth without care, saith Jehovah; that have neither gates nor bars, that dwell alone. ³² And their camels shall be a booty, and the multitude of their cattle a spoil: and I will scatter unto all winds them that have the corners of their hair cut off; and I will bring their calamity from every side of them, saith Jehovah.

³³ And Hazor shall be a dwelling place of jackals, a desolation forever: no man shall dwell there, neither shall any son of man sojourn therein.

⁶ My people have been lost sheep: their shepherds have caused them to go astray; they have turned them away on the mountains; they have gone from mountain to hill; they have forgotten their resting place. ⁷ All that found them have devoured them; and their adversaries said, We are not guilty, because they have sinned against Jehovah, the habitation of righteousness, even Jehovah, the hope of their fathers. ⁸ Flee out of the midst of Babylon, and go forth out of the land of the Chaldeans, and be as the he-goats before the flocks. ⁹ For, lo, I will stir up and cause to come up against Babylon a company of great nations from the north country; and they shall set themselves in array against her; from thence she shall be taken: their arrows shall be as of an expert mighty man; none shall return in vain. ¹⁰ And Chaldea shall be a prey: all that prey upon her shall be satisfied, saith Jehovah.

¹¹ Because ye are glad, because ye rejoice, O ye that plunder my heritage, because ye are wanton as a heifer that treadeth out the grain, and neigh as strong horses; ¹² your mother shall be utterly put to shame; she that bare you shall be confounded: behold, she shall be the hindermost of the nations, a wilderness, a dry land, and a desert. ¹³ Because of the wrath of Jehovah she shall not be inhabited, but she shall be wholly desolate: everyone that goeth by Babylon shall be astonished, and hiss at all her plagues. ¹⁴ Set yourselves in array against Babylon round about, all ye that bend the bow; shoot at her, spare no arrows: for she hath sinned against Jehovah. ¹⁵ Shout against her round about: she hath submitted herself; her bulwarks are fallen, her walls are thrown down; for it is the vengeance of Jehovah: take vengeance upon her; as she hath done, do unto her. ¹⁶ Cut off the sower from Babylon, and him that handleth the sickle in the time of harvest: for fear of the oppressing sword they shall turn every one to his people, and they shall flee every one to his own land.

³³ Thus saith Jehovah of hosts: The children of Israel and the children of Judah are oppressed together; and all that took them captive hold them fast; they refuse to let them go. ³⁴ Their Redeemer is strong; Jehovah of hosts is his name: he will thoroughly plead their cause, that he may give rest to the earth, and disquiet the inhabitants of Babylon. ³⁵ A sword is upon the Chaldeans, saith Jehovah, and upon the inhabitants of Babylon, and upon her princes, and upon her wise men. ³⁶ A sword is upon the boasters, and they shall become fools; a sword is upon her mighty men, and they shall be dismayed. ³⁷ A sword is upon their horses, and upon their chariots, and upon all the mingled people that are in the midst of her; and they shall become as women: a sword is upon her treasures, and they shall be robbed. ³⁸ A drought is upon her waters, and they shall be dried up; for it is a land of graven images, and they are mad over idols. ³⁹ Therefore the wild beasts of the desert with the wolves shall dwell there, and the ostriches shall dwell therein: and it shall be no more inhabited forever; neither shall it be dwelt in from generation to generation. ⁴⁰ As when God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah and the neighbor cities thereof, saith Jehovah, so shall no man dwell there, neither shall any son of man sojourn therein.

⁴¹ Behold, a people cometh from the north; and a great nation and many kings shall be stirred up from the uttermost parts of the earth. ⁴² They lay hold on bow and spear; they are cruel, and have no mercy; their voice roareth like the sea; and they ride upon horses, every one set in array, as a man to the battle, against thee, O daughter of Babylon. ⁴³ The king of Babylon hath heard the tidings of them, and his hands wax feeble: anguish hath taken hold of him, and pangs as of a woman in travail. ⁴⁴ Behold, the enemy shall come up like a lion from the pride of the Jordan against the strong habitation: for I will suddenly make them run away from it; and whoso is chosen, him will I appoint over it: for who is like me? and who will appoint me a time? and who is the shepherd that can stand before me? ⁴⁵ Therefore hear ye the counsel of Jehovah, that he hath taken against Babylon; and his purposes, that he hath purposed against the land of the Chaldeans: Surely they shall drag them away, even the little ones of the flock; surely he shall make their habitation desolate over them. ⁴⁶ At the noise of the taking of Babylon the earth trembleth, and the cry is heard among the nations.

¹ Thus saith Jehovah: Behold, I will raise up against Babylon, and against them that dwell in Leb-kamai, a destroying wind. ² And I will send unto Babylon strangers, that shall winnow her; and they shall empty her land: for in the day of trouble they shall be against her round about. ³ Against him that bendeth let the archer bend his bow, and against him that lifteth himself up in his coat of mail: and spare ye not her young men; destroy ye utterly all her host. ⁴ And they shall fall down slain in the land of the Chaldeans, and thrust through in her streets.

⁵ For Israel is not forsaken, nor Judah, of his God, of Jehovah of hosts; though their land is full of guilt against the Holy One of Israel. ⁶ Flee out of the midst of Babylon, and save every man his life; be not cut off in her iniquity: for it is the time of Jehovah's vengeance; he will render unto her a recompense. ⁷ Babylon hath been a golden cup in Jehovah's hand, that made all the earth drunken: the nations have drunk of her wine; therefore the nations are mad. ⁸ Babylon is suddenly fallen and destroyed: wail for her; take balm for her pain, if so be she may be healed. ⁹ We would have healed Babylon, but she is not healed: forsake her, and let us go every one into his own country; for her judgment reacheth unto heaven, and is lifted up even to the skies. ¹⁰ Jehovah hath brought forth our righteousness: come, and let us declare in Zion the work of Jehovah our God.

¹⁵ He hath made the earth by his power, he hath established the world by his wisdom, and by his understanding hath he stretched out the heavens. ¹⁶ When he uttereth his voice, there is a tumult of waters in the heavens, and he causeth the vapors to ascend from the ends of the earth; he maketh lightnings for the rain, and bringeth forth the wind out of his treasures. ¹⁷ Every man is become brutish and is without knowledge; every goldsmith is put to shame by his image; for his molten image is falsehood, and there is no breath in them. ¹⁸ They are vanity, a work of delusion: in the time of their visitation they shall perish. ¹⁹ The portion of Jacob is not like these; for he is the former of all things; and Israel is the tribe of his inheritance: Jehovah of hosts is his name.

²⁰ Thou art my battle-axe and weapons of war: and with thee will I break in pieces the nations; and with thee will I destroy kingdoms; ²¹ and with thee will I break in pieces the horse and his rider; ²² and with thee will I break in pieces the chariot and him that rideth therein; and with thee will I break in pieces man and woman; and with thee will I break in pieces the old man and the youth; and with thee will I break in pieces the young man and the virgin; ²³ and with thee will I break in pieces the shepherd and his flock; and with thee will I break in pieces the husbandman and his yoke of oxen; and with thee will I break in pieces governors and deputies. ²⁴ And I will render unto Babylon and to all the inhabitants of Chaldea all their evil that they have done in Zion in your sight, saith Jehovah.

²⁵ Behold, I am against thee, O destroying mountain, saith Jehovah, which destroyest all the earth; and I will stretch out my hand upon thee, and roll thee down from the rocks, and will make thee a burnt mountain. ²⁶ And they shall not take of thee a stone for a corner, nor a stone for foundations; but thou shalt be desolate forever, saith Jehovah.

³³ For thus saith Jehovah of hosts, the God of Israel: The daughter of Babylon is like a threshing floor at the time when it is trodden; yet a little while, and the time of harvest shall come for her. ³⁴ Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon hath devoured me, he hath crushed me, he hath made me an empty vessel, he hath, like a monster, swallowed me up, he hath filled his maw with my delicacies; he hath cast me out. ³⁵ The violence done to me and to my flesh be upon Babylon, shall the inhabitant of Zion say; and, My blood be upon the inhabitants of Chaldea, shall Jerusalem say. ³⁶ Therefore thus saith Jehovah: Behold, I will plead thy cause, and take vengeance for thee; and I will dry up her sea, and make her fountain dry. ³⁷ And Babylon shall become heaps, a dwelling place for jackals, an astonishment, and a hissing, without inhabitant. ³⁸ They shall roar together like young lions; they shall growl as lions' whelps. ³⁹ When they are heated, I will make their feast, and I will make them drunken, that they may rejoice, and sleep a perpetual sleep, and not wake, saith Jehovah. ⁴⁰ I will bring them down like lambs to the slaughter, like rams with he-goats.

a dry land, and a desert, a land wherein no man dwelleth, neither doth any son of man pass thereby. ⁴⁴ And I will execute judgment upon Bel in Babylon, and I will bring forth out of his mouth that which he hath swallowed up; and the nations shall not flow anymore unto him: yea, the wall of Babylon shall fall.

⁴⁵ My people, go ye out of the midst of her, and save yourselves every man from the fierce anger of Jehovah. ⁴⁶ And let not your heart faint, neither fear ye for the tidings that shall be heard in the land; for tidings shall come one year, and after that in another year shall come tidings, and violence in the land, ruler against ruler. ⁴⁷ Therefore, behold, the days come, that I will execute judgment upon the graven images of Babylon; and her whole land shall be confounded; and all her slain shall fall in the midst of her. ⁴⁸ Then the heavens and the earth, and all that is therein, shall sing for joy over Babylon; for the destroyers shall come unto her from the north, saith Jehovah. ⁴⁹ As Babylon hath caused the slain of Israel to fall, so at Babylon shall fall the slain of all the land.

⁵⁰ Ye that have escaped the sword, go ye, stand not still; remember Jehovah from afar, and let Jerusalem come into your mind. ⁵¹ We are confounded, because we have heard reproach; confusion hath covered our faces: for strangers are come into the sanctuaries of Jehovah's house. ⁵² Wherefore, behold, the days come, saith Jehovah, that I will execute judgment upon her graven images; and through all her land the wounded shall groan. ⁵³ Though Babylon should mount up to heaven, and though she should fortify the height of her strength, yet from me shall destroyers come unto her, saith Jehovah.

⁵⁴ The sound of a cry from Babylon, and of great destruction from the land of the Chaldeans! ⁵⁵ For Jehovah layeth Babylon waste, and destroyeth out of her the great voice; and their waves roar like many waters; the noise of their voice is uttered: ⁵⁶ for the destroyer is come upon her, even upon Babylon, and her mighty men are taken, their bows are broken in pieces; for Jehovah is a God of recompenses, he will surely requite. ⁵⁷ And I will make drunk her princes and her wise men, her governors and her deputies, and her mighty men; and they shall sleep a perpetual sleep, and not wake, saith the King, whose name is Jehovah of hosts. ⁵⁸ Thus saith Jehovah of hosts: The broad walls of Babylon shall be utterly overthrown, and her high gates shall be burned with fire; and the peoples shall labor for vanity, and the nations for the fire; and they shall be weary.

⁵⁹ The word which Jeremiah the prophet commanded Seraiah the son of Neriah, the son of Mahseiah, when he went with Zedekiah the king of Judah to Babylon in the fourth year of his reign. Now Seraiah was chief chamberlain. ⁶⁰ And Jeremiah wrote in a book all the evil that should come upon Babylon, even all these words that are written concerning Babylon. ⁶¹ And Jeremiah said to Seraiah, When thou comest to Babylon, then see that thou read all these words, ⁶² and say, O Jehovah, thou hast spoken concerning this place, to cut it off, that none shall dwell therein, neither man nor beast, but that it shall be desolate forever. ⁶³ And it shall be, when thou hast made an end of reading this book, that thou shalt bind a stone to it, and cast it into the midst of the Euphrates: ⁶⁴ and thou shalt say, Thus shall Babylon sink, and shall not rise again because of the evil that I will bring upon her; and they shall be weary.

Thus far are the words of Jeremiah.

¹ Zedekiah was one and twenty years old when he began to reign; and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Hamutal the daughter of

Jeremiah of Libnah. ² And he did that which was evil in the sight of Jehovah, according to all that Jehoiakim had done. ³ For through the anger of Jehovah did it come to pass in Jerusalem and Judah, until he had cast them out from his presence.

And Zedekiah rebelled against the king of Babylon. ⁴ And it came to pass in the ninth year of his reign, in the tenth month, in the tenth day of the month, that Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon came, he and all his army, against Jerusalem, and encamped against it; and they built forts against it round about. ⁵ So the city was besieged unto the eleventh year of king Zedekiah. ⁶ In the fourth month, in the ninth day of the month, the famine was sore in the city, so that there was no bread for the people of the land. ⁷ Then a breach was made in the city, and all the men of war fled, and went forth out of the city by night by the way of the gate between the two walls, which was by the king's garden (now the Chaldeans were against the city round about); and they went toward the Arabah. ⁸ But the army of the Chaldeans pursued after the king, and overtook Zedekiah in the plains of Jericho; and all his army was scattered from him. ⁹ Then they took the king, and carried him up unto the king of Babylon to Riblah in the land of Hamath; and he gave judgment upon him. ¹⁰ And the king of Babylon slew the sons of Zedekiah before his eyes: he slew also all the princes of Judah in Riblah. ¹¹ And he put out the eyes of Zedekiah; and the king of Babylon bound him in fetters, and carried him to Babylon, and put him in prison till the day of his death.

¹² Now in the fifth month, in the tenth day of the month, which was the nineteenth year of king Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon, came Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard, who stood before the king of Babylon, into Jerusalem. ¹³ And he burned the house of Jehovah, and the king's house; and all the houses of Jerusalem, even every great house, burned he with fire. ¹⁴ And all the army of the Chaldeans, that were with the captain of the guard, brake down all the walls of Jerusalem round about. ¹⁵ Then Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard carried away captive of the poorest of the people, and the residue of the people that were left in the city, and those that fell away, that fell to the king of Babylon, and the residue of the multitude. ¹⁶ But Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard left of the poorest of the land to be vinedressers and husbandmen.

¹⁷ And the pillars of brass that were in the house of Jehovah, and the bases and the brazen sea that were in the house of Jehovah, did the Chaldeans break in pieces, and carried all the brass of them to Babylon. ¹⁸ The pots also, and the shovels, and the snuffers, and the basins, and the spoons, and all the vessels of brass wherewith they ministered, took they away. ¹⁹ And the cups, and the firepans, and the basins, and the pots, and the candlesticks, and the spoons, and the bowls—that which was of gold, in gold, and that which was of silver, in silver—the captain of the guard took away. ²⁰ The two pillars, the one sea, and the twelve brazen bulls that were under the bases, which king Solomon had made for the house of Jehovah—the brass of all these vessels was without weight. ²¹ And as for the pillars, the height of the one pillar was eighteen cubits; and a line of twelve cubits did compass it; and the thickness thereof was four fingers: it was hollow. ²² And a capital of brass was upon it; and the height of the one capital was five cubits, with network and pomegranates upon the capital round about, all of brass: and the second pillar also had like unto these, and pomegranates. ²³ And there were ninety and six pomegranates on the sides; all the pomegranates were a hundred upon the network round about.

²⁴ And the captain of the guard took Seraiah the chief priest, and Zephaniah the second priest, and the three keepers of the threshold: ²⁵ and out of the city he took an officer that was set over the men of war; and seven men of them that saw the king's face, that were found in the city; and the scribe of the captain of the host, who mustered the people of the land; and threescore men of the people of the land, that were found in the midst of the city. ²⁶ And Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard took them, and brought them to the king of Babylon to Riblah. ²⁷ And the king of Babylon smote them, and put them to death at Riblah in the land of Hamath. So Judah was carried away captive out of his land.

²⁸ This is the people whom Nebuchadnezzar carried away captive: in the seventh year three thousand Jews and three and twenty; ²⁹ in the eighteenth year of Nebuchadnezzar he carried away captive from Jerusalem eight hundred thirty and two persons; ³⁰ in the three and twentieth year of Nebuchadnezzar Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard carried away captive of the Jews seven hundred forty and five persons: all the persons were four thousand and six hundred.

³¹ And it came to pass in the seven and thirtieth year of the captivity of Jehoiachin king of Judah, in the twelfth month, in the five and twentieth day of the month, that Evil-merodach king of Babylon, in the first year of his reign, lifted up the head of Jehoiachin king of Judah, and brought him forth out of prison; ³² and he spake kindly to him, and set his throne above the throne of the kings that were with him in Babylon, ³³ and changed his prison garments. And Jehoiachin did eat bread before him continually all the days of his life: ³⁴ and for his allowance, there was a continual allowance given him by the king of Babylon, every day a portion until the day of his death, all the days of his life.

THE LAMENTATIONS OF JEREMIAH

- ¹ How doth the city sit solitary, that was full of people!
She is become as a widow, that was great among the nations!
She that was a princess among the provinces is become tributary!
- ² She weepeth sore in the night, and her tears are on her cheeks;
Among all her lovers she hath none to comfort her:
All her friends have dealt treacherously with her; they are become her enemies.
- ³ Judah is gone into captivity because of affliction, and because of great servitude;
She dwelleth among the nations, she findeth no rest:
All her persecutors overtook her within the straits.
- ⁴ The ways of Zion do mourn, because none come to the solemn assembly;
All her gates are desolate, her priests do sigh:
Her virgins are afflicted, and she herself is in bitterness.
- ⁵ Her adversaries are become the head, her enemies prosper;
For Jehovah hath afflicted her for the multitude of her transgressions:
Her young children are gone into captivity before the adversary.
- ⁶ And from the daughter of Zion all her majesty is departed:
Her princes are become like harts that find no pasture,
And they are gone without strength before the pursuer.
- ⁷ Jerusalem remembereth in the days of her affliction and of her miseries all her pleasant things that were from the days of old:
When her people fell into the hand of the adversary, and none did help her,
The adversaries saw her, they did mock at her desolations.
- ⁸ Jerusalem hath grievously sinned; therefore she is become as an unclean thing;
All that honored her despise her, because they have seen her nakedness:
Yea, she sigheth, and turneth backward.
- ⁹ Her filthiness was in her skirts; she remembered not her latter end;
Therefore is she come down wonderfully; she hath no comforter:
Behold, O Jehovah, my affliction; for the enemy hath magnified himself.
- ¹⁰ The adversary hath spread out his hand upon all her pleasant things:
For she hath seen that the nations are entered into her sanctuary, Concerning whom thou didst command that they should not enter into thine assembly.
- ¹¹ All her people sigh, they seek bread;
They have given their pleasant things for food to refresh the soul:
See, O Jehovah, and behold; for I am become abject.
- ¹² Is it nothing to you, all ye that pass by?
Behold, and see if there be any sorrow like unto my sorrow, which is brought upon me,
Wherewith Jehovah hath afflicted me in the day of his fierce anger.
- ¹³ From on high hath he sent fire into my bones, and it prevaieth against them;
He hath spread a net for my feet, he hath turned me back:
He hath made me desolate and faint all the day.
- ¹⁴ The yoke of my transgressions is bound by his hand;

They are knit together; they are come up upon my neck; he hath made my strength to fail:

The Lord hath delivered me into their hands, against whom I am not able to stand.

¹⁵ The Lord hath set at nought all my mighty men in the midst of me;
He hath called a solemn assembly against me to crush my young men:
The Lord hath trodden as in a winepress the virgin daughter of Judah.

¹⁶ For these things I weep; mine eye, mine eye runneth down with water;
Because the comforter that should refresh my soul is far from me:
My children are desolate, because the enemy hath prevailed.

¹⁷ Zion spreadeth forth her hands; there is none to comfort her;
Jehovah hath commanded concerning Jacob, that they that are round about him should be his adversaries:
Jerusalem is among them as an unclean thing.

¹⁸ Jehovah is righteous; for I have rebelled against his commandment:

Hear, I pray you, all ye peoples, and behold my sorrow:

My virgins and my young men are gone into captivity.

¹⁹ I called for my lovers, but they deceived me:

My priests and mine elders gave up the ghost in the city,
While they sought them food to refresh their souls.

²⁰ Behold, O Jehovah; for I am in distress; my heart is troubled;

My heart is turned within me; for I have grievously rebelled:

Abroad the sword bereaveth, at home there is as death.

²¹ They have heard that I sigh; there is none to comfort me;

All mine enemies have heard of my trouble; they are glad that thou hast done it:
Thou wilt bring the day that thou hast proclaimed, and they shall be like unto me.

²² Let all their wickedness come before thee;

And do unto them, as thou hast done unto me for all my transgressions:

For my sighs are many, and my heart is faint.

¹ How hath the Lord covered the daughter of Zion with a cloud in his anger!

He hath cast down from heaven unto the earth the beauty of Israel,

And hath not remembered his footstool in the day of his anger.

² The Lord hath swallowed up all the habitations of Jacob, and hath not pitied:

He hath thrown down in his wrath the strongholds of the daughter of Judah;

He hath brought them down to the ground; he hath profaned the kingdom and the princes thereof.

³ He hath cut off in fierce anger all the horn of Israel;

He hath drawn back his right hand from before the enemy:

And he hath burned up Jacob like a flaming fire, which devoureth round about.

⁴ He hath bent his bow like an enemy, he hath stood with his right hand as an adversary,

And hath slain all that were pleasant to the eye:

In the tent of the daughter of Zion he hath poured out his wrath like fire.

⁵ The Lord is become as an enemy, he hath swallowed up Israel;

He hath swallowed up all her palaces, he hath destroyed his strongholds;

And he hath multiplied in the daughter of Judah mourning and lamentation.

⁶ And he hath violently taken away his tabernacle, as if it were of a garden; he hath destroyed his place of assembly:

Jehovah hath caused solemn assembly and sabbath to be forgotten in Zion,
And hath despised in the indignation of his anger the king and the priest.

⁷ The Lord hath cast off his altar, he hath abhorred his sanctuary;
He hath given up into the hand of the enemy the walls of her palaces:
They have made a noise in the house of Jehovah, as in the day of a solemn assembly.

⁸ Jehovah hath purposed to destroy the wall of the daughter of Zion;
He hath stretched out the line, he hath not withdrawn his hand from destroying;
And he hath made the rampart and wall to lament; they languish together.

⁹ Her gates are sunk into the ground; he hath destroyed and broken her bars:
Her king and her princes are among the nations where the law is not;
Yea, her prophets find no vision from Jehovah.

¹⁰ The elders of the daughter of Zion sit upon the ground, they keep silence;
They have cast up dust upon their heads; they have girded themselves with sackcloth:
The virgins of Jerusalem hang down their heads to the ground.

¹¹ Mine eyes do fail with tears, my heart is troubled;
My liver is poured upon the earth, because of the destruction of the daughter of my people,
Because the young children and the sucklings swoon in the streets of the city.

¹² They say to their mothers, Where is grain and wine?
When they swoon as the wounded in the streets of the city,
When their soul is poured out into their mothers' bosom.

¹³ What shall I testify unto thee? what shall I liken to thee, O daughter of Jerusalem?
What shall I compare to thee, that I may comfort thee, O virgin daughter of Zion?
For thy breach is great like the sea: who can heal thee?

¹⁴ Thy prophets have seen for thee false and foolish visions;
And they have not uncovered thine iniquity, to bring back thy captivity,
But have seen for thee false oracles and causes of banishment.

¹⁵ All that pass by clap their hands at thee;
They hiss and wag their head at the daughter of Jerusalem, saying,
Is this the city that men called The perfection of beauty, The joy of the whole earth?

¹⁶ All thine enemies have opened their mouth wide against thee;
They hiss and gnash the teeth; they say, We have swallowed her up;
Certainly this is the day that we looked for; we have found, we have seen it.

¹⁷ Jehovah hath done that which he purposed; he hath fulfilled his word that he commanded in the days of old;
He hath thrown down, and hath not pitied:
And he hath caused the enemy to rejoice over thee; he hath exalted the horn of thine adversaries.

¹⁸ Their heart cried unto the Lord:
O wall of the daughter of Zion, let tears run down like a river day and night;
Give thyself no respite; let not the apple of thine eye cease.

¹⁹ Arise, cry out in the night, at the beginning of the watches;
Pour out thy heart like water before the face of the Lord:
Lift up thy hands toward him for the life of thy young children, that faint for hunger at the head of every street.

²⁰ See, O Jehovah, and behold to whom thou hast done thus!
Shall the women eat their fruit, the children that are dandled in the hands?
Shall the priest and the prophet be slain in the sanctuary of the Lord?

²¹ The youth and the old man lie on the ground in the streets;

My virgins and my young men are fallen by the sword:
Thou hast slain them in the day of thine anger; thou hast slaughtered, and not pitied.
²² Thou hast called, as in the day of a solemn assembly, my terrors on every side;
And there was none that escaped or remained in the day of Jehovah's anger:
Those that I have dandled and brought up hath mine enemy consumed.

¹ I am the man that hath seen affliction by the rod of his wrath.
² He hath led me and caused me to walk in darkness, and not in light.
³ Surely against me he turneth his hand again and again all the day.
⁴ My flesh and my skin hath he made old; he hath broken my bones.
⁵ He hath built against me, and compassed me with gall and travail.
⁶ He hath made me to dwell in dark places, as those that have been long dead.
⁷ He hath walled me about, that I cannot go forth; he hath made my chain heavy.
⁸ Yea, when I cry, and call for help, he shutteth out my prayer.
⁹ He hath walled up my ways with hewn stone; he hath made my paths crooked.
¹⁰ He is unto me as a bear lying in wait, as a lion in secret places.
¹¹ He hath turned aside my ways, and pulled me in pieces; he hath made me desolate.
¹² He hath bent his bow, and set me as a mark for the arrow.
¹³ He hath caused the shafts of his quiver to enter into my kidneys.
¹⁴ I am become a derision to all my people, and their song all the day.
¹⁵ He hath filled me with bitterness, he hath sated me with wormwood.
¹⁶ He hath also broken my teeth with gravel stones; he hath covered me with ashes.
¹⁷ And thou hast removed my soul far off from peace; I forgot prosperity.
¹⁸ And I said, My strength is perished, and mine expectation from Jehovah.

¹⁹ Remember mine affliction and my misery, the wormwood and the gall.
²⁰ My soul hath them still in remembrance, and is bowed down within me.
²¹ This I recall to my mind; therefore have I hope.
²² It is of Jehovah's lovingkindnesses that we are not consumed, because his compassions fail not.
²³ They are new every morning; great is thy faithfulness.
²⁴ Jehovah is my portion, saith my soul; therefore will I hope in him.
²⁵ Jehovah is good unto them that wait for him, to the soul that seeketh him.
²⁶ It is good that a man should hope and quietly wait for the salvation of Jehovah.
²⁷ It is good for a man that he bear the yoke in his youth.
²⁸ Let him sit alone and keep silence, because he hath laid it upon him.
²⁹ Let him put his mouth in the dust, if so be there may be hope.
³⁰ Let him give his cheek to him that smiteth him; let him be filled full with reproach.
³¹ For the Lord will not cast off forever.
³² For though he cause grief, yet will he have compassion according to the multitude of his lovingkindnesses.
³³ For he doth not afflict willingly, nor grieve the children of men.
³⁴ To crush under foot all the prisoners of the earth,
³⁵ To turn aside the right of a man before the face of the Most High,
³⁶ To subvert a man in his cause, the Lord approveth not.
³⁷ Who is he that saith, and it cometh to pass, when the Lord commandeth it not?
³⁸ Out of the mouth of the Most High cometh there not evil and good?
³⁹ Wherefore doth a living man complain, a man for the punishment of his sins?

40 Let us search and try our ways, and turn again to Jehovah.
41 Let us lift up our heart with our hands unto God in the heavens.
42 We have transgressed and have rebelled; thou hast not pardoned.
43 Thou hast covered with anger and pursued us; thou hast slain, thou hast not pitied.
44 Thou hast covered thyself with a cloud, so that no prayer can pass through.
45 Thou hast made us an offscouring and refuse in the midst of the peoples.
46 All our enemies have opened their mouth wide against us.
47 Fear and the pit are come upon us, devastation and destruction.
48 Mine eye runneth down with streams of water, for the destruction of the daughter of my people.
49 Mine eye poureth down, and ceaseth not, without any intermission,
50 Till Jehovah look down, and behold from heaven.
51 Mine eye affecteth my soul, because of all the daughters of my city.
52 They have chased me sore like a bird, they that are mine enemies without cause.
53 They have cut off my life in the dungeon, and have cast a stone upon me.
54 Waters flowed over my head; I said, I am cut off.

55 I called upon thy name, O Jehovah, out of the lowest dungeon.
56 Thou heardest my voice; hide not thine ear at my breathing, at my cry.
57 Thou drewest near in the day that I called upon thee; thou saidst, Fear not.
58 O Lord, thou hast pleaded the causes of my soul; thou hast redeemed my life.
59 O Jehovah, thou hast seen my wrong; judge thou my cause.
60 Thou hast seen all their vengeance and all their devices against me.
61 Thou hast heard their reproach, O Jehovah, and all their devices against me,
62 The lips of those that rose up against me, and their device against me all the day.
63 Behold thou their sitting down, and their rising up; I am their song.
64 Thou wilt render unto them a recompense, O Jehovah, according to the work of their hands.
65 Thou wilt give them hardness of heart, thy curse unto them.
66 Thou wilt pursue them in anger, and destroy them from under the heavens of Jehovah.

1 How is the gold become dim! how is the most pure gold changed!
The stones of the sanctuary are poured out at the head of every street.
2 The precious sons of Zion, comparable to fine gold,
How are they esteemed as earthen pitchers, the work of the hands of the potter!
3 Even the jackals draw out the breast, they give suck to their young ones:
The daughter of my people is become cruel, like the ostriches in the wilderness.
4 The tongue of the sucking child cleaveth to the roof of his mouth for thirst:
The young children ask bread, and no man breaketh it unto them.
5 They that did feed delicately are desolate in the streets:
They that were brought up in scarlet embrace dunghills.
6 For the iniquity of the daughter of my people is greater than the sin of Sodom,
That was overthrown as in a moment, and no hands were laid upon her.
7 Her nobles were purer than snow, they were whiter than milk;
They were more ruddy in body than rubies, their polishing was as of sapphire.
8 Their visage is blacker than a coal; they are not known in the streets:
Their skin cleaveth to their bones; it is withered, it is become like a stick.

⁹ They that are slain with the sword are better than they that are slain with hunger;
For these pine away, stricken through, for want of the fruits of the field.

¹⁰ The hands of the pitiful women have boiled their own children;
They were their food in the destruction of the daughter of my people.

¹¹ Jehovah hath accomplished his wrath, he hath poured out his fierce anger;
And he hath kindled a fire in Zion, which hath devoured the foundations thereof.

¹² The kings of the earth believed not, neither all the inhabitants of the world,
That the adversary and the enemy would enter into the gates of Jerusalem.

¹³ It is because of the sins of her prophets, and the iniquities of her priests,
That have shed the blood of the just in the midst of her.

¹⁴ They wander as blind men in the streets, they are polluted with blood,
So that men cannot touch their garments.

¹⁵ Depart ye, they cried unto them, Unclean! depart, depart, touch not!
When they fled away and wandered, men said among the nations, They shall no more sojourn here.

¹⁶ The anger of Jehovah hath scattered them; he will no more regard them:
They respected not the persons of the priests, they favored not the elders.

¹⁷ Our eyes do yet fail in looking for our vain help:
In our watching we have watched for a nation that could not save.

¹⁸ They hunt our steps, so that we cannot go in our streets:
Our end is near, our days are fulfilled; for our end is come.

¹⁹ Our pursuers were swifter than the eagles of the heavens:
They chased us upon the mountains, they laid wait for us in the wilderness.

²⁰ The breath of our nostrils, the anointed of Jehovah, was taken in their pits;
Of whom we said, Under his shadow we shall live among the nations.

²¹ Rejoice and be glad, O daughter of Edom, that dwellest in the land of Uz:
The cup shall pass through unto thee also; thou shalt be drunken, and shalt make thyself naked.

²² The punishment of thine iniquity is accomplished, O daughter of Zion; he will no more carry thee away into captivity:
He will visit thine iniquity, O daughter of Edom; he will uncover thy sins.

¹ Remember, O Jehovah, what is come upon us:
Behold, and see our reproach.

² Our inheritance is turned unto strangers,
Our houses unto aliens.

³ We are orphans and fatherless;
Our mothers are as widows.

⁴ We have drunken our water for money;
Our wood is sold unto us.

⁵ Our pursuers are upon our necks:
We are weary, and have no rest.

⁶ We have given the hand to the Egyptians,
And to the Assyrians, to be satisfied with bread.

⁷ Our fathers sinned, and are not;
And we have borne their iniquities.

⁸ Servants rule over us:
There is none to deliver us out of their hand.

⁹ We get our bread at the peril of our lives,
Because of the sword of the wilderness.

¹⁰ Our skin is black like an oven,
Because of the burning heat of famine.

¹¹ They ravished the women in Zion,
The virgins in the cities of Judah.

¹² Princes were hung up by their hand:
The faces of elders were not honored.

¹³ The young men bare the mill;
And the children stumbled under the wood.

¹⁴ The elders have ceased from the gate,
The young men from their music.

¹⁵ The joy of our heart is ceased;
Our dance is turned into mourning.

¹⁶ The crown is fallen from our head:
Woe unto us! for we have sinned.

¹⁷ For this our heart is faint;
For these things our eyes are dim;

¹⁸ For the mountain of Zion, which is desolate:
The foxes walk upon it.

¹⁹ Thou, O Jehovah, abidest forever;
Thy throne is from generation to generation.

²⁰ Wherefore dost thou forget us forever,
And forsake us so long time?

²¹ Turn thou us unto thee, O Jehovah, and we shall be turned;
Renew our days as of old.

²² But thou hast utterly rejected us;
Thou art very wroth against us.

THE BOOK OF EZEKIEL

¹ Now it came to pass in the thirtieth year, in the fourth month, in the fifth day of the month, as I was among the captives by the river Chebar, that the heavens were opened, and I saw visions of God. ² In the fifth day of the month, which was the fifth year of king Jehoiachin's captivity, ³ the word of Jehovah came expressly unto Ezekiel the priest, the son of Buzi, in the land of the Chaldeans by the river Chebar; and the hand of Jehovah was there upon him.

²² And over the head of the living creature there was the likeness of a firmament, like the terrible crystal to look upon, stretched forth over their heads above. ²³ And under the firmament were their wings straight, the one toward the other: every one had two which covered on this side, and every one had two which covered on that side, their bodies. ²⁴ And when they went, I heard the noise of their wings like the noise of great waters, like the voice of the Almighty, a noise of tumult like the noise of a host: when they stood, they let down their wings. ²⁵ And there was a voice above the firmament that was over their heads: when they stood, they let down their wings.

²⁶ And above the firmament that was over their heads was the likeness of a throne, as the appearance of a sapphire stone; and upon the likeness of the throne was a likeness as the appearance of a man upon it above. ²⁷ And I saw as it were glowing metal, as the appearance of fire within it round about, from the appearance of his loins and upward; and from the appearance of his loins and downward I saw as it were the appearance of fire, and there was brightness round about him. ²⁸ As the appearance of the bow that is in the cloud in the day of rain, so was the appearance of the brightness round about. This was the appearance of the likeness of the glory of Jehovah. And when I saw it, I fell upon my face, and I heard a voice of one that spake.

¹ And he said unto me, Son of man, stand upon thy feet, and I will speak with thee. ² And the Spirit entered into me when he spake unto me, and set me upon my feet; and I heard him that spake unto me. ³ And he said unto me, Son of man, I send thee to the children of Israel, to nations that are rebellious, which have rebelled against me: they and their fathers have transgressed against me even unto this very day. ⁴ And the children are impudent and stiff-hearted: I do send thee unto them; and thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah. ⁵ And they, whether they will hear, or whether they will forbear (for they are a rebellious house), yet shall know that there hath been a prophet among them. ⁶ And thou, son of man, be not afraid of them, neither be afraid of their words, though briers and thorns are with thee, and thou dost dwell among scorpions: be not afraid of their words, nor be dismayed at their looks, though they are a rebellious house. ⁷ And thou shalt speak my words unto them, whether they will hear, or whether they will forbear; for they are most rebellious.

⁸ But thou, son of man, hear what I say unto thee; be not thou rebellious like that rebellious house: open thy mouth, and eat that which I give thee. ⁹ And when I looked, behold, a hand was put forth unto me; and, lo, a roll of a book was therein; ¹⁰ and he spread it before me: and it was written within and without; and there were written therein lamentations, and mourning, and woe.

¹ And he said unto me, Son of man, eat that which thou findest; eat this roll, and go, speak unto the house of Israel. ² So I opened my mouth, and he caused me to eat the roll. ³ And he said unto me, Son of man, cause thy belly to eat, and fill thy bowels with this roll that I give thee. Then did I eat it; and it was in my mouth as honey for sweetness.

⁴ And he said unto me, Son of man, go, get thee unto the house of Israel, and speak with my words unto them. ⁵ For thou art not sent to a people of a strange speech and of a hard language, but to the house of Israel; ⁶ not to many peoples of a strange speech and of a hard language, whose words thou canst not understand. Surely, if I sent thee to them, they would hearken unto thee. ⁷ But the house of Israel will not hearken unto thee; for they will not hearken unto me: for all the house of Israel are of a hard forehead and of a stiff heart. ⁸ Behold, I have made thy face hard against their faces, and thy forehead hard against their foreheads. ⁹ As an adamant harder than flint have I made thy forehead: fear them not, neither be dismayed at their looks, though they are a rebellious house. ¹⁰ Moreover he said unto me, Son of man, all my words that I shall speak unto thee receive in thy heart, and hear with thine ears. ¹¹ And go, get thee to them of the captivity, unto the children of thy people, and speak unto them, and tell them, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah; whether they will hear, or whether they will forbear.

¹² Then the Spirit lifted me up, and I heard behind me the voice of a great rushing, saying, Blessed be the glory of Jehovah from his place. ¹³ And I heard the noise of the wings of the living creatures as they touched one another; and the noise of the wheels beside them, even the noise of a great rushing. ¹⁴ So the Spirit lifted me up, and took me away; and I went in bitterness, in the heat of my spirit; and the hand of Jehovah was strong upon me. ¹⁵ Then I came to them of the captivity at Tel-abib, that dwelt by the river Chebar, and to where they dwelt; and I sat there overwhelmed among them seven days.

¹⁶ And it came to pass at the end of seven days, that the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying, ¹⁷ Son of man, I have made thee a watchman unto the house of Israel: therefore hear the word at my mouth, and give them warning from me. ¹⁸ When I say unto the wicked, Thou shalt surely die; and thou givest him not warning, nor speakest to warn the wicked from his wicked way, to save his life; the same wicked man shall die in his iniquity; but his blood will I require at thy hand. ¹⁹ Yet if thou warn the wicked, and he turn not from his wickedness, nor from his wicked way, he shall die in his iniquity; but thou hast delivered thy soul. ²⁰ Again, when a righteous man doth turn from his righteousness, and commit iniquity, and I lay a stumbling block before him, he shall die: because thou hast not given him warning, he shall die in his sin, and his righteous deeds which he hath done shall not be remembered; but his blood will I require at thy hand. ²¹ Nevertheless if thou warn the righteous man, that the righteous sin not, and he doth not sin, he shall surely live, because he took warning; and thou hast delivered thy soul.

²² And the hand of Jehovah was there upon me; and he said unto me, Arise, go forth into the plain, and I will there talk with thee. ²³ Then I arose, and went forth into the plain: and, behold, the glory of Jehovah stood there, as the glory which I saw by the river Chebar; and I fell on my face. ²⁴ Then the Spirit entered into me, and set me upon my feet; and he spake with me, and said unto me, Go, shut thyself within thy house. ²⁵ But thou, son of man, behold, they shall lay bands upon thee, and shall bind thee with them, and thou shalt not go out among them: ²⁶ and I will make thy tongue cleave to the roof of thy mouth, that thou shalt be dumb, and shalt not be to them a reprover; for they are a rebellious house. ²⁷ But when I speak with thee, I will open thy mouth, and thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: He that heareth, let him hear; and he that forbear, let him forbear: for they are a rebellious house.

⁴ Moreover lie thou upon thy left side, and lay the iniquity of the house of Israel upon it; according to the number of the days that thou shalt lie upon it, thou shalt bear their iniquity. ⁵ For I have appointed the years of their iniquity to be unto thee a number of days, even three hundred and ninety days: so shalt thou bear the iniquity of the house of Israel. ⁶ And again, when thou hast accomplished these, thou shalt lie on thy right side, and shalt bear the iniquity of the house of Judah: forty days, each day for a year, have I appointed it unto thee. ⁷ And thou shalt set thy face toward the siege of Jerusalem, with thine arm uncovered; and thou shalt prophesy against it. ⁸ And, behold, I lay bands upon thee, and thou shalt not turn thee from one side to the other, till thou hast accomplished the days of thy siege.

⁹ Take thou also unto thee wheat, and barley, and beans, and lentils, and millet, and spelt, and put them in one vessel, and make thee bread thereof; according to the number of the days that thou shalt lie upon thy side, even three hundred and ninety days, shalt thou eat thereof. ¹⁰ And thy food which thou shalt eat shall be by weight, twenty shekels a day: from time to time shalt thou eat it. ¹¹ And thou shalt drink water by measure, the sixth part of a hin: from time to time shalt thou drink. ¹² And thou shalt eat it as barley cakes, and thou shalt bake it in their sight with dung that cometh out of man. ¹³ And Jehovah said, Even thus shall the children of Israel eat their bread unclean, among the nations whither I will drive them. ¹⁴ Then said I, Ah Lord Jehovah! behold, my soul hath not been polluted; for from my youth up even till now have I not eaten of that which dieth of itself, or is torn of beasts; neither came there abominable flesh into my mouth. ¹⁵ Then he said unto me, See, I have given thee cow's dung for man's dung, and thou shalt prepare thy bread thereon. ¹⁶ Moreover he said unto me, Son of man, behold, I will break the staff of bread in Jerusalem: and they shall eat bread by weight, and with fearfulness; and they shall drink water by measure, and in dismay: ¹⁷ that they may want bread and water, and be dismayed one with another, and pine away in their iniquity.

⁵ Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: This is Jerusalem; I have set her in the midst of the nations, and countries are round about her. ⁶ And she hath rebelled against mine ordinances in doing wickedness more than the nations, and against my statutes more than the countries that are round about her; for they have rejected mine ordinances, and as for my statutes, they have not walked in them. ⁷ Therefore thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Because ye are turbulent more than the nations that are round about you, and have not walked in my statutes, neither have kept mine ordinances, neither have done after the ordinances of the nations that are round about you; ⁸ therefore thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Behold, I, even I, am against thee; and I will execute judgments in the midst of thee in the sight of the nations. ⁹ And I will do in thee that which I have not done, and whereunto I will not do anymore the like, because of all thine abominations. ¹⁰ Therefore the fathers shall eat the sons in the midst of thee, and the sons shall eat their fathers; and I will execute judgments on thee; and the whole remnant of thee will I scatter unto all the winds. ¹¹ Wherefore, as I live, saith the Lord Jehovah, surely, because thou hast defiled my sanctuary with all thy detestable things, and with all thine abominations, therefore will I also diminish thee; neither shall mine eye spare, and I also will have no pity. ¹² A third part of thee shall die with the pestilence, and with famine shall they be consumed in the midst of thee; and a third part shall fall by the sword round about thee; and a third part I will scatter unto all the winds, and will draw out a sword after them.

¹³ Thus shall mine anger be accomplished, and I will cause my wrath toward them to rest, and I shall be comforted: and they shall know that I, Jehovah, have spoken in my zeal, when I have accomplished my wrath upon them. ¹⁴ Moreover I will make thee a desolation and a reproach among the nations that are round about thee, in the sight of all that pass by. ¹⁵ So it shall be a reproach and a taunt, an instruction and an astonishment, unto the nations that are round about thee, when I shall execute judgments on thee in anger and in wrath, and in wrathful rebukes (I, Jehovah, have spoken it); ¹⁶ when I shall send upon them the evil arrows of famine, that are for destruction, which I will send to destroy you. And I will increase the famine upon you, and will break your staff of bread; ¹⁷ and I will send upon you famine and evil beasts, and they shall bereave thee; and pestilence and blood shall pass through thee; and I will bring the sword upon thee: I, Jehovah, have spoken it.

⁸ Yet will I leave a remnant, in that ye shall have some that escape the sword among the nations, when ye shall be scattered through the countries. ⁹ And those of you that escape shall remember me among the nations whither they shall be carried captive, how that I have been broken with their lewd heart, which hath departed from me, and with their eyes, which play the harlot after their idols: and they shall loathe themselves in their own sight for the evils which they have committed in all their abominations. ¹⁰ And they shall know that I am Jehovah: I have not said in vain that I would do this evil unto them.

¹¹ Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Smite with thy hand, and stamp with thy foot, and say, Alas! because of all the evil abominations of the house of Israel; for they shall fall by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence. ¹² He that is far off shall die of the pestilence; and he that is near shall fall by the sword; and he that remaineth and is besieged shall die by the famine: thus will I accomplish my wrath upon them. ¹³ And ye shall know that I am Jehovah, when their slain men shall be among their idols round about their altars, upon every high hill, on all the tops of the mountains, and under every green tree, and under every thick oak, the places where they offered sweet savor to all their idols. ¹⁴ And I will stretch out my hand upon them, and make the land desolate and waste, from the wilderness toward Riblah, throughout all their habitations: and they shall know that I am Jehovah.

¹ Moreover the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying, ² And thou, son of man, thus saith the Lord Jehovah unto the land of Israel, An end: the end is come upon the four corners of the land. ³ Now is the end upon thee, and I will send mine anger upon thee, and will judge thee according to thy ways; and I will bring upon thee all thine abominations. ⁴ And mine eye shall not spare thee, neither will I have pity; but I will bring thy ways upon thee, and thine abominations shall be in the midst of thee: and ye shall know that I am Jehovah.

¹⁴ They have blown the trumpet, and have made all ready; but none goeth to the battle; for my wrath is upon all the multitude thereof. ¹⁵ The sword is without, and the pestilence and the famine within: he that is in the field shall die with the sword; and he that is in the city, famine and pestilence shall devour him. ¹⁶ But those of them that escape shall escape, and shall be on the mountains like doves of the valleys, all of them moaning, every one in his iniquity. ¹⁷ All hands shall be feeble, and all knees shall be weak as water. ¹⁸ They shall also gird themselves with sackcloth, and horror shall cover them; and shame shall be upon all faces, and baldness upon all their heads. ¹⁹ They shall cast their silver in the streets, and their gold shall be as an unclean thing; their silver and their gold shall not be able to deliver them in the day of the wrath of Jehovah: they shall not satisfy their souls, neither fill their bowels; because it hath been the stumbling block of their iniquity. ²⁰ As for the beauty of his ornament, he set it in majesty; but they made the images of their abominations and their detestable things therein: therefore have I made it unto them as an unclean thing. ²¹ And I will give it into the hands of the strangers for a prey, and to the wicked of the earth for a spoil; and they shall profane it. ²² My face will I turn also from them, and they shall profane my secret place; and robbers shall enter into it, and profane it.

²³ Make the chain; for the land is full of bloody crimes, and the city is full of violence. ²⁴ Wherefore I will bring the worst of the nations, and they shall possess their houses: I will also make the pride of the strong to cease; and their holy places shall be profaned. ²⁵ Destruction cometh; and they shall seek peace, and there shall be none. ²⁶ Mischief shall come upon mischief, and rumor shall be upon rumor; and they shall seek a vision of the prophet; but the law shall perish from the priest, and counsel from the elders. ²⁷ The king shall mourn, and the prince shall be clothed with desolation, and the hands of the people of the land shall be troubled: I will do unto them after their way, and according to their deserts will I judge them; and they shall know that I am Jehovah.

¹ And it came to pass in the sixth year, in the sixth month, in the fifth day of the month, as I sat in my house, and the elders of Judah sat before me, that the hand of the Lord Jehovah fell there upon me. ² Then I beheld, and, lo, a likeness as the appearance of fire; from the appearance of his loins and downward, fire; and from his loins and upward, as the appearance of brightness, as it were glowing metal. ³ And he put forth the form of a hand, and took me by a lock of my head; and the Spirit lifted me up between earth and heaven, and brought me in the visions of God to Jerusalem, to the door of the gate of the inner court that looketh toward the north; where was the seat of the image of jealousy, which provoketh to jealousy. ⁴ And, behold, the glory of the God of Israel was there, according to the appearance that I saw in the plain.

⁵ Then said he unto me, Son of man, lift up thine eyes now the way toward the north. So I lifted up mine eyes the way toward the north, and behold, northward of the gate of the altar this image of jealousy in the entry. ⁶ And he said unto me, Son of man, seest thou what they do? even the great abominations that the house of Israel do commit here, that I should go far off from my sanctuary? But thou shalt again see yet other great abominations.

⁷ And he brought me to the door of the court; and when I looked, behold, a hole in the wall. ⁸ Then said he unto me, Son of man, dig now in the wall: and when I had dug in the wall, behold, a door. ⁹ And he said unto me, Go in, and see the wicked abominations that they do here. ¹⁰ So I went in and saw; and behold, every form of creeping things, and abominable beasts, and all the idols of the house of Israel, portrayed upon the wall round about. ¹¹ And there stood before them seventy men of the elders of the house of Israel; and in the midst of them stood Jaazaniah the son of Shaphan, every man with his censer in his hand; and the odor of the cloud of incense went up. ¹² Then said he unto me, Son of man, hast thou seen what the elders of the house of Israel do in the dark, every man in his chambers of imagery? for they say, Jehovah seeth us not; Jehovah hath forsaken the land. ¹³ He said also unto me, Thou shalt again see yet other great abominations which they do.

¹⁶ And he brought me into the inner court of Jehovah's house; and behold, at the door of the temple of Jehovah, between the porch and the altar, were about five and twenty men, with their backs toward the temple of Jehovah, and their faces toward the east; and they were worshiping the sun toward the east. ¹⁷ Then he said unto me, Hast thou seen this, O son of man? Is it a light thing to the house of Judah that they commit the abominations which they commit here? for they have filled the land with violence, and have turned again to provoke me to anger: and, lo, they put the branch to their nose. ¹⁸ Therefore will I also deal in wrath; mine eye shall not spare, neither will I have pity; and though they cry in mine ears with a loud voice, yet will I not hear them.

of them clothed in linen, with a writer's inkhorn by his side. And they went in, and stood beside the brazen altar.

³ And the glory of the God of Israel was gone up from the cherub, whereupon it was, to the threshold of the house: and he called to the man clothed in linen, who had the writer's inkhorn by his side. ⁴ And Jehovah said unto him, Go through the midst of the city, through the midst of Jerusalem, and set a mark upon the foreheads of the men that sigh and that cry over all the abominations that are done in the midst thereof. ⁵ And to the others he said in my hearing, Go ye through the city after him, and smite: let not your eye spare, neither have ye pity; ⁶ slay utterly the old man, the young man and the virgin, and little children and women; but come not near any man upon whom is the mark: and begin at my sanctuary. Then they began at the old men that were before the house. ⁷ And he said unto them, Defile the house, and fill the courts with the slain: go ye forth. And they went forth, and smote in the city. ⁸ And it came to pass, while they were smiting, and I was left, that I fell upon my face, and cried, and said, Ah Lord Jehovah! wilt thou destroy all the residue of Israel in thy pouring out of thy wrath upon Jerusalem?

⁹ Then said he unto me, The iniquity of the house of Israel and Judah is exceeding great, and the land is full of blood, and the city full of wresting of judgment: for they say, Jehovah hath forsaken the land, and Jehovah seeth not. ¹⁰ And as for me also, mine eye shall not spare, neither will I have pity, but I will bring their way upon their head. ¹¹ And, behold, the man clothed in linen, who had the inkhorn by his side, reported the matter, saying, I have done as thou hast commanded me.

¹ Then I looked, and, behold, in the firmament that was over the head of the cherubim there appeared above them as it were a sapphire stone, as the appearance of the likeness of a throne. ² And he spake unto the man clothed in linen, and said, Go in between the whirling wheels, even under the cherub, and fill both thy hands with coals of fire from between the cherubim, and scatter them over the city. And he went in in my sight. ³ Now the cherubim stood on the right side of the house, when the man went in; and the cloud filled the inner court. ⁴ And the glory of Jehovah mounted up from the cherub, and stood over the threshold of the house; and the house was filled with the cloud, and the court was full of the brightness of Jehovah's glory. ⁵ And the sound of the wings of the cherubim was heard even to the outer court, as the voice of God Almighty when he speaketh. ⁶ And it came to pass, when he commanded the man clothed in linen, saying, Take fire from between the whirling wheels, from between the cherubim, that he went in, and stood beside a wheel. ⁷ And the cherub stretched forth his hand from between the cherubim unto the fire that was between the cherubim, and took thereof, and put it into the hands of him that was clothed in linen, who took it and went out. ⁸ And there appeared in the cherubim the form of a man's hand under their wings.

⁹ And I looked, and behold, four wheels beside the cherubim, one wheel beside one cherub, and another wheel beside another cherub; and the appearance of the wheels was like unto a beryl stone. ¹⁰ And as for their appearance, they four had one likeness, as if a wheel had been within a wheel. ¹¹ When they went, they went in their four directions: they turned not as they went, but to the place whither the head looked they followed it; they turned not as they went. ¹² And their whole body, and their backs, and their hands, and their wings, and the wheels, were full of eyes round about, even the wheels that they four had. ¹³ As for the wheels, they were called in my hearing the whirling wheels. ¹⁴ And every one had four faces: the first face was the face of the cherub, and the second face was the face of a man, and the third the face of a lion, and the fourth the face of an eagle.

¹⁵ And the cherubim mounted up: this is the living creature that I saw by the river Chebar. ¹⁶ And when the cherubim went, the wheels went beside them; and when the cherubim lifted up their wings to mount up from the earth, the wheels also turned not from beside them. ¹⁷ When they stood, these stood; and when they mounted up, these mounted up with them: for the spirit of the living creature was in them.

¹⁸ And the glory of Jehovah went forth from over the threshold of the house, and stood over the cherubim. ¹⁹ And the cherubim lifted up their wings, and mounted up from the earth in my sight when they went forth, and the wheels beside them: and they stood at the door of the east gate of Jehovah's house; and the glory of the God of Israel was over them above.

²⁰ This is the living creature that I saw under the God of Israel by the river Chebar; and I knew that they were cherubim. ²¹ Every one had four faces, and every one four wings; and the likeness of the hands of a man was under their wings. ²² And as for the likeness of their faces, they were the faces which I saw by the river Chebar, their appearances and themselves; they went every one straight forward.

¹ Moreover the Spirit lifted me up, and brought me unto the east gate of Jehovah's house, which looketh eastward: and behold, at the door of the gate five and twenty men; and I saw in the midst of them Jaazaniah the son of Azzur, and Pelatiah the son of Benaiah, princes of the people. ² And he said unto me, Son of man, these are the men that devise iniquity, and that give wicked counsel in this city; ³ that say, The time is not near to build houses: this city is the caldron, and we are the flesh. ⁴ Therefore prophesy against them, prophesy, O son of man.

⁵ And the Spirit of Jehovah fell upon me, and he said unto me, Speak, Thus saith Jehovah: Thus have ye said, O house of Israel; for I know the things that come into your mind. ⁶ Ye have multiplied your slain in this city, and ye have filled the streets thereof with the slain. ⁷ Therefore thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Your slain whom ye have laid in the midst of it, they are the flesh, and this city is the caldron; but ye shall be brought forth out of the midst of it. ⁸ Ye have feared the sword; and I will bring the sword upon you, saith the Lord Jehovah. ⁹ And I will bring you forth out of the midst thereof, and deliver you into the hands of strangers, and will execute judgments among you. ¹⁰ Ye shall fall by the sword; I will judge you in the border of Israel; and ye shall know that I am Jehovah. ¹¹ This city shall not be your caldron, neither shall ye be the flesh in the midst thereof; I will judge you in the border of Israel; ¹² and ye shall know that I am Jehovah: for ye have not walked in my statutes, neither have ye executed mine ordinances, but have done after the ordinances of the nations that are round about you.

¹³ And it came to pass, when I prophesied, that Pelatiah the son of Benaiah died. Then fell I down upon my face, and cried with a loud voice, and said, Ah Lord Jehovah! wilt thou make a full end of the remnant of Israel?

¹⁴ And the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying, ¹⁵ Son of man, thy brethren, even thy brethren, the men of thy kindred, and all the house of Israel, all of them, are they unto whom the inhabitants of Jerusalem have said, Get you far from Jehovah; unto us is this land given for a possession. ¹⁶ Therefore say, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Whereas I have removed them far off among the nations, and whereas I have scattered them among the countries, yet will I be to them a sanctuary for a little while in the countries where they are come. ¹⁷ Therefore say, Thus saith the Lord

Jehovah: I will gather you from the peoples, and assemble you out of the countries where ye have been scattered, and I will give you the land of Israel. ¹⁸ And they shall come thither, and they shall take away all the detestable things thereof and all the abominations thereof from thence. ¹⁹ And I will give them one heart, and I will put a new spirit within you; and I will take the stony heart out of their flesh, and will give them a heart of flesh; ²⁰ that they may walk in my statutes, and keep mine ordinances, and do them: and they shall be my people, and I will be their God. ²¹ But as for them whose heart walketh after the heart of their detestable things and their abominations, I will bring their way upon their own heads, saith the Lord Jehovah.

²² Then did the cherubim lift up their wings, and the wheels were beside them; and the glory of the God of Israel was over them above. ²³ And the glory of Jehovah went up from the midst of the city, and stood upon the mountain which is on the east side of the city. ²⁴ And the Spirit lifted me up, and brought me in the vision by the Spirit of God into Chaldea, to them of the captivity. So the vision that I had seen went up from me. ²⁵ Then I spake unto them of the captivity all the things that Jehovah had shown me.

¹ The word of Jehovah also came unto me, saying, ² Son of man, thou dwellest in the midst of the rebellious house, that have eyes to see, and see not, that have ears to hear, and hear not; for they are a rebellious house. ³ Therefore, thou son of man, prepare thee stuff for removing, and remove by day in their sight; and thou shalt remove from thy place to another place in their sight: it may be they will consider, though they are a rebellious house. ⁴ And thou shalt bring forth thy stuff by day in their sight, as stuff for removing; and thou shalt go forth thyself at even in their sight, as when men go forth into exile. ⁵ Dig thou through the wall in their sight, and carry out thereby. ⁶ In their sight shalt thou bear it upon thy shoulder, and carry it forth in the dark; thou shalt cover thy face, that thou see not the land: for I have set thee for a sign unto the house of Israel.

⁷ And I did so as I was commanded: I brought forth my stuff by day, as stuff for removing, and in the even I dug through the wall with my hand; I brought it forth in the dark, and bare it upon my shoulder in their sight.

⁸ And in the morning came the word of Jehovah unto me, saying, ⁹ Son of man, hath not the house of Israel, the rebellious house, said unto thee, What doest thou? ¹⁰ Say thou unto them, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: This burden concerneth the prince in Jerusalem, and all the house of Israel among whom they are. ¹¹ Say, I am your sign: like as I have done, so shall it be done unto them; they shall go into exile, into captivity. ¹² And the prince that is among them shall bear upon his shoulder in the dark, and shall go forth: they shall dig through the wall to carry out thereby: he shall cover his face, because he shall not see the land with his eyes. ¹³ My net also will I spread upon him, and he shall be taken in my snare; and I will bring him to Babylon to the land of the Chaldeans; yet shall he not see it, though he shall die there. ¹⁴ And I will scatter toward every wind all that are round about him to help him, and all his bands; and I will draw out the sword after them. ¹⁵ And they shall know that I am Jehovah, when I shall disperse them among the nations, and scatter them through the countries. ¹⁶ But I will leave a few men of them from the sword, from the famine, and from the pestilence; that they may declare all their abominations among the nations whither they come; and they shall know that I am Jehovah.

unto the people of the land, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah concerning the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and the land of Israel: They shall eat their bread with fearfulness, and drink their water in dismay, that her land may be desolate, and despoiled of all that is therein, because of the violence of all them that dwell therein. ²⁰ And the cities that are inhabited shall be laid waste, and the land shall be a desolation; and ye shall know that I am Jehovah.

²¹ And the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying, ²² Son of man, what is this proverb that ye have in the land of Israel, saying, The days are prolonged, and every vision faileth? ²³ Tell them therefore, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: I will make this proverb to cease, and they shall no more use it as a proverb in Israel; but say unto them, The days are at hand, and the fulfillment of every vision. ²⁴ For there shall be no more any false vision nor flattering divination within the house of Israel. ²⁵ For I am Jehovah; I will speak, and the word that I shall speak shall be performed; it shall be no more deferred: for in your days, O rebellious house, will I speak the word, and will perform it, saith the Lord Jehovah.

²⁶ Again the word of Jehovah came to me, saying, ²⁷ Son of man, behold, they of the house of Israel say, The vision that he seeth is for many days to come, and he prophesieth of times that are far off. ²⁸ Therefore say unto them, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: There shall none of my words be deferred anymore, but the word which I shall speak shall be performed, saith the Lord Jehovah.

⁸ Therefore thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Because ye have spoken falsehood, and seen lies, therefore, behold, I am against you, saith the Lord Jehovah. ⁹ And my hand shall be against the prophets that see false visions, and that divine lies: they shall not be in the council of my people, neither shall they be written in the writing of the house of Israel, neither shall they enter into the land of Israel; and ye shall know that I am the Lord Jehovah. ¹⁰ Because, even because they have seduced my people, saying, Peace; and there is no peace; and when one buildeth up a wall, behold, they daub it with untempered mortar: ¹¹ say unto them that daub it with untempered mortar, that it shall fall: there shall be an overflowing shower; and ye, O great hailstones, shall fall; and a stormy wind shall rend it. ¹² Lo, when the wall is fallen, shall it not be said unto you, Where is the daubing wherewith ye have daubed it? ¹³ Therefore thus saith the Lord Jehovah: I will even rend it with a stormy wind in my wrath; and there shall be an overflowing shower in mine anger, and great hailstones in wrath to consume it. ¹⁴ So will I break down the wall that ye have daubed with untempered mortar, and bring it down to the ground, so that the foundation thereof shall be uncovered; and it shall fall, and ye shall be consumed in the midst thereof: and ye shall know that I am Jehovah. ¹⁵ Thus will I accomplish my wrath upon the wall, and upon them that have daubed it with untempered mortar; and I will say unto you, The wall is no more, neither they that daubed it; ¹⁶ to wit, the prophets of Israel that prophesy concerning Jerusalem, and that see visions of peace for her, and there is no peace, saith the Lord Jehovah.

¹⁷ And thou, son of man, set thy face against the daughters of thy people, that prophesy out of their own heart; and prophesy thou against them, ¹⁸ and say, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Woe to the women that sew pillows upon all elbows, and make kerchiefs for the head of persons of every stature to hunt souls! Will ye hunt the souls of my people, and save souls alive for yourselves? ¹⁹ And ye have profaned me among my people for handfuls of barley and for pieces of bread, to slay the souls that should not die, and to save the souls alive that should not live, by your lying to my people that hearken unto lies.

²⁰ Wherefore thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Behold, I am against your pillows, wherewith ye there hunt the souls to make them fly, and I will tear them from your arms; and I will let the souls go, even the souls that ye hunt to make them fly. ²¹ Your kerchiefs also will I tear, and deliver my people out of your hand, and they shall be no more in your hand to be hunted; and ye shall know that I am Jehovah. ²² Because with lies ye have grieved the heart of the righteous, whom I have not made sad, and strengthened the hands of the wicked, that he should not return from his wicked way, and be saved alive; ²³ Therefore ye shall no more see false visions, nor divine divinations: and I will deliver my people out of your hand; and ye shall know that I am Jehovah.

⁶ Therefore say unto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Return ye, and turn yourselves from your idols; and turn away your faces from all your abominations. ⁷ For every one of the house of Israel, or of the strangers that sojourn in Israel, that separateth himself from me, and taketh his idols into his heart, and putteth the stumbling block of his iniquity before his face, and cometh to the prophet to inquire for himself of me; I Jehovah will answer him by myself: ⁸ and I will set my face against that man, and will make him an astonishment, for a sign and a proverb, and I will cut him off from the midst of my people; and ye shall know that I am Jehovah. ⁹ And if the prophet be deceived and speak a word, I, Jehovah, have deceived that prophet, and I will stretch out my hand upon him, and will destroy him from the midst of my people Israel. ¹⁰ And they shall bear their iniquity: the iniquity of the prophet shall be even as the iniquity of him that seeketh unto him; ¹¹ that the house of Israel may go no more astray from me, neither defile themselves anymore with all their transgressions; but that they may be my people, and I may be their God, saith the Lord Jehovah.

man and beast; ¹⁴ though these three men, Noah, Daniel, and Job, were in it, they should deliver but their own souls by their righteousness, saith the Lord Jehovah. ¹⁵ If I cause evil beasts to pass through the land, and they ravage it, and it be made desolate, so that no man may pass through because of the beasts; ¹⁶ though these three men were in it, as I live, saith the Lord Jehovah, they should deliver neither sons nor daughters; they only should be delivered, but the land should be desolate. ¹⁷ Or if I bring a sword upon that land, and say, Sword, go through the land; so that I cut off from it man and beast; ¹⁸ though these three men were in it, as I live, saith the Lord Jehovah, they should deliver neither sons nor daughters, but they only should be delivered themselves. ¹⁹ Or if I send a pestilence into that land, and pour out my wrath upon it in blood, to cut off from it man and beast; ²⁰ though Noah, Daniel, and Job, were in it, as I live, saith the Lord Jehovah, they should deliver neither son nor daughter; they should but deliver their own souls by their righteousness.

¹ And the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying, ² Son of man, what is the vine tree more than any tree, the vine branch which is among the trees of the forest? ³ Shall wood be taken thereof to make any work? or will men take a pin of it to hang any vessel thereon? ⁴ Behold, it is cast into the fire for fuel; the fire hath devoured both the ends of it, and the midst of it is burned: is it profitable for any work? ⁵ Behold, when it was whole, it was meet for no work: how much less, when the fire hath devoured it, and it is burned, shall it yet be meet for any work! ⁶ Therefore thus saith the Lord Jehovah: As the vine tree among the trees of the forest, which I have given to the fire for fuel, so will I give the inhabitants of Jerusalem. ⁷ And I will set my face against them; they shall go forth from the fire, but the fire shall devour them; and ye shall know that I am Jehovah, when I set my face against them. ⁸ And I will make the land desolate, because they have committed a trespass, saith the Lord Jehovah.

16

⁶ And when I passed by thee, and saw thee weltering in thy blood, I said unto thee, Though thou art in thy blood, live; yea, I said unto thee, Though thou art in thy blood, live. ⁷ I caused thee to multiply as that which groweth in the field, and thou didst increase and wax great, and thou attainedst to excellent ornament; thy breasts were fashioned, and thy hair was grown; yet thou wast naked and bare. ⁸ Now when I passed by thee, and looked upon thee, behold, thy time was the time of love; and I spread my skirt over thee, and covered thy nakedness: yea, I swore unto thee, and entered into a covenant with thee, saith the Lord Jehovah, and thou becamest mine. ⁹ Then washed I thee with water; yea, I thoroughly washed away thy blood from thee, and I anointed thee with oil. ¹⁰ I clothed thee also with brodered work, and shod thee with sealskin, and I girded thee about with fine linen, and covered thee with silk. ¹¹ And I decked thee with ornaments, and I put bracelets upon thy hands, and a chain on thy neck. ¹² And I put a ring upon thy nose, and earrings in thine ears, and a beautiful crown upon thy head. ¹³ Thus wast thou decked with gold and silver; and thy raiment was of fine linen, and silk, and brodered work; thou didst eat fine flour, and honey, and oil; and thou wast exceeding beautiful, and thou didst prosper unto royal estate. ¹⁴ And thy renown went forth among the nations for thy beauty; for it was perfect, through my majesty which I had put upon thee, saith the Lord Jehovah.

¹⁵ But thou didst trust in thy beauty, and playedst the harlot because of thy renown, and pouredst out thy whoredoms on everyone that passed by; his it was. ¹⁶ And thou didst take of thy garments, and madest for thee high places decked with diverse colors, and playedst the harlot upon them: the like things shall not come, neither shall it be so. ¹⁷ Thou didst also take thy fair jewels of my gold and of my silver, which I had given thee, and madest for thee images of men, and didst play the harlot with them; ¹⁸ and thou tookest thy brodered garments, and coveredst them, and didst set mine oil and mine incense before them. ¹⁹ My bread also which I gave thee, fine flour, and oil, and honey, wherewith I fed thee, thou didst even set it before them for a sweet savor; and thus it was, saith the Lord Jehovah. ²⁰ Moreover thou hast taken thy sons and thy daughters, whom thou hast borne unto me, and these hast thou sacrificed unto them to be devoured. Were thy whoredoms a small matter, ²¹ that thou hast slain my children, and delivered them up, in causing them to pass through the fire unto them? ²² And in all thine abominations and thy whoredoms thou hast not remembered the days of thy youth, when thou wast naked and bare, and wast weltering in thy blood.

³⁰ How weak is thy heart, saith the Lord Jehovah, seeing thou doest all these things, the work of an impudent harlot; ³¹ in that thou buildest thy vaulted place at the head of every way, and makest thy lofty place in every street, and hast not been as a harlot, in that thou scornest hire. ³² A wife that committeth adultery! that taketh strangers instead of her husband! ³³ They give gifts to all harlots; but thou givest thy gifts to all thy lovers, and bribest them, that they may come unto thee on every side for thy whoredoms. ³⁴ And thou art different from other women in thy whoredoms, in that none followeth thee to play the harlot; and whereas thou givest hire, and no hire is given unto thee, therefore thou art different.

³⁵ Wherefore, O harlot, hear the word of Jehovah: ³⁶ Thus saith the Lord Jehovah, Because thy filthiness was poured out, and thy nakedness uncovered through thy whoredoms with thy lovers; and because of all the idols of thy abominations, and for the blood of thy children, that thou didst give unto them; ³⁷ therefore behold, I will gather all thy lovers, with whom thou hast taken pleasure, and all them that thou hast loved, with all them that thou hast hated; I will even gather them against thee on every side, and will uncover thy nakedness unto them, that they may see all thy nakedness. ³⁸ And I will judge thee, as women that break wedlock and shed blood are judged; and I will bring upon thee the blood of wrath and jealousy. ³⁹ I will also give thee into their hand, and they shall throw down thy vaulted place, and break down thy lofty places; and they shall strip thee of thy clothes, and take thy fair jewels; and they shall leave thee naked and bare. ⁴⁰ They shall also bring up a company against thee, and they shall stone thee with stones, and thrust thee through with their swords. ⁴¹ And they shall burn thy houses with fire, and execute judgments upon thee in the sight of many women; and I will cause thee to cease from playing the harlot, and thou shalt also give no hire anymore. ⁴² So will I cause my wrath toward thee to rest, and my jealousy shall depart from thee, and I will be quiet, and will be no more angry. ⁴³ Because thou hast not remembered the days of thy youth, but hast raged against me in all these things; therefore, behold, I also will bring thy way upon thy head, saith the Lord Jehovah: and thou shalt not commit this lewdness with all thine abominations.

⁵³ And I will turn again their captivity, the captivity of Sodom and her daughters, and the captivity of Samaria and her daughters, and the captivity of thy captives in the midst of them; ⁵⁴ that thou mayest bear thine own shame, and mayest be ashamed because of all that thou hast done, in that thou art a comfort unto them. ⁵⁵ And thy sisters, Sodom and her daughters, shall return to their former estate; and Samaria and her daughters shall return to their former estate; and thou and thy daughters shall return to your former estate. ⁵⁶ For thy sister Sodom was not mentioned by thy mouth in the day of thy pride, ⁵⁷ before thy wickedness was uncovered, as at the time of the reproach of the daughters of Syria, and of all that are round about her, the daughters of the Philistines, that do despite unto thee round about. ⁵⁸ Thou hast borne thy lewdness and thine abominations, saith Jehovah. ⁵⁹ For thus saith the Lord Jehovah: I will also deal with thee as thou hast done, who hast despised the oath in breaking the covenant.

⁶⁰ Nevertheless I will remember my covenant with thee in the days of thy youth, and I will establish unto thee an everlasting covenant. ⁶¹ Then shalt thou remember thy ways, and be ashamed, when thou shalt receive thy sisters, thine elder sisters and thy younger; and I will give them unto thee for daughters, but not by thy covenant. ⁶² And I will establish my covenant with thee; and thou shalt know that I am Jehovah; ⁶³ that thou mayest remember, and be confounded, and never open thy mouth anymore, because of thy shame, when I have forgiven thee all that thou hast done, saith the Lord Jehovah.

⁷ There was also another great eagle with great wings and many feathers: and, behold, this vine did bend its roots toward him, and shot forth its branches toward him, from the beds of its plantation, that he might water it. ⁸ It was planted in a good soil by many waters, that it might bring forth branches, and that it might bear fruit, that it might be a goodly vine. ⁹ Say thou, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Shall it prosper? shall he not pull up the roots thereof, and cut off the fruit thereof, that it may wither; that all its fresh springing leaves may wither? and not by a strong arm or much people can it be raised from the roots thereof. ¹⁰ Yea, behold, being planted, shall it prosper? shall it not utterly wither, when the east wind toucheth it? it shall wither in the beds where it grew.

¹¹ Moreover the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying, ¹² Say now to the rebellious house, Know ye not what these things mean? tell them, Behold, the king of Babylon came to Jerusalem, and took the king thereof, and the princes thereof, and brought them to him to Babylon. ¹³ And he took of the seed royal, and made a covenant with him; he also brought him under an oath, and took away the mighty of the land; ¹⁴ that the kingdom might be base, that it might not lift itself up, but that by keeping his covenant it might stand. ¹⁵ But he rebelled against him in sending his ambassadors into Egypt, that they might give him horses and much people. Shall he prosper? shall he escape that doeth such things? shall he break the covenant, and yet escape? ¹⁶ As I live, saith the Lord Jehovah, surely in the place where the king dwelleth that made him king, whose oath he despised, and whose covenant he brake, even with him in the midst of Babylon he shall die. ¹⁷ Neither shall Pharaoh with his mighty army and great company help him in the war, when they cast up mounds and build forts, to cut off many persons. ¹⁸ For he hath despised the oath by breaking the covenant; and behold, he had given his hand, and yet hath done all these things; he shall not escape. ¹⁹ Therefore thus saith the Lord Jehovah: As I live, surely mine oath that he hath despised, and my covenant that he hath broken, I will even bring it upon his own head. ²⁰ And I will spread my net upon him, and he shall be taken in my snare, and I will bring him to Babylon, and will enter into judgment with him there for his trespass that he hath trespassed against me. ²¹ And all his fugitives in all his bands shall fall by the sword, and they that remain shall be scattered toward every wind: and ye shall know that I, Jehovah, have spoken it.

²² Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: I will also take of the lofty top of the cedar, and will set it; I will crop off from the topmost of its young twigs a tender one, and I will plant it upon a high and lofty mountain: ²³ in the mountain of the height of Israel will I plant it; and it shall bring forth boughs, and bear fruit, and be a goodly cedar: and under it shall dwell all birds of every wing; in the shade of the branches thereof shall they dwell. ²⁴ And all the trees of the field shall know that I, Jehovah, have brought down the high tree, have exalted the low tree, have dried up the green tree, and have made the dry tree to flourish: I, Jehovah, have spoken and have done it.

¹⁰ If he beget a son that is a robber, a shedder of blood, and that doeth any one of these things, ¹¹ and that doeth not any of those duties, but even hath eaten upon the mountains, and defiled his neighbor's wife, ¹² hath wronged the poor and needy, hath taken by robbery, hath not restored the pledge, and hath lifted up his eyes to the idols, hath committed abomination, ¹³ hath given forth upon interest, and hath taken increase; shall he then live? he shall not live: he hath done all these abominations; he shall surely die; his blood shall be upon him.

¹⁹ Yet say ye, Wherefore doth not the son bear the iniquity of the father? When the son hath done that which is lawful and right, and hath kept all my statutes, and hath done them, he shall surely live. ²⁰ The soul that sinneth, it shall die: the son shall not bear the iniquity of the father; neither shall the father bear the iniquity of the son; the righteousness of the righteous shall be upon him, and the wickedness of the wicked shall be upon him.

²² None of his transgressions that he hath committed shall be remembered against him: in his righteousness that he hath done he shall live. ²³ Have I any pleasure in the death of the wicked? saith the Lord Jehovah; and not rather that he should return from his way, and live? ²⁴ But when the righteous turneth away from his righteousness, and committeth iniquity, and doeth according to all the abominations that the wicked man doeth, shall he live? None of his righteous deeds that he hath done shall be remembered: in his trespass that he hath trespassed, and in his sin that he hath sinned, in them shall he die.

²⁵ Yet ye say, The way of the Lord is not equal. Hear now, O house of Israel: Is not my way equal? are not your ways unequal? ²⁶ When the righteous man turneth away from his righteousness, and committeth iniquity, and dieth therein; in his iniquity that he hath done shall he die. ²⁷ Again, when the wicked man turneth away from his wickedness that he hath committed, and doeth that which is lawful and right, he shall save his soul alive. ²⁸ Because he considereth, and turneth away from all his transgressions that he hath committed, he shall surely live, he shall not die. ²⁹ Yet saith the house of Israel, The way of the Lord is not equal. O house of Israel, are not my ways equal? are not your ways unequal? ³⁰ Therefore I will judge you, O house of Israel, every one according to his ways, saith the Lord Jehovah. Return ye, and turn yourselves from all your transgressions; so iniquity shall not be your ruin. ³¹ Cast away from you all your transgressions, wherein ye have transgressed; and make you a new heart and a new spirit: for why will ye die, O house of Israel? ³² For I have no pleasure in the death of him that dieth, saith the Lord Jehovah: wherefore turn yourselves, and live.

¹ Moreover, take thou up a lamentation for the princes of Israel, ² and say, What was thy mother? A lioness: she couched among lions, in the midst of the young lions she nourished her whelps. ³ And she brought up one of her whelps: he became a young lion, and he learned to catch the prey; he devoured men. ⁴ The nations also heard of him; he was taken in their pit; and they brought him with hooks unto the land of Egypt. ⁵ Now when she saw that she had waited, and her hope was lost, then she took another of her whelps, and made him a young lion. ⁶ And he went up and down among the lions; he became a young lion, and he learned to catch the prey; he devoured men. ⁷ And he knew their palaces, and laid waste their cities; and the land was desolate, and the fullness thereof, because of the noise of his roaring. ⁸ Then the nations set against him on every side from the provinces; and they spread their net over him; he was taken in their pit. ⁹ And they put him in a cage with hooks, and brought him to the king of Babylon; they brought him into strongholds, that his voice should no more be heard upon the mountains of Israel.

¹⁰ Thy mother was like a vine, in thy blood, planted by the waters: it was fruitful and full of branches by reason of many waters. ¹¹ And it had strong rods for the scepters of them that bare rule, and their stature was exalted among the thick boughs, and they were seen in their height with the multitude of their branches. ¹² But it was plucked up in fury, it was cast down to the ground, and the east wind dried up its fruit: its strong rods were broken off and withered; the fire consumed them. ¹³ And now it is planted in the wilderness, in a dry and thirsty land. ¹⁴ And fire is gone out of the rods of its branches, it hath devoured its fruit, so that there is in it no strong rod to be a scepter to rule. This is a lamentation, and shall be for a lamentation.

¹ And it came to pass in the seventh year, in the fifth month, the tenth day of the month, that certain of the elders of Israel came to inquire of Jehovah, and sat before me. ² And the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying, ³ Son of man, speak unto the elders of Israel, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Is it to inquire of me that ye are come? As I live, saith the Lord Jehovah, I will not be inquired of by you. ⁴ Wilt thou judge them, son of man, wilt thou judge them? Cause them to know the abominations of their fathers; ⁵ and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: In the day when I chose Israel, and swore unto the seed of the house of Jacob, and made myself known unto them in the land of Egypt, when I swore unto them, saying, I am Jehovah your God; ⁶ in that day I swore unto them, to bring them forth out of the land of Egypt into a land that I had searched out for them, flowing with milk and honey, which is the glory of all lands. ⁷ And I said unto them, Cast ye away every man the abominations of his eyes, and defile not yourselves with the idols of Egypt; I am Jehovah your God. ⁸ But they rebelled against me, and would not hearken unto me; they did not every man cast away the abominations of their eyes, neither did they forsake the idols of Egypt. Then I said I would pour out my wrath upon them, to accomplish my anger against them in the midst of the land of Egypt. ⁹ But I wrought for my name's sake, that it should not be profaned in the sight of the nations, among which they were, in whose sight I made myself known unto them, in bringing them forth out of the land of Egypt.

¹⁰ So I caused them to go forth out of the land of Egypt, and brought them into the wilderness. ¹¹ And I gave them my statutes, and showed them mine ordinances, which if a man do, he shall live in them. ¹² Moreover also I gave them my sabbaths, to be a sign between me and them, that they might know that I am Jehovah that sanctifieth them. ¹³ But the house of Israel rebelled against me in the wilderness: they walked not in my statutes, and they rejected mine ordinances, which if a man keep, he shall live in them; and my sabbaths they greatly profaned. Then I said I would pour out my wrath upon them in the wilderness, to consume them. ¹⁴ But I wrought for my name's sake, that it should not be profaned in the sight of the nations, in whose sight I brought them out. ¹⁵ Moreover also I swore unto them in the wilderness, that I would not bring them into the land which I had given them, flowing with milk and honey, which is the glory of all lands; ¹⁶ because they rejected mine ordinances, and walked not in my statutes, and profaned my sabbaths: for their heart went after their idols. ¹⁷ Nevertheless mine eye spared them, and I destroyed them not, neither did I make a full end of them in the wilderness.

¹⁸ And I said unto their children in the wilderness, Walk ye not in the statutes of your fathers, neither observe their ordinances, nor defile yourselves with their idols. ¹⁹ I am Jehovah your God: walk in my statutes, and keep mine ordinances, and do them; ²⁰ and hallow my sabbaths; and they shall be a sign between me and you, that ye may know that I am Jehovah your God. ²¹ But the children rebelled against me; they walked not in my statutes, neither kept mine ordinances to do them, which if a man do, he shall live in them; they profaned my sabbaths. Then I said I would pour out my wrath upon them, to accomplish my anger against them in the wilderness. ²² Nevertheless I withdrew my hand, and wrought for my name's sake, that it should not be profaned in the sight of the nations, in whose sight I brought them forth. ²³ Moreover I swore unto them in the wilderness, that I would scatter them among the nations, and disperse them through the countries; ²⁴ because they had not executed mine ordinances, but had rejected my statutes, and had profaned my sabbaths, and their eyes were after their fathers' idols. ²⁵ Moreover also I gave them statutes that were not good, and ordinances wherein they should not live; ²⁶ and I polluted them in their own gifts, in that they caused to pass through the fire all that openeth the womb, that I might make them desolate, to the end that they might know that I am Jehovah.

²⁷ Therefore, son of man, speak unto the house of Israel, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: In this moreover have your fathers blasphemed me, in that they have committed a trespass against me. ²⁸ For when I had brought them into the land, which I swore to give unto them, then they saw every high hill, and every thick tree, and they offered there their sacrifices, and there they presented the provocation of their offering; there also they made their sweet savor, and they poured out there their drink offerings. ²⁹ Then I said unto them, What meaneth the high place whereunto ye go? So the name thereof is called Bamah unto this day. ³⁰ Wherefore say unto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Do ye pollute yourselves after the manner of your fathers? and play ye the harlot after their abominations? ³¹ and when ye offer your gifts, when ye make your sons to pass through the fire, do ye pollute yourselves with all your idols unto this day? and shall I be inquired of by you, O house of Israel? As I live, saith the Lord Jehovah, I will not be inquired of by you; ³² and that which cometh into your mind shall not be at all, in that ye say, We will be as the nations, as the families of the countries, to serve wood and stone.

³³ As I live, saith the Lord Jehovah, surely with a mighty hand, and with an outstretched arm, and with wrath poured out, will I be king over you. ³⁴ And I will bring you out from the peoples, and will gather you out of the countries wherein ye are scattered, with a mighty hand, and with an outstretched arm, and with wrath poured out; ³⁵ and I will bring you into the wilderness of the peoples, and there will I enter into judgment with you face to face. ³⁶ Like as I entered into judgment with your fathers in the wilderness of the land of Egypt, so will I enter into judgment with you, saith the Lord Jehovah. ³⁷ And I will cause you to pass under the rod, and I will bring you into the bond of the covenant; ³⁸ and I will purge out from among you the rebels, and them that transgress against me; I will bring them forth out of the land where they sojourn, but they shall not enter into the land of Israel: and ye shall know that I am Jehovah. ³⁹ As for you, O house of Israel, thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Go ye, serve every one his idols, and hereafter also, if ye will not hearken unto me; but my holy name shall ye no more profane with your gifts, and with your idols.

⁴⁰ For in my holy mountain, in the mountain of the height of Israel, saith the Lord Jehovah, there shall all the house of Israel, all of them, serve me in the land: there will I accept them, and there will I require your offerings, and the firstfruits of your oblations, with all your holy things. ⁴¹ As a sweet savor will I accept you, when I bring you out from the peoples, and gather you out of the countries wherein ye have been scattered; and I will be sanctified in you in the sight of the nations. ⁴² And ye shall know that I am Jehovah, when I shall bring you into the land of Israel, into the country which I swore to give unto your fathers. ⁴³ And there shall ye remember your ways, and all your doings, wherein ye have polluted yourselves; and ye shall loathe yourselves in your own sight for all your evils that ye have committed. ⁴⁴ And ye shall know that I am Jehovah, when I have dealt with you for my name's sake, not according to your evil ways, nor according to your corrupt doings, O ye house of Israel, saith the Lord Jehovah.

⁴⁵ And the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying, ⁴⁶ Son of man, set thy face toward the south, and drop thy word toward the south, and prophesy against the forest of the field in the South; ⁴⁷ and say to the forest of the South, Hear the word of Jehovah: Thus saith the Lord Jehovah, Behold, I will kindle a fire in thee, and it shall devour every green tree in thee, and every dry tree: the flaming flame shall not be quenched, and all faces from the south to the north shall be burnt thereby. ⁴⁸ And all flesh shall see that I, Jehovah, have kindled it; it shall not be quenched. ⁴⁹ Then said I, Ah Lord Jehovah! they say of me, Is he not a speaker of parables?

¹ And the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying, ² Son of man, set thy face toward Jerusalem, and drop thy word toward the sanctuaries, and prophesy against the land of Israel; ³ and say to the land of Israel, Thus saith Jehovah: Behold, I am against thee, and will draw forth my sword out of its sheath, and will cut off from thee the righteous and the wicked. ⁴ Seeing then that I will cut off from thee the righteous and the wicked, therefore shall my sword go forth out of its sheath against all flesh from the south to the north: ⁵ and all flesh shall know that I, Jehovah, have drawn forth my sword out of its sheath; it shall not return anymore. ⁶ Sigh therefore, thou son of man; with the breaking of thy loins and with bitterness shalt thou sigh before their eyes. ⁷ And it shall be, when they say unto thee, Wherefore sighest thou? that thou shalt say, Because of the tidings, for it cometh; and every heart shall melt, and all hands shall be feeble, and every spirit shall faint, and all knees shall be weak as water: behold, it cometh, and it shall be done, saith the Lord Jehovah.

⁸ And the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying, ⁹ Son of man, prophesy, and say, Thus saith Jehovah: Say, A sword, a sword, it is sharpened, and also furbished; ¹⁰ it is sharpened that it may make a slaughter; it is furbished that it may be as lightning: shall we then make mirth? the rod of my son, it contemneth every tree. ¹¹ And it is given to be furbished, that it may be handled: the sword, it is sharpened, yea, it is furbished, to give it into the hand of the slayer. ¹² Cry and wail, son of man; for it is upon my people, it is upon all the princes of Israel: they are delivered over to the sword with my people; smite therefore upon thy thigh. ¹³ For there is a trial; and what if even the rod that contemneth shall be no more? saith the Lord Jehovah. ¹⁴ Thou therefore, son of man, prophesy, and smite thy hands together; and let the sword be doubled the third time, the sword of the deadly wounded: it is the sword of the great one that is deadly wounded, which entereth into their chambers. ¹⁵ I have set the threatening sword against all their gates, that their heart may melt, and their stumblings be multiplied: ah! it is made as lightning, it is pointed for slaughter. ¹⁶ Gather thee together, go to the right, set thyself in array, go to the left, whithersoever thy face is set. ¹⁷ I will also smite my hands together, and I will cause my wrath to rest: I, Jehovah, have spoken it.

¹⁸ The word of Jehovah came unto me again, saying, ¹⁹ Also, thou son of man, appoint thee two ways, that the sword of the king of Babylon may come; they twain shall come forth out of one land: and mark out a place, mark it out at the head of the way to the city. ²⁰ Thou shalt appoint a way for the sword to come to Rabbah of the children of Ammon, and to Judah in Jerusalem the fortified. ²¹ For the king of Babylon stood at the parting of the way, at the head of the two ways, to use divination: he shook the arrows to and fro, he consulted the teraphim, he looked in the liver. ²² In his right hand was the divination for Jerusalem, to set battering rams, to open the mouth in the slaughter, to lift up the voice with shouting, to set battering rams against the gates, to cast up mounds, to build forts. ²³ And it shall be unto them as a false divination in their sight, who have sworn oaths unto them; but he bringeth iniquity to remembrance, that they may be taken.

²⁴ Therefore thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Because ye have made your iniquity to be remembered, in that your transgressions are uncovered, so that in all your doings your sins do appear; because that ye are come to remembrance, ye shall be taken with the hand. ²⁵ And thou, O deadly wounded wicked one, the prince of Israel, whose day is come, in the time of the iniquity of the end, ²⁶ thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Remove the miter, and take off the crown; this shall be no more the same; exalt that which is low, and abase that which is high. ²⁷ I will overturn, overturn, overturn it: this also shall be no more, until he come whose right it is; and I will give it him.

²⁸ And thou, son of man, prophesy, and say, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah concerning the children of Ammon, and concerning their reproach; and say thou, A sword, a sword is drawn, for the slaughter it is furbished, to cause it to devour, that it may be as lightning; ²⁹ while they see for thee false visions, while they divine lies unto thee, to lay thee upon the necks of the wicked that are deadly wounded, whose day is come in the time of the iniquity of the end. ³⁰ Cause it to return into its sheath. In the place where thou wast created, in the land of thy birth, will I judge thee. ³¹ And I will pour out mine indignation upon thee; I will blow upon thee with the fire of my wrath; and I will deliver thee into the hand of brutish men, skillful to destroy. ³² Thou shalt be for fuel to the fire; thy blood shall be in the midst of the land; thou shalt be no more remembered: for I, Jehovah, have spoken it.

⁶ Behold, the princes of Israel, every one according to his power, have been in thee to shed blood. ⁷ In thee have they set light by father and mother; in the midst of thee have they dealt by oppression with the sojourner; in thee have they wronged the fatherless and the widow. ⁸ Thou hast despised my holy things, and hast profaned my sabbaths. ⁹ Slandrous men have been in thee to shed blood; and in thee they have eaten upon the mountains: in the midst of thee they have committed lewdness. ¹⁰ In thee have they uncovered their fathers' nakedness; in thee have they humbled her that was unclean in her impurity. ¹¹ And one hath committed abomination with his neighbor's wife; and another hath lewdly defiled his daughter-in-law; and another in thee hath humbled his sister, his father's daughter. ¹² In thee have they taken bribes to shed blood; thou hast taken interest and increase, and thou hast greedily gained of thy neighbors by oppression, and hast forgotten me, saith the Lord Jehovah.

¹³ Behold, therefore, I have smitten my hand at thy dishonest gain which thou hast made, and at thy blood which hath been in the midst of thee. ¹⁴ Can thy heart endure, or can thy hands be strong, in the days that I shall deal with thee? I, Jehovah, have spoken it, and will do it. ¹⁵ And I will scatter thee among the nations, and disperse thee through the countries; and I will consume thy filthiness out of thee. ¹⁶ And thou shalt be profaned in thyself, in the sight of the nations; and thou shalt know that I am Jehovah.

¹⁷ And the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying, ¹⁸ Son of man, the house of Israel is become dross unto me: all of them are brass and tin and iron and lead, in the midst of the furnace; they are the dross of silver. ¹⁹ Therefore thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Because ye are all become dross, therefore, behold, I will gather you into the midst of Jerusalem. ²⁰ As they gather silver and brass and iron and lead and tin into the midst of the furnace, to blow the fire upon it, to melt it; so will I gather you in mine anger and in my wrath, and I will lay you there, and melt you. ²¹ Yea, I will gather you, and blow upon you with the fire of my wrath, and ye shall be melted in the midst thereof. ²² As silver is melted in the midst of the furnace, so shall ye be melted in the midst thereof; and ye shall know that I, Jehovah, have poured out my wrath upon you.

²³ And the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying, ²⁴ Son of man, say unto her, Thou art a land that is not cleansed, nor rained upon in the day of indignation. ²⁵ There is a conspiracy of her prophets in the midst thereof, like a roaring lion ravening the prey: they have devoured souls; they take treasure and precious things; they have made her widows many in the midst thereof. ²⁶ Her priests have done violence to my law, and have profaned my holy things: they have made no distinction between the holy and the common, neither have they caused men to discern between the unclean and the clean, and have hidden their eyes from my sabbaths, and I am profaned among them. ²⁷ Her princes in the midst thereof are like wolves ravening the prey, to shed blood, and to destroy souls, that they may get dishonest gain. ²⁸ And her prophets have daubed for them with untempered mortar, seeing false visions, and divining lies unto them, saying, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah, when Jehovah hath not spoken. ²⁹ The people of the land have used oppression, and exercised robbery; yea, they have vexed the poor and needy, and have oppressed the sojourner wrongfully. ³⁰ And I sought for a man among them, that should build up the wall, and stand in the gap before me for the land, that I should not destroy it; but I found none. ³¹ Therefore have I poured out mine indignation upon them; I have consumed them with the fire of my wrath: their own way have I brought upon their heads, saith the Lord Jehovah.

¹ The word of Jehovah came again unto me, saying, ² Son of man, there were two women, the daughters of one mother: ³ and they played the harlot in Egypt; they played the harlot in their youth; there were their breasts pressed, and there was handled the bosom of their virginity. ⁴ And the names of them were Oholah the elder, and Oholibah her sister: and they became mine, and they bare sons and daughters. And as for their names, Samaria is Oholah, and Jerusalem Oholibah.

⁵ And Oholah played the harlot when she was mine; and she doted on her lovers, on the Assyrians her neighbors, ⁶ who were clothed with blue, governors and rulers, all of them desirable young men, horsemen riding upon horses. ⁷ And she bestowed her whoredoms upon them, the choicest men of Assyria all of them; and on whomsoever she doted, with all their idols she defiled herself. ⁸ Neither hath she left her whoredoms since the days of Egypt; for in her youth they lay with her, and they handled the bosom of her virginity; and they poured out their whoredom upon her. ⁹ Wherefore I delivered her into the hand of her lovers, into the hand of the Assyrians, upon whom she doted. ¹⁰ These uncovered her nakedness; they took her sons and her daughters; and her they slew with the sword: and she became a byword among women; for they executed judgments upon her.

¹¹ And her sister Oholibah saw this, yet was she more corrupt in her doting than she, and in her whoredoms which were more than the whoredoms of her sister. ¹² She doted upon the Assyrians, governors and rulers, her neighbors, clothed most gorgeously, horsemen riding upon horses, all of them desirable young men. ¹³ And I saw that she was defiled; they both took one way. ¹⁴ And she increased her whoredoms; for she saw men portrayed upon the wall, the images of the Chaldeans portrayed with vermillion, ¹⁵ girded with girdles upon their loins, with flowing turbans upon their heads, all of them princes to look upon, after the likeness of the Babylonians in Chaldea, the land of their nativity. ¹⁶ And as soon as she saw them she doted upon them, and sent messengers unto them into Chaldea. ¹⁷ And the Babylonians came to her into the bed of love, and they defiled her with their whoredom, and she was polluted with them, and her soul was alienated from them. ¹⁸ So she uncovered her whoredoms, and uncovered her nakedness: then my soul was alienated from her, like as my soul was alienated from her sister. ¹⁹ Yet she multiplied her whoredoms, remembering the days of her youth, wherein she had played the harlot in the land of Egypt. ²⁰ And she doted upon their paramours, whose flesh is as the flesh of asses, and whose issue is like the issue of horses. ²¹ Thus thou calledst to remembrance the lewdness of thy youth, in the handling of thy bosom by the Egyptians for the breasts of thy youth.

²² Therefore, O Oholibah, thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Behold, I will raise up thy lovers against thee, from whom thy soul is alienated, and I will bring them against thee on every side: ²³ the Babylonians and all the Chaldeans, Pekod and Shoa and Koa, and all the Assyrians with them; desirable young men, governors and rulers all of them, princes and men of renown, all of them riding upon horses. ²⁴ And they shall come against thee with weapons, chariots, and wagons, and with a company of peoples; they shall set themselves against thee with buckler and shield and helmet round about: and I will commit the judgment unto them, and they shall judge thee according to their judgments. ²⁵ And I will set my jealousy against thee, and they shall deal with thee in fury; they shall take away thy nose and thine ears; and thy residue shall fall by the sword: they shall take thy sons and thy daughters; and thy residue shall be devoured by the fire. ²⁶ They shall also strip thee of thy clothes, and take away thy fair jewels. ²⁷ Thus will I make thy lewdness to cease from thee, and thy whoredom brought from the land of Egypt; so that thou shalt not lift up thine eyes unto them, nor remember Egypt anymore. ²⁸ For thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Behold, I will deliver thee into the hand of them whom thou hatest, into the hand of them from whom thy soul is alienated; ²⁹ and they shall deal with thee in hatred, and shall take away all thy labor, and shall leave thee naked and bare; and the nakedness of thy whoredoms shall be uncovered, both thy lewdness and thy whoredoms.

forgotten me, and cast me behind thy back, therefore bear thou also thy lewdness and thy whoredoms.

³⁶ Jehovah said moreover unto me: Son of man, wilt thou judge Oholah and Oholibah? then declare unto them their abominations. ³⁷ For they have committed adultery, and blood is in their hands; and with their idols have they committed adultery; and they have also caused their sons, whom they bare unto me, to pass through the fire unto them to be devoured. ³⁸ Moreover this they have done unto me: they have defiled my sanctuary in the same day, and have profaned my sabbaths. ³⁹ For when they had slain their children to their idols, then they came the same day into my sanctuary to profane it; and, lo, thus have they done in the midst of my house. ⁴⁰ And furthermore ye have sent for men that come from far, unto whom a messenger was sent, and, lo, they came; for whom thou didst wash thyself, paint thine eyes, and deck thyself with ornaments, ⁴¹ and sit upon a stately bed, with a table prepared before it, whereupon thou didst set mine incense and mine oil. ⁴² And the voice of a multitude being at ease was with her: and with men of the common sort were brought drunkards from the wilderness; and they put bracelets upon the hands of them twain, and beautiful crowns upon their heads.

⁴³ Then said I of her that was old in adulteries, Now will they play the harlot with her, and she with them. ⁴⁴ And they went in unto her, as they go in unto a harlot: so went they in unto Oholah and unto Oholibah, the lewd women. ⁴⁵ And righteous men, they shall judge them with the judgment of adulteresses, and with the judgment of women that shed blood; because they are adulteresses, and blood is in their hands. ⁴⁶ For thus saith the Lord Jehovah: I will bring up a company against them, and will give them to be tossed to and fro and robbed. ⁴⁷ And the company shall stone them with stones, and despatch them with their swords; they shall slay their sons and their daughters, and burn up their houses with fire. ⁴⁸ Thus will I cause lewdness to cease out of the land, that all women may be taught not to do after your lewdness. ⁴⁹ And they shall recompense your lewdness upon you, and ye shall bear the sins of your idols; and ye shall know that I am the Lord Jehovah.

⁶ Wherefore thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Woe to the bloody city, to the caldron whose rust is therein, and whose rust is not gone out of it! take out of it piece after piece; No lot is fallen upon it. ⁷ For her blood is in the midst of her; she set it upon the bare rock; she poured it not upon the ground, to cover it with dust. ⁸ That it may cause wrath to come up to take vengeance, I have set her blood upon the bare rock, that it should not be covered. ⁹ Therefore thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Woe to the bloody city! I also will make the pile great. ¹⁰ Heap on the wood, make the fire hot, boil well the flesh, and make thick the broth, and let the bones be burned. ¹¹ Then set it empty upon the coals thereof, that it may be hot, and the brass thereof may burn, and that the filthiness of it may be molten in it, that the rust of it may be consumed. ¹² She hath wearied herself with toil; yet her great rust goeth not forth out of her; her rust goeth not forth by fire. ¹³ In thy filthiness is lewdness: because I have cleansed thee and thou wast not cleansed, thou shalt not be cleansed from thy filthiness anymore, till I have caused my wrath toward thee to rest. ¹⁴ I, Jehovah, have spoken it: it shall come to pass, and I will do it: I will not go back, neither will I spare, neither will I repent; according to thy ways, and according to thy doings, shall they judge thee, saith the Lord Jehovah.

¹⁵ Also the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying, ¹⁶ Son of man, behold, I take away from thee the desire of thine eyes with a stroke: yet thou shalt neither mourn nor weep, neither shall thy tears run down. ¹⁷ Sigh, but not aloud, make no mourning for the dead; bind thy headtire upon thee, and put thy shoes upon thy feet, and cover not thy lips, and eat not the bread of men. ¹⁸ So I spake unto the people in the morning; and at even my wife died; and I did in the morning as I was commanded.

¹⁹ And the people said unto me, Wilt thou not tell us what these things are to us, that thou doest so? ²⁰ Then I said unto them, The word of Jehovah came unto me, saying, ²¹ Speak unto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Behold, I will profane my sanctuary, the pride of your power, the desire of your eyes, and that which your soul pitieth; and your sons and your daughters whom ye have left behind shall fall by the sword. ²² And ye shall do as I have done: ye shall not cover your lips, nor eat the bread of men. ²³ And your tires shall be upon your heads, and your shoes upon your feet: ye shall not mourn nor weep; but ye shall pine away in your iniquities, and moan one toward another. ²⁴ Thus shall Ezekiel be unto you a sign; according to all that he hath done shall ye do: when this cometh, then shall ye know that I am the Lord Jehovah.

²⁵ And thou, son of man, shall it not be in the day when I take from them their strength, the joy of their glory, the desire of their eyes, and that whereupon they set their heart, their sons and their daughters, ²⁶ that in that day he that escapeth shall come unto thee, to cause thee to hear it with thine ears? ²⁷ In that day shall thy mouth be opened to him that is escaped, and thou shalt speak, and be no more dumb: so shalt thou be a sign unto them; and they shall know that I am Jehovah.

¹ And the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying, ² Son of man, set thy face toward the children of Ammon, and prophesy against them: ³ and say unto the children of Ammon, Hear the word of the Lord Jehovah: Thus saith the Lord Jehovah, Because thou saidst, Aha, against my sanctuary, when it was profaned; and against the land of Israel, when it was made desolate; and against the house of Judah, when they went into captivity: ⁴ therefore, behold, I will deliver thee to the children of the east for a possession, and they shall set their encampments in thee, and make their dwellings in thee; they shall eat thy fruit, and they shall drink thy milk. ⁵ And I will make Rabbah a stable for camels, and the children of Ammon a couching place for flocks: and ye shall know that I am Jehovah. ⁶ For thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Because thou hast clapped thy hands, and stamped with the feet, and rejoiced with all the despite of thy soul against the land of Israel; ⁷ therefore, behold, I have stretched out my hand upon thee, and will deliver thee for a spoil to the nations; and I will cut thee off from the peoples, and I will cause thee to perish out of the countries: I will destroy thee; and thou shalt know that I am Jehovah.

⁸ Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Because that Moab and Seir do say, Behold, the house of Judah is like unto all the nations; ⁹ therefore, behold, I will open the side of Moab from the cities, from his cities which are on his frontiers, the glory of the country, Beth-jeshimoth, Baal-meon, and Kiriathaim, ¹⁰ unto the children of the east, to go against the children of Ammon; and I will give them for a possession, that the children of Ammon may not be remembered among the nations: ¹¹ and I will execute judgments upon Moab; and they shall know that I am Jehovah.

¹² Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Because that Edom hath dealt against the house of Judah by taking vengeance, and hath greatly offended, and revenged himself upon them; ¹³ therefore thus saith the Lord Jehovah, I will stretch out my hand upon Edom, and will cut off man and beast from it; and I will make it desolate from Teman; even unto Dedan shall they fall by the sword. ¹⁴ And I will lay my vengeance upon Edom by the hand of my people Israel; and they shall do in Edom according to mine anger and according to my wrath; and they shall know my vengeance, saith the Lord Jehovah.

¹⁵ Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Because the Philistines have dealt by revenge, and have taken vengeance with despite of soul to destroy with perpetual enmity; ¹⁶ therefore thus saith the Lord Jehovah, Behold, I will stretch out my hand upon the Philistines, and I will cut off the Cherethites, and destroy the remnant of the seacoast. ¹⁷ And I will execute great vengeance upon them with wrathful rebukes; and they shall know that I am Jehovah, when I shall lay my vengeance upon them.

¹ And it came to pass in the eleventh year, in the first day of the month, that the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying, ² Son of man, because that Tyre hath said against Jerusalem, Aha, she is broken that was the gate of the peoples; she is turned unto me; I shall be replenished, now that she is laid waste: ³ therefore thus saith the Lord Jehovah, Behold, I am against thee, O Tyre, and will cause many nations to come up against thee, as the sea causeth its waves to come up. ⁴ And they shall destroy the walls of Tyre, and break down her towers: I will also scrape her dust from her, and make her a bare rock. ⁵ She shall be a place for the spreading of nets in the midst of the sea; for I have spoken it, saith the Lord Jehovah; and she shall become a spoil to the nations. ⁶ And her daughters that are in the field shall be slain with the sword: and they shall know that I am Jehovah.

⁷ For thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Behold, I will bring upon Tyre Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, king of kings, from the north, with horses, and with chariots, and with horsemen, and a company, and much people. ⁸ He shall slay with the sword thy daughters in the field; and he shall make forts against thee, and cast up a mound against thee, and raise up the buckler against thee. ⁹ And he shall set his battering engines against thy walls, and with his axes he shall break down thy towers. ¹⁰ By reason of the abundance of his horses their dust shall cover thee: thy walls shall shake at the noise of the horsemen, and of the wagons, and of the chariots, when he shall enter into thy gates, as men enter into a city wherein is made a breach. ¹¹ With the hoofs of his horses shall he tread down all thy streets; he shall slay thy people with the sword; and the pillars of thy strength shall go down to the ground. ¹² And they shall make a spoil of thy riches, and make a prey of thy merchandise; and they shall break down thy walls, and destroy thy pleasant houses; and they shall lay thy stones and thy timber and thy dust in the midst of the waters. ¹³ And I will cause the noise of thy songs to cease; and the sound of thy harps shall be no more heard. ¹⁴ And I will make thee a bare rock; thou shalt be a place for the spreading of nets; thou shalt be built no more: for I Jehovah have spoken it, saith the Lord Jehovah.

¹⁶ Then all the princes of the sea shall come down from their thrones, and lay aside their robes, and strip off their brodered garments: they shall clothe themselves with trembling; they shall sit upon the ground, and shall tremble every moment, and be astonished at thee. ¹⁷ And they shall take up a lamentation over thee, and say to thee, How art thou destroyed, that wast inhabited by seafaring men, the renowned city, that was strong in the sea, she and her inhabitants, that caused their terror to be on all that dwelt there! ¹⁸ Now shall the isles tremble in the day of thy fall; yea, the isles that are in the sea shall be dismayed at thy departure.

¹⁹ For thus saith the Lord Jehovah: When I shall make thee a desolate city, like the cities that are not inhabited; when I shall bring up the deep upon thee, and the great waters shall cover thee; ²⁰ then will I bring thee down with them that descend into the pit, to the people of old time, and will make thee to dwell in the nether parts of the earth, in the places that are desolate of old, with them that go down to the pit, that thou be not inhabited; and I will set glory in the land of the living. ²¹ I will make thee a terror, and thou shalt no more have any being; though thou be sought for, yet shalt thou never be found again, saith the Lord Jehovah.

¹ The word of Jehovah came again unto me, saying, ² And thou, son of man, take up a lamentation over Tyre; ³ and say unto Tyre, O thou that dwellest at the entry of the sea, that art the merchant of the peoples unto many isles, thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Thou, O Tyre, hast said, I am perfect in beauty. ⁴ Thy borders are in the heart of the seas; thy builders have perfected thy beauty. ⁵ They have made all thy planks of fir trees from Senir; they have taken a cedar from Lebanon to make a mast for thee. ⁶ Of the oaks of Bashan have they made thine oars; they have made thy benches of ivory inlaid in boxwood, from the isles of Kittim. ⁷ Of fine linen with brodered work from Egypt was thy sail, that it might be to thee for an ensign; blue and purple from the isles of Elishah was thine awning. ⁸ The inhabitants of Sidon and Arvad were thy rowers: thy wise men, O Tyre, were in thee, they were thy pilots. ⁹ The old men of Gebal and the wise men thereof were in thee thy caulkers: all the ships of the sea with their mariners were in thee to deal in thy merchandise. ¹⁰ Persia and Lud and Put were in thine army, thy men of war: they hung the shield and helmet in thee; they set forth thy comeliness. ¹¹ The men of Arvad with thine army were upon thy walls round about, and valorous men were in thy towers; they hung their shields upon thy walls round about; they have perfected thy beauty.

¹² Tarshish was thy merchant by reason of the multitude of all kinds of riches; with silver, iron, tin, and lead, they traded for thy wares. ¹³ Javan, Tubal, and Meshech, they were thy traffickers; they traded the persons of men and vessels of brass for thy merchandise. ¹⁴ They of the house of Togarmah traded for thy wares with horses and warhorses and mules. ¹⁵ The men of Dedan were thy traffickers; many isles were the mart of thy hand: they brought thee in exchange horns of ivory and ebony. ¹⁶ Syria was thy merchant by reason of the multitude of thy handiworks: they traded for thy wares with emeralds, purple, and brodered work, and fine linen, and coral, and rubies. ¹⁷ Judah, and the land of Israel, they were thy traffickers: they traded for thy merchandise wheat of Minnith, and pannag, and honey, and oil, and balm. ¹⁸ Damascus was thy merchant for the multitude of thy handiworks, by reason of the multitude of all kinds of riches, with the wine of Helbon, and white wool. ¹⁹ Vedan and Javan traded with yarn for thy wares: bright iron, cassia, and calamus, were among thy merchandise. ²⁰ Dedan was thy trafficker in precious cloths for riding. ²¹ Arabia, and all the princes of Kedar, they were the merchants of thy hand; in lambs, and rams, and goats, in these were they thy merchants. ²² The traffickers of Sheba and Raamah, they were thy traffickers; they traded for thy wares with the chief of all spices, and with all precious stones, and gold. ²³ Haran and Canneh and Eden, the traffickers of Sheba, Asshur and Chilmad, were thy traffickers. ²⁴ These were thy traffickers in choice wares, in wrappings of blue and brodered work, and in chests of rich apparel, bound with cords and made of cedar, among thy merchandise. ²⁵ The ships of Tarshish were thy caravans for thy merchandise: and thou wast replenished, and made very glorious in the heart of the seas.

²⁶ Thy rowers have brought thee into great waters: the east wind hath broken thee in the heart of the seas. ²⁷ Thy riches, and thy wares, thy merchandise, thy mariners, and thy pilots, thy caulkers, and the dealers in thy merchandise, and all thy men of war, that are in thee, with all thy company which is in the midst of thee, shall fall into the heart of the seas in the day of thy ruin. ²⁸ At the sound of the cry of thy pilots the suburbs shall shake. ²⁹ And all that handle the oar, the mariners, and all the pilots of the sea, shall come down from their ships; they shall stand upon the land, ³⁰ and shall cause their voice to be heard over thee, and shall cry bitterly, and shall cast up dust upon their heads; they shall wallow themselves in the ashes: ³¹ and they shall make themselves bald for thee, and gird them with sackcloth, and they shall weep for thee in bitterness of soul with bitter mourning. ³² And in their wailing they shall take up a lamentation for thee, and lament over thee, saying, Who is there like Tyre, like her that is brought to silence in the midst of the sea? ³³ When thy wares went forth out of the seas, thou filledst many peoples; thou didst enrich the kings of the earth with the multitude of thy riches and of thy merchandise. ³⁴ In the time that thou wast broken by the seas in the depths of the waters, thy merchandise and all thy company did fall in the midst of thee. ³⁵ All the inhabitants of the isles are astonished at thee, and their kings are horribly afraid; they are troubled in their countenance. ³⁶ The merchants among the peoples hiss at thee; thou art become a terror, and thou shalt nevermore have any being.

¹ The word of Jehovah came again unto me, saying, ² Son of man, say unto the prince of Tyre, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Because thy heart is lifted up, and thou hast said, I am a god, I sit in the seat of God, in the midst of the seas; yet thou art man, and not God, though thou didst set thy heart as the heart of God— ³ behold, thou art wiser than Daniel; there is no secret that is hidden from thee; ⁴ by thy wisdom and by thine understanding thou hast gotten thee riches, and hast gotten gold and silver into thy treasures; ⁵ by thy great wisdom and by thy traffic hast thou increased thy riches, and thy heart is lifted up because of thy riches— ⁶ therefore thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Because thou hast set thy heart as the heart of God, ⁷ therefore, behold, I will bring strangers upon thee, the terrible of the nations; and they shall draw their swords against the beauty of thy wisdom, and they shall defile thy brightness. ⁸ They shall bring thee down to the pit; and thou shalt die the death of them that are slain, in the heart of the seas. ⁹ Wilt thou yet say before him that slayeth thee, I am God? but thou art man, and not God, in the hand of him that woundeth thee. ¹⁰ Thou shalt die the death of the uncircumcised by the hand of strangers: for I have spoken it, saith the Lord Jehovah.

carbuncle, and gold: the workmanship of thy tabrets and of thy pipes was in thee; in the day that thou wast created they were prepared. ¹⁴ Thou wast the anointed cherub that covereth: and I set thee, so that thou wast upon the holy mountain of God; thou hast walked up and down in the midst of the stones of fire. ¹⁵ Thou wast perfect in thy ways from the day that thou wast created, till unrighteousness was found in thee. ¹⁶ By the abundance of thy traffic they filled the midst of thee with violence, and thou hast sinned: therefore have I cast thee as profane out of the mountain of God; and I have destroyed thee, O covering cherub, from the midst of the stones of fire. ¹⁷ Thy heart was lifted up because of thy beauty; thou hast corrupted thy wisdom by reason of thy brightness: I have cast thee to the ground; I have laid thee before kings, that they may behold thee. ¹⁸ By the multitude of thine iniquities, in the unrighteousness of thy traffic, thou hast profaned thy sanctuaries; therefore have I brought forth a fire from the midst of thee; it hath devoured thee, and I have turned thee to ashes upon the earth in the sight of all them that behold thee. ¹⁹ All they that know thee among the peoples shall be astonished at thee: thou art become a terror, and thou shalt nevermore have any being.

²⁰ And the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying, ²¹ Son of man, set thy face toward Sidon, and prophesy against it, ²² and say, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Behold, I am against thee, O Sidon; and I will be glorified in the midst of thee; and they shall know that I am Jehovah, when I shall have executed judgments in her, and shall be sanctified in her. ²³ For I will send pestilence into her, and blood into her streets; and the wounded shall fall in the midst of her, with the sword upon her on every side; and they shall know that I am Jehovah. ²⁴ And there shall be no more a pricking brier unto the house of Israel, nor a hurting thorn of any that are round about them, that did despite unto them; and they shall know that I am the Lord Jehovah.

⁸ Therefore thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Behold, I will bring a sword upon thee, and will cut off from thee man and beast. ⁹ And the land of Egypt shall be a desolation and a waste; and they shall know that I am Jehovah. Because he hath said, The river is mine, and I have made it; ¹⁰ therefore, behold, I am against thee, and against thy rivers, and I will make the land of Egypt an utter waste and desolation, from the tower of Syene even unto the border of Ethiopia. ¹¹ No foot of man shall pass through it, nor foot of beast shall pass through it, neither shall it be inhabited forty years. ¹² And I will make the land of Egypt a desolation in the midst of the countries that are desolate; and her cities among the cities that are laid waste shall be a desolation forty years; and I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and will disperse them through the countries.

¹³ For thus saith the Lord Jehovah: At the end of forty years will I gather the Egyptians from the peoples whither they were scattered; ¹⁴ and I will bring back the captivity of Egypt, and will cause them to return into the land of Pathros, into the land of their birth; and they shall be there a base kingdom. ¹⁵ It shall be the basest of the kingdoms; neither shall it anymore lift itself up above the nations: and I will diminish them, that they shall no more rule over the nations. ¹⁶ And it shall be no more the confidence of the house of Israel, bringing iniquity to remembrance, when they turn to look after them: and they shall know that I am the Lord Jehovah.

¹⁷ And it came to pass in the seven and twentieth year, in the first month, in the first day of the month, the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying, ¹⁸ Son of man, Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon caused his army to serve a great service against Tyre: every head was made bald, and every shoulder was worn; yet had he no wages, nor his army, from Tyre, for the service that he had served against it. ¹⁹ Therefore thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Behold, I will give the land of Egypt unto Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon; and he shall carry off her multitude, and take her spoil, and take her prey; and it shall be the wages for his army. ²⁰ I have given him the land of Egypt as his recompense for which he served, because they wrought for me, saith the Lord Jehovah.

²¹ In that day will I cause a horn to bud forth unto the house of Israel, and I will give thee the opening of the mouth in the midst of them; and they shall know that I am Jehovah.

¹ The word of Jehovah came again unto me, saying, ² Son of man, prophesy, and say, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Wail ye, Alas for the day! ³ For the day is near, even the day of Jehovah is near; it shall be a day of clouds, a time of the nations. ⁴ And a sword shall come upon Egypt, and anguish shall be in Ethiopia, when the slain shall fall in Egypt; and they shall take away her multitude, and her foundations shall be broken down. ⁵ Ethiopia, and Put, and Lud, and all the mingled people, and Cub, and the children of the land that is in league, shall fall with them by the sword.

¹³ Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: I will also destroy the idols, and I will cause the images to cease from Memphis; and there shall be no more a prince from the land of Egypt: and I will put a fear in the land of Egypt. ¹⁴ And I will make Pathros desolate, and will set a fire in Zoan, and will execute judgments upon No. ¹⁵ And I will pour my wrath upon Sin, the stronghold of Egypt; and I will cut off the multitude of No. ¹⁶ And I will set a fire in Egypt: Sin shall be in great anguish, and No shall be broken up; and Memphis shall have adversaries in the daytime. ¹⁷ The young men of Aven and of Pi-beseth shall fall by the sword; and these cities shall go into captivity. ¹⁸ At Tehaphnehes also the day shall withdraw itself, when I shall break there the yokes of Egypt, and the pride of her power shall cease in her: as for her, a cloud shall cover her, and her daughters shall go into captivity. ¹⁹ Thus will I execute judgments upon Egypt; and they shall know that I am Jehovah.

²⁰ And it came to pass in the eleventh year, in the first month, in the seventh day of the month, that the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying, ²¹ Son of man, I have broken the arm of Pharaoh king of Egypt; and, lo, it hath not been bound up, to apply healing medicines, to put a bandage to bind it, that it be strong to hold the sword. ²² Therefore thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Behold, I am against Pharaoh king of Egypt, and will break his arms, the strong arm, and that which was broken; and I will cause the sword to fall out of his hand. ²³ And I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and will disperse them through the countries. ²⁴ And I will strengthen the arms of the king of Babylon, and put my sword in his hand: but I will break the arms of Pharaoh, and he shall groan before him with the groanings of a deadly wounded man. ²⁵ And I will hold up the arms of the king of Babylon; and the arms of Pharaoh shall fall down; and they shall know that I am Jehovah, when I shall put my sword into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall stretch it out upon the land of Egypt. ²⁶ And I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and disperse them through the countries; and they shall know that I am Jehovah.

¹ And it came to pass in the eleventh year, in the third month, in the first day of the month, that the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying, ² Son of man, say unto Pharaoh king of Egypt, and to his multitude: Whom art thou like in thy greatness? ³ Behold, the Assyrian was a cedar in Lebanon with fair branches, and with a forest-like shade, and of high stature; and its top was among the thick boughs. ⁴ The waters nourished it, the deep made it to grow: the rivers thereof ran round about its plantation; and it sent out its channels unto all the trees of the field. ⁵ Therefore its stature was exalted above all the trees of the field; and its boughs were multiplied, and its branches became long by reason of many waters, when it shot them forth. ⁶ All the birds of the heavens made their nests in its boughs; and under its branches did all the beasts of the field bring forth their young; and under its shadow dwelt all great nations. ⁷ Thus was it fair in its greatness, in the length of its branches; for its root was by many waters. ⁸ The cedars in the garden of God could not hide it; the fir trees were not like its boughs, and the plane trees were not as its branches; nor was any tree in the garden of God like unto it in its beauty. ⁹ I made it fair by the multitude of its branches, so that all the trees of Eden, that were in the garden of God, envied it.

¹⁰ Therefore thus said the Lord Jehovah: Because thou art exalted in stature, and he hath set his top among the thick boughs, and his heart is lifted up in his height; ¹¹ I will even deliver him into the hand of the mighty one of the nations; he shall surely deal with him; I have driven him out for his wickedness. ¹² And strangers, the terrible of the nations, have cut him off, and have left him: upon the mountains and in all the valleys his branches are fallen, and his boughs are broken by all the watercourses of the land; and all the peoples of the earth are gone down from his shadow, and have left him. ¹³ Upon his ruin all the birds of the heavens shall dwell, and all the beasts of the field shall be upon his branches; ¹⁴ to the end that none of all the trees by the waters exalt themselves in their stature, neither set their top among the thick boughs, nor that their mighty ones stand up in their height, even all that drink water: for they are all delivered unto death, to the nether parts of the earth, in the midst of the children of men, with them that go down to the pit.

¹⁵ Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: In the day when he went down to Sheol I caused a mourning: I covered the deep for him, and I restrained the rivers thereof; and the great waters were stayed; and I caused Lebanon to mourn for him, and all the trees of the field fainted for him. ¹⁶ I made the nations to shake at the sound of his fall, when I cast him down to Sheol with them that descend into the pit; and all the trees of Eden, the choice and best of Lebanon, all that drink water, were comforted in the nether parts of the earth. ¹⁷ They also went down into Sheol with him unto them that are slain by the sword; yea, they that were his arm, that dwelt under his shadow in the midst of the nations.

¹⁷ It came to pass also in the twelfth year, in the fifteenth day of the month, that the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying, ¹⁸ Son of man, wail for the multitude of Egypt, and cast them down, even her, and the daughters of the famous nations, unto the nether parts of the earth, with them that go down into the pit. ¹⁹ Whom dost thou pass in beauty? go down, and be thou laid with the uncircumcised. ²⁰ They shall fall in the midst of them that are slain by the sword: she is delivered to the sword; draw her away and all her multitudes. ²¹ The strong among the mighty shall speak to him out of the midst of Sheol with them that help him: they are gone down, they lie still, even the uncircumcised, slain by the sword.

³¹ Pharaoh shall see them, and shall be comforted over all his multitude, even Pharaoh and all his army, slain by the sword, saith the Lord Jehovah. ³² For I have put his terror in the land of the living; and he shall be laid in the midst of the uncircumcised, with them that are slain by the sword, even Pharaoh and all his multitude, saith the Lord Jehovah.

¹ And the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying, ² Son of man, speak to the children of thy people, and say unto them, When I bring the sword upon a land, and the people of the land take a man from among them, and set him for their watchman; ³ if, when he seeth the sword come upon the land, he blow the trumpet, and warn the people; ⁴ then whosoever heareth the sound of the trumpet, and taketh not warning, if the sword come, and take him away, his blood shall be upon his own head. ⁵ He heard the sound of the trumpet, and took not warning; his blood shall be upon him; whereas if he had taken warning, he would have delivered his soul. ⁶ But if the watchman see the sword come, and blow not the trumpet, and the people be not warned, and the sword come, and take any person from among them; he is taken away in his iniquity, but his blood will I require at the watchman's hand.

¹⁰ And thou, son of man, say unto the house of Israel: Thus ye speak, saying, Our transgressions and our sins are upon us, and we pine away in them; how then can we live? ¹¹ Say unto them, As I live, saith the Lord Jehovah, I have no pleasure in the death of the wicked; but that the wicked turn from his way and live: turn ye, turn ye from your evil ways; for why will ye die, O house of Israel? ¹² And thou, son of man, say unto the children of thy people, The righteousness of the righteous shall not deliver him in the day of his transgression; and as for the wickedness of the wicked, he shall not fall thereby in the day that he turneth from his wickedness; neither shall he that is righteous be able to live thereby in the day that he sinneth. ¹³ When I say to the righteous, that he shall surely live; if he trust to his righteousness, and commit iniquity, none of his righteous deeds shall be remembered; but in his iniquity that he hath committed, therein shall he die. ¹⁴ Again, when I say unto the wicked, Thou shalt surely die; if he turn from his sin, and do that which is lawful and right; ¹⁵ if the wicked restore the pledge, give again that which he had taken by robbery, walk in the statutes of life, committing no iniquity; he shall surely live, he shall not die. ¹⁶ None of his sins that he hath committed shall be remembered against him: he hath done that which is lawful and right; he shall surely live.

²¹ And it came to pass in the twelfth year of our captivity, in the tenth month, in the fifth day of the month, that one that had escaped out of Jerusalem came unto me, saying, The city is smitten. ²² Now the hand of Jehovah had been upon me in the evening, before he that was escaped came; and he had opened my mouth, until he came to me in the morning; and my mouth was opened, and I was no more dumb.

²³ And the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying, ²⁴ Son of man, they that inhabit those waste places in the land of Israel speak, saying, Abraham was one, and he inherited the land: but we are many; the land is given us for inheritance.

²⁹ Then shall they know that I am Jehovah, when I have made the land a desolation and an astonishment, because of all their abominations which they have committed.

³⁰ And as for thee, son of man, the children of thy people talk of thee by the walls and in the doors of the houses, and speak one to another, every one to his brother, saying, Come, I pray you, and hear what is the word that cometh forth from Jehovah. ³¹ And they come unto thee as the people cometh, and they sit before thee as my people, and they hear thy words, but do them not; for with their mouth they show much love, but their heart goeth after their gain. ³² And, lo, thou art unto them as a very lovely song of one that hath a pleasant voice, and can play well on an instrument; for they hear thy words, but they do them not. ³³ And when this cometh to pass (behold, it cometh), then shall they know that a prophet hath been among them.

⁷ Therefore, ye shepherds, hear the word of Jehovah: ⁸ As I live, saith the Lord Jehovah, surely forasmuch as my sheep became a prey, and my sheep became food to all the beasts of the field, because there was no shepherd, neither did my shepherds search for my sheep, but the shepherds fed themselves, and fed not my sheep; ⁹ therefore, ye shepherds, hear the word of Jehovah: ¹⁰ Thus saith the Lord Jehovah, Behold, I am against the shepherds; and I will require my sheep at their hand, and cause them to cease from feeding the sheep; neither shall the shepherds feed themselves anymore; and I will deliver my sheep from their mouth, that they may not be food for them.

¹¹ For thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Behold, I myself, even I, will search for my sheep, and will seek them out. ¹² As a shepherd seeketh out his flock in the day that he is among his sheep that are scattered abroad, so will I seek out my sheep; and I will deliver them out of all places whither they have been scattered in the cloudy and dark day. ¹³ And I will bring them out from the peoples, and gather them from the countries, and will bring them into their own land; and I will feed them upon the mountains of Israel, by the watercourses, and in all the inhabited places of the country. ¹⁴ I will feed them with good pasture; and upon the mountains of the height of Israel shall their fold be: there shall they lie down in a good fold; and on fat pasture shall they feed upon the mountains of Israel. ¹⁵ I myself will be the shepherd of my sheep, and I will cause them to lie down, saith the Lord Jehovah. ¹⁶ I will seek that which was lost, and will bring back that which was driven away, and will bind up that which was broken, and will strengthen that which was sick: but the fat and the strong I will destroy; I will feed them in justice.

¹⁷ And as for you, O my flock, thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Behold, I judge between sheep and sheep, the rams and the he-goats. ¹⁸ Seemeth it a small thing unto you to have fed upon the good pasture, but ye must tread down with your feet the residue of your pasture? and to have drunk of the clear waters, but ye must foul the residue with your feet? ¹⁹ And as for my sheep, they eat that which ye have trodden with your feet, and they drink that which ye have fouled with your feet.

²⁰ Therefore thus saith the Lord Jehovah unto them: Behold, I, even I, will judge between the fat sheep and the lean sheep. ²¹ Because ye thrust with side and with shoulder, and push all the diseased with your horns, till ye have scattered them abroad; ²² therefore will I save my flock, and they shall no more be a prey; and I will judge between sheep and sheep. ²³ And I will set up one shepherd over them, and he shall feed them, even my servant David; he shall feed them, and he shall be their shepherd. ²⁴ And I, Jehovah, will be their God, and my servant David prince among them; I, Jehovah, have spoken it.

²⁵ And I will make with them a covenant of peace, and will cause evil beasts to cease out of the land; and they shall dwell securely in the wilderness, and sleep in the woods. ²⁶ And I will make them and the places round about my hill a blessing; and I will cause the shower to come down in its season; there shall be showers of blessing. ²⁷ And the tree of the field shall yield its fruit, and the earth shall yield its increase, and they shall be secure in their land; and they shall know that I am Jehovah, when I have broken the bars of their yoke, and have delivered them out of the hand of those that made bondmen of them. ²⁸ And they shall no more be a prey to the nations, neither shall the beasts of the earth devour them; but they shall dwell securely, and none shall make them afraid. ²⁹ And I will raise up unto them a plantation for renown, and they shall be no more consumed with famine in the land, neither bear the shame of the nations anymore. ³⁰ And they shall know that I, Jehovah, their God am with them, and that they, the house of Israel, are my people, saith the Lord Jehovah. ³¹ And ye my sheep, the sheep of my pasture, are men, and I am your God, saith the Lord Jehovah.

to the power of the sword in the time of their calamity, in the time of the iniquity of the end; ⁶ therefore, as I live, saith the Lord Jehovah, I will prepare thee unto blood, and blood shall pursue thee: since thou hast not hated blood, therefore blood shall pursue thee. ⁷ Thus will I make mount Seir an astonishment and a desolation; and I will cut off from it him that passeth through and him that returneth. ⁸ And I will fill its mountains with its slain: in thy hills and in thy valleys and in all thy watercourses shall they fall that are slain with the sword. ⁹ I will make thee a perpetual desolation, and thy cities shall not be inhabited; and ye shall know that I am Jehovah.

¹⁰ Because thou hast said, These two nations and these two countries shall be mine, and we will possess it; whereas Jehovah was there: ¹¹ therefore, as I live, saith the Lord Jehovah, I will do according to thine anger, and according to thine envy which thou hast shown out of thy hatred against them; and I will make myself known among them, when I shall judge thee. ¹² And thou shalt know that I, Jehovah, have heard all thy revilings which thou hast spoken against the mountains of Israel, saying, They are laid desolate, they are given us to devour. ¹³ And ye have magnified yourselves against me with your mouth, and have multiplied your words against me: I have heard it. ¹⁴ Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: When the whole earth rejoiceth, I will make thee desolate. ¹⁵ As thou didst rejoice over the inheritance of the house of Israel, because it was desolate, so will I do unto thee: thou shalt be desolate, O mount Seir, and all Edom, even all of it; and they shall know that I am Jehovah.

⁸ But ye, O mountains of Israel, ye shall shoot forth your branches, and yield your fruit to my people Israel; for they are at hand to come. ⁹ For, behold, I am for you, and I will turn unto you, and ye shall be tilled and sown; ¹⁰ and I will multiply men upon you, all the house of Israel, even all of it; and the cities shall be inhabited, and the waste places shall be built; ¹¹ and I will multiply upon you man and beast; and they shall increase and be fruitful; and I will cause you to be inhabited after your former estate, and will do better unto you than at your beginnings: and ye shall know that I am Jehovah. ¹² Yea, I will cause men to walk upon you, even my people Israel; and they shall possess thee, and thou shalt be their inheritance, and thou shalt no more henceforth bereave them of children. ¹³ Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Because they say unto you, Thou land art a devourer of men, and hast been a bereaver of thy nation; ¹⁴ therefore thou shalt devour men no more, neither bereave thy nation anymore, saith the Lord Jehovah; ¹⁵ neither will I let thee hear anymore the shame of the nations, neither shalt thou bear the reproach of the peoples anymore, neither shalt thou cause thy nation to stumble anymore, saith the Lord Jehovah.

²² Therefore say unto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: I do not this for your sake, O house of Israel, but for my holy name, which ye have profaned among the nations, whither ye went. ²³ And I will sanctify my great name, which hath been profaned among the nations, which ye have profaned in the midst of them; and the nations shall know that I am Jehovah, saith the Lord Jehovah, when I shall be sanctified in you before their eyes. ²⁴ For I will take you from among the nations, and gather you out of all the countries, and will bring you into your own land. ²⁵ And I will sprinkle clean water upon you, and ye shall be clean: from all your filthiness, and from all your idols, will I cleanse you. ²⁶ A new heart also will I give you, and a new spirit will I put within you; and I will take away the stony heart out of your flesh, and I will give you a heart of flesh. ²⁷ And I will put my Spirit within you, and cause you to walk in my statutes, and ye shall keep mine ordinances, and do them. ²⁸ And ye shall dwell in the land that I gave to your fathers; and ye shall be my people, and I will be your God. ²⁹ And I will save you from all your uncleannesses: and I will call for the grain, and will multiply it, and lay no famine upon you. ³⁰ And I will multiply the fruit of the tree, and the increase of the field, that ye may receive no more the reproach of famine among the nations. ³¹ Then shall ye remember your evil ways, and your doings that were not good; and ye shall loathe yourselves in your own sight for your iniquities and for your abominations.

³² Nor for your sake do I this, saith the Lord Jehovah, be it known unto you: be ashamed and confounded for your ways, O house of Israel. ³³ Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: In the day that I cleanse you from all your iniquities, I will cause the cities to be inhabited, and the waste places shall be built. ³⁴ And the land that was desolate shall be tilled, whereas it was a desolation in the sight of all that passed by. ³⁵ And they shall say, This land that was desolate is become like the garden of Eden; and the waste and desolate and ruined cities are fortified and inhabited. ³⁶ Then the nations that are left round about you shall know that I, Jehovah, have built the ruined places, and planted that which was desolate: I, Jehovah, have spoken it, and I will do it.

³⁷ Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: For this, moreover, will I be inquired of by the house of Israel, to do it for them: I will increase them with men like a flock. ³⁸ As the flock for sacrifice, as the flock of Jerusalem in her appointed feasts, so shall the waste cities be filled with flocks of men; and they shall know that I am Jehovah.

¹ The hand of Jehovah was upon me, and he brought me out in the Spirit of Jehovah, and set me down in the midst of the valley; and it was full of bones. ² And he caused me to pass by them round about: and, behold, there were very many in the open valley; and, lo, they were very dry. ³ And he said unto me, Son of man, can these bones live? And I answered, O Lord Jehovah, thou knowest. ⁴ Again he said unto me, Prophesy over these bones, and say unto them, O ye dry bones, hear the word of Jehovah. ⁵ Thus saith the Lord Jehovah unto these bones: Behold, I will cause breath to enter into you, and ye shall live. ⁶ And I will lay sinews upon you, and will bring up flesh upon you, and cover you with skin, and put breath in you, and ye shall live; and ye shall know that I am Jehovah.

¹¹ Then he said unto me, Son of man, these bones are the whole house of Israel: behold, they say, Our bones are dried up, and our hope is lost; we are clean cut off. ¹² Therefore prophesy, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Behold, I will open your graves, and cause you to come up out of your graves, O my people; and I will bring you into the land of Israel. ¹³ And ye shall know that I am Jehovah, when I have opened your graves, and caused you to come up out of your graves, O my people. ¹⁴ And I will put my Spirit in you, and ye shall live, and I will place you in your own land: and ye shall know that I, Jehovah, have spoken it and performed it, saith Jehovah.

¹⁵ The word of Jehovah came again unto me, saying, ¹⁶ And thou, son of man, take thee one stick, and write upon it, For Judah, and for the children of Israel his companions: then take another stick, and write upon it, For Joseph, the stick of Ephraim, and for all the house of Israel his companions: ¹⁷ and join them for thee one to another into one stick, that they may become one in thy hand. ¹⁸ And when the children of thy people shall speak unto thee, saying, Wilt thou not show us what thou meanest by these? ¹⁹ say unto them, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Behold, I will take the stick of Joseph, which is in the hand of Ephraim, and the tribes of Israel his companions; and I will put them with it, even with the stick of Judah, and make them one stick, and they shall be one in my hand. ²⁰ And the sticks whereon thou writest shall be in thy hand before their eyes. ²¹ And say unto them, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Behold, I will take the children of Israel from among the nations, whither they are gone, and will gather them on every side, and bring them into their own land: ²² and I will make them one nation in the land, upon the mountains of Israel; and one king shall be king to them all; and they shall be no more two nations, neither shall they be divided into two kingdoms anymore at all; ²³ neither shall they defile themselves anymore with their idols, nor with their detestable things, nor with any of their transgressions; but I will save them out of all their dwelling places, wherein they have sinned, and will cleanse them: so shall they be my people, and I will be their God.

²⁴ And my servant David shall be king over them; and they all shall have one shepherd: they shall also walk in mine ordinances, and observe my statutes, and do them. ²⁵ And they shall dwell in the land that I have given unto Jacob my servant, wherein your fathers dwelt; and they shall dwell therein, they, and their children, and their children's children, forever: and David my servant shall be their prince forever. ²⁶ Moreover I will make a covenant of peace with them; it shall be an everlasting covenant with them; and I will place them, and multiply them, and will set my sanctuary in the midst of them forevermore. ²⁷ My tabernacle also shall be with them; and I will be their God, and they shall be my people. ²⁸ And the nations shall know that I am Jehovah that sanctifieth Israel, when my sanctuary shall be in the midst of them forevermore.

¹⁰ Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: It shall come to pass in that day, that things shall come into thy mind, and thou shalt devise an evil device: ¹¹ and thou shalt say, I will go up to the land of unwallied villages; I will go to them that are at rest, that dwell securely, all of them dwelling without walls, and having neither bars nor gates; ¹² to take the spoil and to take the prey; to turn thy hand against the waste places that are now inhabited, and against the people that are gathered out of the nations, that have gotten cattle and goods, that dwell in the middle of the earth. ¹³ Sheba, and Dedan, and the merchants of Tarshish, with all the young lions thereof, shall say unto thee, Art thou come to take the spoil? hast thou assembled thy company to take the prey? to carry away silver and gold, to take away cattle and goods, to take great spoil?

¹⁷ Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Art thou he of whom I spake in old time by my servants the prophets of Israel, that prophesied in those days for many years that I would bring thee against them? ¹⁸ And it shall come to pass in that day, when Gog shall come against the land of Israel, saith the Lord Jehovah, that my wrath shall come up into my nostrils. ¹⁹ For in my jealousy and in the fire of my wrath have I spoken, Surely in that day there shall be a great shaking in the land of Israel; ²⁰ so that the fish of the sea, and the birds of the heavens, and the beasts of the field, and all creeping things that creep upon the earth, and all the men that are upon the face of the earth, shall shake at my presence, and the mountains shall be thrown down, and the steep places shall fall, and every wall shall fall to the ground. ²¹ And I will call for a sword against him unto all my mountains, saith the Lord Jehovah: every man's sword shall be against his brother. ²² And with pestilence and with blood will I enter into judgment with him; and I will rain upon him, and upon his hordes, and upon the many peoples that are with him, an overflowing shower, and great hailstones, fire, and brimstone. ²³ And I will magnify myself, and sanctify myself, and I will make myself known in the eyes of many nations; and they shall know that I am Jehovah.

¹ And thou, son of man, prophesy against Gog, and say, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Behold, I am against thee, O Gog, prince of Rosh, Meshech, and Tubal: ² and I will turn thee about, and will lead thee on, and will cause thee to come up from the uttermost parts of the north; and I will bring thee upon the mountains of Israel; ³ and I will smite thy bow out of thy left hand, and will cause thine arrows to fall out of thy right hand. ⁴ Thou shalt fall upon the mountains of Israel, thou, and all thy hordes, and the peoples that are with thee: I will give thee unto the ravenous birds of every sort, and to the beasts of the field to be devoured. ⁵ Thou shalt fall upon the open field; for I have spoken it, saith the Lord Jehovah. ⁶ And I will send a fire on Magog, and on them that dwell securely in the isles; and they shall know that I am Jehovah. ⁷ And my holy name will I make known in the midst of my people Israel; neither will I suffer my holy name to be profaned anymore: and the nations shall know that I am Jehovah, the Holy One in Israel. ⁸ Behold, it cometh, and it shall be done, saith the Lord Jehovah; this is the day whereof I have spoken. ⁹ And they that dwell in the cities of Israel shall go forth, and shall make fires of the weapons and burn them, both the shields and the bucklers, the bows and the arrows, and the handstaves, and the spears, and they shall make fires of them seven years; ¹⁰ so that they shall take no wood out of the field, neither cut down any out of the forests; for they shall make fires of the weapons; and they shall plunder those that plundered them, and rob those that robbed them, saith the Lord Jehovah.

¹¹ And it shall come to pass in that day, that I will give unto Gog a place for burial in Israel, the valley of them that pass through on the east of the sea; and it shall stop them that pass through: and there shall they bury Gog and all his multitude; and they shall call it The valley of Hamon-gog. ¹² And seven months shall the house of Israel be burying them, that they may cleanse the land. ¹³ Yea, all the people of the land shall bury them; and it shall be to them a renown in the day that I shall be glorified, saith the Lord Jehovah. ¹⁴ And they shall set apart men of continual employment, that shall pass through the land, and, with them that pass through, those that bury them that remain upon the face of the land, to cleanse it: after the end of seven months shall they search. ¹⁵ And they that pass through the land shall pass through; and when any seeth a man's bone, then shall he set up a sign by it, till the buriers have buried it in the valley of Hamon-gog. ¹⁶ And Hamonah shall also be the name of a city. Thus shall they cleanse the land.

¹⁷ And thou, son of man, thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Speak unto the birds of every sort, and to every beast of the field, Assemble yourselves, and come; gather yourselves on every side to my sacrifice that I do sacrifice for you, even a great sacrifice upon the mountains of Israel, that ye may eat flesh and drink blood. ¹⁸ Ye shall eat the flesh of the mighty, and drink the blood of the princes of the earth, of rams, of lambs, and of goats, of bullocks, all of them fatlings of Bashan. ¹⁹ And ye shall eat fat till ye be full, and drink blood till ye be drunken, of my sacrifice which I have sacrificed for you. ²⁰ And ye shall be filled at my table with horses and chariots, with mighty men, and with all men of war, saith the Lord Jehovah.

²¹ And I will set my glory among the nations; and all the nations shall see my judgment that I have executed, and my hand that I have laid upon them. ²² So the house of Israel shall know that I am Jehovah their God, from that day and forward. ²³ And the nations shall know that the house of Israel went into captivity for their iniquity; because they trespassed against me, and I hid my face from them: so I gave them into the hand of their adversaries, and they fell all of them by the sword. ²⁴ According to their uncleanness and according to their transgressions did I unto them; and I hid my face from them.

²⁵ Therefore thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Now will I bring back the captivity of Jacob, and have mercy upon the whole house of Israel; and I will be jealous for my holy name. ²⁶ And they shall bear their shame, and all their trespasses whereby they have trespassed against me, when they shall dwell securely in their land, and none shall make them afraid; ²⁷ when I have brought them back from the peoples, and gathered them out of their enemies' lands, and am sanctified in them in the sight of many nations. ²⁸ And they shall know that I am Jehovah their God, in that I caused them to go into captivity among the nations, and have gathered them unto their own land; and I will leave none of them anymore there; ²⁹ neither will I hide my face anymore from them; for I have poured out my Spirit upon the house of Israel, saith the Lord Jehovah.

¹ In the five and twentieth year of our captivity, in the beginning of the year, in the tenth day of the month, in the fourteenth year after that the city was smitten, in the selfsame day, the hand of Jehovah was upon me, and he brought me thither. ² In the visions of God brought he me into the land of Israel, and set me down upon a very high mountain, whereon was as it were the frame of a city on the south. ³ And he brought me thither; and, behold, there was a man, whose appearance was like the appearance of brass, with a line of flax in his hand, and a measuring reed; and he stood in the gate. ⁴ And the man said unto me, Son of man, behold with thine eyes, and hear with thine ears, and set thy heart upon all that I shall show thee; for, to the intent that I may show them unto thee, art thou brought hither: declare all that thou seest to the house of Israel.

¹⁰ And the lodges of the gate eastward were three on this side, and three on that side; they three were of one measure: and the posts had one measure on this side and on that side. ¹¹ And he measured the breadth of the opening of the gate, ten cubits; and the length of the gate, thirteen cubits; ¹² and a border before the lodges, one cubit on this side, and a border, one cubit on that side; and the lodges, six cubits on this side, and six cubits on that side. ¹³ And he measured the gate from the roof of the one lodge to the roof of the other, a breadth of five and twenty cubits; door against door. ¹⁴ He made also posts, threescore cubits; and the court reached unto the posts, round about the gate. ¹⁵ And from the forefront of the gate at the entrance unto the forefront of the inner porch of the gate were fifty cubits. ¹⁶ And there were closed windows to the lodges, and to their posts within the gate round about, and likewise to the arches; and windows were round about inward; and upon each post were palm trees.

²⁰ And the gate of the outer court whose prospect is toward the north, he measured the length thereof and the breadth thereof. ²¹ And the lodges thereof were three on this side and three on that side; and the posts thereof and the arches thereof were after the measure of the first gate: the length thereof was fifty cubits, and the breadth five and twenty cubits. ²² And the windows thereof, and the arches thereof, and the palm trees thereof, were after the measure of the gate whose prospect is toward the east; and they went up unto it by seven steps; and the arches thereof were before them. ²³ And there was a gate to the inner court over against the other gate, both on the north and on the east; and he measured from gate to gate a hundred cubits.

²⁴ And he led me toward the south; and, behold, a gate toward the south: and he measured the posts thereof and the arches thereof according to these measures. ²⁵ And there were windows in it and in the arches thereof round about, like those windows: the length was fifty cubits, and the breadth five and twenty cubits. ²⁶ And there were seven steps to go up to it, and the arches thereof were before them; and it had palm trees, one on this side, and another on that side, upon the posts thereof. ²⁷ And there was a gate to the inner court toward the south: and he measured from gate to gate toward the south a hundred cubits.

²⁸ Then he brought me to the inner court by the south gate: and he measured the south gate according to these measures; ²⁹ and the lodges thereof, and the posts thereof, and the arches thereof, according to these measures: and there were windows in it and in the arches thereof round about; it was fifty cubits long, and five and twenty cubits broad. ³⁰ And there were arches round about, five and twenty cubits long, and five cubits broad. ³¹ And the arches thereof were toward the outer court; and palm trees were upon the posts thereof: and the ascent to it had eight steps.

³⁸ And a chamber with the door thereof was by the posts at the gates; there they washed the burnt offering. ³⁹ And in the porch of the gate were two tables on this side, and two tables on that side, to slay thereon the burnt offering and the sin offering and the trespass offering. ⁴⁰ And on the one side without, as one goeth up to the entry of the gate toward the north, were two tables; and on the other side, which belonged to the porch of the gate, were two tables. ⁴¹ Four tables were on this side, and four tables on that side, by the side of the gate; eight tables, whereupon they slew the sacrifices. ⁴² And there were four tables for the burnt offering, of hewn stone, a cubit and a half long, and a cubit and a half broad, and one cubit high; whereupon they laid the instruments wherewith they slew the burnt offering and the sacrifice. ⁴³ And the hooks, a handbreadth long, were fastened within round about: and upon the tables was the flesh of the oblation.

⁴⁸ Then he brought me to the porch of the house, and measured each post of the porch, five cubits on this side, and five cubits on that side: and the breadth of the gate was three cubits on this side, and three cubits on that side. ⁴⁹ The length of the porch was twenty cubits, and the breadth eleven cubits; even by the steps whereby they went up to it: and there were pillars by the posts, one on this side, and another on that side.

¹ And he brought me to the temple, and measured the posts, six cubits broad on the one side, and six cubits broad on the other side, which was the breadth of the tabernacle. ² And the breadth of the entrance was ten cubits; and the sides of the entrance were five cubits on the one side, and five cubits on the other side: and he measured the length thereof, forty cubits, and the breadth, twenty cubits. ³ Then went he inward, and measured each post of the entrance, two cubits; and the entrance, six cubits; and the breadth of the entrance, seven cubits. ⁴ And he measured the length thereof, twenty cubits, and the breadth, twenty cubits, before the temple: and he said unto me, This is the most holy place.

⁵ Then he measured the wall of the house, six cubits; and the breadth of every side chamber, four cubits, round about the house on every side. ⁶ And the side chambers were in three stories, one over another, and thirty in order; and they entered into the wall which belonged to the house for the side chambers round about, that they might have hold therein, and not have hold in the wall of the house. ⁷ And the side chambers were broader as they encompassed the house higher and higher; for the encompassing of the house went higher and higher round about the house: therefore the breadth of the house continued upward; and so one went up from the lowest chamber to the highest by the middle chamber. ⁸ I saw also that the house had a raised basement round about: the foundations of the side chambers were a full reed of six great cubits. ⁹ The thickness of the wall, which was for the side chambers, on the outside, was five cubits: and that which was left was the place of the side chambers that belonged to the house. ¹⁰ And between the chambers was a breadth of twenty cubits round about the house on every side. ¹¹ And the doors of the side chambers were toward the place that was left, one door toward the north, and another door toward the south: and the breadth of the place that was left was five cubits round about.

¹² And the building that was before the separate place at the side toward the west was seventy cubits broad; and the wall of the building was five cubits thick round about, and the length thereof ninety cubits. ¹³ So he measured the house, a hundred cubits long; and the separate place, and the building, with the walls thereof, a hundred cubits long; ¹⁴ also the breadth of the face of the house, and of the separate place toward the east, a hundred cubits.

¹⁵ And he measured the length of the building before the separate place which was at the back thereof, and the galleries thereof on the one side and on the other side, a hundred cubits; and the inner temple, and the porches of the court; ¹⁶ the thresholds, and the closed windows, and the galleries round about on their three stories, over against the threshold, ceiled with wood round about, and from the ground up to the windows (now the windows were covered), ¹⁷ to the space above the door, even unto the inner house, and without, and by all the wall round about within and without, by measure. ¹⁸ And it was made with cherubim and palm trees; and a palm tree was between cherub and cherub, and every cherub had two faces; ¹⁹ so that there was the face of a man toward the palm tree on the one side, and the face of a young lion toward the palm tree on the other side. Thus was it made through all the house round about: ²⁰ from the ground unto above the door were cherubim and palm trees made; thus was the wall of the temple.

²¹ As for the temple, the doorposts were squared; and as for the face of the sanctuary, the appearance thereof was as the appearance of the temple. ²² The altar was of wood, three cubits high, and the length thereof two cubits; and the corners thereof, and the length thereof, and the walls thereof, were of wood: and he said unto me, This is the table that is before Jehovah. ²³ And the temple and the sanctuary had two doors. ²⁴ And the doors had two leaves apiece, two turning leaves: two leaves for the one door, and two leaves for the other. ²⁵ And there were made on them, on the doors of the temple, cherubim and palm trees, like as were made upon the walls; and there was a threshold of wood upon the face of the porch without. ²⁶ And there were closed windows and palm trees on the one side and on the other side, on the sides of the porch: thus were the side chambers of the house, and the thresholds.

the building. ⁶ For they were in three stories, and they had not pillars as the pillars of the courts: therefore the uppermost was straitened more than the lowest and the middlemost from the ground. ⁷ And the wall that was without by the side of the chambers, toward the outer court before the chambers, the length thereof was fifty cubits. ⁸ For the length of the chambers that were in the outer court was fifty cubits: and, lo, before the temple were a hundred cubits. ⁹ And from under these chambers was the entry on the east side, as one goeth into them from the outer court.

¹⁰ In the thickness of the wall of the court toward the east, before the separate place, and before the building, there were chambers. ¹¹ And the way before them was like the appearance of the way of the chambers which were toward the north; according to their length so was their breadth: and all their egresses were both according to their fashions, and according to their doors. ¹² And according to the doors of the chambers that were toward the south was a door at the head of the way, even the way directly before the wall toward the east, as one entereth into them.

¹³ Then said he unto me, The north chambers and the south chambers, which are before the separate place, they are the holy chambers, where the priests that are near unto Jehovah shall eat the most holy things: there shall they lay the most holy things, and the meal offering, and the sin offering, and the trespass offering; for the place is holy. ¹⁴ When the priests enter in, then shall they not go out of the holy place into the outer court, but there they shall lay their garments wherein they minister; for they are holy: and they shall put on other garments, and shall approach to that which pertaineth to the people.

¹⁵ Now when he had made an end of measuring the inner house, he brought me forth by the way of the gate whose prospect is toward the east, and measured it round about. ¹⁶ He measured on the east side with the measuring reed five hundred reeds, with the measuring reed round about. ¹⁷ He measured on the north side five hundred reeds with the measuring reed round about. ¹⁸ He measured on the south side five hundred reeds with the measuring reed. ¹⁹ He turned about to the west side, and measured five hundred reeds with the measuring reed. ²⁰ He measured it on the four sides: it had a wall round about, the length five hundred, and the breadth five hundred, to make a separation between that which was holy and that which was common.

⁶ And I heard one speaking unto me out of the house; and a man stood by me. ⁷ And he said unto me, Son of man, this is the place of my throne, and the place of the soles of my feet, where I will dwell in the midst of the children of Israel forever. And the house of Israel shall no more defile my holy name, neither they, nor their kings, by their whoredom, and by the dead bodies of their kings in their high places; ⁸ in their setting of their threshold by my threshold, and their doorpost beside my doorpost, and there was but the wall between me and them; and they have defiled my holy name by their abominations which they have committed: wherefore I have consumed them in mine anger. ⁹ Now let them put away their whoredom, and the dead bodies of their kings, far from me; and I will dwell in the midst of them forever.

¹⁰ Thou, son of man, show the house to the house of Israel, that they may be ashamed of their iniquities; and let them measure the pattern. ¹¹ And if they be ashamed of all that they have done, make known unto them the form of the house, and the fashion thereof, and the egresses thereof, and the entrances thereof, and all the forms thereof, and all the ordinances thereof, and all the forms thereof, and all the laws thereof; and write it in their sight; that they may keep the whole form thereof, and all the ordinances thereof, and do them. ¹² This is the law of the house: upon the top of the mountain the whole limit thereof round about shall be most holy. Behold, this is the law of the house.

¹⁴ And from the bottom upon the ground to the lower ledge shall be two cubits, and the breadth one cubit; and from the lesser ledge to the greater ledge shall be four cubits, and the breadth a cubit. ¹⁵ And the upper altar shall be four cubits; and from the altar hearth and upward there shall be four horns. ¹⁶ And the altar hearth shall be twelve cubits long by twelve broad, square in the four sides thereof. ¹⁷ And the ledge shall be fourteen cubits long by fourteen broad in the four sides thereof; and the border about it shall be half a cubit; and the bottom thereof shall be a cubit round about; and the steps thereof shall look toward the east.

¹⁸ And he said unto me, Son of man, thus saith the Lord Jehovah: These are the ordinances of the altar in the day when they shall make it, to offer burnt offerings thereon, and to sprinkle blood thereon. ¹⁹ Thou shalt give to the priests the Levites that are of the seed of Zadok, who are near unto me, to minister unto me, saith the Lord Jehovah, a young bullock for a sin offering. ²⁰ And thou shalt take of the blood thereof, and put it on the four horns of it, and on the four corners of the ledge, and upon the border round about: thus shalt thou cleanse it and make atonement for it. ²¹ Thou shalt also take the bullock of the sin offering, and it shall be burnt in the appointed place of the house, without the sanctuary. ²² And on the second day thou shalt offer a he-goat without blemish for a sin offering; and they shall cleanse the altar, as they did cleanse it with the bullock. ²³ When thou hast made an end of cleansing it, thou shalt offer a young bullock without blemish, and a ram out of the flock without blemish. ²⁴ And thou shalt bring them near before Jehovah, and the priests shall cast salt upon them, and they shall offer them up for a burnt offering unto Jehovah. ²⁵ Seven days shalt thou prepare every day a goat for a sin offering; they shall also prepare a young bullock, and a ram out of the flock, without blemish. ²⁶ Seven days shall they make atonement for the altar and purify it; so shall they consecrate it. ²⁷ And when they have accomplished the days, it shall be that upon the eighth day, and forward, the priests shall make your burnt offerings upon the altar, and your peace offerings; and I will accept you, saith the Lord Jehovah.

¹ Then he brought me back by the way of the outer gate of the sanctuary, which looketh toward the east; and it was shut. ² And Jehovah said unto me, This gate shall be shut; it shall not be opened, neither shall any man enter in by it; for Jehovah, the God of Israel, hath entered in by it; therefore it shall be shut. ³ As for the prince, he shall sit therein as prince to eat bread before Jehovah; he shall enter by the way of the porch of the gate, and shall go out by the way of the same.

⁴ Then he brought me by the way of the north gate before the house; and I looked, and, behold, the glory of Jehovah filled the house of Jehovah: and I fell upon my face.

⁹ Thus saith the Lord Jehovah, No foreigner, uncircumcised in heart and uncircumcised in flesh, shall enter into my sanctuary, of any foreigners that are among the children of Israel. ¹⁰ But the Levites that went far from me, when Israel went astray, that went astray from me after their idols, they shall bear their iniquity. ¹¹ Yet they shall be ministers in my sanctuary, having oversight at the gates of the house, and ministering in the house: they shall slay the burnt offering and the sacrifice for the people, and they shall stand before them to minister unto them. ¹² Because they ministered unto them before their idols, and became a stumbling block of iniquity unto the house of Israel; therefore have I lifted up my hand against them, saith the Lord Jehovah, and they shall bear their iniquity. ¹³ And they shall not come near unto me, to execute the office of priest unto me, nor to come near to any of my holy things, unto the things that are most holy; but they shall bear their shame, and their abominations which they have committed. ¹⁴ Yet will I make them keepers of the charge of the house, for all the service thereof, and for all that shall be done therein.

¹⁵ But the priests the Levites, the sons of Zadok, that kept the charge of my sanctuary when the children of Israel went astray from me, they shall come near to me to minister unto me; and they shall stand before me to offer unto me the fat and the blood, saith the Lord Jehovah: ¹⁶ they shall enter into my sanctuary, and they shall come near to my table, to minister unto me, and they shall keep my charge. ¹⁷ And it shall be that, when they enter in at the gates of the inner court, they shall be clothed with linen garments; and no wool shall come upon them, while they minister in the gates of the inner court, and within. ¹⁸ They shall have linen tires upon their heads, and shall have linen breeches upon their loins; they shall not gird themselves with anything that causeth sweat. ¹⁹ And when they go forth into the outer court, even into the outer court to the people, they shall put off their garments wherein they minister, and lay them in the holy chambers; and they shall put on other garments, that they sanctify not the people with their garments. ²⁰ Neither shall they shave their heads, nor suffer their locks to grow long; they shall only cut off the hair of their heads. ²¹ Neither shall any of the priests drink wine, when they enter into the inner court. ²² Neither shall they take for their wives a widow, nor her that is put away; but they shall take virgins of the seed of the house of Israel, or a widow that is the widow of a priest. ²³ And they shall teach my people the difference between the holy and the common, and cause them to discern between the unclean and the clean. ²⁴ And in a controversy they shall stand to judge; according to mine ordinances shall they judge it: and they shall keep my laws and my statutes in all my appointed feasts; and they shall hallow my sabbaths. ²⁵ And they shall go in to no dead person to defile themselves; but for father, or for mother, or for son, or for daughter, for brother, or for sister that hath had no husband, they may defile themselves. ²⁶ And after he is cleansed, they shall reckon unto him seven days. ²⁷ And in the day that he goeth into the sanctuary, into the inner court, to minister in the sanctuary, he shall offer his sin offering, saith the Lord Jehovah.

²⁸ And they shall have an inheritance: I am their inheritance; and ye shall give them no possession in Israel; I am their possession. ²⁹ They shall eat the meal offering, and the sin offering, and the trespass offering; and every devoted thing in Israel shall be theirs. ³⁰ And the first of all the firstfruits of every thing, and every oblation of everything, of all your oblations, shall be for the priest: ye shall also give unto the priests the first of your dough, to cause a blessing to rest on thy house. ³¹ The priests shall not eat of anything that dieth of itself, or is torn, whether it be bird or beast.

¹ Moreover, when ye shall divide by lot the land for inheritance, ye shall offer an oblation unto Jehovah, a holy portion of the land; the length shall be the length of five and twenty thousand reeds, and the breadth shall be ten thousand: it shall be holy in all the border thereof round about. ² Of this there shall be for the holy place five hundred in length by five hundred in breadth, square round about; and fifty cubits for the suburbs thereof round about. ³ And of this measure shalt thou measure a length of five and twenty thousand, and a breadth of ten thousand: and in it shall be the sanctuary, which is most holy. ⁴ It is a holy portion of the land; it shall be for the priests, the ministers of the sanctuary, that come near to minister unto Jehovah; and it shall be a place for their houses, and a holy place for the sanctuary. ⁵ And five and twenty thousand in length, and ten thousand in breadth, shall be unto the Levites, the ministers of the house, for a possession unto themselves, for twenty chambers. ⁶ And ye shall appoint the possession of the city five thousand broad, and five and twenty thousand long, side by side with the oblation of the holy portion: it shall be for the whole house of Israel. ⁷ And whatsoever is for the prince shall be on the one side and on the other side of the holy oblation and of the possession of the city, in front of the holy oblation and in front of the possession of the city, on the west side westward, and on the east side eastward; and in length answerable unto one of the portions, from the west border unto the east border. ⁸ In the land it shall be to him for a possession in Israel: and my princes shall no more oppress my people; but they shall give the land to the house of Israel according to their tribes.

in Israel. ¹⁷ And it shall be the prince's part to give the burnt offerings, and the meal offerings, and the drink offerings, in the feasts, and on the new moons, and on the sabbaths, in all the appointed feasts of the house of Israel: he shall prepare the sin offering, and the meal offering, and the burnt offering, and the peace offerings, to make atonement for the house of Israel.

¹⁹ And the priest shall take of the blood of the sin offering, and put it upon the doorposts of the house, and upon the four corners of the ledge of the altar, and upon the posts of the gate of the inner court. ²⁰ And so thou shalt do on the seventh day of the month for everyone that erreth, and for him that is simple: so shall ye make atonement for the house.

²¹ In the first month, in the fourteenth day of the month, ye shall have the passover, a feast of seven days; unleavened bread shall be eaten. ²² And upon that day shall the prince prepare for himself and for all the people of the land a bullock for a sin offering. ²³ And the seven days of the feast he shall prepare a burnt offering to Jehovah, seven bullocks and seven rams without blemish daily the seven days; and a he-goat daily for a sin offering. ²⁴ And he shall prepare a meal offering, an ephah for a bullock, and an ephah for a ram, and a hin of oil to an ephah. ²⁵ In the seventh month, in the fifteenth day of the month, in the feast, shall he do the like the seven days; according to the sin offering, according to the burnt offering, and according to the meal offering, and according to the oil.

ephah. ¹² And when the prince shall prepare a freewill offering, a burnt offering or peace offerings as a freewill offering unto Jehovah, one shall open for him the gate that looketh toward the east; and he shall prepare his burnt offering and his peace offerings, as he doth on the sabbath day: then he shall go forth; and after his going forth one shall shut the gate.

¹⁹ Then he brought me through the entry, which was at the side of the gate, into the holy chambers for the priests, which looked toward the north: and, behold, there was a place on the hinder part westward. ²⁰ And he said unto me, This is the place where the priests shall boil the trespass offering and the sin offering, and where they shall bake the meal offering; that they bring them not forth into the outer court, to sanctify the people. ²¹ Then he brought me forth into the outer court, and caused me to pass by the four corners of the court; and, behold, in every corner of the court there was a court. ²² In the four corners of the court there were courts enclosed, forty cubits long and thirty broad: these four in the corners were of one measure. ²³ And there was a wall round about in them, round about the four, and boiling places were made under the walls round about. ²⁴ Then said he unto me, These are the boiling houses, where the ministers of the house shall boil the sacrifice of the people.

³ When the man went forth eastward with the line in his hand, he measured a thousand cubits, and he caused me to pass through the waters, waters that were to the ankles. ⁴ Again he measured a thousand, and caused me to pass through the waters, waters that were to the knees. Again he measured a thousand, and caused me to pass through the waters, waters that were to the loins. ⁵ Afterward he measured a thousand; and it was a river that I could not pass through; for the waters were risen, waters to swim in, a river that could not be passed through.

⁶ And he said unto me, Son of man, hast thou seen this? Then he brought me, and caused me to return to the bank of the river. ⁷ Now when I had returned, behold, upon the bank of the river were very many trees on the one side and on the other.

⁸ Then said he unto me, These waters issue forth toward the eastern region, and shall go down into the Arabah; and they shall go toward the sea; into the sea shall the waters go which were made to issue forth; and the waters shall be healed. ⁹ And it shall come to pass, that every living creature which swarmeth, in every place whither the rivers come, shall live; and there shall be a very great multitude of fish; for these waters are come thither, and the waters of the sea shall be healed, and everything shall live whithersoever the river cometh. ¹⁰ And it shall come to pass, that fishers shall stand by it: from En-gedi even unto En-eglaim shall be a place for the spreading of nets; their fish shall be after their kinds, as the fish of the great sea, exceeding many. ¹¹ But the miry places thereof, and the marshes thereof, shall not be healed; they shall be given up to salt. ¹² And by the river upon the bank thereof, on this side and on that side, shall grow every tree for food, whose leaf shall not wither, neither shall the fruit thereof fail: it shall bring forth new fruit every month, because the waters thereof issue out of the sanctuary; and the fruit thereof shall be for food, and the leaf thereof for healing.

¹³ Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: This shall be the border, whereby ye shall divide the land for inheritance according to the twelve tribes of Israel: Joseph shall have two portions. ¹⁴ And ye shall inherit it, one as well as another; for I sware to give it unto your fathers: and this land shall fall unto you for inheritance.

²¹ So shall ye divide this land unto you according to the tribes of Israel. ²² And it shall come to pass, that ye shall divide it by lot for an inheritance unto you and to the strangers that sojourn among you, who shall beget children among you; and they shall be unto you as the homeborn among the children of Israel; they shall have inheritance with you among the tribes of Israel. ²³ And it shall come to pass, that in what tribe the stranger sojourneth, there shall ye give him his inheritance, saith the Lord Jehovah.

¹³ And answerable unto the border of the priests, the Levites shall have five and twenty thousand in length, and ten thousand in breadth: all the length shall be five and twenty thousand, and the breadth ten thousand. ¹⁴ And they shall sell none of it, nor exchange it, nor shall the firstfruits of the land be alienated; for it is holy unto Jehovah.

³⁰ And these are the egresses of the city: On the north side four thousand and five hundred reeds by measure; ³¹ and the gates of the city shall be after the names of the tribes of Israel, three gates northward: the gate of Reuben, one; the gate of Judah, one; the gate of Levi, one. ³² And at the east side four thousand and five hundred reeds, and three gates: even the gate of Joseph, one; the gate of Benjamin, one; the gate of Dan, one. ³³ And at the south side four thousand and five hundred reeds by measure, and three gates: the gate of Simeon, one; the gate of Issachar, one; the gate of Zebulun, one. ³⁴ At the west side four thousand and five hundred reeds, with their three gates: the gate of Gad, one; the gate of Asher, one; the gate of Naphtali, one. ³⁵ It shall be eighteen thousand reeds round about: and the name of the city from that day shall be, Jehovah is there.

THE BOOK OF DANIEL

¹ In the third year of the reign of Jehoiakim king of Judah came Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon unto Jerusalem, and besieged it. ² And the Lord gave Jehoiakim king of Judah into his hand, with part of the vessels of the house of God; and he carried them into the land of Shinar to the house of his god: and he brought the vessels into the treasure house of his god. ³ And the king spake unto Ashpenaz the master of his eunuchs, that he should bring in certain of the children of Israel, even of the seed royal and of the nobles; ⁴ youths in whom was no blemish, but well-favored, and skillful in all wisdom, and endued with knowledge, and understanding science, and such as had ability to stand in the king's palace; and that he should teach them the learning and the tongue of the Chaldeans. ⁵ And the king appointed for them a daily portion of the king's dainties, and of the wine which he drank, and that they should be nourished three years; that at the end thereof they should stand before the king. ⁶ Now among these were, of the children of Judah, Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah. ⁷ And the prince of the eunuchs gave names unto them: unto Daniel he gave the name of Belteshazzar; and to Hananiah, of Shadrach; and to Mishael, of Meshach; and to Azariah, of Abed-nego.

⁸ But Daniel purposed in his heart that he would not defile himself with the king's dainties, nor with the wine which he drank: therefore he requested of the prince of the eunuchs that he might not defile himself. ⁹ Now God made Daniel to find kindness and compassion in the sight of the prince of the eunuchs. ¹⁰ And the prince of the eunuchs said unto Daniel, I fear my lord the king, who hath appointed your food and your drink: for why should he see your faces worse looking than the youths that are of your own age? so would ye endanger my head with the king. ¹¹ Then said Daniel to the steward whom the prince of the eunuchs had appointed over Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah: ¹² Prove thy servants, I beseech thee, ten days; and let them give us pulse to eat, and water to drink. ¹³ Then let our countenances be looked upon before thee, and the countenance of the youths that eat of the king's dainties; and as thou seest, deal with thy servants.

¹⁷ Now as for these four youths, God gave them knowledge and skill in all learning and wisdom: and Daniel had understanding in all visions and dreams. ¹⁸ And at the end of the days which the king had appointed for bringing them in, the prince of the eunuchs brought them in before Nebuchadnezzar. ¹⁹ And the king communed with them; and among them all was found none like Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah: therefore stood they before the king. ²⁰ And in every matter of wisdom and understanding, concerning which the king inquired of them, he found them ten times better than all the magicians and enchanters that were in all his realm. ²¹ And Daniel continued even unto the first year of king Cyrus.

commanded to call the magicians, and the enchanters, and the sorcerers, and the Chaldeans, to tell the king his dreams. So they came in and stood before the king. ³ And the king said unto them, I have dreamed a dream, and my spirit is troubled to know the dream. ⁴ Then spake the Chaldeans to the king in the Syrian language, O king, live forever: tell thy servants the dream, and we will show the interpretation. ⁵ The king answered and said to the Chaldeans, The thing is gone from me: if ye make not known unto me the dream and the interpretation thereof, ye shall be cut in pieces, and your houses shall be made a dunghill. ⁶ But if ye show the dream and the interpretation thereof, ye shall receive of me gifts and rewards and great honor: therefore show me the dream and the interpretation thereof. ⁷ They answered the second time and said, Let the king tell his servants the dream, and we will show the interpretation. ⁸ The king answered and said, I know of a certainty that ye would gain time, because ye see the thing is gone from me. ⁹ But if ye make not known unto me the dream, there is but one law for you; for ye have prepared lying and corrupt words to speak before me, till the time be changed: therefore tell me the dream, and I shall know that ye can show me the interpretation thereof. ¹⁰ The Chaldeans answered before the king, and said, There is not a man upon the earth that can show the king's matter, forasmuch as no king, lord, or ruler, hath asked such a thing of any magician, or enchanter, or Chaldean. ¹¹ And it is a rare thing that the king requireth, and there is no other that can show it before the king, except the gods, whose dwelling is not with flesh. ¹² For this cause the king was angry and very furious, and commanded to destroy all the wise men of Babylon. ¹³ So the decree went forth, and the wise men were to be slain; and they sought Daniel and his companions to be slain.

¹⁴ Then Daniel returned answer with counsel and prudence to Arioch the captain of the king's guard, who was gone forth to slay the wise men of Babylon; ¹⁵ he answered and said to Arioch the king's captain, Wherefore is the decree so urgent from the king? Then Arioch made the thing known to Daniel. ¹⁶ And Daniel went in, and desired of the king that he would appoint him a time, and he would show the king the interpretation.

²⁵ Then Arioch brought in Daniel before the king in haste, and said thus unto him, I have found a man of the children of the captivity of Judah, that will make known unto the king the interpretation. ²⁶ The king answered and said to Daniel, whose name was Belteshazzar, Art thou able to make known unto me the dream which I have seen, and the interpretation thereof? ²⁷ Daniel answered before the king, and said, The secret which the king hath demanded can neither wise men, enchanters, magicians, nor soothsayers, show unto the king; ²⁸ but there is a God in heaven that revealeth secrets, and he hath made known to the king Nebuchadnezzar what shall be in the latter days. Thy dream, and the visions of thy head upon thy bed, are these: ²⁹ as for thee, O king, thy thoughts came into thy mind upon thy bed, what should come to pass hereafter; and he that revealeth secrets hath made known to thee what shall come to pass. ³⁰ But as for me, this secret is not revealed to me for any wisdom that I have more than any living, but to the intent that the interpretation may be made known to the king, and that thou mayest know the thoughts of thy heart.

⁴⁶ Then the king Nebuchadnezzar fell upon his face, and worshiped Daniel, and commanded that they should offer an oblation and sweet odors unto him. ⁴⁷ The king answered unto Daniel, and said, Of a truth your God is the God of gods, and the Lord of kings, and a revealer of secrets, seeing thou hast been able to reveal this secret. ⁴⁸ Then the king made Daniel great, and gave him many great gifts, and made him to rule over the whole province of Babylon, and to be chief governor over all the wise men of Babylon. ⁴⁹ And Daniel requested of the king, and he appointed Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, over the affairs of the province of Babylon: but Daniel was in the gate of the king.

¹³ Then Nebuchadnezzar in his rage and fury commanded to bring Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego. Then they brought these men before the king. ¹⁴ Nebuchadnezzar answered and said unto them, Is it of purpose, O Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, that ye serve not my god, nor worship the golden image which I have set up? ¹⁵ Now if ye be ready that at what time ye hear the sound of the cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psaltery, and dulcimer, and all kinds of music, ye fall down and worship the image which I have made, well: but if ye worship not, ye shall be cast the same hour into the midst of a burning fiery furnace; and who is that god that shall deliver you out of my hands? ¹⁶ Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego answered and said to the king, O Nebuchadnezzar, we have no need to answer thee in this matter. ¹⁷ If it be so, our God whom we serve is able to deliver us from the burning fiery furnace; and he will deliver us out of thy hand, O king. ¹⁸ But if not, be it known unto thee, O king, that we will not serve thy gods, nor worship the golden image which thou hast set up.

¹⁹ Then was Nebuchadnezzar full of fury, and the form of his visage was changed against Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego: therefore he spake, and commanded that they should heat the furnace seven times more than it was wont to be heated. ²⁰ And he commanded certain mighty men that were in his army to bind Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, and to cast them into the burning fiery furnace. ²¹ Then these men were bound in their hosen, their tunics, and their mantles, and their other garments, and were cast into the midst of the burning fiery furnace. ²² Therefore because the king's commandment was urgent, and the furnace exceeding hot, the flame of the fire slew those men that took up Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego. ²³ And these three men, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, fell down bound into the midst of the burning fiery furnace.

²⁴ Then Nebuchadnezzar the king was astonished, and rose up in haste: he spake and said unto his counselors, Did not we cast three men bound into the midst of the fire? They answered and said unto the king, True, O king. ²⁵ He answered and said, Lo, I see four men loose, walking in the midst of the fire, and they have no hurt; and the aspect of the fourth is like a son of the gods. ²⁶ Then Nebuchadnezzar came near to the mouth of the burning fiery furnace: he spake and said, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, ye servants of the Most High God, come forth, and come hither. Then Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego came forth out of the midst of the fire. ²⁷ And the satraps, the deputies, and the governors, and the king's counselors, being gathered together, saw these men, that the fire had no power upon their bodies, nor was the hair of their head singed, neither were their hosen changed, nor had the smell of fire passed on them.

²⁸ Nebuchadnezzar spake and said, Blessed be the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, who hath sent his angel, and delivered his servants that trusted in him, and have changed the king's word, and have yielded their bodies, that they might not serve nor worship any god, except their own God. ²⁹ Therefore I make a decree, that every people, nation, and language, which speak anything amiss against the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, shall be cut in pieces, and their houses shall be made a dunghill; because there is no other god that is able to deliver after this sort. ³⁰ Then the king promoted Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego in the province of Babylon.

⁴ I, Nebuchadnezzar, was at rest in my house, and flourishing in my palace. ⁵ I saw a dream which made me afraid; and the thoughts upon my bed and the visions of my head troubled me. ⁶ Therefore made I a decree to bring in all the wise men of Babylon before me, that they might make known unto me the interpretation of the dream. ⁷ Then came in the magicians, the enchanters, the Chaldeans, and the soothsayers; and I told the dream before them; but they did not make known unto me the interpretation thereof. ⁸ But at the last Daniel came in before me, whose name was Belteshazzar, according to the name of my god, and in whom is the spirit of the holy gods: and I told the dream before him, saying, ⁹ O Belteshazzar, master of the magicians, because I know that the spirit of the holy gods is in thee, and no secret troubleth thee, tell me the visions of my dream that I have seen, and the interpretation thereof. ¹⁰ Thus were the visions of my head upon my bed: I saw, and, behold, a tree in the midst of the earth; and the height thereof was great. ¹¹ The tree grew, and was strong, and the height thereof reached unto heaven, and the sight thereof to the end of all the earth. ¹² The leaves thereof were fair, and the fruit thereof much, and in it was food for all: the beasts of the field had shadow under it, and the birds of the heavens dwelt in the branches thereof, and all flesh was fed from it. ¹³ I saw in the visions of my head upon my bed, and, behold, a watcher and a holy one came down from heaven. ¹⁴ He cried aloud, and said thus, Hew down the tree, and cut off its branches, shake off its leaves, and scatter its fruit: let the beasts get away from under it, and the fowls from its branches. ¹⁵ Nevertheless leave the stump of its roots in the earth, even with a band of iron and brass, in the tender grass of the field; and let it be wet with the dew of heaven: and let his portion be with the beasts in the grass of the earth: ¹⁶ let his heart be changed from man's, and let a beast's heart be given unto him; and let seven times pass over him. ¹⁷ The sentence is by the decree of the watchers, and the demand by the word of the holy ones; to the intent that the living may know that the Most High ruleth in the kingdom of men, and giveth it to whomsoever he will, and setteth up over it the lowest of men. ¹⁸ This dream I, king Nebuchadnezzar, have seen; and thou, O Belteshazzar, declare the interpretation, forasmuch as all the wise men of my kingdom are not able to make known unto me the interpretation; but thou art able; for the spirit of the holy gods is in thee.

¹⁹ Then Daniel, whose name was Belteshazzar, was stricken dumb for a while, and his thoughts troubled him. The king answered and said, Belteshazzar, let not the dream, or the interpretation, trouble thee. Belteshazzar answered and said, My lord, the dream be to them that hate thee, and the interpretation thereof to thine adversaries. ²⁰ The tree that thou sawest, which grew, and was strong, whose height reached unto heaven, and the sight thereof to all the earth; ²¹ whose leaves were fair, and the fruit thereof much, and in it was food for all; under which the beasts of the field dwelt, and upon whose branches the birds of the heavens had their habitation: ²² it is thou, O king, that art grown and become strong; for thy greatness is grown, and reacheth unto heaven, and thy dominion to the end of the earth. ²³ And whereas the king saw a watcher and a holy one coming down from heaven, and saying, Hew down the tree, and destroy it; nevertheless leave the stump of the roots thereof in the earth, even with a band of iron and brass, in the tender grass of the field, and let it be wet with the dew of heaven: and let his portion be with the beasts of the field, till seven times pass over him; ²⁴ this is the interpretation, O king, and it is the decree of the Most High, which is come upon my lord the king: ²⁵ that thou shalt be driven from men, and thy dwelling shall be with the beasts of the field, and thou shalt be made to eat grass as oxen, and shalt be wet with the dew of heaven, and seven times shall pass over thee; till thou know that the Most High ruleth in the kingdom of men, and giveth it to whomsoever he will. ²⁶ And whereas they commanded to leave the stump of the roots of the tree; thy kingdom shall be sure unto thee, after that thou shalt have known that the heavens do rule. ²⁷ Wherefore, O king, let my counsel be acceptable unto thee, and break off thy sins by righteousness, and thine iniquities by showing mercy to the poor; if there may be a lengthening of thy tranquillity.

³⁴ And at the end of the days I, Nebuchadnezzar, lifted up mine eyes unto heaven, and mine understanding returned unto me, and I blessed the Most High, and I praised and honored him that liveth forever; for his dominion is an everlasting dominion, and his kingdom from generation to generation; ³⁵ and all the inhabitants of the earth are reputed as nothing; and he doeth according to his will in the army of heaven, and among the inhabitants of the earth; and none can stay his hand, or say unto him, What doest thou? ³⁶ At the same time mine understanding returned unto me; and for the glory of my kingdom, my majesty and brightness returned unto me; and my counselors and my lords sought unto me; and I was established in my kingdom, and excellent greatness was added unto me. ³⁷ Now I, Nebuchadnezzar, praise and extol and honor the King of heaven; for all his works are truth, and his ways justice; and those that walk in pride he is able to abase.

¹⁰ Now the queen by reason of the words of the king and his lords came into the banquet house: the queen spake and said, O king, live forever; let not thy thoughts trouble thee, nor let thy countenance be changed. ¹¹ There is a man in thy kingdom, in whom is the spirit of the holy gods; and in the days of thy father light and understanding and wisdom, like the wisdom of the gods, were found in him; and the king Nebuchadnezzar thy father, the king, I say, thy father, made him master of the magicians, enchanters, Chaldeans, and soothsayers; ¹² forasmuch as an excellent spirit, and knowledge, and understanding, interpreting of dreams, and showing of dark sentences, and dissolving of doubts, were found in the same Daniel, whom the king named Belteshazzar. Now let Daniel be called, and he will show the interpretation.

¹³ Then was Daniel brought in before the king. The king spake and said unto Daniel, Art thou that Daniel, who art of the children of the captivity of Judah, whom the king my father brought out of Judah? ¹⁴ I have heard of thee, that the spirit of the gods is in thee, and that light and understanding and excellent wisdom are found in thee. ¹⁵ And now the wise men, the enchanters, have been brought in before me, that they should read this writing, and make known unto me the interpretation thereof; but they could not show the interpretation of the thing. ¹⁶ But I have heard of thee, that thou canst give interpretations, and dissolve doubts: now if thou canst read the writing, and make known to me the interpretation thereof, thou shalt be clothed with purple, and have a chain of gold about thy neck, and shalt be the third ruler in the kingdom.

¹⁷ Then Daniel answered and said before the king, Let thy gifts be to thyself, and give thy rewards to another; nevertheless I will read the writing unto the king, and make known to him the interpretation. ¹⁸ O thou king, the Most High God gave Nebuchadnezzar thy father the kingdom, and greatness, and glory, and majesty: ¹⁹ and because of the greatness that he gave him, all the peoples, nations, and languages trembled and feared before him: whom he would he slew, and whom he would he kept alive; and whom he would he raised up, and whom he would he put down. ²⁰ But when his heart was lifted up, and his spirit was hardened so that he dealt proudly, he was deposed from his kingly throne, and they took his glory from him: ²¹ and he was driven from the sons of men, and his heart was made like the beasts', and his dwelling was with the wild asses; he was fed with grass like oxen, and his body was wet with the dew of heaven; until he knew that the Most High God ruleth in the kingdom of men, and that he setteth up over it whomsoever he will. ²² And thou his son, O Belshazzar, hast not humbled thy heart, though thou knewest all this, ²³ but hast lifted up thyself against the Lord of heaven; and they have brought the vessels of his house before thee, and thou and thy lords, thy wives and thy concubines, have drunk wine from them; and thou hast praised the gods of silver and gold, of brass, iron, wood, and stone, which see not, nor hear, nor know; and the God in whose hand thy breath is, and whose are all thy ways, hast thou not glorified. ²⁴ Then was the part of the hand sent from before him, and this writing was inscribed.

²⁹ Then commanded Belshazzar, and they clothed Daniel with purple, and put a chain of gold about his neck, and made proclamation concerning him, that he should be the third ruler in the kingdom.

³⁰ In that night Belshazzar the Chaldean king was slain. ³¹ And Darius the Mede received the kingdom, being about threescore and two years old.

⁴ Then the presidents and the satraps sought to find occasion against Daniel as touching the kingdom; but they could find no occasion nor fault, forasmuch as he was faithful, neither was there any error or fault found in him. ⁵ Then said these men, We shall not find any occasion against this Daniel, except we find it against him concerning the law of his God. ⁶ Then these presidents and satraps assembled together to the king, and said thus unto him, King Darius, live forever. ⁷ All the presidents of the kingdom, the deputies and the satraps, the counselors and the governors, have consulted together to establish a royal statute, and to make a strong interdict, that whosoever shall ask a petition of any god or man for thirty days, save of thee, O king, he shall be cast into the den of lions. ⁸ Now, O king, establish the interdict, and sign the writing, that it be not changed, according to the law of the Medes and Persians, which altereth not. ⁹ Wherefore king Darius signed the writing and the interdict.

¹⁰ And when Daniel knew that the writing was signed, he went into his house (now his windows were open in his chamber toward Jerusalem); and he knelt upon his knees three times a day, and prayed, and gave thanks before his God, as he did aforetime. ¹¹ Then these men assembled together, and found Daniel making petition and supplication before his God. ¹² Then they came near, and spake before the king concerning the king's interdict: Hast thou not signed an interdict, that every man that shall make petition unto any god or man within thirty days, save unto thee, O king, shall be cast into the den of lions? The king answered and said, The thing is true, according to the law of the Medes and Persians, which altereth not. ¹³ Then answered they and said before the king, That Daniel, who is of the children of the captivity of Judah, regardeth not thee, O king, nor the interdict that thou hast signed, but maketh his petition three times a day. ¹⁴ Then the king, when he heard these words, was sore displeased, and set his heart on Daniel to deliver him; and he labored till the going down of the sun to rescue him. ¹⁵ Then these men assembled together unto the king, and said unto the king, Know, O king, that it is a law of the Medes and Persians, that no interdict nor statute which the king establisheth may be changed.

¹⁹ Then the king arose very early in the morning, and went in haste unto the den of lions. ²⁰ And when he came near unto the den to Daniel, he cried with a lamentable voice; the king spake and said to Daniel, O Daniel, servant of the living God, is thy God, whom thou servest continually, able to deliver thee from the lions? ²¹ Then said Daniel unto the king, O king, live forever. ²² My God hath sent his angel, and hath shut the lions' mouths, and they have not hurt me; forasmuch as before him innocency was found in me; and also before thee, O king, have I done no hurt. ²³ Then was the king exceeding glad, and commanded that they should take Daniel up out of the den. So Daniel was taken up out of the den, and no manner of hurt was found upon him, because he had trusted in his God.

²⁵ Then king Darius wrote unto all the peoples, nations, and languages, that dwell in all the earth: Peace be multiplied unto you. ²⁶ I make a decree, that in all the dominion of my kingdom men tremble and fear before the God of Daniel; for he is the living God, and steadfast forever, And his kingdom that which shall not be destroyed; and his dominion shall be even unto the end. ²⁷ He delivereth and rescueth, and he worketh signs and wonders in heaven and in earth, who hath delivered Daniel from the power of the lions.

²⁸ So this Daniel prospered in the reign of Darius, and in the reign of Cyrus the Persian.

¹ In the first year of Belshazzar king of Babylon Daniel had a dream and visions of his head upon his bed: then he wrote the dream and told the sum of the matters. ² Daniel spake and said, I saw in my vision by night, and, behold, the four winds of heaven brake forth upon the great sea. ³ And four great beasts came up from the sea, diverse one from another. ⁴ The first was like a lion, and had eagle's wings: I beheld till the wings thereof were plucked, and it was lifted up from the earth, and made to stand upon two feet as a man; and a man's heart was given to it. ⁵ And, behold, another beast, a second, like to a bear; and it was raised up on one side, and three ribs were in its mouth between its teeth: and they said thus unto it, Arise, devour much flesh. ⁶ After this I beheld, and, lo, another, like a leopard, which had upon its back four wings of a bird; the beast had also four heads; and dominion was given to it. ⁷ After this I saw in the night visions, and, behold, a fourth beast, terrible and powerful, and strong exceedingly; and it had great iron teeth; it devoured and brake in pieces, and stamped the residue with its feet: and it was diverse from all the beasts that were before it; and it had ten horns. ⁸ I considered the horns, and, behold, there came up among them another horn, a little one, before which three of the first horns were plucked up by the roots: and, behold, in this horn were eyes like the eyes of a man, and a mouth speaking great things.

¹⁵ As for me, Daniel, my spirit was grieved in the midst of my body, and the visions of my head troubled me. ¹⁶ I came near unto one of them that stood by, and asked him the truth concerning all this. So he told me, and made me know the interpretation of the things. ¹⁷ These great beasts, which are four, are four kings, that shall arise out of the earth. ¹⁸ But the saints of the Most High shall receive the kingdom, and possess the kingdom forever, even forever and ever. ¹⁹ Then I desired to know the truth concerning the fourth beast, which was diverse from all of them, exceeding terrible, whose teeth were of iron, and its nails of brass; which devoured, brake in pieces, and stamped the residue with its feet; ²⁰ and concerning the ten horns that were on its head, and the other horn which came up, and before which three fell, even that horn that had eyes, and a mouth that spake great things, whose look was more stout than its fellows. ²¹ I beheld, and the same horn made war with the saints, and prevailed against them; ²² until the ancient of days came, and judgment was given to the saints of the Most High, and the time came that the saints possessed the kingdom.

²³ Thus he said, The fourth beast shall be a fourth kingdom upon earth, which shall be diverse from all the kingdoms, and shall devour the whole earth, and shall tread it down, and break it in pieces. ²⁴ And as for the ten horns, out of this kingdom shall ten kings arise: and another shall arise after them; and he shall be diverse from the former; and he shall put down three kings. ²⁵ And he shall speak words against the Most High, and shall wear out the saints of the Most High; and he shall think to change the times and the law; and they shall be given into his hand until a time and times and half a time. ²⁶ But the judgment shall be set, and they shall take away his dominion, to consume and to destroy it unto the end. ²⁷ And the kingdom and the dominion, and the greatness of the kingdoms under the whole heaven, shall be given to the people of the saints of the Most High: his kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and all dominions shall serve and obey him. ²⁸ Here is the end of the matter. As for me, Daniel, my thoughts much troubled me, and my countenance was changed in me: but I kept the matter in my heart.

⁵ And as I was considering, behold, a he-goat came from the west over the face of the whole earth, and touched not the ground: and the goat had a notable horn between his eyes. ⁶ And he came to the ram that had the two horns, which I saw standing before the river, and ran upon him in the fury of his power. ⁷ And I saw him come close unto the ram, and he was moved with anger against him, and smote the ram, and brake his two horns; and there was no power in the ram to stand before him; but he cast him down to the ground, and trampled upon him; and there was none that could deliver the ram out of his hand. ⁸ And the he-goat magnified himself exceedingly: and when he was strong, the great horn was broken; and instead of it there came up four notable horns toward the four winds of heaven.

⁹ And out of one of them came forth a little horn, which waxed exceeding great, toward the south, and toward the east, and toward the glorious land. ¹⁰ And it waxed great, even to the host of heaven; and some of the host and of the stars it cast down to the ground, and trampled upon them. ¹¹ Yea, it magnified itself, even to the prince of the host; and it took away from him the continual burnt offering, and the place of his sanctuary was cast down. ¹² And the host was given over to it together with the continual burnt offering through transgression; and it cast down truth to the ground, and it did its pleasure and prospered. ¹³ Then I heard a holy one speaking; and another holy one said unto that certain one who spake, How long shall be the vision concerning the continual burnt offering, and the transgression that maketh desolate, to give both the sanctuary and the host to be trodden under foot? ¹⁴ And he said unto me, Unto two thousand and three hundred evenings and mornings; then shall the sanctuary be cleansed.

¹⁵ And it came to pass, when I, even I Daniel, had seen the vision, that I sought to understand it; and, behold, there stood before me as the appearance of a man. ¹⁶ And I heard a man's voice between the banks of the Ulai, which called, and said, Gabriel, make this man to understand the vision. ¹⁷ So he came near where I stood; and when he came, I was affrighted, and fell upon my face: but he said unto me, Understand, O son of man; for the vision belongeth to the time of the end. ¹⁸ Now as he was speaking with me, I fell into a deep sleep with my face toward the ground; but he touched me, and set me upright. ¹⁹ And he said, Behold, I will make thee know what shall be in the latter time of the indignation; for it belongeth to the appointed time of the end. ²⁰ The ram which thou sawest, that had the two horns, they are the kings of Media and Persia. ²¹ And the rough he-goat is the king of Greece: and the great horn that is between his eyes is the first king. ²² And as for that which was broken, in the place whereof four stood up, four kingdoms shall stand up out of the nation, but not with his power. ²³ And in the latter time of their kingdom, when the transgressors are come to the full, a king of fierce countenance, and understanding dark sentences, shall stand up. ²⁴ And his power shall be mighty, but not by his own power; and he shall destroy wonderfully, and shall prosper and do his pleasure; and he shall destroy the mighty ones and the holy people. ²⁵ And through his policy he shall cause craft to prosper in his hand; and he shall magnify himself in his heart, and in their security shall he destroy many: he shall also stand up against the prince of princes; but he shall be broken without hand. ²⁶ And the vision of the evenings and mornings which hath been told is true: but shut thou up the vision; for it belongeth to many days to come. ²⁷ And I, Daniel, fainted, and was sick certain days; then I rose up, and did the king's business: and I wondered at the vision, but none understood it.

³ And I set my face unto the Lord God, to seek by prayer and supplications, with fasting and sackcloth and ashes. ⁴ And I prayed unto Jehovah my God, and made confession, and said, Oh, Lord, the great and dreadful God, who keepeth covenant and lovingkindness with them that love him and keep his commandments, ⁵ we have sinned, and have dealt perversely, and have done wickedly, and have rebelled, even turning aside from thy precepts and from thine ordinances; ⁶ neither have we hearkened unto thy servants the prophets, that spake in thy name to our kings, our princes, and our fathers, and to all the people of the land. ⁷ O Lord, righteousness belongeth unto thee, but unto us confusion of face, as at this day; to the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and unto all Israel, that are near, and that are far off, through all the countries whither thou hast driven them, because of their trespass that they have trespassed against thee. ⁸ O Lord, to us belongeth confusion of face, to our kings, to our princes, and to our fathers, because we have sinned against thee. ⁹ To the Lord our God belong mercies and forgiveness; for we have rebelled against him; ¹⁰ neither have we obeyed the voice of Jehovah our God, to walk in his laws, which he set before us by his servants the prophets. ¹¹ Yea, all Israel have transgressed thy law, even turning aside, that they should not obey thy voice: therefore hath the curse been poured out upon us, and the oath that is written in the law of Moses the servant of God; for we have sinned against him. ¹² And he hath confirmed his words, which he spake against us, and against our judges that judged us, by bringing upon us a great evil; for under the whole heaven hath not been done as hath been done upon Jerusalem. ¹³ As it is written in the law of Moses, all this evil is come upon us: yet have we not entreated the favor of Jehovah our God, that we should turn from our iniquities, and have discernment in thy truth. ¹⁴ Therefore hath Jehovah watched over the evil, and brought it upon us; for Jehovah our God is righteous in all his works which he doeth, and we have not obeyed his voice. ¹⁵ And now, O Lord our God, that hast brought thy people forth out of the land of Egypt with a mighty hand, and hast gotten thee renown, as at this day; we have sinned, we have done wickedly. ¹⁶ O Lord, according to all thy righteousness, let thine anger and thy wrath, I pray thee, be turned away from thy city Jerusalem, thy holy mountain; because for our sins, and for the iniquities of our fathers, Jerusalem and thy people are become a reproach to all that are round about us. ¹⁷ Now therefore, O our God, hearken unto the prayer of thy servant, and to his supplications, and cause thy face to shine upon thy sanctuary that is desolate, for the Lord's sake. ¹⁸ O my God, incline thine ear, and hear; open thine eyes, and behold our desolations, and the city which is called by thy name: for we do not present our supplications before thee for our righteousnesses, but for thy great mercies' sake. ¹⁹ O Lord, hear; O Lord, forgive; O Lord, hearken and do; defer not, for thine own sake, O my God, because thy city and thy people are called by thy name.

²⁰ And while I was speaking, and praying, and confessing my sin and the sin of my people Israel, and presenting my supplication before Jehovah my God for the holy mountain of my God; ²¹ yea, while I was speaking in prayer, the man Gabriel, whom I had seen in the vision at the beginning, being caused to fly swiftly, touched me about the time of the evening oblation. ²² And he instructed me, and talked with me, and said, O Daniel, I am now come forth to give thee wisdom and understanding. ²³ At the beginning of thy supplications the commandment went forth, and I am come to tell thee; for thou art greatly beloved: therefore consider the matter, and understand the vision.

²⁴ Seventy weeks are decreed upon thy people and upon thy holy city, to finish transgression, and to make an end of sins, and to make reconciliation for iniquity, and to bring in everlasting righteousness, and to seal up vision and prophecy, and to anoint the most holy. ²⁵ Know therefore and discern, that from the going forth of the commandment to restore and to build Jerusalem unto the anointed one, the prince, shall be seven weeks, and threescore and two weeks: it shall be built again, with street and moat, even in troublous times. ²⁶ And after the threescore and two weeks shall the anointed one be cut off, and shall have nothing: and the people of the prince that shall come shall destroy the city and the sanctuary; and the end thereof shall be with a flood, and even unto the end shall be war; desolations are determined. ²⁷ And he shall make a firm covenant with many for one week: and in the midst of the week he shall cause the sacrifice and the oblation to cease; and upon the wing of abominations shall come one that maketh desolate; and even unto the full end, and that determined, shall wrath be poured out upon the desolate.

¹ In the third year of Cyrus king of Persia a thing was revealed unto Daniel, whose name was called Belteshazzar; and the thing was true, even a great warfare: and he understood the thing, and had understanding of the vision. ² In those days I, Daniel, was mourning three whole weeks. ³ I ate no pleasant bread, neither came flesh nor wine into my mouth, neither did I anoint myself at all, till three whole weeks were fulfilled. ⁴ And in the four and twentieth day of the first month, as I was by the side of the great river, which is Hiddekel, ⁵ I lifted up mine eyes, and looked, and, behold, a man clothed in linen, whose loins were girded with pure gold of Uphaz: ⁶ his body also was like the beryl, and his face as the appearance of lightning, and his eyes as flaming torches, and his arms and his feet like unto burnished brass, and the voice of his words like the voice of a multitude. ⁷ And I, Daniel, alone saw the vision; for the men that were with me saw not the vision; but a great quaking fell upon them, and they fled to hide themselves. ⁸ So I was left alone, and saw this great vision, and there remained no strength in me; for my comeliness was turned in me into corruption, and I retained no strength. ⁹ Yet heard I the voice of his words; and when I heard the voice of his words, then was I fallen into a deep sleep on my face, with my face toward the ground.

¹⁰ And, behold, a hand touched me, which set me upon my knees and upon the palms of my hands. ¹¹ And he said unto me, O Daniel, thou man greatly beloved, understand the words that I speak unto thee, and stand upright; for unto thee am I now sent. And when he had spoken this word unto me, I stood trembling. ¹² Then said he unto me, Fear not, Daniel; for from the first day that thou didst set thy heart to understand, and to humble thyself before thy God, thy words were heard: and I am come for thy words' sake. ¹³ But the prince of the kingdom of Persia withstood me one and twenty days; but, lo, Michael, one of the chief princes, came to help me: and I remained there with the kings of Persia. ¹⁴ Now I am come to make thee understand what shall befall thy people in the latter days; for the vision is yet for many days. ¹⁵ And when he had spoken unto me according to these words, I set my face toward the ground, and was dumb. ¹⁶ And, behold, one in the likeness of the sons of men touched my lips: then I opened my mouth, and spake and said unto him that stood before me, O my lord, by reason of the vision my sorrows are turned upon me, and I retain no strength. ¹⁷ For how can the servant of this my lord talk with this my lord? for as for me, straightaway there remained no strength in me, neither was there breath left in me.

¹⁸ Then there touched me again one like the appearance of a man, and he strengthened me. ¹⁹ And he said, O man greatly beloved, fear not: peace be unto thee, be strong, yea, be strong. And when he spake unto me, I was strengthened, and said, Let my lord speak; for thou hast strengthened me. ²⁰ Then said he, Knowest thou wherefore I am come unto thee? and now will I return to fight with the prince of Persia: and when I go forth, lo, the prince of Greece shall come. ²¹ But I will tell thee that which is inscribed in the writing of truth: and there is none that holdeth with me against these, but Michael your prince.

¹ And as for me, in the first year of Darius the Mede, I stood up to confirm and strengthen him.

⁵ And the king of the south shall be strong, and one of his princes; and he shall be strong above him, and have dominion; his dominion shall be a great dominion.

⁶ And at the end of years they shall join themselves together; and the daughter of the king of the south shall come to the king of the north to make an agreement: but she shall not retain the strength of her arm; neither shall he stand, nor his arm; but she shall be given up, and they that brought her, and he that begat her, and he that strengthened her in those times.

²⁸ Then shall he return into his land with great substance; and his heart shall be against the holy covenant; and he shall do his pleasure, and return to his own land. ²⁹ At the time appointed he shall return, and come into the south; but it shall not be in the latter time as it was in the former. ³⁰ For ships of Kittim shall come against him; therefore he shall be grieved, and shall return, and have indignation against the holy covenant, and shall do his pleasure: he shall even return, and have regard unto them that forsake the holy covenant. ³¹ And forces shall stand on his part, and they shall profane the sanctuary, even the fortress, and shall take away the continual burnt offering, and they shall set up the abomination that maketh desolate. ³² And such as do wickedly against the covenant shall he pervert by flatteries; but the people that know their God shall be strong, and do exploits. ³³ And they that are wise among the people shall instruct many; yet they shall fall by the sword and by flame, by captivity and by spoil, many days. ³⁴ Now when they shall fall, they shall be helped with a little help; but many shall join themselves unto them with flatteries. ³⁵ And some of them that are wise shall fall, to refine them, and to purify, and to make them white, even to the time of the end; because it is yet for the time appointed.

⁴⁰ And at the time of the end shall the king of the south contend with him; and the king of the north shall come against him like a whirlwind, with chariots, and with horsemen, and with many ships; and he shall enter into the countries, and shall overflow and pass through. ⁴¹ He shall enter also into the glorious land, and many countries shall be overthrown; but these shall be delivered out of his hand: Edom, and Moab, and the chief of the children of Ammon. ⁴² He shall stretch forth his hand also upon the countries; and the land of Egypt shall not escape. ⁴³ But he shall have power over the treasures of gold and of silver, and over all the precious things of Egypt; and the Libyans and the Ethiopians shall be at his steps. ⁴⁴ But tidings out of the east and out of the north shall trouble him; and he shall go forth with great fury to destroy and utterly to sweep away many. ⁴⁵ And he shall plant the tents of his palace between the sea and the glorious holy mountain; yet he shall come to his end, and none shall help him.

⁵ Then I, Daniel, looked, and, behold, there stood other two, the one on the brink of the river on this side, and the other on the brink of the river on that side. ⁶ And one said to the man clothed in linen, who was above the waters of the river, How long shall it be to the end of these wonders? ⁷ And I heard the man clothed in linen, who was above the waters of the river, when he held up his right hand and his left hand unto heaven, and sware by him that liveth forever that it shall be for a time, times, and a half; and when they have made an end of breaking in pieces the power of the holy people, all these things shall be finished. ⁸ And I heard, but I understood not: then said I, O my lord, what shall be the issue of these things? ⁹ And he said, Go thy way, Daniel; for the words are shut up and sealed till the time of the end. ¹⁰ Many shall purify themselves, and make themselves white, and be refined; but the wicked shall do wickedly; and none of the wicked shall understand; but they that are wise shall understand. ¹¹ And from the time that the continual burnt offering shall be taken away, and the abomination that maketh desolate set up, there shall be a thousand two hundred and ninety days. ¹² Blessed is he that waiteth, and cometh to the thousand three hundred and five and thirty days. ¹³ But go thou thy way till the end be; for thou shalt rest, and shalt stand in thy lot, at the end of the days.

THE BOOK OF HOSEA

¹ The word of Jehovah that came unto Hosea the son of Beerī, in the days of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of Judah, and in the days of Jeroboam the son of Joash, king of Israel.

¹⁰ Yet the number of the children of Israel shall be as the sand of the sea, which cannot be measured nor numbered; and it shall come to pass that, in the place where it was said unto them, Ye are not my people, it shall be said unto them, Ye are the sons of the living God. ¹¹ And the children of Judah and the children of Israel shall be gathered together, and they shall appoint themselves one head, and shall go up from the land; for great shall be the day of Jezreel.

⁸ For she did not know that I gave her the grain, and the new wine, and the oil, and multiplied unto her silver and gold, which they used for Baal. ⁹ Therefore will I take back my grain in the time thereof, and my new wine in the season thereof, and will pluck away my wool and my flax which should have covered her nakedness. ¹⁰ And now will I uncover her lewdness in the sight of her lovers, and none shall deliver her out of my hand. ¹¹ I will also cause all her mirth to cease, her feasts, her new moons, and her sabbaths, and all her solemn assemblies. ¹² And I will lay waste her vines and her fig trees, whereof she hath said, These are my hire that my lovers have given me; and I will make them a forest, and the beasts of the field shall eat them. ¹³ And I will visit upon her the days of the Baalim, unto which she burned incense, when she decked herself with her earrings and her jewels, and went after her lovers, and forgot me, saith Jehovah.

¹⁴ Therefore, behold, I will allure her, and bring her into the wilderness, and speak comfortably unto her. ¹⁵ And I will give her her vineyards from thence, and the valley of Achor for a door of hope; and she shall make answer there, as in the days of her youth, and as in the day when she came up out of the land of Egypt. ¹⁶ And it shall be at that day, saith Jehovah, that thou shalt call me Ishi, and shalt call me no more Baali. ¹⁷ For I will take away the names of the Baalim out of her mouth, and they shall no more be mentioned by their name. ¹⁸ And in that day will I make a covenant for them with the beasts of the field, and with the birds of the heavens, and with the creeping things of the ground: and I will break the bow and the sword and the battle out of the land, and will make them to lie down safely. ¹⁹ And I will betroth thee unto me forever; yea, I will betroth thee unto me in righteousness, and in justice, and in lovingkindness, and in mercies. ²⁰ I will even betroth thee unto me in faithfulness; and thou shalt know Jehovah.

²¹ And it shall come to pass in that day, I will answer, saith Jehovah, I will answer the heavens, and they shall answer the earth; ²² and the earth shall answer the grain, and the new wine, and the oil; and they shall answer Jezreel. ²³ And I will sow her unto me in the earth; and I will have mercy upon her that had not obtained mercy; and I will say to them that were not my people, Thou art my people; and they shall say, Thou art my God.

¹ And Jehovah said unto me, Go again, love a woman beloved of her friend, and an adulteress, even as Jehovah loveth the children of Israel, though they turn unto other gods, and love cakes of raisins. ² So I bought her to me for fifteen pieces of silver, and a homer of barley, and a half-homer of barley; ³ and I said unto her, Thou shalt abide for me many days; thou shalt not play the harlot, and thou shalt not be any man's wife: so will I also be toward thee. ⁴ For the children of Israel shall abide many days without king, and without prince, and without sacrifice, and without pillar, and without ephod or teraphim: ⁵ afterward shall the children of Israel return, and seek Jehovah their God, and David their king, and shall come with fear unto Jehovah and to his goodness in the latter days.

⁶ My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge: because thou hast rejected knowledge, I will also reject thee, that thou shalt be no priest to me: seeing thou hast forgotten the law of thy God, I also will forget thy children. ⁷ As they were multiplied, so they sinned against me: I will change their glory into shame. ⁸ They feed on the sin of my people, and set their heart on their iniquity. ⁹ And it shall be, like people, like priest; and I will punish them for their ways, and will requite them their doings. ¹⁰ And they shall eat, and not have enough; they shall play the harlot, and shall not increase; because they have left off taking heed to Jehovah.

¹¹ Whoredom and wine and new wine take away the understanding. ¹² My people ask counsel at their stock, and their staff declareth unto them; for the spirit of whoredom hath caused them to err, and they have played the harlot, departing from under their God. ¹³ They sacrifice upon the tops of the mountains, and burn incense upon the hills, under oaks and poplars and terebinths, because the shadow thereof is good: therefore your daughters play the harlot, and your brides commit adultery. ¹⁴ I will not punish your daughters when they play the harlot, nor your brides when they commit adultery; for the men themselves go apart with harlots, and they sacrifice with the prostitutes; and the people that doth not understand shall be overthrown.

¹ Hear this, O ye priests, and hearken, O house of Israel, and give ear, O house of the king; for unto you pertaineth the judgment; for ye have been a snare at Mizpah, and a net spread upon Tabor. ² And the revolvers are gone deep in making slaughter; but I am a rebuker of them all. ³ I know Ephraim, and Israel is not hidden from me; for now, O Ephraim, thou hast played the harlot, Israel is defiled. ⁴ Their doings will not suffer them to turn unto their God; for the spirit of whoredom is within them, and they know not Jehovah. ⁵ And the pride of Israel doth testify to his face: therefore Israel and Ephraim shall stumble in their iniquity; Judah also shall stumble with them. ⁶ They shall go with their flocks and with their herds to seek Jehovah; but they shall not find him: he hath withdrawn himself from them. ⁷ They have dealt treacherously against Jehovah; for they have borne strange children: now shall the new moon devour them with their fields.

⁸ Blow ye the cornet in Gibeah, and the trumpet in Ramah: sound an alarm at Beth-aven; behind thee, O Benjamin. ⁹ Ephraim shall become a desolation in the day of rebuke: among the tribes of Israel have I made known that which shall surely be. ¹⁰ The princes of Judah are like them that remove the landmark: I will pour out my wrath upon them like water. ¹¹ Ephraim is oppressed, he is crushed in judgment; because he was content to walk after man's command. ¹² Therefore am I unto Ephraim as a moth, and to the house of Judah as rottenness. ¹³ When Ephraim saw his sickness, and Judah saw his wound, then went Ephraim to Assyria, and sent to king Jareb: but he is not able to heal you, neither will he cure you of your wound. ¹⁴ For I will be unto Ephraim as a lion, and as a young lion to the house of Judah: I, even I, will tear and go away; I will carry off, and there shall be none to deliver. ¹⁵ I will go and return to my place, till they acknowledge their offense, and seek my face: in their affliction they will seek me earnestly.

¹ Come, and let us return unto Jehovah; for he hath torn, and he will heal us; he hath smitten, and he will bind us up. ² After two days will he revive us: on the third day he will raise us up, and we shall live before him. ³ And let us know, let us follow on to know Jehovah: his going forth is sure as the morning; and he will come unto us as the rain, as the latter rain that watereth the earth.

⁴ O Ephraim, what shall I do unto thee? O Judah, what shall I do unto thee? for your goodness is as a morning cloud, and as the dew that goeth early away. ⁵ Therefore have I hewed them by the prophets; I have slain them by the words of my mouth: and thy judgments are as the light that goeth forth. ⁶ For I desire goodness, and not sacrifice; and the knowledge of God more than burnt offerings. ⁷ But they like Adam have transgressed the covenant: there have they dealt treacherously against me. ⁸ Gilead is a city of them that work iniquity; it is stained with blood. ⁹ And as troops of robbers wait for a man, so the company of priests murder in the way toward Shechem; yea, they have committed lewdness. ¹⁰ In the house of Israel I have seen a horrible thing: there whoredom is found in Ephraim, Israel is defiled. ¹¹ Also, O Judah, there is a harvest appointed for thee, when I bring back the captivity of my people.

¹ When I would heal Israel, then is the iniquity of Ephraim uncovered, and the wickedness of Samaria; for they commit falsehood, and the thief entereth in, and the troop of robbers ravageth without. ² And they consider not in their hearts that I remember all their wickedness: now have their own doings beset them about; they are before my face. ³ They make the king glad with their wickedness, and the princes with their lies. ⁴ They are all adulterers; they are as an oven heated by the baker; he ceaseth to stir the fire, from the kneading of the dough, until it be leavened. ⁵ On the day of our king the princes made themselves sick with the heat of wine; he stretched out his hand with scoffers. ⁶ For they have made ready their heart like an oven, while they lie in wait: their baker sleepeth all the night; in the morning it burneth as a flaming fire. ⁷ They are all hot as an oven, and devour their judges; all their kings are fallen: there is none among them that calleth unto me.

⁸ Ephraim, he mixeth himself among the peoples; Ephraim is a cake not turned. ⁹ Strangers have devoured his strength, and he knoweth it not: yea, gray hairs are here and there upon him, and he knoweth it not. ¹⁰ And the pride of Israel doth testify to his face: yet they have not returned unto Jehovah their God, nor sought him, for all this. ¹¹ And Ephraim is like a silly dove, without understanding: they call unto Egypt, they go to Assyria. ¹² When they shall go, I will spread my net upon them; I will bring them down as the birds of the heavens; I will chastise them, as their congregation hath heard. ¹³ Woe unto them! for they have wandered from me; destruction unto them! for they have trespassed against me: though I would redeem them, yet they have spoken lies against me. ¹⁴ And they have not cried unto me with their heart, but they howl upon their beds: they assemble themselves for grain and new wine; they rebel against me. ¹⁵ Though I have taught and strengthened their arms, yet do they devise mischief against me. ¹⁶ They return, but not to him that is on high; they are like a deceitful bow; their princes shall fall by the sword for the rage of their tongue: this shall be their derision in the land of Egypt.

¹ Set the trumpet to thy mouth. As an eagle he cometh against the house of Jehovah, because they have transgressed my covenant, and trespassed against my law. ² They shall cry unto me, My God, we Israel know thee. ³ Israel hath cast off that which is good: the enemy shall pursue him. ⁴ They have set up kings, but not by me; they have made princes, and I knew it not: of their silver and their gold have they made them idols, that they may be cut off. ⁵ He hath cast off thy calf, O Samaria; mine anger is kindled against them: how long will it be ere they attain to innocency? ⁶ For from Israel is even this; the workman made it, and it is no God; yea, the calf of Samaria shall be broken in pieces. ⁷ For they sow the wind, and they shall reap the whirlwind: he hath no standing grain; the blade shall yield no meal; if so be it yield, strangers shall swallow it up.

¹¹ Because Ephraim hath multiplied altars for sinning, altars have been unto him for sinning. ¹² I wrote for him the ten thousand things of my law; but they are counted as a strange thing. ¹³ As for the sacrifices of mine offerings, they sacrifice flesh and eat it; but Jehovah accepteth them not: now will he remember their iniquity, and visit their sins; they shall return to Egypt. ¹⁴ For Israel hath forgotten his Maker, and built palaces; and Judah hath multiplied fortified cities: but I will send a fire upon his cities, and it shall devour the castles thereof.

¹⁰ I found Israel like grapes in the wilderness; I saw your fathers as the first-ripe in the fig tree at its first season: but they came to Baal-peor, and consecrated themselves unto the shameful thing, and became abominable like that which they loved. ¹¹ As for Ephraim, their glory shall fly away like a bird: there shall be no birth, and none with child, and no conception. ¹² Though they bring up their children, yet will I bereave them, so that not a man shall be left: yea, woe also to them when I depart from them! ¹³ Ephraim, like as I have seen Tyre, is planted in a pleasant place: but Ephraim shall bring out his children to the slayer. ¹⁴ Give them, O Jehovah—what wilt thou give?

give them a miscarrying womb and dry breasts. ¹⁵ All their wickedness is in Gilgal; for there I hated them: because of the wickedness of their doings I will drive them out of my house; I will love them no more; all their princes are revolvers. ¹⁶ Ephraim is smitten, their root is dried up, they shall bear no fruit: yea, though they bring forth, yet will I slay the beloved fruit of their womb. ¹⁷ My God will cast them away, because they did not hearken unto him; and they shall be wanderers among the nations.

¹² Sow to yourselves in righteousness, reap according to kindness; break up your fallow ground; for it is time to seek Jehovah, till he come and rain righteousness upon you. ¹³ Ye have plowed wickedness, ye have reaped iniquity; ye have eaten the fruit of lies; for thou didst trust in thy way, in the multitude of thy mighty men. ¹⁴ Therefore shall a tumult arise among thy people, and all thy fortresses shall be destroyed, as Shalman destroyed Beth-arbel in the day of battle: the mother was dashed in pieces with her children. ¹⁵ So shall Beth-el do unto you because of your great wickedness: at daybreak shall the king of Israel be utterly cut off.

¹ When Israel was a child, then I loved him, and called my son out of Egypt. ² The more the prophets called them, the more they went from them: they sacrificed unto the Baalim, and burned incense to graven images. ³ Yet I taught Ephraim to walk; I took them on my arms; but they knew not that I healed them. ⁴ I drew them with cords of a man, with bands of love; and I was to them as they that lift up the yoke on their jaws; and I laid food before them.

⁸ How shall I give thee up, Ephraim? how shall I cast thee off, Israel? how shall I make thee as Admah? how shall I set thee as Zeboiim? my heart is turned within me, my compassions are kindled together. ⁹ I will not execute the fierceness of mine anger, I will not return to destroy Ephraim: for I am God, and not man; the Holy One in the midst of thee; and I will not come in wrath. ¹⁰ They shall walk after Jehovah, who will roar like a lion; for he will roar, and the children shall come trembling from the west. ¹¹ They shall come trembling as a bird out of Egypt, and as a dove out of the land of Assyria; and I will make them to dwell in their houses, saith Jehovah.

⁷ He is a trafficker, the balances of deceit are in his hand: he loveth to oppress. ⁸ And Ephraim said, Surely I am become rich, I have found me wealth: in all my labors they shall find in me no iniquity that were sin. ⁹ But I am Jehovah thy God from the land of Egypt; I will yet again make thee to dwell in tents, as in the days of the solemn feast. ¹⁰ I have also spoken unto the prophets, and I have multiplied visions; and by the ministry of the prophets have I used similitudes. ¹¹ Is Gilead iniquity? they are altogether false; in Gilgal they sacrifice bullocks; yea, their altars are as heaps in the furrows of the field. ¹² And Jacob fled into the field of Aram, and Israel served for a wife, and for a wife he kept sheep. ¹³ And by a prophet Jehovah brought Israel up out of Egypt, and by a prophet was he preserved. ¹⁴ Ephraim hath provoked to anger most bitterly: therefore shall his blood be left upon him, and his reproach shall his Lord return unto him.

¹ When Ephraim spake, there was trembling; he exalted himself in Israel; but when he offended in Baal, he died. ² And now they sin more and more, and have made them molten images of their silver, even idols according to their own understanding, all of them the work of the craftsmen: they say of them, Let the men that sacrifice kiss the calves. ³ Therefore they shall be as the morning cloud, and as the dew that passeth early away, as the chaff that is driven with the whirlwind out of the threshing floor, and as the smoke out of the chimney.

⁴ Yet I am Jehovah thy God from the land of Egypt; and thou shalt know no god but me, and besides me there is no savior. ⁵ I did know thee in the wilderness, in the land of great drought. ⁶ According to their pasture, so were they filled; they were filled, and their heart was exalted: therefore have they forgotten me. ⁷ Therefore am I unto them as a lion; as a leopard will I watch by the way; ⁸ I will meet them as a bear that is bereaved of her whelps, and will rend the caul of their heart; and there will I devour them like a lioness; the wild beast shall tear them.

¹ O Israel, return unto Jehovah thy God; for thou hast fallen by thine iniquity. ² Take with you words, and return unto Jehovah: say unto him, Take away all iniquity, and accept that which is good: so will we render as bullocks the offering of our lips. ³ Assyria shall not save us; we will not ride upon horses; neither will we say anymore to the work of our hands, Ye are our gods; for in thee the fatherless findeth mercy.

⁴ I will heal their backsliding, I will love them freely; for mine anger is turned away from him. ⁵ I will be as the dew unto Israel; he shall blossom as the lily, and cast forth his roots as Lebanon. ⁶ His branches shall spread, and his beauty shall be as the olive tree, and his smell as Lebanon. ⁷ They that dwell under his shadow shall return; they shall revive as the grain, and blossom as the vine: the scent thereof shall be as the wine of Lebanon. ⁸ Ephraim shall say, What have I to do anymore with idols? I have answered, and will regard him: I am like a green fir tree; from me is thy fruit found.

⁹ Who is wise, that he may understand these things? prudent, that he may know them? for the ways of Jehovah are right, and the just shall walk in them; but transgressors shall fall therein.

THE BOOK OF JOEL

¹ The word of Jehovah that came to Joel the son of Pethuel.

² Hear this, ye old men, and give ear, all ye inhabitants of the land. Hath this been in your days, or in the days of your fathers? ³ Tell ye your children of it, and let your children tell their children, and their children another generation. ⁴ That which the palmerworm hath left hath the locust eaten; and that which the locust hath left hath the cankerworm eaten; and that which the cankerworm hath left hath the caterpillar eaten.

¹⁵ Alas for the day! for the day of Jehovah is at hand, and as destruction from the Almighty shall it come. ¹⁶ Is not the food cut off before our eyes, yea, joy and gladness from the house of our God? ¹⁷ The seeds rot under their clods; the garners are laid desolate, the barns are broken down; for the grain is withered. ¹⁸ How do the beasts groan! the herds of cattle are perplexed, because they have no pasture; yea, the flocks of sheep are made desolate. ¹⁹ O Jehovah, to thee do I cry; for the fire hath devoured the pastures of the wilderness, and the flame hath burned all the trees of the field. ²⁰ Yea, the beasts of the field pant unto thee; for the water brooks are dried up, and the fire hath devoured the pastures of the wilderness.

¹² Yet even now, saith Jehovah, turn ye unto me with all your heart, and with fasting, and with weeping, and with mourning; ¹³ and rend your heart, and not your garments, and turn unto Jehovah your God; for he is gracious and merciful, slow to anger, and abundant in lovingkindness, and repenteth him of the evil. ¹⁴ Who knoweth whether he will not turn and repent, and leave a blessing behind him, even a meal offering and a drink offering unto Jehovah your God?

¹⁸ Then was Jehovah jealous for his land, and had pity on his people. ¹⁹ And Jehovah answered and said unto his people, Behold, I will send you grain, and new wine, and oil, and ye shall be satisfied therewith; and I will no more make you a reproach among the nations; ²⁰ but I will remove far off from you the northern army, and will drive it into a land barren and desolate, its forepart into the eastern sea, and its hinder part into the western sea; and its stench shall come up, and its ill savor shall come up, because it hath done great things.

²¹ Fear not, O land, be glad and rejoice; for Jehovah hath done great things. ²² Be not afraid, ye beasts of the field; for the pastures of the wilderness do spring, for the tree beareth its fruit, the fig tree and the vine do yield their strength. ²³ Be glad then, ye children of Zion, and rejoice in Jehovah your God; for he giveth you the former rain in just measure, and he causeth to come down for you the rain, the former rain and the latter rain, in the first month. ²⁴ And the floors shall be full of wheat, and the vats shall overflow with new wine and oil. ²⁵ And I will restore to you the years that the locust hath eaten, the cankerworm, and the caterpillar, and the palmerworm, my great army which I sent among you. ²⁶ And ye shall eat in plenty and be satisfied, and shall praise the name of Jehovah your God, that hath dealt wondrously with you; and my people shall never be put to shame. ²⁷ And ye shall know that I am in the midst of Israel, and that I am Jehovah your God, and there is none else; and my people shall never be put to shame.

²⁸ And it shall come to pass afterward, that I will pour out my Spirit upon all flesh; and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, your old men shall dream dreams, your young men shall see visions: ²⁹ and also upon the servants and upon the handmaids in those days will I pour out my Spirit. ³⁰ And I will show wonders in the heavens and in the earth: blood, and fire, and pillars of smoke. ³¹ The sun shall be turned into darkness, and the moon into blood, before the great and terrible day of Jehovah cometh. ³² And it shall come to pass, that whosoever shall call on the name of Jehovah shall be delivered; for in mount Zion and in Jerusalem there shall be those that escape, as Jehovah hath said, and among the remnant those whom Jehovah doth call.

¹ For, behold, in those days, and in that time, when I shall bring back the captivity of Judah and Jerusalem, ² I will gather all nations, and will bring them down into the valley of Jehoshaphat; and I will execute judgment upon them there for my people and for my heritage Israel, whom they have scattered among the nations: and they have parted my land, ³ and have cast lots for my people, and have given a boy for a harlot, and sold a girl for wine, that they may drink. ⁴ Yea, and what are ye to me, O Tyre, and Sidon, and all the regions of Philistia? will ye render me a recompense? and if ye recompense me, swiftly and speedily will I return your recompense upon your own head. ⁵ Forasmuch as ye have taken my silver and my gold, and have carried into your temples my goodly precious things, ⁶ and have sold the children of Judah and the children of Jerusalem unto the sons of the Grecians, that ye may remove them far from their border; ⁷ behold, I will stir them up out of the place whither ye have sold them, and will return your recompense upon your own head; ⁸ and I will sell your sons and your daughters into the hand of the children of Judah, and they shall sell them to the men of Sheba, to a nation far off: for Jehovah hath spoken it.

¹⁴ Multitudes, multitudes in the valley of decision! for the day of Jehovah is near in the valley of decision. ¹⁵ The sun and the moon are darkened, and the stars withdraw their shining. ¹⁶ And Jehovah will roar from Zion, and utter his voice from Jerusalem; and the heavens and the earth shall shake: but Jehovah will be a refuge unto his people, and a stronghold to the children of Israel. ¹⁷ So shall ye know that I am Jehovah your God, dwelling in Zion my holy mountain: then shall Jerusalem be holy, and there shall no strangers pass through her anymore.

¹⁸ And it shall come to pass in that day, that the mountains shall drop down sweet wine, and the hills shall flow with milk, and all the brooks of Judah shall flow with waters; and a fountain shall come forth from the house of Jehovah, and shall water the valley of Shittim. ¹⁹ Egypt shall be a desolation, and Edom shall be a desolate wilderness, for the violence done to the children of Judah, because they have shed innocent blood in their land. ²⁰ But Judah shall abide forever, and Jerusalem from generation to generation. ²¹ And I will cleanse their blood, that I have not cleansed: for Jehovah dwelleth in Zion.

THE BOOK OF AMOS

² And he said, Jehovah will roar from Zion, and utter his voice from Jerusalem; and the pastures of the shepherds shall mourn, and the top of Carmel shall wither.

⁶ Thus saith Jehovah: For three transgressions of Gaza, yea, for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because they carried away captive the whole people, to deliver them up to Edom. ⁷ But I will send a fire on the wall of Gaza, and it shall devour the palaces thereof. ⁸ And I will cut off the inhabitant from Ashdod, and him that holdeth the scepter from Ashkelon; and I will turn my hand against Ekron; and the remnant of the Philistines shall perish, saith the Lord Jehovah.

¹¹ Thus saith Jehovah: For three transgressions of Edom, yea, for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because he did pursue his brother with the sword, and did cast off all pity, and his anger did tear perpetually, and he kept his wrath forever.

¹² But I will send a fire upon Teman, and it shall devour the palaces of Bozrah.

⁴ Thus saith Jehovah: For three transgressions of Judah, yea, for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because they have rejected the law of Jehovah, and have not kept his statutes, and their lies have caused them to err, after which their fathers did walk. ⁵ But I will send a fire upon Judah, and it shall devour the palaces of Jerusalem.

⁶ Thus saith Jehovah: For three transgressions of Israel, yea, for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because they have sold the righteous for silver, and the needy for a pair of shoes— ⁷ they that pant after the dust of the earth on the head of the poor, and turn aside the way of the meek: and a man and his father go unto the same maiden, to profane my holy name: ⁸ and they lay themselves down beside every altar upon clothes taken in pledge; and in the house of their God they drink the wine of such as have been fined.

⁹ Yet destroyed I the Amorite before them, whose height was like the height of the cedars, and he was strong as the oaks; yet I destroyed his fruit from above, and his roots from beneath. ¹⁰ Also I brought you up out of the land of Egypt, and led you forty years in the wilderness, to possess the land of the Amorite. ¹¹ And I raised up of your sons for prophets, and of your young men for Nazirites. Is it not even thus, O ye children of Israel? saith Jehovah. ¹² But ye gave the Nazirites wine to drink, and commanded the prophets, saying, Prophecy not.

¹³ Behold, I will press you in your place, as a cart presseth that is full of sheaves. ¹⁴ And flight shall perish from the swift; and the strong shall not strengthen his force; neither shall the mighty deliver himself; ¹⁵ neither shall he stand that handleth the bow; and he that is swift of foot shall not deliver himself; neither shall he that rideth the horse deliver himself; ¹⁶ and he that is courageous among the mighty shall flee away naked in that day, saith Jehovah.

¹ Hear this word that Jehovah hath spoken against you, O children of Israel, against the whole family which I brought up out of the land of Egypt, saying, ² You only have I known of all the families of the earth: therefore I will visit upon you all your iniquities. ³ Shall two walk together, except they have agreed? ⁴ Will a lion roar in the forest, when he hath no prey? will a young lion cry out of his den, if he have taken nothing? ⁵ Can a bird fall in a snare upon the earth, where no gin is set for him? shall a snare spring up from the ground, and have taken nothing at all? ⁶ Shall the trumpet be blown in a city, and the people not be afraid? shall evil befall a city, and Jehovah hath not done it? ⁷ Surely the Lord Jehovah will do nothing, except he reveal his secret unto his servants the prophets. ⁸ The lion hath roared; who will not fear? The Lord Jehovah hath spoken; who can but prophesy?

¹³ Hear ye, and testify against the house of Jacob, saith the Lord Jehovah, the God of hosts. ¹⁴ For in the day that I shall visit the transgressions of Israel upon him, I will also visit the altars of Beth-el; and the horns of the altar shall be cut off, and fall to the ground. ¹⁵ And I will smite the winter house with the summer house; and the houses of ivory shall perish, and the great houses shall have an end, saith Jehovah.

⁴ Come to Beth-el, and transgress; to Gilgal, and multiply transgression; and bring your sacrifices every morning, and your tithes every three days; ⁵ and offer a sacrifice of thanksgiving of that which is leavened, and proclaim freewill offerings and publish them: for this pleaseth you, O ye children of Israel, saith the Lord Jehovah.

⁶ And I also have given you cleanness of teeth in all your cities, and want of bread in all your places; yet have ye not returned unto me, saith Jehovah. ⁷ And I also have withholden the rain from you, when there were yet three months to the harvest; and I caused it to rain upon one city, and caused it not to rain upon another city: one piece was rained upon, and the piece whereupon it rained not withered. ⁸ So two or three cities wandered unto one city to drink water, and were not satisfied: yet have ye not returned unto me, saith Jehovah. ⁹ I have smitten you with blasting and mildew: the multitude of your gardens and your vineyards and your fig trees and your olive trees hath the palmerworm devoured: yet have ye not returned unto me, saith Jehovah. ¹⁰ I have sent among you the pestilence after the manner of Egypt: your young men have I slain with the sword, and have carried away your horses; and I have made the stench of your camp to come up even into your nostrils: yet have ye not returned unto me, saith Jehovah. ¹¹ I have overthrown cities among you, as when God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah, and ye were as a brand plucked out of the burning: yet have ye not returned unto me, saith Jehovah.

¹² Therefore thus will I do unto thee, O Israel; and because I will do this unto thee, prepare to meet thy God, O Israel. ¹³ For, lo, he that formeth the mountains, and createth the wind, and declareth unto man what is his thought; that maketh the morning darkness, and treadeth upon the high places of the earth—Jehovah, the God of hosts, is his name.

from him of wheat: ye have built houses of hewn stone, but ye shall not dwell in them; ye have planted pleasant vineyards, but ye shall not drink the wine thereof. ¹² For I know how manifold are your transgressions, and how mighty are your sins—ye that afflict the just, that take a bribe, and that turn aside the needy in the gate from their right. ¹³ Therefore he that is prudent shall keep silence in such a time; for it is an evil time.

¹⁴ Seek good, and not evil, that ye may live; and so Jehovah, the God of hosts, will be with you, as ye say. ¹⁵ Hate the evil, and love the good, and establish justice in the gate: it may be that Jehovah, the God of hosts, will be gracious unto the remnant of Joseph.

¹⁶ Therefore thus saith Jehovah, the God of hosts, the Lord: Wailing shall be in all the broad ways; and they shall say in all the streets, Alas! alas! and they shall call the husbandman to mourning, and such as are skillful in lamentation to wailing. ¹⁷ And in all vineyards shall be wailing; for I will pass through the midst of thee, saith Jehovah.

¹⁸ Woe unto you that desire the day of Jehovah! Wherefore would ye have the day of Jehovah? It is darkness, and not light. ¹⁹ As if a man did flee from a lion, and a bear met him; or went into the house and leaned his hand on the wall, and a serpent bit him. ²⁰ Shall not the day of Jehovah be darkness, and not light? even very dark, and no brightness in it?

²¹ I hate, I despise your feasts, and I will take no delight in your solemn assemblies. ²² Yea, though ye offer me your burnt offerings and meal offerings, I will not accept them; neither will I regard the peace offerings of your fat beasts. ²³ Take thou away from me the noise of thy songs; for I will not hear the melody of thy viols. ²⁴ But let justice roll down as waters, and righteousness as a mighty stream.

²⁵ Did ye bring unto me sacrifices and offerings in the wilderness forty years, O house of Israel? ²⁶ Yea, ye have borne the tabernacle of your king and the shrine of your images, the star of your god, which ye made to yourselves. ²⁷ Therefore will I cause you to go into captivity beyond Damascus, saith Jehovah, whose name is the God of hosts.

¹ Woe to them that are at ease in Zion, and to them that are secure in the mountain of Samaria, the notable men of the chief of the nations, to whom the house of Israel come! ² Pass ye unto Calneh, and see; and from thence go ye to Hamath the great; then go down to Gath of the Philistines: are they better than these kingdoms? or is their border greater than your border? ³ —ye that put far away the evil day, and cause the seat of violence to come near; ⁴ that lie upon beds of ivory, and stretch themselves upon their couches, and eat the lambs out of the flock, and the calves out of the midst of the stall; ⁵ that sing idle songs to the sound of the viol; that invent for themselves instruments of music, like David; ⁶ that drink wine in bowls, and anoint themselves with the chief oils; but they are not grieved for the affliction of Joseph.

⁷ Therefore shall they now go captive with the first that go captive; and the revelry of them that stretched themselves shall pass away. ⁸ The Lord Jehovah hath sworn by himself, saith Jehovah, the God of hosts: I abhor the excellency of Jacob, and hate his palaces; therefore will I deliver up the city with all that is therein. ⁹ And it shall come to pass, if there remain ten men in one house, that they shall die. ¹⁰ And when a man's uncle shall take him up, even he that burneth him, to bring out the bones out of the house, and shall say unto him that is in the innermost parts of the house, Is there yet any with thee? and he shall say, No; then shall he say, Hold thy peace; for we may not make mention of the name of Jehovah. ¹¹ For, behold, Jehovah commandeth, and the great house shall be smitten with breaches, and the little house with clefts.

¹² Shall horses run upon the rock? will one plow there with oxen? that ye have turned justice into gall, and the fruit of righteousness into wormwood; ¹³ ye that rejoice in a thing of nought, that say, Have we not taken to us horns by our own strength? ¹⁴ For, behold, I will raise up against you a nation, O house of Israel, saith Jehovah, the God of hosts; and they shall afflict you from the entrance of Hamath unto the brook of the Arabah.

¹ Thus the Lord Jehovah showed me: and, behold, he formed locusts in the beginning of the shooting up of the latter growth; and, lo, it was the latter growth after the king's mowings. ² And it came to pass that, when they made an end of eating the grass of the land, then I said, O Lord Jehovah, forgive, I beseech thee: how shall Jacob stand? for he is small. ³ Jehovah repented concerning this: It shall not be, saith Jehovah.

⁷ Thus he showed me: and, behold, the Lord stood beside a wall made by a plumb line, with a plumb line in his hand. ⁸ And Jehovah said unto me, Amos, what seest thou? And I said, A plumb line. Then said the Lord, Behold, I will set a plumb line in the midst of my people Israel; I will not again pass by them anymore; ⁹ and the high places of Isaac shall be desolate, and the sanctuaries of Israel shall be laid waste; and I will rise against the house of Jeroboam with the sword.

¹⁴ Then answered Amos, and said to Amaziah, I was no prophet, neither was I a prophet's son; but I was a herdsman, and a dresser of sycamore trees: ¹⁵ and Jehovah took me from following the flock, and Jehovah said unto me, Go, prophesy unto my people Israel. ¹⁶ Now therefore hear thou the word of Jehovah: Thou sayest, Prophecy not against Israel, and drop not thy word against the house of Isaac; ¹⁷ therefore thus saith Jehovah: Thy wife shall be a harlot in the city, and thy sons and thy daughters shall fall by the sword, and thy land shall be divided by line; and thou thyself shalt die in a land that is unclean, and Israel shall surely be led away captive out of his land.

¹ Thus the Lord Jehovah showed me: and, behold, a basket of summer fruit. ² And he said, Amos, what seest thou? And I said, A basket of summer fruit. Then said Jehovah unto me, The end is come upon my people Israel; I will not again pass by them anymore. ³ And the songs of the temple shall be wailings in that day, saith the Lord Jehovah: the dead bodies shall be many; in every place shall they cast them forth with silence.

⁴ Hear this, O ye that would swallow up the needy, and cause the poor of the land to fail, ⁵ saying, When will the new moon be gone, that we may sell grain? and the sabbath, that we may set forth wheat, making the ephah small, and the shekel great, and dealing falsely with balances of deceit; ⁶ that we may buy the poor for silver, and the needy for a pair of shoes, and sell the refuse of the wheat? ⁷ Jehovah hath sworn by the excellency of Jacob, Surely I will never forget any of their works. ⁸ Shall not the land tremble for this, and everyone mourn that dwelleth therein? yea, it shall rise up wholly like the River; and it shall be troubled and sink again, like the River of Egypt. ⁹ And it shall come to pass in that day, saith the Lord Jehovah, that I will cause the sun to go down at noon, and I will darken the earth in the clear day. ¹⁰ And I will turn your feasts into mourning, and all your songs into lamentation; and I will bring sackcloth upon all loins, and baldness upon every head; and I will make it as the mourning for an only son, and the end thereof as a bitter day.

¹¹ Behold, the days come, saith the Lord Jehovah, that I will send a famine in the land, not a famine of bread, nor a thirst for water, but of hearing the words of Jehovah. ¹² And they shall wander from sea to sea, and from the north even to the east; they shall run to and fro to seek the word of Jehovah, and shall not find it. ¹³ In that day shall the fair virgins and the young men faint for thirst. ¹⁴ They that swear by the sin of Samaria, and say, As thy god, O Dan, liveth; and, As the way of Beer-sheba liveth; they shall fall, and never rise up again.

⁵ For the Lord, Jehovah of hosts, is he that toucheth the land and it melteth, and all that dwell therein shall mourn; and it shall rise up wholly like the River, and shall sink again, like the River of Egypt; ⁶ it is he that buildeth his chambers in the heavens, and hath founded his vault upon the earth; he that calleth for the waters of the sea, and poureth them out upon the face of the earth; Jehovah is his name.

⁷ Are ye not as the children of the Ethiopians unto me, O children of Israel? saith Jehovah. Have not I brought up Israel out of the land of Egypt, and the Philistines from Caphtor, and the Syrians from Kir? ⁸ Behold, the eyes of the Lord Jehovah are upon the sinful kingdom, and I will destroy it from off the face of the earth; save that I will not utterly destroy the house of Jacob, saith Jehovah. ⁹ For, lo, I will command, and I will sift the house of Israel among all the nations, like as grain is sifted in a sieve, yet shall not the least kernel fall upon the earth. ¹⁰ All the sinners of my people shall die by the sword, who say, The evil shall not overtake nor meet us.

¹¹ In that day will I raise up the tabernacle of David that is fallen, and close up the breaches thereof; and I will raise up its ruins, and I will build it as in the days of old; ¹² that they may possess the remnant of Edom, and all the nations that are called by my name, saith Jehovah that doeth this. ¹³ Behold, the days come, saith Jehovah, that the plowman shall overtake the reaper, and the treader of grapes him that soweth seed; and the mountains shall drop sweet wine, and all the hills shall melt. ¹⁴ And I will bring back the captivity of my people Israel, and they shall build the waste cities, and inhabit them; and they shall plant vineyards, and drink the wine thereof; they shall also make gardens, and eat the fruit of them. ¹⁵ And I will plant them upon their land, and they shall no more be plucked up out of their land which I have given them, saith Jehovah thy God.

THE BOOK OF OBADIAH

Thus saith the Lord Jehovah concerning Edom: We have heard tidings from Jehovah, and an ambassador is sent among the nations, saying, Arise ye, and let us rise up against her in battle. ² Behold, I have made thee small among the nations: thou art greatly despised. ³ The pride of thy heart hath deceived thee, O thou that dwellest in the clefts of the rock, whose habitation is high; that saith in his heart, Who shall bring me down to the ground? ⁴ Though thou mount on high as the eagle, and though thy nest be set among the stars, I will bring thee down from thence, saith Jehovah.

¹⁷ But in mount Zion there shall be those that escape, and it shall be holy; and the house of Jacob shall possess their possessions. ¹⁸ And the house of Jacob shall be a fire, and the house of Joseph a flame, and the house of Esau for stubble, and they shall burn among them, and devour them; and there shall not be any remaining to the house of Esau; for Jehovah hath spoken it. ¹⁹ And they of the South shall possess the mount of Esau, and they of the lowland the Philistines; and they shall possess the field of Ephraim, and the field of Samaria; and Benjamin shall possess Gilead. ²⁰ And the captives of this host of the children of Israel, that are among the Canaanites, shall possess even unto Zarephath; and the captives of Jerusalem, that are in Sepharad, shall possess the cities of the South. ²¹ And saviors shall come up on mount Zion to judge the mount of Esau; and the kingdom shall be Jehovah's.

THE BOOK OF JONAH

⁴ But Jehovah sent out a great wind upon the sea, and there was a mighty tempest on the sea, so that the ship was like to be broken. ⁵ Then the mariners were afraid, and cried every man unto his god; and they cast forth the wares that were in the ship into the sea, to lighten it unto them. But Jonah was gone down into the innermost parts of the ship; and he lay, and was fast asleep. ⁶ So the shipmaster came to him, and said unto him, What meanest thou, O sleeper? arise, call upon thy God, if so be that God will think upon us, that we perish not. ⁷ And they said every one to his fellow, Come, and let us cast lots, that we may know for whose cause this evil is upon us. So they cast lots, and the lot fell upon Jonah. ⁸ Then said they unto him, Tell us, we pray thee, for whose cause this evil is upon us; what is thine occupation? and whence comest thou? what is thy country? and of what people art thou? ⁹ And he said unto them, I am a Hebrew; and I fear Jehovah, the God of heaven, who hath made the sea and the dry land. ¹⁰ Then were the men exceedingly afraid, and said unto him, What is this that thou hast done? For the men knew that he was fleeing from the presence of Jehovah, because he had told them.

¹¹ Then said they unto him, What shall we do unto thee, that the sea may be calm unto us? for the sea grew more and more tempestuous. ¹² And he said unto them, Take me up, and cast me forth into the sea; so shall the sea be calm unto you: for I know that for my sake this great tempest is upon you. ¹³ Nevertheless the men rowed hard to get them back to the land; but they could not: for the sea grew more and more tempestuous against them. ¹⁴ Wherefore they cried unto Jehovah, and said, We beseech thee, O Jehovah, we beseech thee, let us not perish for this man's life, and lay not upon us innocent blood; for thou, O Jehovah, hast done as it pleased thee. ¹⁵ So they took up Jonah, and cast him forth into the sea; and the sea ceased from its raging. ¹⁶ Then the men feared Jehovah exceedingly; and they offered a sacrifice unto Jehovah, and made vows.

¹ Then Jonah prayed unto Jehovah his God out of the fish's belly. ² And he said, I called by reason of mine affliction unto Jehovah, And he answered me; Out of the belly of Sheol cried I, And thou heardest my voice.

³ For thou didst cast me into the depth, in the heart of the seas, And the flood was round about me; All thy waves and thy billows passed over me.

⁴ And I said, I am cast out from before thine eyes; Yet I will look again toward thy holy temple.

⁵ The waters compassed me about, even to the soul;
The deep was round about me;
The weeds were wrapped about my head.
⁶ I went down to the bottoms of the mountains;
The earth with its bars closed upon me forever:
Yet hast thou brought up my life from the pit, O Jehovah my God.
⁷ When my soul fainted within me, I remembered Jehovah;
And my prayer came in unto thee, into thy holy temple.
⁸ They that regard lying vanities
Forsake their own mercy.
⁹ But I will sacrifice unto thee with the voice of thanksgiving;
I will pay that which I have vowed.
Salvation is of Jehovah.
¹⁰ And Jehovah spake unto the fish, and it vomited out Jonah upon the dry land.

¹ And the word of Jehovah came unto Jonah the second time, saying, ² Arise, go unto Nineveh, that great city, and preach unto it the preaching that I bid thee. ³ So Jonah arose, and went unto Nineveh, according to the word of Jehovah. Now Nineveh was an exceeding great city, of three days' journey. ⁴ And Jonah began to enter into the city a day's journey, and he cried, and said, Yet forty days, and Nineveh shall be overthrown.

⁵ And the people of Nineveh believed God; and they proclaimed a fast, and put on sackcloth, from the greatest of them even to the least of them. ⁶ And the tidings reached the king of Nineveh, and he arose from his throne, and laid his robe from him, and covered him with sackcloth, and sat in ashes. ⁷ And he made proclamation and published through Nineveh by the decree of the king and his nobles, saying, Let neither man nor beast, herd nor flock, taste anything; let them not feed, nor drink water; ⁸ but let them be covered with sackcloth, both man and beast, and let them cry mightily unto God: yea, let them turn every one from his evil way, and from the violence that is in his hands. ⁹ Who knoweth whether God will not turn and repent, and turn away from his fierce anger, that we perish not? ¹⁰ And God saw their works, that they turned from their evil way; and God repented of the evil which he said he would do unto them; and he did it not.

¹ But it displeased Jonah exceedingly, and he was angry. ² And he prayed unto Jehovah, and said, I pray thee, O Jehovah, was not this my saying, when I was yet in my country? Therefore I hasted to flee unto Tarshish; for I knew that thou art a gracious God, and merciful, slow to anger, and abundant in lovingkindness, and repentest thee of the evil. ³ Therefore now, O Jehovah, take, I beseech thee, my life from me; for it is better for me to die than to live. ⁴ And Jehovah said, Doest thou well to be angry? ⁵ Then Jonah went out of the city, and sat on the east side of the city, and there made him a booth, and sat under it in the shade, till he might see what would become of the city.

⁶ And Jehovah God prepared a gourd, and made it to come up over Jonah, that it might be a shade over his head, to deliver him from his evil case. So Jonah was exceeding glad because of the gourd. ⁷ But God prepared a worm when the morning rose the next day, and it smote the gourd, that it withered. ⁸ And it came to pass, when the sun arose, that God prepared a sultry east wind; and the sun beat upon the head of Jonah, that he fainted, and requested for himself that he might die, and said, It is better for me to die than to live. ⁹ And God said to Jonah, Doest thou well to be angry for the gourd? And he said, I do well to be angry, even unto death. ¹⁰ And Jehovah said, Thou hast had regard for the gourd, for which thou hast not labored, neither madest it grow; which came up in a night, and perished in a night: ¹¹ and should not I have regard for Nineveh, that great city, wherein are more than sixscore thousand persons that cannot discern between their right hand and their left hand; and also much cattle?

THE BOOK OF MICAHA

¹ The word of Jehovah that came to Micah the Morashtite in the days of Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of Judah, which he saw concerning Samaria and Jerusalem.

² Hear, ye peoples, all of you; hearken, O earth, and all that therein is: and let the Lord Jehovah be witness against you, the Lord from his holy temple. ³ For, behold, Jehovah cometh forth out of his place, and will come down, and tread upon the high places of the earth. ⁴ And the mountains shall be melted under him, and the valleys shall be cleft, as wax before the fire, as waters that are poured down a steep place. ⁵ For the transgression of Jacob is all this, and for the sins of the house of Israel. What is the transgression of Jacob? is it not Samaria? and what are the high places of Judah? are they not Jerusalem? ⁶ Therefore I will make Samaria as a heap of the field, and as places for planting vineyards; and I will pour down the stones thereof into the valley, and I will uncover the foundations thereof. ⁷ And all her graven images shall be beaten to pieces, and all her hires shall be burned with fire, and all her idols will I lay desolate; for of the hire of a harlot hath she gathered them, and unto the hire of a harlot shall they return.

⁸ For this will I lament and wail; I will go stripped and naked; I will make a wailing like the jackals, and a lamentation like the ostriches. ⁹ For her wounds are incurable; for it is come even unto Judah; it reacheth unto the gate of my people, even to Jerusalem. ¹⁰ Tell it not in Gath, weep not at all: at Beth-le-aphrah have I rolled myself in the dust. ¹¹ Pass away, O inhabitant of Shaphir, in nakedness and shame: the inhabitant of Zaanan is not come forth; the wailing of Beth-ezel shall take from you the stay thereof. ¹² For the inhabitant of Maroth waiteth anxiously for good, because evil is come down from Jehovah unto the gate of Jerusalem. ¹³ Bind the chariot to the swift steed, O inhabitant of Lachish: she was the beginning of sin to the daughter of Zion; for the transgressions of Israel were found in thee. ¹⁴ Therefore shalt thou give a parting gift to Moresheth-gath: the houses of Achzib shall be a deceitful thing unto the kings of Israel. ¹⁵ I will yet bring unto thee, O inhabitant of Mareshah, him that shall possess thee: the glory of Israel shall come even unto Adullam. ¹⁶ Make thee bald, and cut off thy hair for the children of thy delight: enlarge thy baldness as the eagle; for they are gone into captivity from thee.

⁶ Prophecy ye not, thus they prophecy. They shall not prophecy to these: reproaches shall not depart. ⁷ Shall it be said, O house of Jacob, Is the Spirit of Jehovah straitened? are these his doings? Do not my words do good to him that walketh uprightly? ⁸ But of late my people is risen up as an enemy: ye strip the robe from off the garment from them that pass by securely as men averse from war. ⁹ The women of my people ye cast out from their pleasant houses; from their young children ye take away my glory forever. ¹⁰ Arise ye, and depart; for this is not your resting place; because of uncleanness that destroyeth, even with a grievous destruction. ¹¹ If a man walking in a spirit of falsehood do lie, saying, I will prophesy unto thee of wine and of strong drink; he shall even be the prophet of this people.

¹² I will surely assemble, O Jacob, all of thee; I will surely gather the remnant of Israel; I will put them together as the sheep of Bozrah, as a flock in the midst of their pasture; they shall make great noise by reason of the multitude of men. ¹³ The breaker is gone up before them: they have broken forth and passed on to the gate, and are gone out thereat; and their king is passed on before them, and Jehovah at the head of them.

⁹ Hear this, I pray you, ye heads of the house of Jacob, and rulers of the house of Israel, that abhor justice, and pervert all equity. ¹⁰ They build up Zion with blood, and Jerusalem with iniquity. ¹¹ The heads thereof judge for reward, and the priests thereof teach for hire, and the prophets thereof divine for money: yet they lean upon Jehovah, and say, Is not Jehovah in the midst of us? no evil shall come upon us. ¹² Therefore shall Zion for your sake be plowed as a field, and Jerusalem shall become heaps, and the mountain of the house as the high places of a forest.

¹ But in the latter days it shall come to pass, that the mountain of Jehovah's house shall be established on the top of the mountains, and it shall be exalted above the hills; and peoples shall flow unto it. ² And many nations shall go and say, Come ye, and let us go up to the mountain of Jehovah, and to the house of the God of Jacob; and he will teach us of his ways, and we will walk in his paths. For out of Zion shall go forth the law, and the word of Jehovah from Jerusalem; ³ and he will judge between many peoples, and will decide concerning strong nations afar off: and they shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruning hooks; nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war anymore. ⁴ But they shall sit every man under his vine and under his fig tree; and none shall make them afraid: for the mouth of Jehovah of hosts hath spoken it. ⁵ For all the peoples walk every one in the name of his god; and we will walk in the name of Jehovah our God forever and ever.

⁶ In that day, saith Jehovah, will I assemble that which is lame, and I will gather that which is driven away, and that which I have afflicted; ⁷ and I will make that which was lame a remnant, and that which was cast far off a strong nation: and Jehovah will reign over them in mount Zion from henceforth even forever. ⁸ And thou, O tower of the flock, the hill of the daughter of Zion, unto thee shall it come, yea, the former dominion shall come, the kingdom of the daughter of Jerusalem.

⁹ Now why dost thou cry out aloud? Is there no king in thee, is thy counselor perished, that pangs have taken hold of thee as of a woman in travail? ¹⁰ Be in pain, and labor to bring forth, O daughter of Zion, like a woman in travail; for now shalt thou go forth out of the city, and shalt dwell in the field, and shalt come even unto Babylon: there shalt thou be rescued; there will Jehovah redeem thee from the hand of thine enemies. ¹¹ And now many nations are assembled against thee, that say, Let her be defiled, and let our eye see our desire upon Zion. ¹² But they know not the thoughts of Jehovah, neither understand they his counsel; for he hath gathered them as the sheaves to the threshing floor. ¹³ Arise and thresh, O daughter of Zion; for I will make thy horn iron, and I will make thy hoofs brass; and thou shalt beat in pieces many peoples: and I will devote their gain unto Jehovah, and their substance unto the Lord of the whole earth.

² But thou, Beth-lehem Ephrathah, which art little to be among the thousands of Judah, out of thee shall one come forth unto me that is to be ruler in Israel; whose goings forth are from of old, from everlasting. ³ Therefore will he give them up, until the time that she who travaileth hath brought forth: then the residue of his brethren shall return unto the children of Israel. ⁴ And he shall stand, and shall feed his flock in the strength of Jehovah, in the majesty of the name of Jehovah his God: and they shall abide; for now shall he be great unto the ends of the earth. ⁵ And this man shall be our peace. When the Assyrian shall come into our land, and when he shall tread in our palaces, then shall we raise against him seven shepherds, and eight principal men. ⁶ And they shall waste the land of Assyria with the sword, and the land of Nimrod in the entrances thereof: and he shall deliver us from the Assyrian, when he cometh into our land, and when he treadeth within our border. ⁷ And the remnant of Jacob shall be in the midst of many peoples as dew from Jehovah, as showers upon the grass, that tarry not for man, nor wait for the sons of men. ⁸ And the remnant of Jacob shall be among the nations, in the midst of many peoples, as a lion among the beasts of the forest, as a young lion among the flocks of sheep; who, if he go through, treadeth down and teareth in pieces, and there is none to deliver. ⁹ Let thy hand be lifted up above thine adversaries, and let all thine enemies be cut off.

¹⁰ And it shall come to pass in that day, saith Jehovah, that I will cut off thy horses out of the midst of thee, and will destroy thy chariots: ¹¹ and I will cut off the cities of thy land, and will throw down all thy strongholds. ¹² And I will cut off witchcrafts out of thy hand; and thou shalt have no more soothsayers: ¹³ and I will cut off thy graven images and thy pillars out of the midst of thee; and thou shalt no more worship the work of thy hands; ¹⁴ and I will pluck up thine Asherim out of the midst of thee; and I will destroy thy cities. ¹⁵ And I will execute vengeance in anger and wrath upon the nations which hearkened not.

⁶ Wherewith shall I come before Jehovah, and bow myself before the high God? shall I come before him with burnt offerings, with calves a year old? ⁷ will Jehovah be pleased with thousands of rams, or with ten thousands of rivers of oil? shall I give my firstborn for my transgression, the fruit of my body for the sin of my soul? ⁸ He hath shown thee, O man, what is good; and what doth Jehovah require of thee, but to do justly, and to love kindness, and to walk humbly with thy God?

⁹ The voice of Jehovah crieth unto the city, and the man of wisdom will see thy name: hear ye the rod, and who hath appointed it. ¹⁰ Are there yet treasures of wickedness in the house of the wicked, and a scant measure that is abominable? ¹¹ Shall I be pure with wicked balances, and with a bag of deceitful weights? ¹² For the rich men thereof are full of violence, and the inhabitants thereof have spoken lies, and their tongue is deceitful in their mouth. ¹³ Therefore I also have smitten thee with a grievous wound; I have made thee desolate because of thy sins. ¹⁴ Thou shalt eat, but not be satisfied; and thy humiliation shall be in the midst of thee: and thou shalt put away, but shalt not save; and that which thou savest will I give up to the sword. ¹⁵ Thou shalt sow, but shalt not reap; thou shalt tread the olives, but shalt not anoint thee with oil; and the vintage, but shalt not drink the wine. ¹⁶ For the statutes of Omri are kept, and all the works of the house of Ahab, and ye walk in their counsels; that I may make thee a desolation, and the inhabitants thereof a hissing: and ye shall bear the reproach of my people.

¹ Woe is me! for I am as when they have gathered the summer fruits, as the grape gleanings of the vintage: there is no cluster to eat; my soul desireth the first-ripe fig. ² The godly man is perished out of the earth, and there is none upright among men: they all lie in wait for blood; they hunt every man his brother with a net. ³ Their hands are upon that which is evil to do it diligently; the prince asketh, and the judge is ready for a reward; and the great man, he uttereth the evil desire of his soul: thus they weave it together. ⁴ The best of them is as a brier; the most upright is worse than a thorn hedge: the day of thy watchmen, even thy visitation, is come; now shall be their perplexity. ⁵ Trust ye not in a neighbor; put ye not confidence in a friend; keep the doors of thy mouth from her that lieth in thy bosom. ⁶ For the son dishonoreth the father, the daughter riseth up against her mother, the daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law; a man's enemies are the men of his own house.

⁷ But as for me, I will look unto Jehovah; I will wait for the God of my salvation: my God will hear me. ⁸ Rejoice not against me, O mine enemy: when I fall, I shall arise; when I sit in darkness, Jehovah will be a light unto me. ⁹ I will bear the indignation of Jehovah, because I have sinned against him, until he plead my cause, and execute judgment for me: he will bring me forth to the light, and I shall behold his righteousness. ¹⁰ Then mine enemy shall see it, and shame shall cover her who said unto me, Where is Jehovah thy God? Mine eyes shall see my desire upon her; now shall she be trodden down as the mire of the streets. ¹¹ A day for building thy walls! in that day shall the decree be far removed. ¹² In that day shall they come unto thee from Assyria and the cities of Egypt, and from Egypt even to the River, and from sea to sea, and from mountain to mountain. ¹³ Yet shall the land be desolate because of them that dwell therein, for the fruit of their doings.

¹⁸ Who is a God like unto thee, that pardoneth iniquity, and passeth over the transgression of the remnant of his heritage? he retaineth not his anger forever, because he delighteth in lovingkindness. ¹⁹ He will again have compassion upon us; he will tread our iniquities under foot; and thou wilt cast all their sins into the depths of the sea. ²⁰ Thou wilt perform the truth to Jacob, and the lovingkindness to Abraham, which thou hast sworn unto our fathers from the days of old.

THE BOOK OF NAHUM

² Jehovah is a jealous God and avengeth; Jehovah avengeth and is full of wrath; Jehovah taketh vengeance on his adversaries, and he reserveth wrath for his enemies.

³ Jehovah is slow to anger, and great in power, and will by no means clear the guilty: Jehovah hath his way in the whirlwind and in the storm, and the clouds are the dust of his feet. ⁴ He rebuketh the sea, and maketh it dry, and drieth up all the rivers: Bashan languisheth, and Carmel; and the flower of Lebanon languisheth. ⁵ The mountains quake at him, and the hills melt; and the earth is upheaved at his presence, yea, the world, and all that dwell therein. ⁶ Who can stand before his indignation? and who can abide in the fierceness of his anger? his wrath is poured out like fire, and the rocks are broken asunder by him. ⁷ Jehovah is good, a stronghold in the day of trouble; and he knoweth them that take refuge in him. ⁸ But with an overrunning flood he will make a full end of her place, and will pursue his enemies into darkness.

¹⁵ Behold, upon the mountains the feet of him that bringeth good tidings, that publisheth peace! Keep thy feasts, O Judah, perform thy vows; for the wicked one shall no more pass through thee; he is utterly cut off.

⁸ But Nineveh hath been from of old like a pool of water: yet they flee away. Stand, stand, they cry; but none looketh back. ⁹ Take ye the spoil of silver, take the spoil of gold; for there is no end of the store, the glory of all goodly furniture. ¹⁰ She is empty, and void, and waste; and the heart melteth, and the knees smite together, and anguish is in all loins, and the faces of them all are waxed pale. ¹¹ Where is the den of the lions, and the feeding place of the young lions, where the lion and the lioness walked, the lion's whelp, and none made them afraid? ¹² The lion did tear in pieces enough for his whelps, and strangled for his lionesses, and filled his caves with prey, and his dens with ravin. ¹³ Behold, I am against thee, saith Jehovah of hosts, and I will burn her chariots in the smoke, and the sword shall devour thy young lions; and I will cut off thy prey from the earth, and the voice of thy messengers shall no more be heard.

⁸ Art thou better than No-amon, that was situate among the rivers, that had the waters round about her; whose rampart was the sea, and her wall was of the sea? ⁹ Ethiopia and Egypt were her strength, and it was infinite; Put and Libyans were thy helpers. ¹⁰ Yet was she carried away, she went into captivity; her young children also were dashed in pieces at the head of all the streets; and they cast lots for her honorable men, and all her great men were bound in chains. ¹¹ Thou also shalt be drunken; thou shalt be hidden; thou also shalt seek a stronghold because of the enemy. ¹² All thy fortresses shall be like fig trees with the first-ripe figs: if they be shaken, they fall into the mouth of the eater. ¹³ Behold, thy people in the midst of thee are women; the gates of thy land are set wide open unto thine enemies: the fire hath devoured thy bars. ¹⁴ Draw thee water for the siege; strengthen thy fortresses; go into the clay, and tread the mortar; make strong the brickkiln. ¹⁵ There shall the fire devour thee; the sword shall cut thee off; it shall devour thee like the cankerworm: make thyself many as the cankerworm; make thyself many as the locust. ¹⁶ Thou hast multiplied thy merchants above the stars of heaven: the cankerworm ravageth, and fleeth away. ¹⁷ Thy princes are as the locusts, and thy marshals as the swarms of grasshoppers, which encamp in the hedges in the cold day, but when the sun ariseth they flee away, and their place is not known where they are. ¹⁸ Thy shepherds slumber, O king of Assyria; thy nobles are at rest; thy people are scattered upon the mountains, and there is none to gather them. ¹⁹ There is no assuaging of thy hurt; thy wound is grievous: all that hear the report of thee clap their hands over thee; for upon whom hath not thy wickedness passed continually?

THE BOOK OF HABAKKUK

¹ The burden which Habakkuk the prophet did see.

⁵ Behold ye among the nations, and look, and wonder marvelously; for I am working a work in your days, which ye will not believe though it be told you. ⁶ For, lo, I raise up the Chaldeans, that bitter and hasty nation, that march through the breadth of the earth, to possess dwelling places that are not theirs. ⁷ They are terrible and dreadful; their judgment and their dignity proceed from themselves. ⁸ Their horses also are swifter than leopards, and are more fierce than the evening wolves; and their horsemen press proudly on: yea, their horsemen come from far; they fly as an eagle that hasteth to devour. ⁹ They come all of them for violence; the set of their faces is forward; and they gather captives as the sand. ¹⁰ Yea, he scoffeth at kings, and princes are a derision unto him; he derideth every stronghold; for he heapeth up dust, and taketh it. ¹¹ Then shall he sweep by as a wind, and shall pass over, and be guilty, even he whose might is his god.

¹² Art not thou from everlasting, O Jehovah my God, my Holy One? we shall not die. O Jehovah, thou hast ordained him for judgment; and thou, O Rock, hast established him for correction. ¹³ Thou that art of purer eyes than to behold evil, and that canst not look on perverseness, wherefore lookest thou upon them that deal treacherously, and holdest thy peace when the wicked swalloweth up the man that is more righteous than he; ¹⁴ and makest men as the fish of the sea, as the creeping things, that have no ruler over them? ¹⁵ He taketh up all of them with the angle, he catcheth them in his net, and gathereth them in his drag: therefore he rejoiceth and is glad. ¹⁶ Therefore he sacrificeth unto his net, and burneth incense unto his drag; because by them his portion is fat, and his food plenteous. ¹⁷ Shall he therefore empty his net, and spare not to slay the nations continually?

¹ I will stand upon my watch, and set me upon the tower, and will look forth to see what he will speak with me, and what I shall answer concerning my complaint. ² And Jehovah answered me, and said, Write the vision, and make it plain upon tablets, that he may run that readeth it. ³ For the vision is yet for the appointed time, and it hasteth toward the end, and shall not lie: though it tarry, wait for it; because it will surely come, it will not delay.

⁴ Behold, his soul is puffed up, it is not upright in him; but the righteous shall live by his faith. ⁵ Yea, moreover, wine is treacherous, a haughty man, that keepeth not at home; who enlargeth his desire as Sheol, and he is as death, and cannot be satisfied, but gathereth unto him all nations, and heapeth unto him all peoples. ⁶ Shall not all these take up a parable against him, and a taunting proverb against him, and say, Woe to him that increaseth that which is not his! how long? and that ladeth himself with pledges! ⁷ Shall they not rise up suddenly that shall bite thee, and awake that shall vex thee, and thou shalt be for booty unto them? ⁸ Because thou hast plundered many nations, all the remnant of the peoples shall plunder thee, because of men's blood, and for the violence done to the land, to the city and to all that dwell therein.

⁹ Woe to him that getteth an evil gain for his house, that he may set his nest on high, that he may be delivered from the hand of evil! ¹⁰ Thou hast devised shame to thy house, by cutting off many peoples, and hast sinned against thy soul. ¹¹ For the stone shall cry out of the wall, and the beam out of the timber shall answer it.

¹⁸ What profiteth the graven image, that the maker thereof hath graven it; the molten image, even the teacher of lies, that he that fashioneth its form trusteth therein, to make dumb idols? ¹⁹ Woe unto him that saith to the wood, Awake; to the dumb stone, Arise! Shall this teach? Behold, it is overlaid with gold and silver, and there is no breath at all in the midst of it. ²⁰ But Jehovah is in his holy temple: let all the earth keep silence before him.

¹ A prayer of Habakkuk the prophet, set to Shigionoth.

² O Jehovah, I have heard the report of thee, and am afraid:
O Jehovah, revive thy work in the midst of the years;
In the midst of the years make it known;
In wrath remember mercy.

³ God came from Teman,
And the Holy One from mount Paran.

Selah

His glory covered the heavens,
And the earth was full of his praise.

⁴ And his brightness was as the light;
He had rays coming forth from his hand;
And there was the hiding of his power.

⁵ Before him went the pestilence,
And fiery bolts went forth at his feet.

⁶ He stood, and measured the earth;
He beheld, and drove asunder the nations;
And the eternal mountains were scattered;
The everlasting hills did bow;
His goings were as of old.

⁷ I saw the tents of Cushan in affliction;
The curtains of the land of Midian did tremble.

⁸ Was Jehovah displeased with the rivers?
Was thine anger against the rivers,

Or thy wrath against the sea,
That thou didst ride upon thy horses,
Upon thy chariots of salvation?
⁹ Thy bow was made quite bare;
The oaths to the tribes were a sure word.

Selah

Thou didst cleave the earth with rivers.
¹⁰ The mountains saw thee, and were afraid;
The tempest of waters passed by;
The deep uttered its voice,
And lifted up its hands on high.
¹¹ The sun and moon stood still in their habitation,
At the light of thine arrows as they went,
At the shining of thy glittering spear.
¹² Thou didst march through the land in indignation;
Thou didst thresh the nations in anger.
¹³ Thou wentest forth for the salvation of thy people,
For the salvation of thine anointed;
Thou woundedst the head out of the house of the wicked man,
Laying bare the foundation even unto the neck.

Selah

¹⁴ Thou didst pierce with his own staves the head of his warriors:
They came as a whirlwind to scatter me;
Their rejoicing was as to devour the poor secretly.
¹⁵ Thou didst tread the sea with thy horses,
The heap of mighty waters.

¹⁶ I heard, and my body trembled,
My lips quivered at the voice;
Rottenness entereth into my bones, and I tremble in my place;
Because I must wait quietly for the day of trouble,
For the coming up of the people that invadeth us.
¹⁷ For though the fig tree shall not flourish,
Neither shall fruit be in the vines;
The labor of the olive shall fail,
And the fields shall yield no food;
The flock shall be cut off from the fold,
And there shall be no herd in the stalls:
¹⁸ Yet I will rejoice in Jehovah,
I will joy in the God of my salvation.
¹⁹ Jehovah, the Lord, is my strength;
And he maketh my feet like hinds' feet,
And will make me to walk upon my high places.
For the Chief Musician, on my stringed instruments.

THE BOOK OF ZEPHANIAH

¹ The word of Jehovah which came unto Zephaniah the son of Cushi, the son of Gedaliah, the son of Amariah, the son of Hezekiah, in the days of Josiah the son of Amon, king of Judah.

² I will utterly consume all things from off the face of the ground, saith Jehovah. ³ I will consume man and beast; I will consume the birds of the heavens, and the fish of the sea, and the stumbling blocks with the wicked; and I will cut off man from off the face of the ground, saith Jehovah. ⁴ And I will stretch out my hand upon Judah, and upon all the inhabitants of Jerusalem; and I will cut off the remnant of Baal from this place, and the name of the Chemarim with the priests; ⁵ and them that worship the host of heaven upon the housetops; and them that worship, that swear to Jehovah and swear by Malcam; ⁶ and them that are turned back from following Jehovah; and those that have not sought Jehovah, nor inquired after him.

⁴ For Gaza shall be forsaken, and Ashkelon a desolation; they shall drive out Ashdod at noonday, and Ekron shall be rooted up. ⁵ Woe unto the inhabitants of the seacoast, the nation of the Cherethites! The word of Jehovah is against you, O Canaan, the land of the Philistines; I will destroy thee, that there shall be no inhabitant. ⁶ And the seacoast shall be pastures, with cottages for shepherds and folds for flocks. ⁷ And the coast shall be for the remnant of the house of Judah; they shall feed their flocks thereupon; in the houses of Ashkelon shall they lie down in the evening; for Jehovah their God will visit them, and bring back their captivity.

⁸ I have heard the reproach of Moab, and the revilings of the children of Ammon, wherewith they have reproached my people, and magnified themselves against their border. ⁹ Therefore as I live, saith Jehovah of hosts, the God of Israel, Surely Moab shall be as Sodom, and the children of Ammon as Gomorrah, a possession of nettles, and salt pits, and a perpetual desolation: the residue of my people shall make a prey of them, and the remnant of my nation shall inherit them. ¹⁰ This shall they have for their pride, because they have reproached and magnified themselves against the people of Jehovah of hosts. ¹¹ Jehovah will be terrible unto them; for he will famish all the gods of the earth; and men shall worship him, every one from his place, even all the isles of the nations.

¹² Ye Ethiopians also, ye shall be slain by my sword. ¹³ And he will stretch out his hand against the north, and destroy Assyria, and will make Nineveh a desolation, and dry like the wilderness. ¹⁴ And herds shall lie down in the midst of her, all the beasts of the nations: both the pelican and the porcupine shall lodge in the capitals thereof; their voice shall sing in the windows; desolation shall be in the thresholds: for he hath laid bare the cedar work. ¹⁵ This is the joyous city that dwelt carelessly, that said in her heart, I am, and there is none besides me: how is she become a desolation, a place for beasts to lie down in! everyone that passeth by her shall hiss, and wag his hand.

¹ Woe to her that is rebellious and polluted! to the oppressing city! ² She obeyed not the voice; she received not correction; she trusted not in Jehovah; she drew not near to her God. ³ Her princes in the midst of her are roaring lions; her judges are evening wolves; they leave nothing till the morrow. ⁴ Her prophets are light and treacherous persons; her priests have profaned the sanctuary, they have done violence to the law. ⁵ Jehovah in the midst of her is righteous; he will not do iniquity; every morning doth he bring his justice to light, he faileth not; but the unjust knoweth no shame. ⁶ I have cut off nations; their battlements are desolate; I have made their streets waste, so that none passeth by; their cities are destroyed, so that there is no man, so that there is no inhabitant. ⁷ I said, Only fear thou me; receive correction; so her dwelling shall not be cut off, according to all that I have appointed concerning her: but they rose early and corrupted all their doings.

⁹ For then will I turn to the peoples of a pure language, that they may all call upon the name of Jehovah, to serve him with one consent. ¹⁰ From beyond the rivers of Ethiopia my suppliants, even the daughter of my dispersed, shall bring mine offering. ¹¹ In that day shalt thou not be put to shame for all thy doings, wherein thou hast transgressed against me; for then I will take away out of the midst of thee thy proudly exulting ones, and thou shalt no more be haughty in my holy mountain. ¹² But I will leave in the midst of thee an afflicted and poor people, and they shall take refuge in the name of Jehovah. ¹³ The remnant of Israel shall not do iniquity, nor speak lies; neither shall a deceitful tongue be found in their mouth; for they shall feed and lie down, and none shall make them afraid.

¹⁴ Sing, O daughter of Zion; shout, O Israel; be glad and rejoice with all the heart, O daughter of Jerusalem. ¹⁵ Jehovah hath taken away thy judgments, he hath cast out thine enemy: the King of Israel, even Jehovah, is in the midst of thee; thou shalt not fear evil anymore. ¹⁶ In that day it shall be said to Jerusalem, Fear thou not; O Zion, let not thy hands be slack. ¹⁷ Jehovah thy God is in the midst of thee, a mighty one who will save; he will rejoice over thee with joy; he will rest in his love; he will joy over thee with singing. ¹⁸ I will gather them that sorrow for the solemn assembly, who were of thee; to whom the burden upon her was a reproach. ¹⁹ Behold, at that time I will deal with all them that afflict thee; and I will save that which is lame, and gather that which was driven away; and I will make them a praise and a name, whose shame hath been in all the earth. ²⁰ At that time will I bring you in, and at that time will I gather you; for I will make you a name and a praise among all the peoples of the earth, when I bring back your captivity before your eyes, saith Jehovah.

THE BOOK OF HAGGAI

¹ In the second year of Darius the king, in the sixth month, in the first day of the month, came the word of Jehovah by Haggai the prophet unto Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and to Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, saying, ² Thus speaketh Jehovah of hosts, saying, This people say, It is not the time for us to come, the time for Jehovah's house to be built. ³ Then came the word of Jehovah by Haggai the prophet, saying, ⁴ Is it a time for you yourselves to dwell in your ceiled houses, while this house lieth waste? ⁵ Now therefore thus saith Jehovah of hosts: Consider your ways. ⁶ Ye have sown much, and bring in little; ye eat, but ye have not enough; ye drink, but ye are not filled with drink; ye clothe you, but there is none warm; and he that earneth wages earneth wages to put it into a bag with holes.

⁷ Thus saith Jehovah of hosts: Consider your ways. ⁸ Go up to the mountain, and bring wood, and build the house; and I will take pleasure in it, and I will be glorified, saith Jehovah. ⁹ Ye looked for much, and, lo, it came to little; and when ye brought it home, I did blow upon it. Why? saith Jehovah of hosts. Because of my house that lieth waste, while ye run every man to his own house. ¹⁰ Therefore for your sake the heavens withhold the dew, and the earth withholdeth its fruit. ¹¹ And I called for a drought upon the land, and upon the mountains, and upon the grain, and upon the new wine, and upon the oil, and upon that which the ground bringeth forth, and upon men, and upon cattle, and upon all the labor of the hands.

¹² Then Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, and Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, with all the remnant of the people, obeyed the voice of Jehovah their God, and the words of Haggai the prophet, as Jehovah their God had sent him; and the people did fear before Jehovah. ¹³ Then spake Haggai Jehovah's messenger in Jehovah's message unto the people, saying, I am with you, saith Jehovah. ¹⁴ And Jehovah stirred up the spirit of Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and the spirit of Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, and the spirit of all the remnant of the people; and they came and did work on the house of Jehovah of hosts, their God, ¹⁵ in the four and twentieth day of the month, in the sixth month, in the second year of Darius the king.

¹ In the seventh month, in the one and twentieth day of the month, came the word of Jehovah by Haggai the prophet, saying, ² Speak now to Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and to Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, and to the remnant of the people, saying, ³ Who is left among you that saw this house in its former glory? and how do ye see it now? is it not in your eyes as nothing? ⁴ Yet now be strong, O Zerubbabel, saith Jehovah; and be strong, O Joshua, son of Jehozadak, the high priest; and be strong, all ye people of the land, saith Jehovah, and work: for I am with you, saith Jehovah of hosts, ⁵ according to the word that I covenanted with you when ye came out of Egypt, and my Spirit abode among you: fear ye not. ⁶ For thus saith Jehovah of hosts: Yet once, it is a little while, and I will shake the heavens, and the earth, and the sea, and the dry land; ⁷ and I will shake all nations; and the precious things of all nations shall come; and I will fill this house with glory, saith Jehovah of hosts. ⁸ The silver is mine, and the gold is mine, saith

Jehovah of hosts. ⁹ The latter glory of this house shall be greater than the former, saith Jehovah of hosts; and in this place will I give peace, saith Jehovah of hosts.

²⁰ And the word of Jehovah came the second time unto Haggai in the four and twentieth day of the month, saying, ²¹ Speak to Zerubbabel, governor of Judah, saying, I will shake the heavens and the earth; ²² and I will overthrow the throne of kingdoms; and I will destroy the strength of the kingdoms of the nations; and I will overthrow the chariots, and those that ride in them; and the horses and their riders shall come down, every one by the sword of his brother. ²³ In that day, saith Jehovah of hosts, will I take thee, O Zerubbabel, my servant, the son of Shealtiel, saith Jehovah, and will make thee as a signet; for I have chosen thee, saith Jehovah of hosts.

THE BOOK OF ZECHARIAH

¹ In the eighth month, in the second year of Darius, came the word of Jehovah unto Zechariah the son of Berechiah, the son of Iddo, the prophet, saying, ² Jehovah was sore displeased with your fathers. ³ Therefore say thou unto them, Thus saith Jehovah of hosts: Return unto me, saith Jehovah of hosts, and I will return unto you, saith Jehovah of hosts. ⁴ Be ye not as your fathers, unto whom the former prophets cried, saying, Thus saith Jehovah of hosts, Return ye now from your evil ways, and from your evil doings: but they did not hear, nor hearken unto me, saith Jehovah. ⁵ Your fathers, where are they? and the prophets, do they live forever? ⁶ But my words and my statutes, which I commanded my servants the prophets, did they not overtake your fathers? and they turned and said, Like as Jehovah of hosts thought to do unto us, according to our ways, and according to our doings, so hath he dealt with us.

⁷ Upon the four and twentieth day of the eleventh month, which is the month Shebat, in the second year of Darius, came the word of Jehovah unto Zechariah the son of Berechiah, the son of Iddo, the prophet, saying, ⁸ I saw in the night, and, behold, a man riding upon a red horse, and he stood among the myrtle trees that were in the bottom; and behind him there were horses, red, sorrel, and white. ⁹ Then said I, O my lord, what are these? And the angel that talked with me said unto me, I will show thee what these are. ¹⁰ And the man that stood among the myrtle trees answered and said, These are they whom Jehovah hath sent to walk to and fro through the earth. ¹¹ And they answered the angel of Jehovah that stood among the myrtle trees, and said, We have walked to and fro through the earth, and, behold, all the earth sitteth still, and is at rest.

¹² Then the angel of Jehovah answered and said, O Jehovah of hosts, how long wilt thou not have mercy on Jerusalem and on the cities of Judah, against which thou hast had indignation these threescore and ten years? ¹³ And Jehovah answered the angel that talked with me with good words, even comfortable words. ¹⁴ So the angel that talked with me said unto me, Cry thou, saying, Thus saith Jehovah of hosts: I am jealous for Jerusalem and for Zion with a great jealousy. ¹⁵ And I am very sore displeased with the nations that are at ease; for I was but a little displeased, and they helped forward the affliction. ¹⁶ Therefore thus saith Jehovah: I am returned to Jerusalem with mercies; my house shall be built in it, saith Jehovah of hosts, and a line shall be stretched forth over Jerusalem. ¹⁷ Cry yet again, saying, Thus saith Jehovah of hosts: My cities shall yet overflow with prosperity; and Jehovah shall yet comfort Zion, and shall yet choose Jerusalem.

¹⁸ And I lifted up mine eyes, and saw, and, behold, four horns. ¹⁹ And I said unto the angel that talked with me, What are these? And he answered me, These are the horns which have scattered Judah, Israel, and Jerusalem. ²⁰ And Jehovah showed me four smiths. ²¹ Then said I, What come these to do? And he spake, saying, These are the horns which scattered Judah, so that no man did lift up his head; but these are come to terrify them, to cast down the horns of the nations, which lifted up their horn against the land of Judah to scatter it.

to see what is the breadth thereof, and what is the length thereof. ³ And, behold, the angel that talked with me went forth, and another angel went out to meet him, ⁴ and said unto him, Run, speak to this young man, saying, Jerusalem shall be inhabited as villages without walls, by reason of the multitude of men and cattle therein. ⁵ For I, saith Jehovah, will be unto her a wall of fire round about, and I will be the glory in the midst of her.

⁶ Ho, ho, flee from the land of the north, saith Jehovah; for I have spread you abroad as the four winds of the heavens, saith Jehovah. ⁷ Ho Zion, escape, thou that dwellest with the daughter of Babylon. ⁸ For thus saith Jehovah of hosts: After glory hath he sent me unto the nations which plundered you; for he that toucheth you toucheth the apple of his eye. ⁹ For, behold, I will shake my hand over them, and they shall be a spoil to those that served them; and ye shall know that Jehovah of hosts hath sent me. ¹⁰ Sing and rejoice, O daughter of Zion; for, lo, I come, and I will dwell in the midst of thee, saith Jehovah. ¹¹ And many nations shall join themselves to Jehovah in that day, and shall be my people; and I will dwell in the midst of thee, and thou shalt know that Jehovah of hosts hath sent me unto thee. ¹² And Jehovah shall inherit Judah as his portion in the holy land, and shall yet choose Jerusalem. ¹³ Be silent, all flesh, before Jehovah; for he is waked up out of his holy habitation.

⁶ And the angel of Jehovah protested unto Joshua, saying, ⁷ Thus saith Jehovah of hosts: If thou wilt walk in my ways, and if thou wilt keep my charge, then thou also shalt judge my house, and shalt also keep my courts, and I will give thee a place of access among these that stand by. ⁸ Hear now, O Joshua the high priest, thou and thy fellows that sit before thee; for they are men that are a sign: for, behold, I will bring forth my servant the Branch. ⁹ For, behold, the stone that I have set before Joshua; upon one stone are seven eyes: behold, I will engrave the graving thereof, saith Jehovah of hosts, and I will remove the iniquity of that land in one day. ¹⁰ In that day, saith Jehovah of hosts, shall ye invite every man his neighbor under the vine and under the fig tree.

¹ And the angel that talked with me came again, and waked me, as a man that is wakened out of his sleep. ² And he said unto me, What seest thou? And I said, I have seen, and, behold, a candlestick all of gold, with its bowl upon the top of it, and its seven lamps thereon; there are seven pipes to each of the lamps, which are upon the top thereof; ³ and two olive trees by it, one upon the right side of the bowl, and the other upon the left side thereof. ⁴ And I answered and spake to the angel that talked with me, saying, What are these, my lord? ⁵ Then the angel that talked with me answered and said unto me, Knowest thou not what these are? And I said, No, my lord. ⁶ Then he answered and spake unto me, saying, This is the word of Jehovah unto Zerubbabel, saying, Not by might, nor by power, but by my Spirit, saith Jehovah of hosts. ⁷ Who art thou, O great mountain? before Zerubbabel thou shalt become a plain; and he shall bring forth the top stone with shoutings of Grace, grace, unto it. ⁸ Moreover the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying, ⁹ The hands of Zerubbabel have laid the foundation of this house; his hands shall also finish it; and thou shalt know that Jehovah of hosts hath sent me unto you. ¹⁰ For who hath despised the day of small things? for these seven shall rejoice, and shall see the plummet in the hand of Zerubbabel; these are the eyes of Jehovah, which run to and fro through the whole earth.

¹¹ Then answered I, and said unto him, What are these two olive trees upon the right side of the candlestick and upon the left side thereof? ¹² And I answered the second time, and said unto him, What are these two olive branches, which are beside the two golden spouts, that empty the golden oil out of themselves? ¹³ And he answered me and said, Knowest thou not what these are? And I said, No, my lord. ¹⁴ Then said he, These are the two anointed ones, that stand by the Lord of the whole earth.

¹ Then again I lifted up mine eyes, and saw, and, behold, a flying roll. ² And he said unto me, What seest thou? And I answered, I see a flying roll; the length thereof is twenty cubits, and the breadth thereof ten cubits. ³ Then said he unto me, This is the curse that goeth forth over the face of the whole land: for everyone that stealeth shall be cut off on the one side according to it; and everyone that sweareth shall be cut off on the other side according to it. ⁴ I will cause it to go forth, saith Jehovah of hosts, and it shall enter into the house of the thief, and into the house of him that sweareth falsely by my name; and it shall abide in the midst of his house, and shall consume it with the timber thereof and the stones thereof.

⁵ Then the angel that talked with me went forth, and said unto me, Lift up now thine eyes, and see what is this that goeth forth. ⁶ And I said, What is it? And he said, This is the ephah that goeth forth. He said moreover, This is their appearance in all the land ⁷ (and, behold, there was lifted up a talent of lead); and this is a woman sitting in the midst of the ephah. ⁸ And he said, This is Wickedness: and he cast her down into the midst of the ephah; and he cast the weight of lead upon the mouth thereof. ⁹ Then lifted I up mine eyes, and saw, and, behold, there came forth two women, and the wind was in their wings; now they had wings like the wings of a stork; and they lifted up the ephah between earth and heaven. ¹⁰ Then said I to the angel that talked with me, Whither do these bear the ephah? ¹¹ And he said unto me, To build her a house in the land of Shinar: and when it is prepared, she shall be set there in her own place.

¹ And again I lifted up mine eyes, and saw, and, behold, there came four chariots out from between two mountains; and the mountains were mountains of brass. ² In the first chariot were red horses; and in the second chariot black horses; ³ and in the third chariot white horses; and in the fourth chariot grizzled strong horses. ⁴ Then I answered and said unto the angel that talked with me, What are these, my lord? ⁵ And the angel answered and said unto me, These are the four winds of heaven, which go forth from standing before the Lord of all the earth. ⁶ The chariot wherein are the black horses goeth forth toward the north country; and the white went forth after them; and the grizzled went forth toward the south country. ⁷ And the strong went forth, and sought to go that they might walk to and fro through the earth: and he said, Get you hence, walk to and fro through the earth. So they walked to and fro through the earth. ⁸ Then cried he to me, and spake unto me, saying, Behold, they that go toward the north country have quieted my spirit in the north country.

⁹ And the word of Jehovah came unto me, saying, ¹⁰ Take of them of the captivity, even of Heldai, of Tobijah, and of Jedaiah; and come thou the same day, and go into the house of Josiah the son of Zephaniah, whither they are come from Babylon; ¹¹ yea, take of them silver and gold, and make crowns, and set them upon the head of Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest; ¹² and speak unto him, saying, Thus speaketh Jehovah of hosts, saying, Behold, the man whose name is the Branch: and he shall grow up out of his place; and he shall build the temple of Jehovah; ¹³ even he shall build the temple of Jehovah; and he shall bear the glory, and shall sit and rule upon his throne; and he shall be a priest upon his throne; and the counsel of peace shall be between them both. ¹⁴ And the crowns shall be to Helem, and to Tobijah, and to Jedaiah, and to Hen the son of Zephaniah, for a memorial in the temple of Jehovah. ¹⁵ And they that are far off shall come and build in the temple of Jehovah; and ye shall know that Jehovah of hosts hath sent me unto you. And this shall come to pass, if ye will diligently obey the voice of Jehovah your God.

¹ And it came to pass in the fourth year of king Darius, that the word of Jehovah came unto Zechariah in the fourth day of the ninth month, even in Chisleu. ² Now they of Beth-el had sent Sharezer and Regem-melech, and their men, to entreat the favor of Jehovah, ³ and to speak unto the priests of the house of Jehovah of hosts, and to the prophets, saying, Should I weep in the fifth month, separating myself, as I have done these so many years? ⁴ Then came the word of Jehovah of hosts unto me, saying, ⁵ Speak unto all the people of the land, and to the priests, saying, When ye fasted and mourned in the fifth and in the seventh month, even these seventy years, did ye at all fast unto me, even to me? ⁶ And when ye eat, and when ye drink, do not ye eat for yourselves, and drink for yourselves? ⁷ Should ye not hear the words which Jehovah cried by the former prophets, when Jerusalem was inhabited and in prosperity, and the cities thereof round about her, and the South and the lowland were inhabited?

⁸ And the word of Jehovah came unto Zechariah, saying, ⁹ Thus hath Jehovah of hosts spoken, saying, Execute true judgment, and show kindness and compassion every man to his brother; ¹⁰ and oppress not the widow, nor the fatherless, the sojourner, nor the poor; and let none of you devise evil against his brother in your heart. ¹¹ But they refused to hearken, and pulled away the shoulder, and stopped their ears, that they might not hear. ¹² Yea, they made their hearts as an adamant stone, lest they should hear the law, and the words which Jehovah of hosts had sent by his Spirit by the former prophets: therefore there came great wrath from Jehovah of hosts. ¹³ And it is come to pass that, as he cried, and they would not hear, so they shall cry, and I will not hear, said Jehovah of hosts; ¹⁴ but I will scatter them with a whirlwind among all the nations which they have not known. Thus the land was desolate after them, so that no man passed through nor returned: for they laid the pleasant land desolate.

¹ And the word of Jehovah of hosts came to me, saying, ² Thus saith Jehovah of hosts: I am jealous for Zion with great jealousy, and I am jealous for her with great wrath. ³ Thus saith Jehovah: I am returned unto Zion, and will dwell in the midst of Jerusalem: and Jerusalem shall be called The city of truth; and the mountain of

Jehovah of hosts, The holy mountain. ⁴ Thus saith Jehovah of hosts: There shall yet old men and old women dwell in the streets of Jerusalem, every man with his staff in his hand for very age. ⁵ And the streets of the city shall be full of boys and girls playing in the streets thereof. ⁶ Thus saith Jehovah of hosts: If it be marvelous in the eyes of the remnant of this people in those days, should it also be marvelous in mine eyes? saith Jehovah of hosts. ⁷ Thus saith Jehovah of hosts: Behold, I will save my people from the east country, and from the west country; ⁸ and I will bring them, and they shall dwell in the midst of Jerusalem; and they shall be my people, and I will be their God, in truth and in righteousness.

⁹ Thus saith Jehovah of hosts: Let your hands be strong, ye that hear in these days these words from the mouth of the prophets that were in the day that the foundation of the house of Jehovah of hosts was laid, even the temple, that it might be built. ¹⁰ For before those days there was no hire for man, nor any hire for beast; neither was there any peace to him that went out or came in, because of the adversary: for I set all men every one against his neighbor. ¹¹ But now I will not be unto the remnant of this people as in the former days, saith Jehovah of hosts. ¹² For there shall be the seed of peace; the vine shall give its fruit, and the ground shall give its increase, and the heavens shall give their dew; and I will cause the remnant of this people to inherit all these things. ¹³ And it shall come to pass that, as ye were a curse among the nations, O house of Judah and house of Israel, so will I save you, and ye shall be a blessing. Fear not, but let your hands be strong.

¹⁴ For thus saith Jehovah of hosts: As I thought to do evil unto you, when your fathers provoked me to wrath, saith Jehovah of hosts, and I repented not; ¹⁵ so again have I thought in these days to do good unto Jerusalem and to the house of Judah: fear ye not. ¹⁶ These are the things that ye shall do: Speak ye every man the truth with his neighbor; execute the judgment of truth and peace in your gates; ¹⁷ and let none of you devise evil in your hearts against his neighbor; and love no false oath: for all these are things that I hate, saith Jehovah.

¹⁸ And the word of Jehovah of hosts came unto me, saying, ¹⁹ Thus saith Jehovah of hosts: The fast of the fourth month, and the fast of the fifth, and the fast of the seventh, and the fast of the tenth, shall be to the house of Judah joy and gladness, and cheerful feasts; therefore love truth and peace. ²⁰ Thus saith Jehovah of hosts: It shall yet come to pass, that there shall come peoples, and the inhabitants of many cities; ²¹ and the inhabitants of one city shall go to another, saying, Let us go speedily to entreat the favor of Jehovah, and to seek Jehovah of hosts: I will go also. ²² Yea, many peoples and strong nations shall come to seek Jehovah of hosts in Jerusalem, and to entreat the favor of Jehovah. ²³ Thus saith Jehovah of hosts: In those days it shall come to pass, that ten men shall take hold, out of all the languages of the nations, they shall take hold of the skirt of him that is a Jew, saying, We will go with you, for we have heard that God is with you.

be inhabited. ⁶ And a bastard shall dwell in Ashdod, and I will cut off the pride of the Philistines. ⁷ And I will take away his blood out of his mouth, and his abominations from between his teeth; and he also shall be a remnant for our God; and he shall be as a chieftain in Judah, and Ekron as a Jebusite.

⁸ And I will encamp about my house against the army, that none pass through or return; and no oppressor shall pass through them anymore: for now have I seen with mine eyes.

¹¹ As for thee also, because of the blood of thy covenant I have set free thy prisoners from the pit wherein is no water. ¹² Turn you to the stronghold, ye prisoners of hope: even today do I declare that I will render double unto thee. ¹³ For I have bent Judah for me, I have filled the bow with Ephraim; and I will stir up thy sons, O Zion, against thy sons, O Greece, and will make thee as the sword of a mighty man. ¹⁴ And Jehovah shall be seen over them; and his arrow shall go forth as the lightning; and the Lord Jehovah will blow the trumpet, and will go with whirlwinds of the south. ¹⁵ Jehovah of hosts will defend them; and they shall devour, and shall tread down the slingstones; and they shall drink, and make a noise as through wine; and they shall be filled like bowls, like the corners of the altar. ¹⁶ And Jehovah their God will save them in that day as the flock of his people; for they shall be as the stones of a crown, lifted on high over his land. ¹⁷ For how great is his goodness, and how great is his beauty! grain shall make the young men flourish, and new wine the virgins.

⁸ I will hiss for them, and gather them; for I have redeemed them; and they shall increase as they have increased. ⁹ And I will sow them among the peoples; and they shall remember me in far countries; and they shall live with their children, and shall return. ¹⁰ I will bring them again also out of the land of Egypt, and gather them out of Assyria; and I will bring them into the land of Gilead and Lebanon; and place shall not be found for them. ¹¹ And he will pass through the sea of affliction, and will smite the waves in the sea, and all the depths of the Nile shall dry up; and the pride of Assyria shall be brought down, and the scepter of Egypt shall depart. ¹² And I will strengthen them in Jehovah; and they shall walk up and down in his name, saith Jehovah.

⁴ Thus said Jehovah my God: Feed the flock of slaughter; ⁵ whose possessors slay them, and hold themselves not guilty; and they that sell them say, Blessed be Jehovah, for I am rich; and their own shepherds pity them not. ⁶ For I will no more pity the inhabitants of the land, saith Jehovah; but, lo, I will deliver the men every one into his neighbor's hand, and into the hand of his king; and they shall smite the land, and out of their hand I will not deliver them. ⁷ So I fed the flock of slaughter, verily the poor of the flock. And I took unto me two staves; the one I called Beauty, and the other I called Bands; and I fed the flock. ⁸ And I cut off the three shepherds in one month; for my soul was weary of them, and their soul also loathed me. ⁹ Then said I, I will not feed you: that which dieth, let it die; and that which is to be cut off, let it be cut off; and let them that are left eat every one the flesh of another. ¹⁰ And I took my staff Beauty, and cut it asunder, that I might break my covenant which I had made with all the peoples. ¹¹ And it was broken in that day; and thus the poor of the flock that gave heed unto me knew that it was the word of Jehovah. ¹² And I said unto them, If ye think good, give me my hire; and if not, forbear. So they weighed for my hire thirty pieces of silver. ¹³ And Jehovah said unto me, Cast it unto the potter, the goodly price that I was prized at by them. And I took the thirty pieces of silver, and cast them unto the potter, in the house of Jehovah. ¹⁴ Then I cut asunder mine other staff, even Bands, that I might break the brotherhood between Judah and Israel.

¹⁵ And Jehovah said unto me, Take unto thee yet again the instruments of a foolish shepherd. ¹⁶ For, lo, I will raise up a shepherd in the land, who will not visit those that are cut off, neither will seek those that are scattered, nor heal that which is broken, nor feed that which is sound; but he will eat the flesh of the fat sheep, and will tear their hoofs in pieces. ¹⁷ Woe to the worthless shepherd that leaveth the flock! the sword shall be upon his arm, and upon his right eye: his arm shall be clean dried up, and his right eye shall be utterly darkened.

Thus saith Jehovah, who stretcheth forth the heavens, and layeth the foundation of the earth, and formeth the spirit of man within him: ² Behold, I will make Jerusalem a cup of reeling unto all the peoples round about, and upon Judah also shall it be in the siege against Jerusalem. ³ And it shall come to pass in that day, that I will make Jerusalem a burdensome stone for all the peoples; all that burden themselves with it shall be sore wounded; and all the nations of the earth shall be gathered together against it. ⁴ In that day, saith Jehovah, I will smite every horse with terror, and his rider with madness; and I will open mine eyes upon the house of Judah, and will smite every horse of the peoples with blindness. ⁵ And the chieftains of Judah shall say in their heart, The inhabitants of Jerusalem are my strength in Jehovah of hosts their God. ⁶ In that day will I make the chieftains of Judah like a pan of fire among wood, and like a flaming torch among sheaves; and they shall devour all the peoples round about, on the right hand and on the left; and they of Jerusalem shall yet again dwell in their own place, even in Jerusalem. ⁷ Jehovah also shall save the tents of Judah first, that the glory of the house of David and the glory of the inhabitants of Jerusalem be not magnified above Judah. ⁸ In that day shall Jehovah defend the inhabitants of Jerusalem; and he that is feeble among them at that day shall be as David; and the house of David shall be as God, as the angel of Jehovah before them. ⁹ And it shall come to pass in that day, that I will seek to destroy all the nations that come against Jerusalem.

¹⁰ And I will pour upon the house of David, and upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, the spirit of grace and of supplication; and they shall look unto me whom they have pierced; and they shall mourn for him, as one mourneth for his only son, and shall be in bitterness for him, as one that is in bitterness for his firstborn. ¹¹ In that day shall there be a great mourning in Jerusalem, as the mourning of Hadad-rimmon in the valley of Megiddo. ¹² And the land shall mourn, every family apart; the family of the house of David apart, and their wives apart; the family of the house of Nathan apart, and their wives apart; ¹³ the family of the house of Levi apart, and their wives apart; the family of the Shimeites apart, and their wives apart; ¹⁴ all the families that remain, every family apart, and their wives apart.

¹ In that day there shall be a fountain opened to the house of David and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, for sin and for uncleanness. ² And it shall come to pass in that day, saith Jehovah of hosts, that I will cut off the names of the idols out of the land, and they shall no more be remembered; and also I will cause the prophets and the unclean spirit to pass out of the land. ³ And it shall come to pass that, when any shall yet prophesy, then his father and his mother that begat him shall say unto him, Thou shalt not live; for thou speakest lies in the name of Jehovah; and his father and his mother that begat him shall thrust him through when he prophesieth. ⁴ And it shall come to pass in that day, that the prophets shall be ashamed every one of his vision, when he prophesieth; neither shall they wear a hairy mantle to deceive: ⁵ but he shall say, I am no prophet, I am a tiller of the ground; for I have been made a bondman from my youth. ⁶ And one shall say unto him, What are these wounds between thine arms? Then he shall answer, Those with which I was wounded in the house of my friends.

⁷ Awake, O sword, against my shepherd, and against the man that is my fellow, saith Jehovah of hosts: smite the shepherd, and the sheep shall be scattered; and I will turn my hand upon the little ones. ⁸ And it shall come to pass, that in all the land, saith Jehovah, two parts therein shall be cut off and die; but the third shall be left therein. ⁹ And I will bring the third part into the fire, and will refine them as silver is refined, and will try them as gold is tried. They shall call on my name, and I will hear them: I will say, It is my people; and they shall say, Jehovah is my God.

¹⁶ And it shall come to pass, that everyone that is left of all the nations that came against Jerusalem shall go up from year to year to worship the King, Jehovah of hosts, and to keep the feast of tabernacles. ¹⁷ And it shall be, that whoso of all the families of the earth goeth not up unto Jerusalem to worship the King, Jehovah of hosts, upon them there shall be no rain. ¹⁸ And if the family of Egypt go not up, and come not, neither shall it be upon them; there shall be the plague wherewith Jehovah will smite the nations that go not up to keep the feast of tabernacles. ¹⁹ This shall be the punishment of Egypt, and the punishment of all the nations that go not up to keep the feast of tabernacles. ²⁰ In that day shall there be upon the bells of the horses, HOLY UNTO JEHOVAH; and the pots in Jehovah's house shall be like the bowls before the altar. ²¹ Yea, every pot in Jerusalem and in Judah shall be holy unto Jehovah of hosts; and all they that sacrifice shall come and take of them, and boil therein: and in that day there shall be no more a Canaanite in the house of Jehovah of hosts.

THE BOOK OF MALACHI

² I have loved you, saith Jehovah. Yet ye say, Wherein hast thou loved us? Was not Esau Jacob's brother? saith Jehovah: yet I loved Jacob; ³ but Esau I hated, and made his mountains a desolation, and gave his heritage to the jackals of the wilderness. ⁴ Whereas Edom saith, We are beaten down, but we will return and build the waste places; thus saith Jehovah of hosts, They shall build, but I will throw down; and men shall call them The border of wickedness, and The people against whom Jehovah hath indignation forever. ⁵ And your eyes shall see, and ye shall say, Jehovah be magnified beyond the border of Israel.

⁶ A son honoreth his father, and a servant his master: if then I am a father, where is mine honor? and if I am a master, where is my fear? saith Jehovah of hosts unto you, O priests, that despise my name. And ye say, Wherein have we despised thy name? ⁷ Ye offer polluted bread upon mine altar. And ye say, Wherein have we polluted thee? In that ye say, The table of Jehovah is contemptible. ⁸ And when ye offer the blind for sacrifice, it is no evil! and when ye offer the lame and sick, it is no evil! Present it now unto thy governor; will he be pleased with thee? or will he accept thy person? saith Jehovah of hosts. ⁹ And now, I pray you, entreat the favor of God, that he may be gracious unto us: this hath been by your means: will he accept any of your persons? saith Jehovah of hosts. ¹⁰ Oh that there were one among you that would shut the doors, that ye might not kindle fire on mine altar in vain! I have no pleasure in you, saith Jehovah of hosts, neither will I accept an offering at your hand. ¹¹ For from the rising of the sun even unto the going down of the same my name shall be great among the Gentiles; and in every place incense shall be offered unto my name, and a pure offering: for my name shall be great among the Gentiles, saith Jehovah of hosts. ¹² But ye profane it, in that ye say, The table of Jehovah is polluted, and the fruit thereof, even its food, is contemptible. ¹³ Ye say also, Behold, what a weariness is it! and ye have snuffed at it, saith Jehovah of hosts; and ye have brought that which was taken by violence, and the lame, and the sick; thus ye bring the offering: should I accept this at your hand? saith Jehovah. ¹⁴ But cursed be the deceiver, who hath in his flock a male, and voweth, and sacrificeth unto the Lord a blemished thing; for I am a great King, saith Jehovah of hosts, and my name is terrible among the Gentiles.

¹ And now, O ye priests, this commandment is for you. ² If ye will not hear, and if ye will not lay it to heart, to give glory unto my name, saith Jehovah of hosts, then will I send the curse upon you, and I will curse your blessings; yea, I have cursed them already, because ye do not lay it to heart. ³ Behold, I will rebuke your seed, and will spread dung upon your faces, even the dung of your feasts; and ye shall be taken away with it. ⁴ And ye shall know that I have sent this commandment unto you, that my covenant may be with Levi, saith Jehovah of hosts. ⁵ My covenant was with him of life and peace; and I gave them to him that he might fear; and he feared me, and stood in awe of my name. ⁶ The law of truth was in his mouth, and unrighteousness was not found in his lips: he walked with me in peace and uprightness, and turned many away from iniquity. ⁷ For the priest's lips should keep knowledge, and they should seek the law at his mouth; for he is the messenger of Jehovah of hosts. ⁸ But ye are turned aside out of the way; ye have caused many to stumble in the law; ye have corrupted the covenant of Levi, saith Jehovah of hosts. ⁹ Therefore have I also made you contemptible and base before all the people, according as ye have not kept my ways, but have had respect of persons in the law.

¹⁰ Have we not all one father? hath not one God created us? why do we deal treacherously every man against his brother, profaning the covenant of our fathers? ¹¹ Judah hath dealt treacherously, and an abomination is committed in Israel and in Jerusalem; for Judah hath profaned the holiness of Jehovah which he loveth, and hath married the daughter of a foreign god. ¹² Jehovah will cut off, to the man that doeth this, him that waketh and him that answereth, out of the tents of Jacob, and him that offereth an offering unto Jehovah of hosts. ¹³ And this again ye do: ye cover the altar of Jehovah with tears, with weeping, and with sighing, insomuch that he regardeth not the offering anymore, neither receiveth it with good will at your hand. ¹⁴ Yet ye say, Wherefore? Because Jehovah hath been witness between thee and the wife of thy youth, against whom thou hast dealt treacherously, though she is thy companion, and the wife of thy covenant. ¹⁵ And did he not make one, although he had the residue of the Spirit? And wherefore one? He sought a godly seed. Therefore take heed to your spirit, and let none deal treacherously against the wife of his youth. ¹⁶ For I hate putting away, saith Jehovah, the God of Israel, and him that covereth his garment with violence, saith Jehovah of hosts: therefore take heed to your spirit, that ye deal not treacherously.

¹⁷ Ye have wearied Jehovah with your words. Yet ye say, Wherein have we wearied him? In that ye say, Everyone that doeth evil is good in the sight of Jehovah, and he delighteth in them; or where is the God of justice?

¹ Behold, I send my messenger, and he shall prepare the way before me: and the Lord, whom ye seek, will suddenly come to his temple; and the messenger of the covenant, whom ye desire, behold, he cometh, saith Jehovah of hosts. ² But who can abide the day of his coming? and who shall stand when he appeareth? for he is like a refiner's fire, and like fullers' soap: ³ and he will sit as a refiner and purifier of silver, and he will purify the sons of Levi, and refine them as gold and silver; and they shall offer unto Jehovah offerings in righteousness. ⁴ Then shall the offering of Judah and Jerusalem be pleasant unto Jehovah, as in the days of old, and as in ancient years. ⁵ And I will come near to you to judgment; and I will be a swift witness against the sorcerers, and against the adulterers, and against the false swearers, and against those that oppress the hireling in his wages, the widow, and the fatherless, and that turn aside the sojourner from his right, and fear not me, saith Jehovah of hosts. ⁶ For I, Jehovah, change not; therefore ye, O sons of Jacob, are not consumed.

⁷ From the days of your fathers ye have turned aside from mine ordinances, and have not kept them. Return unto me, and I will return unto you, saith Jehovah of hosts. But ye say, Wherein shall we return? ⁸ Will a man rob God? yet ye rob me. But ye say, Wherein have we robbed thee? In tithes and offerings. ⁹ Ye are cursed with the curse; for ye rob me, even this whole nation. ¹⁰ Bring ye the whole tithe into the storehouse, that there may be food in my house, and prove me now herewith, saith Jehovah of hosts, if I will not open you the windows of heaven, and pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive it. ¹¹ And I will rebuke the devourer for your sakes, and he shall not destroy the fruits of your ground; neither shall your vine cast its fruit before the time in the field, saith Jehovah of hosts. ¹² And all nations shall call you happy; for ye shall be a delightsome land, saith Jehovah of hosts.

¹³ Your words have been stout against me, saith Jehovah. Yet ye say, What have we spoken against thee? ¹⁴ Ye have said, It is vain to serve God; and what profit is it that we have kept his charge, and that we have walked mournfully before Jehovah of hosts? ¹⁵ and now we call the proud happy; yea, they that work wickedness are built up; yea, they tempt God, and escape.

¹⁶ Then they that feared Jehovah spake one with another; and Jehovah hearkened, and heard, and a book of remembrance was written before him, for them that feared Jehovah, and that thought upon his name. ¹⁷ And they shall be mine, saith Jehovah of hosts, even mine own possession, in the day that I make; and I will spare them, as a man spareth his own son that serveth him. ¹⁸ Then shall ye return and discern between the righteous and the wicked, between him that serveth God and him that serveth him not.

¹ For, behold, the day cometh, it burneth as a furnace; and all the proud, and all that work wickedness, shall be stubble; and the day that cometh shall burn them up, saith Jehovah of hosts, that it shall leave them neither root nor branch. ² But unto you that fear my name shall the sun of righteousness arise with healing in its wings; and ye shall go forth, and gambol as calves of the stall. ³ And ye shall tread down the wicked; for they shall be ashes under the soles of your feet in the day that I make, saith Jehovah of hosts.

⁴ Remember ye the law of Moses my servant, which I commanded unto him in Horeb for all Israel, even statutes and ordinances. ⁵ Behold, I will send you Elijah the prophet before the great and terrible day of Jehovah come. ⁶ And he shall turn the heart of the fathers to the children, and the heart of the children to their fathers; lest I come and smite the earth with a curse.

THE BOOK OF TOBIT

³ I Tobit walked in the ways of truth and righteousness all the days of my life, and I did many almsdeeds to my brethren and my nation, who went with me into the land of the Assyrians, to Nineveh. ⁴ And when I was in mine own country, in the land of Israel, while I was yet young, all the tribe of Naphtali my father fell away from the house of Jerusalem, which was chosen out of all the tribes of Israel, that all the tribes should sacrifice there, and the temple of the habitation of the Most High was hallowed and built therein for all ages. ⁵ And all the tribes which fell away together sacrificed to the heifer Baal, and so did the house of Naphtali my father. ⁶ And I alone went often to Jerusalem at the feasts, as it hath been ordained unto all Israel by an everlasting decree, having the firstfruits and the tenths of mine increase, and that which was first shorn; and I gave them at the altar to the priests the sons of Aaron. ⁷ The tenth part of all mine increase I gave to the sons of Levi, who ministered at Jerusalem: and the second tenth part I sold away, and went, and spent it each year at Jerusalem: ⁸ and the third I gave unto them to whom it was meet, as Deborah my father's mother had commanded me, because I was left an orphan by my father. ⁹ And when I became a man, I took to wife Anna of the seed of our own family, and of her I begat Tobias. ¹⁰ And when I was carried away captive to Nineveh, all my brethren and those that were of my kindred did eat of the bread of the Gentiles: ¹¹ but I kept myself from eating, ¹² because I remembered God with all my soul. ¹³ And the Most High gave me grace and favor in the sight of Shalmaneser, and I was his purveyor. ¹⁴ And I went into Media, and left in trust with Gabael, the brother of Gabrias, at Rages of Media, ten talents of silver.

¹⁵ And when Shalmaneser was dead, Sennacherib his son reigned in his stead; and in his time the highways were troubled, and I could no more go into Media. ¹⁶ And in the days of Shalmaneser I did many almsdeeds to my brethren: I gave my bread to the hungry, ¹⁷ and my garments to the naked: and if I saw any of my race dead, and cast forth on the wall of Nineveh, I buried him. ¹⁸ And if Sennacherib the king slew any, when he came fleeing from Judea, I buried them privily; for in his wrath he slew many; and the bodies were sought for by the king, and were not found. ¹⁹ But one of the Ninevites went and showed to the king concerning me, how that I buried them, and hid myself; and when I knew that I was sought for to be put to death, I withdrew myself for fear. ²⁰ And all my goods were forcibly taken away, and there was nothing left unto me, save my wife Anna and my son Tobias. ²¹ And there passed not five and fifty days, before two of his sons slew him, and they fled into the mountains of Ararat. And Esar-haddon his son reigned in his stead; and he appointed over all the accounts of his kingdom, and over all his affairs, Ahikar my brother Anael's son. ²² And Ahikar made request for me, and I came to Nineveh. Now Ahikar was cupbearer, and keeper of the signet, and steward, and overseer of the accounts: and Esar-haddon appointed him next unto himself: but he was my brother's son.

¹ Now when I was come home again, and my wife Anna was restored unto me, and my son Tobias, in the feast of Pentecost, which is the holy feast of the seven weeks, there was a good dinner prepared me, and I sat down to eat. ² And I saw abundance of meat, and I said to my son, Go and bring what poor man soever thou shalt find of our brethren, who is mindful of the Lord; and lo, I tarry for thee. ³ And he came, and said, Father, one of our race is strangled, and is cast out in the marketplace. ⁴ And before I had tasted aught, I sprang up, and took him up into a chamber until the sun was set. ⁵ And I returned, and washed myself, and ate my bread in heaviness, ⁶ and remembered the prophecy of Amos, as he said,

Your feasts shall be turned into mourning,
And all your mirth into lamentation.

⁷ And I wept: and when the sun was set, I went and made a grave, and buried him. ⁸ And my neighbors mocked me, and said, He is no longer afraid to be put to death for this matter: and yet he fled away: and, lo, he burieth the dead again. ⁹ And the same night I returned from burying him, and slept by the wall of my courtyard, being polluted; and my face was uncovered: ¹⁰ and I knew not that there were sparrows in the wall; and, mine eyes being open, the sparrows muted warm dung into mine eyes, and white films came in mine eyes; and I went to the physicians, and they helped me not: but Ahikar did nourish me, until I went into Elymais.

¹¹ And my wife Anna did spin in the women's chambers, ¹² and did send the work back to the owners. And they on their part paid her wages, and gave her also besides a kid. ¹³ But when it came to my house, it began to cry, and I said unto her, From whence is this kid? is it stolen? render it to the owners; for it is not lawful to eat anything that is stolen. ¹⁴ But she said, It hath been given me for a gift more than the wages. And I did not believe her, and I bade her render it to the owners; and I was abashed at her. But she answered and said unto me, Where are thine alms and thy righteous deeds? behold, thou and all thy works are known.

¹ And I was grieved and wept, and prayed in sorrow, saying,

² O Lord, thou art righteous, and all thy works and all thy ways are mercy and truth, and thou judgest true and righteous judgment forever. ³ Remember me, and look on me; take not vengeance on me for my sins and mine ignorances, and the sins of my fathers, which they sinned before thee: ⁴ for they disobeyed thy commandments; and thou gavest us for a spoil, and for captivity, and for death, and for a proverb of reproach to all the nations among whom we are dispersed. ⁵ And now many are thy judgments, true are they; that thou shouldest deal with me according to my sins and the sins of my fathers: because we did not keep thy commandments, for we walked not in truth before thee. ⁶ And now deal with me according to that which is pleasing in thy sight, command my spirit to be taken from me, that I may be released, and become earth: for it is profitable for me to die rather than to live, because I have heard false reproaches, and there is much sorrow in me: command that I be now released from my distress, and go to the everlasting place: turn not thy face away from me.

⁷ The same day it happened unto Sarah the daughter of Raguel in Ecbatana of Media, that she also was reproached by her father's maidservants; ⁸ because that she had been given to seven husbands, and Asmodaeus the evil demon slew them, before they had lain with her. And they said unto her, Dost thou not know that thou stranglest thy husbands? thou hast had already seven husbands, and thou hast had no profit of any one of them. ⁹ Wherefore dost thou scourge us? if they be dead, go thy ways with them; let us never see of thee either son or daughter. ¹⁰ When she heard these things, she was grieved exceedingly, so that she thought to have hanged herself: and she said, I am the only daughter of my father; if I do this, it shall be a reproach unto him, and I shall bring down his old age with sorrow to Hades. ¹¹ And she prayed by the window, and said, Blessed art thou, O Lord my God, and blessed is thy holy and honorable name forever: let all thy works praise thee forever. ¹² And now, Lord, I have set mine eyes and my face toward thee: ¹³ command that I be released from the earth, and that I no more hear reproach. ¹⁴ Thou knowest, Lord, that I am pure from all sin with man, ¹⁵ and that I never polluted my name, nor the name of my father, in the land of my captivity: I am the only daughter of my father, and he hath no child that shall be his heir, nor brother near him, nor son belonging to him, that I should keep myself for a wife unto him: seven husbands of mine are dead already; why should I live? And if it pleaseth thee not to slay me, command some regard to be had of me, and pity taken of me, and that I hear no more reproach.

¹⁶ And the prayer of both was heard before the glory of the great God. ¹⁷ Raphael also was sent to heal them both, to scale away the white films from Tobit's eyes, and to give Sarah the daughter of Raguel for a wife to Tobias the son of Tobit; and to bind Asmodaeus the evil demon; because it belonged to Tobias that he should inherit her. The selfsame time did Tobit return and enter into his house, and Sarah the daughter of Raguel came down from her upper chamber.

¹ In that day Tobit remembered concerning the money which he had left in trust with Gabael in Rages of Media, ² and he said in himself, I have asked for death; why do I not call my son Tobias, that I may show to him of the money before I die? ³ And he called him, and said,

My child, when I die, bury me: and despise not thy mother; honor her all the days of thy life, and do that which is pleasing unto her, and grieve her not. ⁴ Remember, my child, that she hath seen many dangers for thee, when thou wast in her womb. When she is dead, bury her by me in one grave. ⁵ My child, be mindful of the Lord our God all thy days, and let not thy will be set to sin and to transgress his commandments: do righteousness all the days of thy life, and follow not the ways of unrighteousness. ⁶ For if thou doest the truth, thy doings shall prosperously succeed to thee, and to all them that do righteousness. ⁷ Give alms of thy substance; and when thou givest alms, let not thine eye be envious: turn not away thy face from any poor man, and the face of God shall not be turned away from thee. ⁸ As thy substance is, give alms of it according to that little: ⁹ for thou layest up a good treasure for thyself against the day of necessity: ¹⁰ because alms delivereth from death, and suffereth not to come into darkness. ¹¹ Alms is a good gift in the sight of the Most High for all that give it. ¹² Beware, my child, of all whoredom, and take first a wife of the seed of thy fathers, and take not a strange wife, who is not of thy father's tribe: for we are the sons of the prophets. Noah, Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, our fathers of old time, remember, my child, that they all took wives of their brethren, and were blessed in their children, and their seed shall inherit the land. ¹³ And now, my child, love thy brethren, and scorn not in thy heart thy brethren, and the sons and the daughters of thy people, to take a wife of them: for in scornfulness is destruction and much trouble, and in naughtiness is decay and great want: for naughtiness is the mother of famine. ¹⁴ Let not the wages of any man, who shall work for thee, tarry with thee, but render it unto him out of hand: and if thou serve God, recompense shall be made unto thee.

Take heed to thyself, my child, in all thy works, and be discreet in all thy behavior. ¹⁵ And what thou thyself hatest, do to no man. Drink not wine unto drunkenness, and let not drunkenness go with thee on thy way. ¹⁶ Give of thy bread to the hungry, and of thy garments to them that are naked: of all thine abundance give alms; and let not thine eye be envious when thou givest alms. ¹⁷ Pour out thy bread on the burial of the just, and give nothing to sinners. ¹⁸ Ask counsel of every man that is wise, and despise not any counsel that is profitable. ¹⁹ And bless the Lord thy God at all times, and ask of him that thy ways may be made straight, and that all thy paths and counsels may prosper: for every nation hath not counsel; but the Lord himself giveth all good things, and he humbleth whom he will, as he will. And now, my child, remember my commandments, and let them not be blotted out of thy mind. ²⁰ And now I show thee of the ten talents of silver, which I left in trust with Gabael the son of Gabrias at Rages of Media. ²¹ And fear not, my child, because we are made poor: thou hast much wealth, if thou fear God, and depart from all sin, and do that which is pleasing in his sight.

¹ And Tobias answered and said unto him, Father, I will do all things, whatsoever thou hast commanded me: ² but how shall I be able to receive the money, seeing I know him not? ³ And he gave him the handwriting, and said unto him, Seek thee a man who shall go with thee, and I will give him wages, while I yet live: and go and receive the money. ⁴ And he went to seek a man, and found Raphael who was an angel; ⁵ and he knew it not; and he said unto him, Can I go with thee to Rages of Media? and knowest thou the places well? ⁶ And the angel said unto him, I will go with thee, and I know the way well: and I have lodged with our brother Gabael. ⁷ And Tobias said unto him, Wait for me, and I will tell my father. ⁸ And he said unto him, Go, and tarry not. And he went in and said to his father, Behold, I have found one who will go with me. But he said, Call him unto me, that I may know of what tribe he is, and whether he is a trusty man to go with thee.

⁹ And he called him, and he came in, and they saluted one another. ¹⁰ And Tobit said unto him, Brother, of what tribe and of what family art thou? Show me. ¹¹ And he said unto him, Seekest thou a tribe and a family, or a hired man who shall go with thy son? And Tobit said unto him, I would know, brother, thy kindred and thy name. ¹² And he said, I am Azarias, the son of Ananias the great, of thy brethren. ¹³ And he said unto him, Welcome, brother; and be not angry with me, because I sought to know thy tribe and family: and thou art my brother, of an honest and good lineage: for I knew Ananias and Jathan, the sons of Shemaiah the great, when we went together to Jerusalem to worship, and offered the firstborn, and the tenths of our increase; and they went not astray in the error of our brethren: my brother, thou art of a great stock. ¹⁴ But tell me, what wages shall I give thee? a drachma a day, and those things that are necessary for thee, as unto my son? ¹⁵ And moreover, if ye return safe and sound, I will add something to thy wages. ¹⁶ And so they consented. And he said to Tobias, Prepare thyself for the journey, and God prosper you. And his son prepared what was needful for the journey, and his father said unto him, Go thou with this man; but God, who dwelleth in heaven, shall prosper your journey; and may his angel go with you. And they both went forth to depart, and the young man's dog with them.

¹⁷ But Anna his mother wept, and said to Tobit, Why hast thou sent away our child? is he not the staff of our hand, in going in and out before us? ¹⁸ Be not greedy to add money to money: but let it be as refuse in respect of our child. ¹⁹ For as the Lord hath given us to live, so doth it suffice us. ²⁰ And Tobit said to her, Take no care, my sister; he shall return safe and sound, and thine eyes shall see him. ²¹ For a good angel shall go with him, and his journey shall be prospered, and he shall return safe and sound. ²² And she made an end of weeping.

¹ Now as they went on their journey, they came at eventide to the river Tigris, and they lodged there. ² But the young man went down to wash himself, and a fish leaped out of the river, and would have swallowed up the young man. ³ But the angel said unto him, Take hold on the fish. And the young man caught hold of the fish, and cast it up on the land. ⁴ And the angel said unto him, Cut the fish open, and take the heart and the liver and the gall, and put them up safely. ⁵ And the young man did as the angel commanded him; but they roasted the fish, and ate it. And they both went on their way, till they drew near to Ecbatana. ⁶ And the young man said to the angel, Brother Azarias, to what use is the heart and the liver and the gall of the fish? ⁷ And he said unto him, Touching the heart and the liver, if a demon or an evil spirit trouble any, we must make a smoke thereof before the man or the woman, and the party shall be no more vexed. ⁸ But as for the gall, it is good to anoint a man that hath white films in his eyes, and he shall be healed.

⁹ But when they drew nigh unto Rages, ¹⁰ the angel said to the young man, Brother, today we shall lodge with Raguel, and he is thy kinsman; and he hath an only daughter, named Sarah. I will speak for her, that she should be given thee for a wife. ¹¹ For to thee doth the inheritance of her appertain, and thou only art of her kindred: ¹² and the maid is fair and wise. And now hear me, and I will speak to her father; and when we return from Rages we will celebrate the marriage: for I know that Raguel may in no wise marry her to another according to the law of Moses, or else he shall be liable to death, because it appertaineth unto thee to take the inheritance, rather than any other. ¹³ Then the young man said unto the angel, Brother Azarias, I have heard that this maid hath been given to seven men, and that they all perished in the bridechamber. ¹⁴ And now I am the only son of my father, and I am afraid, lest I go in and die, even as those before me: for a demon loveth her, who hurteth no man, but those who come unto her: and now I fear lest I die, and bring my father's and my mother's life to the grave with sorrow because of me: and they have no other son to bury them. ¹⁵ But the angel said unto him, Dost thou not remember the words which thy father commanded thee, that thou shouldest take a wife of thine own kindred? and now hear me, brother; for she shall be thy wife; and make thou no reckoning of the demon; for this night shall she be given thee to wife. ¹⁶ And when thou shalt come into the bridechamber, thou shalt take the ashes of incense, and shalt lay upon them some of the heart and liver of the fish, and shalt make a smoke therewith: ¹⁷ and the demon shall smell it, and flee away, and never come again anymore. But when thou goest nigh unto her, rise up both of you, and cry to God who is merciful, and he shall save you, and have mercy on you. Fear not, for she was prepared for thee from the beginning; and thou shalt save her, and she shall go with thee. And I suppose that thou shalt have children of her. And when Tobias heard these things, he loved her, and his soul clave to her exceedingly.

Raguel asked them, From whence are ye, brethren? And they said unto him, We are of the sons of Naphtali, who are captives in Nineveh. ⁴ And he said unto them, Know ye Tobit our brother? And they said, We know him. And he said unto them, Is he in good health? ⁵ And they said, He is both alive, and in good health: and Tobias said, He is my father. ⁶ And Raguel sprang up, and kissed him, and wept, ⁷ and blessed him, and said unto him, Thou art the son of an honest and good man. And when he had heard that Tobit had lost his sight, he was grieved, and wept; ⁸ and Edna his wife and Sarah his daughter wept. And they received them gladly; and they killed a ram of the flock, and set store of meat before them.

But Tobias said to Raphael, Brother Azarias, speak of those things of which thou didst talk in the way, and let the matter be finished. ⁹ And he communicated the thing to Raguel: and Raguel said to Tobias, Eat and drink, and make merry: ¹⁰ for it appertaineth unto thee to take my child. Howbeit I will show thee the truth. ¹¹ I have given my child to seven men, and whensoever they came in unto her, they died in the night. But for the present be merry. And Tobias said, I will taste nothing here, until ye make covenant and enter into covenant with me. ¹² And Raguel said, Take her to thyself from henceforth according to the manner: thou art her brother, and she is thine: but the merciful God shall give all good success to you. ¹³ And he called his daughter Sarah, and took her by the hand, and gave her to be wife to Tobias, and said, Behold, take her to thyself after the law of Moses, and lead her away to thy father. And he blessed them; ¹⁴ and he called Edna his wife, and took a book, and wrote an instrument, and sealed it. ¹⁵ And they began to eat.

¹⁶ And Raguel called his wife Edna, and said unto her, Sister, prepare the other chamber, and bring her in thither. ¹⁷ And she did as he bade her, and brought her in thither: and she wept, and she received the tears of her daughter, and said unto her, ¹⁸ Be of good comfort, my child; the Lord of heaven and earth give thee favor for this thy sorrow: be of good comfort, my daughter.

¹ And when they had finished their supper, they brought Tobias in unto her. ² But as he went, he remembered the words of Raphael, and took the ashes of the incense, and put the heart and the liver of the fish thereupon, and made a smoke therewith. ³ But when the demon smelled the smell, he fled into the uppermost parts of Egypt, and the angel bound him. ⁴ But after they were both shut in together, Tobias rose up from the bed, and said, Sister, arise, and let us pray that the Lord may have mercy on us. ⁵ And Tobias began to say, Blessed art thou, O God of our fathers, and blessed is thy holy and glorious name forever; let the heavens bless thee, and all thy creatures. ⁶ Thou madest Adam, and gavest him Eve his wife for a helper and a stay: of them came the seed of men: thou didst say, it is not good that the man should be alone; let us make him a helper like unto him. ⁷ And now, O Lord, I take not this my sister for lust, but in truth: command that I may find mercy and grow old with her. ⁸ And she said with him, Amen. And they slept both that night.

⁹ And Raguel arose, and went and dug a grave, ¹⁰ saying, Lest he also should die. ¹¹ And Raguel came into his house, ¹² and said to Edna his wife, Send one of the maidservants, and let them see whether he is alive: but if not, that we may bury him, and no man know it. ¹³ So the maidservant opened the door, and went in, and found them both sleeping, ¹⁴ and came forth, and told them that he was alive. ¹⁵ And Raguel blessed God, saying,

Blessed art thou, O God, with all pure and holy blessing; and let thy saints bless thee, and all thy creatures; and let all thine angels and thine elect bless thee forever.

¹⁶ Blessed art thou, because thou hast made me glad; and it hath not befallen me as I suspected; but thou hast dealt with us according to thy great mercy. ¹⁷ Blessed art thou, because thou hast had mercy on two that were the only begotten children of their parents: show them mercy, O Lord; accomplish their life in health with gladness and mercy.

¹⁸ But he commanded his servants to fill the grave. ¹⁹ And he kept the wedding feast for them fourteen days. ²⁰ And before the days of the wedding feast were finished, Raguel sware unto him, that he should not depart till the fourteen days of the wedding feast were fulfilled; ²¹ and that then he should take the half of his goods, and go in safety to his father; and the rest, said he, when I and my wife shall die.

¹ And Tobias called Raphael, and said unto him, ² Brother Azarias, take with thee a servant, and two camels, and go to Rages of Media to Gabael, and receive the money for me, and bring him to the wedding feast: ³ because Raguel hath sworn that I shall not depart; ⁴ and my father counteth the days; and if I tarry long, he will be sorely grieved. ⁵ And Raphael went on his way, and lodged with Gabael, and gave him the handwriting: but he brought forth the bags with their seals, and gave them to him. ⁶ And they rose up early in the morning together, and came to the wedding feast: and Tobias blessed his wife.

¹ And Tobit his father made his count every day: and when the days of the journey were expired, and they came not, ² he said, Is he perchance detained? or is Gabael perchance dead, and there is no man to give him the money? ³ And he was sorely grieved. ⁴ But his wife said unto him, The child hath perished, seeing he tarrieth long; and she began to bewail him, and said, ⁵ I care for nothing, my child, since I have let thee go, the light of mine eyes. ⁶ And Tobit saith unto her, Hold thy peace, take no care; he is in good health. ⁷ And she said unto him, Hold thy peace, deceive me not; my child hath perished. And she went out every day into the way by which they went, and did eat no bread in the daytime, and ceased not whole nights to bewail her son Tobias, until the fourteen days of the wedding feast were expired, which Raguel had sworn that he should spend there.

But Tobias said unto Raguel, Send me away, for my father and my mother look no more to see me. ⁸ But his father-in-law said unto him, Abide with me, and I will send to thy father; and they shall declare unto him how things go with thee. ⁹ And Tobias saith, No; but send me away to my father. ¹⁰ But Raguel arose, and gave him Sarah his wife, and half his goods, servants and cattle and money; ¹¹ and he blessed them, and sent them away, saying, The God of heaven shall prosper you, my children, before I die. ¹² And he said to his daughter, Honor thy father and thy mother-in-law; they are now thy parents; let me hear a good report of thee. And he kissed her. And Edna said to Tobias, The Lord of heaven restore thee, dear brother; and grant to me that I may see thy children of my daughter Sarah, that I may rejoice before the Lord: and, behold, I commit my daughter unto thee in special trust: vex her not.

dog went after them. ⁵ And Anna sat looking about toward the way for her son. ⁶ And she espied him coming, and said to his father, Behold, thy son cometh, and the man that went with him. ⁷ And Raphael said, I know, Tobias, that thy father will open his eyes. ⁸ Do thou therefore anoint his eyes with the gall, and being pricked therewith, he shall rub, and shall make the white films to fall away, and he shall see thee.

⁹ And Anna ran unto him, and fell upon the neck of her son, and said unto him, I have seen thee, my child; from henceforth I will die. And they wept both. ¹⁰ And Tobit went forth toward the door, and stumbled: but his son ran unto him, ¹¹ and took hold of his father: and he sprinkled the gall on his father's eyes, saying, Be of good cheer, my father. ¹² But when his eyes began to smart, he rubbed them; ¹³ and the white films scaled away from the corners of his eyes; and he saw his son, and fell upon his neck. ¹⁴ And he wept, and said, Blessed art thou, O God, and blessed is thy name forever, and blessed are all thy holy angels; ¹⁵ for thou didst scourge, and didst have mercy on me: behold, I see my son Tobias. And his son went in rejoicing, and told his father the great things that had happened to him in Media.

¹⁶ And Tobit went out to meet his daughter-in-law at the gate of Nineveh, rejoicing, and blessing God: and they that saw him go marveled, because he had received his sight. ¹⁷ And Tobit gave thanks before them, because God had shown mercy on him. And when Tobit came near to Sarah his daughter-in-law, he blessed her, saying, Welcome, daughter: blessed is God who hath brought thee unto us, and blessed are thy father and thy mother. And there was joy to all his brethren who were at Nineveh. ¹⁸ And Ahikar, and Nadab his brother's son, came: ¹⁹ and Tobias' wedding feast was kept seven days with great gladness.

¹ And Tobit called his son Tobias, and said unto him, See, my child, that the man who went with thee have his wages, and thou must give him more. ² And he said unto him, Father, it is no harm to me to give him the half of those things which I have brought: ³ for he hath led me for thee in safety, and he cured my wife, and brought my money, and likewise cured thee. ⁴ And the old man said, It is due unto him. ⁵ And he called the angel, and said unto him, Take the half of all that ye have brought. ⁶ Then he called them both privily, and said unto them,

Bless God, and give him thanks, and magnify him, and give him thanks in the sight of all that live, for the things which he hath done with you. It is good to bless God and exalt his name, showing forth with honor the works of God; and be not slack to give him thanks. ⁷ It is good to keep close the secret of a king, but to reveal gloriously the works of God. Do good, and evil shall not find you. ⁸ Good is prayer with fasting and alms and righteousness. A little with righteousness is better than much with unrighteousness. It is better to give alms than to lay up gold: ⁹ alms doth deliver from death, and it shall purge away all sin. They that do alms and righteousness shall be filled with life; ¹⁰ but they that sin are enemies to their own life. ¹¹ Surely I will keep close nothing from you. I have said, It is good to keep close the secret of a king, but to reveal gloriously the works of God. ¹² And now, when thou didst pray, and Sarah thy daughter-in-law, I did bring the memorial of your prayer before the Holy One: and when thou didst bury the dead, I was with thee likewise. ¹³ And when thou didst not delay to rise up, and leave thy dinner, that thou mightest go and cover the dead, thy good deed was not hidden from me: but I was with thee. ¹⁴ And now God did send me to heal thee and Sarah thy daughter-in-law. ¹⁵ I am Raphael, one of the seven holy angels, who present the prayers of the saints, and go in before the glory of the Holy One.

¹⁶ And they were both troubled, and fell upon their faces; for they were afraid.
¹⁷ And he said unto them, Be not afraid, ye shall have peace; but bless God forever.
¹⁸ For not of any favor of mine, but by the will of your God I came; wherefore bless him forever. ¹⁹ All these days did I appear unto you; and I did neither eat nor drink, but ye saw a vision. ²⁰ And now give God thanks: because I ascend to him that sent me: and write in a book all the things which have been done. ²¹ And they rose up, and saw him no more. ²² And they confessed the great and wonderful works of God, and how the angel of the Lord had appeared unto them.

¹ And Tobit wrote a prayer for rejoicing, and said,
Blessed is God that liveth forever,
And blessed is his kingdom.
² For he scourgeth, and showeth mercy:
He leadeth down to Hades, and bringeth up again:
And there is none that shall escape his hand.
³ Give thanks unto him before the Gentiles, ye children of Israel:
For he hath scattered us among them.
⁴ There declare his greatness,
And extol him before all the living:
Because he is our Lord,
And God is our Father forever.
⁵ And he will scourge us for our iniquities, and will again show mercy,
And will gather us out of all the nations among whom ye are scattered.
⁶ If ye turn to him with your whole heart and with your whole soul,
To do truth before him,
Then will he turn unto you,
And will not hide his face from you.
And see what he will do with you,
And give him thanks with your whole mouth,
And bless the Lord of righteousness,
And exalt the everlasting King.
I in the land of my captivity give him thanks,
And show his strength and majesty to a nation of sinners.
Turn, ye sinners, and do righteousness before him:
Who can tell if he will accept you and have mercy on you?
⁷ I exalt my God,
And my soul doth exalt the King of heaven,
And it shall rejoice in his greatness.
⁸ Let all men speak, and let them give him thanks in Jerusalem.
⁹ O Jerusalem, the holy city,
He will scourge thee for the works of thy sons,
And will again have mercy on the sons of the righteous.
¹⁰ Give thanks to the Lord with goodness,
And bless the everlasting King,
That his tabernacle may be built in thee again with joy,
And that he may make glad in thee those that are captives,
And love in thee forever those that are miserable.
¹¹ Many nations shall come from far to the name of the Lord God
With gifts in their hands, even gifts to the King of heaven;
Generations of generations shall praise thee,

And sing songs of rejoicing.

¹² Cursed are all they that hate thee;
Blessed shall be all they that love thee forever.

¹³ Rejoice and be exceeding glad for the sons of the righteous:
For they shall be gathered together and shall bless the Lord of the righteous.

¹⁴ O blessed are they that love thee;
They shall rejoice for thy peace:
Blessed are all they that sorrowed for all thy scourges:
Because they shall rejoice for thee,
When they have seen all thy glory;
And they shall be made glad forever.

¹⁵ Let my soul bless God the great King.

¹⁶ For Jerusalem shall be built with sapphires and emeralds and precious stones;
Thy walls and towers and battlements with pure gold.

¹⁷ And the streets of Jerusalem shall be paved with beryl and carbuncle and stones of Ophir.

¹⁸ And all her streets shall say, Hallelujah, and give praise,
Saying, Blessed is God, who hath exalted thee forever.

¹ And Tobit made an end of giving thanks. ² And he was eight and fifty years old when he lost his sight; and after eight years he received it again: and he gave alms, and he feared the Lord God more and more, and gave thanks unto him.

³ Now he grew very old; and he called his son, and the six sons of his son, and said unto him,

My child, take thy sons: behold, I am grown old, and am ready to depart out of this life. ⁴ Go into Media, my child, for I surely believe all the things which Jonah the prophet spake of Nineveh, that it shall be overthrown, but in Media there shall rather be peace for a season; and that our brethren shall be scattered in the earth from the good land; and Jerusalem shall be desolate, and the house of God in it shall be burned up, and shall be desolate for a time; ⁵ and God shall again have mercy on them, and bring them back into the land, and they shall build the house, but not like to the former house, until the times of that age be fulfilled; and afterward they shall return from the places of their captivity, and build up Jerusalem with honor, and the house of God shall be built in it forever with a glorious building, even as the prophets spake concerning it. ⁶ And all the nations shall turn to fear the Lord God truly, and shall bury their idols. ⁷ And all the nations shall bless the Lord, and his people shall give thanks unto God, and the Lord shall exalt his people; and all they that love the Lord God in truth and righteousness shall rejoice, showing mercy to our brethren. ⁸ And now, my child, depart from Nineveh, because those things which the prophet Jonah spake shall surely come to pass. ⁹ But keep thou the law and the ordinances, and show thyself merciful and righteous, that it may be well with thee. ¹⁰ And bury me decently, and thy mother with me; and dwell ye no longer at Nineveh. See, my child, what Aman did to Ahikar who nourished him, how out of light he brought him into darkness, and all the recompense that he made him: and Ahikar was saved, but the other had his recompense, and he went down into darkness. Manasseh gave alms, and escaped the snare of death which he set for him: but Aman fell into the snare, and perished. ¹¹ And now, my children, consider what alms doeth, and how righteousness doth deliver.

And while he was saying these things, he gave up the ghost in the bed; but he was a hundred and eight and fifty years old; and he buried him magnificently. ¹² And when Anna died, he buried her with his father. But Tobias departed with his wife and his sons to Ecbatana unto Raguel his father-in-law, ¹³ and he grew old in honor, and he buried his father and mother-in-law magnificently, and he inherited their substance, and his father Tobit's. ¹⁴ And he died at Ecbatana of Media, being a hundred and seven and twenty years old. ¹⁵ And before he died he heard of the destruction of Nineveh, which Nebuchadnezzar and Ahasuerus took captive; and before his death he rejoiced over Nineveh.

THE BOOK OF JUDITH

¹ In the twelfth year of the reign of Nebuchadnezzar, who reigned over the Assyrians in Nineveh, the great city; in the days of Arphaxad, who reigned over the Medes in Ecbatana, ² and built at Ecbatana and round about it walls of hewn stones three cubits broad and six cubits long, and made the height of the wall seventy cubits, and the breadth thereof fifty cubits; ³ and set the towers thereof at the gates thereof, a hundred cubits high, and the breadth thereof in the foundation threescore cubits; ⁴ and made the gates thereof, even gates that were raised to the height of seventy cubits, and the breadth of them forty cubits, for the going forth of his mighty hosts, and the setting in array of his footmen: ⁵ even in those days king Nebuchadnezzar made war with king Arphaxad in the great plain: this plain is in the borders of Ragau. ⁶ And there came to meet him all that dwelt in the hill country, and all that dwelt by Euphrates, and Tigris, and Hydaspes, and in the plain of Arioch the king of the Elymaeans; and many nations of the sons of Chelod assembled themselves to the battle.

⁷ And Nebuchadnezzar king of the Assyrians sent unto all that dwelt in Persia, and to all that dwelt westward, to those that dwelt in Cilicia and Damascus and Lebanon and Antilebanon, and to all that dwelt over against the seacoast, ⁸ and to those among the nations that were of Carmel and Gilead, and to the higher Galilee and the great plain of Esdraelon, ⁹ and to all that were in Samaria and the cities thereof, and beyond Jordan unto Jerusalem, and Bethany, and Chelous, and Kadesh, and the river of Egypt, and Tahpanhes, and Rameses, and all the land of Goshen, ¹⁰ until thou comest above Tanis and Memphis, and to all that dwelt in Egypt, until thou comest to the borders of Ethiopia. ¹¹ And all they that dwelt in all the land made light of the commandment of Nebuchadnezzar king of the Assyrians, and went not with him to the war; for they were not afraid of him, but he was before them as one man; and they turned away his messengers from their presence without effect, and with disgrace. ¹² And Nebuchadnezzar was exceeding wroth with all this land, and he swore by his throne and kingdom, that he would surely be avenged upon all the borders of Cilicia and Damascus and Syria, that he would slay with his sword all the inhabitants of the land of Moab, and the children of Ammon, and all Judea, and all that were in Egypt, until thou comest to the borders of the two seas. ¹³ And he set the battle in array with his host against king Arphaxad in the seventeenth year; and he prevailed in his battle, and turned to flight all the host of Arphaxad, and all his horse, and all his chariots; ¹⁴ and he became master of his cities, and he came even unto Ecbatana, and took the towers, and plundered the streets thereof, and turned the beauty thereof into shame. ¹⁵ And he took Arphaxad in the mountains of Ragau, and smote him through with his darts, and destroyed him utterly, unto this day. ¹⁶ And he returned with them to Nineveh, he and all his company of sundry nations, an exceeding great multitude of men of war, and there he took his ease and banqueted, he and his host, a hundred and twenty days.

¹ And in the eighteenth year, the two and twentieth day of the first month, there was talk in the house of Nebuchadnezzar king of the Assyrians, that he should be avenged on all the land, even as he spake. ² And he called together all his servants, and all his great men, and communicated with them his secret counsel, and concluded the afflicting of all the land out of his own mouth. ³ And they decreed to destroy all flesh which followed not the word of his mouth. ⁴ And it came to pass, when he had ended his counsel, Nebuchadnezzar king of the Assyrians called Holofernes the chief captain of his host, who was next after himself, and said unto him,

⁵ Thus saith the great king, the lord of all the earth, Behold, thou shalt go forth from my presence, and take with thee men that trust in their strength, unto a hundred and twenty thousand footmen; and the number of horses with their riders twelve thousand: ⁶ and thou shalt go forth against all the west country, because they disobeyed the commandment of my mouth. ⁷ And thou shalt declare unto them, that they prepare earth and water; because I will go forth in my wrath against them, and will cover the whole face of the earth with the feet of my host, and I will give them for a spoil unto them: ⁸ and their slain shall fill their valleys and brooks, and the river shall be filled with their dead, till it overflow: ⁹ and I will lead them captives to the utmost parts of all the earth. ¹⁰ But thou shalt go forth, and take beforehand for me all their borders; and if they shall yield themselves unto thee, then shalt thou reserve them for me till the day of their reproof. ¹¹ But as for them that are disobedient, thine eye shall not spare; but thou shalt give them up to be slain and to be plundered in all thy land. ¹² For as I live, and by the power of my kingdom, I have spoken, and I will do this with my hand. ¹³ And thou, moreover, shalt not transgress aught of the commandments of thy lord, but thou shalt surely accomplish them, as I have commanded thee, and thou shalt not defer to do them.

²⁸ And the fear and the dread of him fell upon them that dwelt on the seacoast, upon them that were in Sidon and Tyre, and them that dwelt in Sur and Ocina, and all that dwelt in Jamnia; and they that dwelt in Azotus and Ascalon feared him exceedingly.

⁶ And he came down toward the seacoast, he and his host, and set garrisons in the high cities, and took out of them chosen men for allies. ⁷ And they received him, they and all the country round about them, with garlands and dances and timbrels. ⁸ And he cast down all their borders, and cut down their groves: and it had been given unto him to destroy all the gods of the land, that all the nations should worship Nebuchadnezzar only, and that all their tongues and their tribes should call upon him as god. ⁹ And he came toward Esdraelon nigh unto Dothan, which is over against the great ridge of Judea. ¹⁰ And he encamped between Geba and Scythopolis, and he was there a whole month, that he might gather together all the baggage of his host.

⁴ And they sent into every district of Samaria, and to Kona, and to Beth-horon, and Belmain, and Jericho, and to Choba, and Aesora, and to the valley of Salem; ⁵ and they possessed themselves beforehand of all the tops of the high mountains, and fortified the villages that were in them, and laid up victuals for the provision of war: for their fields were newly reaped. ⁶ And Joakim the high priest, who was in those days at Jerusalem, wrote to them that dwelt in Bethulia, and Betomesthaim, which is over against Esdraelon toward the plain that is nigh unto Dothan, ⁷ charging them to seize upon the ascents of the hill country; because by them was the entrance into Judea, and it was easy to stop them from approaching, inasmuch as the approach was narrow, with space for two men at the most. ⁸ And the children of Israel did as Joakim the high priest had commanded them, and the senate of all the people of Israel, who dwelt at Jerusalem.

⁹ And every man of Israel cried to God with great earnestness, and with great earnestness did they humble their souls. ¹⁰ They, and their wives, and their babes, and their cattle, and every sojourner and hireling and servant bought with their money, put sackcloth upon their loins. ¹¹ And every man and woman of Israel, and the little children, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem, fell before the temple, and cast ashes upon their heads, and spread out their sackcloth before the Lord; and they put sackcloth about the altar: ¹² and they cried to the God of Israel earnestly with one consent, that he would not give their babes for a prey, and their wives for a spoil, and the cities of their inheritance to destruction, and the sanctuary to profanation and reproach, for the nations to rejoice at. ¹³ And the Lord heard their voice, and looked upon their affliction: and the people continued fasting many days in all Judea and Jerusalem before the sanctuary of the Lord Almighty. ¹⁴ And Joakim the high priest, and all the priests that stood before the Lord, and they that ministered unto the Lord, had their loins girt about with sackcloth, and offered the continual burnt offering, and the vows and the free gifts of the people; ¹⁵ and they had ashes on their miters: and they cried unto the Lord with all their power, that he would look upon all the house of Israel for good.

¹ And it was told Holofernes, the chief captain of the host of Asshur, that the children of Israel had prepared for war, and had shut up the passages of the hill country, and had fortified all the tops of the high hills, and had laid impediments in the plains: ² and he was exceeding wroth, and he called all the princes of Moab, and the captains of Ammon, and all the governors of the seacoast, ³ and he said unto them, Tell me now, ye sons of Canaan, who is this people, that dwelleth in the hill country, and what are the cities that they inhabit, and what is the multitude of their host, and wherein is their power and their strength, and what king is set over them, to be the leader of their army; ⁴ and why have they turned their backs, that they should not come and meet me, more than all that dwell in the west.

⁵ And Achior, the leader of all the children of Ammon, said unto him,

Let my lord now hear a word from the mouth of thy servant, and I will tell thee the truth concerning this people, which dwelleth in this hill country, nigh unto the place where thou dwellest: and there shall no lie come out of the mouth of thy servant. ⁶ This people are descended of the Chaldeans: ⁷ and they sojourned heretofore in Mesopotamia, because they were not minded to follow the gods of their fathers, who were in the land of the Chaldeans. ⁸ And they departed from the way of their parents, and worshiped the God of heaven, the God whom they knew: and they cast them out from the face of their gods, and they fled into Mesopotamia, and sojourned there many days. ⁹ And their God commanded them to depart from the place where they sojourned, and to go into the land of Canaan: and they dwelt there, and were increased with gold and silver, and with exceeding much cattle. ¹⁰ And they went down into Egypt, for a famine covered all the land of Canaan; and there they sojourned, until they were grown up; and they became there a great multitude, so that one could not number their nation. ¹¹ And the king of Egypt rose up against them, and dealt craftily with them, and brought them low, making them to labor in brick, and made them slaves. ¹² And they cried unto their God, and he smote all the land of Egypt with incurable plagues: and the Egyptians cast them out of their sight. ¹³ And God dried up the Red Sea before them, ¹⁴ and brought them into the way of Sinai, and Kadesh-barnea, and they cast out all that dwelt in the wilderness. ¹⁵ And they dwelt in the land of the Amorites, and they destroyed by their strength all them of Heshbon, and passing over Jordan they possessed all the hill country. ¹⁶ And they cast out before them the Canaanite, the Perizzite, the Jebusite, and the Shechemite, and all the Girgashites, and they dwelt in that country many days. ¹⁷ And while they sinned not before their God, they prospered, because God that hateth iniquity was with them. ¹⁸ But when they departed from the way which he appointed them, they were destroyed in many battles very sore, and were led captives into a land that was not theirs, and the temple of their God was cast to the ground, and their cities were taken by their adversaries. ¹⁹ And now they are returned to their God, and are come up from the Dispersion where they were dispersed, and have possessed Jerusalem, where their sanctuary is, and are seated in the hill country: for it was desolate. ²⁰ And now, my lord and master, if there is any error in this people, and they sin against their God, we will consider what this thing is wherein they stumble, and we will go up and overcome them. ²¹ But if there is no lawlessness in their nation, let my lord now pass by, lest their Lord defend them, and their God be for them, and we shall be a reproach before all the earth.

²² And it came to pass, when Achior had finished speaking these words, all the people that compassed the tent and stood round about it murmured; and the great men of Holofernes, and all that dwelt by the seaside, and in Moab, spake that he should kill him. ²³ For, said they, we will not be afraid of the children of Israel: for, lo, it is a people that hath no power nor might to make the battle strong. ²⁴ Wherefore now we will go up, and they shall be a prey to be devoured of all thine army, lord Holofernes.

² And who art thou, Achior, and the hirelings of Ephraim, that thou hast prophesied among us as today, and hast said, that we should not make war with the race of Israel, because their God will defend them? And who is God but Nebuchadnezzar?

³ He shall send forth his might, and shall destroy them from the face of the earth, and their God shall not deliver them: but we his servants shall smite them as one man; and they shall not sustain the might of our horses. ⁴ For with them we shall burn them up, and their mountains shall be drunken with their blood, and their plains shall be filled with their dead bodies, and their footsteps shall not stand before us, but they shall surely perish, saith king Nebuchadnezzar, lord of all the earth: for he said, The words that I have spoken shall not be in vain. ⁵ But thou, Achior, hireling of Ammon, who hast spoken these words in the day of thine iniquity, shalt see my face no more from this day, until I shall be avenged of the race of those that came out of Egypt. ⁶ And then shall the sword of mine army, and the multitude of them that serve me, pass through thy sides, and thou shalt fall among their slain, when I shall return. ⁷ And my servants shall bring thee back into the hill country, and shall set thee in one of the cities of the ascents: ⁸ and thou shalt not perish, till thou be destroyed with them. ⁹ And if thou hopest in thy heart that they shall not be taken, let not thy countenance fall. I have spoken it, and none of my words shall fall to the ground. ¹⁰ And Holofernes commanded his servants, that waited in his tent, to take Achior, and bring him back to Bethulia, and deliver him into the hands of the children of Israel. ¹¹ And his servants took him, and brought him out of the camp into the plain, and they removed from the midst of the plain country into the hill country, and came unto the fountains that were under Bethulia. ¹² And when the men of the city saw them on the top of the hill, they took up their weapons, and went out of the city against them to the top of the hill: and every man that used a sling kept them from coming up, and cast stones against them. ¹³ And they gat them privily under the hill, and bound Achior, and cast him down, and left him at the foot of the hill, and went away unto their lord. ¹⁴ But the children of Israel descended from their city, and came upon him, and loosed him, and led him away into Bethulia, and presented him to the rulers of their city; ¹⁵ who were in those days Uzziah the son of Micah, of the tribe of Simeon, and Chabris the son of Gothoniell, and Charmis the son of Melchiel. ¹⁶ And they called together all the elders of the city; and all their young men ran together, and their women, to the assembly; and they set Achior in the midst of all their people. And Uzziah asked him of that which had happened: ¹⁷ and he answered and declared unto them the words of the council of Holofernes, and all the words that he had spoken in the midst of the princes of the children of Asshur, and all the great words that Holofernes had spoken against the house of Israel. ¹⁸ And the people fell down and worshiped God, and cried, saying, ¹⁹ O Lord God of heaven, behold their arrogance, and pity the low estate of our race, and look upon the face of those that are sanctified unto thee this day. ²⁰ And they comforted Achior, and praised him exceedingly. ²¹ And Uzziah took him out of the assembly into his house, and made a feast to the elders; and they called on the God of Israel for help all that night.

⁸ And there came unto him all the rulers of the children of Esau, and all the leaders of the people of Moab, and the captains of the seacoast, and said,

⁹ Let our lord now hear a word, that there be not an overthrow in thy host. ¹⁰ For this people of the children of Israel do not trust in their spears, but in the height of the mountains wherein they dwell, for it is not easy to come up to the tops of their mountains. ¹¹ And now, my lord, fight not against them as men fight who join battle, and there shall not so much as one man of thy people perish. ¹² Remain in thy camp, and keep safe every man of thy host, and let thy servants get possession of the fountain of water, which issueth forth of the foot of the mountain: ¹³ because all the inhabitants of Bethulia have their water thence; and thirst shall kill them, and they shall give up their city: and we and our people will go up to the tops of the mountains that are near, and will encamp upon them, to watch that not one man go out of the city. ¹⁴ And they shall be consumed with famine, they and their wives and their children, and before the sword come against them they shall be laid low in the streets where they dwell. ¹⁵ And thou shalt render them an evil reward; because they rebelled, and met not thy face in peace.

and they encamped in the valley, and seized upon the waters and the fountains of the waters of the children of Israel. ¹⁸ And the children of Esau went up with the children of Ammon, and encamped in the hill country over against Dothan: and they sent some of them toward the south, and toward the east, over against Ekrebel, which is near unto Chusi, that is upon the brook Mochmur; and the rest of the army of the Assyrians encamped in the plain, and covered all the face of the land; and their tents and baggage were pitched upon it in a great crowd, and they were an exceeding great multitude.

¹⁹ And the children of Israel cried unto the Lord their God, for their spirit fainted; for all their enemies had compassed them round about, and there was no way to escape out from among them. ²⁰ And all the army of Asshur remained about them, their footmen and their chariots and their horsemen, four and thirty days; and all their vessels of water failed all the inhabitants of Bethulia. ²¹ And the cisterns were emptied, and they had not water to drink their fill for one day: for they gave them drink by measure. ²² And their young children were out of heart, and the women and the young men fainted for thirst, and they fell down in the streets of the city, and in the passages of the gates, and there was no longer any strength in them. ²³ And all the people were gathered together against Uzziah, and against the rulers of the city, the young men and the women and the children, and they cried with a loud voice, and said before all the elders, ²⁴ God be judge between you and us: because ye have done us great wrong, in that ye have not spoken words of peace with the children of Asshur. ²⁵ And now we have no helper: but God hath sold us into their hands, that we should be laid low before them with thirst and great destruction. ²⁶ And now call them unto you, and deliver up the whole city for a prey to the people of Holofernes, and to all his host. ²⁷ For it is better for us to be made a spoil unto them: for we shall be servants, and our souls shall live, and we shall not see the death of our babes before our eyes, and our wives and our children fainting in death. ²⁸ We take to witness against you the heaven and the earth, and our God and the Lord of our fathers, who punisheth us according to our sins and the sins of our fathers, that he do not according as we have said this day.

²⁹ And there was great weeping of all with one consent in the midst of the assembly; and they cried unto the Lord God with a loud voice. ³⁰ And Uzziah said to them, Brethren, be of good courage, let us yet endure five days, in which space the Lord our God shall turn his mercy toward us; for he will not forsake us utterly. ³¹ But if these days pass, and there come no help unto us, I will do according to your words. ³² And he dispersed the people, every man to his own camp; and they went away unto the walls and towers of their city; and he sent the women and children into their houses: and they were brought very low in the city.

¹ And in those days Judith heard thereof, the daughter of Merari, the son of Ox, the son of Joseph, the son of Oziel, the son of Elkiah, the son of Ananias, the son of Gideon, the son of Raphaim, the son of Ahitub, the son of Elijah, the son of Eliab, the son of Nethanel, the son of Salamiel, the son of Sarasadai, the son of Israel. ² And her husband was Manasseh, of her tribe and of her family, and he died in the days of barley harvest. ³ For he stood over them that bound sheaves in the field, and the heat came upon his head, and he fell on his bed, and died in his city Bethulia: and they buried him with his fathers in the field which is between Dothan and Balamon. ⁴ And Judith was a widow in her house three years and four months. ⁵ And she made her a tent upon the roof of her house, and put on sackcloth upon her loins; and the garments of her widowhood were upon her. ⁶ And she fasted all the days of her widowhood, save the eves of the sabbaths, and the sabbaths, and the eves of the new moons, and the new moons, and the feasts and joyful days of the house of Israel. ⁷ And she was of a goodly countenance, and exceeding beautiful to behold: and her husband Manasseh had left her gold, and silver, and menservants, and maidservants, and cattle, and lands; and she remained upon them. ⁸ And there was none that gave her an evil word; for she feared God exceedingly.

⁹ And she heard the evil words of the people against the governor, because they fainted for lack of water; and Judith heard all the words that Uzziah spake unto them, how he sware to them that he would deliver the city unto the Assyrians after five days. ¹⁰ And she sent her maid, that was over all things that she had, to call Uzziah and Chabris and Charmis, the elders of her city. ¹¹ And they came unto her, and she said unto them,

Hear me now, O ye rulers of the inhabitants of Bethulia: for your word that ye have spoken before the people this day is not right, and ye have set the oath which ye have pronounced between God and you, and have promised to deliver the city to our enemies, unless within these days the Lord turn to help you. ¹² And now who are ye that have tempted God this day, and stand instead of God among the children of men? ¹³ And now try the Lord Almighty, and ye shall never know anything. ¹⁴ For ye shall not find the depth of the heart of man, and ye shall not perceive the things that he thinketh: and how shall ye search out God, who hath made all these things, and know his mind, and comprehend his purpose? Nay, my brethren, provoke not the Lord our God to anger. ¹⁵ For if he be not minded to help us within these five days, he hath power to defend us in such time as he will, or to destroy us before the face of our enemies. ¹⁶ But do not ye pledge the counsels of the Lord our God: for God is not as man, that he should be threatened; neither as the son of man, that he should be turned by entreaty. ¹⁷ Wherefore let us wait for the salvation that cometh from him, and call upon him to help us, and he will hear our voice, if it please him. ¹⁸ For there arose none in our age, neither is there any of us today, tribe, or kindred, or family, or city, which worship gods made with hands, as it was in the former days; ¹⁹ for which cause our fathers were given to the sword, and for a spoil, and fell with a great fall before our enemies. ²⁰ But we know none other god beside him, wherefore we hope that he will not despise us, nor any of our race. ²¹ For if we be taken so, all Judea shall sit upon the ground, and our sanctuary shall be plundered; and of our blood shall he require the profanation thereof. ²² And the slaughter of our brethren, and the captivity of the land, and the desolation of our inheritance, shall he turn upon our heads among the Gentiles, wheresoever we shall be in bondage; and we shall be an offense and a reproach before them that take us for a possession. ²³ For our bondage shall not be ordered to favor: but the Lord our God shall turn it to dishonor. ²⁴ And now, brethren, let us show an example to our brethren, because their soul hangeth upon us, and the sanctuary and the house and the altar rest upon us. ²⁵ Besides all this let us give thanks to the Lord our God, who trieth us, even as he did our fathers also. ²⁶ Remember all the things which he did to Abraham, and all the things in which he tried Isaac, and all the things which happened to Jacob in Mesopotamia of Syria, when he kept the sheep of Laban his mother's brother. ²⁷ For he hath not tried us in the fire, as he did them, to search out their hearts, neither hath he taken vengeance on us; but the Lord doth scourge them that come near unto him, to admonish them.

²⁸ And Uzziah said to her, All that thou hast spoken hast thou spoken with a good heart, and there is none that shall gainsay thy words. ²⁹ For this is not the first day wherein thy wisdom is manifested; but from the beginning of thy days all the people have known thine understanding, because the disposition of thy heart is good. ³⁰ But the people were exceeding thirsty, and compelled us to do as we spake to them, and to bring an oath upon ourselves, which we will not break. ³¹ And now pray thou for us, because thou art a godly woman, and the Lord shall send us rain to fill our cisterns, and we shall faint no more. ³² And Judith said unto them, Hear me, and I will do a thing, which shall go down to all generations among the children of our race. ³³ Ye shall stand at the gate this night, and I will go forth with my maid: and, within the days after which ye said that ye would deliver the city to our enemies, the Lord shall visit Israel by my hand. ³⁴ But ye shall not inquire of mine act: for I will not declare it unto you, till the things be finished that I do. ³⁵ And Uzziah and the rulers said unto her, Go in peace, and the Lord God be before thee, to take vengeance on our enemies. ³⁶ And they returned from the tent, and went to their stations.

¹ But Judith fell upon her face, and put ashes upon her head, and uncovered the sackcloth wherewith she was clothed; and the incense of that evening was now being offered at Jerusalem in the house of God, and Judith cried unto the Lord with a loud voice, and said,

² O Lord God of my father Simeon, into whose hand thou gavest a sword to take vengeance of the strangers, who loosened the girdle of a virgin to defile her, and uncovered the thigh to her shame, and profaned the womb to her reproach; for thou saidst, It shall not be so; and they did so: ³ wherefore thou gavest their rulers to be slain, and their bed, which was ashamed for her that was deceived, to be dyed in blood, and smotest the servants with their lords, and the lords upon their thrones; ⁴ and gavest their wives for a prey, and their daughters to be captives, and all their spoils to be divided among thy dear children; who were moved with zeal for thee, and abhorred the pollution of their blood, and called upon thee for aid: O God, O my God, hear me also that am a widow. ⁵ For thou wroughtest the things that were before those things, and those things, and such as ensued after; and thou didst devise the things which are now, and the things which are to come: and the things which thou didst devise came to pass; ⁶ yea, the things which thou didst determine stood before thee, and said, Lo, we are here: for all thy ways are prepared, and thy judgment is with foreknowledge. ⁷ For, behold, the Assyrians are multiplied in their power; they are exalted with horse and rider; they have gloried in the strength of their footmen; they have trusted in shield and spear and bow and sling; and they know not that thou art the Lord that breaketh the battles: the Lord is thy name. ⁸ Dash thou down their strength in thy power, and bring down their force in thy wrath: for they have purposed to profane thy sanctuary, and to defile the tabernacle where thy glorious name resteth, and to cast down with the sword the horn of thine altar. ⁹ Look upon their pride, and send thy wrath upon their heads: give into my hand, who am a widow, the might that I have conceived. ¹⁰ Smite by the deceit of my lips the servant with the prince, and the prince with his servant: break down their stateliness by the hand of a woman. ¹¹ For thy power standeth not in multitude, nor thy might in strong men: but thou art a God of the afflicted, thou art a helper of the oppressed, an upholder of the weak, a protector of the forlorn, a savior of them that are without hope. ¹² Yea, yea, God of my father, and God of the inheritance of Israel, Lord of the heavens and of the earth. Creator of the waters, King of every creature, hear thou my prayer: ¹³ and make my speech and deceit to be their wound and stripe, who have purposed hard things against thy covenant, and thy hallowed house, and the top of Zion, and the house of the possession of thy children. ¹⁴ And make every nation and tribe of thine to know that thou art God, the God of all power and might, and that there is none other that protecteth the race of Israel but thou.

¹ And it came to pass, when she had ceased to cry unto the God of Israel, and had made an end of all these words, ² that she rose up where she had fallen down, and called her maid, and went down into the house, in which she was wont to abide on the sabbath days and on her feast days, ³ and pulled off the sackcloth which she had put on, and put off the garments of her widowhood, and washed her body all over with water, and anointed herself with rich ointment, and braided the hair of her head, and put a headtire upon it, and put on her garments of gladness, wherewith she was wont to be clad in the days of the life of Manasseh her husband. ⁴ And she took sandals for her feet, and put her chains about her, and her bracelets, and her rings, and her earrings, and all her ornaments, and decked herself bravely, to beguile the eyes of all men that should see her. ⁵ And she gave her maid a leathern bottle of wine, and a cruse of oil, and filled a bag with parched grain and lumps of figs and fine bread; and she packed all her vessels together, and laid them upon her.

⁶ And they went forth to the gate of the city of Bethulia, and found standing thereby Uzziah, and the elders of the city, Chabris and Charmis. ⁷ But when they saw her, that her countenance was altered, and her apparel was changed, they wondered at her beauty very exceedingly, and said unto her, ⁸ The God of our fathers give thee favor, and accomplish thy purposes to the glory of the children of Israel, and to the exaltation of Jerusalem. And she worshiped God, ⁹ and said unto them, Command that they open unto me the gate of the city, and I will go forth to accomplish the things whereof ye spake with me. And they commanded the young men to open unto her, as she had spoken: ¹⁰ and they did so.

And Judith went out, she, and her handmaid with her; and the men of the city looked after her, until she was gone down the mountain, until she had passed the valley, and they could see her no more. ¹¹ And they went straight onward in the valley: and the watch of the Assyrians met her; ¹² and they took her, and asked her, Of what people art thou? and whence comest thou? and whither goest thou? And she said, I am a daughter of the Hebrews, and I flee away from their presence; because they are about to be given you to be consumed: ¹³ and I am coming into the presence of Holofernes the chief captain of your host, to declare words of truth; and I will show before him a way, whereby he shall go, and win all the hill country, and there shall not be lacking of his men one person, nor one life. ¹⁴ Now when the men heard her words, and considered her countenance, the beauty thereof was exceeding marvelous in their eyes, and they said unto her, ¹⁵ Thou hast saved thy life, in that thou hast hasted to come down to the presence of our lord: and now come to his tent, and some of us shall conduct thee, until they shall deliver thee into his hands. ¹⁶ But when thou standest before him, be not afraid in thy heart, but declare unto him according to thy words; and he shall treat thee well. ¹⁷ And they chose out of them a hundred men, and appointed them to accompany her and her maid; and they brought them to the tent of Holofernes.

¹⁸ And there was a concourse throughout all the camp, for her coming was noised among the tents; and they came and compassed her about, as she stood without the tent of Holofernes, until they told him of her. ¹⁹ And they marveled at her beauty, and marveled at the children of Israel because of her, and each one said to his neighbor, Who shall despise this people, that have among them such women? for it is not good that one man of them be left, seeing that, if they are let go, they shall be able to deceive the whole earth. ²⁰ And they that lay near Holofernes, and all his servants, went forth and brought her into the tent. ²¹ And Holofernes was resting upon his bed under the canopy, which was woven with purple and gold and emeralds and precious stones. ²² And they told him of her; and he came forth into the space before his tent, with silver lamps going before him. ²³ But when Judith was come before him and his servants, they all marveled at the beauty of her countenance; and she fell down upon her face, and did reverence unto him: and his servants raised her up.

¹ And Holofernes said unto her, Woman, be of good comfort, fear not in thy heart: for I never hurt any that hath chosen to serve Nebuchadnezzar, the king of all the earth. ² And now, if thy people that dwelleth in the hill country had not set light by me, I would not have lifted up my spear against them: but they have done these things to themselves. ³ And now tell me wherefore thou didst flee from them, and camest unto us: for thou art come to save thyself; be of good comfort, thou shalt live this night, and hereafter: ⁴ for there is none that shall wrong thee, but all shall treat thee well, as is done unto the servants of king Nebuchadnezzar my lord. ⁵ And Judith said unto him,

Receive the words of thy servant, and let thy handmaid speak in thy presence, and I will declare no lie unto my lord this night. ⁶ And if thou shalt follow the words of thy handmaid, God shall bring the thing to pass perfectly with thee; and my lord shall not fail of his purposes. ⁷ As Nebuchadnezzar king of all the earth liveth, and as his power liveth, who hath sent thee for the preservation of every living thing, not only do men serve him by thee, but also the beasts of the field and the cattle and the birds of the heaven shall live through thy strength, in the time of Nebuchadnezzar and of all his house. ⁸ For we have heard of thy wisdom and the subtle devices of thy soul, and it hath been reported in all the earth, that thou only art brave in all the kingdom, and mighty in knowledge, and wonderful in feats of war. ⁹ And now as concerning the matter, which Achior did speak in thy council, we have heard his words: for the men of Bethulia saved him, and he declared unto them all that he had spoken before thee. ¹⁰ Wherefore, O lord and master, neglect not his word; but lay it up in thy heart, for it is true: for our race shall not be punished, neither shall the sword prevail against them, except they sin against their God. ¹¹ And now, that my lord be not defeated and frustrate of his purpose, and that death may fall upon them, their sin hath overtaken them, wherewith they shall provoke their God to anger, whensoever they shall do wickedness. ¹² Since their victuals failed them, and all their water was scant, they took counsel to lay hands upon their cattle, and determined to consume all those things, which God charged them by his laws that they should not eat: ¹³ and they are resolved to spend the firstfruits of the grain, and the tenths of the wine and the oil, which they had sanctified, and reserved for the priests that stand before the face of our God in Jerusalem; which things it is not fitting for any of the people so much as to touch with their hands. ¹⁴ And they have sent some to Jerusalem, because they also that dwell there have done this thing, to bring them a license from the senate. ¹⁵ And it shall be, when one shall bring them word, and they shall do it, they shall be given thee to be destroyed the same day. ¹⁶ Wherefore I thy servant, knowing all this, fled away from their presence; and God sent me to work things with thee, whereat all the earth shall be astonished, even as many as shall hear it. ¹⁷ For thy servant is religious, and serveth the God of heaven day and night: and now, my lord, I will abide with thee, and thy servant will go forth by night into the valley, and I will pray unto God, and he shall tell me when they have committed their sins: ¹⁸ and I will come and show it also unto thee; and thou shalt go forth with all thy host, and there shall be none of them that shall resist thee. ¹⁹ And I will lead thee through the midst of Judea, until thou comest over against Jerusalem; and I will set thy seat in the midst thereof; and thou shalt drive them as sheep that have no shepherd, and a dog shall not so much as open his mouth before thee: for these things were told me according to my foreknowledge, and were declared unto me, and I was sent to tell thee.

²⁰ And her words were pleasing in the sight of Holofernes and of all his servants; and they marveled at her wisdom, and said, ²¹ There is not such a woman from one end of the earth to the other, for beauty of face, and wisdom of words. ²² And Holofernes said unto her, God did well to send thee before the people, that might should be in our hands, and destruction among them that lightly regarded my lord. ²³ And now thou art beautiful in thy countenance, and witty in thy words: for if thou shalt do as thou hast spoken, thy God shall be my God, and thou shalt dwell in the house of king Nebuchadnezzar, and shalt be renowned through the whole earth.

¹⁰ And it came to pass on the fourth day, Holofernes made a feast to his own servants only, and called none of the officers to the banquet. ¹¹ And he said to Bagoas the eunuch, who had charge over all that he had, Go now, and persuade this Hebrew woman who is with thee, that she come unto us, and eat and drink with us. ¹² For, lo, it is a shame for our person, if we shall let such a woman go, not having had her company; for if we draw her not unto us, she shall laugh us to scorn. ¹³ And Bagoas went from the presence of Holofernes, and came in to her, and said, Let not this fair damsel fear to come to my lord, and to be honored in his presence, and to drink wine and be merry with us, and to be made this day as one of the daughters of the children of Asshur, who wait in the house of Nebuchadnezzar. ¹⁴ And Judith said unto him, And who am I, that I should gainsay my lord? for whatsoever shall be pleasing in his eyes I will do speedily, and this shall be my joy unto the day of my death. ¹⁵ And she arose, and decked herself with her apparel and all her woman's attire; and her servant went and laid fleeces on the ground for her over against Holofernes, which she had received of Bagoas for her daily use, that she might sit and eat upon them. ¹⁶ And Judith came in and sat down, and Holofernes' heart was ravished with her, and his soul was moved, and he desired exceedingly her company: and he was watching for a time to deceive her, from the day that he had seen her. ¹⁷ And Holofernes said unto her, Drink now, and be merry with us. ¹⁸ And Judith said, I will drink now, my lord, because my life is magnified in me this day more than all the days since I was born. ¹⁹ And she took and ate and drank before him what her servant had prepared. ²⁰ And Holofernes took great delight in her, and drank exceeding much wine, more than he had drunk at any time in one day since he was born.

¹ But when the evening was come, his servants made haste to depart, and Bagoas shut the tent without, and dismissed them that waited from the presence of his lord; and they went away to their beds: for they were all weary, because the feast had been long. ² But Judith was left alone in the tent, and Holofernes lying along upon his bed: for he was overflown with wine. ³ And Judith had said to her servant that she should stand without her bedchamber, and wait for her coming forth, as she did daily: for she said she would go forth to her prayer; and she spake to Bagoas according to the same words. ⁴ And all went away from her presence, and none was left in the bedchamber, neither small nor great. And Judith, standing by his bed, said in her heart, O Lord God of all power, look in this hour upon the works of my hands for the exaltation of Jerusalem. ⁵ For now is the time to help thine inheritance, and to do the thing that I have purposed to the destruction of the enemies who are risen up against us. ⁶ And she came to the rail of the bed, which was at Holofernes' head, and took down his scimitar from thence; ⁷ And she drew near unto the bed, and took hold of the hair of his head, and said, Strengthen me, O Lord God of Israel, this day. ⁸ And she smote twice upon his neck with all her might, and took away his head from him, ⁹ and tumbled his body down from the bed, and took down the canopy from the pillars; and after a little while she went forth, and gave Holofernes' head to her maid; ¹⁰ and she put it in her bag of victuals: and they twain went forth together unto prayer, according to their custom: and they passed through the camp, and compassed that valley, and went up to the mountain of Bethulia, and came to the gates thereof.

¹¹ And Judith said afar off to the watchmen at the gates, Open, open now the gate: God is with us, even our God, to show his power yet in Israel, and his might against the enemy, as he hath done even this day. ¹² And it came to pass, when the men of her city heard her voice, they made haste to go down to the gate of their city, and they called together the elders of the city. ¹³ And they ran all together, both small and great, for it was strange unto them that she was come: and they opened the gate, and received them, making a fire to give light, and compassed them round about. ¹⁴ And she said to them with a loud voice, Praise God, praise him: praise God, who hath not taken away his mercy from the house of Israel, but hath destroyed our enemies by my hand this night. ¹⁵ And she took forth the head out of the bag, and showed it, and said unto them, Behold, the head of Holofernes, the chief captain of the host of Asshur, and behold, the canopy, wherein he did lie in his drunkenness; and the Lord smote him by the hand of a woman. ¹⁶ And as the Lord liveth, who preserved me in my way that I went, my countenance deceived him to his destruction, and he did not commit sin with me, to defile and shame me. ¹⁷ And all the people were exceedingly amazed, and bowed themselves, and worshiped God, and said with one accord, Blessed art thou, O our God, who hast this day brought to nought the enemies of thy people. ¹⁸ And Uzziah said unto her, Blessed art thou, daughter, in the sight of the Most High God, above all the women upon the earth; and blessed is the Lord God, who created the heavens and the earth, who directed thee to the smiting of the head of the prince of our enemies. ¹⁹ For thy hope shall not depart from the heart of men that remember the strength of God forever. ²⁰ And God turn these things to thee for a perpetual praise, to visit thee with good things, because thou didst not spare thy life by reason of the affliction of our race, but didst avenge our fall, walking a straight way before our God. And all the people said, So be it, so be it.

⁶ And they called Achior out of the house of Uzziah; but when he came, and saw the head of Holofernes in a man's hand in the assembly of the people, he fell upon his face, and his spirit failed. ⁷ But when they had recovered him, he fell at Judith's feet, and did reverence unto her, and said, Blessed art thou in every tent of Judah, and in every nation, which hearing thy name shall be troubled. ⁸ And now tell me all the things that thou hast done in these days. And Judith declared unto him in the midst of the people all the things that she had done, from the day that she went forth until the time that she spake unto them. ⁹ But when she left off speaking, the people shouted with a loud voice, and made a joyful noise in their city. ¹⁰ But when Achior saw all the things that the God of Israel had done, he believed in God exceedingly, and circumcised the flesh of his foreskin, and was joined unto the house of Israel, unto this day.

¹¹ But as soon as the morning arose, they hung the head of Holofernes upon the wall, and every man took up his weapons, and they went forth by bands unto the ascents of the mountain. ¹² But when the children of Asshur saw them, they sent hither and thither to their leaders; but they went to their captains and tribunes, and to every one of their rulers. ¹³ And they came to Holofernes' tent, and said to him that was over all that he had, Waken now our lord: for the slaves have been bold to come down against us to battle, that they may be utterly destroyed. ¹⁴ And Bagoas went in, and knocked at the outer door of the tent; for he supposed that he was sleeping with Judith. ¹⁵ But when none hearkened to him, he opened it, and went into the bedchamber, and found him cast upon the threshold dead, and his head had been taken from him. ¹⁶ And he cried with a loud voice, with weeping and groaning and a mighty cry, and rent his garments. ¹⁷ And he entered into the tent where Judith lodged: and he found her not, and he leaped out to the people, and cried aloud, ¹⁸ The slaves have dealt treacherously: one woman of the Hebrews hath brought shame upon the house of king Nebuchadnezzar; for, behold, Holofernes lieth upon the ground, and his head is not on him. ¹⁹ But when the rulers of the host of Asshur heard the words, they rent their coats, and their soul was troubled exceedingly, and there was a cry and an exceeding great noise in the midst of the camp.

¹ And when they that were in the tents heard, they were amazed at the thing that was come to pass. ² And trembling and fear fell upon them, and no man durst abide anymore in the sight of his neighbor, but rushing out with one accord, they fled into every way of the plain and of the hill country. ³ And they that had encamped in the hill country round about Bethulia fled away. And then the children of Israel, everyone that was a warrior among them, rushed out upon them. ⁴ And Uziah sent to Betomasthaim, and Bebai, and Choba, and Kola, and to every district of Israel, such as should tell concerning the things that had been accomplished, and that all should rush forth upon their enemies to destroy them. ⁵ But when the children of Israel heard, they all fell upon them with one accord, and smote them unto Choba: yea, and in like manner also they of Jerusalem and of all the hill country came (for men had told them what things were come to pass in the camp of their enemies), and they that were in Gilead and in Galilee fell upon their flank with a great slaughter, until they were past Damascus and the borders thereof. ⁶ But the residue, that dwelt at Bethulia, fell upon the camp of Asshur, and plundered them, and were enriched exceedingly. ⁷ But the children of Israel returned from the slaughter, and gat possession of that which remained; and the villages and the cities, that were in the hill country and in the plain country, took many spoils: for there was an exceeding great store.

⁸ And Joakim the high priest, and the senate of the children of Israel that dwelt in Jerusalem, came to behold the good things which the Lord had shown to Israel, and to see Judith, and to salute her. ⁹ But when they came unto her, they all blessed her with one accord, and said unto her, Thou art the exaltation of Jerusalem, thou art the great glory of Israel, thou art the great rejoicing of our race: ¹⁰ thou hast done all these things by thy hand: thou hast done with Israel the things that are good, and God is pleased therewith: blessed be thou with the Almighty Lord forevermore. And all the people said, So be it. ¹¹ And the people plundered the camp for the space of thirty days: and they gave unto Judith Holofernes' tent, and all his silver cups, and his beds, and his vessels, and all his furniture: and she took them, and placed them on her mule, and made ready her wagons, and heaped them thereon.

¹² And all the women of Israel ran together to see her; and they blessed her, and made a dance among them for her; and she took branches in her hand, and gave to the women that were with her. ¹³ And they made themselves garlands of olive, she and they that were with her, and she went before all the people in the dance, leading all the women: and all the men of Israel followed in their armor with garlands, and with songs in their mouths.

¹ And Judith began to sing this thanksgiving in all Israel, and all the people sang with loud voices this song of praise. ² And Judith said,

Begin unto my God with timbrels,
Sing unto my Lord with cymbals:
Tune unto him psalm and praise:
Exalt him, and call upon his name.

³ For the Lord is the God that breaketh the battles:
For in his armies in the midst of the people
He delivered me out of the hand of them that persecuted me.

⁴ Asshur came out of the mountains from the north,
He came with ten thousands of his host,
The multitude whereof stopped the torrents,
And their horsemen covered the hills.

⁵ He said that he would burn up my borders,
And kill my young men with the sword,
And throw my sucking children to the ground,
And give mine infants for a prey,
And make my virgins a spoil.

⁶ The Almighty Lord brought them to nought by the hand of a woman.

⁷ For their mighty one did not fall by young men,
Neither did sons of the Titans smite him.
Nor did high giants set upon him:

But Judith the daughter of Merari made him weak with the beauty of her countenance.

⁸ For she put off the apparel of her widowhood
For the exaltation of those that were distressed in Israel,
She anointed her face with ointment,
And bound her hair in a headtire,
And took a linen garment to deceive him.

⁹ Her sandal ravished his eye,
And her beauty took his soul prisoner:
The scimitar passed through his neck.

¹⁰ The Persians quaked at her daring,
And the Medes were daunted at her boldness.

¹¹ Then my lowly ones shouted aloud,
And my weak ones were terrified and crouched for fear:
They lifted up their voice, and they were turned to flight.

¹² The sons of damsels pierced them through,
And wounded them as fugitives' children;
They perished by the battle of my Lord.

¹³ I will sing unto my God a new song:
O Lord, thou art great and glorious,
Marvelous in strength, invincible.

¹⁴ Let all thy creation serve thee:
For thou spakest, and they were made,
Thou didst send forth thy spirit, and it built them,
And there is none that shall resist thy voice.

¹⁵ For the mountains shall be moved from their foundations with the waters,
And the rocks shall melt as wax at thy presence:
But thou art yet merciful to them that fear thee.

¹⁶ For all sacrifice is little for a sweet savor,
And all the fat is very little for a whole burnt offering to thee:
But he that feareth the Lord is great continually.

¹⁷ Woe to the nations that rise up against my race:
The Lord Almighty will take vengeance of them in the day of judgment,
To put fire and worms in their flesh;
And they shall weep and feel their pain forever.

¹⁸ Now when they came to Jerusalem, they worshiped God; and when the people were purified, they offered their whole burnt offerings, and their freewill offerings, and their gifts. ¹⁹ And Judith dedicated all the stuff of Holofernes, which the people had given her, and gave the canopy, which she had taken for herself out of his bedchamber, for a gift unto the Lord. ²⁰ And the people continued feasting in Jerusalem before the sanctuary for the space of three months, and Judith remained with them. ²¹ But after these days every one departed to his own inheritance, and Judith went away to Bethulia, and remained in her own possession, and was honorable in her time in all the land. ²² And many desired her, and no man knew her all the days of her life, from the day that Manasseh her husband died and was gathered to his people. ²³ And she increased in greatness exceedingly; and she waxed old in her husband's house, unto a hundred and five years, and let her maid go free: and she died in Bethulia; and they buried her in the cave of her husband Manasseh. ²⁴ And the house of Israel mourned for her seven days: and she distributed her goods before she died to all them that were nearest of kin to Manasseh her husband, and to them that were nearest of her own kindred. ²⁵ And there was none that made the children of Israel anymore afraid in the days of Judith, nor a long time after her death.

ADDITIONS TO ESTHER

¹ In the second year of the reign of Artaxerxes the great, in the first day of the month Nisan, Mordecai the son of Jair, the son of Shimei, the son of Kish, of the tribe of Benjamin, had a dream; ^{1b} who was a Jew, and dwelt in the city of Susa, a great man, serving in the king's court; ^{1c} and he was of the captivity, which Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon carried from Jerusalem with Jeconiah king of Judea; ^{1d} and this was his dream: Behold, noise and tumult, thunderings and earthquake, and uproar upon the earth: ^{1e} and, behold, two great dragons came forth, both of them ready to fight, and their cry was great. ^{1f} And at their cry all nations were ready to battle, that they might fight against the righteous nation. ^{1g} And, lo, a day of darkness and gloominess, tribulation and anguish, affliction and great uproar upon the earth. ^{1h} And the whole righteous nation was troubled, fearing the evils that should befall them, and were ready to perish. ¹ⁱ Then they cried unto God, and upon their cry, as it were from a little fountain, there came a great river, even much water. ^{1k} The light and the sun rose up, and the lowly were exalted, and devoured the glorious. ^{1l} Now when Mordecai, who had seen this dream, and what God had determined to do, was awake, he bare it in mind, and until night by all means was desirous to know it. ^{1m} And Mordecai took his rest in the court with Gabatha and Tharra, the two eunuchs of the king, that were keepers of the court. ¹ⁿ And he heard their communings, and searched out their purposes, and learned that they were about to lay hands upon Artaxerxes the king; and he certified the king of them. ^{1o} Then the king examined the two eunuchs, and after that they had confessed it, they were led to execution. ^{1p} And the king wrote these things for a memorial; Mordecai also wrote concerning these things. ^{1q} So the king commanded Mordecai to serve in the court, and for this he gave him gifts. ^{1r} Howbeit Haman the son of Hammedatha, a Bougean, who was in great honor with the king, sought to molest Mordecai and his people because of the two eunuchs of the king.

^{13a} Now this is the copy of the letter: The great king Artaxerxes writeth these things to the princes of a hundred and seven and twenty provinces from India unto Ethiopia, and to the governors that are set under them. ^{13b} After that I became lord over many nations, and had dominion over the whole world, not lifted up with presumption of my authority, but carrying myself always with equity and mildness, I purposed to settle my subjects continually in a quiet life, and making my kingdom peaceable, and open for passage to the utmost borders, to renew peace, which is desired of all men. ^{13c} Now when I asked my counselors how this might be brought to pass, Haman, that excelled in wisdom among us, and was approved for his constant good will and steadfast fidelity, and had the honor of the second place in the kingdom, ^{13d} declared unto us, that in all nations throughout the world there was scattered a certain malignant people, that had laws contrary to all nations, and continually set aside the commandments of kings, so as the uniting of our kingdoms, honorably intended by us, cannot go forward. ^{13e} Seeing then we understand that this nation is alone continually in opposition unto all men, following perversely a life which is strange to our laws, and evil affected to our state, working all the mischief they can, that our kingdom may not be firmly established: ^{13f} therefore have we commanded, that they that are signified in writing unto you by Haman, who is ordained over the affairs, and is a second father unto us, shall all, with their wives and children, be utterly destroyed by the sword of their enemies, without all mercy and pity, the fourteenth day of the twelfth month Adar of this present year: ^{13g} that they, who of old and now also are malicious, may in one day with violence go down to Hades, and so ever hereafter cause our affairs to be well settled, and without trouble.

^{17a} Then Mordecai made his prayer unto the Lord, calling to remembrance all the works of the Lord, and said, ^{17b} O Lord, Lord, thou King Almighty: for the whole world is in thy power, and if it be thy will to save Israel, there is no man that can gainsay thee: ^{17c} for thou hast made heaven and earth, and all the wondrous things that are beneath the heaven; and thou art Lord of all, and there is no man that can resist thee, who art the Lord. ^{17d} Thou knowest all things, and thou knowest, Lord, that it was neither in contempt nor pride, nor for any desire of glory, that I did not bow down to proud Haman. For I could have been content with good will for the salvation of Israel to kiss the soles of his feet. ^{17e} But I did this, that I might not prefer the glory of man above the glory of God: neither will I bow down unto any but to thee, who art my Lord, neither will I do it in pride. ^{17f} And now, O Lord, thou God and King, the God of Abraham, spare thy people: for their eyes are upon us to bring us to nought, and they desire to destroy the heritage, that hath been thine from the beginning. ^{17g} Despise not thy portion, which thou didst redeem out of the land of Egypt for thine own self. ^{17h} Hear my prayer, and be merciful unto thine inheritance: and turn our mourning into feasting, that we may live, O Lord, and sing praises to thy name: and destroy not the mouth of them that praise thee, O Lord.

¹⁷ⁱ And all Israel cried out mightily, because their death was before their eyes. ^{17k} Queen Esther also, being seized as it were with the agony of death, resorted unto the Lord: and laid away her glorious apparel, and put on the garments of anguish and mourning: and instead of the most excellent ointments, she covered her head with ashes and dung, and she humbled her body greatly, and all the places of the ornaments of her joy she covered with her tangled hair. And she prayed unto the Lord, the God of Israel, saying, ^{17l} O my Lord, thou only art our King: help me that am desolate and have no other helper but thee: for my danger is in my hand. ^{17m} From my youth up I have heard in the tribe of my family, that thou, O Lord, tookest Israel from among all the nations, and our fathers from all their progenitors, for a perpetual inheritance, and didst perform for them whatsoever thou didst promise. ¹⁷ⁿ And now we have sinned before thee, and thou hast given us into the hands of our enemies, because we glorified their gods: O Lord, thou art righteous. ^{17o} Nevertheless it satisfieth them not, that we are in bitter captivity: but they have stricken hands with their idols, that they will abolish the thing that thou with thy mouth hast ordained, and destroy thine inheritance, and stop the mouth of them that praise thee, and quench the glory of thy house, and thine altar, ^{17p} and open the mouths of the heathen to set forth the virtues of idols, and that a fleshly king shall be magnified forever. ^{17q} O Lord, give not thy scepter unto them that are nothing, and let them not laugh at our fall; but turn their device upon themselves, and make him an example, that hath begun this against us. ^{17r} Remember, O Lord, make thyself known in the time of our affliction, and give me boldness, O King of the gods, and holder of all dominion. ^{17s} Give me eloquent speech in my mouth before the lion: and turn his heart to hate him that fighteth against us, that there may be an end of him, and of them that are like-minded with him: ^{17t} but deliver us with thy hand, and help me that am desolate and have no other helper but thee, O Lord. ^{17u} Thou hast knowledge of all things; and thou knowest that I hate the glory of the wicked, and abhor the bed of the uncircumcised, and of every alien. ^{17w} Thou knowest my necessity: that I abhor the sign of my high estate, which is upon my head in the days wherein I show myself. I abhor it as a menstruous rag, and I wear it not when I am private by myself. ^{17x} And thy handmaid hath not eaten at Haman's table, neither have I honored the king's feast, nor drunk the wine of the drink offerings. ^{17y} Neither had thy handmaid any joy since the day that I was brought hither to this present, but in thee, O Lord, thou God of Abraham. ^{17z} O God, that art mighty above all, hear the voice of the forlorn, and deliver us out of the hands of the mischievous, and deliver me out of my fear.

¹ And upon the third day, when she had ended her prayer, she laid away her garments of service, and put on her glorious apparel. ^{1a} And being majestically adorned, after she had called upon the all-seeing God and savior, she took her two maids with her: and upon the one she leaned, as carrying herself delicately; and the other followed, bearing up her train. ^{1b} And she was ruddy through the perfection of her beauty, and her countenance was cheerful and right amiable: but her heart was in anguish for fear. ^{1c} Then having passed through all the doors, she stood before the king, who sat upon his royal throne, and was clothed with all his robes of majesty, all glittering with gold and precious stones; and he was very dreadful. ^{1d} Then lifting up his countenance that was flushed with glory, he looked upon her in fierce anger: and the queen fell down, and turned pale, and fainted, and she bowed herself upon the head of the maid that went before. ^{1e} Then God changed the spirit of the king into mildness, who in an agony leaped from his throne, and took her in his arms, till she came to herself again, and comforted her with soothing words, and said unto her, ^{1f} Esther, what is the matter? I am thy brother, be of good cheer: thou shalt not die, for our commandment is for our subjects: come near. ² So he held up his golden scepter, and laid it upon her neck, and embraced her, and said, Speak unto me. ^{2a} Then said she unto him, I saw thee, my lord, as an angel of God, and my heart was troubled for fear of thy glory. For wonderful art thou, my lord, and thy countenance is full of grace. ^{2b} And as she was speaking, she fell down for faintness. Then the king was troubled, and all his servants comforted her.

^{12b} The great king Artaxerxes unto the governors of countries in a hundred and seven and twenty provinces from India unto Ethiopia, and unto them that are well affected to our state, greeting. ^{12c} Many, the more often they are honored with the great bounty of their benefactors, the more proud they are waxen, and endeavor to hurt not our subjects only, but not being able to bear abundance, do take in hand to practice also against those that do them good: ^{12d} and take not only thankfulness away from among men, but also lifted up with the boastful words of them that were never good, they think to escape the evil-hating justice of God, who always seeth all things. ^{12e} Oftentimes also fair speech of those that are put in trust to manage their friends' affairs, hath caused many that are in authority to be partakers of innocent blood, and hath enwrapped them in remediless calamities: ^{12f} beguiling with the false deceit of their lewd disposition the innocent good will of princes. ^{12g} Now ye may see this, as we have declared, not so much by more ancient histories, as ye may, if ye search what hath been wickedly done of late through the pestilent behavior of them that are unworthily placed in authority. ^{12h} And we must take care for the time to come, to render our kingdom quiet and peaceable for all men, ¹²ⁱ both by changing our purposes, and always judging things that come before our eyes with more equal proceeding. ^{12k} For Haman, a Macedonian, the son of Hammedatha, an alien in truth from the Persian blood, and far distant from our goodness, being as a guest received of us, ^{12l} had so far forth obtained the favor that we show toward every nation, as that he was called our father, and was continually honored of all men, as the next person unto the royal throne. ^{12m} But he, not bearing his high estate, went about to deprive us of our kingdom and our life; ¹²ⁿ having by manifold and cunning deceits sought of us the destruction, as well of Mordecai, who saved our life, and continually procured our good, as also of Esther the blameless partaker of our kingdom, together with their whole nation. ^{12o} For by these means he thought, finding us destitute of friends, to have translated the kingdom of the Persians to the Macedonians. ^{12p} But we find that the Jews, whom this most ungracious wretch hath delivered to utter destruction, are no evildoers, but live by most just laws: ^{12q} and that they are children of the most high and most mighty living God, who hath ordered the kingdom both unto us and to our progenitors in the most excellent manner. ^{12r} Wherefore ye shall do well not to put in execution the letters sent unto you by Haman the son of Hammedatha. For he, that was the worker of these things, is hanged at the gates of Susa with all his family: God, who ruleth all things, speedily rendering vengeance to him according to his deserts. ^{12s} Therefore ye shall publish openly the copy of this letter in all places, and let the Jews live after their own laws, and ye shall aid them, that even the same day, being the thirteenth day of the twelfth month Adar, they may defend themselves against those who set upon them in the time of their affliction. ^{12t} For Almighty God hath made this day to be a joy unto them, instead of the destruction of the chosen people. ^{12u} And ye shall therefore among your commemorative feasts keep it a high day with all feasting: that both now and hereafter there may be safety to us, and the well affected Persians; but to those who do conspire against us a memorial of destruction. ^{12x} Therefore every city or country whatsoever, which shall not do according to these things, shall be utterly destroyed without mercy with fire and sword; it shall be made not only unpassable for men, but also most hateful to wild beasts and fowls forever.

^{3a} Then Mordecai said, These things are of God. ^{3b} For I remember the dream which I saw concerning these matters, and nothing thereof hath failed. ^{3c} As for the little fountain that became a river, and there was light, and the sun, and much water, the river is Esther, whom the king married, and made queen: ^{3d} and the two dragons are I and Haman: ^{3e} and the nations are those that were assembled to destroy the name of the Jews: ^{3f} and my nation, this is Israel, which cried to God, and were saved: for the Lord hath saved his people, and the Lord hath delivered us from all these evils, and God hath wrought signs and great wonders, which have not been done among the nations. ^{3g} Therefore hath he made two lots, one for the people of God, and another for all the nations. ^{3h} And these two lots came at the hour, and time, and day of judgment, before God among all the nations. ³ⁱ So God remembered his people, and justified his inheritance. ^{3k} Therefore these days shall be unto them in the month Adar, the fourteenth and fifteenth day of the month, with an assembly, and joy, and with gladness before God, throughout the generations forever among his people Israel.

^{3l} In the fourth year of the reign of Ptolemy and Cleopatra, Dositheus, who said he was a priest and Levite, and Ptolemy his son, brought the epistle of Purim here set forth, which they said was the same, and that Lysimachus the son of Ptolemy, that was in Jerusalem, had interpreted it.

THE WISDOM OF SOLOMON

- ¹ Love righteousness, ye that be judges of the earth,
Think ye of the Lord with a good mind,
And in singleness of heart seek ye him;
- ² Because he is found of them that tempt him not,
And is manifested to them that do not distrust him.
- ³ For crooked thoughts separate from God;
And the supreme Power, when it is brought to the proof, putteth to confusion the foolish:
- ⁴ Because wisdom will not enter into a soul that deviseth evil,
Nor dwell in a body that is held in pledge by sin.
- ⁵ For a holy spirit of discipline will flee deceit.
And will start away from thoughts that are without understanding,
And will be put to confusion when unrighteousness hath come in.
- ⁶ For wisdom is a spirit that loveth man,
And she will not hold a blasphemer guiltless for his lips;
Because God beareth witness of his heart,
And is a true overseer of his mind,
And a hearer of his tongue:
- ⁷ Because the spirit of the Lord hath filled the world,
And that which holdeth all things together hath knowledge of every voice.
- ⁸ Therefore no man that uttereth unrighteous things shall be unseen;
Neither shall Justice, when it convicteth, pass him by.
- ⁹ For in the midst of his counsels the ungodly shall be searched out;
And the sound of his words shall come unto the Lord
To bring to conviction his lawless deeds:
- ¹⁰ Because there is an ear of jealousy that listeneth to all things,
And the noise of murmurings is not hidden.
- ¹¹ Beware then of unprofitable murmuring,
And refrain your tongue from backbiting;
Because no secret utterance shall go on its way void,
And a mouth that believeth destroyeth a soul.
- ¹² Court not death in the error of your life;
Neither draw upon yourselves destruction by the works of your hands:
- ¹³ Because God made not death;
Neither delighteth he when the living perish:
- ¹⁴ For he created all things that they might have being:
And the generative powers of the world are healthsome,
And there is no poison of destruction in them:
Nor hath Hades royal dominion upon earth,
- ¹⁵ For righteousness is immortal:
- ¹⁶ But ungodly men by their hands and their words called death unto them:
Deeming him a friend they consumed away,
And they made a covenant with him,
Because they are worthy to be of his portion.

- ¹ For they said within themselves, reasoning not aright,
Short and sorrowful is our life;
And there is no healing when a man cometh to his end,
And none was ever known that gave release from Hades.
- ² Because by mere chance were we born,
And hereafter we shall be as though we had never been:
Because the breath in our nostrils is smoke,
And while our heart beateth reason is a spark,
- ³ Which being extinguished, the body shall be turned into ashes,
And the spirit shall be dispersed as thin air;
- ⁴ And our name shall be forgotten in time,
And no man shall remember our works;
And our life shall pass away as the traces of a cloud,
And shall be scattered as is a mist,
When it is chased by the beams of the sun,
And overcome by the heat thereof.
- ⁵ For our allotted time is the passing of a shadow,
And our end retreateth not;
Because it is fast sealed, and none turneth it back.
- ⁶ Come therefore and let us enjoy the good things that now are;
And let us use the creation with all our soul as youth's possession.
- ⁷ Let us fill ourselves with costly wine and perfumes;
And let no flower of spring pass us by:
- ⁸ Let us crown ourselves with rosebuds, before they be withered:
- ⁹ Let none of us go without his share in our proud revelry:
Everywhere let us leave tokens of our mirth:
Because this is our portion, and our lot is this.
- ¹⁰ Let us oppress the righteous poor;
Let us not spare the widow,
Nor reverence the hairs of the old man gray for length of years.
- ¹¹ But let our strength be to us a law of righteousness;
For that which is weak is found to be of no service.
- ¹² But let us lie in wait for the righteous man,
Because he is of disservice to us,
And is contrary to our works,
And upbraideth us for sins against the law,
And layeth to our charge sins against our discipline.
- ¹³ He professeth to have knowledge of God,
And nameth himself servant of the Lord.
- ¹⁴ He became to us a reproof of our thoughts.
- ¹⁵ He is grievous unto us even to behold,
Because his life is unlike other men's,
And his paths are of strange fashion.
- ¹⁶ We were accounted of him as base metal,
And he abstaineth from our ways as from uncleannesses.
The latter end of the righteous he calleth happy;
And he vaunteth that God is his father.
- ¹⁷ Let us see if his words be true,
And let us try what shall befall in the ending of his life.
- ¹⁸ For if the righteous man is God's son, he will uphold him,

And he will deliver him out of the hand of his adversaries.

¹⁹ With outrage and torture let us put him to the test,
That we may learn his gentleness,
And may prove his patience under wrong.

²⁰ Let us condemn him to a shameful death;
For he shall be visited according to his words.

²¹ Thus reasoned they, and they were led astray;
For their wickedness blinded them,

²² And they knew not the mysteries of God,
Neither hoped they for wages of holiness,
Nor did they judge that there is a prize for blameless souls.

²³ Because God created man for incorruption,
And made him an image of his own proper being;

²⁴ But by the envy of the devil death entered into the world,
And they that are of his portion make trial thereof.

¹ But the souls of the righteous are in the hand of God,
And no torment shall touch them.

² In the eyes of the foolish they seemed to have died;
And their departure was accounted to be their hurt,

³ And their journeying away from us to be their ruin:
But they are in peace.

⁴ For even if in the sight of men they be punished,
Their hope is full of immortality;

⁵ And having borne a little chastening, they shall receive great good;
Because God made trial of them, and found them worthy of himself.

⁶ As gold in the furnace he proved them,
And as a whole burnt offering he accepted them.

⁷ And in the time of their visitation they shall shine forth,
And as sparks among stubble they shall run to and fro.

⁸ They shall judge nations, and have dominion over peoples;
And the Lord shall reign over them forevermore.

⁹ They that trust on him shall understand truth,
And the faithful shall abide with him in love;
Because grace and mercy are to his chosen.

¹⁰ But the ungodly shall be requited even as they reasoned,
They that lightly regarded the righteous man, and revolted from the Lord;

¹¹ (For he that setteth at nought wisdom and discipline is miserable;)
And void is their hope and their toils unprofitable,
And useless are their works:

¹² Their wives are foolish, and wicked are their children;

¹³ Accursed is their begetting.
Because happy is the barren that is undefiled,
She who hath not conceived in transgression;
She shall have fruit when God visiteth souls.

¹⁴ And happy is the eunuch who hath wrought no lawless deed with his hands,
Nor imagined wicked things against the Lord;
For there shall be given him for his faithfulness a peculiar favor,

And a lot in the sanctuary of the Lord more delightsome than wife or children.

¹⁵ For good labors have fruit of great renown;

And the root of understanding cannot fail.

¹⁶ But children of adulterers shall not come to maturity,

And the seed of an unlawful bed shall vanish away.

¹⁷ For if they live long, they shall be held in no account,

And at the last their old age shall be without honor.

¹⁸ And if they die quickly, they shall have no hope,

Nor in the day of decision shall they have consolation.

¹⁹ For the end of an unrighteous generation is always grievous.

For in the memory of virtue is immortality:

Because it is recognized both before God and before men.

² When it is present, men imitate it;

And they long after it when it is departed:

And throughout all time it marcheth crowned in triumph,

Victorious in the strife for the prizes that are undefiled.

³ But the multiplying brood of the ungodly shall be of no profit,

And with bastard slips they shall not strike deep root,

Nor shall they establish a sure hold.

⁴ For even if these put forth boughs and flourish for a season,

Yet, standing unsure, they shall be shaken by the wind,

And by the violence of winds they shall be rooted out.

⁵ Their branches shall be broken off before they come to maturity,

And their fruit shall be useless,

Never ripe to eat, and fit for nothing.

⁶ For children unlawfully begotten are witnesses of wickedness

Against parents when God searcheth them out.

⁷ But a righteous man, though he die before his time, shall be at rest.

⁸ (For honorable old age is not that which standeth in length of time,

Nor is its measure given by number of years:

⁹ But understanding is gray hairs unto men,

And an unspotted life is ripe old age.)

¹⁰ Being found well-pleasing unto God he was beloved of him,

And while living among sinners he was translated:

¹¹ He was caught away, lest wickedness should change his understanding,

Or guile deceive his soul.

¹² (For the bewitching of naughtiness obscureth the things which are good,

And the giddy whirl of desire perverteth an innocent mind.)

¹³ Being made perfect in a little while, he fulfilled long years;

¹⁴ For his soul was pleasing unto the Lord:

Therefore hastened he out of the midst of wickedness.

¹⁵ But as for the peoples, seeing and understanding not,

Neither laying this to heart,

That grace and mercy are with his chosen,

And that he visiteth his holy ones—

¹⁶ But a righteous man that is dead shall condemn the ungodly that are living,

And youth that is quickly perfected the many years of an unrighteous man's old age;

¹⁷ For the ungodly shall see a wise man's end,
And shall not understand what the Lord purposed concerning him,
And for what he safely kept him—

¹⁸ They shall see, and they shall despise;
But them the Lord shall laugh to scorn.
And after this they shall become a dishonored carcass,
And a reproach among the dead forever:
¹⁹ Because he shall dash them speechless to the ground,
And shall shake them from the foundations,
And they shall lie utterly waste, and they shall be in anguish,
And their memory shall perish.

²⁰ They shall come, when their sins are reckoned up, with coward fear;
And their lawless deeds shall convict them to their face.

Before the face of them that afflicted him,
And them that make his labors of no account.

² When they see it, they shall be troubled with terrible fear,
And shall be amazed at the marvel of God's salvation.

³ They shall say within themselves repenting,
And for distress of spirit shall they groan,
This was he whom aforetime we had in derision,
And made a parable of reproach:

⁴ We fools accounted his life madness,
And his end without honor:

⁵ How was he numbered among sons of God?
And how is his lot among saints?

⁶ Verily we went astray from the way of truth,
And the light of righteousness shined not for us,
And the sun rose not for us.

⁷ We took our fill of the paths of lawlessness and destruction,
And we journeyed through trackless deserts,
But the way of the Lord we knew not.

⁸ What did our arrogance profit us?
And what good have riches and vaunting brought us?

⁹ Those things all passed away as a shadow,
And as a message that runneth by:

¹⁰ As a ship passing through the billowy water,
Whereof, when it is gone by, there is no trace to be found,
Neither pathway of its keel in the billows:

¹¹ Or as when a bird flieth through the air,
No token of its passage is found,
But the light wind, lashed with the stroke of its pinions,
And rent asunder with the violent rush of the moving wings, is passed through,
And afterward no sign of its coming is found therein:

¹² Or as when an arrow is shot at a mark,
The air disparted closeth up again immediately,
So that men know not where it passed through:

¹³ So we also, as soon as we were born, ceased to be;
And of virtue we had no sign to show,
But in our wickedness we were utterly consumed.
¹⁴ Because the hope of the ungodly man is as chaff carried by the wind,
And as foam vanishing before a tempest;
And is scattered as smoke is scattered by the wind,
And passeth by as the remembrance of a guest that tarrieth but a day.

¹⁵ But the righteous live forever,
And in the Lord is their reward,
And the care for them with the Most High.
¹⁶ Therefore shall they receive the crown of royal dignity
And the diadem of beauty from the Lord's hand;
Because with his right hand shall he cover them,
And with his arm shall he shield them.
¹⁷ He shall take his jealousy as complete armor,
And shall make the whole creation his weapons for vengeance on his enemies:
¹⁸ He shall put on righteousness as a breastplate,
And shall array himself with judgment unfeigned as with a helmet;
¹⁹ He shall take holiness as an invincible shield,
²⁰ And he shall sharpen stern wrath for a sword:
And the world shall go forth with him to fight against his insensate foes.
²¹ Shafts of lightning shall fly with true aim,
And from the clouds, as from a well drawn bow, shall they leap to the mark.
²² And as from an engine of war shall be hurled hailstones full of wrath;
The water of the sea shall be angered against them,
And rivers shall sternly overwhelm them;
²³ A mighty blast shall encounter them,
And as a tempest shall it winnow them away:
And so shall lawlessness make all the land desolate,
And their evildoing shall overturn the thrones of princes.

¹ Hear therefore, ye kings, and understand;
Learn, ye judges of the ends of the earth:
² Give ear, ye that have dominion over much people,
And make your boast in multitudes of nations.
³ Because your dominion was given you from the Lord,
And your sovereignty from the Most High;
Who shall search out your works,
And shall make inquisition of your counsels:
⁴ Because being officers of his kingdom ye did not judge aright,
Neither kept ye law, nor walked after the counsel of God.
⁵ Terribly and swiftly shall he come upon you;
Because a stern judgment befalleth them that be in high place:
⁶ For the man of low estate may be pardoned in mercy,
But mighty men shall be searched out mightily.
⁷ For the Sovereign Lord of all will not refrain himself for any man's person,
Neither will he reverence greatness;
Because it is he that made both small and great,

And alike he taketh thought for all;

⁸ But strict is the scrutiny that cometh upon the powerful.

⁹ Unto you therefore, O princes, are my words,
That ye may learn wisdom and fall not from the right way.

¹⁰ For they that have kept holily the things that are holy shall themselves be hallowed;
And they that have been taught them shall find what to answer;

¹¹ Set your desire therefore on my words;
Long for them, and ye shall be trained by their discipline.

¹² Wisdom is radiant and fadeth not away;
And easily is she beheld of them that love her,
And found of them that seek her.

¹³ She forestalleth them that desire to know her, making herself first known.

¹⁴ He that riseth up early to seek her shall have no toil,
For he shall find her sitting at his gates.

¹⁵ For to think upon her is perfectness of understanding,
And he that watcheth for her sake shall quickly be free from care.

¹⁶ Because she goeth about, herself seeking them that are worthy of her,
And in their paths she appeareth unto them graciously,
And in every purpose she meeteth them.

¹⁷ For her true beginning is desire of discipline;
And the care for discipline is love of her;

¹⁸ And love of her is observance of her laws;
And to give heed to her laws confirmeth incorruption;

¹⁹ And incorruption bringeth near unto God;

²⁰ So then desire of wisdom promoteth to a kingdom.

²¹ If therefore ye delight in thrones and scepters, ye princes of peoples,
Honor wisdom, that ye may reign forever.

²² But what wisdom is, and how she came into being, I will declare,
And I will not hide mysteries from you;
But I will trace her out from the beginning of creation,
And bring the knowledge of her into clear light,
And I will not pass by the truth;

²³ Neither indeed will I take pining envy for my companion in the way,
Because envy shall have no fellowship with wisdom.

²⁴ But a multitude of wise men is salvation to the world,
And an understanding king is tranquility to his people.

²⁵ Wherefore be disciplined by my words, and thereby shall ye profit.

¹ I myself also am mortal, like to all,

And am sprung from one born of the earth, the man first formed,

² And in the womb of a mother was I molded into flesh in the time of ten months,
Being compacted in blood of the seed of man and pleasure that came with sleep.

³ And I also, when I was born, drew in the common air,
And fell upon the kindred earth,
Uttering, like all, for my first voice, the selfsame wail:

⁴ In swaddling clothes was I nursed, and with watchful cares.

⁵ For no king had any other first beginning;

- ⁶ But all men have one entrance into life, and a like departure.
⁷ For this cause I prayed, and understanding was given me:
I called upon God, and there came to me a spirit of wisdom.
⁸ I preferred her before scepters and thrones,
And riches I esteemed nothing in comparison of her.
⁹ Neither did I liken to her any priceless gem,
Because all the gold of the earth in her presence is a little sand,
And silver shall be accounted as clay before her.
¹⁰ Above health and comeliness I loved her,
And I chose to have her rather than light,
Because her bright shining is never laid to sleep.
¹¹ But with her there came to me all good things together,
And in her hands innumerable riches:
¹² And I rejoiced over them all because wisdom leadeth them;
Though I knew not that she was the mother of them.
¹³ As I learned without guile, I impart without grudging;
I do not hide her riches.
¹⁴ For she is unto men a treasure that faileth not,
And they that use it obtain friendship with God,
Commended to him by the gifts which they through discipline present to him.

¹⁵ But to me may God give to speak with judgment,
And to conceive thoughts worthy of what hath been given me;
Because himself is one that guideth even wisdom and that correcteth the wise.
¹⁶ For in his hand are both we and our words;
All understanding, and all acquaintance with diverse crafts.
¹⁷ For himself gave me an unerring knowledge of the things that are,
To know the constitution of the world, and the operation of the elements;
¹⁸ The beginning and end and middle of times,
The alternations of the solstices and the changes of seasons,
¹⁹ The circuits of years and the positions of stars;
²⁰ The natures of living creatures and the ragings of wild beasts,
The violences of winds and the thoughts of men,
The diversities of plants and the virtues of roots:
²¹ All things that are either secret or manifest I learned,
²² For she that is the artificer of all things taught me, even wisdom.

For there is in her a spirit quick of understanding, holy,
Alone in kind, manifold,
Subtle, freely moving,
Clear in utterance, unpolluted,
Distinct, unharmed,
Loving what is good, keen, unhindered,
²³ Beneficent, loving toward man,
Steadfast, sure, free from care,
All-powerful, all-surveying,
And penetrating through all spirits
That are quick of understanding, pure, most subtle:
²⁴ For wisdom is more mobile than any motion;
Yea, she pervadeth and penetrateth all things by reason of her pureness.
²⁵ For she is a breath of the power of God,

And a clear effluence of the glory of the Almighty;
Therefore can nothing defiled find entrance into her.

²⁶ For she is an effulgence from everlasting light,
And an unspotted mirror of the working of God,
And an image of his goodness.

²⁷ And she, being one, hath power to do all things;
And remaining in herself, reneweth all things:
And from generation to generation passing into holy souls
She maketh men friends of God and prophets.

²⁸ For nothing doth God love save him that dwelleth with wisdom.

²⁹ For she is fairer than the sun,
And above all the constellations of the stars:
Being compared with light, she is found to be before it;

³⁰ For to the light of day succeedeth night,
But against wisdom evil doth not prevail;

¹ But she reacheth from one end of the world to the other with full strength,
And ordereth all things graciously.

² Her I loved and sought out from my youth,
And I sought to take her for my bride,
And I became enamored of her beauty.

³ She glorifieth her noble birth in that it is given her to live with God,
And the Sovereign Lord of all loved her.

⁴ For she is initiated into the knowledge of God,
And she chooseth out for him his works.

⁵ But if riches are a desired possession in life,
What is richer than wisdom, which worketh all things?

⁶ And if understanding worketh,
Who more than wisdom is an artificer of the things that are?

⁷ And if a man loveth righteousness,
The fruits of wisdom's labor are virtues,
For she teacheth soberness and understanding, righteousness and courage;
And there is nothing in life for men more profitable than these.

⁸ And if a man longeth even for much experience,
She knoweth the things of old, and divineth the things to come:
She understandeth subtleties of speeches and interpretations of dark sayings:
She foreseeth signs and wonders, and the issues of seasons and times.

⁹ I determined therefore to take her unto me to live with me,
Knowing that she is one who would give me good thoughts for counsel,
And encourage me in cares and grief.

¹⁰ Because of her I shall have glory among multitudes,
And honor in the sight of elders, though I be young.

¹¹ I shall be found of a quick conceit when I give judgment,
And in the presence of princes I shall be admired.

¹² When I am silent, they shall wait for me;
And when I open my lips, they shall give heed unto me;
And if I continue speaking, they shall lay their hand upon their mouth.

¹³ Because of her I shall have immortality,

And leave behind an eternal memory to them that come after me.

¹⁴ I shall govern peoples,
And nations shall be subjected to me.

¹⁵ Dread princes shall fear me when they hear of me:
Among my people I shall show myself a good ruler, and in war courageous.

¹⁶ When I am come into my house, I shall find rest with her;
For converse with her hath no bitterness,
And to live with her hath no pain, but gladness and joy.

¹⁷ When I considered these things in myself,
And took thought in my heart how that in kinship unto wisdom is immortality,

¹⁸ And in her friendship is good delight,
And in the labors of her hands is wealth that faileth not,
And in assiduous communing with her is understanding,
And great renown in having fellowship with her words,
I went about seeking how to take her unto myself.

¹⁹ Now I was a child of parts, and a good soul fell to my lot;

²⁰ Nay rather, being good, I came into a body undefiled.

²¹ But perceiving that I could not otherwise possess wisdom except God gave her me
(Yea and to know by whom the grace is given, this too came of understanding),
I pleaded with the Lord and besought him, and with my whole heart I said,

¹ O God of the fathers, and Lord who keepest thy mercy,
Who madest all things by thy word;

² And by thy wisdom thou formedst man,
That he should have dominion over the creatures that were made by thee,

³ And rule the world in holiness and righteousness,
And execute judgment in uprightness of soul;

⁴ Give me wisdom, her that sitteth by thee on thy throne;
And reject me not from among thy servants:

⁵ Because I am thy bondman and the son of thy handmaid,
A man weak and short-lived,
And of small power to understand judgment and laws.

⁶ For even if a man be perfect among the sons of men,
Yet if the wisdom that cometh from thee be not with him, he shall be held in no account.

⁷ Thou didst choose me before my brethren to be king of thy people,
And to do judgment for thy sons and daughters.

⁸ Thou gavest command to build a sanctuary in thy holy mountain,
And an altar in the city of thy habitation,
A copy of the holy tabernacle which thou preparedst beforehand from the beginning.

⁹ And with thee is wisdom, which knoweth thy works,
And was present when thou wast making the world,
And which understandeth what is pleasing in thine eyes,
And what is right according to thy commandments.

¹⁰ Send her forth out of the holy heavens,
And from the throne of thy glory bid her come,
That being present with me she may toil with me,
And that I may learn what is well-pleasing before thee.

¹¹ For she knoweth all things and hath understanding thereof,

And in my doings she shall guide me in ways of soberness,
And she shall guard me in her glory.

¹² And so shall my works be acceptable,
And I shall judge thy people righteously,
And I shall be worthy of my father's throne.

¹³ For what man shall know the counsel of God?
Or who shall conceive what the Lord willeth?

¹⁴ For the thoughts of mortals are timorous,
And our devices are prone to fail.

¹⁵ For a corruptible body weigheth down the soul,
And the earthy frame lieth heavy on a mind that is full of cares.

¹⁶ And hardly do we divine the things that are on earth,
And the things that are close at hand we find with labor;
But the things that are in the heavens who ever yet traced out?

¹⁷ And who ever gained knowledge of thy counsel, except thou gavest wisdom,
And sentest thy holy spirit from on high?

¹⁸ And it was thus that the ways of them who are on earth were corrected,
And men were taught the things that are pleasing unto thee;
And through wisdom were they saved.

¹ Wisdom guarded to the end the first formed father of the world, that was created alone,

And delivered him out of his own transgression,

² And gave him strength to get dominion over all things.

³ But when an unrighteous man fell away from her in his anger,
He perished himself in the rage wherewith he slew his brother.

⁴ And when for his cause the earth was drowning with a flood,
Wisdom again saved it,
Guiding the righteous man's course by a poor piece of wood.

⁵ Moreover, when nations consenting together in wickedness had been confounded,
Wisdom knew the righteous man, and preserved him blameless unto God,
And kept him strong when his heart yearned toward his child.

⁶ While the ungodly were perishing, wisdom delivered a righteous man,
When he fled from the fire that descended out of heaven on Pentapolis.

⁷ To whose wickedness a smoking waste still witnesseth,
And plants bearing fair fruit that cometh not to ripeness;
Yea and a disbelieving soul hath a memorial there, a pillar of salt still standing.

⁸ For having passed wisdom by,
Not only were they disabled from recognizing the things which are good,
But they also left behind them for human life a monument of their folly;
To the end that where they went astray they might fail even to be unseen:

⁹ But wisdom delivered out of troubles those that waited on her.

¹⁰ When a righteous man was a fugitive from a brother's wrath, wisdom guided him in straight paths;

She showed him God's kingdom, and gave him knowledge of holy things;
She prospered him in his toils, and multiplied the fruits of his labor;

¹¹ When in their covetousness men dealt hardly with him,
She stood by him and made him rich;

¹² She guarded him from enemies,
And from those that lay in wait she kept him safe,
And over his sore conflict she watched as judge,
That he might know that godliness is more powerful than all.

¹³ When a righteous man was sold, wisdom forsook him not,
But from sin she delivered him;
She went down with him into a dungeon,

¹⁴ And in bonds she left him not,
Till she brought him the scepter of a kingdom,
And authority over those that dealt tyrannously with him;
She showed them also to be false that had mockingly accused him,
And gave him eternal glory.

¹⁵ Wisdom delivered a holy people and a blameless seed from a nation of oppressors.

¹⁶ She entered into the soul of a servant of the Lord,
And withstood terrible kings in wonders and signs.

¹⁷ She rendered unto holy men a reward of their toils;
She guided them along a marvelous way,
And became unto them a covering in the daytime,
And a flame of stars through the night.

¹⁸ She brought them over the Red Sea,
And led them through much water;

¹⁹ But their enemies she drowned,
And out of the bottom of the deep she cast them up.

²⁰ Therefore the righteous plundered the ungodly;
And they sang praise to thy holy name, O Lord,
And extolled with one accord thy hand that fought for them:

²¹ Because wisdom opened the mouth of the dumb,
And made the tongues of babes to speak clearly.

² They journeyed through a desert without inhabitant,
And in trackless regions they pitched their tents.

³ They withstood enemies, and repelled foes.

⁴ They thirsted, and they called upon thee,
And there was given them water out of the flinty rock,
And healing of their thirst out of the hard stone.

⁵ For by what things their foes were punished,
By these they in their need were benefited.

⁶ When the enemy were troubled with clotted blood instead of a river's ever-flowing fountain,

⁷ To rebuke the decree for the slaying of babes,
Thou gavest them abundant water beyond all hope,

⁸ Having shown them by the thirst which they had suffered how thou didst punish the adversaries.

⁹ For when they were tried, albeit but in mercy chastened,
They learned how the ungodly were tormented, being judged with wrath:
¹⁰ For these, as a father, admonishing them, thou didst prove;
But those, as a stern king, condemning them, thou didst search out.
¹¹ Yea and whether they were far off from the righteous or near them, they were alike distressed;
¹² For a double grief took hold on them,
And a groaning at the remembrance of things past.
¹³ For when they heard that through their own punishments the others had been benefited,
They felt the presence of the Lord;
¹⁴ For him who long before was cast forth and exposed they left off mocking:
In the last issue of what came to pass they marveled,
Having thirsted in another manner than the righteous.
¹⁵ But in requital of the senseless imaginings of their unrighteousness,
Wherein they were led astray to worship irrational reptiles and wretched vermin,
Thou didst send upon them a multitude of irrational creatures for vengeance;
¹⁶ That they might learn, that by what things a man sinneth, by these he is punished.
¹⁷ For thine all-powerful hand,
That created the world out of formless matter,
Lacked not means to send upon them a multitude of bears, or fierce lions,
¹⁸ Or new-created wild beasts, full of rage, of unknown kind,
Either breathing out a blast of fiery breath,
Or blowing forth from their nostrils noisome smoke,
Or flashing dreadful sparkles from their eyes;
¹⁹ Which had power not only to consume them by their violence,
But to destroy them even by the terror of their sight.
²⁰ Yea and without these might they have fallen by a single breath,
Being pursued by Justice, and scattered abroad by the breath of thy power.
But by measure and number and weight thou didst order all things.

²¹ For to be greatly strong is thine at all times;
And the might of thine arm who shall withstand?
²² Because the whole world before thee is as a grain in a balance,
And as a drop of dew that at morning cometh down upon the earth.
²³ But thou hast mercy on all men, because thou hast power to do all things,
And thou overlookest the sins of men to the end they may repent.
²⁴ For thou lovest all things that are,
And abhorrest none of the things which thou didst make;
For never wouldest thou have formed anything if thou didst hate it.
²⁵ And how would anything have endured, except thou hadst willed it?
Or that which was not called by thee, how would it have been preserved?
²⁶ But thou sparest all things, because they are thine,
O Sovereign Lord, thou lover of men's lives;

12

¹ For thine incorruptible spirit is in all things.
² Wherefore thou convictest by little and little them that fall from the right way,
And, putting them in remembrance by the very things wherein they sin, dost thou admonish them,

That escaping from their wickedness they may believe on thee, O Lord.

³ For verily the old inhabitants of thy holy land,

⁴ Hating them because they practiced detestable works of enchantments and unholy rites

⁵ (Merciless slaughters of children,
And sacrificial banquets of men's flesh and of blood),

⁶ Confederates in an impious fellowship,
And murderers of their own helpless babes,
It was thy counsel to destroy by the hands of our fathers;

⁷ That the land which in thy sight is most precious of all lands
Might receive a worthy colony of God's servants.

⁸ Nevertheless even these thou didst spare as being men,
And thou sentest hornets as forerunners of thy host,
To cause them to perish by little and little;

⁹ Not that thou wast unable to subdue the ungodly under the hand of the righteous in battle,

Or by terrible beasts or by one stern word to make away with them at once;

¹⁰ But judging them by little and little thou gavest them a place of repentance,
Not being ignorant that their nature by birth was evil, and their wickedness inborn,
And that their manner of thought would in no wise ever be changed,

¹¹ For they were a seed accursed from the beginning:
Neither was it through fear of any that thou didst leave them then unpunished for their sins.

¹² For who shall say, What hast thou done?

Or who shall withstand thy judgment?

And who shall accuse thee for the perishing of nations which thou didst make?

Or who shall come and stand before thee as an avenger for unrighteous men?

¹³ For neither is there any God beside thee that careth for all,
That thou mightest show unto him that thou didst not judge unrighteously:

¹⁴ Neither shall king or prince be able to look thee in the face to plead for those whom thou hast punished.

¹⁵ But being righteous thou rulest all things righteously,
Deeming it a thing alien from thy power
To condemn one that doth not himself deserve to be punished.

¹⁶ For thy strength is the beginning of righteousness,
And thy sovereignty over all maketh thee to forbear all.

¹⁷ For when men believe not that thou art perfect in power, thou showest thy strength,
And in dealing with them that know it thou puttest their boldness to confusion.

¹⁸ But thou, being sovereign over thy strength, judgest in gentleness,
And with great forbearance dost thou govern us;
For the power is thine whensoever thou hast the will.

¹⁹ But thou didst teach thy people by such works as these,

How that the righteous must be a lover of men;
And thou didst make thy sons to be of good hope,
Because thou givest repentance when men have sinned.

²⁰ For if on them that were enemies of thy servants and due to death
Thou didst take vengeance with so great heedfulness and indulgence,

Giving them times and place whereby they might escape from their wickedness;

²¹ With how great carefulness didst thou judge thy sons,

To whose fathers thou gavest oaths and covenants of good promises!

²² While therefore thou dost chasten us, thou scourgest our enemies ten thousand times more,

To the intent that we may ponder thy goodness when we judge,

And when we are judged may look for mercy.

²³ Wherefore also the unrighteous that lived in folly of life

Thou didst torment through their own abominations.

²⁴ For verily they went astray very far in the ways of error,

Taking as gods those animals which even among their enemies were held in dishonor,

Deceived like foolish babes.

²⁵ Therefore, as unto unreasoning children, thou didst send thy judgment to mock them.

²⁶ But they that would not be admonished by a mocking correction as of children

Shall have experience of a judgment worthy of God.

²⁷ For through the sufferings whereat they were indignant,

Being punished in these creatures which they supposed to be gods,

They saw, and recognized as the true God him whom before they refused to know:

Wherefore also the last end of condemnation came upon them.

13

¹ For verily all men by nature were but vain who had no perception of God,
And from the good things that are seen they gained not power to know him that is,
Neither by giving heed to the works did they recognize the artificer;

² But either fire, or wind, or swift air,

Or circling stars, or raging water, or luminaries of heaven,

They thought to be gods that rule the world.

³ And if it was through delight in their beauty that they took them to be gods,

Let them know how much better than these is their Sovereign Lord;

For the first author of beauty created them:

⁴ But if it was through astonishment at their power and influence,

Let them understand from them how much more powerful is he that formed them;

⁵ For from the greatness of the beauty even of created things

In like proportion doth man form the image of their first maker.

⁶ But yet for these men there is but small blame,

For they too peradventure do but go astray

While they are seeking God and desiring to find him.

⁷ For living among his works they make diligent search,

And they yield themselves up to sight, because the things that they look upon are beautiful.

⁸ But again even they are not to be excused.

⁹ For if they had power to know so much,

That they should be able to explore the course of things,

How is it that they did not sooner find the Sovereign Lord of these his works?

¹⁰ But miserable were they, and in dead things were their hopes,

Who called them gods which are works of men's hands,

Gold and silver, wrought with careful art, and likenesses of animals,

Or a useless stone, the work of an ancient hand.

¹¹ Yea and if some woodcutter, having sawn down a tree that is easily moved,
Skillfully strippeth away all its bark,
And fashioning it in comely form maketh a vessel useful for the service of life;
¹² And burning the refuse of his handiwork to dress his food, eateth his fill;
¹³ And taking the very refuse thereof which served to no use,
A crooked piece of wood and full of knots,
Carveth it with the diligence of his idleness,
And shapeth it by the skill of his indolence;
Then he giveth it the semblance of the image of a man,
¹⁴ Or maketh it like some paltry animal,
Smearing it with vermilion, and with paint coloring it red,
And smearing over every stain that is therein;
¹⁵ And having made for it a chamber worthy of it,
He setteth it in a wall, making it fast with iron.
¹⁶ While then he taketh thought for it that it may not fall down,
Knowing that it is unable to help itself;
(For verily it is an image, and hath need of help;)
¹⁷ When he maketh his prayer concerning goods and his marriage and children,
He is not ashamed to speak to that which hath no life;
¹⁸ Yea for health he calleth upon that which is weak,
And for life he beseecheth that which is dead,
And for aid he supplicateth that which hath least experience.
And for a good journey that which cannot so much as move a step,
¹⁹ And for gaining and getting and good success of his hands
He asketh ability of that which with its hands is most unable.

¹ Again, one preparing to sail, and about to journey over raging waves,
Calleth upon a piece of wood more rotten than the vessel that carrieth him;
² For that vessel the hunger for gains devised,
And an artificer, even wisdom, built it;
³ And thy providence, O Father, guideth it along,
Because even in the sea thou gavest a way,
And in the waves a sure path,
⁴ Showing that thou canst save out of every danger,
That so even without art a man may put to sea;
⁵ And it is thy will that the works of thy wisdom should be not idle;
Therefore also do men entrust their lives to a little piece of wood,
And passing through the surge on a raft are brought safe to land.
⁶ For in the old time also, when proud giants were perishing,
The hope of the world, taking refuge on a raft,
Left to the race of men a seed of generations to come,
Thy hand guiding the helm.
⁷ For blessed hath been wood through which cometh righteousness:
⁸ But the idol made with hands is accursed, itself and he that made it;
Because his was the working, and the corruptible thing was named a god;
⁹ For both the ungodly doer and his ungodliness are alike hateful to God;
¹⁰ For verily the deed shall be punished together with him that committed it.
¹¹ Therefore also among the idols of the nations shall there be a visitation,

Because, though formed of things which God created, they were made an abomination,
And stumbling blocks to the souls of men,
And a snare to the feet of the foolish.

¹² For the devising of idols was the beginning of fornication,
And the invention of them the corruption of life:

¹³ For neither were they from the beginning, neither shall they be forever;

¹⁴ For by the vaingloriousness of men they entered into the world,
And therefore was a speedy end devised for them.

¹⁵ For a father worn with untimely grief,
Making an image of the child quickly taken away,
Now honored him as a god who was then a dead man,
And delivered to those that were under him mysteries and solemn rites.

¹⁶ Afterward the ungodly custom, in process of time grown strong, was kept as a law,
And by the commandments of princes the graven images received worship.

¹⁷ And when men could not honor them in presence because they dwelt far off,
Imagining the likeness from afar,

They made a visible image of the king whom they honored,
That by their zeal they might flatter the absent as if present.

¹⁸ But unto a yet higher pitch was worship raised even by them that knew him not,
Urged forward by the ambition of the artificer:

¹⁹ For he, wishing peradventure to please one in authority,
Used his art to force the likeness toward a greater beauty;

²⁰ And the multitude, allured by reason of the grace of his handiwork,
Now accounted as an object of devotion him that a little before was honored as a man.

²¹ And this became a hidden danger unto life,
Because men, in bondage either to calamity or to tyranny,
Invested stones and stocks with the incommunicable Name.

²² Afterward it was not enough for them to go astray as touching the knowledge of God;

But also, while they live in sore conflict through ignorance of him.
That multitude of evils they call peace.

²³ For either slaughtering children in solemn rites, or celebrating secret mysteries,
Or holding frantic revels of strange ordinances,

²⁴ No longer do they guard either life or purity of marriage,
But one bringeth upon another either death by treachery, or anguish by adulterate offspring.

²⁵ And all things confusedly are filled with blood and murder, theft and deceit,
Corruption, faithlessness, tumult, perjury, ²⁶ turmoil,
Ingratitude for benefits received,
Defiling of souls, confusion of sex,
Disorder in marriage, adultery and wantonness.

²⁷ For the worship of those nameless idols
Is a beginning and cause and end of every evil.

²⁸ For their worshipers either make merry unto madness, or prophesy lies,
Or live unrighteously, or lightly forswear themselves.

²⁹ For putting their trust in lifeless idols,
When they have sworn a wicked oath, they expect not to suffer harm.

³⁰ But for both sins shall the just doom pursue them,
Because they had evil thoughts of God by giving heed to idols,
And sware unrighteously in deceit through contempt for holiness.
³¹ For it is not the power of them by whom men swear,
But it is that Justice which hath regard to them that sin,
That visiteth always the transgression of the unrighteous.

15

¹ But thou, our God, art gracious and true,
Long-suffering, and in mercy ordering all things.
² For even if we sin, we are thine, knowing thy dominion;
But we shall not sin, knowing that we have been accounted thine:
³ For to be acquainted with thee is perfect righteousness,
And to know thy dominion is the root of immortality.
⁴ For neither were we led astray by any evil device of men's art,
Nor yet by painters' fruitless labor,
A form stained with varied colors;
⁵ The sight whereof leadeth fools into lust:
Their desire is for the breathless form of a dead image.
⁶ Lovers of evil things, and worthy of such hopes as these,
Are both they that do, and they that desire, and they that worship.

⁷ For a potter, kneading soft earth,
Laboriously moldeth each several vessel for our service:
Nay, out of the same clay doth he fashion
Both the vessels that minister to clean uses, and those of a contrary sort,
All in like manner;
But what shall be the use of each vessel of either sort,
The craftsman himself is the judge.
⁸ And also, laboring to an evil end, he moldeth a vain god out of the same clay,
He who, having but a little before been made of earth,
After a short space goeth his way to the earth out of which he was taken,
When he is required to render back the soul which was lent him.
⁹ Howbeit he hath anxious care,
Not because his powers must fail,
Nor because his span of life is short;
But he matcheth himself against goldsmiths and silversmiths,
And he imitateth molders in brass,
And esteemeth it glory that he moldeth counterfeits.
¹⁰ His heart is ashes,
And his hope of less value than earth,
And his life of less honor than clay:
¹¹ Because he was ignorant of him that molded him,
And of him that inspired into him an active soul,
And breathed into him a vital spirit.
¹² But he accounted our very life to be a plaything,
And our lifetime a gainful fair;
For, saith he, one must get gain whence one can, though it be by evil.
¹³ For this man beyond all others knoweth that he sinneth,
Out of earthy matter making brittle vessels and graven images.

¹⁴ But most foolish were they all, and of feebleness of soul than a babe,
The enemies of thy people, who oppressed them;
¹⁵ Because they even accounted all the idols of the nations to be gods;
Which have neither the use of eyes for seeing,
Nor nostrils for drawing breath,
Nor ears to hear,
Nor fingers for handling,
And their feet are helpless for walking.

¹⁶ For a man made them,
And one whose own spirit is borrowed molded them;
For no one hath power, being a man, to mold a god like unto himself,
¹⁷ But, being mortal, he maketh a dead thing by the work of lawless hands;
For he is better than the objects of his worship,
Forasmuch as he indeed had life, but they never.

¹⁸ Yea, and the creatures that are most hateful do they worship,
For, being compared as to want of sense, these are worse than all others;
¹⁹ Neither, as seen beside other creatures, are they beautiful, so that one should desire them,
But they have escaped both the praise of God and his blessing.

16

¹ For this cause were these men worthily punished through creatures like those which they worship,
And tormented through a multitude of vermin.
² Instead of which punishment, thou, bestowing benefits on thy people,
Preparedst quails for food,
Food of rare taste, to satisfy the desire of their appetite;
³ To the end that thine enemies, desiring food,
Might for the hideousness of the creatures sent among them
Loathe even the necessary appetite;
But these, thy people, having for a short space suffered want,
Might even partake of food of rare taste.
⁴ For it was needful that upon those should come inexorable want in their tyrannous dealing,
But that to these it should only be shown how their enemies were tormented.
⁵ For even when terrible raging of wild beasts came upon thy people,
And they were perishing by the bites of crooked serpents,
Thy wrath continued not to the uttermost;
⁶ But for admonition were they troubled for a short space,
Having a token of salvation,
To put them in remembrance of the commandment of thy law:
⁷ For he that turned toward it was not saved because of that which was beheld,
But because of thee, the Savior of all.
⁸ Yea, and in this didst thou persuade our enemies,
That thou art he that delivereth out of every evil.
⁹ For them verily the bites of locusts and flies did slay,
And there was not found a healing for their life,
Because they were worthy to be punished by such as these;
¹⁰ But thy sons not the very teeth of venomous dragons overcame,
For thy mercy passed by where they were, and healed them.

11 For they were bitten, to put them in remembrance of thine oracles;
And were quickly saved, lest, falling into deep forgetfulness,
They should become unable to be roused by thy beneficence:

12 For of a truth it was neither herb nor mollifying plaster that cured them,
But thy word, O Lord, which healeth all things;

13 For thou hast authority over life and death,
And thou ledest down to the gates of Hades, and ledest up again.

14 But though a man may slay by his wickedness,
Yet the spirit that is gone forth he turneth not again,
Neither giveth release to the soul that Hades hath received.

15 But thy hand it is not possible to escape;

16 For ungodly men, refusing to know thee, were scourged in the strength of thine arm,

Pursued with strange rains and hails and showers inexorable,
And utterly consumed with fire;

17 For, what was most marvelous of all,
In the water which quencheth all things the fire wrought yet more mightily;
For the world fighteth for the righteous.

18 For at one time the flame lost its fierceness,
That it might not burn up the creatures sent against the ungodly,
But that these themselves as they looked might see that they were chased through the judgment of God:

19 And at another time even in the midst of water it burneth above the power of fire,
That it may destroy the fruits of an unrighteous land.

20 Instead whereof thou gavest thy people angels' food to eat,
And bread ready for their use didst thou provide for them from heaven without their toil,

Bread having the virtue of every pleasant savor,
And agreeing to every taste;

21 For thy nature manifested thy sweetness toward thy children;
While that bread, ministering to the desire of the eater,
Tempered itself according to every man's choice.

22 But snow and ice endured fire, and melted not,
That men might know that fire was destroying the fruits of the enemies,
Burning in the hail and flashing in the rains;

23 And that this element again, in order that righteous men may be nourished,
Hath even forgotten its own power.

24 For the creation, ministering to thee its maker,
Straineth its force against the unrighteous, for punishment,
And slackeneth it in behalf of them that trust in thee, for beneficence.

25 Therefore at that time also, converting itself into all forms,
It ministered to thine all-nourishing bounty,
According to the desire of them that made supplication;

26 That thy sons, whom thou lovedst, O Lord, might learn
That it is not the growth of the earth's fruits that nourisheth a man,
But that thy word preserveth them that trust thee.

27 For that which was not marred by fire,
When it was simply warmed by a faint sunbeam melted away;

28 That it might be known that we must rise before the sun to give thee thanks,

And must plead with thee at the dawning of the light:

²⁹ For the hope of the unthankful shall melt as the winter's hoar frost,
And shall flow away as water that hath no use.

17

¹ For great are thy judgments, and hard to interpret;
Therefore souls undisciplined went astray.

² For when lawless men had supposed that they held a holy nation in their power,
They, themselves, prisoners of darkness, and bound in the fetters of a long night,
Close kept beneath their roofs,
Lay exiled from the eternal providence.

³ For while they thought that they were unseen in their secret sins,
They were sundered one from another by a dark curtain of forgetfulness,
Stricken with terrible awe, and sore troubled by spectral forms.

⁴ For neither did the dark recesses that held them guard them from fears,
But sounds rushing down rang around them,
And phantoms appeared, cheerless with unsmiling faces.

⁵ And no force of fire prevailed to give them light,
Neither were the brightest flames of the stars strong enough to illumine that gloomy night:

⁶ But only there appeared to them the glimmering of a fire self-kindled, full of fear;
And in terror they deemed the things which they saw
To be worse than that sight, on which they could not gaze.

⁷ And they lay helpless, made the sport of magic art,
And a shameful rebuke of their vaunts of understanding:

⁸ For they that promised to drive away terrors and troublings from a sick soul,
These were themselves sick with a ludicrous fearfulness:

⁹ For even if no troublous thing affrighted them,
Yet, scared with the creepings of vermin and hissings of serpents,

¹⁰ They perished for very trembling,
Refusing even to look on the air, which could on no side be escaped.

¹¹ For wickedness, condemned by a witness within, is a coward thing,
And, being pressed hard by conscience, always forecasteth the worst lot:

¹² For fear is nothing else but a surrender of the succors which reason offereth;

¹³ And from within the heart the expectation of them being less
Maketh of greater account the ignorance of the cause that bringeth the torment.

¹⁴ But they, all through the night which was powerless indeed,
And which came upon them out of the recesses of powerless Hades,
All sleeping the same sleep,

¹⁵ Now were haunted by monstrous apparitions,
And now were paralyzed by their soul's surrendering;
For fear sudden and unlooked for came upon them.

¹⁶ So then every man, whosoever it might be, sinking down in his place,
Was kept in ward shut up in that prison which was barred not with iron:

¹⁷ For whether he were a husbandman, or a shepherd,
Or a laborer whose toils were in the wilderness,
He was overtaken, and endured that inevitable necessity,
For with one chain of darkness were they all bound.

¹⁸ Whether there were a whistling wind,

Or a melodious noise of birds among the spreading branches,
Or a measured fall of water running violently,
¹⁹ Or a harsh crashing of rocks hurled down,
Or the swift course of animals bounding along unseen,
Or the voice of wild beasts harshly roaring,
Or an echo rebounding from the hollows of the mountains,
All these things paralyzed them with terror.
²⁰ For the whole world beside was enlightened with clear light,
And was occupied with unhindered works;
²¹ While over them alone was spread a heavy night,
An image of the darkness that should afterward receive them;
But yet heavier than darkness were they unto themselves.

¹ But for thy holy ones there was great light;
And the Egyptians, hearing their voice but seeing not their form,
Counted it a happy thing that they too had suffered,
² Yet for that they do not hurt them now, though wronged by them before, they are thankful;
And because they had been at variance with them, they made supplication to them.
³ Whereas thou didst provide for thy people a burning pillar of fire,
To be a guide for their unknown journey,
And withal a kindly sun for their proud exile.
⁴ For well did the Egyptians deserve to be deprived of light and imprisoned by darkness,
They who had kept in close ward thy sons,
Through whom the incorruptible light of the law was to be given to the race of men.
⁵ After they had taken counsel to slay the babes of the holy ones,
And when a single child had been cast forth and saved to convict them of their sin,
Thou tookest away from them their multitude of children,
And destroyedst all their host together in a mighty flood.
⁶ Of that night were our fathers made aware beforehand,
That, having sure knowledge, they might be cheered by the oaths which they had trusted:
⁷ So by thy people was expected salvation of the righteous and destruction of the enemies;
⁸ For as thou didst take vengeance on the adversaries,
By the same means, calling us unto thyself, thou didst glorify us.
⁹ For holy children of good men offered sacrifice in secret,
And with one consent they took upon themselves the covenant of the divine law,
That they would partake alike in the same good things and the same perils;
The fathers already leading the sacred songs of praise.
¹⁰ But there sounded back in discord the cry of the enemies,
And a piteous voice of lamentation for children was borne abroad.
¹¹ And servant along with master punished with a like just doom,
And commoner suffering the same as king,
¹² Yea, all the people together, under one form of death,
Had with them corpses without number;
For the living were not sufficient even to bury them,
Since at a single stroke their nobler offspring was consumed.

¹³ For while they were disbelieving all things by reason of the enchantments,
Upon the destruction of the firstborn they confessed the people to be God's son.

¹⁴ For while peaceful silence enwrapped all things,
And night in her own swiftness was in midcourse,

¹⁵ Thine all-powerful word leaped from heaven out of the royal throne,
A stern warrior, into the midst of the doomed land,

¹⁶ Bearing as a sharp sword thine unfeigned commandment;
And standing it filled all things with death;
And while it touched the heaven it trod upon the earth.

¹⁷ Then forthwith apparitions in dreams terribly troubled them,
And fears came upon them unlooked for.

¹⁸ And each, one thrown here half dead, another there,
Made manifest wherefore he was dying:

¹⁹ For the dreams, perturbing them, did foreshow this,
That they might not perish without knowing why they were afflicted.

²⁰ But it befell the righteous also to make trial of death,
And a multitude were stricken in the wilderness:
Howbeit the wrath endured not for long.

²¹ For a blameless man hasted to be their champion:
Bringing the weapon of his own ministry,
Even prayer and the propitiation of incense,
He withstood the indignation, and set an end to the calamity,
Showing that he was thy servant.

²² And he overcame the anger,
Not by strength of body, not by efficacy of weapons;
But by word did he subdue the minister of punishment,
By bringing to remembrance oaths and covenants made with the fathers.

²³ For when the dead were already fallen in heaps one upon another,
Standing between he stopped the advancing wrath,
And cut off the way to the living.

²⁴ For upon his long high-priestly robe was the whole world,
And the glories of the fathers were upon the graving of the four rows of precious stones,
And thy majesty was upon the diadem of his head.

²⁵ To these the destroyer gave place, and these the people feared;
For it was enough only to make trial of the wrath.

19

¹ But upon the ungodly there came unto the end indignation without mercy;
For their future also God foreknew,

² How that, having changed their minds to let thy people go,
And having speeded them eagerly on their way,
They would repent themselves and pursue them.

³ For while they were yet in the midst of their mourning,
And making lamentation at the graves of the dead,
They drew upon themselves another counsel of folly,
And pursued as fugitives those whom with entreaties they had cast out.

⁴ For the doom which they deserved was drawing them unto this end,
And it made them forget the things that had befallen them,

That they might fill up the punishment which was yet wanting to their torments,
5 And that thy people might journey on by a marvelous road,
But they themselves might find a strange death.

6 For the whole creation, each part in its several kind, was fashioned again anew,
Ministering to thy several commandments,
That thy servants might be guarded free from hurt.

7 Then was beheld the cloud that shadowed the camp,
And dry land rising up out of what before was water,
Out of the Red Sea an unhindered highway,
And a grassy plain out of the violent surge;

8 By which they passed over with all their hosts,
These that were covered with thy hand,
Having beheld strange marvels.

9 For like horses they roamed at large,
And they skipped about like lambs,
Praising thee, O Lord, who wast their deliverer.

10 For they still remembered the things that came to pass in the time of their sojourning,

How that instead of bearing cattle the land brought forth lice,
And instead of fish the river cast up a multitude of frogs.

11 But afterward they saw also a new race of birds,
When, led on by desire, they asked for luxurious dainties;

12 For, to solace them, there came up for them quails from the sea.

13 And upon the sinners came the punishments
Not without the tokens that were given beforehand by the force of the thunders;
For justly did they suffer through their own wickednesses,
For grievous indeed was the hatred which they practiced toward guests.

14 For whereas the men of Sodom received not the strangers when they came among them;

The Egyptians made slaves of guests who were their benefactors.

15 And not only so, but God shall visit the men of Sodom after another sort,
Since they received as enemies them that were aliens;

16 Whereas these first welcomed with feastings,
And then afflicted with dreadful toils,
Them that had already shared with them in the same rights.

17 And moreover they were stricken with loss of sight
(Even as were those others at the righteous man's doors),
When, being compassed about with yawning darkness,
They sought every one the passage through his own door.

18 For as the notes of a psaltery vary the character of the rhythm,
Even so did the elements, changing their order one with another,
Continuing always the same, each in its several sound;
As may clearly be divined from the sight of the things that are come to pass.

19 For creatures of the dry land were turned into creatures of the waters,
And creatures that swim trod now upon the earth:

20 Fire kept the mastery of its own power in the midst of water,
And water forgat its quenching nature:

21 Contrariwise, flames wasted not the flesh of perishable creatures that walked among them;

Neither melted they the ice-like grains of ambrosial food, that were of nature apt to melt.

22 For in all things, O Lord, thou didst magnify thy people,
And thou didst glorify them and not lightly regard them;
Standing by their side in every time and place.

THE WISDOM OF JESUS THE SON OF SIRACH, OR ECCLESIASTICUS

The Prologue of the Wisdom of Jesus the Son of Sirach.

Whereas many and great things have been delivered unto us by the law and the prophets, and by the others that have followed in their steps, for which things we must give Israel the praise of instruction and wisdom; and since not only the readers must needs become skillful themselves, but also they that love learning must be able to profit them that are without, both by speaking and writing; my grandfather Jesus, having much given himself to the reading of the law, and the prophets, and the other books of our fathers, and having gained great familiarity therein, was drawn on also himself to write somewhat pertaining to instruction and wisdom; in order that those who love learning, and are addicted to these things, might make progress much more by living according to the law. Ye are entreated therefore to read with favor and attention, and to pardon us, if in any parts of what we have labored to interpret, we may seem to fail in some of the phrases. For things originally spoken in Hebrew have not the same force in them, when they are translated into another tongue: and not only these, but the law itself, and the prophecies, and the rest of the books, have no small difference, when they are spoken in their original language. For having come into Egypt in the eight and thirtieth year of Euergetes the king, and having continued there some time, I found a copy affording no small instruction. I thought it therefore most necessary for me to apply some diligence and travail to interpret this book; applying indeed much watchfulness and skill in that space of time to bring the book to an end, and set it forth for them also, who in the land of their sojourning are desirous to learn, fashioning their manners beforehand, so as to live according to the law.

¹ All wisdom cometh from the Lord,
And is with him forever.

² The sand of the seas, and the drops of rain,
And the days of eternity, who shall number?

³ The height of the heaven, and the breadth of the earth,
And the deep, and wisdom, who shall search them out?

⁴ Wisdom hath been created before all things,
And the understanding of prudence from everlasting.

⁶ To whom hath the root of wisdom been revealed?
And who hath known her shrewd counsels?

⁸ There is one wise, greatly to be feared,
The Lord sitting upon his throne:

⁹ He created her,
And saw, and numbered her,
And poured her out upon all his works.

¹⁰ She is with all flesh according to his gift;
And he gave her freely to them that love him.

¹¹ The fear of the Lord is glory, and exultation,
And gladness, and a crown of rejoicing.

¹² The fear of the Lord shall delight the heart,
And shall give gladness, and joy, and length of days.

¹³ Whoso feareth the Lord, it shall go well with him at the last,
And in the day of his death he shall be blessed.

¹⁴ To fear the Lord is the beginning of wisdom;
And it was created together with the faithful in the womb.

¹⁵ With men she laid an eternal foundation;
And with their seed shall she be had in trust.

¹⁶ To fear the Lord is the fullness of wisdom;
And she satiateth men with her fruits.

¹⁷ She shall fill all her house with desirable things,
And her garners with her produce.

¹⁸ The fear of the Lord is the crown of wisdom,
Making peace and perfect health to flourish.

¹⁹ He both saw and numbered her;
He rained down skill and knowledge of understanding,
And exalted the honor of them that hold her fast.

²⁰ To fear the Lord is the root of wisdom;
And her branches are length of days.

²² Unjust wrath can never be justified;
For the sway of his wrath is his downfall.

²³ A man that is long-suffering will bear for a season,
And afterward gladness shall spring up unto him;

²⁴ He will hide his words for a season,
And the lips of many shall tell forth his understanding.

²⁵ A parable of knowledge is in the treasures of wisdom;
But godliness is an abomination to a sinner.

²⁶ If thou desire wisdom, keep the commandments,
And the Lord shall give her unto thee freely:

²⁷ For the fear of the Lord is wisdom and instruction;
And in faith and meekness is his good pleasure.

²⁸ Disobey not the fear of the Lord;
And come not unto him with a double heart.

²⁹ Be not a hypocrite in the mouths of men;
And take good heed to thy lips.

³⁰ Exalt not thyself, lest thou fall,
And bring dishonor upon thy soul;
And so the Lord shall reveal thy secrets,
And shall cast thee down in the midst of the congregation;
Because thou camest not unto the fear of the Lord,
And thy heart was full of deceit.

¹ My son, if thou comest to serve the Lord,
Prepare thy soul for temptation.

² Set thy heart aright, and constantly endure,
And make not haste in time of calamity.

³ Cleave unto him, and depart not,
That thou mayest be increased at thy latter end.

⁴ Accept whatsoever is brought upon thee,
And be long-suffering when thou passest into humiliation.

⁵ For gold is tried in the fire,
And acceptable men in the furnace of humiliation.

⁶ Put thy trust in him, and he will help thee:
Order thy ways aright, and set thy hope on him.

⁷ Ye that fear the Lord, wait for his mercy;
And turn not aside, lest ye fall.

⁸ Ye that fear the Lord, put your trust in him;
And your reward shall not fail.

⁹ Ye that fear the Lord, hope for good things,
And for eternal gladness and mercy.

¹⁰ Look at the generations of old, and see:
Who did ever put his trust in the Lord, and was ashamed?
Or who did abide in his fear, and was forsaken?
Or who did call upon him, and he despised him?

¹¹ For the Lord is full of compassion and mercy;
And he forgiveth sins, and saveth in time of affliction.

¹² Woe unto fearful hearts, and to faint hands,
And to the sinner that goeth two ways!

¹³ Woe unto the faint heart! for it believeth not;
Therefore shall it not be defended.

¹⁴ Woe unto you that have lost your patience!
And what will ye do when the Lord shall visit you?

¹⁵ They that fear the Lord will not disobey his words;
And they that love him will keep his ways.

¹⁶ They that fear the Lord will seek his good pleasure;
And they that love him shall be filled with the law.

¹⁷ They that fear the Lord will prepare their hearts,
And will humble their souls in his sight, ¹⁸ saying,
We will fall into the hands of the Lord,
And not into the hands of men:
For as his majesty is,
So also is his mercy.

¹ Hear me your father, O my children,
And do thereafter, that ye may be saved.

² For the Lord hath given the father glory as touching the children,
And hath confirmed the judgment of the mother as touching the sons.

³ He that honoreth his father shall make atonement for sins:

⁴ And he that giveth glory to his mother is as one that layeth up treasure.

⁵ Whoso honoreth his father shall have joy of his children;
And in the day of his prayer he shall be heard.

⁶ He that giveth glory to his father shall have length of days;
And he that hearkeneth unto the Lord shall bring rest unto his mother,

⁷ And will do service under his parents, as unto masters.

⁸ In deed and word honor thy father,
That a blessing may come upon thee from him.

⁹ For the blessing of the father establisheth the houses of children;

But the curse of the mother rooteth out the foundations.

¹⁰ Glorify not thyself in the dishonor of thy father;
For thy father's dishonor is no glory unto thee.

¹¹ For the glory of a man is from the honor of his father;
And a mother in dishonor is a reproach to her children.

¹² My son, help thy father in his old age;
And grieve him not as long as he liveth.

¹³ And if he fail in understanding, have patience with him;
And dishonor him not while thou art in thy full strength.

¹⁴ For the relieving of thy father shall not be forgotten:
And instead of sins it shall be added to build thee up.

¹⁵ In the day of thine affliction it shall remember thee;
As fair weather upon ice,
So shall thy sins also melt away.

¹⁶ He that forsaketh his father is as a blasphemer;
And he that provoketh his mother is cursed of the Lord.

¹⁷ My son, go on with thy business in meekness;
So shalt thou be beloved of an acceptable man.

¹⁸ The greater thou art, humble thyself the more,
And thou shalt find favor before the Lord.

²⁰ For great is the potency of the Lord,
And he is glorified of them that are lowly.

²¹ Seek not things that are too hard for thee,
And search not out things that are above thy strength.

²² The things that have been commanded thee, think thereupon;
For thou hast no need of the things that are secret.

²³ Be not over busy in thy superfluous works:
For more things are shown unto thee than men can understand.

²⁴ For the conceit of many hath led them astray;
And evil surmising hath caused their judgment to slip.

²⁶ A stubborn heart shall fare ill at the last;
And he that loveth danger shall perish therein.

²⁷ A stubborn heart shall be laden with troubles;
And the sinner shall heap sin upon sin.

²⁸ The calamity of the proud is no healing;
For a plant of wickedness hath taken root in him.

²⁹ The heart of the prudent will understand a parable;
And the ear of a listener is the desire of a wise man.

³⁰ Water will quench a flaming fire;
And almsgiving will make atonement for sins.

³¹ He that requiteth good turns is mindful of that which cometh afterward;
And in the time of his falling he shall find a support.

¹ My son, deprive not the poor of his living,
And make not the needy eyes to wait long.

² Make not a hungry soul sorrowful;

Neither provoke a man in his distress.

³ To a heart that is provoked add not more trouble;
And defer not to give to him that is in need.

⁴ Reject not a suppliant in his affliction;
And turn not away thy face from a poor man.

⁵ Turn not away thine eye from one that asketh of thee,
And give none occasion to a man to curse thee:

⁶ For if he curse thee in the bitterness of his soul,
He that made him will hear his supplication.

⁷ Get thyself the love of the congregation;
And to a great man bow thy head.

⁸ Incline thine ear to a poor man,
And answer him with peaceable words in meekness.

⁹ Deliver him that is wronged from the hand of him that wrongeth him;
And be not fainthearted in giving judgment.

¹⁰ Be as a father unto the fatherless,
And instead of a husband unto their mother:
So shalt thou be as a son of the Most High,
And he shall love thee more than thy mother doth.

¹¹ Wisdom exalteth her sons,
And taketh hold of them that seek her.

¹² He that loveth her loveth life;
And they that seek to her early shall be filled with gladness.

¹³ He that holdeth her fast shall inherit glory;
And where he entereth, the Lord will bless.

¹⁴ They that do her service shall minister to the Holy One;
And them that love her the Lord doth love.

¹⁵ He that giveth ear unto her shall judge the nations;
And he that giveth heed unto her shall dwell securely.

¹⁶ If he trust her, he shall inherit her;
And his generations shall have her in possession.

¹⁷ For at the first she will walk with him in crooked ways,
And will bring fear and dread upon him,
And torment him with her discipline,
Until she may trust his soul, and try him by her judgments:

¹⁸ Then will she return again the straight way unto him,
And will gladden him, and reveal to him her secrets.

¹⁹ If he go astray, she will forsake him,
And give him over to his fall.

²⁰ Observe the opportunity, and beware of evil;
And be not ashamed concerning thy soul.

²¹ For there is a shame that bringeth sin;
And there is a shame that is glory and grace.

²² Accept not the person of any against thy soul;
And reverence no man unto thy falling.

²³ Refrain not speech, when it tendeth to safety;
And hide not thy wisdom for the sake of fair-seeming.

²⁴ For by speech wisdom shall be known;

And instruction by the word of the tongue.

²⁵ Speak not against the truth;
And be abashed for thine ignorance.

²⁶ Be not ashamed to make confession of thy sins;
And force not the current of the river.

²⁷ Lay not thyself down for a fool to tread upon;
And accept not the person of one that is mighty.

²⁸ Strive for the truth unto death, and the Lord God shall fight for thee.

²⁹ Be not hasty in thy tongue,
And in thy deeds slack and remiss.

³⁰ Be not as a lion in thy house,
Nor fanciful among thy servants.

³¹ Let not thy hand be stretched out to receive, and closed when thou shouldest repay.

¹ Set not thy heart upon thy goods;
And say not, They are sufficient for me.

² Follow not thine own mind and thy strength,
To walk in the desires of thy heart;

³ And say not, Who shall have dominion over me?
For the Lord will surely take vengeance on thee.

⁴ Say not, I sinned, and what happened unto me?
For the Lord is long-suffering.

⁵ Concerning atonement, be not without fear,
To add sin upon sins:

⁶ And say not, His compassion is great;
He will be pacified for the multitude of my sins:
For mercy and wrath are with him,
And his indignation will rest upon sinners.

⁷ Make no tarrying to turn to the Lord;
And put not off from day to day:
For suddenly shall the wrath of the Lord come forth;
And thou shalt perish in the time of vengeance.

⁸ Set not thy heart upon unrighteous gains:
For thou shalt profit nothing in the day of calamity.

⁹ Winnow not with every wind,
And walk not in every path:
Thus doeth the sinner that hath a double tongue.

¹⁰ Be steadfast in thy understanding;
And let thy word be one.

¹¹ Be swift to hear;
And with patience make thine answer.

¹² If thou hast understanding, answer thy neighbor;
And if not, let thy hand be upon thy mouth.

¹³ Glory and dishonor is in talk:
And the tongue of a man is his fall.

¹⁴ Be not called a whisperer;
And lie not in wait with thy tongue:
For upon the thief there is shame,
And an evil condemnation upon him that hath a double tongue.
¹⁵ In a great matter and in a small, be not ignorant;

¹ And instead of a friend become not an enemy;
For an evil name shall inherit shame and reproach:
Even so shall the sinner that hath a double tongue.

² Exalt not thyself in the counsel of thy soul;
That thy soul be not torn in pieces as a bull:
³ Thou shalt eat up thy leaves, and destroy thy fruits,
And leave thyself as a dry tree.

⁴ A wicked soul shall destroy him that hath gotten it,
And shall make him a laughingstock to his enemies.

⁵ Sweet words will multiply a man's friends;
And a fair-speaking tongue will multiply courtesies.

⁶ Let those that are at peace with thee be many;
But thy counselors one of a thousand.

⁷ If thou wouldest get thee a friend, get him by proving,
And be not in haste to trust him.

⁸ For there is a friend that is so for his own occasion;
And he will not continue in the day of thy affliction.

⁹ And there is a friend that turneth to enmity;
And he will discover strife to thy reproach.

¹⁰ And there is a friend that is a companion at the table;
And he will not continue in the day of thy affliction.

¹¹ And in thy prosperity he will be as thyself,
And will be bold over thy servants:

¹² If thou shalt be brought low, he will be against thee,
And will hide himself from thy face.

¹³ Separate thyself from thine enemies;
And beware of thy friends.

¹⁴ A faithful friend is a strong defense;
And he that hath found him hath found a treasure.

¹⁵ There is nothing that can be taken in exchange for a faithful friend;
And his excellency is beyond price.

¹⁶ A faithful friend is a medicine of life;
And they that fear the Lord shall find him.

¹⁷ He that feareth the Lord directeth his friendship aright;
For as he is, so is his neighbor also.

¹⁸ My son, gather instruction from thy youth up:
And even unto hoar hairs thou shalt find wisdom.

¹⁹ Come unto her as one that ploweth and soweth,
And wait for her good fruits;
For thy toil shall be little in the tillage of her,

And thou shalt eat of her fruits right soon.

²⁰ How exceeding harsh is she to the unlearned!

And he that is without understanding will not abide in her.

²¹ As a mighty stone of trial shall she rest upon him;

And he will not delay to cast her from him.

²² For wisdom is according to her name; and she is not manifest unto many.

²³ Give ear, my son, and accept my judgment,

And refuse not my counsel,

²⁴ And bring thy feet into her fetters,

And thy neck into her chain.

²⁵ Put thy shoulder under her, and bear her,

And be not grieved with her bonds.

²⁶ Come unto her with all thy soul,

And keep her ways with thy whole power.

²⁷ Search, and seek, and she shall be made known unto thee;

And when thou hast gat hold of her, let her not go.

²⁸ For at the last thou shalt find her rest;

And she shall be turned for thee into gladness.

²⁹ And her fetters shall be to thee for a covering of strength,

And her chains for a robe of glory.

³⁰ For there is a golden ornament upon her,

And her bands are a cord of blue.

³¹ Thou shalt put her on as a robe of glory,

And shalt array thee with her as a crown of rejoicing.

³² My son, if thou wilt, thou shalt be instructed;

And if thou wilt yield thy soul, thou shalt be prudent.

³³ If thou love to hear, thou shalt receive;

And if thou incline thine ear, thou shalt be wise.

³⁴ Stand thou in the multitude of the elders;

And whoso is wise, cleave thou unto him.

³⁵ Be willing to listen to every godly discourse;

And let not the proverbs of understanding escape thee.

³⁶ If thou seest a man of understanding, get thee betimes unto him,

And let thy foot wear out the steps of his doors.

³⁷ Let thy mind dwell upon the ordinances of the Lord,

And meditate continually in his commandments:

He shall establish thy heart,

And thy desire of wisdom shall be given unto thee.

² Depart from wrong, and it shall turn aside from thee.

³ My son, sow not upon the furrows of unrighteousness,

And thou shalt not reap them sevenfold.

⁴ Seek not of the Lord preeminence,

Neither of the king the seat of honor.

⁵ Justify not thyself in the presence of the Lord;

And display not thy wisdom before the king.

⁶ Seek not to be a judge,
Lest thou be not able to take away iniquities;
Lest haply thou fear the person of a mighty man,
And lay a stumbling block in the way of thy uprightness.

⁷ Sin not against the multitude of the city,
And cast not thyself down in the crowd.

⁸ Bind not up sin twice;
For in one sin thou shalt not be unpunished.
⁹ Say not, He will look upon the multitude of my gifts,
And when I offer to the Most High God, he will accept it.
¹⁰ Be not fainthearted in thy prayer;
And neglect not to give alms.

¹¹ Laugh not a man to scorn when he is in the bitterness of his soul;
For there is one who humbleth and exalteth.

¹² Devise not a lie against thy brother;
Neither do the like to a friend.
¹³ Love not to make any manner of lie;
For the custom thereof is not for good.
¹⁴ Prate not in the multitude of elders;
And repeat not thy words in thy prayer.

¹⁵ Hate not laborious work;
Neither husbandry, which the Most High hath ordained.

¹⁶ Number not thyself among the multitude of sinners:
Remember that wrath will not tarry.
¹⁷ Humble thy soul greatly;
For the punishment of the ungodly man is fire and the worm.

¹⁸ Change not a friend for a thing indifferent;
Neither a true brother for the gold of Ophir.

¹⁹ Forego not a wise and good wife;
For her grace is above gold.
²⁰ Treat not evil a servant that worketh truly,
Nor a hireling that giveth thee his life.
²¹ Let thy soul love a wise servant;
Defraud him not of liberty.

²² Hast thou cattle? have an eye to them;
And if they are profitable to thee, let them stay by thee.

²³ Hast thou children? correct them,
And bow down their neck from their youth.
²⁴ Hast thou daughters? give heed to their body,
And make not thy face cheerful toward them.

²⁵ Give thy daughter in marriage, and thou shalt have accomplished a great matter:
And give her to a man of understanding.

²⁶ Hast thou a wife after thy mind? cast her not out:
But trust not thyself to one that is hateful.

²⁷ Give glory to thy father with thy whole heart;
And forget not the pangs of thy mother.
²⁸ Remember that of them thou wast born:
And what wilt thou recompense them for the things that they have done for thee?

²⁹ Fear the Lord with all thy soul;
And reverence his priests.
³⁰ With all thy strength love him that made thee;
And forsake not his ministers.
³¹ Fear the Lord, and glorify the priest;
And give him his portion, even as it is commanded thee;
The firstfruits, and the trespass offering, and the gift of the shoulders,
And the sacrifice of sanctification, and the firstfruits of holy things.

³² Also to the poor man stretch out thy hand,
That thy blessing may be perfected.
³³ A gift hath grace in the sight of every man living;
And for a dead man keep not back grace.
³⁴ Be not wanting to them that weep;
And mourn with them that mourn.
³⁵ Be not slow to visit a sick man;
For by such things thou shalt gain love.
³⁶ In all thy matters remember thy last end,
And thou shalt never do amiss.

Lest haply thou fall into his hands.
² Strive not with a rich man, lest haply he overweigh thee:
For gold hath destroyed many,
And turned aside the hearts of kings.
³ Contend not with a man that is full of tongue,
And heap not wood upon his fire.

⁴ Jest not with a rude man,
Lest thine ancestors be dishonored.
⁵ Reproach not a man when he turneth from sin:
Remember that we are all worthy of punishment.
⁶ Dishonor not a man in his old age;
For some of us also are waxing old.
⁷ Rejoice not over one that is dead:
Remember that we die all.

⁸ Neglect not the discourse of the wise,
And be conversant with their proverbs;
For of them thou shalt learn instruction,
And how to minister to great men.
⁹ Miss not the discourse of the aged;
For they also learned of their fathers:
Because from them thou shalt learn understanding,
And to give answer in time of need.

- ¹⁰ Kindle not the coals of a sinner,
Lest thou be burned with the flame of his fire.
¹¹ Rise not up from the presence of an insolent man,
Lest he lie in wait as an ambush for thy mouth.
¹² Lend not to a man that is mightier than thyself;
And if thou lend, be as one that hath lost.
¹³ Be not surety above thy power:
And if thou be surety, take thought as one that will have to pay.
- ¹⁴ Go not to law with a judge;
For according to his honor will they give judgment for him.
¹⁵ Go not in the way with a rash man,
Lest he be aggrieved with thee;
For he will do according to his own will,
And thou shalt perish with his folly.
¹⁶ Fight not with a wrathful man,
And travel not with him through the desert:
For blood is as nothing in his sight;
And where there is no help, he will overthrow thee.
¹⁷ Take not counsel with a fool;
For he will not be able to conceal the matter.
¹⁸ Do no secret thing before a stranger;
For thou knowest not what he will bring forth.
¹⁹ Open not thy heart to every man;
And let him not return thee a favor.

- ¹ Be not jealous over the wife of thy bosom,
And teach her not an evil lesson against thyself.
² Give not thy soul unto a woman,
That she should set her foot upon thy strength.
³ Go not to meet a woman that playeth the harlot,
Lest haply thou fall into her snares.
⁴ Use not the company of a woman that is a singer,
Lest haply thou be caught by her attempts.
⁵ Gaze not on a maid,
Lest haply thou be trapped in her penalties.
⁶ Give not thy soul unto harlots,
That thou lose not thine inheritance.
⁷ Look not round about thee in the streets of the city,
Neither wander thou in the solitary places thereof.
⁸ Turn away thine eye from a comely woman,
And gaze not on another's beauty:
By the beauty of a woman many have been led astray;
And herewith love is kindled as a fire.
⁹ Sit not at all with a woman that hath a husband;
And revel not with her at the wine;
Lest haply thy soul turn aside unto her,
And with thy spirit thou slide into destruction.
- ¹⁰ Forsake not an old friend;

For the new is not comparable to him:
As new wine, so is a new friend;
If it become old, thou shalt drink it with gladness.

¹¹ Envy not the glory of a sinner;
For thou knowest not what shall be his overthrow.
¹² Delight not in the delights of the ungodly:
Remember they shall not go unpunished unto Hades.

¹³ Keep thee far from the man that hath power to kill,
And thou shalt have no suspicion of the fear of death:
And if thou come unto him, commit no fault,
Lest he take away thy life:
Know surely that thou goest about in the midst of snares,
And walkest upon the battlements of a city.

¹⁴ As well as thou canst, guess at thy neighbors;
And take counsel with the wise.
¹⁵ Let thy converse be with men of understanding;
And let all thy discourse be in the law of the Most High.
¹⁶ Let just men be the companions of thy board;
And let thy glorying be in the fear of the Lord.

¹⁷ For the hand of the artificers a work shall be commended:
And he that ruleth the people shall be counted wise for his speech.
¹⁸ A man full of tongue is dangerous in his city;
And he that is headlong in his speech shall be hated.

10

¹ A wise judge will instruct his people;
And the government of a man of understanding shall be well ordered.
² As is the judge of his people, so are his ministers;
And as is the ruler of the city, such are all they that dwell therein.
³ An uninstructed king will destroy his people;
And a city will be established through the understanding of the powerful.
⁴ In the hand of the Lord is the authority of the earth;
And in due time he will raise up over it one that is profitable.
⁵ In the hand of the Lord is the prosperity of a man;
And upon the person of the scribe shall he lay his honor.
⁶ Be not wroth with thy neighbor for every wrong;
And do nothing by works of violence.
⁷ Pride is hateful before the Lord and before men;
And in the judgment of both will unrighteousness err.
⁸ Sovereignty is transferred from nation to nation,
Because of iniquities, and deeds of violence, and greed of money.
⁹ Why is earth and ashes proud?
Because in his life he hath cast away his bowels.
¹⁰ It is a long disease; the physician mocketh:
And he is a king today, and tomorrow he shall die.

- 11 For when a man is dead,
He shall inherit creeping things, and beasts, and worms.
- 12 It is the beginning of pride when a man departeth from the Lord;
And his heart is departed from him that made him.
- 13 For the beginning of pride is sin;
And he that keepeth it will pour forth abomination.
For this cause the Lord brought upon them strange calamities,
And overthrew them utterly.
- 14 The Lord cast down the thrones of rulers,
And set the meek in their stead.
- 15 The Lord plucked up the roots of nations,
And planted the lowly in their stead.
- 16 The Lord overthrew the lands of nations,
And destroyed them unto the foundations of the earth.
- 17 He took some of them away, and destroyed them,
And made their memorial to cease from the earth.
- 18 Pride hath not been created for men,
Nor wrathful anger for the offspring of women.
- 19 What manner of seed hath honor? the seed of man.
What manner of seed hath honor? they that fear the Lord.
What manner of seed hath no honor? the seed of man.
What manner of seed hath no honor? they that transgress the commandments.
- 20 In the midst of brethren he that ruleth them hath honor;
And in the eyes of the Lord they that fear him.
- 22 The rich man, and the honorable, and the poor,
Their glorying is the fear of the Lord.
- 23 It is not right to dishonor a poor man that hath understanding;
And it is not fitting to glorify a man that is a sinner.
- 24 The great man, and the judge, and the mighty man, shall be glorified;
And there is not one of them greater than he that feareth the Lord.
- 25 Free men shall minister unto a wise servant;
And a man that hath knowledge will not murmur thereat.
- 26 Be not over wise in doing thy work;
And glorify not thyself in the time of thy distress.
- 27 Better is he that laboreth, and aboundeth in all things,
Than he that glorifieth himself, and lacketh bread.
- 28 My son, glorify thy soul in meekness,
And give it honor according to the worthiness thereof.
- 29 Who will justify him that sinneth against his own soul?
And who will glorify him that dishonoreth his own life?
- 30 A poor man is glorified for his knowledge;
And a rich man is glorified for his riches.
- 31 But he that is glorified in poverty, how much more in riches?
And he that is inglorious in riches, how much more in poverty?

11

- 1 The wisdom of the lowly shall lift up his head,

And make him to sit in the midst of great men.

² Commend not a man for his beauty;
And abhor not a man for his outward appearance.

³ The bee is little among such as fly;
And her fruit is the chief of sweetmeats.

⁴ Glory not in the putting on of raiment,
And exalt not thyself in the day of honor;
For the works of the Lord are wonderful,
And his works are hidden among men.

⁵ Many kings have sat down upon the ground;
And one that was never thought of hath worn a diadem.

⁶ Many mighty men have been greatly disgraced;
And men of renown have been delivered into other men's hands.

⁷ Blame not before thou hast examined:
Understand first, and then rebuke.

⁸ Answer not before thou hast heard;
And interrupt not in the midst of speech.

⁹ Strive not in a matter that concerneth thee not;
And where sinners judge, sit not thou with them.

¹⁰ My son, be not busy about many matters:
For if thou meddle much, thou shalt not be unpunished;
And if thou pursue, thou shalt not overtake;
And thou shalt not escape by fleeing.

¹¹ There is one that toileth, and laboreth, and maketh haste,
And is so much the more behind.

¹² There is one that is sluggish, and hath need of help,
Lacking in strength, and that aboundeth in poverty;
And the eyes of the Lord looked upon him for good,
And he set him up from his low estate,

¹³ And lifted up his head;
And many marveled at him.

¹⁴ Good things and evil, life and death,
Poverty and riches, are from the Lord.

¹⁷ The gift of the Lord remaineth with the godly,
And his good pleasure shall prosper forever.

¹⁸ There is that waxeth rich by his wariness and pinching,
And this is the portion of his reward:

¹⁹ When he saith, I have found rest,
And now will I eat of my goods;
Yet he knoweth not what time shall pass,
And he shall leave them to others, and die.

²⁰ Be steadfast in thy covenant, and be conversant therein,
And wax old in thy work.

²¹ Marvel not at the works of a sinner;
But trust the Lord, and abide in thy labor:

For it is an easy thing in the sight of the Lord swiftly on the sudden to make a poor man rich.

²² The blessing of the Lord is in the reward of the godly;
And in an hour that cometh swiftly he maketh his blessing to flourish.

²³ Say not, What use is there of me?
And what from henceforth shall my good things be?

²⁴ Say not, I have sufficient,
And from henceforth what harm shall happen unto me?

²⁵ In the day of good things there is a forgetfulness of evil things;
And in the day of evil things a man will not remember things that are good.

²⁶ For it is an easy thing in the sight of the Lord
To reward a man in the day of death according to his ways.

²⁷ The affliction of an hour causeth forgetfulness of delight;
And in the last end of a man is the revelation of his deeds.

²⁸ Call no man blessed before his death;
And a man shall be known in his children.

²⁹ Bring not every man into thy house;
For many are the plots of the deceitful man.

³⁰ As a decoy partridge in a cage, so is the heart of a proud man;
And as one that is a spy, he looketh upon thy falling.

³¹ For he lieth in wait to turn things that are good into evil;
And in things that are praiseworthy he will lay blame.

³² From a spark of fire a heap of many coals is kindled;
And a sinful man lieth in wait for blood.

³³ Take heed of an evildoer, for he contriveth wicked things;
Lest haply he bring upon thee blame forever.

³⁴ Receive a stranger into thy house, and he will distract thee with brawls,
And estrange thee from thine own.

¹ If thou do good, know to whom thou doest it;
And thy good deeds shall have thanks.

² Do good to a godly man, and thou shalt find a recompense;
And if not from him, yet from the Most High.

³ There shall no good come to him that continueth to do evil,
Nor to him that giveth no alms.

⁴ Give to the godly man,
And help not the sinner.

⁵ Do good to one that is lowly,
And give not to an ungodly man:
Keep back his bread, and give it not to him,
Lest he overmaster thee thereby:
For thou shalt receive twice as much evil
For all the good thou shalt have done unto him.

⁶ For the Most High also hateth sinners,
And will repay vengeance unto the ungodly.

⁷ Give to the good man,
And help not the sinner.

⁸ A man's friend will not be fully tried in prosperity;
And his enemy will not be hidden in adversity.
⁹ In a man's prosperity his enemies are grieved;
And in his adversity even his friend will be separated from him.
¹⁰ Never trust thine enemy:
For like as the brass rusteth, so is his wickedness.
¹¹ Though he humble himself, and go crouching,
Yet take good heed, and beware of him,
And thou shalt be unto him as one that hath wiped a mirror,
And thou shalt know that he hath not utterly rusted it.
¹² Set him not by thee,
Lest he overthrow thee and stand in thy place;
Let him not sit on thy right hand,
Lest he seek to take thy seat,
And at the last thou acknowledge my words,
And be pricked with my sayings.
¹³ Who will pity a charmer that is bitten with a serpent,
Or any that come nigh wild beasts?
¹⁴ Even so who will pity him that goeth to a sinner,
And is mingled with him in his sins?
¹⁵ For a while he will abide with thee,
And if thou give way, he will not hold out.
¹⁶ And the enemy will speak sweetly with his lips,
And in his heart take counsel how to overthrow thee into a pit:
The enemy will weep with his eyes,
And if he find opportunity, he will not be satiated with blood.
¹⁷ If adversity meet thee, thou shalt find him there before thee;
And as though he would help thee, he will trip up thy heel.
¹⁸ He will shake his head, and clap his hands,
And whisper much, and change his countenance.

¹ He that toucheth pitch shall be defiled;
And he that hath fellowship with a proud man shall become like unto him.
² Take not up a burden above thy strength;
And have no fellowship with one that is mightier and richer than thyself.
What fellowship shall the earthen pot have with the kettle?
This shall smite, and that shall be dashed in pieces.
³ The rich man doeth a wrong, and he threateneth withal:
The poor is wronged, and he shall entreat withal.
⁴ If thou be profitable, he will make merchandise of thee;
And if thou be in want, he will forsake thee.
⁵ If thou have substance, he will live with thee;
And he will make thee bare, and will not be sorry.
⁶ Hath he had need of thee? then he will deceive thee,
And smile upon thee, and give thee hope:
He will speak thee fair, and say, What needest thou?
⁷ And he will shame thee by his meats,
Until he have made thee bare twice or thrice,
And at the last he will laugh thee to scorn:

Afterward will he see thee, and will forsake thee,
And shake his head at thee.
8 Beware that thou be not deceived, and brought low in thy mirth.
9 If a mighty man invite thee, be retiring,
And so much the more will he invite thee.
10 Press not upon him, lest thou be thrust back;
And stand not far off, lest thou be forgotten.
11 Affect not to speak with him as an equal,
And believe not his many words:
For with much talk will he try thee,
And in a smiling manner will search thee out.
12 He that keepeth not to himself words spoken is unmerciful;
And he will not spare to hurt and to bind.
13 Keep them to thyself, and take earnest heed,
For thou walkest in peril of thy falling.
15 Every living creature loveth his like,
And every man loveth his neighbor.
16 All flesh consorteth according to kind,
And a man will cleave to his like.
17 What fellowship shall the wolf have with the lamb?
So is the sinner unto the godly.
18 What peace is there between the hyena and the dog?
And what peace between the rich man and the poor?
19 Wild asses are the prey of lions in the wilderness;
So poor men are pasture for the rich.
20 Lowliness is an abomination to a proud man;
So a poor man is an abomination to the rich.

21 A rich man when he is shaken is held up by his friends;
But one of low degree being down is thrust away also by his friends.
22 When a rich man is fallen, there are many helpers;
He speaketh things not to be spoken, and men justify him:
A man of low degree falleth, and men rebuke him withal;
He uttereth wisdom, and no place is allowed him.
23 A rich man speaketh, and all keep silence;
And what he saith they extol to the clouds:
A poor man speaketh, and they say, Who is this?
And if he stumble, they will help to overthrow him.

24 Riches are good that have no sin;
And poverty is evil in the mouth of the ungodly.
25 The heart of a man changeth his countenance,
Whether it be for good or for evil.
26 A cheerful countenance is a token of a heart that is in prosperity;
And the finding out of parables is a weariness of thinking.

14

1 Blessed is the man that hath not slipped with his mouth,
And is not pricked with sorrow for sins.
2 Blessed is he whose soul doth not condemn him,
And who is not fallen from his hope.

- ³ Riches are not comely for a niggard;
And what should an envious man do with money?
- ⁴ He that gathereth by taking from his own soul gathereth for others;
And others shall revel in his goods.
- ⁵ He that is evil to himself, to whom will he be good?
And he shall not rejoice in his possessions.
- ⁶ There is none more evil than he that envieth himself;
And this is a recompense of his wickedness.
- ⁷ Even if he doeth good, he doeth it in forgetfulness;
And at the last he sheweth forth his wickedness.
- ⁸ Evil is he that envieth with his eye,
Turning away the face, and despising the souls of men.
- ⁹ A covetous man's eye is not satisfied with his portion;
And wicked injustice drieth up his soul.
- ¹⁰ An evil eye is grudging of bread,
And he is miserly at his table.
- ¹¹ My son, according as thou hast, do well unto thyself,
And bring offerings unto the Lord worthily.
- ¹² Remember that death will not tarry,
And that the covenant of Hades is not shown unto thee.
- ¹³ Do well unto thy friend before thou die;
And according to thy ability stretch out thy hand and give to him.
- ¹⁴ Defraud not thyself of a good day;
And let not the portion of a good desire pass thee by.
- ¹⁵ Shalt thou not leave thy labors unto another?
And thy toils to be divided by lot?
- ¹⁶ Give, and take, and beguile thy soul;
For there is no seeking of luxury in Hades.
- ¹⁷ All flesh waxeth old as a garment;
For the covenant from the beginning is, Thou shalt die the death.
- ¹⁸ As of the leaves flourishing on a thick tree,
Some it sheddeth, and some it maketh to grow;
So also of the generations of flesh and blood,
One cometh to an end, and another is born.
- ¹⁹ Every work rotteth and falleth away,
And the worker thereof shall depart with it.
- ²⁰ Blessed is the man that shall meditate in wisdom,
And that shall discourse by his understanding.
- ²¹ He that considereth her ways in his heart
Shall also have knowledge in her secrets.
- ²² Go forth after her as one that tracketh,
And lie in wait in her ways.
- ²³ He that prieth in at her windows
Shall also hearken at her doors.
- ²⁴ He that lodgeth close to her house
Shall also fasten a nail in her walls.
- ²⁵ He shall pitch his tent nigh at hand to her,
And shall lodge in a lodging where good things are.
- ²⁶ He shall set his children under her shelter,

And shall rest under her branches.
²⁷ By her he shall be covered from heat,
And shall lodge in her glory.

15

¹ He that feareth the Lord will do this;
And he that hath possession of the law shall obtain her.
² And as a mother shall she meet him,
And receive him as a wife married in her virginity.
³ With bread of understanding shall she feed him,
And give him water of wisdom to drink.
⁴ He shall be stayed upon her, and shall not be moved;
And shall rely upon her, and shall not be confounded.
⁵ And she shall exalt him above his neighbors;
And in the midst of the congregation shall she open his mouth.
⁶ He shall inherit joy, and a crown of gladness,
And an everlasting name.
⁷ Foolish men shall not obtain her;
And sinners shall not see her.
⁸ She is far from pride;
And liars shall not remember her.
⁹ Praise is not comely in the mouth of a sinner;
For it was not sent him from the Lord.
¹⁰ For praise shall be spoken in wisdom;
And the Lord will prosper it.

¹¹ Say not thou, It is through the Lord that I fell away;
For thou shalt not do the things that he hateth.
¹² Say not thou, It is he that caused me to err;
For he hath no need of a sinful man.
¹³ The Lord hateth every abomination;
And they that fear him love it not.
¹⁴ He himself made man from the beginning,
And left him in the hand of his own counsel.
¹⁵ If thou wilt, thou shalt keep the commandments;
And to perform faithfulness is of thine own good pleasure.
¹⁶ He hath set fire and water before thee;
Thou shalt stretch forth thy hand unto whichsoever thou wilt.
¹⁷ Before man is life and death;
And whichsoever he liketh, it shall be given him.
¹⁸ For great is the wisdom of the Lord:
He is mighty in power, and beholdeth all things;
¹⁹ And his eyes are upon them that fear him;
And he will take knowledge of every work of man.
²⁰ He hath not commanded any man to be ungodly;
And he hath not given any man license to sin.

Neither delight in ungodly sons.
² If they multiply, delight not in them,

Except the fear of the Lord be with them.

³ Trust not thou in their life,
Neither rely on their condition:

For one is better than a thousand;
And to die childless than to have ungodly children.

⁴ For from one that hath understanding shall a city be peopled;
But a race of wicked men shall be made desolate.

⁵ Many such things have I seen with mine eyes;
And mine ear hath heard mightier things than these.

⁶ In the congregation of sinners shall a fire be kindled;
And in a disobedient nation wrath is kindled.

⁷ He was not pacified toward the giants of old time,
Who revolted in their strength.

⁸ He spared not those with whom Lot sojourned,
Whom he abhorred for their pride.

⁹ He pitied not the people of perdition,
Who were taken away in their sins.

¹⁰ And in like manner the six hundred thousand footmen,
Who were gathered together in the hardness of their hearts.

¹¹ Even if there be one stiff-necked person,
It is marvel if he shall be unpunished:

For mercy and wrath are with him;
He is mighty to forgive, and he poureth out wrath.

¹² As his mercy is great, so is his correction also:
He judgeth a man according to his works.

¹³ The sinner shall not escape with his plunder;
And the patience of the godly shall not be frustrate.

¹⁴ He will make room for every work of mercy;
Each man shall find according to his works.

¹⁷ Say not thou, I shall be hidden from the Lord;
And who shall remember me from on high?

I shall not be known among so many people;
For what is my soul in a boundless creation?

¹⁸ Behold, the heaven, and the heaven of heavens,
The deep, and the earth, shall be moved when he shall visit.

¹⁹ The mountains and the foundations of the earth together
Are shaken with trembling, when he looketh upon them.

²⁰ And no heart shall think upon these things:
And who shall conceive his ways?

²¹ And there is a tempest which no man shall see;
Yea, the more part of his works are hidden.

²² Who shall declare the works of his righteousness?
Or who shall endure them?

For his covenant is afar off.

²³ He that is wanting in understanding thinketh upon these things;
And an unwise and erring man thinketh follies.

²⁴ My son, hearken unto me, and learn knowledge,
And give heed to my words with thy heart.

²⁵ I will show forth instruction by weight,

And declare knowledge exactly.

²⁶ In the judgment of the Lord are his works from the beginning;
And from the making of them he disposed the parts thereof.

²⁷ He garnished his works forever,
And the beginnings of them unto their generations:
They neither hunger, nor are weary,
And they cease not from their works.

²⁸ No one thrusteth aside his neighbor;
And they shall never disobey his word.

²⁹ After this also the Lord looked upon the earth,
And filled it with his blessings.

³⁰ All manner of living things covered the face thereof;
And into it is their return.

17

¹ The Lord created man of the earth,
And turned him back unto it again.

² He gave them days by number, and a set time,
And gave them authority over the things that are thereon.

³ He endued them with strength proper to them;
And made them according to his own image.

⁴ He put the fear of man upon all flesh,
And gave him to have dominion over beasts and fowls.

⁶ Counsel, and tongue, and eyes,
Ears, and heart, gave he them to understand withal.

⁷ He filled them with the knowledge of wisdom,
And showed them good and evil.

⁸ He set his eye upon their hearts,
To show them the majesty of his works.

¹⁰ And they shall praise the name of his holiness,
That they may declare the majesty of his works.

¹¹ He added unto them knowledge,
And gave them a law of life for a heritage.

¹² He made an everlasting covenant with them,
And showed them his judgments.

¹³ Their eyes saw the majesty of his glory;
And their ear heard the glory of his voice.

¹⁴ And he said unto them, Beware of all unrighteousness;
And he gave them commandment, each man concerning his neighbor.

¹⁵ Their ways are ever before him;
They shall not be hidden from his eyes.

¹⁷ For every nation he appointed a ruler;
And Israel is the Lord's portion.

¹⁹ All their works are as the sun before him;
And his eyes are continually upon their ways.

²⁰ Their iniquities are not hidden from him;
And all their sins are before the Lord.

²² With him the alms of a man is as a signet;
And he will keep the bounty of a man as the apple of the eye.

²³ Afterward he will rise up and recompense them,
And render their recompense upon their head.
²⁴ Howbeit unto them that repent he granteth a return;
And he comforteth them that are losing patience.

²⁵ Return unto the Lord, and forsake sins:
Make thy prayer before his face, and lessen the offense.
²⁶ Turn again to the Most High, and turn away from iniquity;
And greatly hate the abominable thing.
²⁷ Who shall give praise to the Most High in Hades,
Instead of them who live and return thanks?
²⁸ Thanksgiving perisheth from the dead, as from one that is not:
He that is in life and health shall praise the Lord.
²⁹ How great is the mercy of the Lord,
And his forgiveness unto them that turn unto him!
³⁰ For all things cannot be in men,
Because the son of man is not immortal.
³¹ What is brighter than the sun? yet this faileth:
And an evil man will think on flesh and blood.
³² He looketh upon the power of the height of heaven:
And all men are earth and ashes.

18

¹ He that liveth forever created all things in common.
² The Lord alone shall be justified.
⁴ To none hath he given power to declare his works:
And who shall trace out his mighty deeds?
⁵ Who shall number the strength of his majesty?
And who shall also tell out his mercies?
⁶ As for the wondrous works of the Lord, it is not possible to take from them nor add to them,
Neither is it possible to track them out.
⁷ When a man hath finished, then he is but at the beginning;
And when he ceaseth, then shall he be in perplexity.
⁸ What is man, and whereto serveth he?
What is his good, and what is his evil?
⁹ The number of man's days at the most are a hundred years.
¹⁰ As a drop of water from the sea, and a pebble from the sand;
So are a few years in the day of eternity.
¹¹ For this cause the Lord was long-suffering over them,
And poured out his mercy upon them.
¹² He saw and perceived their end, that it is evil;
Therefore he multiplied his forgiveness.
¹³ The mercy of a man is upon his neighbor;
But the mercy of the Lord is upon all flesh;
Reproving, and chastening, and teaching,
And bringing again, as a shepherd doth his flock.
¹⁴ He hath mercy on them that accept chastening,
And that diligently seek after his judgments.

- 15 My son, to thy good deeds add no blemish;
And no grief of words in any of thy giving.
- 16 Shall not the dew assuage the scorching heat?
So is a word better than a gift.
- 17 Lo, is not a word better than a gift?
And both are with a gracious man.
- 18 A fool will upbraid ungraciously;
And the gift of an envious man consumeth the eyes.
- 19 Learn before thou speak;
And have a care of thy health or ever thou be sick.
- 20 Before judgment examine thyself;
And in the hour of visitation thou shalt find forgiveness.
- 21 Humble thyself before thou be sick;
And in the time of sins show repentance.
- 22 Let nothing hinder thee to pay thy vow in due time;
And wait not until death to be justified.
- 23 Before thou makest a vow, prepare thyself;
And be not as a man that tempteth the Lord.
- 24 Think upon the wrath that shall be in the days of the end,
And the time of vengeance, when he turneth away his face.
- 25 In the days of fullness remember the time of hunger,
And poverty and want in the days of wealth.
- 26 From morning until evening the time changeth;
And all things are speedy before the Lord.
- 27 A wise man will fear in everything;
And in days of sinning he will beware of offense.
- 28 Every man of understanding knoweth wisdom;
And he will give thanks unto him that found her.
- 29 They that were of understanding in sayings became also wise themselves,
And poured forth apt proverbs.
- 30 Go not after thy lusts;
And refrain thyself from thine appetites.
- 31 If thou give fully to thy soul the delight of her desire,
She will make thee the laughingstock of thine enemies.
- 32 Make not merry in much luxury;
Neither be tied to the expense thereof.
- 33 Be not made a beggar by banqueting upon borrowing,
When thou hast nothing in thy purse.

19

- 1 A workman that is a drunkard shall not become rich:
He that despiseth small things shall fall by little and little.
- 2 Wine and women will make men of understanding to fall away:
And he that cleaveth to harlots will be the more reckless.
- 3 Moths and worms shall have him to heritage;
And a reckless soul shall be taken away.

- ⁴ He that is hasty to trust is light-minded;
And he that sinneth shall offend against his own soul.
- ⁵ He that maketh merry in his heart shall be condemned:
- ⁶ And he that hateth talk hath the less wickedness.
- ⁷ Never repeat what is told thee,
And thou shalt fare never the worse.
- ⁸ Whether it be of friend or foe, tell it not;
And unless it is a sin to thee, reveal it not.
- ⁹ For he hath heard thee, and observed thee,
And when the time cometh he will hate thee.
- ¹⁰ Hast thou heard a word? let it die with thee:
Be of good courage, it will not burst thee.
- ¹¹ A fool will travail in pain with a word,
As a woman in labor with a child.
- ¹² As an arrow that sticketh in the flesh of the thigh,
So is a word in a fool's belly.
- ¹³ Reprove a friend; it may be he did it not:
And if he did something, that he may do it no more.
- ¹⁴ Reprove thy neighbor; it may be he said it not:
And if he hath said it, that he may not say it again.
- ¹⁵ Reprove a friend; for many times there is slander:
And trust not every word.
- ¹⁶ There is one that slippeth, and not from the heart:
And who is he that hath not sinned with his tongue?
- ¹⁷ Reprove thy neighbor before thou threaten him;
And give place to the law of the Most High.
- ²⁰ All wisdom is the fear of the Lord;
And in all wisdom is the doing of the law.
- ²² And the knowledge of wickedness is not wisdom;
And the prudence of sinners is not counsel.
- ²³ There is a wickedness, and the same is abomination;
And there is a fool wanting in wisdom.
- ²⁴ Better is one that hath small understanding, and feareth,
Than one that hath much prudence, and transgresseth the law.
- ²⁵ There is an exquisite subtlety, and the same is unjust;
And there is one that perverteth favor to gain a judgment.
- ²⁶ There is one that doeth wickedly, that hangeth down his head with mourning;
But inwardly he is full of deceit,
- ²⁷ Bowing down his face, and making as if he were deaf of one ear:
Where he is not known, he will be beforehand with thee.
- ²⁸ And if for want of power he be hindered from sinning,
If he find opportunity, he will do mischief.
- ²⁹ A man shall be known by his look,
And one that hath understanding shall be known by his face, when thou meetest him.
- ³⁰ A man's attire, and grinning laughter,
And gait, show what he is.

20

- ¹ There is a reproof that is not comely;
And there is a man that keepeth silence, and he is wise.
- ² How good is it to reprove, rather than to be wroth;
And he that maketh confession shall be kept back from hurt.
- ⁴ As is the lust of a eunuch to deflower a virgin;
So is he that executeth judgments with violence.
- ⁵ There is one that keepeth silence, and is found wise;
And there is one that is hated for his much talk.
- ⁶ There is one that keepeth silence, for he hath no answer to make;
And there is that keepeth silence, as knowing his time.
- ⁷ A wise man will be silent till his time come;
But the braggart and fool will overpass his time.
- ⁸ He that useth many words shall be abhorred;
And he that taketh to himself authority therein shall be hated.
- ⁹ There is a prosperity that a man findeth in misfortunes;
And there is a gain that turneth to loss.
- ¹⁰ There is a gift that shall not profit thee;
And there is a gift whose recompense is double.
- ¹¹ There is an abasement because of glory;
And there is that hath lifted up his head from a low estate.
- ¹² There is that buyeth much for a little,
And payeth for it again sevenfold.
- ¹³ He that is wise in words shall make himself beloved;
But the pleasantries of fools shall be wasted.
- ¹⁴ The gift of a fool shall not profit thee;
For his eyes are many instead of one.
- ¹⁵ He will give little, and upbraid much;
And he will open his mouth like a crier:
Today he will lend, and tomorrow he will ask it again:
Such a one is a hateful man.
- ¹⁶ The fool will say, I have no friend,
And I have no thanks for my good deeds;
They that eat my bread are of evil tongue.
- ¹⁷ How oft, and of how many, shall he be laughed to scorn!
- ¹⁸ A slip on a pavement is better than a slip with the tongue;
So the fall of the wicked shall come speedily.
- ¹⁹ A man without grace is as a tale out of season:
It will be continually in the mouth of the ignorant.
- ²⁰ A wise sentence from a fool's mouth will be rejected;
For he will not speak it in its season.
- ²¹ There is that is hindered from sinning through want;
And when he taketh rest, he shall not be troubled.
- ²² There is that destroyeth his soul through bashfulness;
And by a foolish countenance he will destroy it.
- ²³ There is that for bashfulness promiseth to his friend;
And he maketh him his enemy for nothing.

²⁴ A lie is a foul blot in a man:
It will be continually in the mouth of the ignorant.
²⁵ A thief is better than a man that is continually lying:
But they both shall inherit destruction.
²⁶ The disposition of a liar is dishonor;
And his shame is with him continually.

²⁷ He that is wise in words shall advance himself;
And one that is prudent will please great men.
²⁸ He that tilleth his land shall raise his heap high;
And he that pleaseth great men shall get pardon for iniquity.
²⁹ Presents and gifts blind the eyes of the wise,
And as a muzzle on the mouth, turn away reproofs.
³⁰ Wisdom that is hidden, and treasure that is out of sight,
What profit is in them both?
³¹ Better is a man that hideth his folly
Than a man that hideth his wisdom.

21

¹ My son, hast thou sinned? add no more thereto;
And make supplication for thy former sins.
² Flee from sin as from the face of a serpent;
For if thou draw nigh it will bite thee:
The teeth thereof are the teeth of a lion,
Slaying the souls of men.
³ All iniquity is as a two-edged sword;
Its stroke hath no healing.

⁴ Terror and violence will lay waste riches;
So the house of a haughty man shall be laid waste.
⁵ Supplication from a poor man's mouth reacheth to the ears of God,
And his judgment cometh speedily.
⁶ One that hateth reproof is in the path of the sinner;
And he that feareth the Lord will turn again in his heart.
⁷ He that is mighty in tongue is known afar off:
But the man of understanding knoweth when he slippeth.

⁸ He that buildeth his house with other men's money
Is like one that gathereth himself stones against winter.
⁹ The congregation of wicked men is as tow wrapped together;
And the end of them is a flame of fire.
¹⁰ The way of sinners is made smooth with stones;
And at the last end thereof is the pit of Hades.

¹¹ He that keepeth the law becometh master of the intent thereof;
And the end of the fear of the Lord is wisdom.
¹² He that is not clever will not be instructed;
And there is a cleverness which maketh bitterness to abound.
¹³ The knowledge of a wise man shall be made to abound as a flood;
And his counsel as a fountain of life.
¹⁴ The inward parts of a fool are like a broken vessel;
And he will hold no knowledge.

- ¹⁵ If a man of knowledge hear a wise word,
He will commend it, and add unto it:
The dissolute man heareth it, and it displeaseth him,
And he putteth it away behind his back.
- ¹⁶ The discourse of a fool is like a burden in the way;
But grace shall be found on the lips of the wise.
- ¹⁷ The mouth of the prudent man shall be sought for in the congregation;
And they will ponder his words in their heart.
- ¹⁸ As a house that is destroyed, so is wisdom to a fool;
And the knowledge of an unwise man is as talk without sense.
- ¹⁹ Instruction is as fetters on the feet of an unwise man,
And as manacles on the right hand.
- ²⁰ A fool lifteth up his voice with laughter;
But a clever man will scarce smile quietly.
- ²¹ Instruction is to a prudent man as an ornament of gold,
And as a bracelet upon his right arm.
- ²² The foot of a fool is soon in another man's house;
But a man of experience will be ashamed of entering.
- ²³ A foolish man peepeth in from the door of another man's house;
But a man that is instructed will stand without.
- ²⁴ It is a want of instruction in a man to listen at the door;
But the prudent man will be grieved with the disgrace.
- ²⁵ The lips of strangers will be grieved at these things;
But the words of prudent men will be weighed in the balance.
- ²⁶ The heart of fools is in their mouth;
But the mouth of wise men is their heart.
- ²⁷ When the ungodly curseth Satan,
He curseth his own soul.
- ²⁸ A whisperer defileth his own soul,
And shall be hated wheresoever he sojourneth.

22

- ¹ A slothful man is compared to a stone that is defiled;
And every one will hiss him out in his disgrace.
- ² A slothful man is compared to the filth of a dunghill:
Every man that taketh it up will shake out his hand.
- ³ A father hath shame in having begotten an uninstructed son;
And a foolish daughter is born to his loss.
- ⁴ A prudent daughter shall inherit a husband of her own;
And she that bringeth shame is the grief of him that begat her.
- ⁵ She that is bold bringeth shame upon father and husband;
And she shall be despised of them both.
- ⁶ Unseasonable discourse is as music in mourning;
But stripes and correction are wisdom at every season.
- ⁷ He that teacheth a fool is as one that glueth a potsherd together;

Even as one that waketh a sleeper out of a deep sleep.

⁸ He that discourseth to a fool is as one discoursing to a man that slumbereth;
And at the end he will say, What is it?

¹¹ Weep for the dead, for light hath failed him;
And weep for a fool, for understanding hath failed him:
Weep more sweetly for the dead, because he hath found rest;
But the life of the fool is worse than death.

¹² Seven days are the days of mourning for the dead;
But for a fool and an ungodly man, all the days of his life.

¹³ Talk not much with a foolish man,
And go not to one that hath no understanding:
Beware of him, lest thou have trouble;
And so thou shalt not be defiled in his onslaught:
Turn aside from him, and thou shalt find rest;
And so thou shalt not be wearied in his madness.

¹⁴ What shall be heavier than lead?
And what is the name thereof, but a fool?

¹⁵ Sand, and salt, and a mass of iron, is easier to bear,
Than a man without understanding.

¹⁶ Timber girt and bound into a building shall not be loosed with shaking:
So a heart established in due season on well advised counsel shall not be afraid.

¹⁷ A heart settled upon a thoughtful understanding
Is as an ornament of plaster on a polished wall.

¹⁸ Palisades set on a high place will not stand against the wind:
So a fearful heart in the imagination of a fool will not stand against any fear.

¹⁹ He that pricketh the eye will make tears to fall;
And he that pricketh the heart maketh it to show feeling.

²⁰ Whoso casteth a stone at birds frighteneth them away;
And he that upbraideth a friend will dissolve friendship.

²¹ If thou hast drawn a sword against a friend, despair not;
For there may be a returning.

²² If thou hast opened thy mouth against a friend, fear not;
For there may be a reconciling;

Except it be for upbraiding, and arrogance, and disclosing of a secret, and a treacherous blow:
For these things every friend will flee.

²³ Gain trust with thy neighbor in his poverty,
That in his prosperity thou mayest have gladness:
Abide steadfast unto him in the time of his affliction,
That thou mayest be heir with him in his inheritance.

²⁴ Before fire is the vapor and smoke of a furnace;
So revilings before bloodshed.

²⁵ I will not be ashamed to shelter a friend;
And I will not hide myself from his face:

²⁶ And if any evil happen unto me because of him,
Everyone that heareth it will beware of him.

²⁷ Who shall set a watch over my mouth,

And a seal of shrewdness upon my lips,
That I fall not from it, and that my tongue destroy me not?

23

¹ O Lord, Father and Master of my life,
Abandon me not to their counsel:
Suffer me not to fall by them.

² Who will set scourges over my thought,
And a discipline of wisdom over my heart?
That they spare me not for mine ignorances,
And my heart pass not by their sins:

³ That mine ignorances be not multiplied,
And my sins abound not;
And I shall fall before mine adversaries,
And mine enemy rejoice over me.

⁴ O Lord, Father and God of my life,
Give me not a proud look,

⁵ And turn away concupiscence from me.

⁶ Let not greediness and chambering overtake me;
And give me not over to a shameless mind.

⁷ Hear ye, my children, the discipline of the mouth;
And he that keepeth it shall not be taken.

⁸ The sinner shall be overtaken in his lips;
And the reviler and the proud man shall stumble therein.

⁹ Accustom not thy mouth to an oath;
And be not accustomed to the naming of the Holy One.

¹⁰ For as a servant that is continually scourged shall not lack a bruise,
So he also that sweareth and nameth God continually shall not be cleansed from sin.

¹¹ A man of many oaths shall be filled with iniquity;
And the scourge shall not depart from his house:
If he shall offend, his sin shall be upon him;
And if he disregard it, he hath sinned doubly;
And if he hath sworn in vain, he shall not be justified;
For his house shall be filled with calamities.

¹² There is a manner of speech that is clothed about with death:
Let it not be found in the heritage of Jacob;
For all these things shall be far from the godly,
And they shall not wallow in sins.

¹³ Accustom not thy mouth to gross rudeness,
For therein is the word of sin.

¹⁴ Remember thy father and thy mother,
For thou sittest in the midst of great men;
That thou be not forgetful before them,
And become a fool by thy custom;
So shalt thou wish that thou hadst not been born,
And curse the day of thy nativity.

¹⁵ A man that is accustomed to words of reproach
Will not be corrected all the days of his life.

¹⁶ Two sorts of men multiply sins,

And the third will bring wrath:
A hot mind, as a burning fire, will not be quenched till it be consumed:
A fornicator in the body of his flesh will never cease till he hath burned out the fire.
¹⁷ All bread is sweet to a fornicator:
He will not leave off till he die.
¹⁸ A man that goeth astray from his own bed,
Saying in his heart, Who seeth me?
Darkness is round about me, and the walls hide me,
And no man seeth me; of whom am I afraid?
The Most High will not remember my sins;
¹⁹ —And the eyes of men are his terror,
And he knoweth not that the eyes of the Lord are ten thousand times brighter than the sun,
Beholding all the ways of men,
And looking into secret places.
²⁰ All things were known unto him or ever they were created;
And in like manner also after they were perfected.
²¹ This man shall be punished in the streets of the city;
And where he suspected not he shall be taken.
²² So also a wife that leaveth her husband,
And bringeth in an heir by a stranger.
²³ For first, she was disobedient in the law of the Most High;
And secondly, she trespassed against her own husband;
And thirdly, she played the adulteress in whoredom,
And brought in children by a stranger.
²⁴ She shall be brought out into the congregation;
And upon her children shall there be visitation.
²⁵ Her children shall not spread into roots,
And her branches shall bear no fruit.
²⁶ She shall leave her memory for a curse;
And her reproach shall not be blotted out.
²⁷ And they that are left behind shall know that there is nothing better than the fear of the Lord,
And nothing sweeter than to take heed unto the commandments of the Lord.

And shall glory in the midst of her people.
² In the congregation of the Most High shall she open her mouth,
And glory in the presence of his power.
³ I came forth from the mouth of the Most High,
And covered the earth as a mist.
⁴ I dwelt in high places,
And my throne is in the pillar of the cloud.
⁵ Alone I compassed the circuit of heaven,
And walked in the depth of the abyss.
⁶ In the waves of the sea, and in all the earth,
And in every people and nation, I gat a possession.
⁷ With all these I sought rest;
And in whose inheritance shall I lodge?
⁸ Then the Creator of all things gave me a commandment;

And he that created me made my tabernacle to rest,
And said, Let thy tabernacle be in Jacob,
And thine inheritance in Israel.

⁹ He created me from the beginning before the world;
And to the end I shall not fail.

¹⁰ In the holy tabernacle I ministered before him;
And so was I established in Zion.

¹¹ In the beloved city likewise he gave me rest;
And in Jerusalem was my authority.

¹² And I took root in a people that was glorified,
Even in the portion of the Lord's own inheritance.

¹³ I was exalted like a cedar in Lebanon,
And as a cypress tree on the mountains of Hermon.

¹⁴ I was exalted like a palm tree on the sea shore,
And as rose plants in Jericho,
And as a fair olive tree in the plain;
And I was exalted as a plane tree.

¹⁵ As cinnamon and aspalathus, I have given a scent of perfumes;
And as choice myrrh, I spread abroad a pleasant odor;
As galbanum, and onyx, and stacte,
And as the fume of frankincense in the tabernacle.

¹⁶ As the terebinth I stretched out my branches;
And my branches are branches of glory and grace.

¹⁷ As the vine I put forth grace;
And my flowers are the fruit of glory and riches.

¹⁹ Come unto me, ye that are desirous of me,
And be ye filled with my produce.

²⁰ For my memorial is sweeter than honey,
And mine inheritance than the honeycomb.

²¹ They that eat me shall yet be hungry;
And they that drink me shall yet be thirsty.

²² He that obeyeth me shall not be ashamed;
And they that work in me shall not do amiss.

²³ All these things are the book of the covenant of the Most High God,
Even the law which Moses commanded us for a heritage unto the assemblies of Jacob.

²⁵ It is he that maketh wisdom abundant, as Pishon,
And as Tigris in the days of new fruits;

²⁶ That maketh understanding full as Euphrates,
And as Jordan in the days of harvest;

²⁷ That maketh instruction to shine forth as the light,
As Gihon in the days of vintage.

²⁸ The first man knew her not perfectly;
And in like manner the last hath not traced her out.

²⁹ For her thoughts are filled from the sea,
And her counsels from the great deep.

³⁰ And I came out as a stream from a river,
And as a conduit into a garden.

³¹ I said, I will water my garden,
And will water abundantly my garden bed;

And, lo, my stream became a river,
And my river became a sea.
³² I will yet bring instruction to light as the morning,
And will make these things to shine forth afar off.
³³ I will yet pour out doctrine as prophecy,
And leave it unto generations of ages.
³⁴ Behold that I have not labored for myself only,
But for all them that diligently seek her.

25

¹ In three things I was beautified,
And stood up beautiful before the Lord and men:
The concord of brethren, and friendship of neighbors,
And a woman and her husband that walk together in agreement.
² But three sorts of men my soul hateth,
And I am greatly offended at their life:
A poor man that is haughty, and a rich man that is a liar,
And an old man that is an adulterer lacking understanding.
³ In thy youth thou hast not gathered,
And how shouldest thou find in thine old age?
⁴ How beautiful a thing is judgment for gray hairs,
And for elders to know counsel!
⁵ How beautiful is the wisdom of old men,
And thought and counsel to men that are in honor!
⁶ Much experience is the crown of old men;
And their glorying is the fear of the Lord.
⁷ There are nine things that I have thought of, and in my heart counted happy;
And the tenth I will utter with my tongue:
A man that hath joy of his children;
A man that liveth and looketh upon the fall of his enemies:
⁸ Happy is he that dwelleth with a wife of understanding;
And he that hath not slipped with his tongue;
And he that hath not served a man that is unworthy of him:
⁹ Happy is he that hath found prudence;
And he that discourseth in the ears of them that listen.
¹⁰ How great is he that hath found wisdom!
Yet is there none above him that feareth the Lord.
¹¹ The fear of the Lord passeth all things:
He that holdeth it, to whom shall he be likened?
¹³ Give me any plague but the plague of the heart;
And any wickedness but the wickedness of a woman;
¹⁴ Any calamity, but a calamity from them that hate me;
And any vengeance, but the vengeance of enemies.
¹⁵ There is no head above the head of a serpent;
And there is no wrath above the wrath of an enemy.
¹⁶ I will rather dwell with a lion and a dragon,

Than keep house with a wicked woman.
¹⁷ The wickedness of a woman changeth her look,
And darkeneth her countenance as a bear doth.
¹⁸ Her husband shall sit at meat among his neighbors,
And when he heareth it he sigheth bitterly.
¹⁹ All malice is but little to the malice of a woman:
Let the portion of a sinner fall on her.
²⁰ As the going up a sandy way is to the feet of the aged,
So is a wife full of words to a quiet man.
²¹ Throw not thyself upon the beauty of a woman;
And desire not a woman for her beauty.
²² There is anger, and impudence, and great reproach,
If a woman maintain her husband.
²³ A wicked woman is abasement of heart,
And sadness of countenance, and a wounded heart:
A woman that will not make her husband happy
Is as hands that hang down, and palsied knees.
²⁴ From a woman was the beginning of sin;
And because of her we all die.
²⁵ Give not water an outlet;
Neither to a wicked woman freedom of speech.
²⁶ If she go not as thou wouldest have her,
Cut her off from thy flesh.

And the number of his days shall be twofold.
² A brave woman rejoiceth her husband;
And he shall fulfill his years in peace.
³ A good wife is a good portion:
She shall be given in the portion of such as fear the Lord.
⁴ Whether a man be rich or poor,
A good heart maketh at all times a cheerful countenance.

⁵ Of three things my heart was afraid;
And concerning the fourth kind I made supplication:
The slander of a city, and the assembly of a multitude, and a false accusation:
All these are more grievous than death.
⁶ A grief of heart and sorrow is a woman that is jealous of another woman,
And the scourge of a tongue communicating to all.
⁷ A wicked woman is as a yoke of oxen shaken to and fro:
He that taketh hold of her is as one that graspeth a scorpion.
⁸ A drunken woman causeth great wrath;
And she will not cover her own shame.
⁹ The whoredom of a woman is in the lifting up of her eyes;
And it shall be known by her eyelids.
¹⁰ Keep strict watch on a headstrong daughter,
Lest she find liberty for herself, and use it.
¹¹ Look well after an impudent eye;
And marvel not if it trespass against thee.

¹² She will open her mouth, as a thirsty traveler,
And drink of every water that is near:
At every post will she sit down,
And open her quiver against any arrow.

¹³ The grace of a wife will delight her husband;
And her knowledge will fatten his bones.

¹⁴ A silent woman is a gift of the Lord;
And there is nothing so much worth as a well-instructed soul.

¹⁵ A shamefaced woman is grace upon grace;
And there is no price worthy of a continent soul.

¹⁶ As the sun when it ariseth in the highest places of the Lord,
So is the beauty of a good wife in the ordering of a man's house.

¹⁷ As the lamp that shineth upon the holy candlestick,
So is the beauty of the face in ripe age.

¹⁸ As the golden pillars are upon a base of silver,
So are beautiful feet with the breasts of one that is steadfast.

²⁸ For two things my heart is grieved;
And for the third anger cometh upon me:
A man of war that suffereth for poverty;
And men of understanding that are counted as refuse:
One that turneth back from righteousness to sin;
The Lord shall prepare him for the sword.

²⁹ A merchant shall hardly keep himself from wrong doing;
And a huckster shall not be acquitted of sin.

¹ Many have sinned for a thing indifferent;
And he that seeketh to multiply gain will turn his eye away.

² A nail will stick fast between the joinings of stones;
And sin will thrust itself in between buying and selling.

³ Unless a man hold on diligently in the fear of the Lord,
His house shall soon be overthrown.

⁴ In the shaking of a sieve, the refuse remaineth;
So the filth of man in his reasoning.

⁵ The furnace will prove the potter's vessels;
And the trial of a man is in his reasoning.

⁶ The fruit of a tree declareth the husbandry thereof;
So is the utterance of the thought of the heart of a man.

⁷ Praise no man before thou hearest him reason;
For this is the trial of men.

⁸ If thou followest righteousness, thou shalt obtain her,
And put her on, as a long robe of glory.

⁹ Birds will resort unto their like;
And truth will return unto them that practice her.

¹⁰ The lion lieth in wait for prey;
So doth sin for them that work iniquity.

- 11 The discourse of a godly man is always wisdom:
But the foolish man changeth as the moon.
- 12 Among men void of understanding observe the opportunity;
But stay continually among the thoughtful.
- 13 The discourse of fools is an offense;
And their laughter is in the wantonness of sin.
- 14 The talk of a man of many oaths will make the hair stand upright;
And their strife maketh one stop his ears.
- 15 The strife of the proud is a shedding of blood;
And their reviling of each other is a grievous thing to hear.
- 16 He that revealeth secrets destroyeth credit,
And shall not find a friend to his mind.
- 17 Love a friend, and keep faith with him:
But if thou reveal his secrets,
Thou shalt not pursue after him;
- 18 For as a man hath destroyed his enemy,
So hast thou destroyed the friendship of thy neighbor.
- 19 And as a bird which thou hast loosed out of thy hand,
So hast thou let thy neighbor go, and thou wilt not catch him again:
- 20 Pursue him not, for he is gone far away,
And hath escaped as a gazelle out of the snare.
- 21 For a wound may be bound up, and after reviling there may be a reconciliation;
But he that revealeth secrets hath lost hope.
- 22 One that winketh with the eye contriveth evil things;
And no man will remove him from it.
- 23 When thou art present, he will speak sweetly,
And will admire thy words;
But afterward he will writhe his mouth,
And set a trap for thee in thy words.
- 24 I have hated many things, but nothing like him;
And the Lord will hate him.
- 25 One that casteth a stone on high casteth it on his own head;
And a deceitful stroke will open wounds.
- 26 He that diggeth a pit shall fall into it;
And he that setteth a snare shall be taken therein.
- 27 He that doeth evil things, they shall roll upon him,
And he shall not know whence they have come to him.
- 28 Mockery and reproach are from the haughty;
And vengeance, as a lion, shall lie in wait for him.
- 29 They that rejoice at the fall of the godly shall be taken in a snare;
And anguish shall consume them before they die.
- 30 Wrath and anger, these also are abominations;
And a sinful man shall possess them.

28

- 1 He that taketh vengeance shall find vengeance from the Lord;
And he will surely make firm his sins.

- ² Forgive thy neighbor the hurt that he hath done thee;
And then thy sins shall be pardoned when thou prayest.
- ³ Man cherisheth anger against man;
And doth he seek healing from the Lord?
- ⁴ Upon a man like himself he hath no mercy;
And doth he make supplication for his own sins?
- ⁵ He being himself flesh nourisheth wrath:
Who shall make atonement for his sins?
- ⁶ Remember thy last end, and cease from enmity:
Remember corruption and death, and abide in the commandments.
- ⁷ Remember the commandments, and be not wroth with thy neighbor;
And remember the covenant of the Highest, and wink at ignorance.
- ⁸ Abstain from strife, and thou shalt diminish thy sins:
For a passionate man will kindle strife;
- ⁹ And a man that is a sinner will trouble friends,
And will make debate among them that are at peace.
- ¹⁰ As is the fuel of the fire, so will it burn;
And as the stoutness of the strife is, so will it burn:
As is the strength of the man, so will be his wrath;
And as is his wealth, so will he exalt his anger.
- ¹¹ A contention begun in haste kindleth a fire;
And a hasty fighting sheddeth blood.
- ¹² If thou blow a spark, it shall burn;
And if thou spit upon it, it shall be quenched:
And both these shall come out of thy mouth.
- ¹³ Curse the whisperer and double-tongued:
For he hath destroyed many that were at peace.
- ¹⁴ A third person's tongue hath shaken many,
And dispersed them from nation to nation;
And it hath pulled down strong cities,
And overthrown the houses of great men.
- ¹⁵ A third person's tongue hath cast out brave women,
And deprived them of their labors.
- ¹⁶ He that hearkeneth unto it shall not find rest,
Nor shall he dwell quietly.
- ¹⁷ The stroke of a whip maketh a mark in the flesh;
But the stroke of a tongue will break bones.
- ¹⁸ Many have fallen by the edge of the sword:
Yet not so many as they that have fallen because of the tongue.
- ¹⁹ Happy is he that is sheltered from it,
That hath not passed through the wrath thereof;
That hath not drawn its yoke,
And hath not been bound with its bands.
- ²⁰ For the yoke thereof is a yoke of iron,
And the bands thereof are bands of brass.
- ²¹ The death thereof is an evil death;
And Hades were better than it.
- ²² It shall not have rule over godly men;
And they shall not be burned in its flame.

²³ They that forsake the Lord shall fall into it;
And it shall burn among them, and shall not be quenched:
It shall be sent forth upon them as a lion;
And as a leopard it shall destroy them.
²⁴ Look that thou hedge thy possession about with thorns;
Bind up thy silver and thy gold;
²⁵ And make a balance and a weight for thy words;
And make a door and a bar for thy mouth.
²⁶ Take heed lest thou slip therein;
Lest thou fall before one that lieth in wait.

29

¹ He that showeth mercy will lend unto his neighbor;
And he that strengtheneth him with his hand keepeth the commandments.
² Lend to thy neighbor in time of his need;
And pay thou thy neighbor again in due season.
³ Confirm thy word, and keep faith with him;
And at all seasons thou shalt find what thou needest.
⁴ Many have reckoned a loan as a windfall,
And have given trouble to those that helped them.
⁵ Till he hath received, he will kiss a man's hands;
And for his neighbor's money he will speak humbly:
And when payment is due, he will prolong the time,
And return words of heaviness, and complain of the times.
⁶ If he prevail, he shall hardly receive the half;
And he will count it as a windfall:
If not, he hath deprived him of his money,
And he hath gotten him for an enemy without cause:
He will pay him with cursings and railings;
And for honor he will pay him disgrace.
⁷ Many on account of men's ill-dealing have turned away;
They have feared to be defrauded for nought.
⁸ Howbeit with a man in poor estate be long-suffering;
And let him not wait for thine alms.
⁹ Help a poor man for the commandment's sake;
And according to his need send him not empty away.
¹⁰ Lose thy money for a brother and a friend;
And let it not rust under the stone to be lost.
¹¹ Bestow thy treasure according to the commandments of the Most High;
And it shall profit thee more than gold.
¹² Shut up alms in thy store-chambers;
And it shall deliver thee out of all affliction:
¹³ It shall fight for thee against thine enemy
Better than a mighty shield and a ponderous spear.

¹⁴ A good man will be surety for his neighbor;
And he that hath lost shame will fail him.
¹⁵ Forget not the good offices of thy surety;
For he hath given his life for thee.
¹⁶ A sinner will overthrow the good estate of his surety;

¹⁷ And he that is of an unthankful mind will fail him that delivered him.

¹⁸ Suretyship hath undone many that were prospering,

And shaken them as a wave of the sea:

Mighty men hath it driven from their homes;

And they wandered among strange nations.

¹⁹ A sinner that falleth into suretyship,

And undertaketh contracts for work, shall fall into lawsuits.

²⁰ Help thy neighbor according to thy power,

And take heed to thyself that thou fall not to the same.

²¹ The chief thing for life is water, and bread,

And a garment, and a house to cover shame.

²² Better is the life of a poor man under a shelter of logs,

Than sumptuous fare in another man's house.

²³ With little or with much, be well satisfied.

²⁴ It is a miserable life to go from house to house:

And where thou art a sojourner, thou shalt not dare to open thy mouth.

²⁵ Thou shalt entertain, and give to drink, and have no thanks:

And besides this thou shalt hear bitter words.

²⁶ Come hither, thou sojourner, furnish a table,

And if thou hast aught in thy hand, feed me with it.

²⁷ Go forth, thou sojourner, from the face of honor;

My brother is come to be my guest; I have need of my house.

²⁸ These things are grievous to a man of understanding;

The upbraiding of houseroom, and the reproaching of the moneylender.

30

¹ He that loveth his son will continue to lay stripes upon him,
That he may have joy of him in the end.

² He that chastiseth his son shall have profit of him,
And shall glory of him among his acquaintance.

³ He that teacheth his son shall provoke his enemy to jealousy;
And before friends he shall rejoice of him.

⁴ His father dieth, and is as though he had not died;
For he hath left one behind him like himself.

⁵ In his life, he saw and rejoiced in him;
And when he died, he sorrowed not:

⁶ He left behind him an avenger against his enemies,
And one to requite kindness to his friends.

⁷ He that maketh too much of his son shall bind up his wounds;
And his heart will be troubled at every cry.

⁸ An unbroken horse becometh stubborn;
And a son left at large becometh headstrong.

⁹ Cocker thy child, and he shall make thee afraid:
Play with him, and he will grieve thee.

¹⁰ Laugh not with him, lest thou have sorrow with him;
And thou shalt gnash thy teeth in the end.

¹¹ Give him no liberty in his youth,
And wink not at his follies.

¹² Bow down his neck in his youth,

And beat him on the sides while he is a child,
Lest he wax stubborn, and be disobedient unto thee;
And there shall be sorrow to thy soul.

¹³ Chastise thy son, and take pains with him,
Lest his shameless behavior be an offense unto thee.

¹⁴ Better is a poor man, being sound and strong of constitution,
Than a rich man that is plagued in his body.

¹⁵ Health and a good constitution are better than all gold;
And a strong body than wealth without measure.

¹⁶ There is no riches better than health of body;
And there is no gladness above the joy of the heart.

¹⁷ Death is better than a bitter life,
And eternal rest than a continual sickness.

¹⁸ Good things poured out upon a mouth that is closed
Are as messes of meat laid upon a grave.

¹⁹ What doth an offering profit an idol?

For neither shall it eat nor smell:
So is he that is afflicted of the Lord,

²⁰ Seeing with his eyes and groaning,
As a eunuch embracing a virgin and groaning.

²¹ Give not over thy soul to sorrow;
And afflict not thyself in thine own counsel.

²² Gladness of heart is the life of a man;
And the joyfulness of a man is length of days.

²³ Love thine own soul, and comfort thy heart:
And remove sorrow far from thee;
For sorrow hath destroyed many,
And there is no profit therein.

²⁴ Envy and wrath shorten a man's days;
And care bringeth old age before the time.

²⁵ A cheerful and good heart
Will have a care of his meat and diet.

31

¹ Wakefulness that cometh of riches consumeth the flesh,
And the anxiety thereof putteth away sleep.

² Wakeful anxiety will crave slumber;
And in a sore disease sleep will be broken.

³ A rich man toileth in gathering money together;
And when he resteth, he is filled with his good things.

⁴ A poor man toileth in lack of substance;
And when he resteth, he becometh needy.

⁵ He that loveth gold shall not be justified;
And he that followeth destruction shall himself have his fill of it.

⁶ Many have been given over to ruin for the sake of gold;
And their perdition meeteth them face to face.

⁷ It is a stumbling block unto them that sacrifice unto it;
And every fool shall be taken therewith.

- ⁸ Blessed is the rich that is found without blemish,
And that goeth not after gold.
- ⁹ Who is he? and we will call him blessed:
For wonderful things hath he done among his people.
- ¹⁰ Who hath been tried thereby, and found perfect?
Then let him glory.
Who hath had the power to transgress, and hath not transgressed?
And to do evil, and hath not done it?
- ¹¹ His goods shall be made sure,
And the congregation shall declare his alms.
- ¹² Sittest thou at a great table? be not greedy upon it,
And say not, Many are the things upon it.
- ¹³ Remember that an evil eye is a wicked thing:
What hath been created more evil than an eye?
Therefore it sheddeth tears from every face.
- ¹⁴ Stretch not thy hand whithersoever it looketh,
And thrust not thyself with it into the dish.
- ¹⁵ Consider thy neighbor's liking by thine own;
And be discreet in every point.
- ¹⁶ Eat, as becometh a man, those things which are set before thee;
And eat not greedily, lest thou be hated.
- ¹⁷ Be first to leave off for manners' sake;
And be not insatiable, lest thou offend.
- ¹⁸ And if thou sittest among many,
Reach not out thy hand before them.
- ¹⁹ How sufficient to a well-mannered man is a very little,
And he doth not breathe hard upon his bed.
- ²⁰ Healthy sleep cometh of moderate eating;
He riseth early, and his wits are with him:
The pain of wakefulness, and colic,
And griping, are with an insatiable man.
- ²¹ And if thou hast been forced to eat,
Rise up in the midst thereof, and thou shalt have rest.
- ²² Hear me, my son, and despise me not,
And at the last thou shalt find my words true:
In all thy works be quick,
And no disease shall come unto thee.
- ²³ Him that is liberal of his meat the lips shall bless;
And the testimony of his excellence shall be believed.
- ²⁴ Him that is a niggard of his meat the city shall murmur at;
And the testimony of his niggardness shall be sure.
- ²⁵ Show not thyself valiant in wine;
For wine hath destroyed many.
- ²⁶ The furnace proveth the temper of steel by dipping;
So doth wine prove hearts in the quarreling of the proud.
- ²⁷ Wine is as good as life to men,
If thou drink it in its measure:
What life is there to a man that is without wine?

And it hath been created to make men glad.

²⁸ Wine drunk in season and to satisfy
Is joy of heart, and gladness of soul:

²⁹ Wine drunk largely is bitterness of soul,
With provocation and conflict.

³⁰ Drunkenness increaseth the rage of a fool unto his hurt;
It diminisheth strength, and addeth wounds.

³¹ Rebuke not thy neighbor at a banquet of wine,
Neither set him at nought in his mirth:
Speak not unto him a word of reproach,
And press not upon him by asking back a debt.

32

¹ Have they made thee ruler of a feast?

Be not lifted up,
Be thou among them as one of them;
Take thought for them, and so sit down.

² And when thou hast done all thy office, take thy place,
That thou mayest be gladdened on their account,
And receive a crown for thy well ordering.

³ Speak, thou that art the elder, for it becometh thee, but with sound knowledge;
And hinder not music.

⁴ Pour not out talk where there is a performance of music,
And display not thy wisdom out of season.

⁵ As a signet of carbuncle in a setting of gold,
So is a concert of music in a banquet of wine.

⁶ As a signet of emerald in a work of gold,
So is a strain of music with pleasant wine.

⁷ Speak, young man, if there be need of thee;
Yet scarcely if thou be twice asked.

⁸ Sum up thy speech, many things in few words;
Be as one that knoweth and yet holdeth his tongue.

⁹ If thou be among great men, behave not as their equal;
And when another is speaking, make not much babbling.

¹⁰ Before thunder speedeth lightning;
And before a shamefaced man favor shall go forth.

¹¹ Rise up betimes, and be not the last;
Get thee home quickly and loiter not:

¹² There take thy pastime, and do what is in thy heart;
And sin not by proud speech:

¹³ And for these things bless him that made thee,
And giveth thee to drink freely of his good things.

¹⁴ He that feareth the Lord will receive his discipline;
And they that seek him early shall find favor.

¹⁵ He that seeketh the law shall be filled therewith:
But the hypocrite shall stumble thereat.

¹⁶ They that fear the Lord shall find judgment,

And shall kindle righteous acts as a light.

¹⁷ A sinful man shunneth reproof,
And will find a judgment according to his will.

¹⁸ A man of counsel will not neglect a thought;
A strange and proud man will not crouch in fear,
Even after he hath done a thing by himself without counsel.

¹⁹ Do nothing without counsel;
And when thou hast once done, repent not.

²⁰ Go not in a way of conflict;
And stumble not in stony places.

²¹ Be not confident in a smooth way.

²² And beware of thine own children.

²³ In every work trust thine own soul;
For this is the keeping of the commandments.

²⁴ He that believeth the law giveth heed to the commandment;
And he that trusteth in the Lord shall suffer no loss.

33

¹ There shall no evil happen unto him that feareth the Lord;
But in temptation once and again will he deliver him.

² A wise man will not hate the law;
But he that is a hypocrite therein is as a ship in a storm.

³ A man of understanding will put his trust in the law;
And the law is faithful unto him, as when one asketh at the oracle.

⁴ Prepare thy speech, and so shalt thou be heard;
Bind up instruction, and make thine answer.

⁵ The heart of a fool is as a cartwheel;
And his thoughts like a rolling axletree.

⁶ A stallion horse is as a mocking friend;
He neigheth under everyone that sitteth upon him.

⁷ Why doth one day excel another,
When all the light of every day in the year is of the sun?

⁸ By the knowledge of the Lord they were distinguished;
And he varied seasons and feasts:

⁹ Some of them he exalted and hallowed,
And some of them hath he made ordinary days.

¹⁰ And all men are from the ground,
And Adam was created of earth.

¹¹ In the abundance of his knowledge the Lord distinguished them,
And made their ways various:

¹² Some of them he blessed and exalted,
And some of them he hallowed and brought nigh to himself:
Some of them he cursed and brought low,
And overthrew them from their place.

¹³ As the clay of the potter in his hand,
All his ways are according to his good pleasure;
So men are in the hand of him that made them,

To render unto them according to his judgment.

¹⁴ Good is set over against evil,

And life over against death:

So is the sinner over against the godly.

¹⁵ And thus look upon all the works of the Most High;

Two and two, one against another.

¹⁶ And I waked up last,

As one that gleaneth after the grape-gatherers:

By the blessing of the Lord I gat before them,

And filled my winepress as one that gathereth grapes.

¹⁷ Consider that I labored not for myself alone,

But for all them that seek instruction.

¹⁸ Hear me, ye great men of the people,

And hearken with your ears, ye rulers of the congregation.

¹⁹ To son and wife, to brother and friend,

Give not power over thee while thou livest;

And give not thy goods to another,

Lest thou repent and make supplication for them again.

²⁰ While thou yet livest, and breath is in thee,

Give not thyself over to anyone.

²¹ For better it is that thy children should supplicate thee,

Than that thou shouldest look to the hand of thy sons.

²² In all thy works keep the upper hand;

Bring not a stain on thine honor.

²³ In the day that thou endest the days of thy life,

And in the time of death, distribute thine inheritance.

²⁴ Fodder, a stick, and burdens, for an ass;

Bread, and discipline, and work, for a servant.

²⁵ Set thy servant to work, and thou shalt find rest:

Leave his hands idle, and he will seek liberty.

²⁶ Yoke and thong will bow the neck:

And for an evil servant there are racks and tortures.

²⁷ Send him to labor, that he be not idle;

For idleness teacheth much mischief.

²⁸ Set him to work, as is fit for him;

And if he obey not, make his fetters heavy.

²⁹ And be not excessive toward any;

And without judgment do nothing.

³⁰ If thou hast a servant, let him be as thyself,

Because thou hast bought him with blood.

³¹ If thou hast a servant, treat him as thyself;

For as thine own soul wilt thou have need of him:

If thou treat him ill, and he depart and run away,

Which way wilt thou go to seek him?

34

¹ Vain and false hopes are for a man void of understanding;
And dreams give wings to fools.

² As one that catcheth at a shadow, and followeth after the wind,
So is he that setteth his mind on dreams.

³ The vision of dreams is as this thing against that,
The likeness of a face over against a face.

⁴ Of an unclean thing what shall be cleansed?
And of that which is false what shall be true?

⁵ Divinations, and soothsayings, and dreams, are vain:
And the heart fancieth, as a woman's in travail.

⁶ If they be not sent from the Most High in thy visitation,
Give not thy heart unto them.

⁷ For dreams have led many astray:
And they have failed by putting their hope in them.

⁸ Without lying shall the law be accomplished;
And wisdom is perfection to a faithful mouth.

⁹ A well-instructed man knoweth many things;
And he that hath much experience will declare understanding.

¹⁰ He that hath no experience knoweth few things:
But he that hath wandered shall increase his skill.

¹¹ In my wandering I have seen many things;
And more than my words is my understanding.

¹² Ofttimes was I in danger even unto death;
And I was preserved because of these things.

¹³ The spirit of those that fear the Lord shall live;
For their hope is upon him that saveth them.

¹⁴ Whoso feareth the Lord shall not be afraid, and shall not play the coward;
For he is his hope.

¹⁵ Blessed is the soul of him that feareth the Lord:
To whom doth he give heed? and who is his stay?

¹⁶ The eyes of the Lord are upon them that love him,
A mighty protection and strong stay,
A cover from the hot blast, and a cover from the noonday,
A guard from stumbling, and a succor from falling.

¹⁷ He raiseth up the soul, and enlighteneth the eyes:
He giveth healing, life, and blessing.

¹⁸ He that sacrificeth of a thing wrongfully gotten, his offering is made in mockery;
And the mockeries of wicked men are not well-pleasing.

¹⁹ The Most High hath no pleasure in the offerings of the ungodly;
Neither is he pacified for sins by the multitude of sacrifices.

²⁰ As one that killeth the son before his father's eyes
Is he that bringeth a sacrifice from the goods of the poor.

²¹ The bread of the needy is the life of the poor:
He that depriveth him thereof is a man of blood.

²² As one that slayeth his neighbor is he that taketh away his living;
And as a shedder of blood is he that depriveth a hireling of his hire.

²³ One building, and another pulling down,
What profit have they had but toil?

²⁴ One praying, and another cursing,
Whose voice will the Lord listen to?
²⁵ He that washeth himself after touching a dead body, and toucheth it again,
What profit hath he in his washing?
²⁶ Even so a man fasting for his sins,
And going again, and doing the same;
Who will listen to his prayer?
And what profit hath he in his humiliation?

35

¹ He that keepeth the law multiplieth offerings;
He that taketh heed to the commandments sacrificeth a peace offering.
² He that requiteth a good turn offereth fine flour;
And he that giveth alms sacrificeth a thank offering.
³ To depart from wickedness is a thing pleasing to the Lord;
And to depart from unrighteousness is a propitiation.
⁴ See that thou appear not in the presence of the Lord empty.
⁵ For all these things are to be done because of the commandment.
⁶ The offering of the righteous maketh the altar fat;
And the sweet savor thereof is before the Most High.
⁷ The sacrifice of a righteous man is acceptable;
And the memorial thereof shall not be forgotten.
⁸ Glorify the Lord with a good eye,
And stint not the firstfruits of thy hands.
⁹ In every gift show a cheerful countenance,
And dedicate thy tithe with gladness.
¹⁰ Give unto the Most High according as he hath given;
And as thy hand hath found, give with a good eye.
¹¹ For the Lord recompenseth,
And he will recompense thee sevenfold.

¹² Think not to corrupt with gifts; for he will not receive them:
And set not thy mind on an unrighteous sacrifice;
For the Lord is judge,
And with him is no respect of persons.
¹³ He will not accept any person against a poor man;
And he will listen to the prayer of him that is wronged.
¹⁴ He will in no wise despise the supplication of the fatherless;
Nor the widow, when she poureth out her tale.
¹⁵ Do not the tears of the widow run down her cheek?
And is not her cry against him that hath caused them to fall?
¹⁶ He that serveth God according to his good pleasure shall be accepted,
And his supplication shall reach unto the clouds.
¹⁷ The prayer of the humble pierceth the clouds;
And till it come nigh, he will not be comforted;
And he will not depart, till the Most High shall visit;
And he shall judge righteously, and execute judgment.
¹⁸ And the Lord will not be slack, neither will he be long-suffering toward them,
Till he have crushed the loins of the unmerciful;
And he shall repay vengeance to the heathen;

Till he have taken away the multitude of the haughty,
And broken in pieces the scepters of the unrighteous;
¹⁹ Till he have rendered to every man according to his doings,
And to the works of men according to their devices;
Till he have judged the cause of his people;
And he shall make them to rejoice in his mercy.
²⁰ Mercy is seasonable in the time of his afflicting them,
As clouds of rain in the time of drought.

36

¹ Have mercy upon us, O Lord the God of all, and behold;
² And send thy fear upon all the nations:
³ Lift up thy hand against the strange nations;
And let them see thy mighty power.
⁴ As thou wast sanctified in us before them,
So be thou magnified in them before us.
⁵ And let them know thee, as we also have known thee,
That there is no God but only thou, O God.
⁶ Show new signs, and work diverse wonders;
Glorify thy hand and thy right arm.
⁷ Raise up indignation, and pour out wrath;
Take away the adversary, and destroy the enemy.
⁸ Hasten the time, and remember the oath;
And let them declare thy mighty works.
⁹ Let him that escapeth be devoured by the rage of fire;
And may they that harm thy people find destruction.
¹⁰ Crush the heads of the rulers of the enemies,
That say, There is none but we.
¹¹ Gather all the tribes of Jacob together,
And take them for thine inheritance, as from the beginning.
¹² O Lord, have mercy upon the people that is called by thy name,
And upon Israel, whom thou didst liken unto a firstborn.
¹³ Have compassion upon the city of thy sanctuary,
Jerusalem, the place of thy rest.
¹⁴ Fill Zion; exalt thine oracles,
And fill thy people with thy glory.
¹⁵ Give testimony unto those that were thy creatures in the beginning,
And raise up the prophecies that have been in thy name.
¹⁶ Give reward unto them that wait for thee:
And men shall put their trust in thy prophets.
¹⁷ Hearken, O Lord, to the prayer of thy suppliants,
According to the blessing of Aaron concerning thy people;
And all they that are on the earth shall know
That thou art the Lord, the eternal God.

¹⁸ The belly will eat any meat;
Yet is one meat better than another.
¹⁹ The mouth tasteth meats taken in hunting:
So doth an understanding heart false speeches.
²⁰ A froward heart will cause heaviness:

And a man of experience will recompense him.

²¹ A woman will receive any man;

But one daughter is better than another.

²² The beauty of a woman cheereth the countenance;

And a man desireth nothing so much.

²³ If there is on her tongue mercy and meekness,

Her husband is not like the sons of men.

²⁴ He that getteth a wife entereth upon a possession:

A help meet for him, and a pillar of rest.

²⁵ Where no hedge is, the possession will be laid waste:

And he that hath no wife will mourn as he wandereth up and down.

²⁶ For who will trust a nimble robber, that skippeth from city to city?

Even so who shall trust a man that hath no nest, and lodgeth wheresoever he findeth himself at nightfall?

37

¹ Every friend will say, I also am his friend:

But there is a friend, who is only a friend in name.

² Is there not a grief in it even unto death,

When a companion and friend is turned to enmity?

³ O wicked imagination, whence camest thou rolling in

To cover the dry land with deceitfulness?

⁴ There is a companion, who rejoiceth in the gladness of a friend,

But in time of affliction will be against him.

⁵ There is a companion, who for the belly's sake laboreth with his friend,

In the face of battle will take up the buckler.

⁶ Forget not a friend in thy soul;

And be not unmindful of him in thy riches.

⁷ Every counselor extolleth counsel;

But there is that counseleth for himself.

⁸ Let thy soul beware of a counselor,

And know thou before what is his interest

(For he will take counsel for himself);

Lest he cast the lot upon thee,

⁹ And say unto thee, Thy way is good:

And he will stand over against thee, to see what shall befall thee.

¹⁰ Take not counsel with one that looketh askance at thee;

And hide thy counsel from such as are jealous of thee.

¹¹ Take not counsel with a woman about her rival;

Neither with a coward about war;

Nor with a merchant about exchange;

Nor with a buyer about selling;

Nor with an envious man about thankfulness;

Nor with an unmerciful man about kindness;

Nor with a sluggard about any kind of work;

Nor with a hireling in thy house about finishing his work;

Nor with an idle servant about much business;

Give not heed to these in any matter of counsel.

¹² But rather be continually with a godly man,

Whom thou shalt have known to be a keeper of the commandments,
Who in his soul is as thine own soul,
And who will grieve with thee, if thou shalt miscarry.

¹³ And make the counsel of thy heart to stand;

For there is none more faithful unto thee than it.

¹⁴ For a man's soul is sometimes wont to bring him tidings,
More than seven watchmen that sit on high on a watchtower.

¹⁵ And above all this entreat the Most High,
That he may direct thy way in truth.

¹⁶ Let reason be the beginning of every work,
And let counsel go before every action.

¹⁷ As a token of the changing of the heart,

¹⁸ Four manner of things do rise up,
Good and evil, life and death;
And that which ruleth over them continually is the tongue.

¹⁹ There is one that is shrewd and the instructor of many,
And yet is unprofitable to his own soul.

²⁰ There is one that is subtle in words, and is hated;
He shall be destitute of all food:

²¹ For grace was not given him from the Lord;
Because he is deprived of all wisdom.

²² There is one that is wise to his own soul;
And the fruits of his understanding are trustworthy in the mouth.

²³ A wise man will instruct his own people;
And the fruits of his understanding are trustworthy.

²⁴ A wise man shall be filled with blessing;
And all they that see him shall call him happy.

²⁵ The life of man is numbered by days;
And the days of Israel are innumerable.

²⁶ The wise man shall inherit confidence among his people,
And his name shall live forever.

²⁷ My son, prove thy soul in thy life,
And see what is evil for it, and give not that unto it.

²⁸ For all things are not profitable for all men,
Neither hath every soul pleasure in everything.

²⁹ Be not insatiable in any luxury,
And be not greedy on the things that thou eatest.

³⁰ For in multitude of meats there shall be disease,
And surfeiting shall come nigh unto colic.

³¹ Because of surfeiting have many perished;
But he that taketh heed shall prolong his life.

38

¹ Honor a physician according to thy need of him with the honors due unto him:
For verily the Lord hath created him.

² For from the Most High cometh healing;
And from the king he shall receive a gift.

³ The skill of the physician shall lift up his head;

And in the sight of great men he shall be admired.

⁴ The Lord created medicines out of the earth;
And a prudent man will have no disgust at them.

⁵ Was not water made sweet with wood,
That the virtue thereof might be known?

⁶ And he gave men skill,
That they might be glorified in his marvelous works.

⁷ With them doth he heal a man,
And taketh away his pain.

⁸ With these will the apothecary make a confection;
And his works shall not be brought to an end;
And from him is peace upon the face of the earth.

⁹ My son, in thy sickness be not negligent;
But pray unto the Lord, and he shall heal thee.

¹⁰ Put away wrong doing, and order thy hands aright,
And cleanse thy heart from all manner of sin.

¹¹ Give a sweet savor, and a memorial of fine flour;
And make fat thine offering, as one that is not.

¹² Then give place to the physician, for verily the Lord hath created him;
And let him not go from thee, for thou hast need of him.

¹³ There is a time when in their very hands is the issue for good.

¹⁴ For they also shall beseech the Lord,
That he may prosper them in giving relief and in healing for the maintenance of life.

¹⁵ He that sinneth before his Maker,
Let him fall into the hands of the physician.

¹⁶ My son, let thy tears fall over the dead,
And as one that suffereth grievously begin lamentation;
And wind up his body according to his due,
And neglect not his burial.

¹⁷ Make bitter weeping, and make passionate wailing,
And let thy mourning be according to his desert,
For one day or two, lest thou be evil spoken of:
And so be comforted for thy sorrow.

¹⁸ For of sorrow cometh death,
And sorrow of heart will bow down the strength.

¹⁹ In calamity sorrow also remaineth:
And the poor man's life is grievous to the heart.

²⁰ Give not thy heart unto sorrow:
Put it away, remembering the last end:

²¹ Forget it not, for there is no returning again:
Him thou shalt not profit, and thou wilt hurt thyself.

²² Remember the sentence upon him; for so also shall thine be;
Yesterday for me, and today for thee.

²³ When the dead is at rest, let his remembrance rest;
And be comforted for him, when his spirit departeth from him.

²⁴ The wisdom of the scribe cometh by opportunity of leisure;
And he that hath little business shall become wise.

²⁵ How shall he become wise that holdeth the plow,

That glorieth in the shaft of the goad,
That driveth oxen, and is occupied in their labors,
And whose discourse is of the stock of bulls?
²⁶ He will set his heart upon turning his furrows;
And his wakefulness is to give his heifers their fodder.
²⁷ So is every artificer and workmaster,
That passeth his time by night as by day;
They that cut gravings of signets,
And his diligence is to make great variety;
He will set his heart to preserve likeness in his portraiture,
And will be wakeful to finish his work.
²⁸ So is the smith sitting by the anvil,
And considering the unwrought iron:
The vapor of the fire will waste his flesh;
And in the heat of the furnace will he wrestle with his work:
The noise of the hammer will be ever in his ear,
And his eyes are upon the pattern of the vessel;
He will set his heart upon perfecting his works,
And he will be wakeful to adorn them perfectly.
²⁹ So is the potter sitting at his work,
And turning the wheel about with his feet,
Who is always anxiously set at his work,
And all his handiwork is by number;
³⁰ He will fashion the clay with his arm,
And will bend its strength in front of his feet;
He will apply his heart to finish the glazing;
And he will be wakeful to make clean the furnace.

³¹ All these put their trust in their hands;
And each becometh wise in his own work.
³² Without these shall not a city be inhabited,
And men shall not sojourn nor walk up and down therein.
³³ They shall not be sought for in the council of the people,
And in the assembly they shall not mount on high;
They shall not sit on the seat of the judge,
And they shall not understand the covenant of judgment:
Neither shall they declare instruction and judgment;
And where parables are they shall not be found.
³⁴ But they will maintain the fabric of the world;
And in the handiwork of their craft is their prayer.

39

¹ Not so he that hath applied his soul,
And meditateth in the law of the Most High;
He will seek out the wisdom of all the ancients,
And will be occupied in prophecies.
² He will keep the discourse of the men of renown,
And will enter in amidst the subtleties of parables.
³ He will seek out the hidden meaning of proverbs,
And be conversant in the dark sayings of parables.

- ⁴ He will serve among great men,
And appear before him that ruleth:
He will travel through the land of strange nations;
For he hath tried good things and evil among men.
- ⁵ He will apply his heart to resort early to the Lord that made him,
And will make supplication before the Most High,
And will open his mouth in prayer,
And will make supplication for his sins.
- ⁶ If the great Lord will,
He shall be filled with the spirit of understanding:
He shall pour forth the words of his wisdom,
And in prayer give thanks unto the Lord.
- ⁷ He shall direct his counsel and knowledge,
And in his secrets shall he meditate.
- ⁸ He shall show forth the instruction which he hath been taught,
And shall glory in the law of the covenant of the Lord.
- ⁹ Many shall commend his understanding;
And so long as the world endureth, it shall not be blotted out:
His memorial shall not depart,
And his name shall live from generation to generation.
- ¹⁰ Nations shall declare his wisdom,
And the congregation shall tell out his praise.
- ¹¹ If he continue, he shall leave a greater name than a thousand:
And if he die, he addeth thereto.
- ¹² Yet more will I utter, which I have thought upon;
And I am filled as the moon at the full.
- ¹³ Hearken unto me, ye holy children,
And bud forth as a rose growing by a brook of water:
- ¹⁴ And give ye a sweet savor as frankincense,
And put forth flowers as a lily,
Spread abroad a sweet smell, and sing a song of praise;
Bless ye the Lord for all his works.
- ¹⁵ Magnify his name,
And give utterance to his praise
With the songs of your lips, and with harps;
And thus shall ye say when ye utter his praise:
- ¹⁶ All the works of the Lord are exceeding good,
And every command shall be accomplished in his season.
- ¹⁷ None can say, What is this? wherefore is that?
For in his season they shall all be sought out.
At his word the waters stood as a heap,
And the receptacles of waters at the word of his mouth.
- ¹⁸ At his command is all his good pleasure done;
And there is none that shall hinder his salvation.
- ¹⁹ The works of all flesh are before him;
And it is not possible to be hidden from his eyes.
- ²⁰ He beholdeth from everlasting to everlasting;
And there is nothing wonderful before him.

²¹ None can say, What is this? wherefore is that?
For all things are created for their uses.

²² His blessing covered the dry land as a river,
And saturated it as a flood.

²³ As he hath turned the waters into saltiness;
So shall the heathen inherit his wrath.

²⁴ His ways are plain unto the holy;
So are they stumbling blocks unto the wicked.

²⁵ Good things are created from the beginning for the good;
So are evil things for sinners.

²⁶ The chief of all things necessary for the life of man
Are water, and fire, and iron, and salt,
And flour of wheat, and honey, and milk,
The blood of the grape, and oil, and clothing.

²⁷ All these things are for good to the godly;
So to the sinners they shall be turned into evil.

²⁸ There are winds that are created for vengeance,
And in their fury lay on their scourges heavily;
In the time of consummation they pour out their strength,
And shall appease the wrath of him that made them.

²⁹ Fire, and hail, and famine, and death,
All these are created for vengeance;

³⁰ Teeth of wild beasts, and scorpions and adders,
And a sword punishing the ungodly unto destruction.

³¹ They shall rejoice in his commandment,
And shall be made ready upon earth, when need is;
And in their seasons they shall not transgress his word.

³² Therefore from the beginning I was resolved,
And I thought this, and left it in writing;

³³ All the works of the Lord are good:
And he will supply every need in its season.

³⁴ And none can say, This is worse than that:
For they shall all be well approved in their season.

³⁵ And now with all your heart and mouth sing ye praises,
And bless the name of the Lord.

And a heavy yoke is upon the sons of Adam,
From the day of their coming forth from their mother's womb,
Until the day for their burial in the mother of all things.

² The expectation of things to come, and the day of death,
Trouble their thoughts, and cause fear of heart;

³ From him that sitteth on a throne of glory,
Even unto him that is humbled in earth and ashes;

⁴ From him that weareth purple and a crown,
Even unto him that is clothed with a hempen frock.

⁵ There is wrath, and jealousy, and trouble, and disquiet,
And fear of death, and anger, and strife;
And in the time of rest upon his bed
His night sleep doth change his knowledge.

⁶ A little or nothing is his resting,
And afterward in his sleep, as in a day of keeping watch,
He is troubled in the vision of his heart,
As one that hath escaped from the front of battle.

⁷ In the very time of his deliverance he awaketh,
And marveleth that the fear is nought.

⁸ It is thus with all flesh, from man to beast,
And upon sinners sevenfold more.

⁹ Death, and bloodshed, and strife, and sword,
Calamities, famine, tribulation, and the scourge;

¹⁰ All these things were created for the wicked,
And because of them came the flood.

¹¹ All things that are of the earth turn to the earth again:
And all things that are of the waters return into the sea.

¹² All bribery and injustice shall be blotted out;
And good faith shall stand forever.

¹³ The goods of the unjust shall be dried up like a river,
And like a great thunder in rain shall go off in noise.

¹⁴ In opening his hands a man shall be made glad:
So shall transgressors utterly fail.

¹⁵ The children of the ungodly shall not put forth many branches;
And are as unclean roots upon a sheer rock.

¹⁶ The sedge that groweth upon every water and bank of a river
Shall be plucked up before all grass.

¹⁷ Bounty is as a garden of blessings,
And almsgiving endureth forever.

¹⁸ The life of one that laboreth, and is contented, shall be made sweet;
And he that findeth a treasure is above both.

¹⁹ Children and the building of a city establish a man's name;
And a blameless wife is counted above both.

²⁰ Wine and music rejoice the heart;
And the love of wisdom is above both.

²¹ The pipe and the psaltery make pleasant melody;
And a pleasant tongue is above both.

²² Thine eye shall desire grace and beauty;
And above both the green blade of grain.

²³ A friend and a companion never meet amiss;
And a wife with her husband is above both.

²⁴ Brethren and succor are for a time of affliction;
And almsgiving is a deliverer above both.

²⁵ Gold and silver will make the foot stand sure;
And counsel is esteemed above them both.

²⁶ Riches and strength will lift up the heart;
And the fear of the Lord is above both:
There is nothing wanting in the fear of the Lord,

And there is no need to seek help therein.

²⁷ The fear of the Lord is as a garden of blessing,
And covereth a man above all glory.

²⁸ My son, lead not a beggar's life;
Better it is to die than to beg.

²⁹ A man that looketh unto the table of another,
His life is not to be counted for a life;
He will pollute his soul with another man's meats:
But a man wise and well-instructed will beware thereof.

³⁰ In the mouth of the shameless begging will be sweet;
And in his belly a fire shall be kindled.

¹ O death, how bitter is the remembrance of thee to a man that is at peace in his possessions,

Unto the man that hath nothing to distract him, and hath prosperity in all things,
And that still hath strength to receive meat!

² O death, acceptable is thy sentence unto a man that is needy, and that faileth in strength,

That is in extreme old age, and is distracted about all things,
And is perverse, and hath lost patience!

³ Fear not the sentence of death;
Remember them that have been before thee, and that come after:
This is the sentence from the Lord over all flesh.

⁴ And why dost thou refuse, when it is the good pleasure of the Most High?
Whether it be ten, or a hundred, or a thousand years,
There is no inquisition of life in Hades.

⁵ The children of sinners are abominable children,
And they frequent the dwellings of the ungodly.

⁶ The inheritance of sinners' children shall perish,
And with their posterity shall be a perpetual reproach.

⁷ Children will complain of an ungodly father,
Because they shall be reproached for his sake.

⁸ Woe unto you, ungodly men,
Who have forsaken the law of the Most High God!

⁹ If ye be born, ye shall be born to a curse;
If ye die, a curse shall be your portion.

¹⁰ All things that are of the earth shall go back to the earth:
So the ungodly shall go from a curse unto perdition.

¹¹ The mourning of men is about their bodies:
But the name of sinners being evil shall be blotted out.

¹² Have regard to thy name;
For it continueth with thee longer than a thousand great treasures of gold.

¹³ A good life hath its number of days;
And a good name continueth forever.

¹⁴ My children, keep instruction in peace:
But wisdom that is hidden, and a treasure that is not seen,

What profit is in them both?

¹⁵ Better is a man that hideth his foolishness
Than a man that hideth his wisdom.

¹⁶ Wherefore show reverence to my word:
For it is not good to retain every kind of shame;
And not all things are approved by all in good faith.

¹⁷ Be ashamed of whoredom before father and mother:
And of a lie before a prince and a mighty man;

¹⁸ Of an offense before a judge and ruler;
Of iniquity before the congregation and the people;
Of unjust dealing before a partner and friend;

¹⁹ And of theft in regard of the place where thou sojournest,
And in regard of the truth of God and his covenant;
And of leaning with thine elbow at meat;

And of scurrility in the matter of giving and taking;

²⁰ And of silence before them that salute thee;
And of looking upon a woman that is a harlot;

²¹ And of turning away thy face from a kinsman;
Of taking away a portion or a gift;

And of gazing upon a woman that hath a husband;

²² Of being over busy with his maid; and come not near her bed;
Of upbraiding speeches before friends;

And after thou hast given, upbraid not;

²³ Of repeating and speaking what thou hast heard;
And of revealing of secrets.

²⁴ So shalt thou be truly shamefaced,
And find favor in the sight of every man.

42

¹ Of these things be not ashamed,
And accept no man's person to sin thereby:

² Of the law of the Most High, and his covenant;
And of judgment to do justice to the ungodly;

³ Of reckoning with a partner and with travelers;
And of a gift from the heritage of friends;

⁴ Of exactness of balance and weights;
And of getting much or little;

⁵ Of indifferent selling of merchants;
And of much correction of children;
And of making the side of an evil servant to bleed.

⁶ Sure keeping is good, where an evil wife is;
And where many hands are, shut thou close.

⁷ Whatsoever thou handest over, let it be by number and weight;
And in giving and receiving let all be in writing.

⁸ Be not ashamed to instruct the unwise and foolish,
And one of extreme old age that contendeth with those that are young;
And so shalt thou be well instructed indeed,
And approved in the sight of every man living.

⁹ A daughter is a secret cause of wakefulness to a father;
And the care for her putteth away sleep;
In her youth, lest she pass the flower of her age;
And when she is married, lest she should be hated:

¹⁰ In her virginity, lest she should be defiled
And be with child in her father's house;
And when she hath a husband, lest she should transgress;
And when she is married, lest she should be barren.

¹¹ Keep a strict watch over a headstrong daughter,
Lest she make thee a laughingstock to thine enemies,
A byword in the city and notorious among the people,
And shame thee before the multitude.

¹² Look not upon every body in regard of beauty,
And sit not in the midst of women;

¹³ For from garments cometh a moth,
And from a woman a woman's wickedness.

¹⁴ Better is the wickedness of a man than a pleasant-dealing woman,
And a woman who putteth thee to shameful reproach.

¹⁵ I will make mention now of the works of the Lord,
And will declare the things that I have seen:
In the words of the Lord are his works.

¹⁶ The sun that giveth light looketh upon all things;
And the work of the Lord is full of his glory.

¹⁷ The Lord hath not given power to the saints to declare all his marvelous works;
Which the Almighty Lord firmly settled,
That whatsoever is might be established in his glory.

¹⁸ He searcheth out the deep, and the heart,
And he hath understanding of their cunning devices:
For the Most High knoweth all knowledge,
And he looketh into the signs of the world,

¹⁹ Declaring the things that are past, and the things that shall be,
And revealing the traces of hidden things.

²⁰ No thought escapeth him;
There is not a word hidden from him.

²¹ The mighty works of his wisdom he hath ordered,
Who is from everlasting to everlasting:
Nothing hath been added unto them, nor diminished from them;
And he had no need of any counselor.

²² How desirable are all his works!
One may behold this even unto a spark.

²³ All these things live and remain forever in all manner of uses,
And they are all obedient.

²⁴ All things are double one against another:
And he hath made nothing imperfect.

²⁵ One thing establisheth the good things of another:
And who shall be filled with beholding his glory?

¹ The pride of the height is the firmament in its clearness,
The appearance of heaven, in the spectacle of its glory.

² The sun when it appeareth, bringing tidings as it goeth forth,
Is a marvelous instrument, the work of the Most High:

³ At noon it drieth up the country,
And who shall stand against its burning heat?

⁴ A man blowing a furnace is in works of heat,
But the sun three times more, burning up the mountains:
Breathing out fiery vapors,
And sending forth bright beams, it dimmeth the eyes.

⁵ Great is the Lord that made it;
And at his word it hasteneth its course.

⁶ The moon also is in all things for its season,
For a declaration of times, and a sign of the world.

⁷ From the moon is the sign of the feast day;
A light that waneth when it is come to the full.

⁸ The month is called after its name,
Increasing wonderfully in its changing;
An instrument of the hosts on high,
Shining forth in the firmament of heaven;

⁹ The beauty of heaven, the glory of the stars,
An ornament giving light in the highest places of the Lord.

¹⁰ At the word of the Holy One they will stand in due order,
And they will not faint in their watches.

¹¹ Look upon the rainbow, and praise him that made it;
Exceeding beautiful in the brightness thereof.

¹² It compasseth the heaven round about with a circle of glory;
The hands of the Most High have stretched it.

¹³ By his commandment he maketh the snow to fall apace,
And sendeth swiftly the lightnings of his judgment.

¹⁴ By reason thereof the treasure houses are opened;
And clouds fly forth as fowls.

¹⁵ By his mighty power he maketh strong the clouds,
And the hailstones are broken small:

¹⁶ And at his appearing the mountains will be shaken,
And at his will the south wind will blow.

¹⁷ The voice of his thunder maketh the earth to travail;
So doth the northern storm and the whirlwind:
As birds flying down he sprinkleth the snow;
And as the lighting of the locust is the falling down thereof:

¹⁸ The eye will marvel at the beauty of its whiteness,
And the heart will be astonished at the raining of it.

¹⁹ The hoar frost also he poureth on the earth as salt;
And when it is congealed, it is as points of thorns.

²⁰ The cold north wind shall blow,
And the ice shall be congealed on the water:
It shall lodge upon every gathering together of water,

And the water shall put on as it were a breastplate.

²¹ It shall devour the mountains, and burn up the wilderness,
And consume the green herb as fire.

²² A mist coming speedily is the healing of all things;
A dew coming after heat shall bring cheerfulness.

²³ By his counsel he hath stilled the deep,
And planted islands therein.

²⁴ They that sail on the sea tell of the danger thereof;
And when we hear it with our ears, we marvel.

²⁵ Therein are also those strange and wondrous works,
Variety of all that hath life, the race of sea monsters.

²⁶ By reason of him his end hath success,
And by his word all things consist.

²⁷ We may say many things, yet shall we not attain;
And the sum of our words is, He is all.

²⁸ How shall we have strength to glorify him?
For he is himself the great one above all his works.

²⁹ The Lord is terrible and exceeding great;
And marvelous is his power.

³⁰ When ye glorify the Lord, exalt him as much as ye can;
For even yet will he exceed:

And when ye exalt him, put forth your full strength:
Be not weary; for ye will never attain.

³¹ Who hath seen him, that he may declare him?
And who shall magnify him as he is?

³² Many things are hidden greater than these;
For we have seen but a few of his works.

³³ For the Lord made all things;
And to the godly gave he wisdom.

44

¹ Let us now praise famous men,
And our fathers that begat us.

² The Lord manifested in them great glory,
Even his mighty power from the beginning.

³ Such as did bear rule in their kingdoms,
And were men renowned for their power,
Giving counsel by their understanding,
Such as have brought tidings in prophecies:

⁴ Leaders of the people by their counsels,
And by their understanding men of learning for the people;
Wise were their words in their instruction:

⁵ Such as sought out musical tunes,
And set forth verses in writing:

⁶ Rich men furnished with ability,
Living peaceably in their habitations:

⁷ All these were honored in their generations,
And were a glory in their days.

⁸ There are of them, that have left a name behind them,

To declare their praises.

⁹ And some there are, who have no memorial;
Who are perished as though they had not been,
And are become as though they had not been born;
And their children after them.

¹⁰ But these were men of mercy,
Whose righteous deeds have not been forgotten.

¹¹ With their seed shall remain continually a good inheritance;
Their children are within the covenants.

¹² Their seed standeth fast,
And their children for their sakes.

¹³ Their seed shall remain forever,
And their glory shall not be blotted out.

¹⁴ Their bodies were buried in peace,
And their name liveth to all generations.

¹⁵ Peoples will declare their wisdom,
And the congregation telleth out their praise.

¹⁶ Enoch pleased the Lord, and was translated,
Being an example of repentance to all generations.

¹⁷ Noah was found perfect and righteous;
In the season of wrath he was taken in exchange for the world;
Therefore was there left a remnant unto the earth,
When the flood came.

¹⁸ Everlasting covenants were made with him,
That all flesh should no more be blotted out by a flood.

¹⁹ Abraham was a great father of a multitude of nations;
And there was none found like him in glory;

²⁰ Who kept the law of the Most High,
And was taken into covenant with him:
In his flesh he established the covenant;
And when he was proved, he was found faithful.

²¹ Therefore he assured him by an oath,
That the nations should be blessed in his seed;
That he would multiply him as the dust of the earth,
And exalt his seed as the stars,
And cause them to inherit from sea to sea,
And from the River unto the utmost part of the earth.

²² In Isaac also did he establish likewise, for Abraham his father's sake,
The blessing of all men, and the covenant:

²³ And he made it rest upon the head of Jacob;
He acknowledged him in his blessings,
And gave to him by inheritance,
And divided his portions;
Among twelve tribes did he part them.

45

¹ And he brought out of him a man of mercy,
Who found favor in the sight of all flesh;

A man beloved of God and men, even Moses,
Whose memorial is blessed.

² He made him like to the glory of the saints,
And magnified him in the fears of his enemies.

³ By his words he caused the wonders to cease;
He glorified him in the sight of kings;
He gave him commandment for his people,
And showed him part of his glory.

⁴ He sanctified him in his faithfulness and meekness;
He chose him out of all flesh.

⁵ He made him to hear his voice,
And led him into the thick darkness,
And gave him commandments face to face,
Even the law of life and knowledge,
That he might teach Jacob the covenant,
And Israel his judgments.

⁶ He exalted Aaron, a holy man like unto him,
Even his brother, of the tribe of Levi.

⁷ He established for him an everlasting covenant,
And gave him the priesthood of the people;
He beautified him with comely ornaments,
And girded him about with a robe of glory.

⁸ He clothed him with the perfection of exultation;
And strengthened him with apparel of honor,
The linen breeches, the long robe, and the ephod.

⁹ And he compassed him with pomegranates of gold,
And with many bells round about,
To send forth a sound as he went,
To make a sound that might be heard in the temple,
For a memorial to the children of his people;

¹⁰ With a holy garment, with gold and blue and purple, the work of the embroiderer,
With an oracle of judgment, even with the Urim and Thummim;

¹¹ With twisted scarlet, the work of the craftsman;
With precious stones graven like a signet, in a setting of gold, the work of the jeweler,
For a memorial engraved in writing, after the number of the tribes of Israel;

¹² With a crown of gold upon the miter, having graven on it, as on a signet, HOLINESS,
An ornament of honor, a work of might,
The desires of the eyes, goodly and beautiful.

¹³ Before him there never have been any such;
No stranger put them on, but his sons only, and his offspring perpetually.

¹⁴ His sacrifices shall be wholly consumed
Every day twice continually.

¹⁵ Moses consecrated him,
And anointed him with holy oil:
It was unto him for an everlasting covenant,
And to his seed, all the days of heaven,
To minister unto him, and to execute also the priest's office,
And bless his people in his name.

¹⁶ He chose him out of all living
To offer sacrifice to the Lord,

Incense, and a sweet savor, for a memorial,
To make reconciliation for thy people.

¹⁷ He gave unto him in his commandments,
Yea, authority in the covenants of judgments,
To teach Jacob the testimonies,
And to enlighten Israel in his law.

¹⁸ Strangers gathered themselves together against him,
And envied him in the wilderness,
Even Dathan and Abiram with their company,
And the congregation of Korah, with wrath and anger.

¹⁹ The Lord saw it, and it displeased him;
And in the wrath of his anger they were destroyed:
He did wonders upon them,
To consume them with flaming fire.

²⁰ And he added glory to Aaron,
And gave him a heritage:
He divided unto him the firstfruits of the increase;
And first did he prepare bread in abundance:

²¹ For they shall eat the sacrifices of the Lord,
Which he gave unto him and to his seed.

²² Howbeit in the land of the people he shall have no inheritance,
And he hath no portion among the people:
For he himself is thy portion and inheritance.

²³ And Phinehas the son of Eleazar is the third in glory,
In that he was zealous in the fear of the Lord,
And stood fast in the good forwardness of his soul when the people turned away,
And he made reconciliation for Israel.

²⁴ Therefore was there a covenant of peace established for him,
That he should be leader of the saints and of his people;
That he and his seed
Should have the dignity of the priesthood forever.

²⁵ Also he made a covenant with David the son of Jesse, of the tribe of Judah;
The inheritance of the king is his alone from son to son;
So the inheritance of Aaron is also unto his seed.

²⁶ God give you wisdom in your heart
To judge his people in righteousness,
That their good things be not abolished,
And that their glory endure for all their generations.

46

¹ Joshua the son of Nun was valiant in war,
And was the successor of Moses in prophecies:
Who according to his name was made great
For the saving of God's elect,
To take vengeance of the enemies that rose up against them,
That he might give Israel their inheritance.

² How was he glorified in the lifting up his hands,
And in stretching out his sword against the cities!

³ Who before him so stood fast?

For the Lord himself brought his enemies unto him.

⁴ Did not the sun go back by his hand?

And did not one day become as two?

⁵ He called upon the Most High and Mighty One,

When his foes pressed him round about;

And the great Lord heard him.

⁶ With hailstones of mighty power

He caused war to break violently upon the nation,

And in the going down he destroyed them that resisted;

That the nations might know his armor,

How that he fought in the sight of the Lord;

For he followed after the Mighty One.

⁷ Also in the time of Moses he did a work of mercy,

He and Caleb the son of Jephunneh,

In that they withstood the adversary,

Hindered the people from sin,

And stilled the murmuring of wickedness.

⁸ And of six hundred thousand people on foot, they two alone were preserved

To bring them into the heritage,

Even into a land flowing with milk and honey.

⁹ Also the Lord gave strength unto Caleb,

And it remained with him unto his old age;

So that he entered upon the height of the land,

And his seed obtained it for a heritage:

¹⁰ That all the children of Israel might see

That it is good to walk after the Lord.

¹¹ Also the judges, every one by his name,

All whose hearts went not a whoring,

And who turned not away from the Lord,

May their memorial be blessed.

¹² May their bones flourish again out of their place,

And may the name of them that have been honored be renewed upon their children.

¹³ Samuel, the prophet of the Lord, beloved of his Lord,

Established a kingdom, and anointed princes over his people.

¹⁴ By the law of the Lord he judged the congregation,

And the Lord visited Jacob.

¹⁵ By his faithfulness he was proved to be a prophet,

And by his words he was known to be faithful in vision.

¹⁶ Also when his enemies pressed him round about

He called upon the Lord, the Mighty One,

With the offering of the sucking lamb.

¹⁷ And the Lord thundered from heaven,

And with a mighty sound made his voice to be heard.

¹⁸ And he utterly destroyed the rulers of the Tyrians,

And all the princes of the Philistines.

¹⁹ Also before the time of his long sleep

He made protestations in the sight of the lord and his anointed,

I have not taken any man's goods, so much as a shoe:

And no man did accuse him.
²⁰ And after he fell asleep he prophesied,
And showed the king his end,
And lifted up his voice from the earth in prophecy,
To blot out the wickedness of the people.

47

¹ And after him rose up Nathan
To prophesy in the days of David.
² As is the fat when it is separated from the peace offering,
So was David separated from the children of Israel.
³ He played with lions as with kids,
And with bears as with lambs of the flock.
⁴ In his youth did he not slay a giant,
And take away reproach from the people,
When he lifted up his hand with a sling stone,
And beat down the boasting of Goliath?
⁵ For he called upon the Most High Lord;
And he gave him strength in his right hand,
To slay a man mighty in war,
To exalt the horn of his people.
⁶ So they glorified him for his ten thousands,
And praised him for the blessings of the Lord,
In that there was given him a diadem of glory.
⁷ For he destroyed the enemies on every side,
And brought to nought the Philistines his adversaries,
Brake their horn in pieces unto this day.
⁸ In every work of his he gave thanks to the Holy One Most High with words of glory;
With his whole heart he sang praise,
And loved him that made him.
⁹ Also he set singers before the altar,
And to make sweet melody by their music.
¹⁰ He gave comeliness to the feasts,
And set in order the seasons to perfection,
While they praised his holy name,
And the sanctuary sounded from early morning.
¹¹ The Lord took away his sins,
And exalted his horn forever;
And gave him a covenant of kings,
And a throne of glory in Israel.
¹² After him rose up a son, a man of understanding;
And for his sake he dwelt at large.
¹³ Solomon reigned in days of peace;
And to him God gave rest round about,
That he might set up a house for his name,
And prepare a sanctuary forever.
¹⁴ How wise wast thou made in thy youth,
And filled as a river with understanding!
¹⁵ Thy soul covered the earth,
And thou filledst it with dark parables.

¹⁶ Thy name reached unto the isles afar off;
And for thy peace thou wast beloved.
¹⁷ For thy songs and proverbs and parables,
And for thine interpretations, the countries marveled at thee.
¹⁸ By the name of the Lord God,
Who is called the God of Israel,
Thou didst gather gold as tin,
And didst multiply silver as lead.
¹⁹ Thou didst bow thy loins unto women,
And in thy body thou wast brought into subjection.
²⁰ Thou didst blemish thine honor,
And profane thy seed,
To bring wrath upon thy children;
And I was grieved for thy folly:
²¹ So that the sovereignty was divided,
And out of Ephraim ruled a disobedient kingdom.
²² But the Lord will never forsake his mercy;
And he will not destroy any of his works,
Nor blot out the posterity of his elect;
And the seed of him that loved him he will not take away;
And he gave a remnant unto Jacob,
And unto David a root out of him.

²³ And so rested Solomon with his fathers;
And of his seed he left behind him Rehoboam,
Even the foolishness of the people, and one that lacked understanding,
Who made the people to revolt by his counsel.
Also Jeroboam the son of Nebat,
Who made Israel to sin,
And gave unto Ephraim a way of sin.
²⁴ And their sins were multiplied exceedingly,
To remove them from their land.
²⁵ For they sought out all manner of wickedness,
Till vengeance should come upon them.

48

¹ Also there arose Elijah the prophet as fire,
And his word burned like a torch:
² Who brought a famine upon them,
And by his zeal made them few in number.
³ By the word of the Lord he shut up the heaven:
Thrice did he thus bring down fire.
⁴ How wast thou glorified, O Elijah, in thy wondrous deeds!
And who shall glory like unto thee?
⁵ Who did raise up a dead man from death,
And from Hades, by the word of the Most High:
⁶ Who brought down kings to destruction,
And honorable men from their bed:
⁷ Who heard rebuke in Sinai,
And judgments of vengeance in Horeb:

⁸ Who anointed kings for retribution,
And prophets to succeed after him:

⁹ Who was taken up in a tempest of fire,
In a chariot of fiery horses:

¹⁰ Who was recorded for reproofs in their seasons,
To pacify anger, before it brake forth into wrath;
To turn the heart of the father unto the son,
And to restore the tribes of Jacob.

¹¹ Blessed are they that saw thee,
And they that have been beautified with love;
For we also shall surely live.

¹² Elijah it was, who was wrapped in a tempest:
And Elisha was filled with his spirit;
And in all his days he was not moved by the fear of any ruler,
And no one brought him into subjection.

¹³ Nothing was too high for him;
And when he was laid on sleep his body prophesied.

¹⁴ As in his life he did wonders,
So in death were his works marvelous.

¹⁵ For all this the people repented not,
And they departed not from their sins,
Till they were carried away as a spoil from their land,
And were scattered through all the earth;
And the people was left very few in number,
And a ruler was left in the house of David.

¹⁶ Some of them did that which was pleasing to God,
And some multiplied sins.

¹⁷ Hezekiah fortified his city,
And brought in water into the midst of them:
He dug the sheer rock with iron,
And built up wells for waters.

¹⁸ In his days Sennacherib came up,
And sent Rabshakeh, and departed;
And he lifted up his hand against Zion,
And boasted great things in his arrogancy.

¹⁹ Then were their hearts and their hands shaken,
And they were in pain, as women in travail;

²⁰ And they called upon the Lord who is merciful,
Spreading forth their hands unto him:
And the Holy One heard them speedily out of Heaven,
And delivered them by the hand of Isaiah.

²¹ He smote the camp of the Assyrians,
And his angel utterly destroyed them.

²² For Hezekiah did that which was pleasing to the Lord,
And was strong in the ways of David his father,
Which Isaiah the prophet commanded,
Who was great and faithful in his vision.

²³ In his days the sun went backward;

And he added life to the king.

²⁴ He saw by an excellent spirit what should come to pass at the last;

And he comforted them that mourned in Zion.

²⁵ He showed the things that should be to the end of time,
And the hidden things or ever they came.

49

¹ The memorial of Josiah is like the composition of incense

Prepared by the work of the apothecary:

It shall be sweet as honey in every mouth,

And as music at a banquet of wine.

² He behaved himself uprightly in the conversion of the people,

And took away the abominations of iniquity.

³ He set his heart right toward the Lord;

In the days of wicked men he made godliness to prevail.

⁴ Except David and Hezekiah and Josiah,

All committed trespass:

For they forsook the law of the Most High;

The kings of Judah failed.

⁵ For they gave their power unto others,

And their glory to a strange nation.

⁶ They set on fire the chosen city of the sanctuary,

And made her streets desolate, as it was written by the hand of Jeremiah.

⁷ For they treated him ill;

And yet he was sanctified in the womb to be a prophet,

To root out, and to afflict, and to destroy;

And in like manner to build and to plant.

⁸ It was Ezekiel who saw the vision of glory,

Which God showed him upon the chariot of the cherubim.

⁹ For verily he remembered the enemies in storm,

And to do good to them that directed their ways aright.

¹⁰ Also of the twelve prophets

May the bones flourish again out of their place.

And he comforted Jacob,

And delivered them by confidence of hope.

¹¹ How shall we magnify Zerubbabel?

And he was as a signet on the right hand:

¹² So was Jeshua the son of Jozadak:

Who in their days built the house,

And exalted a people holy to the Lord,

Prepared for everlasting glory.

¹³ Also of Nehemiah the memorial is great;

Who raised up for us the walls that were fallen,

And set up the gates and bars,

And raised up our homes again.

¹⁴ No man was created upon the earth such as was Enoch;

For he was taken up from the earth.

¹⁵ Neither was there a man born like unto Joseph,
A governor of his brethren, a stay of the people:
Yea, his bones were visited.

¹⁶ Shem and Seth were glorified among men;
And above every living thing in the creation is Adam.

50

¹ It was Simon, the son of Onias, the great priest,
Who in his life repaired the house,
And in his days strengthened the temple:

² And by him was built from the foundation the height of the double wall,
The lofty underworks of the enclosure of the temple:

³ In his days the cistern of waters was diminished,
The brazen vessel in compass as the sea.

⁴ It was he that took thought for his people that they should not fall,
And fortified the city against besieging:

⁵ How glorious was he when the people gathered round him
At his coming forth out of the sanctuary!

⁶ As the morning star in the midst of a cloud,
As the moon at the full:

⁷ As the sun shining forth upon the temple of the Most High,
And as the rainbow giving light in clouds of glory:

⁸ As the flower of roses in the days of new fruits,
As lilies at the waterspring,

As the shoot of the frankincense tree in the time of summer:

⁹ As fire and incense in the censer,
As a vessel all of beaten gold

Adorned with all manner of precious stones:

¹⁰ As an olive tree budding forth fruits,
And as a cypress growing high among the clouds.

¹¹ When he took up the robe of glory,
And put on the perfection of exultation,

In the ascent of the holy altar,
He made glorious the precinct of the sanctuary.

¹² And when he received the portions out of the priests' hands,
Himself also standing by the hearth of the altar,

His brethren as a garland round about him,
He was as a young cedar in Lebanon;

And as stems of palm trees compassed they him round about,

¹³ And all the sons of Aaron in their glory,
And the Lord's offering in their hands, before all the congregation of Israel.

¹⁴ And finishing the service at the altars,
That he might adorn the offering of the Most High, the Almighty,

¹⁵ He stretched out his hand to the cup,
And poured out the cup of the grape;

He poured out at the foot of the altar

A sweet-smelling savor unto the Most High, the King of all.

¹⁶ Then shouted the sons of Aaron,
They sounded the trumpets of beaten work,

They made a great noise to be heard,
For a remembrance before the Most High.

¹⁷ Then all the people together hasted,
And fell down upon the earth on their faces
To worship their Lord, the Almighty, God Most High.

¹⁸ The singers also praised him with their voices;
In the whole house was there made sweet melody.

¹⁹ And the people besought the Lord Most High,
In prayer before him that is merciful.
Till the worship of the Lord should be ended;
And so they accomplished his service.

²⁰ Then he went down, and lifted up his hands
Over the whole congregation of the children of Israel,
To give blessing unto the Lord with his lips,
And to glory in his name.

²¹ And he bowed himself down in worship the second time,
To declare the blessing from the Most High.

²² And now bless ye the God of all,
Who everywhere doeth great things,
Who exalteth our days from the womb,
And dealeth with us according to his mercy.

²³ May he grant us joyfulness of heart,
And that peace may be in our days in Israel for the days of eternity:

²⁴ To entrust his mercy with us;
And let him deliver us in his time!

²⁵ With two nations is my soul vexed,
And the third is no nation:

²⁶ They that sit upon the mountain of Samaria, and the Philistines,
And that foolish people that dwelleth in Shechem.

²⁷ I have written in this book the instruction of understanding and knowledge,
I Jesus, the son of Sirach Eleazar, of Jerusalem,
Who out of his heart poured forth wisdom.

²⁸ Blessed is he that shall be exercised in these things;
And he that layeth them up in his heart shall become wise.

²⁹ For if he do them, he shall be strong to all things:
For the light of the Lord is his guide.

51

A Prayer of Jesus the son of Sirach.

¹ I will give thanks unto thee, O Lord, O King,
And will praise thee, O God my Savior:
I do give thanks unto thy name:

² For thou wast my protector and helper,
And didst deliver my body out of destruction,
And out of the snare of a slanderous tongue,
From lips that forge lies,
And wast my helper before them that stood by;

³ And didst deliver me, according to the abundance of thy mercy, and greatness of thy name,
From the gnashings of teeth ready to devour,
Out of the hand of such as sought my life,
Out of the manifold afflictions which I had;
⁴ From the choking of a fire on every side,
And out of the midst of fire which I kindled not;
⁵ Out of the depth of the belly of Hades,
And from an unclean tongue,
And from lying words,
⁶ The slander of an unrighteous tongue unto the king.
My soul drew near even unto death,
And my life was near to Hades beneath.
⁷ They compassed me on every side,
And there was none to help me.
I was looking for the succor of men,
And it was not.
⁸ And I remembered thy mercy, O Lord,
And thy working which hath been from everlasting,
How thou deliverest them that wait for thee,
And savest them out of the hand of the enemies.
⁹ And I lifted up my supplication from the earth,
And prayed for deliverance from death.
¹⁰ I called upon the Lord, the Father of my Lord,
That he would not forsake me in the days of affliction,
In the time when there was no help against the proud.
¹¹ I will praise thy name continually,
And will sing praise with thanksgiving;
And my supplication was heard:
¹² For thou savedst me from destruction,
And deliveredst me from the evil time:
Therefore will I give thanks and praise unto thee,
And bless the name of the Lord.

¹³ When I was yet young,
Or ever I went abroad,
I sought wisdom openly in my prayer.
¹⁴ Before the temple I asked for her,
And I will seek her out even to the end.
¹⁵ From her flower as from the ripening grape my heart delighted in her:
My foot trod in uprightness,
From my youth I tracked her out.
¹⁶ I bowed down mine ear a little, and received her,
And found for myself much instruction.
¹⁷ I profited in her:
Unto him that giveth me wisdom I will give glory.
¹⁸ For I purposed to practice her,
And I was zealous for that which is good;
And I shall never be put to shame.
¹⁹ My soul hath wrestled in her,
And in my doing I was exact:
I spread forth my hands to the heaven above,

And bewailed my ignorances of her.

²⁰ I set my soul aright unto her,

And in pureness I found her.

I gat me a heart joined with her from the beginning:

Therefore shall I not be forsaken.

²¹ My inward part also was troubled to seek her:

Therefore have I gotten a good possession.

²² The Lord gave me a tongue for my reward;

And I will praise him therewith.

²³ Draw near unto me, ye unlearned,

And lodge in the house of instruction.

²⁴ Say, wherefore are ye lacking in these things,

And your souls are very thirsty?

²⁵ I opened my mouth, and spake,

Get her for yourselves without money.

²⁶ Put your neck under the yoke,

And let your soul receive instruction:

She is hard at hand to find.

²⁷ Behold with your eyes,

How that I labored but a little,

And found for myself much rest.

²⁸ Get you instruction with a great sum of silver,

And gain much gold by her.

²⁹ May your soul rejoice in his mercy,

And may ye not be put to shame in praising him.

³⁰ Work your work before the time cometh,

And in his time he will give you your reward.

THE BOOK OF BARUCH

¹ And these are the words of the book, which Baruch the son of Neriah, the son of Maaseiah, the son of Zedekiah, the son of Hasadiah, the son of Hilkiah, wrote in Babylon, ² in the fifth year, and in the seventh day of the month, what time as the Chaldeans took Jerusalem, and burnt it with fire. ³ And Baruch did read the words of this book in the hearing of Jeconiah the son of Jehoiakim king of Judah, and in the hearing of all the people that came to hear the book, ⁴ and in the hearing of the mighty men, and of the kings' sons, and in the hearing of the elders, and in the hearing of all the people, from the least unto the greatest, even of all them that dwelt at Babylon by the river Sud. ⁵ And they wept, and fasted, and prayed before the Lord; ⁶ they made also a collection of money according to every man's power: ⁷ and they sent it to Jerusalem unto Jehoiakim the high priest, the son of Hilkiah, the son of Shallum, and to the priests, and to all the people who were found with him at Jerusalem, ⁸ at the same time when he took the vessels of the house of the Lord, that had been carried out of the temple, to return them into the land of Judah, the tenth day of the month Sivan, namely, silver vessels, which Zedekiah the son of Josiah king of Judah had made, ⁹ after that Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon had carried away Jeconiah, and the princes, and the captives, and the mighty men, and the people of the land, from Jerusalem, and brought them unto Babylon. ¹⁰ And they said, Behold, we have sent you money; buy you therefore with the money burnt offerings, and sin offerings, and incense, and prepare an oblation, and offer upon the altar of the Lord our God; ¹¹ and pray for the life of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and for the life of Belshazzar his son, that their days may be as the days of heaven above the earth: ¹² and the Lord will give us strength, and lighten our eyes, and we shall live under the shadow of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and under the shadow of Belshazzar his son, and we shall serve them many days, and find favor in their sight. ¹³ Pray for us also unto the Lord our God, for we have sinned against the Lord our God; and unto this day the wrath of the Lord and his indignation is not turned from us. ¹⁴ And ye shall read this book which we have sent unto you, to make confession in the house of the Lord, upon the day of the feast and on the days of the solemn assembly.

¹⁵ And ye shall say, To the Lord our God belongeth righteousness, but unto us confusion of face, as at this day, unto the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, ¹⁶ and to our kings, and to our princes, and to our priests, and to our prophets, and to our fathers: ¹⁷ for that we have sinned before the Lord, ¹⁸ and disobeyed him, and have not hearkened unto the voice of the Lord our God, to walk in the commandments of the Lord that he hath set before us: ¹⁹ since the day that the Lord brought our fathers out of the land of Egypt, unto this present day, we have been disobedient unto the Lord our God, and we have dealt unadvisedly in not hearkening unto his voice. ²⁰ Wherefore the plagues clave unto us, and the curse, which the Lord commanded Moses his servant to pronounce in the day that he brought our fathers out of the land of Egypt, to give us a land that floweth with milk and honey, as at this day. ²¹ Nevertheless we hearkened not unto the voice of the Lord our God, according unto all the words of the prophets, whom he sent unto us: ²² but we walked every man in the imagination of his own wicked heart, to serve strange gods, and to do that which is evil in the sight of the Lord our God.

¹¹ And now, O Lord, thou God of Israel, that hast brought thy people out of the land of Egypt with a mighty hand, and with signs, and with wonders, and with great power, and with a high arm, and hast gotten thyself a name, as at this day: ¹² O Lord our God, we have sinned, we have done ungodly, we have dealt unrighteously in all thine ordinances. ¹³ Let thy wrath turn from us: for we are but a few left among the heathen, where thou hast scattered us. ¹⁴ Hear our prayer, O Lord, and our petition, and deliver us for thine own sake, and give us favor in the sight of them that have led us away captive: ¹⁵ that all the earth may know that thou art the Lord our God, because Israel and his posterity is called by thy name. ¹⁶ O Lord, look down from thy holy house, and consider us: incline thine ear, O Lord, and hear: ¹⁷ open thine eyes, and behold: for the dead that are in Hades, whose breath is taken from their bodies, will give unto the Lord neither glory nor righteousness: ¹⁸ but the soul that is greatly vexed, which goeth stooping and feeble, and the eyes that fail, and the hungry soul, will give thee glory and righteousness, O Lord. ¹⁹ For we do not present our supplication before thee, O Lord our God, for the righteousness of our fathers, and of our kings. ²⁰ For thou hast sent thy wrath and thine indignation upon us, as thou hast spoken by thy servants the prophets, saying, ²¹ Thus saith the Lord, Bow your shoulders to serve the king of Babylon, and remain in the land that I gave unto your fathers. ²² But if ye will not hear the voice of the Lord, to serve the king of Babylon, ²³ I will cause to cease out of the cities of Judah, and from without Jerusalem, the voice of mirth, and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom, and the voice of the bride: and the whole land shall be desolate without inhabitant. ²⁴ But we would not hearken unto thy voice, to serve the king of Babylon: therefore hast thou made good thy words that thou spakest by thy servants the prophets, namely, that the bones of our kings, and the bones of our fathers, should be taken out of their places. ²⁵ And, lo, they are cast out to the heat by day, and to the frost by night, and they died in great miseries by famine, by sword, and by pestilence. ²⁶ And the house which is called by thy name hast thou laid waste, as at this day, for the wickedness of the house of Israel and the house of Judah. ²⁷ Yet, O Lord our God, thou hast dealt with us after all thy kindness, and according to all that great mercy of thine, ²⁸ as thou spakest by thy servant Moses in the day when thou didst command him to write thy law before the children of Israel, saying, ²⁹ If ye will not hear my voice, surely this very great multitude shall be turned into a small number among the nations, where I will scatter them. ³⁰ For I know that they will not hear me, because it is a stiff-necked people: but in the land of their captivity they shall lay it to heart, ³¹ and shall know that I am the Lord their God: and I will give them a heart, and ears to hear: ³² and they shall praise me in the land of their captivity, and think upon my name, ³³ and shall return from their stiff neck, and from their wicked deeds: for they shall remember the way of their fathers, who sinned before the Lord. ³⁴ And I will bring them again into the land which I swore unto their fathers, to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob, and they shall be lords of it: and I will increase them, and they shall not be diminished. ³⁵ And I will make an everlasting covenant with them to be their God, and they shall be my people: and I will no more remove my people of Israel out of the land that I have given them.

⁹ Hear, O Israel, the commandments of life: give ear to understand wisdom. ¹⁰ How happeneth it, O Israel, that thou art in thine enemies' land, that thou art waxen old in a strange country, that thou art defiled with the dead, ¹¹ that thou art counted with them that go down into Hades? ¹² Thou hast forsaken the fountain of wisdom. ¹³ For if thou hadst walked in the way of God, thou shouldest have dwelt in peace forever. ¹⁴ Learn where is wisdom, where is strength, where is understanding; that thou mayest know also where is length of days, and life, where is the light of the eyes, and peace. ¹⁵ Who hath found out her place? and who hath come into her treasures? ¹⁶ Where are the princes of the heathen, and such as ruled the beasts that are upon the earth; ¹⁷ they that had their pastime with the fowls of the air, and they that hoarded up silver and gold, wherein men trust; and of whose getting there is no end? ¹⁸ For they that wrought in silver, and were so careful, and whose works are past finding out, ¹⁹ they are vanished and gone down to Hades, and others are come up in their steads. ²⁰ Younger men have seen the light, and dwelt upon the earth: but the way of knowledge have they not known, ²¹ neither understood they the paths thereof: neither have their children laid hold of it: they are far off from their way. ²² It hath not been heard of in Canaan, neither hath it been seen in Teman. ²³ The sons also of Hagar that seek understanding, who are in the land, the merchants of Merran and Teman, and the authors of fables, and the searchers out of understanding; none of these have known the way of wisdom, or remembered her paths. ²⁴ O Israel, how great is the house of God! and how large is the place of his possession! ²⁵ great, and hath none end; high, and unmeasurable. ²⁶ There were the giants born that were famous of old, great of stature, and expert in war. ²⁷ These did not God choose, neither gave he the way of knowledge unto them: ²⁸ so they perished, because they had no wisdom, they perished through their own foolishness. ²⁹ Who hath gone up into heaven, and taken her, and brought her down from the clouds? ³⁰ Who hath gone over the sea, and found her, and will bring her for choice gold? ³¹ There is none that knoweth her way, nor any that comprehendeth her path. ³² But he that knoweth all things knoweth her, he found her out with his understanding: he that prepared the earth forevermore hath filled it with four-footed beasts: ³³ he that sendeth forth the light, and it goeth; he called it, and it obeyed him with fear: ³⁴ and the stars shined in their watches, and were glad: when he called them, they said, Here we are; they shined with gladness unto him that made them. ³⁵ This is our God, and there shall none other be accounted of in comparison of him. ³⁶ He hath found out all the way of knowledge, and hath given it unto Jacob his servant, and to Israel that is beloved of him. ³⁷ Afterward did she appear upon earth, and was conversant with men.

¹ This is the book of the commandments of God, and the law that endureth forever: all they that hold it fast are appointed to life; but such as leave it shall die. ² Turn thee, O Jacob, and take hold of it: walk toward her shining in the presence of the light thereof. ³ Give not thy glory to another, nor the things that are profitable unto thee to a strange nation. ⁴ O Israel, happy are we: for the things that are pleasing to God are made known unto us. ⁵ Be of good cheer, my people, the memorial of Israel. ⁶ Ye were sold to the nations, but not for destruction: because ye moved God to wrath, ye were delivered unto your adversaries. ⁷ For ye provoked him that made you by sacrificing unto demons, and not to God. ⁸ Ye forgot the everlasting God, that brought you up; ye grieved also Jerusalem, that nursed you. ⁹ For she saw the wrath that is come upon you from God, and said, Hearken, ye women that dwell about Zion: for God hath brought upon me great mourning; ¹⁰ for I have seen the captivity of my sons and daughters, which the Everlasting hath brought upon them. ¹¹ For with joy did I nourish them; but sent them away with weeping and mourning. ¹² Let no man rejoice over me, a widow, and forsaken of many: for the sins of my children am I left desolate; because they turned aside from the law of God, ¹³ and had no regard to his statutes, neither walked they in the ways of God's commandments, nor trod in the paths of discipline in his righteousness. ¹⁴ Let them that dwell about Zion come, and remember ye the captivity of my sons and daughters, which the Everlasting hath brought upon them. ¹⁵ For he hath brought a nation upon them from far, a shameless nation, and of a strange language, who neither revered old man, nor pitied child. ¹⁶ And they have carried away the dear beloved sons of the widow, and left her that was alone desolate of her daughters. ¹⁷ But I, what can I help you? ¹⁸ For he that brought these plagues upon you will deliver you from the hand of your enemies. ¹⁹ Go your way, O my children, go your way: for I am left desolate. ²⁰ I have put off the garment of peace, and put upon me the sackcloth of my petition: I will cry unto the Everlasting as long as I live. ²¹ Be of good cheer, O my children, cry unto God, and he shall deliver you from the power and hand of the enemies. ²² For I have trusted in the Everlasting, that he will save you; and joy is come unto me from the Holy One, because of the mercy which shall soon come unto you from the Everlasting your Savior. ²³ For I sent you out with mourning and weeping: but God will give you to me again with joy and gladness forever. ²⁴ For like as now they that dwell about Zion have seen your captivity: so shall they see shortly your salvation from our God, which shall come upon you with great glory, and brightness of the Everlasting. ²⁵ My children, suffer patiently the wrath that is come upon you from God: for thine enemy hath persecuted thee; but shortly thou shalt see his destruction, and shalt tread upon their necks. ²⁶ My delicate ones have gone rough ways; they were taken away as a flock carried off by the enemies. ²⁷ Be of good cheer, O my children, and cry unto God: for ye shall be remembered of him that hath brought these things upon you. ²⁸ For as it was your mind to go astray from God: so, return and seek him ten times more. ²⁹ For he that brought these plagues upon you shall bring you everlasting joy again with your salvation. ³⁰ Be of good cheer, O Jerusalem: for he that called thee by name will comfort thee. ³¹ Miserable are they that afflicted thee, and rejoiced at thy fall. ³² Miserable are the cities which thy children served: miserable is she that received thy sons. ³³ For as she rejoiced at thy fall, and was glad of thy ruin: so shall she be grieved for her own desolation. ³⁴ And I will take away her exultation in her great multitude, and her boasting shall be turned into mourning. ³⁵ For fire shall come upon her from the Everlasting, long to endure; and she shall be inhabited of demons for a great time.

³⁶ O Jerusalem, look about thee toward the east, and behold the joy that cometh unto thee from God. ³⁷ Lo, thy sons come, whom thou sentest away, they come gathered together from the east to the west at the word of the Holy One, rejoicing in the glory of God.

¹ Put off, O Jerusalem, the garment of thy mourning and affliction, and put on the comeliness of the glory that cometh from God forever. ² Cast about thee the robe of the righteousness which cometh from God; set a diadem on thy head of the glory of the Everlasting. ³ For God will show thy brightness unto every region under heaven. ⁴ For thy name shall be called of God forever The peace of righteousness, and The glory of godliness. ⁵ Arise, O Jerusalem, and stand upon the height, and look about thee toward the east, and behold thy children gathered from the going down of the sun unto the rising thereof at the word of the Holy One, rejoicing that God hath remembered them. ⁶ For they went from thee on foot, being led away of their enemies: but God bringeth them in unto thee borne on high with glory, as on a royal throne. ⁷ For God hath appointed that every high mountain, and the everlasting hills, should be made low, and the valleys filled up, to make plain the ground, that Israel may go safely in the glory of God. ⁸ Moreover the woods and every sweet-smelling tree have overshadowed Israel by the commandment of God. ⁹ For God shall lead Israel with joy in the light of his glory with the mercy and righteousness that cometh from him.

THE EPISTLE OF JEREMIAH

¹ A copy of an epistle, which Jeremiah sent unto them that were to be led captives into Babylon by the king of the Babylonians, to certify them, as it was commanded him of God.

² Because of the sins which ye have committed before God, ye shall be led away captives unto Babylon by Nebuchadnezzar king of the Babylonians. ³ So when ye come unto Babylon, ye shall remain there many years, and for a long season, even for seven generations: and after that I will bring you out peaceably from thence. ⁴ But now shall ye see in Babylon gods of silver, and of gold, and of wood, borne upon shoulders, which cause the nations to fear. ⁵ Beware therefore that ye in no wise become like unto the strangers, neither let fear take hold upon you because of them, when ye see the multitude before them and behind them, worshiping them. ⁶ But say ye in your hearts, O Lord, we must worship thee. ⁷ For mine angel is with you, and I myself do care for your souls.

¹⁷ For like as a vessel that a man useth is nothing worth when it is broken; even so it is with their gods: when they are set up in the temples their eyes are full of dust through the feet of them that come in. ¹⁸ And as the courts are made sure on every side upon him that offendeth the king, as being committed to suffer death; even so the priests make fast their temples with doors, with locks, and bars, lest they be carried off by robbers. ¹⁹ They light them lamps, yea, more than for themselves, whereof they cannot see one. ²⁰ They are as one of the beams of the temple; and men say their hearts are eaten out, when things creeping out of the earth devour both them and their raiment: they feel it not ²¹ when their faces are blacked through the smoke that cometh out of the temple: ²² upon their bodies and heads alight bats, swallows, and birds; and in like manner the cats also. ²³ Whereby ye may know that they are no gods: therefore fear them not.

²⁴ Notwithstanding the gold wherewith they are beset to make them beautiful, except one wipe off the rust, they will not shine: for not even when they were molten did they feel it. ²⁵ Things wherein there is no breath are bought at any cost. ²⁶ Having no feet, they are borne upon shoulders, whereby they declare unto men that they be nothing worth. ²⁷ They also that serve them are ashamed: for if they fall to the ground at any time, they cannot rise up again of themselves: neither, if they be set awry, can they make themselves straight: but the offerings are set before them, as if they were dead men. ²⁸ And the things that are sacrificed unto them, their priests sell and spend; and in like manner their wives also lay up part thereof in salt; but unto the poor and to the impotent will they give nothing thereof. ²⁹ The menstruous woman and the woman in childbed touch their sacrifices: knowing therefore by these things that they are no gods, fear them not.

³⁰ For how can they be called gods? because women set meat before the gods of silver, gold, and wood. ³¹ And in their temples the priests sit on seats, having their clothes rent, and their heads and beards shaven, and nothing upon their heads. ³² They roar and cry before their gods, as men do at the feast when one is dead. ³³ The priests also take off garments from them, and clothe their wives and children withal. ³⁴ Whether it be evil that one doeth unto them, or good, they are not able to recompense it: they can neither set up a king, nor put him down. ³⁵ In like manner, they can neither give riches nor money: though a man make a vow unto them, and keep it not, they will never exact it. ³⁶ They can save no man from death, neither deliver the weak from the mighty. ³⁷ They cannot restore a blind man to his sight, nor deliver any that is in distress. ³⁸ They can show no mercy to the widow, nor do good to the fatherless. ³⁹ They are like the stones that are hewn out of the mountain, these gods of wood, and that are overlaid with gold and with silver: they that minister unto them shall be confounded.

⁴⁰ How should a man then think or say that they are gods, when even the Chaldeans themselves dishonor them? ⁴¹ Who if they shall see one dumb that cannot speak, they bring him, and entreat him to call upon Bel, as though he were able to understand. ⁴² Yet they cannot perceive this themselves, and forsake them: for they have no understanding. ⁴³ The women also with cords about them sit in the ways, burning bran for incense: but if any of them, drawn by some that passeth by, lie with him, she reproacheth her fellow, that she was not thought as worthy as herself, nor her cord broken. ⁴⁴ Whatsoever is done among them is false: how should a man then think or say that they are gods?

⁴⁵ They are fashioned by carpenters and goldsmiths: they can be nothing else than the workmen will have them to be. ⁴⁶ And they themselves that fashioned them can never continue long; how then should the things that are fashioned by them? ⁴⁷ For they have left lies and reproaches to them that come after. ⁴⁸ For when there cometh any war or plague upon them, the priests consult with themselves, where they may be hidden with them. ⁴⁹ How then cannot men understand that they are no gods, which can neither save themselves from war, nor from plague? ⁵⁰ For seeing they are but of wood, and overlaid with gold and with silver, it shall be known hereafter that they are false: ⁵¹ and it shall be manifest to all nations and kings that they are no gods, but the works of men's hands, and that there is no work of God in them. ⁵² Who then may not know that they are no gods?

⁵³ For neither can they set up a king in a land, nor give rain unto men. ⁵⁴ Neither can they judge their own cause, nor redress a wrong, being unable: for they are as crows between heaven and earth. ⁵⁵ For even when fire falleth upon the house of gods of wood, or overlaid with gold or with silver, their priests will flee away, and escape, but they themselves shall be burnt asunder like beams. ⁵⁶ Moreover they cannot withstand any king or enemies: how should a man then allow or think that they are gods?

⁵⁷ Neither are those gods of wood, and overlaid with silver or with gold, able to escape either from thieves or robbers. ⁵⁸ Whose gold, and silver, and garments wherewith they are clothed, they that are strong will take from them, and go away withal: neither shall they be able to help themselves. ⁵⁹ Therefore it is better to be a king that showeth his manhood, or else a vessel in a house profitable for that whereof the owner shall have need, than such false gods; or even a door in a house, to keep the things safe that are therein, than such false gods; or a pillar of wood in a palace, than such false gods. ⁶⁰ For sun, and moon, and stars, being bright and sent to do their offices, are obedient. ⁶¹ Likewise also the lightning when it glittereth is fair to see; and after the same manner the wind also bloweth in every country. ⁶² And when God commandeth the clouds to go over the whole world, they do as they are bidden. ⁶³ And the fire sent from above to consume mountains and woods doeth as it is commanded: but these are to be likened unto them neither in show nor power. ⁶⁴ Wherefore a man should neither think nor say that they are gods, seeing they are able neither to judge causes, nor to do good unto men. ⁶⁵ Knowing therefore that they are no gods, fear them not.

⁶⁶ For they can neither curse nor bless kings: ⁶⁷ neither can they show signs in the heavens among the nations, nor shine as the sun, nor give light as the moon. ⁶⁸ The beasts are better than they: for they can get under a covert, and help themselves.

⁶⁹ In no wise then is it manifest unto us that they are gods: therefore fear them not.

⁷⁰ For as a scarecrow in a garden of cucumbers that keepeth nothing, so are their gods of wood, and overlaid with gold and with silver. ⁷¹ Likewise also their gods of wood, and overlaid with gold and with silver, are like to a white thorn in an orchard, that every bird sitteth upon; as also to a dead body, that is cast forth into the dark.

⁷² And ye shall know them to be no gods by the bright purple that rotteth upon them: And they themselves afterward shall be consumed, and shall be a reproach in the country. ⁷³ Better therefore is the just man that hath none idols: for he shall be far from reproach.

THE SONG OF THE THREE HOLY CHILDREN

- ¹ And they walked in the midst of the fire, praising God, and blessing the Lord.
² Then Azariah stood, and prayed on this manner; and opening his mouth in the midst of the fire said,
³ Blessed art thou, O Lord, thou God of our fathers, and worthy to be praised;
And thy name is glorified forevermore:
⁴ For thou art righteous in all the things that thou hast done:
Yea, true are all thy works, and thy ways are right,
And all thy judgments truth.
⁵ In all the things that thou hast brought upon us,
And upon the holy city of our fathers, even Jerusalem,
Thou hast executed true judgments:
For according to truth and justice hast thou brought all these things upon us because of our sins.
⁶ For we have sinned and committed iniquity, in departing from thee.
⁷ In all things have we trespassed, and not obeyed thy commandments,
Nor kept them, neither done as thou hast commanded us,
That it might go well with us.
⁸ Wherefore all that thou hast brought upon us,
And everything that thou hast done to us,
Thou hast done in true judgment.
⁹ And thou didst deliver us into the hands of lawless enemies, and most hateful forsakers of God,
And to an unjust king, and the most wicked in all the world.
¹⁰ And now we cannot open our mouth;
Shame and reproach have befallen thy servants, and them that worship thee.
¹¹ Deliver us not up utterly, for thy name's sake,
Neither disannul thou thy covenant:
¹² And cause not thy mercy to depart from us,
For the sake of Abraham that is beloved of thee,
And for the sake of Isaac thy servant,
And Israel thy holy one;
¹³ To whom thou didst promise,
That thou wouldest multiply their seed as the stars of heaven,
And as the sand that is upon the sea shore.
¹⁴ For we, O Lord, are become less than any nation,
And are kept under this day in all the world because of our sins.
¹⁵ Neither is there at this time prince, or prophet, or leader,
Or burnt offering, or sacrifice, or oblation, or incense,
Or place to offer before thee, and to find mercy.
¹⁶ Nevertheless in a contrite heart and a humble spirit let us be accepted;
¹⁷ Like as in the burnt offerings of rams and bullocks,
And like as in ten thousands of fat lambs;
So let our sacrifice be in thy sight this day,
And grant that we may wholly go after thee,
For they shall not be ashamed that put their trust in thee.
¹⁸ And now we follow thee with all our heart,

We fear thee, and seek thy face.

¹⁹ Put us not to shame:

But deal with us after thy kindness,

And according to the multitude of thy mercy.

²⁰ Deliver us also according to thy marvelous works,

And give glory to thy name, O Lord:

And let all them that do thy servants hurt be confounded;

²¹ And let them be ashamed of all their power and might,

And let their strength be broken;

²² And let them know that thou art the Lord, the only God,

And glorious over the whole world.

²³ And the king's servants, that put them in, ceased not to make the furnace hot with naphtha, pitch, tow, and small wood; ²⁴ so that the flame streamed forth above the furnace forty and nine cubits. ²⁵ And it spread, and burned those Chaldeans whom it found about the furnace. ²⁶ But the angel of the Lord came down into the furnace together with Azariah and his fellows, and he smote the flame of the fire out of the furnace; ²⁷ and made the midst of the furnace as it had been a moist whistling wind, so that the fire touched them not at all, neither hurt nor troubled them.

²⁸ Then the three, as out of one mouth, praised, and glorified, and blessed God in the furnace, saying,

²⁹ Blessed art thou, O Lord, thou God of our fathers:

And to be praised and exalted above all forever.

³⁰ And blessed is thy glorious and holy name:

And to be praised and exalted above all forever.

³¹ Blessed art thou in the temple of thy holy glory:

And to be praised and glorified above all forever.

³² Blessed art thou that beholdest the depths, and sittest upon the cherubim:

And to be praised and exalted above all forever.

³³ Blessed art thou on the throne of thy kingdom:

And to be praised and extolled above all forever.

³⁴ Blessed art thou in the firmament of heaven:

And to be praised and glorified forever.

³⁵ O all ye works of the Lord, bless ye the Lord:

Praise and exalt him above all forever.

³⁶ O ye heavens, bless ye the Lord:

Praise and exalt him above all forever.

³⁷ O ye angels of the Lord, bless ye the Lord:

Praise and exalt him above all forever.

³⁸ O all ye waters that are above the heaven, bless ye the Lord:

Praise and exalt him above all forever.

³⁹ O all ye powers of the Lord, bless ye the Lord:

Praise and exalt him above all forever.

⁴⁰ O ye sun and moon, bless ye the Lord:

Praise and exalt him above all forever.

⁴¹ O ye stars of heaven, bless ye the Lord:

Praise and exalt him above all forever.

⁴² O every shower and dew, bless ye the Lord:

Praise and exalt him above all forever.

⁴³ O all ye winds, bless ye the Lord:

Praise and exalt him above all forever.

⁴⁴ O ye fire and heat, bless ye the Lord:

Praise and exalt him above all forever.
47 O ye nights and days, bless ye the Lord:
Praise and exalt him above all forever.
48 O ye light and darkness, bless ye the Lord:
Praise and exalt him above all forever.
O ye cold and heat, bless ye the Lord:
Praise and exalt him above all forever.
50 O ye frost and snow, bless ye the Lord:
Praise and exalt him above all forever.
51 O ye lightnings and clouds, bless ye the Lord:
Praise and exalt him above all forever.
52 O let the earth bless the Lord:
Let it praise and exalt him above all forever.
53 O ye mountains and hills, bless ye the Lord:
Praise and exalt him above all forever.
54 O all ye things that grow on the earth, bless ye the Lord:
Praise and exalt him above all forever.
55 O sea and rivers, bless ye the Lord:
Praise and exalt him above all forever.
56 O ye fountains, bless ye the Lord:
Praise and exalt him above all forever.
57 O ye whales, and all that move in the waters, bless ye the Lord:
Praise and exalt him above all forever.
58 O all ye fowls of the air, bless ye the Lord:
Praise and exalt him above all forever.
59 O all ye beasts and cattle, bless ye the Lord:
Praise and exalt him above all forever.
60 O ye children of men, bless ye the Lord:
Praise and exalt him above all forever.
61 O let Israel bless the Lord:
Praise and exalt him above all forever.
62 O ye priests of the Lord, bless ye the Lord:
Praise and exalt him above all forever.
63 O ye servants of the Lord, bless ye the Lord:
Praise and exalt him above all forever.
64 O ye spirits and souls of the righteous, bless ye the Lord:
Praise and exalt him above all forever.
65 O ye that are holy and humble of heart, bless ye the Lord:
Praise and exalt him above all forever.
66 O Hananiah, Azariah, and Mishael, bless ye the Lord:
Praise and exalt him above all forever:
For he hath rescued us from Hades, and saved us from the hand of death:
He hath delivered us out of the midst of the furnace and burning flame,
Even out of the midst of the fire hath he delivered us.
67 O give thanks unto the Lord, for he is good:
For his mercy endureth forever.
68 O all ye that worship the Lord, bless the God of gods,
Praise him, and give him thanks:
For his mercy endureth forever.

THE HISTORY OF SUSANNA

¹ There dwelt a man in Babylon, and his name was Joakim: ² and he took a wife, whose name was Susanna, the daughter of Hilkiyah, a very fair woman, and one that feared the Lord. ³ Her parents also were righteous, and taught their daughter according to the law of Moses. ⁴ Now Joakim was a great rich man, and had a fair garden joining unto his house: and to him resorted the Jews; because he was more honorable than all others. ⁵ And the same year there were appointed two of the ancients of the people to be judges, such as the Lord spake of, that wickedness came from Babylon from ancient judges, who were accounted to govern the people. ⁶ These kept much at Joakim's house: and all that had any suits in law came unto them. ⁷ Now when the people departed away at noon, Susanna went into her husband's garden to walk. ⁸ And the two elders beheld her going in every day, and walking; and they were inflamed with love for her. ⁹ And they perverted their own mind, and turned away their eyes, that they might not look unto heaven, nor remember just judgments. ¹⁰ And albeit they both were wounded with her love, yet durst not one show another his grief. ¹¹ For they were ashamed to declare their lust, that they desired to have to do with her. ¹² Yet they watched jealously from day to day to see her. ¹³ And the one said to the other, Let us now go home: for it is dinner time. ¹⁴ So when they were gone out, they parted the one from the other, and turning back again they came to the same place; and after that they had asked one another the cause, they acknowledged their lust: and then appointed they a time both together, when they might find her alone. ¹⁵ And it fell out, as they watched a fit day, she went in as aforetime with two maids only, and she was desirous to wash herself in the garden: for it was hot. ¹⁶ And there was no one there save the two elders, that had hidden themselves, and watched her. ¹⁷ Then she said to her maids, Bring me oil and washing balls, and shut the garden doors, that I may wash me. ¹⁸ And they did as she bade them, and shut the garden doors, and went out themselves at the side doors to fetch the things that she had commanded them: and they saw not the elders, because they were hidden. ¹⁹ Now when the maids were gone forth, the two elders rose up, and ran unto her, saying, ²⁰ Behold, the garden doors are shut, that no man can see us, and we are in love with thee; therefore consent unto us, and lie with us. ²¹ If thou wilt not, we will bear witness against thee, that a young man was with thee: and therefore thou didst send away thy maids from thee. ²² Then Susanna sighed, and said, I am straitened on every side: for if I do this thing, it is death unto me: and if I do it not, I cannot escape your hands. ²³ It is better for me to fall into your hands, and not do it, than to sin in the sight of the Lord. ²⁴ With that Susanna cried with a loud voice: and the two elders cried out against her. ²⁵ Then ran the one, and opened the garden doors. ²⁶ So when the servants of the house heard the cry in the garden, they rushed in at the side door, to see what had befallen her. ²⁷ But when the elders had told their tale, the servants were greatly ashamed: for there was never such a report made of Susanna. ²⁸ And it came to pass on the morrow, when the people assembled to her husband Joakim, the two elders came full of their wicked intent against Susanna to put her to death; ²⁹ and said before the people, Send for Susanna, the daughter of Hilkiyah, Joakim's wife. So they sent; ³⁰ and she came with her father and mother, her children, and all her kindred. ³¹ Now Susanna was a very delicate woman, and beauteous to behold. ³² And these wicked men commanded her to be unveiled, (for she was veiled) that they might be filled with her beauty. ³³ Therefore her friends and all that saw her wept. ³⁴ Then the two elders stood up in the midst of the people, and laid their hands upon her head. ³⁵ And she weeping looked up toward heaven: for her heart trusted in the Lord. ³⁶ And the elders said, As we walked in the garden alone, this woman came in with two maids, and shut the garden doors, and sent the maids away. ³⁷ Then a young man, who there was hidden, came unto her, and lay with her. ³⁸ And we, being in a corner of the garden, saw this wickedness, and ran unto them. ³⁹ And when we saw them together, the man we could not hold: for he was stronger than we, and opened the doors, and leaped out. ⁴⁰ But having taken this woman, we asked who the young man was, but she would not tell us: these things do we testify. ⁴¹ Then the assembly believed them, as those that were elders of the people and judges: so they condemned her to death. ⁴² Then Susanna cried out with a loud voice, and said, O everlasting God, that knowest the secrets, that knowest all things before they come to be: ⁴³ thou knowest that they have borne false witness against me, and, behold, I must die; whereas I never did such things as these men have maliciously invented against me. ⁴⁴ And the Lord heard her voice. ⁴⁵ Therefore when she was led away to be put to death, God raised up the holy spirit of a young youth, whose name was Daniel: ⁴⁶ and he cried with a loud voice, I am clear from the blood of this woman. ⁴⁷ Then all the people turned them toward him, and said, What mean these words that thou hast spoken? ⁴⁸ So he standing in the midst of them said, Are ye such fools, ye sons of Israel, that without examination or knowledge of the truth ye have condemned a daughter of Israel? ⁴⁹ Return again to the place of judgment: for these have borne false witness against her. ⁵⁰ Wherefore all the people turned again in haste, and the elders said unto him, Come, sit down among us, and show it us, seeing God hath given thee the honor of an elder. ⁵¹ Then said Daniel unto them, Put them asunder one far from another, and I will examine them. ⁵² So when they were put asunder one from another, he called one of them, and said unto him, O thou that art waxen old in wickedness, now are thy sins come home to thee which thou hast committed aforetime, ⁵³ in pronouncing unjust judgment, and condemning the innocent, and letting the guilty go free; albeit the Lord saith, The innocent and righteous shalt thou not slay. ⁵⁴ Now then, if thou sawest her, tell me, Under what tree sawest thou them companying together? Who answered, Under a mastic tree. ⁵⁵ And Daniel said, Right well hast thou lied against thine own head; for even now the angel of God hath received the sentence of God and shall cut thee in two. ⁵⁶ So he put him aside, and commanded to bring the other, and said unto him, O thou seed of Canaan, and not of Judah, beauty hath deceived thee, and lust hath perverted thy heart. ⁵⁷ Thus have ye dealt with the daughters of Israel, and they for fear companied with you: but the daughter of Judah would not abide your wickedness. ⁵⁸ Now therefore tell me, Under what tree didst thou take them companying together? Who answered, Under a holm tree. ⁵⁹ Then said Daniel unto him, Right well hast thou also lied against thine own head: for the angel of God waiteth with the sword to cut thee in two, that he may destroy you. ⁶⁰ With that all the assembly cried out with a loud voice, and blessed God, who saveth them that hope in him. ⁶¹ And they arose against the two elders, for Daniel had convicted them of false witness out of their own mouth: ⁶² and according to the law of Moses they did unto them in such sort as they maliciously intended to do to their neighbor: and they put them to death, and the innocent blood was saved the same day. ⁶³ Therefore Hilkiyah and his wife praised God for their daughter Susanna, with Joakim her husband, and all the kindred, because there was no dishonesty found in her. ⁶⁴ And from that day forth was Daniel had in great reputation in the sight of the people.

BEL AND THE DRAGON

¹ And king Astyages was gathered to his fathers, and Cyrus the Persian received his kingdom. ² And Daniel lived with the king, and was honored above all his friends. ³ Now the Babylonians had an idol, called Bel, and there were spent upon him every day twelve great measures of fine flour, and forty sheep, and six firkins of wine. ⁴ And the king did honor to it, and went daily to worship it: but Daniel worshiped his own God. And the king said unto him, Why dost thou not worship Bel? ⁵ And he said, Because I may not do honor to idols made with hands, but to the living God, who hath created the heaven and the earth, and hath sovereignty over all flesh. ⁶ Then said the king unto him, Thinkest thou not that Bel is a living god? or seest thou not how much he eateth and drinketh every day? ⁷ Then Daniel laughed, and said, O king, be not deceived: for this is but clay within, and brass without, and did never eat or drink anything. ⁸ So the king was wroth, and called for his priests, and said unto them, If ye tell me not who this is that devoureth these expenses, ye shall die. ⁹ But if ye can show me that Bel devoureth them, then Daniel shall die: for he hath spoken blasphemy against Bel. And Daniel said unto the king, Let it be according to thy word. ¹⁰ Now the priests of Bel were threescore and ten, beside their wives and children. And the king went with Daniel into the temple of Bel. ¹¹ So Bel's priests said, Lo, we will get us out: but thou, O king, set on the meat, and mingle the wine and set it forth, and shut the door fast, and seal it with thine own signet; ¹² and when thou comest in the morning, if thou find not that Bel hath eaten up all, we will suffer death: or else Daniel, that speaketh falsely against us. ¹³ And they little regarded it: for under the table they had made a privy entrance, whereby they entered in continually, and consumed those things. ¹⁴ And it came to pass, when they were gone forth, the king set the meat before Bel. Now Daniel had commanded his servants to bring ashes, and they strewed all the temple with them in the presence of the king alone: then went they out, and shut the door, and sealed it with the king's signet, and so departed. ¹⁵ Now in the night came the priests with their wives and children, as they were wont to do, and did eat and drink up all. ¹⁶ In the morning betimes the king arose, and Daniel with him. ¹⁷ And the king said, Daniel, are the seals whole? And he said, Yea, O king, they are whole. ¹⁸ And as soon as he had opened the door, the king looked upon the table, and cried with a loud voice, Great art thou, O Bel, and with thee is no deceit at all. ¹⁹ Then laughed Daniel, and held the king that he should not go in, and said, Behold now the pavement, and mark well whose footsteps are these. ²⁰ And the king said, I see the footsteps of men, women, and children. And then the king was angry, ²¹ and took the priests with their wives and children, who showed him the privy doors, where they came in, and consumed such things as were upon the table. ²² Therefore the king slew them, and delivered Bel into Daniel's power, who overthrew him and his temple.

²³ And in that same place there was a great dragon, which they of Babylon worshiped. ²⁴ And the king said unto Daniel, Wilt thou also say that this is of brass? lo, he liveth, and eateth and drinketh; thou canst not say that he is no living god: therefore worship him. ²⁵ Then said Daniel, I will worship the Lord my God: for he is a living God. ²⁶ But give me leave, O king, and I shall slay this dragon without sword or staff. The king said, I give thee leave. ²⁷ Then Daniel took pitch, and fat, and hair, and did boil them together, and made lumps thereof: this he put in the dragon's mouth, so the dragon did eat and burst in sunder: and Daniel said, Lo, these are the gods ye worship. ²⁸ When they of Babylon heard that, they took great indignation, and conspired against the king, saying, The king is become a Jew, and he hath pulled down Bel, and slain the dragon, and put the priests to the sword. ²⁹ So they came to the king, and said, Deliver us Daniel, or else we will destroy thee and thy house. ³⁰ Now when the king saw that they pressed him sore, being constrained, the king delivered Daniel unto them: ³¹ who cast him into the lion's den: where he was six days. ³² And in the den there were seven lions, and they had given them every day two carcasses, and two sheep: which then were not given to them, to the intent they might devour Daniel.

³³ Now there was in Judea the prophet Habakkuk, who had made pottage, and had broken bread into a bowl, and was going into the field, to bring it to the reapers. ³⁴ But the angel of the Lord said unto Habakkuk, Go carry the dinner that thou hast into Babylon unto Daniel, in the lions' den. ³⁵ And Habakkuk said, Lord, I never saw Babylon; neither do I know where the den is. ³⁶ Then the angel of the Lord took him by the crown, and lifted him up by the hair of his head, and with the blast of his breath set him in Babylon over the den. ³⁷ And Habakkuk cried, saying, O Daniel, Daniel, take the dinner which God hath sent thee. ³⁸ And Daniel said, Thou hast remembered me, O God: neither hast thou forsaken them that love thee. ³⁹ So Daniel arose, and did eat: and the angel of God set Habakkuk in his own place again immediately. ⁴⁰ Upon the seventh day the king came to bewail Daniel: and when he came to the den, he looked in, and, behold, Daniel was sitting. ⁴¹ Then cried the king with a loud voice, saying, Great art thou, O Lord, thou God of Daniel, and there is none other beside thee. ⁴² And he drew him out, and cast those that were the cause of his destruction into the den: and they were devoured in a moment before his face.

THE FIRST BOOK OF THE MACCABEES

¹ And it came to pass, after that Alexander the Macedonian, the son of Philip, who came out of the land of Kittim, and smote Darius king of the Persians and Medes, it came to pass, after he had smitten him, that he reigned in his stead, in former time, over Greece. ² And he fought many battles, and won many strongholds, and slew the kings of the earth, ³ and went through to the ends of the earth, and took spoils of a multitude of nations. And the earth was quiet before him, and he was exalted, and his heart was lifted up, ⁴ and he gathered together an exceeding strong host, and ruled over countries and nations and principalities, and they became tributary unto him. ⁵ And after these things he fell sick, and perceived that he should die. ⁶ And he called his servants, who were honorable, who had been brought up with him from his youth, and he divided unto them his kingdom, while he was yet alive. ⁷ And Alexander reigned twelve years, and he died. ⁸ And his servants bare rule, each one in his place. ⁹ And they did all put diadems upon themselves after that he was dead, and so did their sons after them many years: and they multiplied evils in the earth.

¹¹ In those days came there forth out of Israel transgressors of the law, and persuaded many, saying, let us go and make a covenant with the Gentiles that are round about us; for since we were parted from them many evils have befallen us. ¹² And the saying was good in their eyes. ¹³ And certain of the people were forward herein and went to the king, and he gave them license to do after the ordinances of the Gentiles. ¹⁴ And they built a place of exercise in Jerusalem according to the laws of the Gentiles; ¹⁵ and they made themselves uncircumcised, and forsook the holy covenant, and joined themselves to the Gentiles, and sold themselves to do evil.

¹⁶ And the kingdom was well ordered in the sight of Antiochus, and he thought to reign over Egypt, that he might reign over the two kingdoms. ¹⁷ And he entered into Egypt with a great multitude, with chariots, and with elephants, and with horsemen, and with a great navy; ¹⁸ and he made war against Ptolemy king of Egypt; and Ptolemy was put to shame before him, and fled; and many fell wounded to death. ¹⁹ And they gat possession of the strong cities in the land of Egypt; and he took the spoils of Egypt.

²⁰ And Antiochus, after that he had smitten Egypt, returned in the hundred and forty and third year, and went up against Israel and Jerusalem with a great multitude, ²¹ and entered presumptuously into the sanctuary, and took the golden altar, and the candlestick of the light, and all that pertained thereto, ²² and the table of the showbread, and the cups to pour withal, and the bowls, and the golden censers, and the veil, and the crowns, and the adorning of gold which was on the face of the temple, and he scaled it all off. ²³ And he took the silver and the gold and the precious vessels; and he took the hidden treasures which he found. ²⁴ And when he had taken all, he went away into his own land, and he made a great slaughter, and spake very presumptuously. ²⁵ And there came great mourning upon Israel, in every place where they were; ²⁶ and the rulers and elders groaned, the virgins and young men were made feeble, and the beauty of the women was changed. ²⁷ Every bridegroom took up lamentation, she that sat in the marriage chamber was in heaviness. ²⁸ And the land was moved for the inhabitants thereof, and all the house of Jacob was clothed with shame.

²⁹ And after two full years the king sent a chief collector of tribute unto the cities of Judah, and he came unto Jerusalem with a great multitude. ³⁰ And he spake words of peace unto them in subtlety, and they gave him credence: and he fell upon the city suddenly, and smote it very sore, and destroyed much people out of Israel. ³¹ And he took the spoils of the city, and set it on fire, and pulled down the houses thereof and the walls thereof on every side. ³² And they led captive the women and the children, and the cattle they took in possession. ³³ And they built the city of David with a great and strong wall, with strong towers, and it became unto them a citadel. ³⁴ And they put there a sinful nation, transgressors of the law, and they strengthened themselves therein. ³⁵ And they stored up arms and victuals, and gathering together the spoils of Jerusalem, they laid them up there, and they became a sore snare: ³⁶ and it became a place to lie in wait in against the sanctuary, and an evil adversary to Israel continually. ³⁷ And they shed innocent blood on every side of the sanctuary, and defiled the sanctuary. ³⁸ And the inhabitants of Jerusalem fled because of them; and she became a habitation of strangers, and she became strange to them that were born in her, and her children forsook her. ³⁹ Her sanctuary was laid waste like a wilderness, her feasts were turned into mourning, her Sabbaths into reproach, her honor into contempt. ⁴⁰ According to her glory, so was her dishonor multiplied, and her high estate was turned into mourning.

⁴¹ And king Antiochus wrote to his whole kingdom, that all should be one people, ⁴² and that each should forsake his own laws. And all the nations agreed according to the word of the king; ⁴³ and many of Israel consented to his worship, and sacrificed to the idols, and profaned the Sabbath. ⁴⁴ And the king sent letters by the hand of messengers unto Jerusalem and the cities of Judah, that they should follow laws strange to the land, ⁴⁵ and should forbid whole burnt offerings and sacrifice and drink offerings in the sanctuary; and should profane the Sabbaths and feasts, ⁴⁶ and pollute the sanctuary and them that were holy; ⁴⁷ that they should build altars, and temples, and shrines for idols, and should sacrifice swine's flesh and unclean beasts: ⁴⁸ and that they should leave their sons uncircumcised, that they should make their souls abominable with all manner of uncleanness and profanation; ⁴⁹ so that they might forget the law, and change all the ordinances. ⁵⁰ And whosoever shall not do according to the word of the king, he shall die. ⁵¹ According to all these words wrote he to his whole kingdom; and he appointed overseers over all the people, and he commanded the cities of Judah to sacrifice, city by city. ⁵² And from the people were gathered together unto them many, everyone that had forsaken the law; and they did evil things in the land; ⁵³ and they made Israel to hide themselves in every place of refuge which they had.

⁵⁴ And on the fifteenth day of Chislev, in the hundred and forty and fifth year, they built an abomination of desolation upon the altar, and in the cities of Judah on every side they built idol altars. ⁵⁵ And at the doors of the houses and in the streets they burnt incense. ⁵⁶ And they rent in pieces the books of the law which they found, and set them on fire. ⁵⁷ And wheresoever was found with any a book of the covenant, and if any consented to the law, the king's sentence delivered him to death. ⁵⁸ Thus did they in their might unto Israel, to those that were found month by month in the cities. ⁵⁹ And on the five and twentieth day of the month they sacrificed upon the idol altar of God. ⁶⁰ And the women that had circumcised their children they put to death according to the commandment. ⁶¹ And they hung their babes about their necks, and destroyed their houses, and them that had circumcised them. ⁶² And many in Israel were fully resolved and confirmed in themselves not to eat unclean things. ⁶³ And they chose to die, that they might not be defiled with the meats, and that they might not profane the holy covenant: and they died. ⁶⁴ And there came exceeding great wrath upon Israel.

⁶ And he saw the blasphemies that were committed in Judah and in Jerusalem, ⁷ and he said,

Woe is me! wherefore was I born to see the destruction of my people, and the destruction of the holy city, and to dwell there, when it was given into the hand of the enemy, the sanctuary into the hand of aliens? ⁸ Her temple is become as a man that was glorious: ⁹ her vessels of glory are carried away into captivity, her infants are slain in her streets, her young men with the sword of the enemy. ¹⁰ What nation hath not inherited her palaces, and gotten possession of her spoils? ¹¹ her adorning is all taken away; instead of a free woman she is become a bond woman: ¹² and, behold, our holy things and our beauty and our glory are laid waste, and the Gentiles have profaned them. ¹³ Wherefore should we live any longer?

¹⁴ And Mattathias and his sons rent their clothes, and put on sackcloth, and mourned exceedingly.

¹⁵ And the king's officers, that were enforcing the apostasy, came into the city Modein to sacrifice. ¹⁶ And many of Israel came unto them, and Mattathias and his sons were gathered together. ¹⁷ And the king's officers answered and spake to Mattathias, saying, Thou art a ruler and an honorable and great man in this city, and strengthened with sons and brethren: ¹⁸ now therefore come thou first and do the commandment of the king, as all the nations have done, and the men of Judah, and they that remain in Jerusalem: and thou and thy house shall be in the number of the king's Friends, and thou and thy sons shall be honored with silver and gold and many gifts. ¹⁹ And Mattathias answered and said with a loud voice, If all the nations that are in the house of the king's dominion hearken unto him, to fall away each one from the worship of his fathers, and have made choice to follow his commandments, ²⁰ yet will I and my sons and my brethren walk in the covenant of our fathers. ²¹ Heaven forbid that we should forsake the law and the ordinances. ²² We will not hearken to the king's words, to go aside from our worship, on the right hand, or on the left. ²³ And when he had left speaking these words, there came a Jew in the sight of all to sacrifice on the altar which was at Modein, according to the king's commandment. ²⁴ And Mattathias saw it, and his zeal was kindled, and his heart was stirred, and he showed forth his wrath according to judgment, and ran, and slew him upon the altar. ²⁵ And the king's officer, who compelled men to sacrifice, he killed at that time, and pulled down the altar. ²⁶ And he was zealous for the law, even as Phinehas did unto Zimri the son of Salu. ²⁷ And Mattathias cried out in the city with a loud voice, saying, Whosoever is zealous for the law, and maintaineth the covenant, let him come forth after me. ²⁸ And he and his sons fled into the mountains, and forsook all that they had in the city.

²⁹ Then many that sought after justice and judgment went down into the wilderness, to dwell there, ³⁰ they, and their sons, and their wives, and their cattle; because evils were multiplied upon them. ³¹ And it was told the king's officers, and the forces that were in Jerusalem, the city of David, that certain men, who had broken the king's commandment, were gone down into the secret places in the wilderness;³² and many pursued after them, and having overtaken them, they encamped against them, and set the battle in array against them on the Sabbath day.³³ And they said unto them, Thus far. Come forth, and do according to the word of the king, and ye shall live.³⁴ And they said, We will not come forth, neither will we do the word of the king, to profane the Sabbath day.³⁵ And they hastened to give them battle.³⁶ And they answered them not, neither cast they a stone at them, nor stopped up the secret places,³⁷ saying, Let us die all in our innocency: heaven and earth witness over us, that ye put us to death without trial.³⁸ And they rose up against them in battle on the Sabbath, and they died, they and their wives and their children, and their cattle, to the number of a thousand souls.

³⁹ And Mattathias and his friends knew it, and they mourned over them exceedingly.⁴⁰ And one said to another, If we all do as our brethren have done, and fight not against the Gentiles for our lives and our ordinances, they will now quickly destroy us from off the earth.⁴¹ And they took counsel on that day, saying, whosoever shall come against us to battle on the Sabbath day, let us fight against him, and we shall in no wise all die, as our brethren died in the secret places.⁴² Then were gathered together unto them a company of Hasideans, mighty men of Israel, every one that offered himself willingly for the law.⁴³ And all they that fled from the evils were added to them, and became a stay unto them.⁴⁴ And they mustered a host, and smote sinners in their anger, and lawless men in their wrath: and the rest fled to the Gentiles for safety.⁴⁵ And Mattathias and his friends went round about, and pulled down the altars;⁴⁶ and they circumcised by force the children that were uncircumcised, as many as they found in the borders of Israel.⁴⁷ And they pursued after the sons of pride, and the work prospered in their hand.⁴⁸ And they rescued the law out of the hand of the Gentiles, and out of the hand of the kings, neither suffered they the sinner to triumph.

⁴⁹ And the days of Mattathias drew near that he should die, and he said unto his sons,

Now have pride and rebuke gotten strength, and a season of overthrow, and wrath of indignation.⁵⁰ And now, my children, be ye zealous for the law, and give your lives for the covenant of your fathers.⁵¹ And call to remembrance the deeds of our fathers which they did in their generations; and receive great glory and an everlasting name.⁵² Was not Abraham found faithful in temptation, and it was reckoned unto him for righteousness? ⁵³ Joseph in the time of his distress kept the commandment, and became lord of Egypt.⁵⁴ Phinehas our father, for that he was zealous exceedingly, obtained the covenant of an everlasting priesthood.⁵⁵ Joshua for fulfilling the word became a judge in Israel.⁵⁶ Caleb for bearing witness in the congregation obtained a heritage in the land.⁵⁷ David for being merciful inherited the throne of a kingdom forever and ever.⁵⁸ Elijah, for that he was exceeding zealous for the law, was taken up into heaven.⁵⁹ Hananiah, Azariah, Mishael, believed, and were saved out of the flame.⁶⁰ Daniel for his innocency was delivered from the mouth of lions.⁶¹ And thus consider ye from generation to generation, that none that put their trust in him shall want for strength.⁶² And be not afraid of the words of a sinful man; for his glory shall be dung and worms.⁶³ Today he shall be lifted up, and tomorrow he shall in no wise be found, because he is returned unto his dust, and his thought is perished.⁶⁴ And ye, my children, be strong, and show yourselves men in behalf of the law; for therein shall ye obtain glory.⁶⁵ And, behold, Simon your brother, I know that he is a man of counsel; give ear unto him always: he shall be a father unto you.⁶⁶ And Judas

Maccabeus, he hath been strong and mighty from his youth: he shall be your captain, and shall fight the battle of the people. ⁶⁷ And take ye unto you all the doers of the law, and avenge the wrong of your people. ⁶⁸ Render a recompense to the Gentiles, and take heed to the commandments of the law. ⁶⁹ And he blessed them, and was gathered to his fathers. ⁷⁰ And he died in the hundred and forty and sixth year, and his sons buried him in the sepulchers of his fathers at Modein, and all Israel made great lamentation for him.

¹ And his son Judas, who was called Maccabeus, rose up in his stead. ² And all his brethren helped him, and so did all they that clave unto his father, and they fought with gladness the battle of Israel. ³ And he gat his people great glory, and put on a breastplate as a giant, and girded his warlike harness about him, and set battles in array, protecting the army with his sword. ⁴ And he was like a lion in his deeds, and as a lion's whelp roaring for prey. ⁵ And he pursued the lawless, seeking them out, and he burnt up those that troubled his people. ⁶ And the lawless shrunk for fear of him, and all the workers of lawlessness were sore troubled, and salvation prospered in his hand. ⁷ And he angered many kings, and made Jacob glad with his acts, and his memorial is blessed forever. ⁸ And he went about among the cities of Judah, and destroyed the ungodly out of the land, and turned away wrath from Israel: ⁹ and he was renowned unto the utmost part of the earth, and he gathered together such as were ready to perish.

¹⁰ And Apollonius gathered the Gentiles together, and a great host from Samaria, to fight against Israel. ¹¹ And Judas perceived it, and he went forth to meet him, and smote him, and slew him: and many fell wounded to death, and the rest fled. ¹² And they took their spoils, and Judas took the sword of Apollonius, and therewith he fought all his days.

¹³ And Seron, the commander of the host of Syria, heard say that Judas had gathered a gathering and a congregation of faithful men with him, and of such as went out to war; ¹⁴ And he said, I will make myself a name and get me glory in the kingdom; and I will fight against Judas and them that are with him, that set at nought the word of the king. ¹⁵ And there went up with him also a mighty army of the ungodly to help him, to take vengeance on the children of Israel.

¹⁶ And he came near unto the going up of Beth-horon, and Judas went forth to meet him with a small company. ¹⁷ But when they saw the army coming to meet them, they said unto Judas, What? shall we be able, being a small company, to fight against so great and strong a multitude? and we for our part are faint, having tasted no food this day. ¹⁸ And Judas said, It is an easy thing for many to be shut up in the hands of a few; and with heaven it is all one, to save by many or by few: ¹⁹ for victory in battle standeth not in the multitude of a host; but strength is from heaven. ²⁰ They come unto us in fullness of insolence and lawlessness, to destroy us and our wives and our children, to spoil us: ²¹ but we fight for our lives and our laws. ²² And he himself will discomfit them before our face: but as for you, be ye not afraid of them.

²³ Now when he had left off speaking, he leaped suddenly upon them, and Seron and his army were discomfited before him. ²⁴ And they pursued them in the going down of Beth-horon unto the plain, and there fell of them about eight hundred men; but the residue fled into the land of the Philistines.

²⁷ But when king Antiochus heard these words, he was full of indignation: and he sent and gathered together all the forces of his realm, an exceeding strong army. ²⁸ And he opened his treasury, and gave his forces pay for a year, and commanded them to be ready for every need. ²⁹ And he saw that the money failed from his treasures, and that the tributes of the country were small, because of the dissension and plague which he had brought upon the land, to the end that he might take away the laws which had been from the first days; ³⁰ and he feared that he should not have enough as at other times for the charges and the gifts which he gave aforetime with a liberal hand, and he abounded above the kings that were before him. ³¹ And he was exceedingly perplexed in his mind, and he determined to go into Persia, and to take the tributes of the countries, and to gather much money. ³² And he left Lysias, an honorable man, and one of the seed royal, to be over the affairs of the king from the river Euphrates unto the borders of Egypt, ³³ and to bring up his son Antiochus, until he came again. ³⁴ And he delivered unto him the half of his forces, and the elephants, and gave him charge of all the things that he would have done, and concerning them that dwelt in Judea and in Jerusalem, ³⁵ that he should send a host against them, to root out and destroy the strength of Israel, and the remnant of Jerusalem, and to take away their memorial from the place; ³⁶ And that he should make strangers to dwell on all their borders, and should divide their land to them by lot. ³⁷ And the king took the half that remained of the forces, and removed from Antioch, from his royal city, the hundred and forty and seventh year; and he passed over the river Euphrates, and went through the upper countries.

⁴² And Judas and his brethren saw that evils were multiplied, and that the forces were encamping in their borders; and they took knowledge of the king's words which he had commanded, to destroy the people and make an end of them; ⁴³ and they said each man to his neighbor, Let us raise up the ruin of our people, and let us fight for our people and the holy place. ⁴⁴ And the congregation was gathered together, that they might be ready for battle, and that they might pray, and ask for mercy and compassion. ⁴⁵ And Jerusalem was without inhabitant as a wilderness, there was none of her offspring that went in or went out; and the sanctuary was trodden down, and the sons of strangers were in the citadel, the Gentiles lodged therein; and joy was taken away from Jacob, and the pipe and the harp ceased. ⁴⁶ And they gathered themselves together, and came to Mizpeh, over against Jerusalem; for in Mizpeh was there a place of prayer aforetime for Israel. ⁴⁷ And they fasted that day, and put on sackcloth, and put ashes upon their heads, and rent their clothes, ⁴⁸ and laid open the book of the law, concerning which the Gentiles were wont to inquire, seeking the likenesses of their idols. ⁴⁹ And they brought the priests' garments, and the firstfruits, and the tithes: and they stirred up the Nazirites, who had accomplished their days. ⁵⁰ And they cried aloud toward heaven, saying, What shall we do with these men, and whither shall we carry them away? ⁵¹ And thy holy place is trodden down and profaned, and thy priests are in heaviness and brought low. ⁵² And, behold, the Gentiles are assembled together against us to destroy us: thou knowest what things they imagine against us. ⁵³ How shall we be able to stand before them, except thou be our help? ⁵⁴ And they sounded with the trumpets, and cried with a loud voice.

⁵⁵ And after this Judas appointed leaders of the people, captains of thousands, and captains of hundreds, and captains of fifties, and captains of tens. ⁵⁶ And he said to them that were building houses, and were betrothing wives, and were planting vineyards, and were fearful, that they should return, each man to his own house, according to the law. ⁵⁷ And the army removed, and encamped upon the south side of Emmaus. ⁵⁸ And Judas said, Gird yourselves, and be valiant men, and be in readiness against the morning, that ye may fight with these Gentiles, that are assembled together against us to destroy us, and our holy place: ⁵⁹ for it is better for us to die in battle, than to look upon the evils of our nation and the holy place. ⁶⁰ Nevertheless, as may be the will in heaven, so shall he do.

¹ And Gorgias took five thousand footmen, and a thousand chosen horse, and the army removed by night, ² that it might fall upon the army of the Jews and smite them suddenly: and the men of the citadel were his guides. ³ And Judas heard thereof, and removed, he and the valiant men, that he might smite the king's host which was at Emmaus, ⁴ while as yet the forces were dispersed from the camp. ⁵ And Gorgias came into the camp of Judas by night, and found no man; and he sought them in the mountains; for he said, These men flee from us. ⁶ And as soon as it was day, Judas appeared in the plain with three thousand men: howbeit they had not armor nor swords as they desired. ⁷ And they saw the camp of the Gentiles strong and fortified, and horsemen compassing it round about; and these were expert in war. ⁸ And Judas said to the men that were with him, Fear ye not their multitude, neither be ye afraid of their onset. ⁹ Remember how our fathers were saved in the Red Sea, when Pharaoh pursued them with a host. ¹⁰ And now let us cry unto heaven, if he will have us, and will remember the covenant of our fathers, and destroy this army before our face today: ¹¹ and all the Gentiles shall know that there is one who redeemeth and saveth Israel. ¹² And the strangers lifted up their eyes, and saw them coming over against them: ¹³ and they went out of the camp to battle. And they that were with Judas sounded their trumpets, ¹⁴ and joined battle, and the Gentiles were discomfited, and fled into the plain. ¹⁵ But all the hindmost fell by the sword: and they pursued them unto Gazara, and unto the plains of Idumea and Azotus and Jamnia, and there fell of them about three thousand men. ¹⁶ And Judas and his host returned from pursuing after them, ¹⁷ and he said unto the people, Be not greedy of the spoils, inasmuch as there is a battle before us; ¹⁸ and Gorgias and his host are nigh unto us in the mountain. But stand ye now against our enemies, and fight against them, and afterward take the spoils with boldness. ¹⁹ While Judas was yet making an end of these words, there appeared a part of them looking out from the mountain: ²⁰ and they saw that their host had been put to flight, and that the Jews were burning the camp; for the smoke that was seen declared what was done. ²¹ But when they perceived these things, they were sore afraid; and perceiving also the army of Judas in the plain ready for battle, ²² they fled all of them into the land of the Philistines. ²³ And Judas returned to spoil the camp, and they gat much gold, and silver, and blue, and sea purple, and great riches. ²⁴ And they returned home, and sang a song of thanksgiving, and gave praise unto heaven; because his mercy is good, because his mercy endureth forever. ²⁵ And Israel had a great deliverance that day.

²⁶ But the strangers, as many as had escaped, came and told Lysias all the things that had happened: ²⁷ but when he heard thereof, he was confounded and discouraged, because neither had such things as he would been done unto Israel, nor had such things as the king commanded him come to pass.

²⁸ And in the next year he gathered together threescore thousand chosen footmen, and five thousand horse, that he might subdue them. ²⁹ And they came into Idumea, and encamped at Beth-zur; and Judas met them with ten thousand men. ³⁰ And he saw that the army was strong, and he prayed and said,

Blessed art thou, O Savior of Israel, who didst quell the onset of the mighty man by the hand of thy servant David, and didst deliver the army of the Philistines into the hands of Jonathan the son of Saul, and of his armor-bearer: ³¹ shut up this army in the hand of thy people Israel, and let them be ashamed for their host and their horsemen: ³² give them faintness of heart, and cause the boldness of their strength to melt away, and let them quake at their destruction: ³³ cast them down with the sword of them that love thee, and let all that know thy name praise thee with thanksgiving.

³⁴ And they joined battle; and there fell of the army of Lysias about five thousand men, and they fell down over against them. ³⁵ But when Lysias saw that his array was put to flight, and the boldness that had come upon them that were with Judas, and how they were ready either to live or to die nobly, he removed to Antioch, and gathered together hired soldiers, that he might come again into Judea with even a greater company.

³⁶ But Judas and his brethren said, Behold, our enemies are discomfited: let us go up to cleanse the holy place, and to dedicate it afresh. ³⁷ And all the army was gathered together, and they went up unto mount Zion. ³⁸ And they saw the sanctuary laid desolate, and the altar profaned, and the gates burned up, and shrubs growing in the courts as in a forest or as on one of the mountains, and the priests' chambers pulled down; ³⁹ and they rent their clothes, and made great lamentation, and put ashes upon their heads, ⁴⁰ and fell on their faces to the ground, and blew with the solemn trumpets, and cried toward heaven. ⁴¹ Then Judas appointed certain men to fight against those that were in the citadel, until he should have cleansed the holy place.

⁴² And he chose blameless priests, such as had pleasure in the law: ⁴³ and they cleansed the holy place, and bare out the stones of defilement into an unclean place. ⁴⁴ And they took counsel concerning the altar of burnt offerings, which had been profaned, what they should do with it: ⁴⁵ and there came into their mind a good counsel, that they should pull it down, lest it should be a reproach to them, because the Gentiles had defiled it: and they pulled down the altar, ⁴⁶ and laid up the stones in the mountain of the house in a convenient place, until there should come a prophet to give an answer concerning them. ⁴⁷ And they took whole stones according to the law, and built a new altar after the fashion of the former; ⁴⁸ and they built the holy place, and the inner parts of the house; and they hallowed the courts. ⁴⁹ And they made the holy vessels new, and they brought the candlestick, and the altar of burnt offerings and of incense, and the table, into the temple. ⁵⁰ And they burned incense upon the altar, and they lighted the lamps that were upon the candlestick, and they gave light in the temple. ⁵¹ And they set loaves upon the table, and spread out the veils, and finished all the works which they made.

⁵² And they rose up early in the morning, on the five and twentieth day of the ninth month, which is the month Chislev, in the hundred and forty and eighth year, ⁵³ and offered sacrifice according to the law upon the new altar of burnt offerings which they had made. ⁵⁴ At what time and on what day the Gentiles had profaned it, even on that day was it dedicated afresh, with songs and harps and lutes, and with cymbals. ⁵⁵ And all the people fell upon their faces, and worshiped, and gave praise unto heaven, which had given them good success. ⁵⁶ And they kept the dedication of the altar eight days, and offered burnt offerings with gladness, and sacrificed a sacrifice of deliverance and praise. ⁵⁷ And they decked the forefront of the temple with crowns of gold and small shields, and dedicated afresh the gates and the priests' chambers, and made doors for them. ⁵⁸ And there was exceeding great gladness among the people, and the reproach of the Gentiles was turned away. ⁵⁹ And Judas and his brethren and the whole congregation of Israel ordained, that the days of the dedication of the altar should be kept in their seasons from year to year by the space of eight days, from the five and twentieth day of the month Chislev, with gladness and joy. ⁶⁰ And at that season they built up the mount Zion with high walls and strong towers round about, lest haply the Gentiles should come and tread them down, as they had done aforetime. ⁶¹ And he set there a force to keep it, and they fortified Beth-zur to keep it; that the people might have a stronghold over against Idumea.

¹ And it came to pass, when the Gentiles round about heard that the altar was built, and the sanctuary dedicated as aforetime, they were exceeding wroth. ² And they took counsel to destroy the race of Jacob that was in the midst of them, and they began to slay and destroy among the people. ³ And Judas fought against the children of Esau in Idumea at Akrabattene, because they besieged Israel: and he smote them with a great slaughter, and brought down their pride, and took their spoils. ⁴ And he remembered the wickedness of the children of Baeon, who were unto the people a snare and a stumbling block, lying in wait for them in the ways. ⁵ And they were shut up by him in the towers; and he encamped against them, and destroyed them utterly, and burned with fire the towers of the place, with all that were therein. ⁶ And he passed over to the children of Ammon, and found a mighty band, and much people, with Timothy for their leader. ⁷ And he fought many battles with them, and they were discomfited before his face; and he smote them, ⁸ and gat possession of Jazer, and the villages thereof, and returned again into Judea.

⁹ And the Gentiles that were in Gilead gathered themselves together against the Israelites that were on their borders, to destroy them. And they fled to the stronghold of Dathema, ¹⁰ and sent letters unto Judas and his brethren, saying, The Gentiles that are round about us are gathered together against us to destroy us: ¹¹ and they are preparing to come and get possession of the stronghold whereunto we are fled for refuge, and Timothy is the leader of their host. ¹² Now therefore come and deliver us from their hand, for many of us are fallen. ¹³ And all our brethren that were in the land of Tob have been put to death; and they have carried into captivity their wives and their children and their stuff; and they destroyed there about a thousand men. ¹⁴ While the letters were yet reading, behold, there came other messengers from Galilee with their clothes rent, bringing a report after this wise, ¹⁵ saying, That there were gathered together against them those of Ptolemais, and of Tyre, and of Sidon, and all Galilee of the Gentiles to consume them. ¹⁶ Now when Judas and the people heard these words, there assembled together a great congregation, to consult what they should do for their brethren, that were in tribulation, and were assaulted of them. ¹⁷ And Judas said unto Simon his brother, Choose thee out men, and go and deliver thy brethren that are in Galilee, but I and Jonathan my brother will go into the land of Gilead. ¹⁸ And he left Joseph the son of Zechariah, and Azariah, as leaders of the people, with the remnant of the host, in Judea, to keep it. ¹⁹ And he gave commandment unto them, saying, Take ye the charge of this people, and fight no battle with the Gentiles until that we come again. ²⁰ And unto Simon were divided three thousand men to go into Galilee, but unto Judas eight thousand men to go into the land of Gilead.

²¹ And Simon went into Galilee, and fought many battles with the Gentiles, and the Gentiles were discomfited before him. ²² And he pursued them unto the gate of Ptolemais; and there fell of the Gentiles about three thousand men, and he took their spoils. ²³ And they took to them those that were in Galilee, and in Arbatta, with their wives and their children, and all that they had, and brought them into Judea with great gladness. ²⁴ And Judas Maccabeus and his brother Jonathan passed over Jordan, and went three days' journey in the wilderness; ²⁵ and they met with the Nabateans, and these met them in a peaceable manner, and told them all things that had befallen their brethren in the land of Gilead: ²⁶ and how that many of them were shut up in Bozrah, and Bosor, and Alema, Chaspho, Maked, and Carnaim; all these cities are strong and great: ²⁷ and how that they were shut up in the rest of the cities of the land of Gilead, and that tomorrow they have appointed to encamp against the strongholds, and to take them, and to destroy all these men in one day. ²⁸ And Judas and his army turned suddenly by the way of the wilderness unto Bozrah; and he took the city, and slew all the males with the edge of the sword, and took all their spoils, and burned the city with fire. ²⁹ And he removed from thence by night, and went till he came to the stronghold. ³⁰ And the morning came, and they lifted up their eyes, and, behold, much people which could not be numbered, bearing ladders and engines of war, to take the stronghold; and they were fighting against them. ³¹ And Judas saw that the battle was begun, and that the cry of the city went up to heaven, with trumpets and a great sound, ³² and he said unto the men of his host, Fight this day for your brethren. ³³ And he went forth behind them in three companies, and they sounded with their trumpets, and cried out in prayer. ³⁴ And the army of Timothy perceived that it was Maccabeus, and they fled from before him: and he smote them with a great slaughter; and there fell of them on that day about eight thousand men. ³⁵ And he turned aside to Alema and fought against it, and took it, and slew all the males thereof, and took the spoils thereof, and burned it with fire. ³⁶ From thence he removed, and took Chaspho, Maked, Bosor, and the other cities of the land of Gilead.

³⁷ Now after these things Timothy gathered another army, and encamped over against Raphon beyond the brook. ³⁸ And Judas sent men to spy the army; and they brought him word, saying, All the Gentiles that are round about us are gathered together unto them, an exceeding great host. ³⁹ And they have hired Arabians to help them, and are encamping beyond the brook, ready to come against thee to battle. And Judas went to meet them. ⁴⁰ And Timothy said unto the captains of his host, when Judas and his army drew nigh unto the brook of water, If he pass over first unto us, we shall not be able to withstand him; for he will mightily prevail against us: ⁴¹ but if he be afraid, and encamp beyond the river, we will cross over unto him, and prevail against him. ⁴² Now when Judas came nigh unto the brook of water, he caused the scribes of the people to remain by the brook, and gave commandment unto them, saying, Suffer no man to encamp, but let all come to the battle. ⁴³ And he crossed over the first against them, and all the people after him: and all the Gentiles were discomfited before his face, and cast away their arms, and fled unto the temple at Carnaim. ⁴⁴ And they took the city, and burned the temple with fire, together with all that were therein. And Carnaim was subdued, neither could they stand any longer before the face of Judas.

⁴⁵ And Judas gathered together all Israel, them that were in the land of Gilead, from the least unto the greatest, and their wives, and their children, and their stuff, an exceeding great army, that they might come into the land of Judah. ⁴⁶ And they came as far as Ephron, and this same city was great, and it was in the way as they should go, exceeding strong: they could not turn aside from it on the right hand or on the left, but must needs pass through the midst of it. ⁴⁷ And they of the city shut them out, and stopped up the gates with stones. ⁴⁸ And Judas sent unto them with words of peace, saying, We will pass through thy land to go into our own land, and none shall do you any hurt, we will only pass by on our feet. And they would not open unto him. ⁴⁹ And Judas commanded proclamation to be made in the army, that each man should encamp in the place where he was. ⁵⁰ And the men of the host encamped, and fought against the city all that day and all that night, and the city was delivered into his hands; ⁵¹ and he destroyed all the males with the edge of the sword, and razed the city, and took the spoils thereof, and passed through the city over them that were slain. ⁵² And they went over Jordan into the great plain over against Beth-shan. ⁵³ And Judas gathered together those that lagged behind, and encouraged the people all the way through, until he came into the land of Judah. ⁵⁴ And they went up to mount Zion with gladness and joy, and offered whole burnt offerings, because not so much as one of them was slain until they returned in peace.

⁵⁵ And in the days when Judas and Jonathan were in the land of Gilead, and Simon his brother in Galilee before Ptolemais, ⁵⁶ Joseph the son of Zechariah, and Azariah, rulers of the host, heard of their exploits and of the war, what things they had done; ⁵⁷ and they said, Let us also get us a name, and let us go fight against the Gentiles that are round about us. ⁵⁸ And they gave charge unto the men of the host that was with them, and went toward Jamnia. ⁵⁹ And Gorgias and his men came out of the city to meet them in battle. ⁶⁰ And Joseph and Azariah were put to flight, and were pursued unto the borders of Judea; and there fell on that day of the people of Israel about two thousand men. ⁶¹ And there was a great overthrow among the people, because they hearkened not unto Judas and his brethren, thinking to do some exploit. ⁶² But they were not of the seed of those men, by whose hand deliverance was given unto Israel.

⁶³ And the man Judas and his brethren were glorified exceedingly in the sight of all Israel, and of all the Gentiles, wheresoever their name was heard of; ⁶⁴ and men gathered together unto them, acclaiming them.

⁶⁵ And Judas and his brethren went forth, and fought against the children of Esau in the land toward the south; and he smote Hebron and the villages thereof, and pulled down the strongholds thereof, and burned the towers thereof round about. ⁶⁶ And he removed to go into the land of the Philistines, and he went through Samaria. ⁶⁷ In that day certain priests, desiring to do exploits there, were slain in battle, when as he went out to battle unadvisedly. ⁶⁸ And Judas turned aside to Azotus, to the land of the Philistines, and pulled down their altars, and burned the carved images of their gods with fire, and took the spoil of their cities, and returned into the land of Judah.

¹ And king Antiochus was journeying through the upper countries; and he heard say, that in Elymais in Persia there was a city renowned for riches, for silver and gold; ² and that the temple which was in it was rich exceedingly, and that therein were golden shields, and breastplates, and arms, which Alexander, son of Philip, the Macedonian king, who reigned first among the Greeks, left behind there. ³ And he came and sought to take the city, and to pillage it; and he was not able, because the thing was known to them of the city, ⁴ and they rose up against him to battle: and he fled, and removed thence with great heaviness, to return unto Babylon.

⁵ And there came one bringing him tidings into Persia, that the armies, which went against the land of Judah, had been put to flight; ⁶ and that Lysias went first with a strong host, and was put to shame before them; and that they had waxed strong by reason of arms and power, and with store of spoils, which they took from the armies that they had cut off; ⁷ and that they had pulled down the abomination which he had built upon the altar that was in Jerusalem; and that they had compassed about the sanctuary with high walls, as before, and Beth-zur, his city. ⁸ And it came to pass, when the king heard these words, he was astonished and moved exceedingly: and he laid him down upon his bed, and fell sick for grief, because it had not befallen him as he looked for. ⁹ And he was there many days, because great grief was renewed upon him, and he made account that he should die. ¹⁰ And he called for all his Friends, and said unto them, Sleep departeth from mine eyes, and my heart faileth for care. ¹¹ And I said in my heart, Unto what tribulation am I come, and how great a flood is it, wherein I now am! for I was gracious and beloved in my power. ¹² But now I remember the evils which I did at Jerusalem, and that I took all the vessels of silver and gold that were therein, and sent forth to destroy the inhabitants of Judah without a cause. ¹³ I perceive that on this account these evils are come upon me, and, behold, I perish through great grief in a strange land. ¹⁴ And he called for Philip, one of his Friends, and set him over all his kingdom, ¹⁵ and gave him his diadem, and his robe, and his signet ring, to the end he should bring Antiochus his son, and nourish him up that he might be king. ¹⁶ And king Antiochus died there in the hundred and forty and ninth year. ¹⁷ And Lysias knew that the king was dead, and he set up Antiochus his son to reign, whom he had nourished up being young, and he called his name Eupator.

¹⁸ And they that were in the citadel shut up Israel round about the sanctuary, and sought always their hurt, and the strengthening of the Gentiles. ¹⁹ And Judas thought to destroy them, and called all the people together to besiege them. ²⁰ And they were gathered together, and besieged them in the hundred and fiftieth year, and he made mounds to shoot from, and engines of war. ²¹ And there came forth some of them that were shut up, and there were joined unto them certain ungodly men of Israel. ²² And they went unto the king, and said, How long wilt thou not execute judgment, and avenge our brethren? ²³ We were willing to serve thy father, and to walk after his words, and to follow his commandments; ²⁴ and for this cause the children of our people besieged the citadel, and were alienated from us; but as many of us as they could light on they slew, and plundered our inheritances. ²⁵ And not against us only did they stretch out their hand, but also against all their borders. ²⁶ And, behold, they are encamped this day against the citadel at Jerusalem, to take it: and the sanctuary and Beth-zur have they fortified. ²⁷ And if ye are not beforehand with them quickly, they will do greater things than these, and thou shalt not be able to control them.

²⁸ And when the king heard this, he was angry, and gathered together all his Friends, even the rulers of his host, and them that were over the horse. ²⁹ And there came unto him from other kingdoms, and from isles of the sea, bands of hired soldiers. ³⁰ And the number of his forces was a hundred thousand footmen, and twenty thousand horsemen, and two and thirty elephants trained for war. ³¹ And they went through Idumea, and encamped against Beth-zur, and fought against it many days, and made engines of war; and they of Beth-zur came out, and burned them with fire, and fought valiantly. ³² And Judas removed from the citadel, and encamped at Beth-zechariah, over against the king's camp. ³³ And the king rose early in the morning, and removed his army at full speed along the road to Beth-zechariah, and his forces made them ready to battle, and sounded with the trumpets. ³⁴ And they showed the elephants the blood of grapes and mulberries, that they might prepare them for the battle. ³⁵ And they divided the beasts among the phalanxes, and they set by each elephant a thousand men armed with coats of mail, and helmets of brass on their heads; and for each beast were appointed five hundred chosen horsemen. ³⁶ These were ready beforehand, wheresoever the beast was; and whithersoever the beast went, they went with him; they departed not from him. ³⁷ And towers of wood were upon them, strong and covered, one upon each beast, girded fast upon him with cunning contrivances; and upon each beast were two and thirty valiant men that fought upon them, beside his Indian ³⁸ (and the residue of the horsemen he set on this side and that side at the two parts of the army), striking terror into the enemy, and protected by the phalanxes. ³⁹ Now when the sun shone upon the shields of gold and brass, the mountains shone therewith, and blazed like torches of fire. ⁴⁰ And a part of the king's army was spread upon the high mountains, and some on the low ground, and they went on firmly and in order. ⁴¹ And all that heard the noise of their multitude, and the marching of the multitude, and the rattling of the arms, did quake: for the army was exceeding great and strong. ⁴² And Judas and his army drew near for battle, and there fell of the king's army six hundred men. ⁴³ And Eleazar, who was called Avaran, saw one of the beasts armed with royal breastplates, and he was higher than all the beasts, and the king seemed to be upon him; ⁴⁴ and he gave himself to deliver his people, and to get him an everlasting name; ⁴⁵ and he ran upon him courageously into the midst of the phalanx, and slew on the right hand and on the left, and they parted asunder from him on this side and on that. ⁴⁶ And he crept under the elephant, and thrust him from beneath, and slew him; and the elephant fell to the earth upon him, and he died there. ⁴⁷ And they saw the strength of the kingdom, and the fierce onset of the hosts, and turned away from them.

⁴⁸ But they of the king's army went up to Jerusalem to meet them, and the king encamped toward Judea, and toward mount Zion. ⁴⁹ And he made peace with them of Beth-zur; and he came out of the city, because they had no food there to endure the siege, because it was a Sabbath to the land. ⁵⁰ And the king took Beth-zur, and appointed a garrison there to keep it. ⁵¹ And he encamped against the sanctuary many days; and set there mounds to shoot from, and engines of war, and instruments for casting fire and stones, and pieces to cast darts, and slings. ⁵² And they also made engines against their engines, and fought for many days. ⁵³ But there were no victuals in the sanctuary, because it was the seventh year, and they that fled for safety into Judea from among the Gentiles had eaten up the residue of the store; ⁵⁴ and there were but a few left in the sanctuary, because the famine prevailed against them, and they were scattered, each man to his own place.

⁵⁵ And Lysias heard say, that Philip, whom Antiochus the king, while he was yet alive, appointed to nourish up his son Antiochus, that he might be king, ⁵⁶ was returned from Persia and Media, and with him the forces that went with the king, and that he was seeking to take unto him the government. ⁵⁷ And he made haste, and gave consent to depart; and he said to the king and the leaders of the host and to the men, We decay daily, and our food is scant, and the place where we encamp is strong, and the affairs of the kingdom lie upon us: ⁵⁸ now therefore let us give the right hand to these men, and make peace with them and with all their nation, ⁵⁹ and covenant with them, that they shall walk after their own laws, as aforetime: for because of their laws which we abolished they were angered, and did all these things. ⁶⁰ And the saying pleased the king and the princes, and he sent unto them to make peace; and they accepted thereof. ⁶¹ And the king and the princes sware unto them: thereupon they came forth from the stronghold. ⁶² And the king entered into mount Zion; and he saw the strength of the place, and set at nought the oath which he had sworn, and gave commandment to pull down the wall round about. ⁶³ And he removed in haste, and returned unto Antioch, and found Philip master of the city; and he fought against him, and took the city by force.

¹ In the hundred and one and fiftieth year Demetrius the son of Seleucus came forth from Rome, and went up with a few men unto a city by the sea, and reigned there. ² And it came to pass, when he would go into the house of the kingdom of his fathers, that the army laid hands on Antiochus and Lysias, to bring them unto him. ³ And the thing was known to him, and he said, show me not their faces. ⁴ And the army slew them. And Demetrius sat upon the throne of his kingdom. ⁵ And there came unto him all the lawless and ungodly men of Israel; and Alcimus was their leader, desiring to be high priest; ⁶ and they accused the people to the king, saying, Judas and his brethren have destroyed all thy friends, and have scattered us from our own land. ⁷ Now therefore send a man whom thou trustest, and let him go and see all the havoc which he hath made of us, and of the king's country, and how he hath punished them and all that helped them. ⁸ And the king chose Bacchides, one of the king's Friends, who was ruler in the country beyond the river, and was a great man in the kingdom, and faithful to the king. ⁹ And he sent him, and that ungodly Alcimus, and made sure to him the high priesthood, and he commanded him to take vengeance upon the children of Israel.

¹⁰ And they removed, and came with a great host into the land of Judah, and he sent messengers to Judas and his brethren with words of peace deceitfully. ¹¹ And they gave no heed to their words; for they saw that they were come with a great host. ¹² And there were gathered together unto Alcimus and Bacchides a company of scribes, to seek for justice. ¹³ And the Hasideans were the first among the children of Israel that sought peace of them; ¹⁴ for they said, One that is a priest of the seed of Aaron is come with the forces, and he will do us no wrong. ¹⁵ And he spake with them words of peace, and sware unto them, saying, We will seek the hurt neither of you nor your friends. ¹⁶ And they gave him credence: and he laid hands on threescore men of them, and slew them in one day, according to the word which the psalmist wrote,

¹⁷ The flesh of thy saints did they cast out,
And their blood did they shed round about Jerusalem;
And there was no man to bury them.

¹⁸ And the fear and the dread of them fell upon all the people, for they said, There is neither truth nor judgment in them; for they have broken the covenant and the oath which they swear. ¹⁹ And Bacchides removed from Jerusalem, and encamped in Beth-zaith; and he sent and took away many of the deserters that were with him, and certain of the people, and he slew them, and cast them into the great pit. ²⁰ And he made sure the country to Alcimus, and left with him a force to aid him; and Bacchides went away unto the king.

²¹ And Alcimus strove for his high priesthood. ²² And there were gathered unto him all they that troubled their people, and they gat the mastery of the land of Judah, and did great hurt in Israel. ²³ And Judas saw all the mischief that Alcimus and his company had done among the children of Israel, even above the Gentiles, ²⁴ and he went out into all the borders of Judea round about, and took vengeance on the men that had deserted from him, and they were restrained from going forth into the country. ²⁵ But when Alcimus saw that Judas and his company waxed strong, and knew that he was not able to withstand them, he returned to the king, and brought evil accusations against them.

²⁶ And the king sent Nicanor, one of his honorable princes, a man that hated Israel and was their enemy, and commanded him to destroy the people. ²⁷ And Nicanor came to Jerusalem with a great host; and he sent unto Judas and his brethren deceitfully with words of peace, saying, ²⁸ Let there be no battle between me and you; I will come with a few men, that I may see your faces in peace. ²⁹ And he came to Judas, and they saluted one another peaceably. And the enemies were ready to take away Judas by violence. ³⁰ And the thing was known to Judas, to wit, that he came unto him with deceit, and he was sore afraid of him, and would see his face no more. ³¹ And Nicanor knew that his counsel was discovered; and he went out to meet Judas in battle beside Capharsalama; ³² and there fell of Nicanor's side about five hundred men, and they fled into the city of David.

³³ And after these things Nicanor went up to mount Zion: and there came some of the priests out of the sanctuary, and some of the elders of the people, to salute him peaceably, and to show him the whole burnt sacrifice that was being offered for the king. ³⁴ And he mocked them, and laughed at them, and treated them shamefully, and spake haughtily, ³⁵ and swore in a rage, saying, Unless Judas and his army be now delivered into my hands, it shall be that, if I come again in peace, I will burn up this house: and he went out in a great rage. ³⁶ And the priests entered in, and stood before the altar and the temple; and they wept, and said, ³⁷ Thou didst choose this house to be called by thy name, to be a house of prayer and supplication for thy people: ³⁸ take vengeance on this man and his army, and let them fall by the sword: remember their blasphemies, and suffer them not to live any longer.

³⁹ And Nicanor went forth from Jerusalem, and encamped in Beth-horon, and there met him the host of Syria. ⁴⁰ And Judas encamped in Adasa with three thousand men: and Judas prayed and said, ⁴¹ When they that came from the king blasphemed, thine angel went out, and smote among them a hundred and fourscore and five thousand. ⁴² Even so discomfit thou this army before us today, and let all the rest know that he hath spoken wickedly against thy sanctuary, and judge thou him according to his wickedness. ⁴³ And on the thirteenth day of the month Adar the armies joined battle: and Nicanor's army was discomfited, and he himself was the first to fall in the battle. ⁴⁴ Now when his army saw that Nicanor was fallen, they cast away their arms, and fled. ⁴⁵ And they pursued after them a day's journey from Adasa until thou comest to Gazara, and they sounded an alarm after them with the solemn trumpets. ⁴⁶ And they came forth out of all the villages of Judea round about, and closed them in; and these turned them back on those, and they all fell by the sword, and there was not one of them left. ⁴⁷ And they took the spoils, and the booty, and they smote off Nicanor's head, and his right hand, which he stretched out so haughtily, and brought them, and hung them up beside Jerusalem. ⁴⁸ And the people were exceeding glad, and they kept that day as a day of great gladness. ⁴⁹ And they ordained to keep this day year by year, to wit, the thirteenth day of Adar. ⁵⁰ And the land of Judah had rest a little while.

¹ And Judas heard of the fame of the Romans, that they are valiant men, and have pleasure in all that join themselves unto them, and make amity with all such as come unto them, ² and that they are valiant men. And they told him of their wars and exploits which they do among the Gauls, and how that they conquered them, and brought them under tribute; ³ and what things they did in the land of Spain, that they might become masters of the mines of silver and gold which were there; ⁴ and how that by their policy and persistence they conquered all the place (and the place was exceeding far from them), and the kings that came against them from the uttermost part of the earth, until they had discomfited them, and smitten them very sore; and how the rest give them tribute year by year: ⁵ and Philip, and Perseus, king of Kittim, and them that lifted up themselves against them, did they discomfit in battle, and conquered them: ⁶ Antiochus also, the great king of Asia, who came against them to battle, having a hundred and twenty elephants, with horse, and chariots, and an exceeding great host, and he was discomfited by them, ⁷ and they took him alive, and appointed that both he and such as reigned after him should give them a great tribute, and should give hostages, and a parcel of land, to wit, ⁸ the country of India, and Media, and Lydia, and of the goodliest of their countries; and they took them from him, and gave them to king Eumenes: ⁹ and how they of Greece took counsel to come and destroy them; ¹⁰ and the thing was known to them, and they sent against them a captain, and fought against them, and many of them fell down wounded to death, and they made captive their wives and their children, and plundered them, and conquered their land, and pulled down their strongholds, and plundered them, and brought them into bondage unto this day: ¹¹ and the residue of the kingdoms and of the isles, as many as rose up against them at any time, they destroyed and made them to be their servants; ¹² but with their friends and such as relied upon them they kept amity; and they conquered the kingdoms that were nigh and those that were far off, and all that heard of their fame were afraid of them: ¹³ moreover, whomsoever they will to succor and to make kings, these do they make kings; and whomsoever they will, do they depose; and they are exalted exceedingly: ¹⁴ and for all this none of them did ever put on a diadem, neither did they clothe themselves with purple, to be magnified thereby: ¹⁵ and how they had made for themselves a senate house, and day by day three hundred and twenty men sat in council, consulting always for the people, to the end they might be well ordered: ¹⁶ and how they commit their government to one man year by year, that he should rule over them, and be lord over all their country, and all are obedient to that one, and there is neither envy nor emulation among them.

¹⁷ And Judas chose Eupolemus the son of John, the son of Accos, and Jason the son of Eleazar, and sent them to Rome, to make a league of amity and confederacy with them, ¹⁸ and that they should take the yoke from them; for they saw that the kingdom of the Greeks did keep Israel in bondage. ¹⁹ And they went to Rome (and the way was exceeding long), and they entered into the senate house, and answered and said, ²⁰ Judas, who is also called Maccabeus, and his brethren, and the people of the Jews, have sent us unto you, to make a confederacy and peace with you, and that we might be registered your confederates and friends.

²³ Good success be to the Romans, and to the nation of the Jews, by sea and by land forever: the sword also and the enemy be far from them. ²⁴ But if war arise for Rome first, or any of their confederates in all their dominion, ²⁵ the nation of the Jews shall help them as confederates, as the occasion shall prescribe to them, with all their heart: ²⁶ and unto them that make war upon them they shall not give, neither supply, food, arms, money, or ships, as it hath seemed good unto Rome, and they shall keep their ordinances without taking anything therefore. ²⁷ In the same manner, moreover, if war come first upon the nation of the Jews, the Romans shall help them as confederates with all their soul, as the occasion shall prescribe to them: ²⁸ and to them that are confederates with their foes there shall not be given food, arms, money, or ships, as it hath seemed good unto Rome; and they shall keep these ordinances, and that without deceit. ²⁹ According to these words have the Romans made a covenant thus with the people of the Jews. ³⁰ But if hereafter the one party and the other shall take counsel to add or diminish anything, they shall do it at their pleasure, and whatsoever they shall add or take away shall be established. ³¹ And as touching the evils which king Demetrius doeth unto them, we have written to him, saying, Wherefore hast thou made thy yoke heavy upon our friends and confederates the Jews? ³² If therefore they plead anymore against thee, we will do them justice, and fight with thee by sea and by land.

²³ And it came to pass after the death of Judas, that the lawless put forth their heads in all the borders of Israel, and all they that wrought iniquity rose up ²⁴ (in those days there was an exceeding great famine), and the country went over with them. ²⁵ And Bacchides chose out the ungodly men, and made them lords of the country. ²⁶ And they sought out and searched for the friends of Judas, and brought them unto Bacchides, and he took vengeance on them, and used them despitefully. ²⁷ And there was great tribulation in Israel, such as was not since the time that no prophet appeared unto them. ²⁸ And all the friends of Judas were gathered together, and they said unto Jonathan, ²⁹ Since thy brother Judas hath died, we have no man like him to go forth against our enemies and Bacchides, and among them of our nation that hate us. ³⁰ Now therefore we have chosen thee this day to be our prince and leader in his stead, that thou mayest fight our battles. ³¹ And Jonathan took the governance upon him at that time, and rose up in the stead of his brother Judas.

³² And Bacchides knew it, and he sought to slay him. ³³ And Jonathan, and Simon his brother, and all that were with him, knew it; and they fled into the wilderness of Tekoa, and encamped by the water of the pool Asphar. ³⁴ And Bacchides knew it on the Sabbath day, and came, he and all his army, over Jordan. ³⁵ And Jonathan sent his brother, a leader of the multitude, and besought his friends the Nabateans, that they might leave with them their baggage, which was much. ³⁶ And the children of Jambri came out of Medeba, and took John, and all that he had, and went their way with it.

³⁷ But after these things they brought word to Jonathan and Simon his brother, that the children of Jambri were making a great marriage, and were bringing the bride from Nadabath with a great train, a daughter of one of the great nobles of Canaan. ³⁸ And they remembered John their brother, and went up, and hid themselves under the covert of the mountain: ³⁹ and they lifted up their eyes, and saw, and, behold, a great ado and much baggage: and the bridegroom came forth, and his friends and his brethren, to meet them with timbrels, and minstrels, and many weapons. ⁴⁰ And they rose up against them from their ambush, and slew them, and many fell wounded to death, and the remnant fled into the mountain, and they took all their spoils. ⁴¹ And the marriage was turned into mourning, and the voice of their minstrels into lamentation. ⁴² And they avenged fully the blood of their brother, and turned back to the marsh of Jordan.

⁴³ And Bacchides heard it, and he came on the Sabbath day unto the banks of Jordan with a great host. ⁴⁴ And Jonathan said to his company, Let us stand up now and fight for our lives, for it is not with us today, as yesterday and the day before. ⁴⁵ For, behold, the battle is before us and behind us; moreover the water of the Jordan is on this side and on that side, and marsh and wood; and there is no place to turn aside. ⁴⁶ Now therefore cry unto heaven, that ye may be delivered out of the hand of your enemies. ⁴⁷ And the battle was joined, and Jonathan stretched forth his hand to smite Bacchides, and he turned away back from him. ⁴⁸ And Jonathan and they that were with him leaped into the Jordan, and swam over to the other side: and they did not pass over Jordan against them. ⁴⁹ And there fell of Bacchides' company that day about a thousand men; ⁵⁰ and he returned to Jerusalem. And they built strong cities in Judea, the stronghold that was in Jericho, and Emmaus, and Beth-horon, and Bethel, and Timnath, Pharathon, and Tephon, with high walls and gates and bars. ⁵¹ And in them he set a garrison, to vex Israel. ⁵² And he fortified the city Beth-zur, and Gazara, and the citadel, and put forces in them, and store of victuals. ⁵³ And he took the sons of the chief men of the country for hostages, and put them in ward in the citadel at Jerusalem.

⁵⁴ And in the hundred and fifty and third year, in the second month, Alcimus commanded to pull down the wall of the inner court of the sanctuary; he pulled down also the works of the prophets; ⁵⁵ and he began to pull down. At that time was Alcimus stricken, and his works were hindered; and his mouth was stopped, and he was taken with a palsy, and he could no more speak anything and give order concerning his house. ⁵⁶ And Alcimus died at that time with great torment. ⁵⁷ And Bacchides saw that Alcimus was dead, and he returned to the king: and the land of Judah had rest two years.

⁵⁸ And all the lawless men took counsel, saying, Behold, Jonathan and they of his part are dwelling at ease, and in security: now therefore we will bring Bacchides, and he shall lay hands on them all in one night. ⁵⁹ And they went and consulted with him. ⁶⁰ And he removed, and came with a great host, and sent letters privily to all his confederates that were in Judea, that they should lay hands on Jonathan and those that were with him: and they could not, because their counsel was known unto them. ⁶¹ And they that were of Jonathan's part laid hands on about fifty of the men of the country, that were authors of the wickedness, and he slew them. ⁶² And Jonathan, and Simon, and they that were with him, gat them away to Bethbasi, which is in the wilderness, and he built up that which had been pulled down thereof, and they made it strong. ⁶³ And Bacchides knew it, and he gathered together all his multitude, and sent word to them that were of Judea. ⁶⁴ And he went and encamped against Bethbasi, and fought against it many days, and made engines of war. ⁶⁵ And Jonathan left his brother Simon in the city, and went forth into the country, and he went with a few men. ⁶⁶ And he smote Odomera and his brethren, and the children of Phasiron in their tent. ⁶⁷ And they began to smite them, and to go up with their forces. And Simon and they that were with him went out of the city, and set on fire the engines of war, ⁶⁸ and fought against Bacchides, and he was discomfited by them, and they afflicted him sore; for his counsel was in vain, and his inroad. ⁶⁹ And they were very wroth with the lawless men that gave him counsel to come into the country, and they slew many of them. And he took counsel to depart into his own land. ⁷⁰ And Jonathan had knowledge thereof, and sent ambassadors unto him, to the end that they should make peace with him, and that he should restore unto them the captives. ⁷¹ And he accepted the thing, and did according to his words, and sware unto him that he would not seek his hurt all the days of his life. ⁷² And he restored unto him the captives whom he had taken aforetime out of the land of Judah, and he returned and departed into his own land, and came not anymore into their borders. ⁷³ And the sword ceased from Israel. And Jonathan dwelt at Michmash; and Jonathan began to judge the people; and he destroyed the ungodly out of Israel.

³ And Demetrius sent letters unto Jonathan with words of peace, so as to magnify him. ⁴ For he said, Let us be beforehand to make peace with them, ere he make peace with Alexander against us: ⁵ for he will remember all the evils that we have done against him, and unto his brethren and unto his nation. ⁶ And he gave him authority to gather together forces, and to provide arms, and that he should be his confederate: and he commanded that they should deliver up to him the hostages that were in the citadel.

⁷ And Jonathan came to Jerusalem, and read the letters in the audience of all the people, and of them that were in the citadel: ⁸ and they were sore afraid, when they heard that the king had given him authority to gather together a host. ⁹ And they of the citadel delivered up the hostages unto Jonathan, and he restored them unto their parents. ¹⁰ And Jonathan dwelt in Jerusalem, and began to build and renew the city. ¹¹ And he commanded them that did the work to build the walls and the mount Zion round about with square stones for defense; and they did so. ¹² And the strangers, that were in the strongholds which Bacchides had built, fled away; ¹³ and each man left his place, and departed into his own land. ¹⁴ Only at Beth-zur were there left certain of those that had forsaken the law and the commandments; for it was a place of refuge unto them.

¹⁵ And king Alexander heard all the promises which Demetrius had sent unto Jonathan: and they told him of the battles and the valiant deeds which he and his brethren had done, and of the toils which they had endured; ¹⁶ And he said, Shall we find such another man? and now we will make him our Friend and confederate. ¹⁷ And he wrote letters, and sent them unto him, according to these words, saying, ¹⁸ King Alexander to his brother Jonathan, greeting: ¹⁹ We have heard of thee, that thou art a mighty man of valor, and meet to be our Friend. ²⁰ And now we have appointed thee this day to be high priest of thy nation, and to be called the king's Friend (and he sent unto him a purple robe and a crown of gold), and to take our part, and to keep friendship with us.

²¹ And Jonathan put on the holy garments in the seventh month of the hundred and sixtieth year, at the feast of tabernacles, and he gathered together forces, and provided arms in abundance.

²² And Demetrius heard these things, and he was grieved, and said, ²³ What is this that we have done, that Alexander hath been beforehand with us in establishing friendship with the Jews, to strengthen himself? ²⁴ I also will write unto them words of encouragement and of honor and of gifts, that they may be with me to aid me. ²⁵ And he sent unto them according to these words:

King Demetrius unto the nation of the Jews, greeting: ²⁶ Forasmuch as ye have kept your covenants with us, and continued in our friendship, and have not joined yourselves to our enemies, we have heard hereof, and are glad. ²⁷ And now continue ye still to keep faith with us, and we will recompense unto you good things in return for your dealings with us, ²⁸ and will grant you many immunities, and give you gifts. ²⁹ And now do I free you, and release all the Jews, from the tributes, and from the customs of salt, and from the crowns. ³⁰ And instead of the third part of the seed, and instead of the half of the fruit of the trees, which falleth to me to receive, I release it from this day and henceforth, so that I will not take it from the land of Judah, and from the three governments which are added thereunto from the country of Samaria and Galilee, from this day forth and for all time. ³¹ And let Jerusalem be holy and free, and her borders; the tenths and the tolls also. ³² I yield up also my authority over the citadel which is at Jerusalem, and give it to the high priest, that he may appoint in it such men as he shall choose to keep it. ³³ And every soul of the Jews, that hath been carried captive from the land of Judah into any part of my kingdom, I set at liberty without price; and let all remit the tributes of their cattle also. ³⁴ And all the feasts, and the Sabbaths, and new moons, and appointed days, and three days before a feast, and three days after a feast, let them all be days of immunity and release for all the Jews that are in my kingdom. ³⁵ And no man shall have authority to exact from any of them, or to trouble them concerning any matter. ³⁶ And let there be enrolled among the king's forces about thirty thousand men of the Jews, and pay shall be given unto them, as belongeth to all the king's forces. ³⁷ And of them some shall be placed in the king's great strongholds, and some of them shall be placed over the affairs of the kingdom, which are of trust: and let those that are over them, and their rulers, be of themselves, and let them walk after their own laws, even as the king hath commanded in the land of Judah. ³⁸ And the three governments that have been added to Judea from the country of Samaria, let them be added to Judea, that they may be reckoned to be under one, that they may not obey other authority than the high priest's. ³⁹ As for Ptolemais, and the land pertaining thereto, I have given it as a gift to the sanctuary that is at Jerusalem, for the expenses that befit the sanctuary. ⁴⁰ And I give every year fifteen thousand shekels of silver from the king's revenues from the places that are convenient. ⁴¹ And all the overplus, which they that manage the king's affairs paid not in as in the first years, they shall give from henceforth toward the works of the house. ⁴² And beside this, the five thousand shekels of silver, which they received from the uses of the sanctuary from the revenue year by year, this also is released, because it appertaineth to the priests that minister. ⁴³ And whosoever shall flee unto the temple that is at Jerusalem, and be found within all the borders thereof, whether one owe moneys to the king, or any other matter, let them go free, and all that they have in my kingdom. ⁴⁴ And for the building and renewing of the works of the sanctuary the expense shall be given also out of the king's revenue. ⁴⁵ And for the building of the walls of Jerusalem, and the fortifying thereof round about, shall the expense be given also out of the king's revenue, and for the building of the walls in Judea.

⁴⁶ Now when Jonathan and the people heard these words, they gave no credence unto them, nor received them, because they remembered the great evil which he had done in Israel, and that he had afflicted them very sore. ⁴⁷ And they were well pleased with Alexander, because he was the first that spake words of peace unto them, and they were confederate with him always. ⁴⁸ And king Alexander gathered together great forces, and encamped over against Demetrius. ⁴⁹ And the two kings joined battle, and the army of Alexander fled; and Demetrius followed after him, and prevailed against them. ⁵⁰ And he strengthened the battle exceedingly until the sun went down: and Demetrius fell that day.

⁵¹ And Alexander sent ambassadors to Ptolemy king of Egypt according to these words, saying, ⁵² Forasmuch as I am returned to my kingdom, and am set on the throne of my fathers, and have gotten the dominion, and have overthrown Demetrius, and have gotten possession of our country; ⁵³ yea, I joined the battle with him, and he and his army were discomfited by us, and we sat upon the throne of his kingdom: ⁵⁴ now also let us establish amity one with the other, and give me now thy daughter to wife: and I will make affinity with thee, and will give both thee and her gifts worthy of thee. ⁵⁵ And Ptolemy the king answered, saying, Happy is the day wherein thou didst return into the land of thy fathers, and didst sit on the throne of their kingdom. ⁵⁶ And now will I do to thee, as thou hast written: but meet me at Ptolemais, that we may see one another; and I will make affinity with thee, even as thou hast said. ⁵⁷ And Ptolemy went out of Egypt, himself and Cleopatra his daughter, and came unto Ptolemais in the hundred and threescore and second year: ⁵⁸ and king Alexander met him, and he bestowed on him his daughter Cleopatra, and celebrated her marriage at Ptolemais with great pomp, as the manner of kings is.

⁵⁹ And king Alexander wrote unto Jonathan, that he should come to meet him. ⁶⁰ And he went with pomp to Ptolemais, and met the two kings, and gave them and their Friends silver and gold, and many gifts, and found favor in their sight. ⁶¹ And there were gathered together against him certain pestilent fellows out of Israel, men that were transgressors of the law, to complain against him: and the king gave no heed to them. ⁶² And the king commanded, and they took off Jonathan's garments, and clothed him in purple: and thus they did. ⁶³ And the king made him sit with him, and said unto his princes, Go forth with him into the midst of the city, and make proclamation, that no man complain against him of any matter, and let no man trouble him for any manner of cause. ⁶⁴ And it came to pass, when they that complained against him saw his glory according as the herald made proclamation, and saw him clothed in purple, they all fled away. ⁶⁵ And the king gave him honor, and wrote him among his Chief Friends, and made him a captain, and governor of a province. ⁶⁶ And Jonathan returned to Jerusalem with peace and gladness.

⁶⁷ And in the hundred and threescore and fifth year came Demetrius, son of Demetrius, out of Crete into the land of his fathers: ⁶⁸ and king Alexander heard thereof, and he grieved exceedingly, and returned unto Antioch. ⁶⁹ And Demetrius appointed Apollonius, who was over Coelesyria, and he gathered together a great host, and encamped in Jamnia, and sent unto Jonathan the high priest, saying, ⁷⁰ Thou alone liftest up thyself against us, but I am had in derision and in reproach because of thee. And why dost thou vaunt thy power against us in the mountains?

⁷¹ Now therefore, if thou trustest in thy forces, come down to us into the plain, and there let us try the matter together; for with me is the power of the cities. ⁷² Ask and learn who I am, and the rest that help us; and they say, Your foot cannot stand before our face; for thy fathers have been twice put to flight in their own land. ⁷³ And now thou shalt not be able to abide the horse and such a host as this in the plain, where is neither stone nor flint, nor place to flee unto.

⁷⁴ Now when Jonathan heard the words of Apollonius, he was moved in his mind, and he chose out ten thousand men, and went forth from Jerusalem, and Simon his brother met him to help him. ⁷⁵ And he encamped against Joppa: and they of the city shut him out, because Apollonius had a garrison in Joppa: ⁷⁶ and they fought against it. And they of the city were afraid, and opened unto him: and Jonathan became master of Joppa. ⁷⁷ And Apollonius heard, and he gathered an army of three thousand horse, and a great host, and went to Azotus as though he were on a journey, and therewithal drew onward into the plain, because he had a multitude of horse, and trusted therein. ⁷⁸ And he pursued after him to Azotus, and the armies joined battle. ⁷⁹ And Apollonius had left a thousand horse behind them privily. ⁸⁰ And Jonathan knew that there was an ambushment behind him. And they compassed round his army, and cast their darts at the people, from morning until evening: ⁸¹ but the people stood still, as Jonathan commanded them: and their horses were wearied. ⁸² And Simon drew forth his host, and joined battle with the phalanx (for the horsemen were spent), and they were discomfited by him, and fled. ⁸³ And the horsemen were scattered in the plain, and they fled to Azotus, and entered into Beth-dagon, their idol's temple, to save themselves. ⁸⁴ And Jonathan burned Azotus, and the cities round about it, and took their spoils; and the temple of Dagon, and them that fled into it, he burned with fire. ⁸⁵ And they that had fallen by the sword, with them that were burned, were about eight thousand men. ⁸⁶ And from thence Jonathan removed, and encamped against Askalon, and they of the city came forth to meet him with great pomp. ⁸⁷ And Jonathan, with them that were on his side, returned unto Jerusalem, having many spoils. ⁸⁸ And it came to pass, when king Alexander heard these things, he honored Jonathan yet more; ⁸⁹ and he sent unto him a buckle of gold, as the custom is to give to such as are of the kindred of the kings: and he gave him Ekron and all the borders thereof for a possession.

the sea shore, and many ships, and sought to make himself master of Alexander's kingdom by deceit, and to add it to his own kingdom. ² And he went forth into Syria with words of peace, and they of the cities opened unto him, and met him; for king Alexander's commandment was that they should meet him, because he was his father-in-law. ³ Now as he entered into the cities of Ptolemais, he set his forces for a garrison in each city. ⁴ But when he came near to Azotus, they showed him the temple of Dagon burned with fire, and Azotus and the suburbs thereof pulled down, and the bodies cast abroad, and them that had been burned, whom he burned in the war; for they had made heaps of them in his way. ⁵ And they told the king what things Jonathan had done, that they might cast blame on him: and the king held his peace. ⁶ And Jonathan met the king with pomp at Joppa, and they saluted one another, and they slept there. ⁷ And Jonathan went with the king as far as the river that is called Eleutherus, and returned to Jerusalem. ⁸ But king Ptolemy became master of the cities upon the seacoast, unto Seleucia which is by the sea, and he devised evil devices concerning Alexander. ⁹ And he sent ambassadors unto king Demetrius, saying, Come, let us make a covenant with one another, and I will give thee my daughter whom Alexander hath, and thou shalt reign over thy father's kingdom; ¹⁰ for I have repented that I gave my daughter unto him, for he sought to slay me. ¹¹ And he cast blame on him, because he coveted his kingdom. ¹² And taking his daughter from him, he gave her to Demetrius, and was estranged from Alexander, and their enmity was openly seen. ¹³ And Ptolemy entered into Antioch, and put on himself the diadem of Asia; and he put two diadems upon his head, the diadem of Egypt and that of Asia. ¹⁴ But king Alexander was in Cilicia at that season, because they of those parts were in revolt. ¹⁵ And Alexander heard of it, and he came against him in war: and Ptolemy led forth his host, and met him with a strong force, and put him to flight. ¹⁶ And Alexander fled into Arabia, that he might be sheltered there; but king Ptolemy was exalted. ¹⁷ And Zabdiel the Arabian took off Alexander's head, and sent it to Ptolemy. ¹⁸ And king Ptolemy died the third day after, and they that were in his strongholds were slain by them that were in the strongholds. ¹⁹ And Demetrius reigned in the hundred and threescore and seventh year.

²⁰ In those days Jonathan gathered together them of Judea, to take the citadel that was at Jerusalem: and he made many engines of war against it. ²¹ And certain that hated their own nation, men that transgressed the law, went unto the king, and reported to him that Jonathan was besieging the citadel. ²² And he heard, and was angered; but when he heard it, he set forth immediately, and came to Ptolemais, and wrote unto Jonathan, that he should not besiege it, and that he should meet him and speak with him at Ptolemais with all speed. ²³ But when Jonathan heard this, he commanded to besiege it still: and he chose certain of the elders of Israel and of the priests, and put himself in peril, ²⁴ and taking silver and gold and raiment and diverse presents besides, went to Ptolemais unto the king. And he found favor in his sight. ²⁵ And certain lawless men of them that were of the nation made complaints against him, ²⁶ and the king did unto him even as his predecessors had done unto him, and exalted him in the sight of all his Friends, ²⁷ and confirmed to him the high priesthood, and all the other honors that he had before, and gave him preeminence among his Chief Friends. ²⁸ And Jonathan requested of the king, that he would make Judea free from tribute, and the three provinces, and the country of Samaria; and promised him three hundred talents. ²⁹ And the king consented, and wrote letters unto Jonathan concerning all these things after this manner:

³⁰ King Demetrius unto his brother Jonathan, and unto the nation of the Jews, greeting: ³¹ The copy of the letter which we wrote unto Lasthenes our kinsman concerning you, we have written also unto you, that ye may see it. ³² King Demetrius unto Lasthenes his father, greeting: ³³ We have determined to do good to the nation of the Jews, who are our friends, and observe what is just toward us, because of their good will toward us. ³⁴ We have confirmed therefore unto them the borders of Judea, and also the three governments of Aphairema and Lydda and Rathamin (these were added unto Judea from the country of Samaria), and all things appertaining unto them, for all such as do sacrifice in Jerusalem, instead of the king's dues which the king received of them yearly aforetime from the produce of the earth and the fruits of trees. ³⁵ And as for the other things that pertain unto us from henceforth, of the tenths and the tolls that pertain unto us, and the salt pits, and the crowns that pertain unto us, all these we will bestow upon them. ³⁶ And not one of these things shall be annulled from this time forth and forever. ³⁷ Now therefore be careful to make a copy of these things, and let it be given unto Jonathan, and let it be set up on the holy mount in a meet and conspicuous place.

³⁸ And king Demetrius saw that the land was quiet before him, and that no resistance was made to him, and he sent away all his forces, each man to his own place, except the foreign forces, which he had raised from the isles of the Gentiles: and all the forces of his fathers hated him. ³⁹ Now Trypho was of those who aforetime had been of Alexander's part, and he saw that all the forces murmured against Demetrius, and he went to Imalkue the Arabian, who was nourishing up Antiochus the young child of Alexander, ⁴⁰ and pressed sore upon him that he should deliver him unto him, that he might reign in his father's stead: and he told him all that Demetrius had done, and the hatred wherewith his forces hated him; and he abode there many days.

⁴¹ And Jonathan sent unto king Demetrius, that he should cast out of Jerusalem them of the citadel, and them that were in the strongholds; for they fought against Israel continually. ⁴² And Demetrius sent unto Jonathan, saying, I will not only do this for thee and thy nation, but I will greatly honor thee and thy nation, if I find fair occasion. ⁴³ Now therefore thou shalt do well, if thou send me men who shall fight for me; for all my forces are revolted. ⁴⁴ And Jonathan sent him three thousand valiant men unto Antioch: and they came to the king, and the king was glad at their coming. ⁴⁵ And they of the city gathered themselves together into the midst of the city, to the number of a hundred and twenty thousand men, and they were minded to slay the king. ⁴⁶ And the king fled into the court of the palace, and they of the city seized the passages of the city, and began to fight. ⁴⁷ And the king called the Jews to help him, and they were gathered together unto him all at once, and they dispersed themselves in the city, and slew that day to the number of a hundred thousand. ⁴⁸ And they set the city on fire, and gat many spoils that day, and saved the king. ⁴⁹ And they of the city saw that the Jews had made themselves masters of the city as they would, and they waxed faint in their hearts, and they cried out to the king with supplication, saying, ⁵⁰ Give us thy right hand, and let the Jews cease from fighting against us and the city. ⁵¹ And they cast away their arms, and made peace; and the Jews were glorified in the sight of the king, and before all that were in his kingdom; and they returned to Jerusalem, having many spoils. ⁵² And king Demetrius sat on the throne of his kingdom, and the land was quiet before him. ⁵³ And he lied in all that he spake, and estranged himself from Jonathan, and recompensed him not according to the benefits with which he had recompensed him, and afflicted him exceedingly.

⁵⁴ Now after this Trypho returned, and with him the young child Antiochus; and he reigned, and put on a diadem. ⁵⁵ And there were gathered unto him all the forces which Demetrius had sent away with disgrace, and they fought against him, and he fled and was put to the rout. ⁵⁶ And Trypho took the elephants, and became master of Antioch. ⁵⁷ And the young Antiochus wrote unto Jonathan, saying, I confirm unto thee the high priesthood, and appoint thee over the four governments, and to be one of the king's Friends. ⁵⁸ And he sent unto him golden vessels and furniture for the table, and gave him leave to drink in golden vessels, and to be clothed in purple, and to have a golden buckle. ⁵⁹ And his brother Simon he made captain from the Ladder of Tyre unto the borders of Egypt. ⁶⁰ And Jonathan went forth, and took his journey beyond the river and through the cities; and all the forces of Syria gathered themselves unto him to be his confederates. And he came to Askalon, and they of the city met him honorably. ⁶¹ And he departed thence to Gaza, and they of Gaza shut him out; and he laid siege unto it, and burned the suburbs thereof with fire, and plundered them. ⁶² And they of Gaza made request unto Jonathan, and he gave them his right hand, and took the sons of their princes for hostages, and sent them away to Jerusalem; and he passed through the country as far as Damascus.

⁶³ And Jonathan heard that Demetrius' princes were come to Kedesh, which is in Galilee, with a great host, purposing to remove him from his office; ⁶⁴ and he went to meet them, but Simon his brother he left in the country. ⁶⁵ And Simon encamped against Beth-zur, and fought against it many days, and shut it up: ⁶⁶ and they made request to him that he would give them his right hand, and he gave it to them; and he put them out from thence, and took possession of the city, and set a garrison over it. ⁶⁷ And Jonathan and his army encamped at the water of Gennesaret, and early in the morning they gat them to the plain of Hazor. ⁶⁸ And, behold, an army of strangers met him in the plain, and they laid an ambush for him in the mountains, but themselves met him face to face. ⁶⁹ But they that lay in ambush rose out of their places, and joined battle; and all they that were of Jonathan's side fled: ⁷⁰ not one of them was left, except Mattathias the son of Absalom, and Judas the son of Chalphi, captains of the forces. ⁷¹ And Jonathan rent his clothes, and put earth upon his head, and prayed. ⁷² And he turned again unto them in battle, and put them to the rout, and they fled. ⁷³ And they of his side that fled saw it, and returned unto him, and pursued with him unto Kedesh unto their camp, and they encamped there. ⁷⁴ And there fell of the strangers on that day about three thousand men: and Jonathan returned to Jerusalem.

¹ And Jonathan saw that the time served him, and he chose men, and sent them to Rome, to confirm and renew the friendship that they had with them. ² And to the Spartans, and to other places, he sent letters after the same manner. ³ And they went unto Rome, and entered into the senate house, and said, Jonathan the high priest, and the nation of the Jews, have sent us, to renew for them the friendship and the confederacy, as in former time. ⁴ And they gave them letters unto the men in every place, that they should bring them on their way to the land of Judah in peace. ⁵ And this is the copy of the letters which Jonathan wrote to the Spartans:

⁶ Jonathan the high priest, and the senate of the nation, and the priests, and the rest of the people of the Jews, unto their brethren the Spartans, greeting: ⁷ Even before this time were letters sent unto Onias the high priest from Arius, who was reigning among you, to signify that ye are our brethren, as the copy here underwritten sheweth. ⁸ And Onias treated honorably the man that was sent, and received the letters, wherein declaration was made of confederacy and friendship. ⁹ Therefore we also, albeit we need none of these things, having for our encouragement the holy books which are in our hands, ¹⁰ have assayed to send that we might renew our brotherhood and friendship with you, to the end that we should not become estranged from you altogether: for long time is passed since ye sent unto us. ¹¹ We therefore at all times without ceasing, both in our feasts, and on the other convenient days, do remember you in the sacrifices which we offer, and in our prayers, as it is right and meet to be mindful of brethren: ¹² and moreover are glad for your glory. ¹³ But as for ourselves, many afflictions and many wars have encompassed us, and the kings that are round about us have fought against us. ¹⁴ We were not minded therefore to be troublesome unto you, and to the rest of our confederates and friends, in these wars; ¹⁵ for we have the help which is from heaven to help us, and we have been delivered from our enemies, and our enemies have been brought low. ¹⁶ We chose therefore Numenius the son of Antiochus, and Antipater the son of Jason, and have sent them unto the Romans, to renew the friendship that we had with them, and the former confederacy. ¹⁷ We commanded them therefore to go also unto you, and to salute you, and to deliver you our letters concerning the renewing of friendship and our brotherhood. ¹⁸ And now ye shall do well if ye give us an answer thereto.

¹⁹ And this is the copy of the letters which they sent to Onias:

²⁰ Arius king of the Spartans to Onias the chief priest, greeting: ²¹ It hath been found in writing, concerning the Spartans and the Jews, that they are brethren, and that they are of the stock of Abraham: ²² and now, since this is come to our knowledge, ye shall do well to write unto us of your prosperity. ²³ And we moreover do write on our part to you, that your cattle and goods are ours, and ours are yours. We do command therefore that they make report unto you on this wise.

²⁴ And Jonathan heard that Demetrius' princes were returned to fight against him with a greater host than afore, ²⁵ and he removed from Jerusalem, and met them in the country of Hamath; for he gave them no respite to set foot in his country. ²⁶ And he sent spies into his camp, and they came again, and reported to him that they were appointed in such and such a way to fall upon them in the night season. ²⁷ But as soon as the sun was down, Jonathan commanded his men to watch, and to be in arms, that all the night long they might be ready for battle: and he put forth sentinels round about the camp. ²⁸ And the adversaries heard that Jonathan and his men were ready for battle, and they feared, and trembled in their hearts, and they kindled fires in their camp. ²⁹ But Jonathan and his men knew it not till the morning; for they saw the lights burning. ³⁰ And Jonathan pursued after them, and overtook them not; for they were gone over the river Eleutherus. ³¹ And Jonathan turned aside to the Arabians, who are called Zabadeans, and smote them, and took their spoils. ³² And he came out from thence, and came to Damascus, and took his journey through all the country. ³³ And Simon went forth, and took his journey as far as Askalon, and the strongholds that were near unto it. And he turned aside to Joppa, and took possession of it; ³⁴ for he had heard that they were minded to deliver the stronghold unto the men of Demetrius; and he set a garrison there to keep it.

³⁵ And Jonathan returned, and called the elders of the people together; and he took counsel with them to build strongholds in Judea, ³⁶ and to make the walls of Jerusalem higher, and to raise a great mound between the citadel and the city, to separate it from the city, that so it might be all alone, that men might neither buy nor sell. ³⁷ And they were gathered together to build the city, and there fell down part of the wall of the brook that is on the east side, and he repaired that which is called Chaphenatha. ³⁸ And Simon also built Adida in the plain country, and made it strong, and set up gates and bars.

³⁹ And Trypho sought to reign over Asia and to put on himself the diadem, and to stretch forth his hand against Antiochus the king. ⁴⁰ And he was afraid lest haply Jonathan should not suffer him, and lest he should fight against him; and he sought a way how to take him, that he might destroy him. And he removed, and came to Beth-shan. ⁴¹ And Jonathan came forth to meet him with forty thousand men chosen for battle, and came to Beth-shan. ⁴² And Trypho saw that he came with a great host, and he was afraid to stretch forth his hand against him: ⁴³ and he received him honorably, and commended him unto all his Friends, and gave him gifts, and commanded his forces to be obedient unto him, as unto himself. ⁴⁴ And he said unto Jonathan, Why hast thou put all this people to trouble, seeing there is no war between us? ⁴⁵ And now send them away to their homes, but choose for thyself a few men who shall be with thee, and come thou with me to Ptolemais, and I will give it up to thee, and the rest of the strongholds and the rest of the forces, and all the king's officers: and I will return and depart; for this is the cause of my coming. ⁴⁶ And he put his trust in him, and did even as he said, and sent away his forces, and they departed into the land of Judah. ⁴⁷ But he reserved to himself three thousand men, of whom he left two thousand in Galilee, but one thousand went with him. ⁴⁸ Now as soon as Jonathan entered into Ptolemais, they of Ptolemais shut the gates, and laid hands on him; and all them that came in with him they slew with the sword. ⁴⁹ And Trypho sent forces and horsemen into Galilee, and into the great plain, to destroy all Jonathan's men. ⁵⁰ And they perceived that he was taken and had perished, and they that were with him; and they encouraged one another, and went on their way close together, prepared to fight. ⁵¹ And they that followed upon them saw that they were ready to fight for their lives, and turned back again. ⁵² And they all came in peace into the land of Judah, and they mourned for Jonathan, and them that were with him, and they were sore afraid; and all Israel mourned with a great mourning. ⁵³ And all the Gentiles that were round about them sought to destroy them utterly: for they said, They have no ruler, nor any to help them: now therefore let us fight against them, and take away their memorial from among men.

¹ And Simon heard that Trypho had gathered together a mighty host to come into the land of Judah, and destroy it utterly. ² And he saw that the people trembled and was in great fear; and he went up to Jerusalem, and gathered the people together; ³ and he encouraged them, and said unto them, Ye yourselves know all the things that I, and my brethren, and my father's house, have done for the laws and the sanctuary, and the battles and the distresses which we have seen: ⁴ by reason hereof all my brethren have perished for Israel's sake, and I am left alone. ⁵ And now be it far from me, that I should spare mine own life in any time of affliction; for I am not better than my brethren. ⁶ Howbeit I will take vengeance for my nation, and for the sanctuary, and for our wives and children; because all the Gentiles are gathered to destroy us of hatred. ⁷ And the spirit of the people revived, as soon as they heard these words. ⁸ And they answered with a loud voice, saying, Thou art our leader instead of Judas and Jonathan thy brother. ⁹ Fight thou our battles, and all that thou shalt say unto us, that will we do. ¹⁰ And he gathered together all the men of war, and made haste to finish the walls of Jerusalem, and he fortified it round about. ¹¹ And he sent Jonathan the son of Absalom, and with him a great host, to Joppa: and he cast out them that were therein, and abode there in it.

¹² And Trypho removed from Ptolemais with a mighty host to enter into the land of Judah, and Jonathan was with him in ward. ¹³ But Simon encamped at Adida, over against the plain. ¹⁴ And Trypho knew that Simon was risen up instead of his brother Jonathan, and meant to join battle with him, and he sent ambassadors unto him, saying, ¹⁵ It is for money which Jonathan thy brother owed unto the king's treasure, by reason of the offices which he had, that we hold him fast. ¹⁶ And now send a hundred talents of silver, and two of his sons for hostages, that when he is set at liberty he may not revolt from us, and we will set him at liberty. ¹⁷ And Simon knew that they spake unto him deceitfully; and he sendeth the money and the children, lest peradventure he should procure to himself great hatred of the people, ¹⁸ and they should say, Because I sent him not the money and the children, he perished. ¹⁹ And he sent the children and the hundred talents. And he dealt falsely, and did not set Jonathan at liberty. ²⁰ And after this Trypho came to invade the land, and destroy it, and he went round about by the way that leadeth unto Adora: and Simon and his army marched over against him to every place, wheresoever he went. ²¹ Now they of the citadel sent unto Trypho ambassadors, hastening him to come unto them through the wilderness, and to send them victuals. ²² And Trypho made ready all his horse to come: and on that night there fell a very great snow, and he came not by reason of the snow. And he removed, and came into the country of Gilead. ²³ But when he came near to Baskama, he slew Jonathan, and he was buried there. ²⁴ And Trypho returned, and went away into his own land.

³¹ Now Trypho dealt deceitfully with the young king Antiochus, and slew him, ³² and reigned in his stead, and put on himself the diadem of Asia, and brought a great calamity upon the land. ³³ And Simon built the strongholds of Judea, and fenced them about with high towers, and great walls, and gates, and bars; and he laid up victuals in the strongholds. ³⁴ And Simon chose men, and sent to king Demetrius, to the end he should give the country an immunity, because all that Trypho did was to plunder. ³⁵ And king Demetrius sent unto him according to these words, and answered him, and wrote a letter unto him, after this manner:

³⁶ King Demetrius unto Simon the high priest and Friend of kings, and unto the elders and nation of the Jews, greeting: ³⁷ The golden crown, and the palm branch, which ye sent, we have received: and we are ready to make a steadfast peace with you, yea, and to write unto our officers, to grant immunities unto you. ³⁸ And whatsoever things we confirmed unto you, they are confirmed; and the strongholds, which ye have built, let them be your own. ³⁹ As for any oversights and faults committed unto this day, we forgive them, and the crown which ye owed us: and if there were any other toll exacted in Jerusalem, let it be exacted no longer. ⁴⁰ And if there be any among you meet to be enrolled in our court, let them be enrolled, and let there be peace between us.

⁴³ In those days he encamped against Gazara, and compassed it round about with armies; and he made an engine of siege, and brought it up to the city, and smote a tower, and took it. ⁴⁴ And they that were in the engine leaped forth into the city; and there was a great uproar in the city: ⁴⁵ and they of the city rent their clothes, and went up on the walls with their wives and children, and cried with a loud voice, making request to Simon to give them his right hand. ⁴⁶ And they said, Deal not with us according to our wickednesses, but according to thy mercy. ⁴⁷ And Simon was reconciled unto them, and did not fight against them: and he put them out of the city, and cleansed the houses wherein the idols were, and so entered into it with singing and giving praise. ⁴⁸ And he put all uncleanness out of it, and placed in it such men as would keep the law, and made it stronger than it was before, and built therein a dwelling place for himself.

⁴⁹ But they of the citadel in Jerusalem were hindered from going forth, and from going into the country, and from buying and selling; and they hungered exceedingly, and a great number of them perished through famine. ⁵⁰ And they cried out to Simon, that he should give them his right hand; and he gave it to them: and he put them out from thence, and he cleansed the citadel from its pollutions. ⁵¹ And he entered into it on the three and twentieth day of the second month, in the hundred and seventy and first year, with praise and palm branches, and with harps, and with cymbals, and with viols, and with hymns, and with songs: because a great enemy was destroyed out of Israel. ⁵² And he ordained that they should keep that day every year with gladness. And the hill of the temple that was by the citadel he made stronger than before, and there he dwelt, himself and his men. ⁵³ And Simon saw that John his son was a valiant man, and he made him leader of all his forces: and he dwelt in Gazara.

⁴ And the land had rest all the days of Simon: and he sought the good of his nation; and his authority and his glory was well-pleasing to them all his days. ⁵ And amid all his glory he took Joppa for a haven, and made it an entrance for the isles of the sea; ⁶ and he enlarged the borders of his nation, and gat possession of the country; ⁷ and he gathered together a great number of captives, and gat the dominion of Gazara, and Beth-zur, and the citadel, and he took away from it its uncleannesses; and there was none that resisted him. ⁸ And they tilled their land in peace, and the land gave her increase, and the trees of the plains their fruit. ⁹ The ancient men sat in the streets, they communed all of them together of good things, and the young men put on glorious and warlike apparel. ¹⁰ He provided victuals for the cities, and furnished them with all manner of munition, until the name of his glory was named unto the end of the earth. ¹¹ He made peace in the land, and Israel rejoiced with great joy: ¹² and they sat each man under his vine and his fig tree, and there was none to make them afraid: ¹³ and there ceased in the land any that fought against them: and the kings were discomfited in those days. ¹⁴ And he strengthened all those of his people that were brought low: the law he searched out, and every lawless and wicked person he took away. ¹⁵ He glorified the sanctuary, and the vessels of the temple he multiplied.

¹⁶ And it was heard at Rome that Jonathan was dead, and even unto Sparta, and they were exceeding sorry. ¹⁷ But as soon as they heard that his brother Simon was made high priest in his stead, and ruled the country, and the cities therein, ¹⁸ they wrote unto him on tables of brass, to renew with him the friendship and the confederacy which they had confirmed with Judas and Jonathan his brethren; ¹⁹ and they were read before the congregation at Jerusalem. ²⁰ And this is the copy of the letters which the Spartans sent:

The rulers of the Spartans, and the city, unto Simon the high priest, and unto the elders, and the priests, and the residue of the people of the Jews, our brethren, greeting: ²¹ The ambassadors that were sent unto our people made report to us of your glory and honor: and we were glad for their coming, ²² and we did register the things that were spoken by them in the public records after this manner: Numenius son of Antiochus, and Antipater son of Jason, the Jews' ambassadors, came unto us to renew the friendship they had with us. ²³ And it pleased the people to entertain the men honorably, and to put the copy of their words in the public records, to the end that the people of the Spartans might have a memorial thereof: moreover they wrote a copy of these things unto Simon the high priest.

²⁴ After this Simon sent Numenius to Rome with a great shield of gold of a thousand pound weight, in order to confirm the confederacy with them.

²⁵ But when the people heard these things, they said, What thanks shall we give to Simon and his sons? ²⁶ for he and his brethren and the house of his father have made themselves strong, and have chased away in fight the enemies of Israel from them, and confirmed liberty to Israel. ²⁷ And they wrote on tables of brass, and set them upon pillars in mount Zion: and this is the copy of the writing:

On the eighteenth day of Elul, in the hundred and seventy and second year, and this is the third year of Simon the high priest, ²⁸ in Asaramel, in a great congregation of priests and people and princes of the nation, and of the elders of the country, was it notified unto us: ²⁹ Forasmuch as oftentimes there have been wars in the country, but Simon the son of Mattathias, the son of the sons of Joarib, and his brethren, put themselves in jeopardy, and withstood the enemies of their nation, that their sanctuary and the law might be established, and glorified their nation with great glory: ³⁰ and Jonathan assembled their nation together, and became their high priest, and was gathered to his people: ³¹ and their enemies purposed to invade their country, that they might destroy their country utterly, and stretch forth their hands against their sanctuary: ³² then rose up Simon, and fought for his nation, and spent much of his own substance, and armed the valiant men of his nation, and gave them wages: ³³ and he fortified the cities of Judea, and Beth-zur that lieth upon the borders of Judea, where the arms of the enemies were aforetime, and set there a garrison of Jews: ³⁴ and he fortified Joppa which is upon the sea, and Gazara which is upon the borders of Azotus, wherein the enemies dwelt aforetime, and placed Jews there, and set therein all things convenient for the reparation thereof: ³⁵ and the people saw the faith of Simon, and the glory which he thought to bring unto his nation, and they made him their leader and high priest, because he had done all these things, and for the justice and the faith which he kept to his nation, and for that he sought by all means to exalt his people: ³⁶ and in his days things prospered in his hands, so that the Gentiles were taken away out of their country, and they also that were in the city of David, they that were in Jerusalem, who had made themselves a citadel, out of which they issued, and polluted all things round about the sanctuary, and did great hurt unto its purity; ³⁷ and he placed Jews therein, and fortified it for the safety of the country and the city, and made high the walls of Jerusalem: ³⁸ and king Demetrius confirmed to him the high priesthood according to these things, ³⁹ and made him one of his Friends, and honored him with great honor; ⁴⁰ for he had heard say, that the Jews had been called by the Romans friends and confederates and brethren, and that they had met the ambassadors of Simon honorably; ⁴¹ and that the Jews and the priests were well pleased that Simon should be their leader and high priest forever, until there should arise a faithful prophet; ⁴² and that he should be captain over them, and should take charge of the sanctuary, to set them over their works, and over the country, and over the arms, and over the strongholds; and that he should take charge of the sanctuary, ⁴³ and that he should be obeyed by all, and that all instruments in the country should be written in his name, and that he should be clothed in purple, and wear gold; ⁴⁴ and that it should not be lawful for any of the people or of the priests to set at nought any of these things, or to gainsay the words that he should speak, or to gather an assembly in the country without him, or to be clothed in purple, or wear a buckle of gold; ⁴⁵ but whosoever should do otherwise, or set at nought any of these things, he should be liable to punishment. ⁴⁶ All the people consented to ordain for Simon that he should do according to these words; ⁴⁷ and Simon accepted hereof, and consented to be high priest, and to be captain and governor of the Jews and of the priests, and to be protector of all.

⁴⁸ And they commanded to put this writing on tables of brass, and to set them up within the precinct of the sanctuary in a conspicuous place; ⁴⁹ and moreover to put the copies thereof in the treasury, to the end that Simon and his sons might have them.

¹ And Antiochus son of Demetrius the king sent letters from the isles of the sea unto Simon the priest and governor of the Jews, and to all the nation; ² and the contents thereof were after this manner:

King Antiochus to Simon the chief priest and governor, and to the nation of the Jews, greeting: ³ Forasmuch as certain pestilent fellows have made themselves masters of the kingdom of our fathers, but my purpose is to claim the kingdom, that I may restore it as it was before; and moreover I have raised a multitude of foreign soldiers, and have prepared ships of war; ⁴ moreover I am minded to land in the country, that I may punish them that have destroyed our country, and them that have made many cities in the kingdom desolate: ⁵ Now therefore I confirm unto thee all the exactions which the kings that were before me remitted unto thee, and whatsoever gifts besides they remitted unto thee: ⁶ and I give thee leave to coin money for thy country with thine own stamp, ⁷ but that Jerusalem and the sanctuary should be free: and all the arms that thou hast prepared, and the strongholds that thou hast built, which thou hast in thy possession, let them remain unto thee: ⁸ and everything owing to the king, and the things that shall be owing to the king from henceforth and forevermore, let them be remitted unto thee: ⁹ moreover, when we shall have established our kingdom, we will glorify thee and thy nation and the temple with great glory, so that your glory shall be made manifest in all the earth.

¹⁰ In the hundred and seventy and fourth year went Antiochus forth into the land of his fathers; and all the forces came together unto him, so that there were few men with Trypho. ¹¹ And king Antiochus pursued him, and he came, as he fled, unto Dor, which is by the sea: ¹² for he knew that troubles were come upon him all at once, and that his forces had forsaken him. ¹³ And Antiochus encamped against Dor, and with him a hundred and twenty thousand men of war, and eight thousand horse. ¹⁴ And he compassed the city round about, and the ships joined in the attack from the sea; and he vexed the city by land and sea, and suffered no man to go out or in.

¹⁵ And Numenius and his company came from Rome, having letters to the kings and to the countries, wherein were written these things:

²² And the same things wrote he to Demetrius the king, and to Attalus, and to Ariarathes, and to Arsaces, ²³ and unto all the countries, and to Sampsaes, and to the Spartans, and unto Delos, and unto Myndos, and unto Sicyon, and unto Caria, and unto Samos, and unto Pamphylia, and unto Lycia, and unto Halicarnassus, and unto Rhodes, and unto Phaselis, and unto Cos, and unto Side, and unto Aradus, and Gortyna, and Cnidus, and Cyprus, and Cyrene. ²⁴ But the copy hereof they wrote to Simon the high priest.

²⁵ But Antiochus the king encamped against Dor the second day, bringing his forces up to it continually, and making engines of war, and he shut up Trypho from going in or out. ²⁶ And Simon sent him two thousand chosen men to fight on his side; and silver, and gold, and instruments of war in abundance. ²⁷ And he would not receive them, but set at nought all the covenants which he had made with him aforetime, and was estranged from him. ²⁸ And he sent unto him Athenobius, one of his Friends, to commune with him, saying,

Ye hold possession of Joppa and Gazara, and the citadel that is in Jerusalem, cities of my kingdom. ²⁹ The borders thereof ye have wasted, and done great hurt in the land, and gat the dominion of many places in my kingdom. ³⁰ Now therefore deliver up the cities which ye have taken, and the tributes of the places whereof ye have gotten dominion without the borders of Judea: ³¹ or else give me for them five hundred talents of silver; and for the harm that ye have done, and the tributes of the cities, other five hundred talents: or else we will come and subdue you.

³² And Athenobius the king's Friend came to Jerusalem; and he saw the glory of Simon, and the cupboard of gold and silver vessels, and his great attendance, and he was amazed; and he reported to him the king's words. ³³ And Simon answered, and said unto him,

We have neither taken other men's land, nor have we possession of that which appertaineth to others, but of the inheritance of our fathers; howbeit, it was had in possession of our enemies wrongfully for a certain time. ³⁴ But we, having opportunity, hold fast the inheritance of our fathers. ³⁵ But as touching Joppa and Gazara, which thou demandest, they did great harm among the people throughout our country, we will give a hundred talents for them.

And he answered him not a word, ³⁶ but returned in a rage to the king, and reported unto him these words, and the glory of Simon, and all that he had seen: and the king was exceeding wroth. ³⁷ But Trypho embarked on board a ship, and fled to Orthosia.

³⁸ And the king appointed Cendebeus chief captain of the seacoast, and gave him forces of foot and horse: ³⁹ and he commanded him to encamp before Judea, and he commanded him to build up Kedron, and to fortify the gates, and that he should fight against the people: but the king pursued Trypho. ⁴⁰ And Cendebeus came to Jamnia, and began to provoke the people, and to invade Judea, and to take the people captive, and to slay them. ⁴¹ And he built Kedron, and set horsemen there, and forces of foot, to the end that issuing out they might make outroads upon the ways of Judea, according as the king commanded him.

¹ And John went up from Gazara, and told Simon his father what Cendebeus was doing. ² And Simon called his two oldest sons, Judas and John, and said unto them, I and my brethren and my father's house have fought the battles of Israel from our youth, even unto this day; and things have prospered in our hands, that we should deliver Israel oftentimes. ³ But now I am old, and ye moreover, by his mercy, are of a sufficient age: be ye instead of me and my brother, and go forth and fight for our nation; but let the help which is from heaven be with you. ⁴ And he chose out of the country twenty thousand men of war and horsemen, and they went against Cendebeus, and slept at Modein. ⁵ And rising up in the morning, they went into the plain, and, behold, a great host came to meet them, of footmen and horsemen: and there was a brook between them. ⁶ And he encamped over against them, he and his people: and he saw that the people were afraid to pass over the brook, and he passed over first, and the men saw him, and passed over after him. ⁷ And he divided the people, and set the horsemen in the midst of the footmen: but the enemies' horsemen were exceeding many. ⁸ And they sounded with the trumpets; and Cendebeus and his army were put to the rout, and there fell of them many wounded to death, but they that were left fled to the stronghold: ⁹ at that time was Judas John's brother wounded: but John pursued after them, till he came unto Kedron, which Cendebeus had built; ¹⁰ and they fled unto the towers that are in the fields of Azotus; and he burned it with fire; and there fell of them about two thousand men. And he returned into Judea in peace.

¹¹ And Ptolemy the son of Abubus had been appointed captain for the plain of Jericho, and he had much silver and gold; ¹² for he was the high priest's son-in-law. ¹³ And his heart was lifted up, and he was minded to make himself master of the country, and he took counsel deceitfully against Simon and his sons, to make away with them. ¹⁴ Now Simon was visiting the cities that were in the country, and taking care for the good ordering of them; and he went down to Jericho, himself and Mattathias and Judas his sons, in the hundred and seventy and seventh year, in the eleventh month, the same is the month Shebat: ¹⁵ and the son of Abubus received them deceitfully into the little stronghold that is called Dok, which he had built, and made them a great banquet, and hid men there. ¹⁶ And when Simon and his sons had drunk freely, Ptolemy and his men rose up, and took their arms, and came in upon Simon into the banqueting place, and slew him, and his two sons, and certain of his servants. ¹⁷ And he committed a great iniquity, and recompensed evil for good. ¹⁸ And Ptolemy wrote these things, and sent to the king, that he should send him forces to aid him, and should deliver him their country and the cities. ¹⁹ And he sent others to Gazara to make away with John: and unto the captains of thousands he sent letters to come unto him, that he might give them silver and gold and gifts. ²⁰ And others he sent to take possession of Jerusalem, and the mount of the temple. ²¹ And one ran before to Gazara, and told John that his father and brethren were perished, and he hath sent to slay thee also. ²² And when he heard, he was sore amazed; and he laid hands on the men that came to destroy him, and slew them; for he perceived that they were seeking to destroy him.

²³ And the rest of the acts of John, and of his wars, and of his valiant deeds which he did, and of the building of the walls which he built, and of his doings, ²⁴ behold, they are written in the chronicles of his high priesthood, from the time that he was made high priest after his father.

THE SECOND BOOK OF THE MACCABEES

¹ The brethren, the Jews that are in Jerusalem and they that are in the country of Judea, send greeting to the brethren, the Jews that are throughout Egypt, and wish them good peace: ² and may God do good unto you, and remember his covenant with Abraham and Isaac and Jacob, his faithful servants; ³ and give you all a heart to worship him and do his pleasure with a great heart and a willing soul; ⁴ and open your heart in his law and in his statutes, and make peace, ⁵ and hearken to your supplications, and be reconciled with you, and not forsake you in an evil time. ⁶ And now we here are praying for you. ⁷ In the reign of Demetrius, in the hundred threescore and ninth year, we the Jews have already written unto you in the tribulation and in the extremity that hath come upon us in these years, from the time that Jason and his company revolted from the holy land and the kingdom, ⁸ and set the gate on fire, and shed innocent blood: and we besought the Lord, and were heard; and we offered sacrifice and meal offering, and we lighted the lamps, and we set forth the showbread. ⁹ And now see that ye keep the days of the feast of tabernacles of the month Chislev. ¹⁰ Written in the hundred fourscore and eighth year.

They that are in Jerusalem and they that are in Judea and the senate and Judas, unto Aristobulus, king Ptolemy's teacher, who is also of the stock of the anointed priests, and unto the Jews that are in Egypt, send greeting and health. ¹¹ Having been saved by God out of great perils, as men arrayed against a king, we thank him greatly. ¹² For himself cast forth into Persia them that arrayed themselves against us in the holy city. ¹³ For when the prince was come there, and the army with him that seemed irresistible, they were cut to pieces in the temple of Nanea by the treachery of Nanea's priests. ¹⁴ For Antiochus, on the pretense that he would marry her, came into the place, he and his Friends that were with him, that they might take a great part of the treasures in name of a dowry. ¹⁵ And when the priests of Nanea's temple had set the treasures forth, and he was come there with a small company within the wall of the precincts, they shut the temple when Antiochus was come in: ¹⁶ and opening the secret door of the paneled ceiling, they threw stones and struck down the prince, and they hewed him and his company in pieces, and smote off their heads, and cast them to those that were without. ¹⁷ Blessed be our God in all things, who gave for a prey them that had committed impiety.

¹⁸ Whereas we are now about to keep the purification of the temple in the month Chislev, on the five and twentieth day, we thought it necessary to certify you thereof, that ye also may keep a feast of tabernacles, and a memorial of the fire which was given when Nehemiah offered sacrifices, after that he had built both the temple and the altar. ¹⁹ For indeed when our fathers were about to be led into the land of Persia, the godly priests of that time took of the fire of the altar, and hid it privily in the hollow of a well that was without water, wherein they made it sure, so that the place was unknown to all men. ²⁰ Now after many years, when it pleased God, Nehemiah, having received a charge from the king of Persia, sent in quest of the fire the descendants of the priests that hid it. When they declared to us that they had found no fire, but thick water, ²¹ he commanded them to draw out thereof and bring to him: and when the sacrifices had been offered on the altar, Nehemiah commanded the priests to sprinkle with the water both the wood and the things laid thereupon.

²² And when it was done, and some time had passed, and the sun shone out, which before was hidden with clouds, there was kindled a great blaze, so that all men marveled. ²³ And the priests made a prayer while the sacrifice was consuming, both the priests and all others, Jonathan leading and the rest answering, as Nehemiah did. ²⁴ And the prayer was after this manner:

O Lord, Lord God, the Creator of all things, who art terrible and strong and righteous and merciful, who alone art King and gracious, ²⁵ who alone suppliest every need, who alone art righteous and almighty and eternal, thou that savest Israel out of all evil, who madest the fathers thy chosen, and didst sanctify them: ²⁶ accept the sacrifice for all thy people Israel, and guard thine own portion, and consecrate it. ²⁷ Gather together our Dispersion, set at liberty them that are in bondage among the heathen, look upon them that are despised and abhorred, and let the heathen know that thou art our God. ²⁸ Torment them that oppress us and in arrogancy shamefully treat us. ²⁹ Plant thy people in thy holy place, even as Moses said.

³⁰ And thereupon the priests sang the hymns. ³¹ And as soon as the sacrifice was consumed, then Nehemiah commanded to pour on great stones the water that was left. ³² And when this was done, a flame was kindled; but when the light from the altar shone over against it, all was consumed. ³³ And when the matter became known, and it was told the king of the Persians, that, in the place where the priests that were led away had hidden the fire, there appeared the water, wherewith also Nehemiah and they that were with him purified the sacrifice, ³⁴ then the king, enclosing the place, made it sacred, after he had proved the matter. ³⁵ And when the king would show favor to any, he would take from them many presents and give them some of this water. ³⁶ And Nehemiah and they that were with him called this thing Nephthar, which is by interpretation, Cleansing; but most men call it Naphtha.

¹ It is also found in the records, that Jeremiah the prophet commanded them that were carried away to take of the fire, as hath been signified above: ² and how that the prophet charged them that were carried away, having given them the law, that they should not forget the statutes of the Lord, neither be led astray in their minds, when they saw images of gold and silver, and the adornment thereof. ³ And with other such words exhorted he them, that the law should not depart from their heart. ⁴ And it was contained in the writing, that the prophet, being warned of God, commanded that the tabernacle and the ark should follow with him, when he went forth into the mountain where Moses went up and beheld the heritage of God. ⁵ And Jeremiah came and found a chamber in the rock, and there he brought in the tabernacle, and the ark, and the altar of incense; and he made fast the door. ⁶ And some of those that followed with him came there that they might mark the way, and could not find it. ⁷ But when Jeremiah perceived it, he blamed them, saying, Yea and the place shall be unknown until God gather the people again together, and mercy come: ⁸ and then shall the Lord disclose these things, and the glory of the Lord shall be seen, and the cloud.

As also it was shown with Moses; as also Solomon besought that the place might be consecrated greatly, ⁹ and it was also declared that he, having wisdom, offered a sacrifice of dedication, and of the finishing of the temple; so we would have it now. ¹⁰ As Moses prayed unto the Lord, and fire came down out of heaven and consumed the sacrifice, even so prayed Solomon also, and the fire came down and consumed the burnt offerings; ¹¹ (and Moses said, Because the sin offering had not been eaten, it was consumed in like manner with the rest;) ¹² and Solomon kept the eight days.

¹³ And the same things were related both in the public archives and in the records that concern Nehemiah; and how he, founding a library, gathered together the books about the kings and prophets, and the books of David, and letters of kings about sacred gifts. ¹⁴ And in like manner Judas also gathered together for us all those writings that had been scattered by reason of the war that befell, and they are still with us. ¹⁵ If therefore ye have need thereof, send some to fetch them unto you.

¹⁶ Seeing then that we are about to keep the purification, we write unto you; ye will therefore do well if ye keep the days. ¹⁷ Now God, who saved all his people, and restored the heritage to all, and the kingdom, and the priesthood, and the hallowing, ¹⁸ even as he promised through the law—in God have we hope, that he will quickly have mercy upon us, and gather us together out of all the earth unto the holy place: for he delivered us out of great evils, and purified the place.

¹⁹ Now the things concerning Judas Maccabeus and his brethren, and the purification of the great temple, and the dedication of the altar, ²⁰ and further the wars against Antiochus Epiphanes, and Eupator his son, ²¹ and the manifestations that came from heaven unto those that vied with one another in manful deeds for the religion of the Jews; so that, being but a few, they rescued the whole country, and chased the barbarous multitudes, ²² and recovered again the temple renowned all the world over, and freed the city, and restored the laws which were like to be overthrown, seeing the Lord became gracious unto them with all forbearance: ²³ these things, I say, which have been declared by Jason of Cyrene in five books, we will assay to abridge in one work. ²⁴ For having in view the confused mass of the numbers, and the difficulty which awaiteth them that would enter into the narratives of the history, by reason of the abundance of the matter, ²⁵ we were careful that they who choose to read may be attracted, and that they who wish well to our cause may find it easy to recall what we have written, and that all readers may have profit. ²⁶ And although to us, who have taken upon us the painful labor of the abridgement, the task is not easy, but a matter of sweat and watching ²⁷ (even as it is no light thing unto him that prepareth a banquet, and seeketh the benefit of others); yet for the sake of the gratitude of the many we will gladly endure the painful labor, ²⁸ leaving to the historian the exact handling of every particular, and again having no strength to fill in the outlines of our abridgement. ²⁹ For as the master builder of a new house must care for the whole structure, and again he that undertaketh to decorate and paint it must seek out the things fit for the adorning thereof; even so I think it is also with us. ³⁰ To occupy the ground, and to indulge in long discussions, and to be curious in particulars, becometh the first author of the history: ³¹ but to strive after brevity of expression, and to avoid a labored fullness in the treatment, is to be granted to him that would bring a writing into a new form. ³² Here then let us begin the narration, only adding thus much to that which hath been already said; for it is a foolish thing to make a long prologue to the history, and to abridge the history itself.

¹ When the holy city was inhabited with all peace, and the laws were kept very well, because of the godliness of Onias the high priest, and his hatred of wickedness, ² it came to pass that even the kings themselves did honor the place, and glorify the temple with the noblest presents; ³ insomuch that even Seleucus the king of Asia of his own revenues bare all the costs belonging to the services of the sacrifices. ⁴ But one Simon of the tribe of Benjamin, having been made guardian of the temple, fell out with the high priest about the ruling of the market in the city. ⁵ And when he could not overcome Onias, he gat him to Apollonius the son of Thraseus, who at that time was governor of Coelesyria and Phoenicia: ⁶ and he brought him word how that the treasury in Jerusalem was full of untold sums of money, so that the multitude of the funds was innumerable, and that they did not pertain to the account of the sacrifices, but that it was possible that these should fall under the king's power. ⁷ And when Apollonius met the king, he informed him of the money whereof he had been told; and the king appointed Heliodorus, who was his chancellor, and sent him with a commandment to accomplish the removal of the aforesaid money. ⁸ So forthwith Heliodorus took his journey, under a color of visiting the cities of Coelesyria and Phoenicia, but in fact to execute the king's purpose. ⁹ And when he was come to Jerusalem, and had been courteously received by the high priest of the city, he laid before them an account of the information which had been given him, and declared wherefore he was come; and he inquired if in truth these things were so. ¹⁰ And the high priest explained to him that there were in the treasury deposits of widows and orphans, ¹¹ and moreover some money belonging to Hyrcanus the son of Tobias, a man in very high place, and that the case was not as that impious Simon falsely alleged; and that in all there were four hundred talents of silver and two hundred of gold; ¹² and that it was altogether impossible that wrong should be done unto them that had put trust in the holiness of the place, and in the majesty and inviolable sanctity of the temple, honored over all the world. ¹³ But Heliodorus, because of the king's commandments given him, said that in any case this money must be confiscated for the king's treasury.

¹⁴ So having appointed a day, he entered in to direct the inquiry concerning these matters; and there was no small distress throughout the whole city. ¹⁵ And the priests, prostrating themselves before the altar in their priestly garments, and looking toward heaven, called upon him that gave the law concerning deposits, that he should preserve these treasures safe for those that had deposited them. ¹⁶ And whosoever saw the mien of the high priest was wounded in mind; for his countenance and the change of his color betrayed the distress of his soul. ¹⁷ For a terror and a shuddering of the body had come over the man, whereby the pain that was in his heart was plainly shown to them that looked upon him. ¹⁸ And they that were in the houses rushed flocking out to make a universal supplication, because the place was like to come into contempt. ¹⁹ And the women, girded with sackcloth under their breasts, thronged the streets, and the virgins that were kept in ward ran together, some to the gates, others to the walls, and some looked out through the windows. ²⁰ And all, stretching forth their hands toward heaven, made their solemn supplication. ²¹ Then it would have pitied a man to see the multitude prostrating themselves all mingled together, and the expectation of the high priest in his sore distress.

²² While therefore they called upon the Almighty Lord to keep the things entrusted to them safe and sure for those that had entrusted them, ²³ Heliodorus went on to execute that which had been decreed. ²⁴ But when he was already present there with his guards over against the treasury, the Sovereign of spirits and of all authority caused a great apparition, so that all that had presumed to come in with him, stricken with dismay at the power of God, fainted and were sore afraid. ²⁵ For there was seen by them a horse with a terrible rider upon him, and adorned with beautiful trappings, and he rushed fiercely and smote at Heliodorus with his forefeet, and it seemed that he that sat upon the horse had complete armor of gold. ²⁶ Two other also appeared unto him, young men notable in their strength, and beautiful in their glory, and splendid in their apparel, who stood by him on either side, and scourged him unceasingly, inflicting on him many sore stripes. ²⁷ And when he had fallen suddenly unto the ground, and great darkness had come over him, his guards caught him up and put him into a litter, ²⁸ and carried him, him that had just now entered with a great train and all his guard into the aforesaid treasury, himself now brought to utter helplessness, manifestly made to recognize the sovereignty of God. ²⁹ And so, while he, through the working of God, speechless and bereft of all hope and deliverance, lay prostrate, ³⁰ they blessed the Lord, that made marvelous his own place; and the temple, which a little afore was full of terror and alarm, was filled with joy and gladness after the Almighty Lord appeared.

³¹ But quickly certain of Heliodorus' familiar friends besought Onias to call upon the Most High, and grant life to him who lay quite at the last gasp. ³² And the high priest, secretly fearing lest the king might come to think that some treachery toward Heliodorus had been perpetrated by the Jews, brought a sacrifice for the deliverance of the man. ³³ But as the high priest was making the propitiation, the same young men appeared again to Heliodorus, arrayed in the same garments; and they stood and said, Give Onias the high priest great thanks, for for his sake the Lord hath granted thee life; ³⁴ and do thou, since thou hast been scourged from heaven, publish unto all men the sovereign majesty of God. And when they had spoken these words, they vanished out of sight. ³⁵ So Heliodorus, having offered a sacrifice unto the Lord and vowed great vows unto him that had saved his life, and having graciously received Onias, returned with his host to the king. ³⁶ And he testified to all men the works of the great God which he had beheld with his eyes.

³⁷ And when the king asked Heliodorus, what manner of man was fit to be sent yet once again to Jerusalem, he said, ³⁸ If thou hast any enemy or conspirator against the state, send him thither, and thou shalt receive him back well scourged, if he even escape with his life; because of a truth there is about the place a power of God. ³⁹ For he that hath his dwelling in heaven himself hath his eyes upon that place, and helpeth it; and them that come to hurt it he smiteth and destroyeth.

¹ But the aforesaid Simon, he who had given information of the money, and had betrayed his country, slandered Onias, saying that it was he who had incited Heliodorus, and made himself the author of these evils. ² And him that was the benefactor of the city, and the guardian of his fellow countrymen, and a zealot for the laws, he dared to call a conspirator against the state. ³ But when the growing enmity between them waxed so great, that even murders were perpetrated through one of Simon's trusted followers, ⁴ Onias, seeing the danger of the contention, and that Apollonius the son of Menestheus, the governor of Coelesyria and Phoenicia, was increasing Simon's malice, ⁵ betook himself to the king, not to be an accuser of his fellow citizens, but looking to the good of all the people, both public and private; ⁶ for he saw that without the king's providence it was impossible for the state to obtain peace anymore, and that Simon would not cease from his madness.

¹⁰ And when the king had given assent, and he had gotten possession of the office, he forthwith brought over them of his own race to the Greek fashion. ¹¹ And setting aside the royal ordinances of special favor to the Jews, granted by the means of John the father of Eupolemus, who went on the embassy to the Romans for friendship and alliance, and seeking to overthrow the lawful modes of life, he brought in new customs forbidden by the law: ¹² for he eagerly established a Greek place of exercise under the citadel itself; and caused the noblest of the young men to wear the Greek cap. ¹³ And thus there was an extreme of Greek fashions, and an advance of an alien religion, by reason of the exceeding profaneness of Jason, that ungodly man and no high priest; ¹⁴ so that the priests had no more any zeal for the services of the altar: but despising the sanctuary, and neglecting the sacrifices, they hastened to enjoy that which was unlawfully provided in the palaestra, after the summons of the discus; ¹⁵ making of no account the honors of their fathers, and thinking the glories of the Greeks best of all. ¹⁶ By reason whereof sore calamity beset them; and the men whose ways of living they earnestly followed, and unto whom they desired to be made like in all things, these they had to be their enemies and to punish them. ¹⁷ For it is not a light thing to do impiously against the laws of God: but these things the time following shall declare.

¹⁸ Now when certain games that came every fifth year were kept at Tyre, and the king was present, ¹⁹ the vile Jason sent sacred envoys, as being Antiochians of Jerusalem, bearing three hundred drachmas of silver to the sacrifice of Hercules, which even the bearers thereof thought not right to use for any sacrifice, because it was not fit, but to expend on another charge. ²⁰ And though in the purpose of the sender this money was for the sacrifice of Hercules, yet on account of present circumstances it went to the equipment of the galleys.

²¹ Now when Apollonius the son of Menestheus was sent into Egypt for the enthronement of Ptolemy Philometor as king, Antiochus, learning that Ptolemy had shown himself ill affected toward the state, took thought for the security of his realm; wherefore, going by sea to Joppa, he traveled on to Jerusalem. ²² And being magnificently received by Jason and the city, he was brought in with torches and shoutings. This done, he afterward led his army down into Phoenicia.

²³ Now after a space of three years Jason sent Menelaus, the aforesaid Simon's brother, to bear the money unto the king, and to make reports concerning some necessary matters. ²⁴ But he being commended to the king, and having glorified himself by the display of his authority, gat the high priesthood for himself, outbidding Jason by three hundred talents of silver. ²⁵ And having received the royal mandates he came to Jerusalem, bringing nothing worthy the high priesthood, but having the passion of a cruel tyrant, and the rage of a savage beast. ²⁶ And whereas Jason, who had supplanted his own brother, was supplanted by another and driven as a fugitive into the country of the Ammonites, ²⁷ Menelaus had possession of the office: but of the money that had been promised to the king nothing was duly paid, and that though Sostratus the governor of the citadel demanded it ²⁸ (for unto him appertained the gathering of the revenues); for which cause they were both called by the king to his presence. ²⁹ And Menelaus left his own brother Lysimachus for his deputy in the high priesthood; and Sostratus left Crates, who was over the Cyprians.

³⁰ Now while such was the state of things, it came to pass that they of Tarsus and Mallus made insurrection, because they were to be given as a present to Antiochis, the king's concubine. ³¹ The king therefore came to Cilicia in all haste to settle matters, leaving for his deputy Andronicus, a man of high rank. ³² And Menelaus, supposing that he had gotten a favorable opportunity, presented to Andronicus certain vessels of gold belonging to the temple, which he had stolen: other vessels also he had already sold into Tyre and the cities round about. ³³ And when Onias had sure knowledge of this, he sharply reprov'd him, having withdrawn himself into a sanctuary at Daphne, that lieth by Antioch. ³⁴ Wherefore Menelaus, taking Andronicus apart, prayed him to kill Onias. And coming to Onias, and being persuaded to use treachery, and being received as a friend, Andronicus gave him his right hand with oaths of fidelity, and, though he was suspected by him, so persuaded him to come forth of the sanctuary; and forthwith he despatched him without regard of justice. ³⁵ For which cause not only Jews, but many also of the other nations, had indignation and displeasure at the unjust murder of the man. ³⁶ And when the king was come back again from the places in Cilicia, the Jews that were in the city pleaded before him against Andronicus (the Greeks also joining with them in hatred of the wickedness), urging that Onias had been wrongfully slain. ³⁷ Antiochus therefore was heartily sorry, and was moved to pity, and wept, because of the sober and well ordered life of him that was dead; ³⁸ and being inflamed with passion, forthwith he stripped off Andronicus' purple robe, and rent off his under garments, and when he had led him round through the whole city unto that very place where he had committed impiety against Onias, there he put the murderer out of the way, the Lord rendering to him the punishment he had deserved.

³⁹ Now when many sacrileges had been committed in the city by Lysimachus with the consent of Menelaus, and when the report thereof was spread abroad outside, the people gathered themselves together against Lysimachus, after many vessels of gold had been already dispersed. ⁴⁰ And when the multitudes were rising against him, and were filled with anger, Lysimachus armed about three thousand men, and with unrighteous violence began the conflict, one Auranus, a man far gone in years and no less also in madness, leading the attack. ⁴¹ But when they perceived the assault of Lysimachus, some caught up stones, others logs of wood, and some took handfuls of the ashes that lay near, and they flung them all in wild confusion upon Lysimachus and them that were with him; ⁴² by reason of which they wounded many of them, and some they struck to the ground, and all of them they forced to flee, but the author of the sacrilege himself they killed beside the treasury.

⁴³ But touching these matters there was an accusation laid against Menelaus. ⁴⁴ And when the king was come to Tyre, the three men that were sent by the senate pleaded the cause before him. ⁴⁵ But Menelaus, seeing himself now defeated, promised much money to Ptolemy the son of Dorymenes, that he might win over the king. ⁴⁶ Whereupon Ptolemy taking the king aside into a cloister, as it were to take the air, brought him to be of another mind: ⁴⁷ and him that was the cause of all the evil, Menelaus, he discharged from the accusations; but these hapless men, who, if they had pleaded even before Scythians, would have been discharged uncondemned, them he sentenced to death. ⁴⁸ Soon then did they that were spokesmen for the city and the families of Israel and the holy vessels suffer that unrighteous penalty. ⁴⁹ For which cause even certain Tyrians, moved with hatred of the wickedness, provided magnificently for their burial. ⁵⁰ But Menelaus through the covetous dealings of them that were in power remained still in his office, cleaving to wickedness, as a great conspirator against his fellow citizens.

¹ Now about this time Antiochus made his second inroad into Egypt. ² And it so befell that throughout all the city, for the space of almost forty days, there appeared in the midst of the sky horsemen in swift motion, wearing robes inwrought with gold and carrying spears, equipped in troops for battle; ³ and drawing of swords; and on the other side squadrons of horse in array; and encounters and pursuits of both armies; and shaking of shields, and multitudes of lances, and casting of darts, and flashing of golden trappings, and girding on of all sorts of armor. ⁴ Wherefore all men besought that the vision might have been given for good.

⁵ But when a false rumor had arisen that Antiochus was deceased, Jason took not less than a thousand men, and suddenly made an assault upon the city; and they that were upon the wall being routed, and the city being now at length well nigh taken, Menelaus took refuge in the citadel. ⁶ But Jason slaughtered his own citizens without mercy, not considering that good success against kinsmen is the greatest ill success, but supposing himself to be setting up trophies over enemies, and not over fellow countrymen. ⁷ The office however he did not get, but, receiving shame as the end of his conspiracy, he passed again a fugitive into the country of the Ammonites. ⁸ At the last therefore he met with a miserable end: having been shut up at the court of Aretas the prince of the Arabians, fleeing from city to city, pursued of all men, hated as an apostate from the laws, and held in abomination as the butcher of his country and his fellow citizens, he was cast forth into Egypt; ⁹ and he that had driven many from their own country into strange lands perished himself in a strange land, having crossed the sea to the Lacedaemonians, as thinking to find shelter there because they were near of kin; ¹⁰ and he that had cast out a multitude unburied had none to mourn for him, nor had he any funeral at all, or place in the sepulcher of his fathers.

¹¹ Now when tidings came to the king concerning that which was done, he thought that Judea was in revolt; whereupon setting out from Egypt in a furious mind, he took the city by force of arms, ¹² and commanded his soldiers to cut down without mercy such as came in their way, and to slay such as went up upon the houses; ¹³ and there was killing of young and old, making away of boys, women, and children, slaying of virgins and infants. ¹⁴ And in all the three days of the slaughter there were destroyed fourscore thousand, whereof forty thousand were slain in close combat, and no fewer were sold than slain. ¹⁵ But not content with this he presumed to enter into the most holy temple of all the earth, having Menelaus for his guide (him that had proved himself a traitor both to the laws and to his country), ¹⁶ even taking the sacred vessels with his polluted hands, and dragging down with his profane hands the offerings that had been dedicated by other kings to the augmentation and glory and honor of the place. ¹⁷ And Antiochus was lifted up in mind, not seeing that because of the sins of them that dwelt in the city the Sovereign Lord had been provoked to anger a little while, and therefore his eye was then turned away from the place. ¹⁸ But had it not so been that they were already held by many sins, this man, even as Heliodorus who was sent by Seleucus the king to view the treasury, would, so soon as he pressed forward, have been scourged and turned back from his daring deed. ¹⁹ Howbeit the Lord did not choose the nation for the place's sake, but the place for the nation's sake. ²⁰ Wherefore also the place itself, having partaken in the calamities that befell the nation, did afterward share in its benefits; and the place which was forsaken in the wrath of the Almighty was, at the reconciliation of the great Sovereign, restored again with all glory. ²¹ As for Antiochus, when he had carried away out of the temple a thousand and eight hundred talents, he departed in all haste unto Antioch, thinking in his arrogancy to make the land navigable and the sea passable by foot, because his heart was lifted up. ²² And moreover he left governors to afflict the race: at Jerusalem, Philip, by race a Phrygian, and in character more barbarous than him that set him there; ²³ and at Gerizim, Andronicus; and besides these, Menelaus, who worse than all the rest exalted himself against his fellow citizens. And having a malicious mind toward the Jews whom he had made his citizens, ²⁴ he sent that lord of pollutions

Apollonius with an army of two and twenty thousand, commanding him to slay all those that were of full age, and to sell the women and the younger men. ²⁵ And he coming to Jerusalem, and playing the man of peace, waited till the holy day of the Sabbath, and finding the Jews at rest from work, he commanded his men to parade in arms. ²⁶ And he put to the sword all them that came forth to the spectacle; and running into the city with the armed men he slew great multitudes. ²⁷ But Judas, who is also called Maccabeus, with nine others or thereabout, withdrew himself, and with his company kept himself alive in the mountains after the manner of wild beasts; and they continued feeding on such poor herbs as grew there, that they might not be partakers of the threatened pollution.

¹ And not long after this the king sent forth an old man of Athens to compel the Jews to depart from the laws of their fathers, and not to live after the laws of God; ² and also to pollute the sanctuary in Jerusalem, and to call it by the name of Zeus Olympius, and to call the sanctuary in Gerizim by the name of Zeus the Protector of strangers, even as they were that dwelt in the place. ³ But sore and utterly grievous was the visitation of this evil. ⁴ For the temple was filled with riot and revelings by the heathen, who dallied with harlots, and had to do with women within the sacred precincts, and moreover brought inside things that were not befitting; ⁵ and the place of sacrifice was filled with those abominable things which had been prohibited by the laws. ⁶ And a man could neither keep the Sabbath, nor observe the feasts of the fathers, nor so much as confess himself to be a Jew. ⁷ And on the day of the king's birth every month they were led along with bitter constraint to eat of the sacrifices; and when the feast of Bacchus came, they were compelled to go in procession in honor of Bacchus, wearing wreaths of ivy. ⁸ And there went out a decree to the neighboring Greek cities, by the suggestion of Ptolemy, that they should observe the same conduct against the Jews, and should make them eat of the sacrifices; ⁹ and that they should slay such as did not choose to go over to the Greek rites. So the present misery was for all to see: ¹⁰ for two women were brought up for having circumcised their children; and these, when they had led them publicly round about the city, with the babes hung from their breasts, they cast down headlong from the wall. ¹¹ And others, that had run together into the caves near by to keep the seventh day secretly, being betrayed to Philip were all burnt together, because they scrupled to defend themselves, from regard to the honor of that most solemn day.

¹² I beseech therefore those that read this book, that they be not discouraged because of the calamities, but account that these punishments were not for the destruction, but for the chastening of our race. ¹³ For indeed that those who act impiously be not let alone any long time, but straightaway meet with retribution, is a sign of great beneficence. ¹⁴ For in the case of the other nations the Sovereign Lord doth with long-suffering forbear, until that he punish them when they have attained unto the full measure of their sins; but not so judged he as touching us, ¹⁵ that he may not take vengeance on us afterward, when we be come unto the height of our sins. ¹⁶ Wherefore he never withdraweth his mercy from us; but though he chasteneth with calamity, yet doth he not forsake his own people. ¹⁷ Howbeit let this that we have spoken suffice to put you in remembrance; but after these few words we must come to the narrative.

¹⁸ Eleazar, one of the principal scribes, a man already well stricken in years, and of a noble countenance, was compelled to open his mouth to eat swine's flesh. ¹⁹ But he, welcoming death with renown rather than life with pollution, advanced of his own accord to the instrument of torture, but first spat forth the flesh, ²⁰ coming forward as men ought to come that are resolute to repel such things as not even for the natural love of life is it lawful to taste. ²¹ But they that had the charge of that forbidden sacrificial feast took the man aside, for the acquaintance which of old times they had with him, and privately besought him to bring flesh of his own providing, such as was befitting for him to use, and to make as if he did eat of the flesh from the sacrifice, as had been commanded by the king; ²² that by so doing he might be delivered from death, and for his ancient friendship with them might be treated kindly. ²³ But he, having formed a high resolve, and one that became his years, and the dignity of old age, and the gray hairs which he had reached with honor, and his excellent education from a child, or rather that became the holy laws of God's ordaining, declared his mind accordingly, bidding them quickly send him unto Hades. ²⁴ For it becometh not our years to dissemble, said he, that through this many of the young should suppose that Eleazar, the man of fourscore years and ten, had gone over unto an alien religion; ²⁵ and so they, by reason of my dissimulation, and for the sake of this brief and momentary life, should be led astray because of me, and thus I get to myself a pollution and a stain of mine old age. ²⁶ For even if for the present time I shall remove from me the punishment of men, yet shall I not escape the hands of the Almighty, either living or dead. ²⁷ Wherefore, by manfully parting with my life now, I will show myself worthy of mine old age, ²⁸ and leave behind a noble example to the young to die willingly and nobly a glorious death for the reverend and holy laws. And when he had said these words, he went straightaway to the instrument of torture. ²⁹ And when they changed the good will they bare him a little before into ill will, because these words of his were, as they thought, sheer madness, ³⁰ and when he was at the point to die with the stripes, he groaned aloud and said, To the Lord, that hath the holy knowledge, it is manifest that, whereas I might have been delivered from death, I endure sore pains in my body by being scourged; but in soul I gladly suffer these things for my fear of him. ³¹ So this man also died after this manner, leaving his death for an example of nobleness and a memorial of virtue, not only to the young but also to the great body of his nation.

¹ And it came to pass that seven brethren also with their mother were at the king's command taken and shamefully handled with scourges and cords, to compel them to taste of the abominable swine's flesh. ² But one of them made himself the spokesman and said, What wouldest thou ask and learn of us? for we are ready to die rather than transgress the laws of our fathers. ³ And the king fell into a rage, and commanded to heat pans and caldrons: ⁴ and when these forthwith were heated, he commanded to cut out the tongue of him that had been their spokesman, and to scalp him, and to cut off his extremities, the rest of his brethren and his mother looking on. ⁵ And when he was utterly maimed, the king commanded to bring him to the fire, being yet alive, and to fry him in the pan. And as the vapor of the pan spread far, they and their mother also exhorted one another to die nobly, saying thus: ⁶ The Lord God beholdeth, and in truth is entreated for us, as Moses declared in his song, which witnesseth against the people to their faces, saying, And he shall be entreated for his servants.

⁷ And when the first had died after this manner, they brought the second to the mocking; and they pulled off the skin of his head with the hair and asked him, Wilt thou eat, before thy body be punished in every limb? ⁸ But he answered in the language of his fathers and said to them, No. Wherefore he also underwent the next torture in succession, as the first had done. ⁹ And when he was at the last gasp, he said, Thou, miscreant, dost release us out of this present life, but the King of the world shall raise up us, who have died for his laws, unto an eternal renewal of life.

¹⁰ And after him was the third made a mocking-stock. And when he was required, he quickly put out his tongue, and stretched forth his hands courageously, ¹¹ and nobly said, From heaven I possess these; and for his laws' sake I contemn these; and from him I hope to receive these back again: ¹² insomuch that the king himself and they that were with him were astonished at the young man's soul, for that he nothing regarded the pains.

¹³ And when he too was dead, they shamefully handled and tortured the fourth in like manner. ¹⁴ And being come near unto death he said thus: It is good to die at the hands of men and look for the hopes which are given by God, that we shall be raised up again by him; for as for thee, thou shalt have no resurrection unto life.

¹⁵ And next after him they brought the fifth, and shamefully handled him. ¹⁶ But he looked toward the king and said, Because thou hast authority among men, though thou art thyself corruptible, thou doest what thou wilt; yet think not that our race hath been forsaken of God; ¹⁷ but hold thou on thy way, and behold his sovereign majesty, how it will torture thee and thy seed.

¹⁸ And after him they brought the sixth. And when he was at the point to die he said, Be not vainly deceived, for we suffer these things for our own doings, as sinning against our own God: marvelous things are come to pass; ¹⁹ but think not thou that thou shalt be unpunished, having assayed to fight against God.

²⁰ But above all was the mother marvelous and worthy of honorable memory; for when she looked on seven sons perishing within the space of one day, she bare the sight with a good courage for the hopes that she had set on the Lord. ²¹ And she exhorted each one of them in the language of their fathers, filled with a noble temper and stirring up her womanish thought with manly passion, saying unto them, ²² I know not how ye came into my womb, neither was it I that bestowed on you your spirit and your life, and it was not I that brought into order the first elements of each one of you. ²³ Therefore the Creator of the world, who fashioned the generation of man and devised the generation of all things, in mercy giveth back to you again both your spirit and your life, as ye now contemn your own selves for his laws' sake. ²⁴ But Antiochus, thinking himself to be despised, and suspecting the reproachful voice, while the youngest was yet alive did not only make his appeal to him by words, but also at the same time promised with oaths that he would enrich him and raise him to high estate, if he would turn from the customs of his fathers, and that he would take him for his Friend and entrust him with affairs. ²⁵ But when the young man would in no wise give heed, the king called unto him his mother, and exhorted her that she would counsel the lad to save himself. ²⁶ And when he had exhorted her with many words, she undertook to persuade her son. ²⁷ But bending toward him, laughing the cruel tyrant to scorn, she spake thus in the language of her fathers: My son, have pity upon me that carried thee nine months in my womb, and gave thee suck three years, and nourished and brought thee up unto this age, and sustained thee. ²⁸ I beseech thee, my child, to lift thine eyes unto the heaven and the earth, and to see all things that are therein, and thus to recognize that God made them not of things that were, and that the race of men in this wise cometh into being. ²⁹ Fear not this butcher, but, proving thyself worthy of thy brethren, accept thy death, that in the mercy of God I may receive thee again with thy brethren.

³⁰ But before she had yet ended speaking, the young man said, Whom wait ye for? I obey not the commandment of the king, but I hearken to the commandment of the law that was given to our fathers through Moses. ³¹ But thou, that hast devised all manner of evil against the Hebrews, shalt in no wise escape the hands of God. ³² For we are suffering because of our own sins; ³³ and if for rebuke and chastening our living Lord hath been angered a little while, yet shall he again be reconciled with his own servants. ³⁴ But thou, O unholy man and of all most vile, be not vainly lifted up in thy wild pride with uncertain hopes, raising thy hand against the heavenly children; ³⁵ For not yet hast thou escaped the judgment of the Almighty God that seeth all things. ³⁶ For these our brethren, having endured a short pain that bringeth everlasting life, have now died under God's covenant; but thou, through the judgment of God, shalt receive in just measure the penalties of thine arrogancy. ³⁷ But I, as my brethren, give up both body and soul for the laws of our fathers, calling upon God that he may speedily become gracious to the nation; and that thou amid trials and plagues mayest confess that he alone is God; ³⁸ and that in me and my brethren thou mayest stay the wrath of the Almighty, which hath been justly brought upon our whole race. ³⁹ But the king, falling into a rage, handled him worse than all the rest, being exasperated at his mocking. ⁴⁰ So he also died pure from pollution, putting his whole trust in the Lord.

⁴¹ And last of all after her sons the mother died.

⁴² Let it then suffice to have said thus much concerning the enforcement of sacrificial feasts and the king's exceeding barbarities.

¹ But Judas, who is also called Maccabeus, and they that were with him, making their way privily into the villages, called unto them their kinsfolk; and taking unto them such as had continued in the Jews' religion, gathered together as many as six thousand. ² And they called upon the Lord, beseeking him to look upon the people that was oppressed by all; and to have compassion on the sanctuary also that had been profaned by the ungodly men; ³ and to have pity on the city also that was suffering ruin and ready to be made even with the ground; and to hearken to the blood that cried unto him; ⁴ and to remember also the lawless slaughter of the innocent infants, and the blasphemies that had been committed against his name; and to show his hatred of wickedness. ⁵ And when Maccabeus had trained his men for service, the heathen at once found him irresistible, for that the wrath of the Lord was turned into pity. ⁶ And coming unawares he set fire to cities and villages. And in winning back the most important positions, putting to flight no small number of the enemies, ⁷ he especially took advantage of the nights for such assaults. And his courage was loudly talked of everywhere.

¹² But tidings came to Judas concerning the inroad of Nicanor; and when he communicated to them that were with him the presence of the army, ¹³ they that were cowardly and distrustful of the judgment of God ran away and left the country.

¹⁴ And others sold all that was left over to them, and withal besought the Lord to deliver them that had been sold as slaves by the impious Nicanor or ever he met them; ¹⁵ and this, if not for their own sakes, yet for the covenants made with their fathers, and because he had called them by his reverend and glorious name. ¹⁶ And Maccabeus gathered his men together, six thousand in number, and exhorted them not to be stricken with dismay at the enemy, nor to fear the great multitude of the heathen who came wrongfully against them; but to contend nobly, ¹⁷ setting before their eyes the outrage that had been lawlessly perpetrated upon the holy place, and the shameful handling of the city that had been turned to mockery, and further the overthrow of the mode of life received from their ancestors. ¹⁸ For they, said he, trust to arms, and withal to deeds of daring; but we trust on the almighty God, since he is able at a beck to cast down them that are coming against us, and even the whole world. ¹⁹ And moreover he recounted unto them the help given from time to time in the days of their ancestors, both the help given in the days of Sennacherib, how that a hundred fourscore and five thousand perished, ²⁰ and the help given in the land of Babylon, even the battle that was fought against the Gauls, how that they came to the engagement eight thousand in all, with four thousand Macedonians, and how that, the Macedonians being hard pressed, the eight thousand destroyed the hundred and twenty thousand, because of the succor which they had from heaven, and took great booty. ²¹ And when he had with these words made them of good courage, and ready to die for the laws and their country, he divided his army into four parts; ²² appointing his brethren to be with himself leaders of the several bands, to wit, Simon and Joseph and Jonathan, giving each the command of fifteen hundred men, ²³ and moreover Eleazer also: then, having read aloud the sacred book, and having given as watchword, THE HELP OF GOD, leading the first band himself, he joined battle with Nicanor. ²⁴ And, since the Almighty fought on their side, they slew of the enemy above nine thousand, and wounded and disabled the more part of Nicanor's army, and compelled all to flee: ²⁵ and they took the money of those that had come there to buy them. And after they had pursued them for some distance, they returned, being constrained by the time of the day; ²⁶ for it was the day before the Sabbath, and for this cause they made no effort to chase them far. ²⁷ And when they had gathered the arms of the enemy together, and had stripped off their spoils, they occupied themselves about the Sabbath, blessing and thanking the Lord exceedingly, who had saved them unto this day, for that he had caused a beginning of mercy to distill upon them. ²⁸ And after the Sabbath, when they had given of the spoils to the maimed, and to the widows and orphans, the residue they distributed among themselves and their children. ²⁹ And when they had accomplished these things, and had made a common supplication, they besought the merciful Lord to be wholly reconciled with his servants.

³⁰ And having had an encounter with the forces of Timothy and Bacchides, they killed above twenty thousand of them, and made themselves masters of strongholds exceeding high, and divided very much plunder, giving the maimed and orphans and widows, and moreover the aged also, an equal share with themselves. ³¹ And when they had gathered the arms of the enemy together, they stored them all up carefully in the most important positions, and the residue of the spoils they carried to Jerusalem. ³² And they killed the phylarch of Timothy's forces, a most unholy man, and one who had done the Jews much hurt. ³³ And as they kept the feast of victory in the city of their fathers, they burned those that had set the sacred gates on fire, and among them Callisthenes, who had fled into an outhouse; and so they received the meet reward of their impiety.

³⁴ And the thrice-accursed Nicanor, who had brought the thousand merchants to buy the Jews for slaves, ³⁵ being through the help of the Lord humbled by them who in his eyes were held to be of least account, put off his glorious apparel, and passing through the midland, shunning all company like a fugitive slave, arrived at Antioch, having, as he thought, had the greatest possible good fortune, though his host was destroyed. ³⁶ And he that had taken upon him to make tribute sure for the Romans by the captivity of the men of Jerusalem published abroad that the Jews had One who fought for them, and that because this was so the Jews were invulnerable, because they followed the laws ordained by him.

¹ Now about that time it befell that Antiochus had returned in disorder from the region of Persia. ² For he had entered into the city called Persepolis, and he assayed to rob a temple and to hold down the city. Whereupon there was an onset of the multitudes, and Antiochus and his men turned to make defense with arms; and it came to pass that Antiochus was put to flight by the people of the country and broke up his camp with disgrace. ³ And while he was at Ecbatana, news was brought him what had happened unto Nicanor and the forces of Timothy. ⁴ And being lifted up by his passion he thought to make the Jews suffer even for the evildoing of those that had put him to rout. Wherefore, the judgment from heaven even now accompanying him, he gave order to his charioteer to drive without ceasing and despatch the journey; for thus he arrogantly spake: I will make Jerusalem a common graveyard of Jews, when I come there. ⁵ But the All-seeing Lord, the God of Israel, smote him with a fatal and invisible stroke; and as soon as he had ceased speaking this word, an incurable pain of the bowels seized him, and bitter torments of the inner parts; ⁶ and that most justly, for he had tormented other men's bowels with many and strange sufferings. ⁷ But he in no wise ceased from his rude insolence; nay, still more was he filled with arrogancy, breathing fire in his passion against the Jews, and commanding to hasten the journey. But it came to pass moreover that he fell from his chariot as it rushed along, and having a grievous fall was racked in all the members of his body. ⁸ And he that but now supposed himself to have the waves of the sea at his bidding, so vainglorious was he beyond the condition of a man, and that thought to weigh the heights of the mountains in a balance, was now brought to the ground and carried in a litter, showing unto all that the power was manifestly God's; ⁹ so that out of the body of the impious man worms swarmed, and while he was still living in anguish and pains, his flesh fell off, and by reason of the stench all the army turned with loathing from his corruption. ¹⁰ And the man that a little afore supposed himself to touch the stars of heaven, no one could endure to carry for his intolerable stench. ¹¹ Hereupon therefore he began in great part to cease from his arrogancy, being broken in spirit, and to come to knowledge under the scourge of God, his pains increasing every moment. ¹² And when he himself could not abide his own smell, he said these words: It is right to be subject unto God, and that one who is mortal should not be minded arrogantly. ¹³ And the vile man vowed unto the sovereign Lord, who now no more would have pity upon him, saying on this wise: ¹⁴ that the holy city, to which he was going in haste, to lay it even with the ground and to make it a common graveyard, he would declare free; ¹⁵ and as touching the Jews, whom he had decided not even to count worthy of burial, but to cast them out to the beasts with their infants, for the birds to devour, he would make them all equal to citizens of Athens; ¹⁶ and the holy sanctuary, which before he had plundered, he would adorn with goodliest offerings, and would restore all the sacred vessels many times multiplied, and out of his own revenues would defray the charges that were required for the sacrifices; ¹⁷ and, beside all this, that he would become a Jew, and would visit every inhabited place, publishing abroad the might of God. ¹⁸ But when his sufferings did in no wise cease, for the judgment of God had come upon him in righteousness, having given up all hope of himself, he wrote unto the Jews the letter written below, having the nature of a supplication, to this effect:

¹⁹ To the worthy Jews, his fellow citizens, Antiochus, king and general, wisheth much joy and health and prosperity. ²⁰ May ye and your children fare well; and your affairs shall be to your mind. Having my hope in heaven, ²¹ I remembered with affection your honor and good will toward me. Returning out of the region of Persia, and being taken with a noisome sickness, I deemed it necessary to take thought for the common safety of all, ²² not despairing of myself, but having great hope to escape from the sickness. ²³ But considering that my father also, at what time he led an army into the upper country, appointed his successor, ²⁴ to the end that, if anything fell out contrary to expectation, or if any unwelcome tidings were brought, they that remained in the country, knowing to whom the state had been left, might not be troubled; ²⁵ and, beside all this, observing how that the princes that are borderers and neighbors unto my kingdom watch opportunities, and look for the future event, I have appointed my son Antiochus to be king, whom I often committed and commended to most of you, when I was hastening unto the upper provinces; and I have written to him what is written below. ²⁶ I exhort you therefore and beseech you, having in your remembrance the benefits done to you in common and severally, to preserve each of you your present good will toward me and my son. ²⁷ For I am persuaded that he in gentleness and kindness will follow my purpose and treat you with indulgence.

²⁸ So the murderer and blasphemer, having endured the sorest sufferings, even as he had dealt with other men, ended his life among the mountains by a most piteous fate in a strange land. ²⁹ And Philip his foster brother conveyed the body home; and then, fearing the son of Antiochus, he betook himself to Ptolemy Philometor in Egypt.

¹ And Maccabeus and they that were with him, the Lord leading them on, recovered the temple and the city; ² and they pulled down the altars that had been built in the marketplace by the aliens, and also the walls of sacred enclosures. ³ And having cleansed the sanctuary they made another altar of sacrifice; and striking stones and taking fire out of them, they offered sacrifices, after they had ceased for two years, and burned incense, and lighted lamps, and set forth the showbread. ⁴ And when they had done these things, they fell prostrate and besought the Lord that they might fall no more into such evils; but that, if ever they should sin, they might be chastened by him with forbearance, and not be delivered unto blaspheming and barbarous heathen. ⁵ Now on the same day that the sanctuary was profaned by aliens, upon that very day did it come to pass that the cleansing of the sanctuary was made, even on the five and twentieth day of the same month, which is Chislev. ⁶ And they kept eight days with gladness in the manner of the feast of tabernacles, remembering how that not long afore, during the feast of tabernacles, they were wandering in the mountains and in the caves after the manner of wild beasts. ⁷ Wherefore bearing wands wreathed with leaves, and fair boughs, and palms also, they offered up hymns of thanksgiving to him that had prosperously brought to pass the cleansing of his own place. ⁸ They ordained also with a common statute and decree, for all the nation of the Jews, that they should keep these days every year. ⁹ And such was the end of Antiochus, who was called Epiphanes. ¹⁰ But now will we declare what came to pass under Antiochus named Eupator, who proved himself a true son of that ungodly man, and will gather up briefly the successive evils of the wars. ¹¹ For this man, when he succeeded to the kingdom, appointed one Lysias to be chancellor, and supreme governor of Coelesyria and Phoenicia. ¹² For Ptolemy that was called Macron, setting an example of observing justice toward the Jews because of the wrong that had been done unto them, endeavored to conduct his dealings with them on peaceful terms. ¹³ Whereupon being accused by the king's Friends before Eupator, and hearing himself called traitor at every turn, because he had abandoned Cyprus which Philometor had entrusted to him, and had withdrawn himself unto Antiochus called Epiphanes, and failing to uphold the honor of his office, he took poison and made away with himself.

¹⁴ But Gorgias, when he was made governor of the district, maintained a force of mercenaries, and at every turn kept up war with the Jews. ¹⁵ And together with him the Idumeans also, being masters of important strongholds, harassed the Jews; and receiving unto them those that had taken refuge there from Jerusalem, they assayed to keep up war. ¹⁶ But Maccabeus and his men, having made solemn supplication and besought God to fight on their side, rushed upon the strongholds of the Idumeans; ¹⁷ and assaulting them vigorously they made themselves masters of the positions, and kept off all that fought upon the wall, and slew those that fell in their way, and killed no fewer than twenty thousand. ¹⁸ And because no less than nine thousand were fled into two towers exceeding strong and having all things needed for a siege, ¹⁹ Maccabeus, having left Simon and Joseph, and Zacchaeus besides and them that were with him, a force sufficient to besiege them, departed himself unto places where he was most needed. ²⁰ But Simon and they that were with him, yielding to covetousness, were bribed by certain of those that were in the towers, and receiving seventy thousand drachmas let some of them slip away. ²¹ But when word was brought to Maccabeus of what was done, he gathered the leaders of the people together, and accused those men of having sold their brethren for money, by setting their enemies free to fight against them. ²² So he slew these men for having turned traitors, and forthwith took possession of the two towers. ²³ And prospering with his arms in all things he took in hand, he destroyed in the two strongholds more than twenty thousand.

²⁴ Now Timothy, who had been before defeated by the Jews, having gathered together foreign forces in great multitudes, and having collected the horsemen who belonged to Asia, not a few, came as though he would take Judea by force of arms. ²⁵ But as he drew near, Maccabeus and his men sprinkled earth upon their heads and girded their loins with sackcloth, in supplication to God, ²⁶ and falling down upon the step in front of the altar, besought him to become gracious to them, and be an enemy to their enemies and an adversary to their adversaries, as the law declareth. ²⁷ And rising from their prayer they took up their arms, and advanced some distance from the city; and when they had come near to their enemies they halted. ²⁸ And when the dawn was now spreading, the two armies joined battle; the one part having this, beside their virtue, for a pledge of success and victory, that they had fled unto the Lord for refuge, the others making their passion their leader in the strife. ²⁹ But when the battle waxed strong, there appeared out of heaven unto their adversaries five men on horses with bridles of gold, in splendid array; and two of them, leading on the Jews, ³⁰ and taking Maccabeus in the midst of them, and covering him with their own armor, guarded him from wounds, while on the adversaries they shot forth arrows and thunderbolts; by reason whereof they were blinded and thrown into confusion, and were cut to pieces, filled with bewilderment. ³¹ And there were slain twenty thousand and five hundred, beside six hundred horsemen.

³² But Timothy himself fled into a stronghold called Gazara, a fortress of exceeding strength, Chaereas being in command there. ³³ But Maccabeus and his men were glad and laid siege to the fortress four and twenty days. ³⁴ And they that were within, trusting to the strength of the place, blasphemed exceedingly, and hurled forth impious words. ³⁵ But at dawn of the five and twentieth day certain young men of the company of Maccabeus, inflamed with passion because of the blasphemies, assaulted the wall with masculine force and with furious passion, and cut down whosoever came in their way. ³⁶ And others climbing up in like manner, while the besieged were distracted with them that had made their way within, set fire to the towers, and kindling fires burned the blasphemers alive; while others broke open the gates, and, having given entrance to the rest of the band, occupied the city. ³⁷ And they slew Timothy, who was hidden in a cistern, and his brother Chaereas, and Apollophanes. ³⁸ And when they had accomplished these things, they blessed the Lord with hymns and thanksgivings, him who doeth great benefits unto Israel, and giveth them the victory.

¹ Now after a very little time Lysias, the king's guardian and kinsman and chancellor, being sore displeased for the things that had come to pass, ² collected about fourscore thousand footmen and all his horsemen and came against the Jews, thinking to make the city a place for Greeks to dwell in, ³ and to levy tribute on the temple, as on the other sacred places of the nations, and to put up the high priesthood to sale every year; ⁴ holding in no account the might of God, but puffed up with his ten thousands of footmen, and his thousands of horsemen, and his fourscore elephants. ⁵ And coming into Judea and drawing near to Beth-zur, which was a strong place and distant from Jerusalem about five leagues, he pressed it hard. ⁶ But when Maccabeus and his men learned that he was besieging the strongholds, they and all the people with lamentations and tears made supplication unto the Lord to send a good angel to save Israel. ⁷ And Maccabeus himself took up arms first, and exhorted the others to jeopard themselves together with him and succor their brethren; and they sallied forth with him right willingly. ⁸ And as they were there, close to Jerusalem, there appeared at their head one on horseback in white apparel, brandishing weapons of gold. ⁹ And they all together praised the merciful God, and were yet more strengthened in heart: being ready to assail not men only but the wildest beasts, and walls of iron, ¹⁰ they advanced in array, having him that is in heaven to fight on their side, for the Lord had mercy on them. ¹¹ And hurling themselves like lions upon the enemy, they slew of them eleven thousand footmen and sixteen hundred horsemen, and forced all the rest to flee. ¹² But the more part of them escaped wounded and naked; and Lysias also himself escaped by shameful flight. ¹³ But as he was a man not void of understanding, weighing with himself the defeat which had befallen him, and considering that the Hebrews could not be overcome, because the Almighty God fought on their side, he sent again unto them, ¹⁴ and persuaded them to come to terms on condition that all their rights were acknowledged, and promised that he would also persuade the king to become their friend. ¹⁵ And Maccabeus gave consent upon all the conditions which Lysias proposed to him, being careful of the common good; for whatsoever requests Maccabeus delivered in writing unto Lysias concerning the Jews the king allowed. ¹⁶ For the letters written unto the Jews from Lysias were to this effect:

Lysias unto the people of the Jews, greeting. ¹⁷ John and Absalom, who were sent from you, having delivered the petition written below, made request concerning the things signified therein. ¹⁸ What things soever therefore had need to be brought before the king I declared to him, and what things were possible he allowed. ¹⁹ If then ye will preserve your good will toward the state, henceforward also will I endeavor to contribute to your good. ²⁰ And on this behalf I have given order in detail, both to these men and to those that are sent from me, to confer with you. ²¹ Fare ye well. Written in the hundred forty and eighth year, on the four and twentieth day of the month Dioscorinthius.

²² And the king's letter was in these words:

King Antiochus unto his brother Lysias, greeting. ²³ Seeing that our father passed unto the gods having the wish that the subjects of his kingdom should be undisturbed and give themselves to the care of their own affairs, ²⁴ we, having heard that the Jews do not consent to our father's purpose to turn them unto the customs of the Greeks, but choose rather their own manner of living, and make request that the customs of their law be allowed unto them— ²⁵ choosing therefore that this nation also should be free from disturbance, we determine that their temple be restored to them, and that they live according to the customs that were in the days of their ancestors. ²⁶ Thou wilt therefore do well to send messengers unto them and give them the right hand of friendship, that they, knowing our mind, may be of good heart, and gladly occupy themselves with the conduct of their own affairs.

²⁷ And unto the nation the king's letter was after this manner:

King Antiochus to the senate of the Jews and to the other Jews, greeting. ²⁸ If ye fare well, we have our desire: we ourselves also are in good health. ²⁹ Menelaus informed us that your desire was to return home and follow your own business. ³⁰ They therefore that depart home up to the thirtieth day of Xanthicus shall have our friendship, with full permission ³¹ that the Jews use their own proper meats and observe their own laws, even as heretofore; and none of them shall be in any way molested for the things that have been ignorantly done. ³² Moreover I have sent Menelaus also, that he may encourage you. ³³ Fare ye well. Written in the hundred forty and eighth year, on the fifteenth day of Xanthicus. ³⁴ And the Romans also sent unto them a letter in these words:

Quintus Memmius and Titus Manius, ambassadors of the Romans, unto the people of the Jews, greeting. ³⁵ In regard to the things which Lysias the king's kinsman granted you, we also give consent. ³⁶ But as for the things which he judged should be referred to the king, send one forthwith, after ye have advised thereof, that we may publish such decrees as befit your case; for we are on our way to Antioch. ³⁷ Wherefore send some with speed, that we also may learn what is your mind. ³⁸ Farewell. Written in the hundred forty and eighth year, on the fifteenth day of Xanthicus.

¹ So when these covenants had been made, Lysias departed unto the king, and the Jews went about their husbandry. ² But certain of the governors of districts, Timothy and Apollonius the son of Gennaesus, and Hieronymus also and Demophon, and beside them Nicanor the governor of Cyprus, would not suffer them to enjoy tranquility and live in peace. ³ And men of Joppa perpetrated this great impiety: they invited the Jews that dwelt among them to go with their wives and children into the boats which they had provided, as though they had no ill will toward them; ⁴ and when the Jews, relying on the common decree of the city, accepted the invitation, as men desiring to live in peace and suspecting nothing, they took them out to sea and drowned them, in number not less than two hundred. ⁵ But when Judas heard of the cruelty done unto his fellow countrymen, giving command to the men that were with him ⁶ and calling upon God the righteous Judge, he came against the murderers of his brethren, and set the haven on fire by night, and burned the boats, and put to the sword those that had fled thither. ⁷ But when the town was closed against him, he withdrew, intending to come again to root out the whole community of the men of Joppa. ⁸ But learning that the men of Jamnia were minded to do in like manner unto the Jews that sojourned among them, ⁹ he fell upon the Jamnites also by night, and set fire to the haven together with the fleet, so that the glare of the light was seen at Jerusalem, two hundred and forty furlongs distant.

¹⁰ Now when they had drawn off nine furlongs from thence, as they marched against Timothy, a host of Arabians attacked him, no fewer than five thousand footmen and five hundred horsemen. ¹¹ And when a sore battle had been fought, and Judas and his company by the help of God had good success, the nomads being overcome besought Judas to grant them friendship, promising to give him cattle, and to help his people in all other ways. ¹² So Judas, thinking that they would indeed be profitable in many things, agreed to live in peace with them; and receiving pledges of friendship they departed to their tents. ¹³ And he also fell upon a certain city Gephyrun, strong and fenced about with walls, and inhabited by a mixed multitude of diverse nations; and it was named Caspin. ¹⁴ But they that were within, trusting to the strength of the walls and to their store of provisions, behaved themselves rudely toward Judas and them that were with him, railing, and furthermore blaspheming and speaking impious words. ¹⁵ But Judas and his company, calling upon the great sovereign of the world, who without rams and cunning engines of war hurled down Jericho in the times of Joshua, rushed wildly against the wall; ¹⁶ and having taken the city by the will of God, they made unspeakable slaughter, insomuch that the adjoining lake, which was two furlongs broad, appeared to be filled with the deluge of blood.

¹⁷ And when they had drawn off seven hundred and fifty furlongs from thence, they made their way to Charax, unto the Jews that are called Toubiani. ¹⁸ And Timothy they found not in occupation of that district, for he had then departed from the district without accomplishing anything, but had left behind a garrison, and that a very strong one, in a certain post. ¹⁹ But Dositheus and Sosipater, who were of Maccabeus' captains, sallied forth and destroyed those that had been left by Timothy in the stronghold, above ten thousand men. ²⁰ And Maccabeus, ranging his own army by bands, set these two over the bands, and marched in haste against Timothy, who had with him a hundred and twenty thousand footmen and two thousand and five hundred horsemen. ²¹ But when Timothy heard of the inroad of Judas, he at once sent away the women and the children and also the baggage into the fortress called Carnaim; for the place was hard to besiege and difficult of access by reason of the narrowness of the approaches on all sides. ²² But when the band of Judas, who led the van, appeared in sight, and when terror came upon the enemy and fear, because the manifestation of him who beholdeth all things came upon them, they fled in great haste, carried this way and that, so that they were often hurt of their own men, and pierced with the points of their swords. ²³ And Judas continued the pursuit the more hotly, putting the wicked wretches to the sword, and he destroyed as many as thirty thousand men. ²⁴ But Timothy himself, falling in with the company of Dositheus and Sosipater, besought them with much crafty guile to let him go with his life, because he had in his power the parents of many of them and the brethren of some: otherwise, said he, little regard will be shown to these. ²⁵ So when he had with many words confirmed the agreement to restore them without hurt, they let him go that they might save their brethren.

²⁶ And Judas, marching against Carnaim and the temple of Atargatis, slew five and twenty thousand persons. ²⁷ And after he had put these to flight and destroyed them, he marched against Ephron also, a strong city, wherein were multitudes of people of all nations; and stalwart young men placed on the walls made a vigorous defense; and there were great stores of engines and darts there. ²⁸ But calling upon the Sovereign who with might breaketh in pieces the strength of the enemy, they gat the city into their hands, and slew as many as twenty and five thousand of them that were within. ²⁹ And setting out from thence they marched in haste against Scythopolis, which is distant from Jerusalem six hundred furlongs. ³⁰ But when the Jews that were settled there testified of the good will that the Scythopolitans had shown toward them, and of their kindly bearing toward them in the times of their misfortune, ³¹ they gave thanks, and further exhorted them to remain well affected toward the race for the future; and they went up to Jerusalem, the feast of weeks being close to hand.

³² But after the feast called Pentecost they marched in haste against Gorgias the governor of Idumea: ³³ and he came out with three thousand footmen and four hundred horsemen. ³⁴ And when they had set themselves in array, it came to pass that a few of the Jews fell. ³⁵ And a certain Dositheus, one of Bacenor's company, who was on horseback and a strong man, pressed hard on Gorgias, and taking hold of his cloak drew him along by main force; and while he was minded to take the accursed man alive, one of the Thracian horsemen bare down upon him and disabled his shoulder; and so Gorgias escaped unto Marisa. ³⁶ And when they that were with Esdris had been fighting long and were wearied out, Judas called upon the Lord to show himself, fighting on their side and leading the van of the battle; ³⁷ and then in the language of his fathers he raised the battle cry joined with hymns, and rushing unawares upon the troops of Gorgias put them to flight.

³⁸ And Judas gathering his army came unto the city of Adullam; and as the seventh day was coming on, they purified themselves according to the custom, and kept the Sabbath there. ³⁹ And on the day following, at which time it had become necessary, Judas and his company came to take up the bodies of them that had fallen, and in company with their kinsmen to bring them back unto the sepulchers of their fathers. ⁴⁰ But under the garments of each one of the dead they found consecrated tokens of the idols of Jamnia, which the law forbiddeth the Jews to have aught to do with; and it became clear to all that it was for this cause that they had fallen. ⁴¹ All therefore, blessing the works of the Lord, the righteous Judge, who maketh manifest the things that are hidden, ⁴² betook themselves unto supplication, beseeching that the sin committed might be wholly blotted out. And the noble Judas exhorted the multitude to keep themselves from sin, forasmuch as they had seen before their eyes what things had come to pass because of the sin of them that had fallen. ⁴³ And when he had made a collection man by man to the sum of two thousand drachmas of silver, he sent unto Jerusalem to offer a sacrifice for sin, doing therein right well and honorably, in that he took thought for a resurrection. ⁴⁴ For if he were not expecting that they that had fallen would rise again, it were superfluous and idle to pray for the dead. ⁴⁵ (And if he did it looking unto an honorable memorial of gratitude laid up for them that die in godliness, holy and godly was the thought.) Wherefore he made the propitiation for them that had died, that they might be released from their sin.

¹ In the hundred forty and ninth year tidings were brought to Judas and his company that Antiochus Eupator was coming with great multitudes against Judea, ² and with him Lysias his guardian and chancellor, each having a Greek force, a hundred and ten thousand footmen, and five thousand and three hundred horsemen, and two and twenty elephants, and three hundred chariots armed with scythes.

³ And Menelaus also joined himself with them, and with great dissimulation encouraged Antiochus, not for the saving of his country, but because he thought that he would be set over the government. ⁴ But the King of kings stirred up the passion of Antiochus against the wicked wretch; and when Lysias informed him that this man was the cause of all the evils, the king commanded to bring him unto Berea, and to put him to death after the manner of that place. ⁵ Now there is in that place a tower of fifty cubits high, full of ashes, and it had all round it a gallery descending sheer on every side into the ashes. ⁶ Here him that is guilty of sacrilege, or hath attained a preeminence in any other evil deeds, they all push forward into destruction. ⁷ By such a fate it befell the breaker of the law, Menelaus, to die, without obtaining so much as a grave in the earth, and that right justly; ⁸ for inasmuch as he had perpetrated many sins against the altar, whose fire and whose ashes were holy, in ashes did he receive his death.

⁹ Now the king, infuriated in spirit, was coming with intent to inflict on the Jews the very worst of the sufferings that had befallen them in his father's time. ¹⁰ But when Judas heard of these things, he gave charge to the multitude to call upon the Lord day and night, beseeking him, if ever at any other time, so now to succor them that were at the point to be deprived of the law and their country and the holy temple, ¹¹ and not to suffer the people that had been but now a little while revived to fall into the hands of those profane heathen. ¹² So when they had all done the same thing together, beseeching the merciful Lord with weeping and fastings and prostration for three days without ceasing, Judas exhorted them and commanded they should join him for service. ¹³ And having gone apart with the elders he resolved that, before the king's army should enter into Judea and make themselves masters of the city, they should go forth and try the matter in fight by the help of God. ¹⁴ And committing the decision to the Lord of the world, and exhorting them that were with him to contend nobly even unto death for laws, temple, city, country, commonwealth, he pitched his camp by Modein. ¹⁵ And given out to his men the watchword, VICTORY IS GOD'S, with a chosen body of the bravest young men he fell upon the camp by night and penetrated to the king's tent, and slew of the army as many as two thousand men, and brought down the chiefest elephant with him that was in the tower upon him. ¹⁶ And at last they filled the army with terror and alarm, and departed with good success. ¹⁷ And this had been accomplished when the day was but now dawning, because of the Lord's protection that gave Judas help.

¹⁸ But the king, having had a taste of the exceeding boldness of the Jews, made attempts by stratagem upon their positions, ¹⁹ and upon a strong fortress of the Jews at Beth-zur; he advanced, was turned back, failed, was defeated, ²⁰ And Judas conveyed such things as were necessary unto them that were within. ²¹ But Rhodocus, from the Jewish ranks, made known to the enemy the secrets of his countrymen. He was sought out, and taken, and shut up in prison. ²² The king treated with them in Beth-zur the second time, gave his hand, took theirs, departed, attacked the forces of Judas, was put to the worse, ²³ heard that Philip who had been left as chancellor in Antioch had become reckless, was confounded, made to the Jews an overture of peace, submitted himself and swore to acknowledge all their rights, came to terms with them and offered sacrifice, honored the sanctuary and the place, ²⁴ showed kindness and graciously received Maccabeus, left Hegemonides governor from Ptolemais even unto the Gerrenians, ²⁵ came to Ptolemais. The men of Ptolemais were displeased at the treaty, for they had exceeding great indignation against the Jews: they desired to annul the articles of the agreement. ²⁶ Lysias came forward to speak, made the best defense that was possible, persuaded, pacified, made them well affected, departed unto Antioch. This was the issue of the inroad and departure of the king.

¹ Now after a space of three years tidings were brought to Judas and his company that Demetrius the son of Seleucus, having sailed into the haven of Tripolis with a mighty host and a fleet, ² had gotten possession of the country, having made away with Antiochus and Lysias his guardian.

³ But one Alcimus, who had formerly been high priest, and had willfully polluted himself in the times when there was no mingling with the Gentiles, considering that there was no deliverance for him in any way, nor any more access unto the holy altar, ⁴ came to king Demetrius in about the hundred and one and fiftieth year, presenting to him a chaplet of gold and a palm, and beside these some of the festal olive boughs of the temple. And for that day he held his peace; ⁵ but having gotten opportunity to further his own madness, being called by Demetrius into a meeting of his council, and asked how the Jews stood affected and what they purposed, he answered thereunto. ⁶ Those of the Jews that he called Hasideans, whose leader is Judas Maccabeus, keep up war, and are seditious, not suffering the kingdom to find tranquility. ⁷ Wherefore, having laid aside mine ancestral glory, I mean the high priesthood, I am now come hither; ⁸ first for the unfeigned care I have for the things that concern the king, and secondly because I have regard also to mine own fellow citizens: for, through the unadvised dealing of those of whom I spake before, our whole race is in no small misfortune. ⁹ But do thou, O king, having informed thyself of these things severally, take thought both for our country and for our race, which is surrounded by foes, according to the gracious kindness with which thou receivest all. ¹⁰ For as long as Judas remaineth alive, it is impossible that the state should find peace. ¹¹ And when he had spoken such words as these, at once the rest of the king's Friends, having ill will against Judas, inflamed Demetrius yet more. ¹² And forthwith appointing Nicanor, who had been master of the elephants, and making him governor of Judea, he sent him forth, ¹³ giving him written instructions to make away with Judas himself and to scatter them that were with him, and to set up Alcimus as high priest of the great temple. ¹⁴ And those in Judea that had before driven Judas into exile thronged to Nicanor in flocks, supposing that the misfortunes and calamities of the Jews would be successes to themselves.

¹⁵ But when the Jews heard of Nicanor's inroad and the assault of the heathen, they sprinkled earth upon their heads and made solemn supplication to him who had established his own people forevermore, and who always, making manifest his presence, upholdeth them that are his own portion. ¹⁶ And when the leader had given his commands, he straightaway setteth out from thence, and joineth battle with them at a village called Dessau. ¹⁷ But Simon, the brother of Judas, had encountered Nicanor, yet not till late, having received a check by reason of the sudden consternation caused by his adversaries.

¹⁸ Nevertheless Nicanor, hearing of the manliness of them that were with Judas, and their courage in fighting for their country, shrank from bringing the matter to the decision of the sword. ¹⁹ Wherefore he sent Posidonius and Theodotus and Mattathias to give and receive pledges of friendship. ²⁰ So when these proposals had been long considered, and the leader had made the troops acquainted therewith, and it appeared that they were all of like mind, they consented to the covenants. ²¹ And they appointed a day on which to meet together by themselves. And a litter was borne forward from each army; they set chairs of state; ²² Judas stationed armed men ready in convenient places, lest haply there should suddenly be treachery on the part of the enemy; they held such conference as was meet. ²³ Nicanor tarried in Jerusalem, and did nothing to cause disturbance, but dismissed the flocks of people that had gathered together. ²⁴ And he kept Judas always in his presence; he had gained a hearty affection for the man; ²⁵ he urged him to marry and beget children; he married, settled quietly, took part in common life.

²⁶ But Alcimus, perceiving the good will that was between them, and having gat possession of the covenants that had been made, came unto Demetrius and told him that Nicanor was ill affected toward the state, for he had appointed that conspirator against his kingdom, Judas, to be his successor. ²⁷ And the king, falling into a rage, and being exasperated by the calumnies of that most wicked man, wrote to Nicanor, signifying that he was displeased at the covenants, and commanding him to send Maccabeus prisoner unto Antioch in all haste. ²⁸ And when this message came to Nicanor, he was confounded, and was sore troubled at the thought of annulling the articles that had been agreed upon, the man having done no wrong; ²⁹ but because there was no dealing against the king, he watched his time to execute this purpose by stratagem. ³⁰ But Maccabeus, when he perceived that Nicanor was behaving more harshly in his dealings with him, and that he had become ruler in his customary bearing, understanding that this harshness came not of good, gathered together not a few of his men, and concealed himself from Nicanor.

³¹ But the other, when he became aware that he had been bravely defeated by the stratagem of Judas, came to the great and holy temple, while the priests were offering the usual sacrifices, and commanded them to deliver up the man. ³² And when they declared with oaths that they had no knowledge where the man was whom he sought, ³³ he stretched forth his right hand toward the sanctuary, and swore this oath: If ye will not deliver up to me Judas as a prisoner, I will lay this temple of God even with the ground, and will break down the altar, and I will erect here a temple unto Bacchus for all to see. ³⁴ And having said this, he departed. But the priests, stretching forth their hands toward heaven, called upon him that ever fighteth for our nation, in these words: ³⁵ Thou, O Lord of the universe, who in thyself hast need of nothing, wast well pleased that a sanctuary of thy habitation should be set among us; ³⁶ so now, O holy Lord of all hallowing, keep undefiled forever this house that hath been lately cleansed.

³⁷ Now information was given to Nicanor against one Razis, an elder of Jerusalem, as being a lover of his countrymen and a man of very good report, and one called Father of the Jews for his good will toward them. ³⁸ For in the former times when there was no mingling with the Gentiles he had been accused of cleaving to the Jews' religion, and had jeopardized body and life with all earnestness for the religion of the Jews. ³⁹ And Nicanor, wishing to make evident the ill will that he bare unto the Jews, sent above five hundred soldiers to take him; ⁴⁰ for he thought by taking him to inflict a calamity upon them. ⁴¹ But when the troops were on the point of taking the tower, and were forcing the door of the court, and bade bring fire and burn the doors, he being surrounded on every side fell upon his sword, ⁴² choosing rather to die nobly than to fall into the hands of the wicked wretches, and suffer outrage unworthy of his own nobleness: ⁴³ but since he missed his stroke through the excitement of the struggle, and the crowds were now rushing within the door, he ran bravely up to the wall and cast himself down manfully among the crowds. ⁴⁴ But as they quickly gave back, a space was made, and he fell on the middle of his side. ⁴⁵ And having yet breath within him, and being inflamed with passion, he rose up, and though his blood gushed out in streams and his wounds were grievous, he ran through the crowds, and standing upon a steep rock, ⁴⁶ when as his blood was now well nigh spent, he drew forth his bowels through the wound, and taking them in both his hands he shook them at the crowds; and calling upon him who is Lord of the life and the spirit to restore him these again, he thus died.

¹ But Nicanor, hearing that Judas and his company were in the region of Samaria, resolved to set upon them with all security on the day of rest. ² And when the Jews that were compelled to follow him said, O destroy not so savagely and barbarously, but give due glory to the day which he that beholdeth all things hath honored and hallowed above other days; ³ then the thrice-accursed wretch asked if there were a Sovereign in heaven that had commanded to keep the Sabbath day. ⁴ And when they declared, There is the Lord, living himself a Sovereign in heaven, who bade us observe the seventh day; ⁵ then saith the other, I also am a sovereign upon the earth, who now command to take up arms and execute the king's business. Nevertheless he prevailed not to execute his cruel purpose.

⁶ And Nicanor, bearing himself haughtily in all vaingloriousness, had determined to set up a monument of complete victory over Judas and all them that were with him: ⁷ but Maccabeus still trusted unceasingly, with all hope that he should obtain help from the Lord. ⁸ And he exhorted his company not to be fearful at the inroad of the heathen, but, keeping in mind the help which of old they had oftentimes received from heaven, so now also to look for the victory which would come unto them from the Almighty; ⁹ and comforting them out of the law and the prophets, and withal putting them in mind of the conflicts that they had maintained, he made them more eager for the battle. ¹⁰ And when he had roused their spirit, he gave them his commands, at the same time pointing out the perfidiousness of the heathen and their breach of their oaths. ¹¹ And arming each one of them, not so much with the sure defense of shields and spears as with the encouragement that lieth in good words, and moreover relating to them a dream worthy to be believed, he made them all exceeding glad. ¹² And the vision of that dream was this: He saw Onias, him that was high priest, a noble and good man, reverend in bearing, yet gentle in manner and well-spoken, and exercised from a child in all points of virtue, with outstretched hands invoking blessings on the whole body of the Jews: ¹³ thereupon he saw a man appear, of venerable age and exceeding glory, and wonderful and most majestic was the dignity around him: ¹⁴ and Onias answered and said, This is the lover of the brethren, he who prayeth much for the people and the holy city, Jeremiah the prophet of God: ¹⁵ and Jeremiah stretching forth his right hand delivered to Judas a sword of gold, and in giving it addressed him thus, ¹⁶ Take the holy sword, a gift from God, wherewith thou shalt smite down the adversaries.

¹⁷ And being encouraged by the words of Judas, which were of a lofty strain, and able to incite unto virtue and to stir the souls of the young unto manly courage, they determined not to carry on a campaign, but nobly to bear down upon the enemy, and fighting hand to hand with all courage bring the matter to an issue, because the city and the sanctuary and the temple were in danger. ¹⁸ For their fear for wives and children, and furthermore for brethren and kinsfolk, was in less account with them; but greatest and first was their fear for the consecrated sanctuary. ¹⁹ And they also that were shut up in the city were in no light distress, being troubled because of the encounter in the open ground.

²⁰ And when all were now waiting for the decision of the issue, and the enemy had already joined battle, and the army had been set in array, and the elephants brought back to a convenient post, and the horsemen drawn up on the flank, ²¹ Maccabeus, perceiving the presence of the troops, and the various arms with which they were equipped, and the savageness of the elephants, holding up his hands unto heaven called upon the Lord that worketh wonders, recognizing that success cometh not by arms, but that, according as the Lord shall judge, he gaineth the victory for them that are worthy. ²² And calling upon God he said after this manner: Thou, O Sovereign Lord, didst send thine angel in the time of Hezekiah king of Judea, and he slew of the host of Sennacherib as many as a hundred fourscore and five thousand; ²³ so now also, O Sovereign of the heavens, send a good angel before us to bring terror and trembling: ²⁴ through the greatness of thine arm let them be stricken with dismay that with blasphemy are come hither against thy holy people. And as he ended with these words, ²⁵ Nicanor and his company advanced with trumpets and battle songs; ²⁶ but Judas and his company joined battle with the enemy with invocation and prayers. ²⁷ And contending with their hands, and praying unto God with their hearts, they slew no less than thirty and five thousand men, being made exceeding glad by the manifestation of God.

²⁸ And when the engagement was over, and they were returning again with joy, they recognized Nicanor lying dead in full armor; ²⁹ and there arose a shout and tumult, and then they blessed the Sovereign Lord in the language of their fathers. ³⁰ And he that in all things was in body and soul the foremost champion of his fellow citizens, he that kept through life the good will of his youth toward his countrymen, commanded to cut off Nicanor's head, and his hand with the shoulder, and bring them to Jerusalem. ³¹ And when he had arrived there, and had called his countrymen together and set the priests before the altar, he sent for them that were in the citadel; ³² and showing the head of the vile Nicanor, and the hand of that profane man, which with proud brags he had stretched out against the holy house of the Almighty, ³³ and cutting out the tongue of the impious Nicanor, he said that he would give it by pieces to the birds, and hang up the rewards of his madness over against the sanctuary. ³⁴ And they all looking up unto heaven blessed the Lord who had manifested himself, saying, Blessed be he that hath preserved his own place undefiled. ³⁵ And he hung Nicanor's head and shoulder from the citadel, a sign, evident unto all and manifest, of the help of the Lord. ³⁶ And they all ordained with a common decree in no wise to let this day pass undistinguished, but to mark with honor the thirteenth day of the twelfth month (it is called Adar in the Syrian tongue), the day before the day of Mordecai.

³⁷ This then having been the issue of the attempt of Nicanor, and the city having from those times been held by the Hebrews, I also will here make an end of my book. ³⁸ And if I have written well and to the point in my story, this is what I myself desired; but if meanly and indifferently, this is all I could attain unto. ³⁹ For as it is distasteful to drink wine alone and in like manner again to drink water alone, while the mingling of wine with water at once giveth full pleasantness to the flavor; so also the fashioning of the language delighteth the ears of them that read the story.

And here shall be the end.

THE FIRST BOOK OF ESDRAS

¹ And Josiah held the Passover in Jerusalem unto his Lord, and offered the Passover the fourteenth day of the first month; ² having set the priests according to their daily courses, being arrayed in their vestments, in the temple of the Lord. ³ And he spake unto the Levites, the temple servants of Israel, that they should hallow themselves unto the Lord, to set the holy ark of the Lord in the house that king Solomon the son of David had built: ⁴ and said, Ye shall no more have need to bear it upon your shoulders: now therefore serve the Lord your God, and minister unto his people Israel, and prepare you after your fathers' houses and kindreds, ⁵ according to the writing of David king of Israel, and according to the magnificence of Solomon his son: and standing in the holy place according to the several divisions of the families of you the Levites, who minister in the presence of your brethren the children of Israel, ⁶ offer the Passover in order, and make ready the sacrifices for your brethren, and keep the Passover according to the commandment of the Lord, which was given unto Moses. ⁷ And unto the people who were present Josiah gave thirty thousand lambs and kids, and three thousand calves: these things were given of the king's substance, according as he promised, to the people, and to the priests and Levites. ⁸ And Hilkiah, and Zechariah, and Jehiel, the rulers of the temple, gave to the priests for the Passover two thousand and six hundred sheep, and three hundred calves. ⁹ And Jeconiah, and Shemaiah and Nethanel his brother, and Hashabiah, and Ochiel, and Joram, captains over thousands, gave to the Levites for the Passover five thousand sheep, and seven hundred calves. ¹⁰ And when these things were done, the priests and Levites, having the unleavened bread, stood in comely order according to the kindreds, ¹¹ and according to the several divisions by fathers' houses, before the people, to offer to the Lord, as it is written in the book of Moses: and thus did they in the morning. ¹² And they roasted the Passover with fire, as appertaineth: and the sacrifices they boiled in the brazen vessels and caldrons with a good savor, ¹³ and set them before all the people: and afterward they prepared for themselves, and for the priests their brethren, the sons of Aaron. ¹⁴ For the priests offered the fat until night: and the Levites prepared for themselves, and for the priests their brethren, the sons of Aaron. ¹⁵ The holy singers also, the sons of Asaph, were in their order, according to the appointment of David, to wit, Asaph, Zechariah, and Eddinus, who was of the king's retinue. ¹⁶ Moreover the porters were at every gate; none had need to depart from his daily course: for their brethren the Levites prepared for them. ¹⁷ Thus were the things that belonged to the sacrifices of the Lord accomplished in that day, in holding the Passover, ¹⁸ and offering sacrifices upon the altar of the Lord, according to the commandment of king Josiah. ¹⁹ So the children of Israel who were present at that time held the Passover, and the feast of unleavened bread seven days. ²⁰ And such a Passover was not held in Israel since the time of the prophet Samuel. ²¹ Yea, all the kings of Israel held not such a Passover as Josiah, and the priests, and the Levites, and the Jews, held with all Israel that were present in their dwelling place at Jerusalem. ²² In the eighteenth year of the reign of Josiah was this Passover held. ²³ And the works of Josiah were upright before his Lord with a heart full of godliness. ²⁴ Moreover the things that came to pass in his days have been written in times past, concerning those that sinned, and did wickedly against the Lord above every people and kingdom, and how they grieved him exceedingly, so that the words of the Lord were confirmed against Israel.

²⁵ Now after all these acts of Josiah it came to pass, that Pharaoh the king of Egypt came to raise war at Carchemish upon Euphrates: and Josiah went out against him. ²⁶ But the king of Egypt sent to him, saying, What have I to do with thee, O king of Judea? ²⁷ I am not sent out from the Lord God against thee; for my war is upon Euphrates: and now the Lord is with me, yea, the Lord is with me hastening me forward: depart from me, and be not against the Lord. ²⁸ Howbeit Josiah did not turn back unto his chariot, but undertook to fight with him, not regarding the words of the prophet Jeremiah spoken by the mouth of the Lord: ²⁹ but joined battle with him in the plain of Megiddo, and the princes came down against king Josiah. ³⁰ Then said the king unto his servants, Carry me away out of the battle; for I am very weak. And immediately his servants carried him away out of the host. ³¹ Then gat he up upon his second chariot; and being brought back to Jerusalem he died, and was buried in the sepulcher of his fathers. ³² And in all Judea they mourned for Josiah; and Jeremiah the prophet lamented for Josiah, and the chief men with the women made lamentation for him, unto this day: and this was given out for an ordinance to be done continually in all the nation of Israel. ³³ These things are written in the book of the histories of the kings of Judea, and every one of the acts that Josiah did, and his glory, and his understanding in the law of the Lord, and the things that he had done before, and the things now recited, are reported in the book of the kings of Israel and Judah.

³⁴ And the people took Joahaz the son of Josiah, and made him king instead of Josiah his father, when he was twenty and three years old. ³⁵ And he reigned in Judah and in Jerusalem three months: and then the king of Egypt deposed him from reigning in Jerusalem. ³⁶ And he set a tax upon the people of a hundred talents of silver and one talent of gold. ³⁷ The king of Egypt also made king Jehoiakim his brother king of Judea and Jerusalem. ³⁸ And Jehoiakim bound the nobles: but Zarius his brother he apprehended, and brought him up out of Egypt. ³⁹ Five and twenty years old was Jehoiakim when he began to reign in Judea and Jerusalem; and he did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord. ⁴⁰ And against him Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon came up, and bound him with a chain of brass, and carried him unto Babylon. ⁴¹ Nebuchadnezzar also took of the holy vessels of the Lord, and carried them away, and set them up in his own temple at Babylon. ⁴² But those things that are reported of him, and of his uncleanness and impiety, are written in the chronicles of the kings. ⁴³ And Jehoiachin his son reigned in his stead: for when he was made king he was eighteen years old; ⁴⁴ and he reigned three months and ten days in Jerusalem; and did that which was evil before the Lord.

⁴⁵ So after a year Nebuchadnezzar sent and caused him to be brought unto Babylon with the holy vessels of the Lord; ⁴⁶ and made Zedekiah king of Judea and Jerusalem, when he was one and twenty years old; and he reigned eleven years: ⁴⁷ and he also did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord, and cared not for the words that were spoken by Jeremiah the prophet from the mouth of the Lord. ⁴⁸ And after that king Nebuchadnezzar had made him to swear by the name of the Lord, he forswore himself, and rebelled; and hardening his neck, and his heart, he transgressed the laws of the Lord, the God of Israel. ⁴⁹ Moreover the governors of the people and of the priests did many things wickedly, and passed all the pollutions of all nations, and defiled the temple of the Lord, which was sanctified in Jerusalem. ⁵⁰ And the God of their fathers sent by his messenger to call them back, because he had compassion on them and on his dwelling place. ⁵¹ But they mocked his messengers; and in the day when the Lord spake unto them, they scoffed at his prophets: ⁵² so far forth, that he, being wroth with his people for their great ungodliness, commanded to bring up the kings of the Chaldeans against them; ⁵³ who slew their young men with the sword, round about their holy temple, and spared neither young man nor maid, old man nor child; but he delivered all into their hands. ⁵⁴ And they took all the holy vessels of the Lord, both great and small, with the vessels of the ark of the Lord, and the king's treasures, and carried them away unto Babylon. ⁵⁵ And they burnt the house of the Lord, and broke down the walls of Jerusalem, and burnt the towers thereof with fire: ⁵⁶ and as for her glorious things, they never ceased till they had brought them all to nought: and the people that were not slain with the sword he carried unto Babylon: ⁵⁷ and they were servants unto him and unto his children, till the Persians reigned, to fulfill the word of the Lord by the mouth of Jeremiah: ⁵⁸ Until the land hath enjoyed her Sabbaths, the whole time of her desolation shall she keep Sabbath, to fulfill threescore and ten years.

¹ In the first year of Cyrus king of the Persians, that the word of the Lord by the mouth of Jeremiah might be accomplished, ² the Lord stirred up the spirit of Cyrus king of the Persians, and he made proclamation through all his kingdom, and also by writing, ³ saying, Thus saith Cyrus king of the Persians: The Lord of Israel, the Most High Lord, hath made me king of the whole world, ⁴ and commanded me to build him a house at Jerusalem that is in Judea. ⁵ If therefore there be any of you that are of his people, let the Lord, even his Lord, be with him, and let him go up to Jerusalem that is in Judea, and build the house of the Lord of Israel: he is the Lord that dwelleth in Jerusalem. ⁶ Of such therefore as dwell in diverse places, let them that are in his own place help each one with gold, and with silver, ⁷ with gifts, with horses also and cattle, beside the other things which have been added by vow for the temple of the Lord which is in Jerusalem.

⁸ Then the chief of the families of Judah and of the tribe of Benjamin stood up; the priests also, and the Levites, and all they whose spirit the Lord had stirred to go up, to build the house for the Lord which is in Jerusalem. ⁹ And they that dwelt round about them helped them in all things with silver and gold, with horses and cattle, and with very many gifts that were vowed of a great number whose minds were stirred up thereto. ¹⁰ King Cyrus also brought forth the holy vessels of the Lord, which Nebuchadnezzar had carried away from Jerusalem, and had set up in his temple of idols. ¹¹ Now when Cyrus king of the Persians had brought them forth, he delivered them to Mithridates his treasurer, ¹² and by him they were delivered to Sheshbazzar the governor of Judea. ¹³ And this was the number of them: A thousand golden cups, a thousand cups of silver, censers of silver twenty nine, vials of gold thirty, and of silver two thousand four hundred and ten, and other vessels a thousand. ¹⁴ So all the vessels of gold and of silver were brought up, even five thousand four hundred threescore and nine, ¹⁵ and were carried back by Sheshbazzar, together with them of the captivity, from Babylon to Jerusalem.

¹⁶ But in the time of Artaxerxes king of the Persians Bislam, and Mithridates, and Tabeel, and Rehum, and Beltethmus, and Shimshai the scribe, with the others that were in commission with them, dwelling in Samaria and other places, wrote unto him against them that dwelt in Judea and Jerusalem the letter following: ¹⁷ To king Artaxerxes our Lord, Thy servants, Rehum the storywriter, and Shimshai the scribe, and the rest of their council, and the judges that are in Coelesyria and Phoenicia: ¹⁸ Be it now known to our lord the king, that the Jews that are come up from you to us, being come unto Jerusalem, do build that rebellious and wicked city, and do repair the marketplaces and the walls of it, and do lay the foundation of a temple. ¹⁹ Now if this city be built and the walls thereof be finished, they will not only refuse to give tribute, but will even stand up against kings. ²⁰ And forasmuch as the things pertaining to the temple are now in hand, we think it meet not to neglect such a matter, ²¹ but to speak unto our lord the king, to the intent that, if it be thy pleasure, search may be made in the books of thy fathers: ²² and thou shalt find in the chronicles what is written concerning these things, and shalt understand that that city was rebellious, troubling both kings and cities: ²³ and that the Jews were rebellious, and raised always wars therein of old time; for which cause even this city was laid waste. ²⁴ Wherefore now we do declare unto thee, O lord the king, that if this city be built again, and the walls thereof set up anew, thou shalt from henceforth have no passage into Coelesyria and Phoenicia. ²⁵ Then the king wrote back again to Rehum the storywriter, and Beltethmus, and Shimshai the scribe, and to the rest that were in commission, and dwelt in Samaria and Syria and Phoenicia, after this manner: ²⁶ I have read the epistle which ye have sent unto me: therefore I commanded to make search, and it hath been found that that city of old time hath made insurrection against kings; ²⁷ and the men were given to rebellion and war therein: and that mighty kings and fierce were in Jerusalem, who reigned and exacted tribute in Coelesyria and Phoenicia. ²⁸ Now therefore I have commanded to hinder those men from building the city, and heed to be taken that there be nothing done contrary to this order; ²⁹ and that those wicked doings proceed no further to the annoyance of kings. ³⁰ Then king Artaxerxes his letters being read, Rehum, and Shimshai the scribe, and the rest that were in commission with them, removing in haste unto Jerusalem with horsemen and a multitude of people in battle array, began to hinder the builders; and the building of the temple in Jerusalem ceased until the second year of the reign of Darius king of the Persians.

¹ Now king Darius made a great feast unto all his subjects, and unto all that were born in his house, and unto all the princes of Media and of Persia, ² and to all the satraps and captains and governors that were under him, from India unto Ethiopia, in the hundred twenty and seven provinces. ³ And when they had eaten and drunk, and being satisfied were gone home, then Darius the king went into his bedchamber, and slept, and awoke out of his sleep.

⁴ Then the three young men of the bodyguard, that kept the king's person, spake one to another: ⁵ Let every one of us say one thing which shall be strongest: and he whose sentence shall seem wiser than the others, unto him shall Darius the king give great gifts, and great honors in token of victory: ⁶ as, to be clothed in purple, to drink in gold, and to sleep upon gold, and a chariot with bridles of gold, and a headtire of fine linen, and a chain about his neck: ⁷ and he shall sit next to Darius because of his wisdom, and shall be called Darius his cousin. ⁸ And then they wrote every one his sentence, and set to their seals, and laid the writing under king Darius his pillow, ⁹ and said, When the king is risen, some shall give him the writing; and of whose side the king and the three princes of Persia shall judge that his sentence is the wisest, to him shall the victory be given, as it is written. ¹⁰ The first wrote, Wine is the strongest. ¹¹ The second wrote, The king is strongest. ¹² The third wrote, Women are strongest: but above all things Truth beareth away the victory.

¹³ Now when the king was risen up, they took the writing, and gave it unto him, and so he read it: ¹⁴ and sending forth he called all the princes of Persia and of Media, and the satraps, and the captains, and the governors, and the chief officers; ¹⁵ and sat him down in the royal seat of judgment; and the writing was read before them. ¹⁶ And he said, Call the young men, and they shall explain their own sentences. So they were called, and came in. ¹⁷ And they said unto them, Declare unto us your mind concerning the things ye have written.

Then began the first, who had spoken of the strength of wine, ¹⁸ and said thus, O sirs, how exceeding strong is wine! it causeth all men to err that drink it: ¹⁹ it maketh the mind of the king and of the fatherless child to be all one; of the bondman and of the freeman, of the poor man and of the rich: ²⁰ it turneth also every thought into jollity and mirth, so that a man remembereth neither sorrow nor debt: ²¹ and it maketh every heart rich, so that a man remembereth neither king nor satrap; and it maketh to speak all things by talents: ²² and when they are in their cups, they forget their love both to friends and brethren, and a little after draw their swords: ²³ but when they awake from their wine, they remember not what they have done. ²⁴ O sirs, is not wine the strongest, seeing that it forceth to do thus? And when he had so spoken, he held his peace.

¹ Then the second, that had spoken of the strength of the king, began to say, ² O sirs, do not men excel in strength, that bear rule over the sea and land, and all things in them? ³ But yet is the king stronger: and he is their lord, and hath dominion over them; and in whatsoever he commandeth them they obey him. ⁴ If he bid them make war the one against the other, they do it: and if he send them out against the enemies, they go, and overcome mountains, walls, and towers. ⁵ They slay and are slain, and transgress not the king's commandment: if they get the victory, they bring all to the king, as well the spoil, as all things else. ⁶ Likewise for those that are no soldiers, and have not to do with wars, but use husbandry, when they have reaped again that which they had sown, they bring it to the king, and compel one another to pay tribute unto the king. ⁷ And he is but one man: if he command to kill, they kill; if he command to spare, they spare; ⁸ if he command to smite, they smite; if he command to make desolate, they make desolate; if he command to build, they build; ⁹ if he command to cut down, they cut down; if he command to plant, they plant. ¹⁰ So all his people and his armies obey him: furthermore he lieth down, he eateth and drinketh, and taketh his rest: ¹¹ and these keep watch round about him, neither may anyone depart, and do his own business, neither disobey they him in anything. ¹² O sirs, how should not the king be strongest, seeing that in such sort he is obeyed? And he held his peace.

¹³ Then the third, who had spoken of women, and of truth, (this was Zerubbabel) began to speak. ¹⁴ O sirs, is not the king great, and men are many, and wine is strong? who is it then that ruleth them, or hath the lordship over them? are they not women? ¹⁵ Women have borne the king and all the people that bear rule by sea and land. ¹⁶ Even of them came they: and they nourished them up that planted the vineyards, from whence the wine cometh. ¹⁷ These also make garments for men; these bring glory unto men; and without women cannot men be. ¹⁸ Yea, and if men have gathered together gold and silver and any other goodly thing, and see a woman who is comely in favor and beauty, ¹⁹ they let all those things go, and gape after her, and even with open mouth fix their eyes fast on her; and have all more desire unto her than unto gold or silver, or any goodly thing whatsoever. ²⁰ A man leaveth his own father that brought him up, and his own country, and cleaveth unto his wife. ²¹ And with his wife he endeth his days, and remembereth neither father, nor mother, nor country. ²² By this also ye must know that women have dominion over you: do ye not labor and toil, and give and bring all to women? ²³ Yea, a man taketh his sword, and goeth forth to make outroads, and to rob and to steal, and to sail upon the sea and upon rivers; ²⁴ and looketh upon a lion, and walketh in the darkness; and when he hath stolen, plundered, and robbed, he bringeth it to his love. ²⁵ Wherefore a man loveth his wife better than father or mother. ²⁶ Yea, many there are that have run out of their wits for women, and become bondmen for their sakes. ²⁷ Many also have perished, have stumbled, and sinned, for women. ²⁸ And now do ye not believe me? is not the king great in his power? do not all regions fear to touch him? ²⁹ Yet did I see him and Apame the king's concubine, the daughter of the illustrious Bartacus, sitting at the right hand of the king, ³⁰ and taking the crown from the king's head, and setting it upon her own head; yea, she struck the king with her left hand: ³¹ and therewithal the king gaped and gazed upon her with open mouth: if she laughed upon him, he laughed also: but if she took any displeasure at him, he was fain to flatter, that she might be reconciled to him again. ³² O sirs, how can it be but women should be strong, seeing they do thus?

³³ Then the king and the nobles looked one upon another: so he began to speak concerning truth. ³⁴ O sirs, are not women strong? great is the earth, high is the heaven, swift is the sun in its course, for it compasseth the heavens round about, and fetcheth its course again to its own place in one day. ³⁵ Is he not great that maketh these things? therefore great is truth, and stronger than all things. ³⁶ All the earth calleth upon truth, and the heaven blesseth her: all works shake and tremble, but with her is no unrighteous thing. ³⁷ Wine is unrighteous, the king is unrighteous, women are unrighteous, all the children of men are unrighteous, and unrighteous are all such their works; and there is no truth in them; in their unrighteousness also they shall perish. ³⁸ But truth abideth, and is strong forever; she liveth and conquereth forevermore. ³⁹ With her there is no accepting of persons or rewards; but she doeth the things that are just, and refraineth from all unrighteous and wicked things; and all men do well like of her works. ⁴⁰ Neither in her judgment is any unrighteousness; and she is the strength, and the kingdom, and the power, and the majesty, of all ages. Blessed be the God of truth. ⁴¹ And with that he held his tongue. And all the people then shouted, and said, Great is truth, and strong above all things.

⁴² Then said the king unto him, Ask what thou wilt more than is appointed in writing, and we will give it thee, inasmuch as thou art found wisest; and thou shalt sit next me, and shalt be called my cousin. ⁴³ Then said he unto the king, Remember thy vow, which thou didst vow to build Jerusalem, in the day when thou camest to thy kingdom, ⁴⁴ and to send away all the vessels that were taken out of Jerusalem, which Cyrus set apart, when he vowed to destroy Babylon, and vowed to send them again thither. ⁴⁵ Thou didst also vow to build up the temple, which the Edomites burned when Judea was made desolate by the Chaldeans. ⁴⁶ And now, O lord the king, this is that which I require, and which I desire of thee, and this is the princely liberality that shall proceed from thee: I pray therefore that thou make good the vow, the performance whereof thou hast vowed to the King of heaven with thine own mouth.

⁴⁷ Then Darius the king stood up, and kissed him, and wrote letters for him unto all the treasurers and governors and captains and satraps, that they should safely bring on their way both him, and all those that should go up with him to build Jerusalem. ⁴⁸ He wrote letters also unto all the governors that were in Coelesyria and Phoenicia, and unto them in Lebanon, that they should bring cedar wood from Lebanon unto Jerusalem, and that they should build the city with him. ⁴⁹ Moreover he wrote for all the Jews that should go out of his realm up into Judea, concerning their freedom, that no officer, no governor, no satrap, nor treasurer, should forcibly enter into their doors; ⁵⁰ and that all the country which they occupied should be free to them without tribute; and that the Edomites should give over the villages of the Jews which then they held: ⁵¹ and that there should be yearly given twenty talents to the building of the temple, until the time that it were built; ⁵² and other ten talents yearly, for burnt offerings to be presented upon the altar every day, as they had a commandment to offer seventeen: ⁵³ and that all they that should come from Babylonia to build the city should have their freedom, as well they as their posterity, and all the priests that came. ⁵⁴ He wrote also to give them their charges, and the priests' vestments wherein they minister; ⁵⁵ and for the Levites he wrote that their charges should be given them until the day that the house were finished, and Jerusalem built up. ⁵⁶ And he commanded to give to all that kept the city lands and wages. ⁵⁷ He sent away also all the vessels from Babylon, that Cyrus had set apart; and all that Cyrus had given in commandment, the same charged he also to be done, and sent unto Jerusalem.

⁵⁸ Now when this young man was gone forth, he lifted up his face to heaven toward Jerusalem, and praised the King of heaven, ⁵⁹ and said, From thee cometh victory, from thee cometh wisdom, and thine is the glory, and I am thy servant. ⁶⁰ Blessed art thou, who hast given me wisdom: and to thee I give thanks, O Lord of our fathers. ⁶¹ And so he took the letters, and went out, and came unto Babylon, and told it all his brethren. ⁶² And they praised the God of their fathers, because he had given them freedom and liberty ⁶³ to go up, and to build Jerusalem, and the temple which is called by his name: and they feasted with instruments of music and gladness seven days.

⁴ And these are the names of the men who went up, according to their families among their tribes, after their several divisions. ⁵ The priests, the sons of Phinehas, the sons of Aaron: Jeshua the son of Jozadak, the son of Seraiah, and Joakim the son of Zerubbabel, the son of Shealtiel, of the house of David, of the lineage of Phares, of the tribe of Judah; ⁶ who spake wise sentences before Darius the king of Persia in the second year of his reign, in the month Nisan, which is the first month. ⁷ And these are they of Judea that came up from the captivity, where they dwelt as strangers, whom Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon had carried away unto Babylon. ⁸ And they returned unto Jerusalem, and to the other parts of Judea, every man to his own city, who came with Zerubbabel, with Jeshua, Nehemiah, and Seraiah, Resaiah, Eneneus, Mordecai, Beelsarus, Aspharsus, Reeliah, Roimus, and Baana, their leaders. ⁹ The number of them of the nation, and their leaders: the sons of Parosh, two thousand a hundred seventy and two: the sons of Shephatiah, four hundred seventy and two: ¹⁰ the sons of Arah, seven hundred fifty and six: ¹¹ the sons of Pahath-moab, of the sons of Jeshua and Joab, two thousand eight hundred and twelve: ¹² the sons of Elam, a thousand two hundred fifty and four: the sons of Zattu, nine hundred forty and five: the sons of Chorbe, seven hundred and five: the sons of Bani, six hundred forty and eight: ¹³ the sons of Bebai, six hundred twenty and three: the sons of Azgad, a thousand three hundred twenty and two: ¹⁴ the sons of Adonikam, six hundred sixty and seven: the sons of Bigvai, two thousand sixty and six: the sons of Adin, four hundred fifty and four: ¹⁵ the sons of Ater, of Hezekiah, ninety and two: the sons of Kilan and Azetas, threescore and seven: the sons of Azaru, four hundred thirty and two: ¹⁶ the sons of Annias, a hundred and one: the sons of Arom: the sons of Bezai, three hundred twenty and three: the sons of Arsiphurith, a hundred and twelve: ¹⁷ the sons of Baiterus, three thousand and five: the sons of Bethlehem, a hundred twenty and three: ¹⁸ they of Netophah, fifty and five: they of Anathoth, a hundred fifty and eight: they of Bethasmoth, forty and two: ¹⁹ they of Kiriath-arim, twenty and five: they of Chephirah and Beeroth, seven hundred forty and three: ²⁰ the Chadiusans and Ammidians, four hundred twenty and two: they of Kirama and Geba, six hundred twenty and one: ²¹ they of Macalon, a hundred twenty and two: they of Betolio, fifty and two: the sons of Niphish, a hundred fifty and six: ²² the sons of Calamolalus and Ono, seven hundred twenty and five: the sons of Jerechus, three hundred forty and five: ²³ the sons of Senaah, three thousand three hundred and thirty. ²⁴ The priests: the sons of Jedaiah, the son of Jeshua, among the sons of Anasib, nine hundred seventy and two: the sons of Immer, a thousand fifty and two: ²⁵ the sons of Pashhur, a thousand two hundred forty and seven: the sons of Harim, a thousand and seventeen. ²⁶ The Levites: the sons of Jeshua, and Kadmiel, and Bannas, and Sudias, seventy and four. ²⁷ The holy singers: the sons of Asaph, a hundred twenty and eight. ²⁸ The porters: the sons of Shallum, the sons of Ater, the sons of Talmon, the sons of Akkub, the sons of Hatita, the sons of Shobai, in all a hundred thirty and nine. ²⁹ The temple servants: the sons of Esau, the sons of Hasupha, the sons of Tabbaoth, the sons of Keros, the sons of Sua, the sons of Padon, the sons of Lebanah, the sons of Hagabah, ³⁰ the sons of Akkub, the sons of Uthai, the sons of Ketab, the sons of Hagab, the sons of Subai, the sons of Hana, the sons of Cathua, the sons of Geddur, ³¹ the sons of Jairus, the sons of Daisan, the sons of Noeba, the sons of Chezib, the sons of Gazera, the sons of Uzza, the sons of Phinoe, the sons of Hasrah, the sons of Basthai, the sons of Asnah, the sons of Maani, the sons of Nephisim, the sons of Acuph, the sons of Hakupha, the sons of Asur, the sons of Pharakim, the sons of Bazluth, ³² the sons of Mehida, the sons of Cutha, the sons of Charea, the sons of Barkos, the sons of Serar, the sons of Temah, the sons of Neziah, the sons of Hatipha. ³³ The sons of the servants of Solomon: the sons of Assaphioth, the sons of Peruda, the sons of Jaalah, the sons of Lozon, the sons of Isdael, the sons of Shephatiah, ³⁴ the sons of Agia, the sons of Pochereth-hazzebaim, the sons of Sarothie, the sons of Masiah, the sons of Gas, the sons of Addus, the sons of Subas, the sons of Apherra, the sons of Barodis, the sons of Shaphat, the sons of Allon. ³⁵ All the temple servants, and the sons of the servants of Solomon, were three hundred seventy and two. ³⁶ These came up from Tel-melah, and Tel-harsha, Cherub leading them, and Addan, and Immer; ³⁷ and they could not show their families, nor their stock, how they were of Israel: the sons of Delaiah the son of Tobiah, the sons of Nekoda, six hundred fifty and two. ³⁸ And of the priests, they that usurped the office of the priesthood and were not found: the sons of Habaiah, the sons of Hakkoz, the sons of Jaddus, who married Agia one of the daughters of Barzillai, and was called after his name. ³⁹ And when the description of the kindred of these men was sought in the register, and was not found, they were removed from executing the office of the priesthood: ⁴⁰ for unto them said Nehemiah and Aththarias, that they should not be partakers of the holy things, till there arose up a high priest wearing Urim and Thummim. ⁴¹ So all they of Israel, from twelve years old and upward, beside menservants and maidservants, were in number forty and two thousand three hundred and sixty. ⁴² Their menservants and maidservants were seven thousand three hundred thirty and seven: the minstrels and singers, two hundred forty and five: ⁴³ four hundred thirty and five camels, seven thousand thirty and six horses, two hundred forty and five mules, five thousand five hundred twenty and five beasts of burden. ⁴⁴ And certain of the chief men of their families, when they came to the temple of God that is in Jerusalem, vowed to set up the house again in its own place according to their ability, ⁴⁵ and to give into the holy treasury of the works a thousand pounds of gold, five thousand of silver, and a hundred priestly vestments.

⁴⁶ And the priests and the Levites and they that were of the people dwelt in Jerusalem and the country; the holy singers also and the porters and all Israel in their villages.

⁴⁷ But when the seventh month was at hand, and when the children of Israel were every man in his own place, they came all together with one consent into the broad place before the first porch which is toward the east. ⁴⁸ Then stood up Jeshua the son of Jozadak, and his brethren the priests, and Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, and his brethren, and made ready the altar of the God of Israel, ⁴⁹ to offer burnt sacrifices upon it, according as it is expressly commanded in the book of Moses the man of God. ⁵⁰ And certain were gathered unto them out of the other nations of the land, and they erected the altar upon its own place, because all the nations of the land were at enmity with them, and oppressed them; and they offered sacrifices according to the time, and burnt offerings to the Lord both morning and evening. ⁵¹ Also they held the feast of tabernacles, as it is commanded in the law, and offered sacrifices daily, as was meet: ⁵² and after that, the continual oblations, and the sacrifices of the Sabbaths, and of the new moons, and of all the consecrated feasts. ⁵³ And all they that had made any vow to God began to offer sacrifices to God from the new moon of the seventh month, although the temple of God was not yet built. ⁵⁴ And they gave money unto the masons and carpenters; and meat and drink, ⁵⁵ and carts unto them of Sidon and Tyre, that they should bring cedar trees from Lebanon, and convey them in floats to the haven of Joppa, according to the commandment which was written for them by Cyrus king of the Persians. ⁵⁶ And in the second year after his coming to the temple of God at Jerusalem, in the second month, began Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, and Jeshua the son of Jozadak, and their brethren, and the priests the Levites, and all they that were come unto Jerusalem out of the captivity: ⁵⁷ and they laid the foundation of the temple of God on the new moon of the second month, in the second year after they were come to Judea and Jerusalem. ⁵⁸ And they appointed the Levites from twenty years old over the works of the Lord. Then stood up Jeshua, and his sons and brethren, and Kadmiel his brother, and the sons of Jeshua Emadabun, and the sons of Joda the son of Iliadun, and their sons and brethren, all the Levites, with one accord set forward of the business, laboring to advance the works in the house of God. So the builders built the temple of the Lord. ⁵⁹ And the priests stood arrayed in their vestments with musical instruments and trumpets, and the Levites the sons of Asaph with their cymbals, ⁶⁰ singing songs of thanksgiving, and praising the Lord, after the order of David king of Israel. ⁶¹ And they sang aloud, praising the Lord in songs of thanksgiving, because his goodness and his glory are forever in all Israel. ⁶² And all the people sounded trumpets, and shouted with a loud voice, singing songs of thanksgiving unto the Lord for the rearing up of the house of the Lord. ⁶³ Also of the priests the Levites, and of the heads of their families, the ancients who had seen the former house came to the building of this with lamentation and great weeping. ⁶⁴ But many with trumpets and joy shouted with loud voice, ⁶⁵ insomuch that the people heard not the trumpets for the weeping of the people: for the multitude sounded marvelously, so that it was heard afar off.

⁶⁶ Wherefore when the enemies of the tribe of Judah and Benjamin heard it, they came to know what that noise of trumpets should mean. ⁶⁷ And they perceived that they that were of the captivity did build the temple unto the Lord, the God of Israel.

⁶⁸ So they went to Zerubbabel and Jeshua, and to the chief men of the families, and said unto them, we will build together with you. ⁶⁹ For we likewise, as ye, do obey your Lord, and do sacrifice unto him from the days of Esar-haddon the king of the Assyrians, who brought us hither. ⁷⁰ Then Zerubbabel and Jeshua and the chief men of the families of Israel said unto them, It is not for you to build the house unto the Lord our God. ⁷¹ We ourselves alone will build unto the Lord of Israel, according as Cyrus the king of the Persians hath commanded us. ⁷² But the heathen of the land lying heavy upon the inhabitants of Judea, and holding them strait, hindered their building; ⁷³ and by their secret plots, and popular persuasions and commotions, they hindered the finishing of the building all the time that king Cyrus lived: so they were hindered from building for the space of two years, until the reign of Darius.

¹ Now in the second year of the reign of Darius, Haggai and Zechariah the son of Iddo, the prophets, prophesied unto the Jews in Judea and Jerusalem; in the name of the Lord, the God of Israel, prophesied they unto them. ² Then stood up Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, and Jeshua the son of Jozadak, and began to build the house of the Lord at Jerusalem, the prophets of the Lord being with them, and helping them. ³ At the same time came unto them Sisinnus the governor of Syria and Phoenicia, with Sathrabuzanes and his companions, and said unto them, ⁴ By whose appointment do ye build this house and this roof, and perform all the other things? and who are the builders that perform these things? ⁵ Nevertheless the elders of the Jews obtained favor, because the Lord had visited the captivity; ⁶ and they were not hindered from building, until such time as communication was made unto Darius concerning them, and his answer signified.

⁷ The copy of the letter which Sisinnus, governor of Syria and Phoenicia, and Sathrabuzanes, with their companions, the rulers in Syria and Phoenicia, wrote and sent unto Darius: ⁸ To king Darius, greeting: Let all things be known unto our lord the king, that being come into the country of Judea, and entered into the city of Jerusalem, we found in the city of Jerusalem the elders of the Jews that were of the captivity ⁹ building a house unto the Lord, great and new, of hewn and costly stones, with timber laid in the walls. ¹⁰ And those works are done with great speed, and the work goeth on prosperously in their hands, and with all glory and diligence it is accomplished. ¹¹ Then asked we these elders, saying, By whose commandment build ye this house, and lay the foundations of these works? ¹² Therefore, to the intent that we might give knowledge unto thee by writing who were the chief doers, we questioned them, and we required of them the names in writing of their principal men. ¹³ So they gave us this answer, We are the servants of the Lord who made heaven and earth. ¹⁴ And as for this house, it was built many years ago by a king of Israel great and strong, and was finished. ¹⁵ But when our fathers sinned against the Lord of Israel who is in heaven, and provoked him unto wrath, he gave them over into the hands of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, king of the Chaldeans; ¹⁶ and they pulled down the house, and burned it, and carried away the people captives unto Babylon. ¹⁷ But in the first year that Cyrus reigned over the country of Babylon, king Cyrus wrote to build up this house. ¹⁸ And the holy vessels of gold and of silver, that Nebuchadnezzar had carried away out of the house at Jerusalem, and had set up in his own temple, those Cyrus the king brought forth again out of the temple in Babylonia, and they were delivered to Zerubbabel and to Sheshbazzar the governor; ¹⁹ with commandment that he should carry away all these vessels, and put them in the temple at Jerusalem; and that the temple of the Lord should be built in its place.

²⁰ Then Sheshbazzar, being come hither, laid the foundations of the house of the Lord which is in Jerusalem; and from that time to this being still in process of building, it is not yet fully ended. ²¹ Now therefore, if it seem good, O king, let search be made among the royal archives of our lord the king that are in Babylon: ²² and if it be found that the building of the house of the Lord which is in Jerusalem hath been done with the consent of king Cyrus, and it seem good unto our lord the king, let him signify unto us thereof.

²³ Then commanded king Darius to seek among the archives that were laid up at Babylon: and so at Ecbatana the palace, which is in the country of Media, there was found a roll wherein these things were recorded. ²⁴ In the first year of the reign of Cyrus king Cyrus commanded to build up the house of the Lord which is in Jerusalem, where they do sacrifice with continual fire: ²⁵ whose height shall be sixty cubits, and the breadth sixty cubits, with three rows of hewn stones, and one row of new wood of that country; and the expenses thereof to be given out of the house of king Cyrus: ²⁶ and that the holy vessels of the house of the Lord, both gold and silver, that Nebuchadnezzar took out of the house at Jerusalem, and carried away to Babylon, should be restored to the house at Jerusalem, and be set in the place where they were before. ²⁷ And also he commanded that Sisinnus the governor of Syria and Phoenicia, and Sathrabuzanes, and their companions, and those who were appointed rulers in Syria and Phoenicia, should be careful not to meddle with the place, but suffer Zerubbabel, the servant of the Lord, and governor of Judea, and the elders of the Jews, to build that house of the Lord in its place. ²⁸ And I also do command to have it built up whole again; and that they look diligently to help those that are of the captivity of Judea, till the house of the Lord be finished: ²⁹ and that out of the tribute of Coelesyria and Phoenicia a portion be carefully given these men for the sacrifices of the Lord, that is, to Zerubbabel the governor, for bullocks, and rams, and lambs; ³⁰ and also grain, salt, wine and oil, and that continually every year without further question, according as the priests that are in Jerusalem shall signify to be daily spent: ³¹ that drink offerings may be made to the Most High God for the king and for his children, and that they may pray for their lives. ³² And that commandment be given that whosoever shall transgress, yea, or neglect anything herein written, out of his own house shall a tree be taken, and he thereon be hanged, and all his goods seized for the king. ³³ The Lord therefore, whose name is there called upon, utterly destroy every king and nation, that shall stretch out his hand to hinder or damage that house of the Lord in Jerusalem. ³⁴ I Darius the king have ordained that according unto these things it be done with diligence.

¹ Then Sisinnus the governor of Coelesyria and Phoenicia, and Sathrabuzanes, with their companions, following the commandments of king Darius, ² did very carefully oversee the holy works, assisting the elders of the Jews and rulers of the temple. ³ And so the holy works prospered, while Haggai and Zechariah the prophets prophesied. ⁴ And they finished these things by the commandment of the Lord, the God of Israel, and with the consent of Cyrus, Darius, and Artaxerxes, kings of the Persians. ⁵ And thus was the house finished by the three and twentieth day of the month Adar, in the sixth year of king Darius. ⁶ And the children of Israel, the priests, and the Levites, and the other that were of the captivity, that were added unto them, did according to the things written in the book of Moses. ⁷ And to the dedication of the temple of the Lord they offered a hundred bullocks, two hundred rams, four hundred lambs; ⁸ and twelve he-goats for the sin of all Israel, according to the number of the twelve princes of the tribes of Israel. ⁹ The priests also and the Levites stood arrayed in their vestments, according to their kindreds, for the services of the Lord, the God of Israel, according to the book of Moses: and the porters at every gate.

¹⁰ And the children of Israel that came out of the captivity held the Passover the fourteenth day of the first month, when the priests and the Levites were sanctified together, ¹¹ and all they that were of the captivity; for they were sanctified. For the Levites were all sanctified together, ¹² and they offered the Passover for all them of the captivity, and for their brethren the priests, and for themselves. ¹³ And the children of Israel that came out of the captivity did eat, even all they that had separated themselves from the abominations of the heathen of the land, and sought the Lord. ¹⁴ And they kept the feast of unleavened bread seven days, making merry before the Lord, ¹⁵ for that he had turned the counsel of the king of Assyria toward them, to strengthen their hands in the works of the Lord, the God of Israel.

¹ And after these things, when Artaxerxes the king of the Persians reigned, came Ezra the son of Seraiah, the son of Azariah, the son of Hilkiah, the son of Shallum, ² the son of Zadok, the son of Ahitub, the son of Amariah, the son of Uzzi, the son of Bukki, the son of Abishua, the son of Phinehas, the son of Eleazar, the son of Aaron, the chief priest. ³ This Ezra went up from Babylon, as being a ready scribe in the law of Moses, that was given by the God of Israel. ⁴ And the king did him honor: for he found grace in his sight in all his requests. ⁵ There went up with him also certain of the children of Israel, and of the priests, and Levites, and holy singers, and porters, and temple servants, unto Jerusalem, ⁶ in the seventh year of the reign of Artaxerxes, in the fifth month, this was the king's seventh year; for they went from Babylon on the new moon of the first month, and came to Jerusalem, according to the prosperous journey which the Lord gave them for his sake. ⁷ For Ezra had very great skill, so that he omitted nothing of the law and commandments of the Lord, but taught all Israel the ordinances and judgments.

⁸ Now the commission, which was written from Artaxerxes the king, came to Ezra the priest and reader of the law of the Lord, whereof this that followeth is a copy: ⁹ King Artaxerxes unto Ezra the priest and reader of the law of the Lord, greeting: ¹⁰ Having determined to deal graciously, I have given order, that such of the nation of the Jews, and of the priests and Levites, and of those within our realm, as are willing and desirous, should go with thee unto Jerusalem. ¹¹ As many therefore as have a mind thereunto, let them depart with thee, as it hath seemed good both to me and my seven friends the counselors; ¹² that they may look unto the affairs of Judea and Jerusalem, agreeably to that which is in the law of the Lord, ¹³ and carry the gifts unto the Lord of Israel to Jerusalem, which I and my friends have vowed; and that all the gold and silver that can be found in the country of Babylonia for the Lord in Jerusalem, ¹⁴ with that also which is given of the people for the temple of the Lord their God that is at Jerusalem, be collected: even the gold and silver for bullocks, rams, and lambs, and things thereunto appertaining; ¹⁵ to the end that they may offer sacrifices unto the Lord upon the altar of the Lord their God, which is in Jerusalem. ¹⁶ And whatsoever thou and thy brethren are minded to do with gold and silver, that perform, according to the will of thy God. ¹⁷ And the holy vessels of the Lord, which are given thee for the use of the temple of thy God, which is in Jerusalem: ¹⁸ and whatsoever thing else thou shalt remember for the use of the temple of thy God, thou shalt give it out of the king's treasury. ¹⁹ And I king Artaxerxes have also commanded the keepers of the treasures in Syria and Phoenicia, that whatsoever Ezra the priest and reader of the law of the Most High God shall send for, they should give it him with all diligence, ²⁰ to the sum of a hundred talents of silver, likewise also of wheat even to a hundred measures, and a hundred firkins of wine, and salt in abundance. ²¹ Let all things be performed after the law of God diligently unto the most high God, that wrath come not upon the kingdom of the king and his sons. ²² I command you also, that no tax, nor any other imposition, be laid upon any of the priests, or Levites, or holy singers, or porters, or temple servants, or any that have employment in this temple, and that no man have authority to impose anything upon them. ²³ And thou, Ezra, according to the wisdom of God ordain judges and justices, that they may judge in all Syria and Phoenicia all those that know the law of thy God; and those that know it not thou shalt teach. ²⁴ And whosoever shall transgress the law of thy God, and of the king, shall be punished diligently, whether it be by death, or other punishment, by penalty of money, or by imprisonment.

²⁵ Then said Ezra the scribe, Blessed be the only Lord, the God of my fathers, who hath put these things into the heart of the king, to glorify his house that is in Jerusalem: ²⁶ and hath honored me in the sight of the king, and his counselors, and all his friends and nobles. ²⁷ Therefore was I encouraged by the help of the Lord my God, and gathered together out of Israel men to go up with me. ²⁸ And these are the chief according to their families and the several divisions thereof, that went up with me from Babylon in the reign of king Artaxerxes: ²⁹ of the sons of Phinehas, Gershom: of the sons of Ithamar, Gamael: of the sons of David, Hattush the son of Shecaniah: ³⁰ of the sons of Parosh, Zechariah; and with him were counted a hundred and fifty men: ³¹ of the sons of Pahath-moab, Eliehoenai the son of Zerariah, and with him two hundred men: ³² of the sons of Zattu, Shecaniah the son of Jahaziel, and with him three hundred men: of the sons of Adin, Obed the son of Jonathan, and with him two hundred and fifty men: ³³ of the sons of Elam, Jeshaiiah son of Gotholiah, and with him seventy men: ³⁴ of the sons of Shephatiah, Zeraiah son of Michael, and with him threescore and ten men: ³⁵ of the sons of Joab, Obadiah son of Jehiel, and with him two hundred and twelve men: ³⁶ of the sons of Bani, Shelomith son of Josiphiah, and with him a hundred and threescore men: ³⁷ of the sons of Bebai, Zechariah son of Bebai, and with him twenty and eight men: ³⁸ of the sons of Azgad, Johanan son of Hakkatan, and with him a hundred and ten men: ³⁹ of the sons of Adonikam, the last, and these are the names of them, Eliphelet, Jeuel, and Shemaiah, and with them seventy men: ⁴⁰ of the sons of Bigvai, Uthai the son of Istalcurus, and with him seventy men.

⁴¹ And I gathered them together to the river called Theras; and there we pitched our tents three days, and I surveyed them. ⁴² But when I had found there none of the priests and Levites, ⁴³ then sent I unto Eleazar, and Iduei, and Maasmas, ⁴⁴ and Elnathan, and Shemaiah, and Jarib, Nathan, Elnathan, Zechariah, and Meshullam, principal men and men of understanding. ⁴⁵ And I bade them that they should go unto Iddo the captain, who was in the place of the treasury: ⁴⁶ and commanded them that they should speak unto Iddo, and to his brethren, and to the treasurers in that place, to send us such men as might execute the priests' office in the house of our Lord. ⁴⁷ And by the mighty hand of our Lord they brought unto us men of understanding of the sons of Mahli the son of Levi, the son of Israel, Sherebiah, and his sons, and his brethren, who were eighteen, ⁴⁸ and Hashabiah, and Annunus, and Jeshaiiah his brother, of the sons of Hananiah, and their sons were twenty men; ⁴⁹ and of the temple servants whom David and the principal men had appointed for the servants of the Levites, two hundred and twenty temple servants, the catalogue of all their names was shown. ⁵⁰ And there I vowed a fast for the young men before our Lord, to desire of him a prosperous journey both for us and for our children and cattle that were with us: ⁵¹ for I was ashamed to ask of the king footmen, and horsemen, and conduct for safeguard against our adversaries. ⁵² For we had said unto the king, that the power of our Lord would be with them that seek him, to support them in all ways. ⁵³ And again we besought our lord as touching these things, and found him favorable unto us. ⁵⁴ Then I separated twelve men of the chiefs of the priests, Sherebiah, and Hashabiah, and ten men of their brethren with them: ⁵⁵ and I weighed them the silver, and the gold, and the holy vessels of the house of our Lord, which the king, and his counselors, and the nobles, and all Israel, had given. ⁵⁶ And when I had weighed it, I delivered unto them six hundred and fifty talents of silver, and silver vessels of a hundred talents, and a hundred talents of gold, ⁵⁷ and twenty golden vessels, and twelve vessels of brass, even of fine brass, glittering like gold. ⁵⁸ And I said unto them, Both ye are holy unto the Lord, and the vessels are holy, and the gold and the silver are a vow unto the Lord, the Lord of our fathers. ⁵⁹ Watch ye, and keep them till ye deliver them to the chiefs of the priests and Levites, and to the principal men of the families of Israel, in Jerusalem, in the chambers of the house of our Lord. ⁶⁰ So the priests and the Levites, who received the silver and the gold and the vessels which were in Jerusalem, brought them into the temple of the Lord.

⁶¹ And from the river Theras we departed the twelfth day of the first month, until we came to Jerusalem, by the mighty hand of our Lord which was upon us: and the Lord delivered us from assault by the way, from every enemy, and so we came to Jerusalem. ⁶² And when we had been there three days, the silver and gold was weighed and delivered in the house of our Lord on the fourth day unto Meremoth the priest the son of Uriah. ⁶³ And with him was Eleazar the son of Phinehas, and with them were Jozabad the son of Jeshua and Moeth the son of Binnui, the Levites: all was delivered them by number and weight. ⁶⁴ And all the weight of them was written up the same hour. ⁶⁵ Moreover they that were come out of the captivity offered sacrifices unto the Lord, the God of Israel, even twelve bullocks for all Israel, fourscore and sixteen rams, ⁶⁶ threescore and twelve lambs, goats for a peace offering, twelve; all of them a sacrifice to the Lord. ⁶⁷ And they delivered the king's commandments unto the king's stewards, and to the governors of Coelesyria and Phoenicia; and they honored the people and the temple of the Lord.

⁶⁸ Now when these things were done, the principal men came unto me, and said, ⁶⁹ The nation of Israel, and the princes, and the priests and the Levites, have not put away from them the strange people of the land, nor the uncleannesses of the Gentiles, to wit, of the Canaanites, Hittites, Perizzites, Jebusites, and the Moabites, Egyptians, and Edomites. ⁷⁰ For both they and their sons have married with their daughters, and the holy seed is mixed with the strange people of the land; and from the beginning of this matter the rulers and the nobles have been partakers of this iniquity. ⁷¹ And as soon as I had heard these things, I rent my clothes, and my holy garment, and plucked the hair from off my head and beard, and sat me down sad and full of heaviness. ⁷² So all they that were moved at the word of the Lord, the God of Israel, assembled unto me, while I mourned for the iniquity: but I sat still full of heaviness until the evening sacrifice. ⁷³ Then rising up from the fast with my clothes and my holy garment rent, and bowing my knees, and stretching forth my hands unto the Lord, ⁷⁴ I said, O Lord, I am ashamed and confounded before thy face; ⁷⁵ for our sins are multiplied above our heads, and our errors have reached up unto heaven, ⁷⁶ ever since the time of our fathers; and we are in great sin, even unto this day. ⁷⁷ And for our sins and our fathers' we with our brethren and our kings and our priests were given up to the kings of the earth, to the sword, and to captivity, and for a prey with shame, unto this day. ⁷⁸ And now in some measure hath mercy been shown unto us from thee, O Lord, that there should be left us a root and a name in the place of thy sanctuary; ⁷⁹ and to discover unto us a light in the house of the Lord our God, and to give us food in the time of our servitude. ⁸⁰ Yea, when we were in bondage, we were not forsaken of our Lord; but he made us gracious before the kings of Persia, so that they gave us food, ⁸¹ and glorified the temple of our Lord, and raised up the desolate Zion, to give us a sure abiding in Judea and Jerusalem. ⁸² And now, O Lord, what shall we say, having these things? For we have transgressed thy commandments, which thou gavest by the hand of thy servants the prophets, saying, ⁸³ That the land, which ye enter into to possess as a heritage, is a land polluted with the pollutions of the strangers of the land, and they have filled it with their uncleanness. ⁸⁴ Therefore now shall ye not join your daughters unto their sons, neither shall ye take their daughters unto your sons. ⁸⁵ Neither shall ye seek to have peace with them forever, that ye may be strong, and eat the good things of the land, and that ye may leave it for an inheritance unto your children forevermore. ⁸⁶ And all that is befallen is done unto us for our wicked works and great sins: for thou, O Lord, didst make our sins light, ⁸⁷ and didst give unto us such a root: but we have turned back again to transgress thy law, in mingling ourselves with the uncleanness of the heathen of the land. ⁸⁸ Thou wast not angry with us to destroy us, till thou hadst left us neither root, seed, nor name. ⁸⁹ O Lord of Israel, thou art true: for we are left a root this day. ⁹⁰ Behold, now are we before thee in our iniquities, for we cannot stand any longer before thee by reason of these things.

⁹¹ And as Ezra in his prayer made his confession, weeping, and lying flat upon the ground before the temple, there gathered unto him from Jerusalem a very great throng of men and women and children: for there was great weeping among the multitude. ⁹² Then Jeconiah the son of Jehiel, one of the sons of Israel, called out, and said, O Ezra, we have sinned against the Lord God, we have married strange women of the heathen of the land, and now is all Israel aloft. ⁹³ Let us make an oath unto the Lord herein, that we will put away all our wives, whom we have taken of the strangers, with their children, ⁹⁴ like as seemeth good unto thee, and to as many as do obey the law of the Lord. ⁹⁵ Arise, and put in execution: for to thee doth this matter appertain, and we will be with thee to do valiantly. ⁹⁶ So Ezra arose, and took an oath of the chief of the priests and Levites of all Israel to do after these things; and so they sware.

¹ Then Ezra rising from the court of the temple went to the chamber of Jehohanan the son of Eliashib, ² and lodged there, and did eat no bread nor drink water, mourning for the great iniquities of the multitude. ³ And there was made proclamation in all Judea and Jerusalem to all them that were of the captivity, that they should be gathered together at Jerusalem: ⁴ and that whosoever met not there within two or three days, according as the elders that bare rule appointed, their cattle should be seized to the use of the temple, and himself cast out from the multitude of them that were of the captivity.

⁵ And in three days were all they of the tribe of Judah and Benjamin gathered together at Jerusalem: this was the ninth month, on the twentieth day of the month. ⁶ And all the multitude sat together trembling in the broad place before the temple because of the present foul weather. ⁷ So Ezra arose up and said unto them, ye have transgressed the law and married strange wives, thereby to increase the sins of Israel. ⁸ And now make confession and give glory unto the Lord, the God of our fathers, ⁹ and do his will, and separate yourselves from the heathen of the land, and from the strange women. ¹⁰ Then cried the whole multitude, and said with a loud voice, Like as thou hast spoken, so will we do. ¹¹ But forasmuch as the multitude is great, and it is foul weather, so that we cannot stand without, and this is not a work of one day or two, seeing our sin in these things is spread far: ¹² therefore let the rulers of the multitude stay, and let all them of our habitations that have strange wives come at the time appointed, ¹³ and with them the rulers and judges of every place, till we turn away the wrath of the Lord from us for this matter. ¹⁴ Then Jonathan the son of Asahel and Jahzeiah the son of Tikvah accordingly took the matter upon them: and Meshullam and Levi and Shabbethai were assessors to them. ¹⁵ And they that were of the captivity did according to all these things.

¹⁶ And Ezra the priest chose unto him principal men of their families, all by name: and on the new moon of the tenth month they were shut in together to examine the matter. ¹⁷ So their cause that held strange wives was brought to an end by the new moon of the first month. ¹⁸ And of the priests that were come together, and had strange wives, there were found; ¹⁹ of the sons of Jeshua the son of Jozadak, and his brethren: Maaseiah, and Eleazar, and Jarib, and Jodan. ²⁰ And they gave their hands to put away their wives, and to offer rams to make reconciliation for their error. ²¹ And of the sons of Immer: Hanani, and Zebadiah, and Maaseiah, and Shemaiah, and Jehiel, and Azariah. ²² And of the sons of Pashhur: Elioenai, Maaseiah, Ishmael, and Nethanael, and Gedaliah, and Salthas. ²³ And of the Levites: Jozabad, and Shimei, and Kelaiah, who was called Kelita, and Pethahiah, and Judah, and Jonah. ²⁴ Of the holy singers: Eliashib, Zaccur. ²⁵ Of the porters: Shallum, and Telem. ²⁶ Of Israel: of the sons of Parosh: Ramiah, and Izziah, and Malchijah, and Mijamin, and Eleazar, and Asibias, and Benaiah. ²⁷ Of the sons of Ela: Mattaniah, Zechariah, and Jezrius, and Abdi, and Jeremoth, and Elijah. ²⁸ And of the sons of Zemoth: Eliadas, Eliashib, Othoniah, Jeremoth, and Zadab, and Zerdaiah. ²⁹ Of the sons of Bebai: Jehohanan, and Hananiah, and Zabbai, and Emathis. ³⁰ Of the sons of Mani: Olamus, Mamuchus, Adaiah, Jashub, and Sheal, and Jeremoth. ³¹ And of the sons of Addi: Naathus, and Moossias, Laccunus, and Naidus, and Bescaspermus, and Sesthel, Belnuus, and Manasseas. ³² And of the sons of Annan: Elionas, and Asaiah, and Melchias, and Sabbaias, and Simon Chosamaeus. ³³ And of the sons of Hashum: Mattenai, and Mattattah, and Eliphelet, and Manasseh, and Shimei. ³⁴ And of the sons of Bani: Jeremai, Momdius, Maerus, Joel, Mamdai, and Bedeiah, and Vaniah, Carabasion, and Eliashib, and Mamitanemus, Eliasius, Binnui, Elialis, Shimei, Shelemiah, Nethaniah: and of the sons of Ezora: Shashai, Azarel, Azael, Samatus, Zambris, Joseph. ³⁵ And of the sons of Nooma: Mazitias, Zabad, Iddo, Joel, Benaiah. ³⁶ All these had taken strange wives, and they put them away with their children. ³⁷ And the priests and Levites, and they that were of Israel, dwelt in Jerusalem, and in the country, on the new moon of the seventh month, and the children of Israel in their habitations.

³⁸ And the whole multitude were gathered together with one accord into the broad place before the porch of the temple toward the east: ³⁹ and they said unto Ezra the priest and reader, Bring the law of Moses, that was given of the Lord, the God of Israel. ⁴⁰ So Ezra the chief priest brought the law unto the whole multitude both of men and women, and to all the priests, to hear the law on the new moon of the seventh month. ⁴¹ And he read in the broad place before the porch of the temple from morning unto midday, before both men and women; and all the multitude gave heed unto the law. ⁴² And Ezra the priest and reader of the law stood up upon the pulpit of wood, which was made for that purpose. ⁴³ And there stood up by him Mattathiah, Shema, Ananias, Azariah, Uriah, Hezekiah, Baalsamus, upon the right hand: ⁴⁴ and upon his left hand, Pedaiah, Mishael, Malchijah, Lothasubus, Nabariah, Zechariah. ⁴⁵ Then took Ezra the book of the law before the multitude, and sat honorably in the first place before all. ⁴⁶ And when he opened the law, they stood all straight up. So Ezra blessed the Lord God Most High, the God of Sabaoth, Almighty. ⁴⁷ And all the people answered, Amen; and lifting up their hands they fell to the ground, and worshiped the Lord. ⁴⁸ Also Jeshua, Anniuth, Sherebiah, Jadinus, Akkub, Shabbethai, Hodia, Maiannas, and Kelita, Azariah, and Jozabad, and Hanan, Pelaiah, the Levites, taught the law of the Lord, and read to the multitude the law of the Lord, making them withal to understand it. ⁴⁹ Then said Attharates unto Ezra the chief priest and reader, and to the Levites that taught the multitude, even to all, ⁵⁰ This day is holy unto the Lord; (now they all wept when they heard the law:) ⁵¹ go then, and eat the fat, and drink the sweet, and send portions to them that have nothing; ⁵² for the day is holy unto the Lord: and be not sorrowful; for the Lord will bring you to honor. ⁵³ So the Levites published all things to the people, saying, This day is holy; be not sorrowful. ⁵⁴ Then went they their way, every one to eat and drink, and make merry, and to give portions to them that had nothing, and to make great cheer; ⁵⁵ because they understood the words wherein they were instructed, and for which they had been assembled.

THE PRAYER OF MANASSEH

¹ O Lord Almighty, that art in heaven,
Thou God of our fathers,
Of Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob,
And of their righteous seed;
² Who hast made heaven and earth,
With all the ornament thereof;
³ Who hast bound the sea by the word of thy commandment;
Who hast shut up the deep,
And sealed it by thy terrible and glorious name;
⁴ Whom all things fear,
Yea, tremble before thy power;
⁵ For the majesty of thy glory cannot be borne,
And the anger of thy threatening toward sinners is importable:
⁶ Thy merciful promise is unmeasurable and unsearchable;
⁷ For thou art the Lord Most High,
Of great compassion, long-suffering and abundant in mercy,
And repentest of bringing evils upon men.
⁸ Thou, O Lord, according to thy great goodness
Hast promised repentance and forgiveness
To them that have sinned against thee:
And of thine infinite mercies
Hast appointed repentance unto sinners,
That they may be saved.
Thou therefore, O Lord, that art the God of the just,
Hast not appointed repentance to the just,
To Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, who have not sinned against thee;
But thou hast appointed repentance unto me that am a sinner:
⁹ For I have sinned above the number of the sands of the sea.
My transgressions are multiplied, O Lord: my transgressions are multiplied,
And I am not worthy to behold and see the height of heaven
For the multitude of mine iniquities.
¹⁰ I am bowed down with many iron bands,
That I cannot lift up my head by reason of my sins,
Neither have I any respite:
For I have provoked thy wrath,
And done that which is evil before thee:
I did not thy will, neither kept I thy commandments:
I have set up abominations, and have multiplied detestable things.
¹¹ Now therefore I bow the knee of my heart,
Beseeching thee of grace.
¹² I have sinned, O Lord, I have sinned,
And I acknowledge mine iniquities:
¹³ But, I humbly beseech thee,
Forgive me, O Lord, forgive me,
And destroy me not with mine iniquities.
Be not angry with me forever, by reserving evil for me;

Neither condemn me into the lower parts of the earth.

For thou, O Lord, art the God of them that repent;

¹⁴ And in me thou wilt show all thy goodness:

For thou wilt save me, that am unworthy, according to thy great mercy.

¹⁵ And I will praise thee forever all the days of my life:

For all the host of heaven doth sing thy praise,

And thine is the glory forever and ever. Amen.

PSALM 151

This Psalm is a genuine one of David, though supernumerary, composed when he fought in single combat with Goliath.

¹ I was small among my brethren,
And youngest in my father's house:
I tended my father's sheep.

² My hands formed a musical instrument,
And my fingers tuned a psaltery.

³ And who shall tell my Lord?
The Lord himself, he himself heareth.

⁴ He sent forth his angel,
And took me from my father's sheep,
And he anointed me with the oil of his anointing.

⁵ My brethren were handsome and tall;
But the Lord did not take pleasure in them.

⁶ I went forth to meet the Philistine;
And he cursed me by his idols.

⁷ But I drew his own sword, and beheaded him,
And removed reproach from the children of Israel.

THE THIRD BOOK OF THE MACCABEES

¹ Now Philopator, on learning from those who came back that Antiochus had made himself master of the places which belonged to himself, sent orders to all his footmen and horsemen, took with him his sister Arsinoe, and marched out as far as the parts of Raphia, where Antiochus and his forces encamped. ² And one Theodotus, intending to carry out his design, took with him the bravest of the armed men who had been before committed to his trust by Ptolemy, and gat through at night to the tent of Ptolemy, to kill him on his own responsibility, and so to end the war. ³ But Dositheus, called the son of Drimylus, by birth a Jew, afterward a renegade from the laws and observances of his country, conveyed Ptolemy away, and made an obscure person lie down in his stead in the tent. It befell this man to receive the fate which was meant for the other. ⁴ A fierce battle then took place; and the men of Antiochus prevailing, Arsinoe continually went up and down the ranks, and with disheveled hair, with tears and entreaties, begged the soldiers to fight manfully for themselves, their children, and wives; and promised that if they proved conquerors, she would give them two minas of gold apiece. ⁵ It thus fell out that their enemies were defeated in hand-to-hand encounter, and that many of them were taken prisoners. ⁶ Having vanquished this attempt, the king then decided to proceed to the neighboring cities, and encourage them. ⁷ By doing this, and by making donations to their temples, he inspired his subjects with confidence.

⁸ The Jews also sent some of their council and of their elders to him. The greetings, guest-gifts, and congratulations on the past, bestowed by them, filled him with the greater eagerness to visit their city. ⁹ Having arrived at Jerusalem, sacrificed, and offered thank offerings to the Greatest God, and done whatever else was suitable to the sanctity of the place, and entered the inner court, ¹⁰ he was so struck with the exact magnificence of the place, and so wondered at the orderly arrangements of the temple, that he conceived the purpose of entering the sanctuary itself. ¹¹ And when they told him that this was not permissible, none of the nation, no, nor even the priests in general, but only the supreme high priest of all, and he only once in a year, being allowed to go in, he would by no means give way. ¹² Then they read the law to him; but he persisted in obtruding himself, exclaiming that he ought to be allowed, and saying, Even if they were deprived of this honor, I ought not to be. ¹³ And he put the question, Why, when he entered all temples, none of the priests who were present forbade him? ¹⁴ He was thoughtlessly answered by someone that he did wrong to boast of this. ¹⁵ Well; since I have done this, said he, be the cause what it may, shall I not enter with or without your consent?

¹⁶ And when the priests fell down in their sacred vestments imploring the Greatest God to come and help in time of need, and to avert the violence of the fierce aggressor, and when they filled the temple with lamentations and tears, ¹⁷ then those who had been left behind in the city were scared, and rushed forth, uncertain of the event. ¹⁸ Virgins, who had been shut up within their chambers, came out with their mothers, scattering dust and ashes on their heads, and filling the streets with outcries. ¹⁹ Women but recently separated off left their bridal chambers, left the reserve that befitted them, and ran about the city in a disorderly manner. ²⁰ Newborn babes were deserted by the mothers or nurses who waited upon them; some here, some there, in houses, or in fields; these now, with an ardor which could not be checked, swarmed into the Most High temple. ²¹ Various were the prayers offered up by those who assembled in this place, on account of the unholy attempt of the king. ²² Along with these there were some of the citizens who took courage, and would not submit to his obstinacy, and his intention of carrying out his purpose. ²³ Calling out to arms, and to die bravely in defense of the law of their fathers, they created a great uproar in the place, and were with difficulty brought back by the aged and the elders to the station of prayer which they had occupied before. ²⁴ During this time the multitude kept on praying. ²⁵ The elders who surrounded the king strove in many ways to divert his haughty mind from the design which he had formed. ²⁶ He, in his hardened mood, insensible to all persuasion, was going onward with the view of carrying out this design. ²⁷ Yet even his own officers, when they saw this, joined the Jews in an appeal to Him who hath all power, to aid in the present crisis, and not wink at such overweening lawlessness. ²⁸ Such was the frequency and the vehemence of the cry of the assembled crowd, that an indescribable noise ensued. ²⁹ Not the men only, the very walls and floor seemed to sound forth; all things preferring dissolution rather than to see the place defiled.

¹ Now was it that the high priest Simon bowed his knees over against the holy place, and spread out his hands in reverent form, and uttered the following supplication:

² O Lord, Lord, King of the heavens, and Ruler of the whole creation, Holy among the holy, sole Governor, Almighty, give ear to us who are oppressed by a wicked and profane one, who exulteth in his confidence and strength. ³ It is thou, the Creator of all, the Lord of the universe, who art a righteous Governor, and judgest all who act with pride and insolence. ⁴ It was thou who didst destroy the former workers of unrighteousness, among whom were the giants, who trusted in their strength and boldness, by covering them with a measureless flood. ⁵ It was thou who didst make the Sodomites, those workers of exceeding iniquity, men notorious for their vices, an example to after generations, when thou didst consume them with fire and brimstone. ⁶ Thou didst make known thy power when thou causedst the bold Pharaoh, the enslaver of thy people, to pass through the ordeal of many and diverse inflictions. ⁷ And thou rolledst the depths of the sea over him, when he made pursuit with chariots, and with a multitude of followers, and gavest a safe passage to those who put their trust in thee, the Lord of the whole creation. ⁸ These saw and felt the works of thy hands, and praised thee the Almighty. ⁹ Thou, O King, when thou createdst the illimitable and measureless earth, didst choose out this city: thou didst make this place sacred to thy name, albeit thou needest nothing: thou didst glorify it with thine illustrious presence, after constructing it to the glory of thy great and honorable name. ¹⁰ And thou didst promise, out of love to the house of Israel, that should we fall away from thee, and become afflicted, and then come to this house and pray, thou wouldest hear our prayer. ¹¹ Verily thou art faithful and true. ¹² And whereas thou didst often aid our fathers when hard pressed, and in low estate, and deliveredst them out of great dangers, ¹³ see now, holy King, how through our many and great sins we are borne down, and made subject to our enemies, and are become weak and powerless. ¹⁴ We being in this low condition, this bold and profane man seeketh to dishonor this thy holy place, consecrated out of the earth to the name of thy Majesty. ¹⁵ Thy dwelling place, the heaven of heavens, is indeed unapproachable to men. ¹⁶ But since it seemed good to thee to exhibit thy glory among thy people Israel, thou didst sanctify this place. ¹⁷ Punish us not by means of the uncleanness of their men, nor chastise us by means of their profanity; lest the lawless ones should boast in their rage, and exult in exuberant pride of speech, and say, ¹⁸ We have trampled upon the holy house, as idolatrous houses are trampled upon. ¹⁹ Blot out our iniquities, and do away with our errors, and show forth thy compassion in this hour. ²⁰ Let thy mercies quickly go before us. Grant us peace, that the cast down and brokenhearted may praise thee with their mouth.

²¹ At that time God, who seeth all things, who is beyond all Holy among the holy, heard that prayer, so suitable; and scourged the man greatly uplifted with scorn and insolence. ²² Shaking him to and fro as a reed is shaken with the wind, he cast him upon the pavement, powerless, with limbs paralyzed; by a righteous judgment deprived of the faculty of speech. ²³ His friends and bodyguards, beholding the swift recompense which had suddenly overtaken him, struck with exceeding terror, and fearing that he would die, speedily removed him. ²⁴ When in course of time he had come to himself, this severe check caused no repentance within him, but he departed with bitter threatenings.

²⁵ He proceeded to Egypt, grew worse in wickedness through his before mentioned companions in wine, who were lost to all goodness; ²⁶ and not satisfied with countless acts of impiety, his audacity so increased that he raised evil reports there, and many of his friends, watching his purpose attentively, joined in furthering his will. ²⁷ His purpose was to inflict a public stigma upon our race; wherefore he erected a pillar at the tower porch, and caused the following inscription to be engraven upon it: ²⁸ That entrance to their own temple was to be refused to all those who would not sacrifice; that all the Jews were to be registered among the common people; that those who resisted were to be forcibly seized and put to death; ²⁹ that those who were thus registered, were to be marked on their persons by the ivy-leaf symbol of Bacchus, and to be set apart with these limited rights. ³⁰ To do away with the appearance of hating them all, he had it written underneath, that if any of them should elect to enter the community of those initiated in the rites, these should have equal rights with the Alexandrians.

³¹ Some of those who were over the city, therefore, abhorring any approach to the city of piety, unhesitatingly gave in to the king, and expected to derive some great honor from a future connection with him. ³² A nobler spirit, however, prompted the majority to cling to their religious observances, and by paying money that they might live unmolested, these sought to escape the registration: ³³ cheerfully looking forward to future aid, they abhorred their own apostates, considering them to be national foes, and debarring them from the common usages of social intercourse.

¹ On discovering this, so incensed was the wicked king, that he no longer confined his rage to the Jews in Alexandria. Laying his hand more heavily upon those who lived in the country, he gave orders that they should be quickly collected into one place, and most cruelly deprived of their lives. ² While this was going on, an invidious rumor was uttered abroad by men who had banded together to injure the Jewish race. The purport of their charge was, that the Jews kept them away from the ordinances of the law. ³ Now, while the Jews always maintained a feeling of unswerving loyalty toward the kings, ⁴ yet, as they worshiped God, and observed his law, they made certain distinctions, and avoided certain things. Hence some persons held them in odium; ⁵ although, as they adorned their conversation with works of righteousness, they had established themselves in the good opinion of the world. ⁶ What all the rest of mankind said was, however, made of no account by the foreigners; ⁷ who said much of the exclusiveness of the Jews with regard to their worship and meats;

they alleged that they were men unsociable, hostile to the king's interests, refusing to associate with him or his troops. By this way of speaking, they brought much odium upon them.

⁸ Nor was this unexpected uproar and sudden conflux of people unobserved by the Greeks who lived in the city, concerning men who had never harmed them: yet to aid them was not in their power, since all was oppression around; but they encouraged the Jews by sympathizing with them in their troubles, and expected a favorable turn of affairs: ⁹ He who knoweth all things, will not, said they, disregard so great a people. ¹⁰ Some of the neighbors, friends, and fellow dealers of the Jews, even called them secretly to an interview, pledged them their assistance, and promised to do their very utmost for them.

¹¹ Now the king, elated with his prosperous fortune, and not regarding the superior power of God, but thinking to persevere in his present purpose, wrote the following letter to the prejudice of the Jews:

¹² King Ptolemy Philopator, to the commanders and soldiers in Egypt, and in all places, health and happiness! ¹³ I am right well; and so, too, are my affairs. ¹⁴ Since our Asiatic campaign, the particulars of which ye know, and which by the aid of the gods, not lightly given, and by our own vigor, hath been brought to a successful issue according to our expectation, ¹⁵ we resolved, not with strength of spear, but with gentleness and much humanity, as it were to nurse the inhabitants of Coelesyria and Phoenicia, and to be their willing benefactors. ¹⁶ So, having bestowed considerable sums of money upon the temples of the several cities, we proceeded even as far as Jerusalem; and went up to honor the temple of these wretched beings who never cease from their folly. ¹⁷ To outward appearance they received us willingly; but belied that appearance by their deeds. When we were eager to enter their temple, and to honor it with the most beautiful and exquisite gifts, ¹⁸ they were so carried away by their old arrogance, as to forbid us the entrance; while we, out of our forbearance toward all men, refrained from exercising our power upon them. ¹⁹ And thus, exhibiting their enmity against us, they alone among the nations lift up their heads against kings and benefactors, as men unwilling to submit to anything reasonable.

²⁰ We then, having endeavored to make allowance for the madness of these persons, and on our victorious return treating all people in Egypt courteously, acted in a manner which was befitting. ²¹ Accordingly, bearing no ill will against their kinsmen at Jerusalem, but rather remembering our connection with them, and the numerous matters with sincere heart from a remote period entrusted to them, we wished to venture a total alteration of their state, by bestowing upon them the rights of citizens of Alexandria, and to admit them to the everlasting rites of our solemnities. ²² All this, however, they have taken in a very different spirit. With their innate malignity, they have spurned the fair offer; and constantly inclining to evil, ²³ have rejected the inestimable rights. Not only so, but by using speech, and by refraining from speech, they abhor the few among them who are heartily disposed toward us; ever deeming that their ignoble course of procedure will force us to do away with our reform. ²⁴ Having then, received certain proofs that these Jews bear us every sort of ill will, we must look forward to the possibility of some sudden tumult among ourselves, when these impious men may turn traitors and barbarous enemies. ²⁵ As soon, therefore, as the contents of this letter become known to you, in that same hour we order those Jews who dwell among you, with wives and children, to be sent to us, vilified and abused, in chains of iron, to undergo a death, cruel and ignominious, suitable to men disaffected. ²⁶ For by the punishment of them in one body we perceive that we have found the only means of establishing our affairs for the future on a firm and satisfactory basis. ²⁷ Whosoever shall shield a Jew, whether it be old man, child, or suckling, shall with his whole house be tortured to death. ²⁸ Whosoever shall inform against the Jews, besides receiving the property of the person charged, shall be presented with two thousand drachmas from the royal treasury, shall be made free, and shall be crowned. ²⁹ Whatever place shall shelter a Jew, shall, when he is hunted forth, be put under the ban of fire, and be forever rendered useless to every living being for all time to come.

³⁰ Such was the purport of the king's letter.

¹ Wheresoever this decree was received, the people kept up a revelry of joy and shouting; as if their long-pent-up, hardened hatred, were now to show itself openly. ² The Jews suffered great throes of sorrow, and wept much; while their hearts, all things around being lamentable, were set on fire as they bewailed the sudden destruction which was decreed against them. ³ What home, or city, or place at all inhabited, or what streets were there, which their condition did not fill with wailing and lamentation? ⁴ They were sent out unanimously by the generals in the several cities, with such stern and pitiless feeling, that the exceptional nature of the infliction moved even some of their enemies. These, influenced by sentiments of common humanity, and reflecting upon the uncertain issue of life, shed tears at this their miserable expulsion. ⁵ A multitude of aged hoary-haired men, were driven along with halting bending feet, urged onward by the impulse of a violent, shameless force to quick speed. ⁶ Girls who had entered the bridal chamber quite lately, to enjoy the partnership of marriage, exchanged pleasure for misery; and with dust scattered upon their myrrh-anointed heads, were hurried along unveiled, and, in the midst of outlandish insults, set up with one accord a lamentable cry in lieu of the marriage hymn. ⁷ Bound, and exposed to public gaze, they were hurried violently on board ship. ⁸ The husbands of these, in the prime of their youthful vigor, instead of crowns wore halters round their necks; instead of feasting and youthful jollity, spent the rest of their nuptial days in wailings, and saw only the grave at hand. ⁹ They were dragged along by unyielding chains, like wild beasts: of these, some had their necks thrust into the benches of the rowers; while the feet of others were enclosed in hard fetters. ¹⁰ The planks of the deck above them barred out the light, and shut out the day on every side, so that they might be treated like traitors during the whole voyage.

¹¹ They were conveyed accordingly in this vessel, and at the end of it arrived at Schedia. The king had ordered them to be cast into the vast hippodrome, which was built in front of the city. This place was well adapted by its situation to expose them to the gaze of all comers into the city, and of those who went from the city into the country. Thus they could hold no communication with his forces; nay, were deemed unworthy of any civilized accommodation. ¹² When this was done, the king, hearing that their brethren in the city often went out and lamented the melancholy distress of these victims, ¹³ was full of rage, and commanded that they should be carefully subjected to the same (and not one whit milder) treatment. ¹⁴ The whole nation was now to be registered. Every individual was to be specified by name; not for that hard servitude of labor which we have a little before mentioned, but that he might expose them to the before-mentioned tortures; and finally, in the short space of a day, might extirpate them by his cruelties. ¹⁵ The registering of these men was carried on cruelly, zealously, assiduously, from the rising of the sun to its going down, and was not brought to an end in forty days.

¹⁶ The king was filled with great and constant joy, and celebrated banquets before the temple idols. His erring heart, far from the truth, and his profane mouth, gave glory to idols, deaf and incapable of speaking or aiding, and uttered unworthy speech against the Greatest God. ¹⁷ At the end of the above-mentioned interval of time, the registrars brought word to the king that the multitude of the Jews was too great for registration, ¹⁸ inasmuch as there were many still left in the land, of whom some were in inhabited houses, and others were scattered about in various places; so that all the commanders in Egypt were insufficient for the work. ¹⁹ The king threatened them, and charged them with taking bribes, in order to contrive the escape of the Jews: but was clearly convinced of the truth of what had been said. ²⁰ They said, and proved, that paper and pens had failed them for the carrying out of their purpose. ²¹ Now this was the active interference of the unconquerable providence which assisted the Jews from heaven.

¹ Then he called Hermon, who had charge of the elephants. Full of rage, altogether fixed in his furious design, ² he commanded him, with a quantity of unmixed wine and handfuls of incense infused to drug the elephants early on the following day. These five hundred elephants were, when infuriated by the copious drafts of frankincense, to be led up to the execution of death upon the Jews. ³ The king, after issuing these orders, went to his feasting, and gathered together all those of his friends and of the army who hated the Jews the most. ⁴ The master of the elephants, Hermon, fulfilled his commission punctually. ⁵ The underlings appointed for the purpose went out about eventide and bound the hands of the miserable victims, and took other precautions for their security at night, thinking that the whole race would perish together. ⁶ The heathen believed the Jews to be destitute of all protection; for chains fettered them about. ⁷ They invoked the Almighty Lord, and ceaselessly besought with tears their merciful God and Father, Ruler of all, Lord of every power, ⁸ to overthrow the evil purpose which was gone out against them, and to deliver them by extraordinary manifestation from that death which was in store for them. ⁹ Their litany so earnest went up to heaven.

¹⁴ The middle of the tenth hour had well nigh arrived, when the master bidder, seeing the guests who were bidden collected, came and shook the king. ¹⁵ He gained his attention with difficulty, and hinting that the mealtime was getting past, talked the matter over with him. ¹⁶ The king listened to this, and then turning aside to his potations, commanded the guests to sit down before him. ¹⁷ This done, he asked them to enjoy themselves, and to indulge in mirth at this somewhat late hour of the banquet. ¹⁸ Conversation grew on, and the king sent for Hermon, and inquired of him, with fierce denunciations, why the Jews had been allowed to outlive that day. ¹⁹ Hermon explained that he had done his bidding over night; and in this he was confirmed by his friends. ²⁰ The king, then, with a barbarity exceeding that of Phalaris, said that they might thank his sleep of that day. But, said he, lose no time, and get ready the elephants against tomorrow, as you did before, for the destruction of these accursed Jews. ²¹ When the king said this, the company present were glad, and approved; and then each man went to his own home. ²² Nor did they employ the night in sleep, so much as in contriving cruel mockeries for those deemed miserable.

²³ The morning cock had just crowed, and Hermon, having harnessed the brutes, was moving them along in the great colonnade. ²⁴ The city crowds were collected together to see the hideous spectacle, and waited impatiently for the dawn. ²⁵ The Jews, breathless with momentary suspense, stretched forth their hands, and prayed the Greatest God, in mournful strains, again to help them speedily. ²⁶ The sun's rays were not yet shed abroad, and the king was waiting for his friends, when Hermon came to him, calling him out, and saying that his desires could now be realized. ²⁷ The king, receiving him, was astonished at his unusual exit; and, overwhelmed with a spirit of oblivion about everything, inquired the object of this earnest preparation. ²⁸ But this was the working of that Almighty God who had made him forget all his purpose. ²⁹ Hermon, and all his friends, pointed out the preparation of the animals: They are ready, O king, according to your own strict injunction. ³⁰ The king was filled with fierce anger at these words; for, by the providence of God regarding these things, his mind had become entirely confused. He looked hard at Hermon, and threatened him as followeth: ³¹ Your parents, or your children, were they here, to these wild beasts a large feast they should have furnished; not these innocent Jews, who loyally have served me and my forefathers. ³² Had it not been for familiar friendship, and the claims of your office, your life should have gone for theirs. ³³ Hermon, being threatened in this unexpected and alarming manner, was troubled in visage, and depressed in countenance. ³⁴ The friends, too, stole out one by one, and dismissed the assembled multitudes to their respective occupations. ³⁵ The Jews, having heard of these events, praised the glorious God and King of kings, because they had obtained this help, too, from him.

³⁶ Now the king arranged another banquet after the same manner, and proclaimed an invitation to mirth. ³⁷ And he summoned Hermon to his presence, and said, with threats, How often, O wretch, must I repeat my orders to thee about these same persons? ³⁸ Once more, arm the elephants against the morrow for the extermination of the Jews. ³⁹ His kinsmen, who were reclining with him, wondered at his instability, and thus expressed themselves: ⁴⁰ O king, how long dost thou make trial of us, as of men bereft of reason? This is the third time that thou hast ordered their destruction. When the thing is to be done, thou changest thy mind, and recallest thy instructions. ⁴¹ For this cause the feeling of expectation causeth tumult in the city: it swarmeth with factions; and is continually on the point of being plundered. ⁴² The king, just like another Phalaris, a prey to thoughtlessness, made no account of the changes which his own mind had undergone, issuing in the deliverance of the Jews. He swore a fruitless oath, and determined forthwith to send them to Hades, crushed by the knees and feet of the elephants. ⁴³ He would also invade Judea, and level its towns with fire and the sword; and destroy that temple which the heathen might not enter, and prevent sacrifices ever after being offered up there. ⁴⁴ Joyfully his friends broke up, together with his kinsmen; and, trusting in his determination, arranged their forces in guard at the most convenient places of the city. ⁴⁵ And the master of the elephants urged the beasts into an almost maniacal state, drenched them with incense and wine, and decked them with frightful instruments. ⁴⁶ About early morning, when the city was now filled with an immense number of people at the hippodrome, he entered the palace, and called the king to the business in hand. ⁴⁷ The king's heart teemed with impious rage; and he rushed forth with the mass, along with the elephants. With feelings unsoftened, and eyes pitiless, he longed to gaze at the hard and wretched doom of the above-mentioned Jews. ⁴⁸ But the Jews, when the elephants went out at the gate, followed by the armed force; and when they saw the dust raised by the throng, and heard the loud cries of the crowd, ⁴⁹ thought that they had come to the last moment of their lives, to the end of what they had tremblingly expected. They gave way, therefore, to lamentations and moans: they kissed each other: those nearest of kin to each other hung about one another's necks: fathers about their sons, mothers their daughters: other women held their infants to their breasts, who drew what seemed their last milk. ⁵⁰ Nevertheless, when they reflected upon the succor before granted them from heaven, they prostrated themselves with one accord; removed even the sucking children from the breast, and ⁵¹ sent up an exceeding great cry, entreating the Lord of all power to reveal himself, and have mercy upon those who now lay at the gates of Hades.

¹ And Eleazar, an illustrious priest of the country, who had attained to length of days, and whose life had been adorned with virtue, caused the elders who were about him to cease to cry out to the holy God, and prayed thus:

² O King, mighty in power, most high, Almighty God, who regulatest the whole creation with thy tender mercy, ³ look upon the seed of Abraham, upon the children of the sanctified Jacob, thy sanctified inheritance, O Father, now being wrongfully destroyed as strangers in a strange land. ⁴ Thou destroyedst Pharaoh, with his host of chariots, when that lord of this same Egypt was uplifted with lawless insolence and loud-sounding tongue. Shedding the beams of thy mercy upon the race of Israel, thou didst overwhelm him with his proud army. ⁵ When Sennacherib, the grievous king of the Assyrians, glorying in his countless hosts, had subdued the whole land with his spear, and was lifting himself against thy holy city, with boastings grievous to be endured, thou, O Lord, didst demolish him and didst show forth thy might to many nations. ⁶ When the three friends in the land of Babylon of their own will exposed their lives to the fire rather than serve vain things, thou didst send a dewy coolness through the fiery furnace, and bring the fire upon all their adversaries. ⁷ It was thou who, when Daniel was hurled, through slander and envy, as a prey to lions down below, didst bring him back again unhurt to light. ⁸ When Jonah was pining away in the belly of the sea-bred monster, thou didst look upon him, O Father, and recover him to the sight of his own. ⁹ And now, thou who hatest insolence; thou who dost abound in mercy; thou who art the protector of all things; appear quickly to those of the race of Israel, who are insulted by abhorred, lawless Gentiles. ¹⁰ If our life hath during our exile been stained with iniquity, deliver us from the hand of the enemy, and destroy us, O Lord, by the death which thou preferrest. ¹¹ Let not the vain-minded congratulate vain idols at the destruction of thy beloved, saying, Neither did their god deliver them. ¹² Thou who art All-powerful and Almighty, O Eternal One, behold! have mercy upon us who are being withdrawn from life, like traitors, by the unreasoning insolence of lawless men. ¹³ Let the heathen cower before thine invincible might today, O glorious One, who hast all power to save the race of Jacob. ¹⁴ The whole band of infants and their parents with tears beseech thee. ¹⁵ Let it be shown to all the nations that thou art with us, O Lord, and hast not turned thy face away from us; but as thou saidst that thou wouldest not forget them even in the land of their enemies, so do thou fulfill this saying, O Lord.
